INDIAN DEFENDERS OUTNUMBERED, WITHDRAW, BRITONS LEAVE BY SEA AFTER AMMUNITION DUMPS AND SUPPLIES ARE DESTROYED BEFORE HUNS ARRIVE.

LONDON, Jan. 30—(CP).—An authoritative source declared today that all British forces were removed from the Libyan port of Bengasi before it was occupied by the Axis African army, and military quarters said most ammunition dumps and supplies were destroyed before the withdrawal.

A military commentator had said earlier some British forces might have been removed by sea, since there was no intention of making Bengasi "another Tobruk."

In Cairo, the sudden sweep of a strong Axis column around Bengasi, and heavy frontal attacks by "greatly superior" forces compelled the Indian defenders of the Libyan port to withdraw after putting up a stubborn fight, British headquarters announced today.

A Middle East headquarters communique declared that the conversing attacks by the superior Axis forces, which included tanks necessitated the second British

Dutch Averaging Ship A Day As Battle Of The Indies Takes Costly Toll Of Japs

One Battleship, 10 Cruisers, 7 Destroyers
25 Transports Among The List
That Does Not Include Allied Bags

(By WITT HANCOCK.)

BATALIA, N.E.I., Jan. 30 — (AP). — Fifty-four Japanese ships have been sunk or heavily damaged in the 54 days of the Pacific war by the Netherlands Indies navy and air force, it was announced today as Netherlands regular army units and guerilla detachments battled the invaders in four widely-separated parts of the islands.

The staggering total of losses inflicted on Japanese shipping by the Indies alone was announced in an authoritative summary.

A communique told of continued fighting both in and near Balik Papan, Borneo east coast oil centre, whose vast oil stores and installations were destroyed before the Japs landed there.

"Fighting continues not only near Balik Papan but in the town itself," the communique said. Bands of Indies guerilla campaigners were said to be harrying Japanese forces which occupied the Minahassa Peninsula, northeastern arm of Celebes.

Giving Them a Fight

Unofficial word was received that the Netherlands defenders are putting up a bitter struggle against the sea-borne and overland Japanese drive on Pontianak, chief port on the west coast of Borneo with a normal population of 50,000. Fighting also was assumed to be continuing in the Kendari region in southeastern Celebes.

Today's communique reported further intensive Japanese aerial reconnaisance over the islands. "Here and there bombs were dropped which caused slight damage to material but no persons were killed," said the high command.

There was no new word concerning the Japanese invasion armada in Macassar Strait, which at last report was said to be continuing its thrust toward Java, nerve centre of the Indies and seat of the United Nation's supreme command in the southwest Pacific.

Effective defence of Borneo, it was generally conceded, is an almost impossible task, since the island is as large as England and Wales together and is little more than a jungle. However, it was felt the defence forces at least would be able to delay the Japanese advance effectively.

Only The Dutch Toll

The one-a-day toll exacted by the Indies does not include the losses

See Japs Forced To Risk Fleet To Save Armada

(By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 —(AP)— The naval war of the South Pacific appeared near the point today where Japan must risk—and even sacrifice—parts of her main fleet to save her invasion of the Indies from piecemeal disaster in shark-infested seas.

While there was no doubt among experts here the enemy could establish beachheads on some Indies Islands, the question whether reinforcements could be brought up in sufficient numbers for a real invasion was said to depend on the naval strength the enemy is willing to risk to protect future convoys.

In view of the terrific toll taken of the huge transport armada in Macassar Strait by Netherlands and United States naval and air forces, the belief was that henceforth protection for major convoys would have to be considerable in both surface and air craft.

The Japanese now have come face to face with a new geographical-defence situation, and the naval shambles of Macassar Strait may be but the first of a series in store for them.

A Few of the Obstacles

As military strategists here understand this situation, two principal factors are working to the disadvantage of the invaders:

1. The island-strewn southwest Pacific is ideal for raids by submarines, destroyers or aircraft. Once such forays establish the enemy is vulnerable, they may be turned into continuing and devastating attacks. That seems to have been the strategy employed in Macassar Strait, where estimates of Japanese losses

LONDON, Jan. 30—(P).—Five of the new German Dorner 217 bombers publicized as being able to carry bombs to Canada and the United States have been destroyed thus far this year in night raids on Britain, the Air Ministry said today.

At least one was known to have been brought down late last year and the record this year also includes a number known to have been badly damaged.

"If its designers had hoped the speed of the new bomb would enable it to outfly our night fighters," the Air Ministry news service said, "they have been disappointed for Beaufighters have done particularly well against it."

Motor Transport Unhit By Ration; Easy On Tourists

OTTAWA, Jan. 30 (CP)—Maintenance of the existing commercial motor transport system despite gasoline rationing which goes into effect April 1 is the declared intention of Munitions Minister Howe and Oil Controller G. R. Cottrelle.

Last night they issued a series of press releases setting forth the amount of gasoline which it is planned to make available for various categories of motor-vehicles. Commercial vehicles, in the most preferred class, were allotted unlimited supply.

The lowest category—first in the list—is comprised of vehicles which have no "essential" use. like private cars driven primarily for pleasure. The allotment for them is between 60 and 76 five-gallon units a year, enough for about 5,400 miles of driving.

Board Aims To Reduce Extravagance, Simplify Supplies

OTTAWA, Jan. 30 — (CP). — 'Rationalization" of production and distribution in all fields of Canadian civilian trade and industry in the interests of wartime economy has been undertaken by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, it was announced to-day.

To the consumer this program means there will be fewer varieties of various products available for purchase before long.

The number of styles and models of various goods and the sizes and quantities in which they are put up for sale are also to be reduced.

Each industry has been asked to name representatives to advisory committees which will work with the Prices Board in putting the program into effect.

The aim is to eliminate extravagant marketing practices, overlapping sales organization and duplication of services where they occur, the board said.

'Retail and wholesale merchants will benefit from measures of economy taken by manufacturers," the board added.

"Stocks need not be so large and will be turned over more rapidly, as a result of the reduction in varieties. Cessation of changes in models will reduce the necessity for mark-downs' and unit sales costs may be substantially lowered."

In summary the new board program involves:

Standardization of products and price ranges.

Reduced production of non-essential civilian goods.

Reduction in unit costs of operation my manufacturers and merchants.

OTTAWA, Jan. 30—(CP).—Drivers of private cars—A category—those who use them for non-essential purposes—will be able to buy 95 gallons of gasoline or 19 units from July 1 to Sept. 30, 1942, the Munitions and Supply Department announced today.

From April 1 to June 30 they will be able to buy 80 gallons—16 units of gasoline and 75—15 units, from October 1 to December 31. From January 1 to March 31, 1943, only 50 gallons or 10 units. Only a tankful may be carried from one quarter to another. None may be stored.

Allied World Honors F.D.R. As He Passes 60

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP) — President Roosevelt is 60 years old today, and his personal physician, Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntyre, says the President is in fine physical and mental fettle for a man of 60.

Proceeds of the balls will be spent to help other victims of the dread disease.

Keith Morgan, national chairman of the celebration, announced in New York that cities in Canada and in 16 South and Central American nations would join in the demonstration.

SINGAPORE, Jan. 30.—(CP)— British headquarters admitted a Japanese penetration to within 18 miles of the Strait of Johore today in a communique announcing contact with the enemy about Kulai.

The companion Japanese drive down the west coast of the Malayan peninsula appeared to be keeping pace with British headquarters announcing that fighting had taken place in the Piintain Besar area, roughly 20 miles from the one-mile strait separating Singapore and the mainland.

(A Domei report from Malaya, broadcast from Tokyo, said Japanese troops had reached Kulai and were driving down a wide highway paralleling from the Island of Singapore with its great British naval base.)

British headquarters said laconically in a communique:

"In the centre there is contact with the enemy about Kulai and heavy fighting took place yesterday in the Sedenak area."

Sedenak is eight miles north of Kulai.

Tokyo claimed Sedenak fell last night).

In the drive down the Malayan Peninsula, the Japanese air force became increasingly active both against British forward positions and communications and against Singapore.

Not Sure War To End In '42 Sees Revenge For Defeats When Russian Snows Melt

Calls For More Arms For Year Of Victories

See U.S. War With Japan Boon To Axis

BERLIN (From German broadcasts)—Jan. 30 — (AP). — Hitler in the first speech since his declaration of war against the United States told his people today that "America's war with Japan made us free to act" and "now we shall see what our U-boats may achieve."

He said: "I do not know whether the war will end this year," adding, "We are armed against everything, from the north to the south."

Hitler contended that on the eastern front the armies of the Reich are on the defensive against the weather—not the Russians, and claimed that the front there has finally been stabilized.

He said of the Russian war thus far that "in the east we fought a struggle which one day will be the glory of our nation."

Cheers greeted his boast that in North Africa Field Marshal Erwin Rommel "turned around the moment that our enemies thought he was beaten and drove the British before him."

"The most difficult part is behind us," he asserted.

Same Old Guff.

Most of the address was a reiteration of Hitler's long standing arguments that Germany was persecuted.

He said that even in the last war Mr. Churchill was among the "warmongers" and that Mr. Roosevelt was the right hand of Woodrow Wilson, whom he described as "the man who caused the greatest harm to the German people.

The speech—his first since his declaration of war against the United States—marked the ninth anniversary of his elevation as Chancellor.

Addressing party members, soldiers and representatives of other Axis powers in Berlin, he declared:

"All of us who can remember the last war will still remember that Mr. Churchill was already then one of the meanest warmongers. It is the same powers we fought then which we are fighting to-day."

He was introduced by Propaganda Minister Goebbels, who complimented the Fuehrer for looking "so fresh and healthy."

Dublin Fears Yanks After Bases

Think They'd Get Aid
If Germany
Ever Invaded Them

DUBLIN, Eire, Jan. 30—(AP).—Official concern is felt here that the arrival of United States troops in Ulster may be preliminary to the seizure of Eire's naval bases which the united nations need badly for the Battle of the Atlantic, an informed source said to-day.

'We are so keen on peace," said one Irishman, "that we will fight like hell for it."

"Although I don't think it will come to that, any attack by Germany would not necessarily mean that we would call for help from anyone. Foreign troops would automatically walk in to fight beside Eire's Army."

This neutrality of Eire is strongly expressed both by officials and by the man on Dublin's streets—but of course it is also apparent that the average Irishman does not realize the critical situation he has been placed in by Eire's geography.

Eire's 250,000 troops are not armed adequately and the Government attitude is that they should be equipped by Britain.

When the question is raised of a possible British blockade against Eire to force the issue of obtaining naval bases the Irishman quickly retorts "that would be considered a form of warfare against us....we have faced famine as a weapon before and we are prepared to face it again."

Officially, Eire feels no obligation to fight by the side of Britain even though she admits she is dependent upon Allied shipping.

"Britain made a profit from carrying our trade in peace years," one source argued. "so why shouldn't she continue to do so now."

This Irishman saw no incongruity in Dublin's bright lights and full shops at a time of blackout and severe shortages in Britain upon whose ships she depends for her supplies.

Man Is Overcome By Gas Fumes

Prompt action by Miss May Stone, a trained nurse, probably saved the life of 64 year old L. B. Howland, who was overcome by gas fumes while attempting to move a gas range to a new location in the kitchen of the house at 220 London street, which is occupied by Miss Jane Horsfield, well known local milliner, and her 92 year old mother.

The near tragedy is believed due to the fact that Mr. Howland failed to shut the gas valve completely in the cellar before starting work. He was discovered lying unconscious beside the stove by Miss Horsfield, who called to Miss Stone, and the latter pulled the man, who weighs close to 200 pounds, on to a back porch.

Close Checking Due for Truckers' Gas

By LEON EDEL
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

TORONTO, Jan. 30 (CP)—The office of the federal oil controller explained today that the reported unlimited supplies of gasoline to be made available to commercial vehicles under the gasoline-rationing plan actually will be limited carefully by a close check-up of each vehicle's needs.

To prevent any bootlegging of gasoline or the illegal transfer of fuel from a commercial vehicle to the owner's or some one else's private machine, authorities intend to keep strict watch on the purchases for every vehicle falling into the commercial category.

Commercial-vehicle owners will go through the same procedure as those in all other preferred categories to get their ration book.

The commercial-vehicle owner will get two books, each good for 64 five-gallon units. When the first book is used up the cover is to be sent to the nearest regional control office which will have full information on file in regard to the vehicle, and the maximum amount of gas the vehicle should use over a period. These offices will send out the books to replace the used ones.

The regional control office will keep a record of ration-book covers and if the vehicle is found to be using more than it should, an immediate check-up will be ordered and the owner brought to account.

It was explained at the oil controller's office that the amount of gasoline between 300 and 380 gallons being allowed vehicles in category "A" will be determined by the size and horsepower of the vehicle.

LONDON, Jan. 30—(CP Cable).—Prime Minister Churchill's announced intention of creating a Production Ministry has renewed speculation on long-demanded changes in his cabinet.

But a quick poll of parliamentary observers shows they are convinced that any changes likely to be made would be more in the nature of realignment and would not include the wholesale head-chopping demanded during Parliament's three-days debate on the war's conduct which ended yesterday in a 464-1 vote of confidence in the House of Commons.

HALIFAX, Jan. 30 — (CP). — When the war stepped into their kitchens and cut their water to a dribble, Halifax housewives swung into action.

City Commissioner of Works R. M. MacKinnon was swamped with a torrent of protests. The women didn't care if there were twice as many people now using the Halifax water supply, or how many ships were refilling fresh water tanks here, they wanted water or else.

But Commissioner MacKinnon thinks he has a solution for the problem. Ships, he said, have been asked to abide by a rationing system that will keep the city water pressure at a reasonably high level during the important meal hours,

RUSSIANS CUT UKRAINE GAP AND ADVANCE 90 MILES IN 10 DAYS

70 Miles From Dnieper Bend Threatening Hun Lines Through To The Azov Sea

3 Divisions, Anti-Tank, Foot, Cavalry, Routed
25,000 Boche Slaughtered
Headquarters Seized, 400 Towns Retaken

MOSCOW, Jan. 30—(AP).—Cavalry-paced Soviet troops who struck through fortified positions across the Donets basin operated today only 70 miles from the big bend of the Lower Dnieper River, menacing German winter lines clear to the Sea of Azov.

Nestled on the west bank of the river bend is Denieperopetrovsk, Russia's 11th city which fell five months ago to the Axis armies of Field Marshal Ewald von Kleist after the defenders had dynamited its $100,000,000 power dam.

The Soviet information bureau disclosed the strategic situation in announcing the recapture of Lozovaya, midway between the Donets and the Dnieper, through a 93-mile advance in which it said 25,000 Germans were killed in 10 days of fighting.

Three German divisions — the 257th, 68th and 298th—and three regiments—the 236th Anti-Tank, the 169th Infantry and a Hungarian cavalry regiment — were "utterly routed." (At full strength these would represent about 50,000 men).

"Headquarters of the 257th Infantry Division were smashed and its documents were captured," the information bureau said. "Standards of the 457th and 516th Infantry Regiments were captured. A considerable defeat was inflicted upon the 44th and 295th infantry divisions and units of the 62nd, 46th and 94th Infantry Divisions."

658 Guns, 40 Tanks Captured.

Among battle trophies listed were 658 field guns, 40 tanks and armored cars, 843 machine-guns, 6,013 automobiles, 438 supply trucks, 2,400 carts and 2,800 horses.

Following a Soviet Information Bureau communique announcing some 400 villages and towns were reoccupied in the advance to Lozovaya, another announcement today said Red Army forces operating on the southern front liberated 30 inhabited localities in a single day.

The new announcement on liberation of 30 inhabited localities on the Southern front gave no details, but indicated continued progress in the drive toward the Dnieper.

Red army infantry rode even atop tanks to the fighting zones, the government newspaper Isvestia said, behind roving squadrons of Cossack horsemen. As a result of the rout, faltering German soldiers have been been ordered by their commanders to stand fast or be shot, it declared.

withdraw from Bengasi in less than a year.

However, the Middle East headquarters said British patrols in the Msus area, 70 miles southeast of Bengasi, forced Axis patrols to withdraw after a brief brush.

The Axis forces which advanced on Bengasi from the south last Wednesday consisted of two strong columns, both including tanks, Middle East headquarters said.

Deploying "greatly superior strength in this area," a communique said, the Axis troops forced the 7th Indian Brigade to give ground despite its strong rearguard action.

"In the meantime, to the east of the escarpment, an even stronger enemy force which on Jan. 28 had reached Regima (16 miles east of Bengasi) also pressed on and by nightfall established itself across the coast road of Bengasi," the communique said.

"These converging attacks by greatly-superior enemy forces made further withdrawal of our troops inevitable and the 4th Indian Division, which was covering Bengasi, now has been withdrawn northeast of the town."

The communique said that in the Msus area, 70 miles southeast of Bengasi, where a substantial Axis force including tanks still remains, an enemy detachment patrolling to the northeast withdrew on making contact with British patrols.

Succession to L. C. M. S. Amery as Secretary of State for India is another job suggested for the man who lost face with the Labor party for advocating association with many in the "Progressive" group in an effort to defeat Neville Chamberlain in the days of appeasement.

While not disputing Sir Stafford's ability in any post, many House of Commons members contend there is a wide choice of cabinet material among their ranks. have run as high as 46 ships of all types sunk or damaged.

2. Indies and American forces have been concentrated in these waters and operate close to their bases, making possible shore-based aircraft action in force. The Japanese on the other hand are operating farther and farther from their bases and from the protection of land-based warplanes.

One of the most unorthodox characteristics of Japanese strategy to date, in the opinion of the experts here, is the way they have scattered their blows and lengthened their supply routes. Their lines of communication now reach out from Japan to the Philippines and the Japanese-mandate islands beyond, to small islands northeast of Australia, to Borneo, to Malaya and Indo-China and Thailand, and to China and Manchukuo.

This means a spreading of naval and air strength and land forces, experts pointed out.

Millions Trained

Japan is said to have several millions trained and semi-trained men available for military service, but it is considered doubtful whether it has equipment for more than 2,000,000.

The Chinese estimated this week the Japanese already have withdrawn about 6½ divisions from China to prosecute their invasion program to the south. In addition, it was estimated they had used 10 divisions from Japan Proper.

This, according to the Chinese, would make a total force of about 400,000 divided roughtly as follows: 125,000 in Malaya, 150,000 in the Philippines (United States officials say 200,000), 75,000 in Thailand and 50,000 in French Indo-China.

The analysis did not mention forces gathered for operations against the Indies. Some estimates have placed the number of troops in the Macassar convoy at 150,000, and the number already drowned there at 25,000.

In addition to troops in the large theatres of strictly military operations, the Japanese have used their marines for occupying some of the smaller islands in the South Pacific.

Japan is supposed to have left in China about 600,000 men—31 divisions—and in Manchuria a force of about 500,000, immobilized by the constant possibility that when the time is ripe Russia will join the other forces of the united nations in the western Pacific war.

Three Youths Given Suspended Sentence

A sharp warning to other youths not to jump to the conclusion that similar leniency might be expected in any further cases of the same nature was sounded by Magistrate O. A. "Almost against my better judgment in two of these cases," said His Worship "I have decided to grant suspended sentence. It is only because the acting crown attorney has concurred in this course that I have decided upon it."

"In the event that others may look for similar leniency," added Magistrate Langley "I wish to say that so far as I am concerned this kind of crime is going to be stopped."

The three youths had admitted breaking and entering the booth at Rye's Pavilion and committing theft.

Conditions of the probation included provisions that they should no longer associate with each other and that they must remain away from Rye's Pavilion. They were also required to make restitution in cash to Herb Payne for the goods stolen and to pay the crown attorney's fees, amounting to $13 in each case.

Now that the bonspiel is over we are gradually and slowly getting back to the normal state of affairs, and the boys, just to show how they like curling, came out in full force to play a double-header last night. In fact there were exactly 104 men curling from 7 p.m. until11.30 p.m. That's pep for you.

The games were good and the highlight was the Pratten-Thomas game Thomas came out on top, and as it was Pratten's first loss of the season, Group B is now all tied in a knot. Jimmy Hall had to go into overtime before his opponent would give up.

Now getting back to the bonspiel Wasn't it a beaut? And that midnight lunch caught the boys by surprise but they sure went to town on it. It put us in mind of the olden days when the 3rd floor was "open house" for a full week.

Ben Ward, Oshawa, must have a rabbit's foot with him. Not only did he pilot his rink to take down third money, but he walked away with the curling stones, presented by Lou Brooks for the British War Victims' Fund, with ticket No. 494, and right here we want to thank all who made it possible for us to hand over $54.50 to this worthy object.

Don't forget the week-end bonspiel to-morrow at 1.45 p.m. You know we missed out last Saturday. Now's the time to go to it, while the ice is at its best whole of the free world and conquered millions," explaining:—

"Their fortune in President's 61st year and for many years to come will be moulded by this man's character, the work he has done and the forces he sways."

Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands also sent a congratulatory message, as did Prime Minister John M. Andrews of Northern Ireland.

"Ulster has given a warm-hearted welcome to the American forces now among us," Mr. Andrews' message said, "your courageous and far-seeing leadership will never be forgotten here."

Britain's First Lord of the Admiralty, A. V. Alexander, broadcast birthday greetings to the President in the name of the British people.

"Throughout this country and in lands overrun by a cruel enemy, hundreds of thousands of people have reason to thank God for the day on which you were born," Mr. Alexander said.

"I am especially grateful on behalf of the Royal Navy for the co-operation of the United States Navy in the war at sea. We rejoice in the magnificent defence of Gen. MacArthur in the Philippines and the heavy blows you and the gallant Dutch forces have struck in the Macassar Strait."

Summer Homes Are Broken Into

Provincial Constable Price Morris visited the east end of Stoney Lake Thursday and confirmed the report that a number of cottages on the islands near Crowe's Landing and also on the Dummer shore west of that summer resort have been broken into.

So far as the preliminary investigation has gone there does not seem to have been a large amount of goods stolen. Apparently the intruders were looking for some particular articles in the cottages entered.

The summer homes entered included those of Russell McCormack, Toronto, Dr. Norwich, Toronto, Dr. A. Moir, Peterborough, and G. D. Carlisle, Peterborough, located on islands near Crowe's Landing and several other cottages on the main shore.

es, commercial motorcycles, taxis, ambulances, vehicles operated by the federal, provincial, county and municipal governments, livery cars, drive yourself cars and the like there are five other classifications:—

Extra for Farmers.

Category "B1"—88 to 116 units, 440 to 580 gallons about 8,000 miles, including clergymen, rural school teachers, farmers who do not own a truck, air raid precaution workers, members of auxiliary fire or police organizations and urban undertakers and veterinary surgeons.

Category "BX" — 132 to 172 units, 660 to 850 gallons, about 12,000 miles; a special class for workmen whose plants are less than 20 miles from the centre of the town where they live, if public transportation is not available.

Category "C" — 168 to 216 units, 840 to 1,080 gallons, about 15,000 miles.

For industrial plant and flying schools employees who work more than 20 miles from home if there is no public transportation, certain Government officials, urban commercial travellers, physicians and surgeons, consuls and vice-consuls of career, incapacitated persons who need a car for their business and some others.

Category "D"—280 to 356 units, 1,400 to 1,730 gallons, about 24,000 miles; officers, field secretaries, and nurses of the Canadian Red Cross Society and similar organizations, and Government auditors and inspectors who drive their own cars in Government business.

Special Tourist Deal

Category "E".—388 to 500 units, 1,840 to 2,500 gallons, about 34,900 miles; rural commercial travellers and mail delibery contractors, official cars of Empire and foreign military missions, the diplomatic corps, and members of the high commissioners' staffs, and similar persons.

United States tourists will be allowed motor fuel "on the same basis as Canadians" who drive for pleasure. Two special types of tourist coupons will be issued for tourists who stay in Canada up to 48 hours and those who stay up to 90 days. Tourists staying longer than 90 days will be classed in Category "A".

BRAVE SON OF BELGIUM

LONDON—(CP).—In a touching ceremony Camille Gutt, Belgian Minister of France, walked slowly and sadly to the coffin of a pilot killed recently, and pinned the Croix de Guerre on the flier's tunic. It was his son, Jean Max Gutt.

Man Is Overcome

Mr. Reid assisted Miss Horsfield and her mother to the house next door as both had inhaled some of the gas fumes and were upset by the incident and slightly ill. Miss Gladys Horsfield of Port Hope who was also in the house was not affected by the fumes.

Miss Stone, occupies the upstairs portion of the house as an apartment, and she stated Mr. Howland, who is a nold friend of the Horsfield family had shut off the gas shortly after one o'clock to start the job. He had two short lengths of pipe cut and fitted with joints ready to attach, and firemen and police found these lying beside the stove. Miss Stone rushed down cellar and found the gas valve on the pipe leading to the stove not entirely closed. She closed it, and then continued the first aid to the patient.

Dr. Yelland ordered the removal of the man to Nicholls Hospital until he is completely recovered. Mr. Howland lives in the apartments opposite the post office on Water street.

"Did you drag him out unassisted," a reporter asked Miss Stone.

"Yes, and my he was heavy," the competent little nurse replied. She added "I was waiting for a call but didn't expect to get one so close to home."

GETS BAR TO D.S.O.

LONDON—(CP).—Acting Group-Capt. Harvey Broadhurst, who recently visited Canada and the U.S. on R.A.F. business, has been awarded a bar to his D.S.O., being cited for "leading his wing with conspicuous success."

To F.D.R. From Stalin

Moscow, Jan. 30 (AP)

THE government newspaper Izvestia printed a long biography of President Roosevelt today, quoting Premier Stalin's tribute to the American executive's "initiative, courage and determination."

Recalling an interview with Stalin by the English novelist, H. G. Wells, Izvestia quoted Stalin as saying:—

"Undoubtedly of all captains of the present day capitalist world, Roosevelt is the strongest force."

Izvestia said President Roosevelt "owes his high prestige above all to the fact that he has been guided in his activities by the finest traditions of American democracy, by the traditions of Washington and Lincoln."

Pacific Defence Held Seriously Ralston Assures

(By C. R. BLACKBURN.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—(CP).— Assurance that defence of the British Columbia coast is being treated "with the seriousness which it deserves" and that certain equipment which "no other part of Canada has" is available in that area has been given by Defence Minister Ralston.

The Minister made these statements last night in the House of Commons when he interrupted a speech in which Howard Green (Con. Vancouver South) charged that Pacific coast forces are inadequate and inefficiently armed to meet a Japanese attack which he felt sure will come "sooner or later."

Col. Ralston also interrupted Mr. Green to tell the House the "protected area" on the British Columbia coast from which enemy aliens will be removed has been defined and will be announced "at once."

"May I ask the Minister what it is?" Mr. Green queried.

"It is a line hundreds of miles long," Col. Ralston replied. "It is a matter for a map."

Mr. Green said some members of the active and home defence forces in British Columbia have no rifles and that others are armed with old United States rifles with a red band around the top signifying they are not fit to be fired.

Claims Rifles All Fit.

This Col. Ralston denied. He said the rifles were "fit to be fired in every way." He reproached Mr. Green for making statements with-

Safety Patrols Extended In City

Three more of the city schools will be given the opportunity of forming safety patrols for the added protection of primary school pupils at dangerous crossings according to present plans of the Peterborough Lions Club.

Already a safety patrol is working satisfactorily at the Central school. This patrol was the first and more of an experiment than anything else, but it has already proved its worth, and several motorists have voiced approval of the plan, claiming the presence of the junior policeman eliminates the danger of a small child rushing across in front of traffic. The three schools which are next in line are Prince of Wales, King Edward and St. Peter's. Arnold Deyell is chairman of the committee with Frank Edgar, Vic Gallon, Fred Cripps, Jim Dutton, Jr. and Lawrence McCarthy assisting.

At the special meeting of the club held on Thursday evening, reports revealed that the tickets for the ladies' $350 fur coat and the silver fox furs are going like hot cakes, and it is expected all tickets will be sold out long before the draw, which is set for Feb. 25 at the Capitol theatre.

The speaker of the evening was Bob Shill, district agent for the British-American Oil Company, who showed an interesting sound film showing just how gasoline affects the performance of an auto. He gave the members some interesting information on how the octane rating is determined, and how it has been affected by recent orders of the Oil-Controller. The speaker was introduced by Pete McGillen, and the thanks of the club was voiced by Bruce Sargent.

Guests at the dinner included Mr. Ed. Bent, manager of the Borden Ice Company depot in this city, Henry Mathewson of the Western Clock Company and Major Hurrel Dodds of the Customs House. J. E. Girven, president of the club, extended a welcome to the guests and stated that a final report on membership would be given at the next meeting.

Coroner Appointed For Haliburton

TORONTO, Jan. 30 (CP)—Attorney General Conant today announced appointments of Dr. Louis H. Carroll, Haliburton, as coroner for Haliburton County, succeeding Dr. J. T. Speck, resigned, and John D. Gervis, C.N.R. station agent at Long Lac, as a justice of the peace for Thunder Bay district.

15 P.C. Payroll Tax

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—(AP).— A 15-per-cent payroll tax on all salaries above $1,000 a year was reported under discussion in administration circles today. United States Treasury experts, faced with the necessity of raising $7,000,000,000 in general taxes if they are to meet President Roosevelt's request, were said to have renewed thir suggestions of last year for a 15-per-cent levy on payrolls, withheld at the source.

HOW TO COMBAT Rheumatic Pains

Rheumatic pains are often caused by uric acid in the blood. This blood impurity should be extracted by the kidneys. If kidneys fail, and excess uric acid remains, it irritates the muscles and joints causing excruciating pains. Treat rheumatic pains by keeping your kidneys in good condition. Take regularly Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite kidney remedy. 109

Cobourg Dairies Introduce C.O.D. System

COBOURG, Jan. 30.—(ENS).—All four major Cobourg daries announce that subject to the Wartime and Price Board regulations a new cash policy will be pursued here beginning Monday, Feb. 2nd. On that date all dairy products will be sold on a strictly cash or ticket basis.

Outstanding accounts must be paid on or before March 31. All bottles must be put out each morning to avoid charges being made or same.

The four dairies announcing the new regulations are: Stuart's Dairy, Markle's Dairy, Fisher's Dairy and Cobourg City Dairy.

Army Graduates.

Misses M. K. Elliston, J. Cator and A. Adcock, all of Cobourg, were among the graduates at Gananoque this week as volunteers in the Canadian Woman's Army Service Corps.

Miss Elliston is the daughter of Mr. G. Elliston. Miss Cator is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. C. Cator, and Miss Adcock is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Adcock, all of Cobourg

Russian Relief.

The Cobourg branch of the Red Cross sent $226 to Toroto this week as proceeds of the sale of tickets on fur coats sponsored by Toronto furriers in aid of the Russian Relief Fund.

Prices Are Up.

Potato prices were quoted here last week at $1.40 per 75 pound bag. an advance of 15 cents.

Local citizens are wondering what price will be asked for the tubers at to-morrow's market.

This price is the highest asked here in many years and citizens are remarking on the prices asked last spring by farmers, which were as low at 75c a bag.

Timothy O'Grady Dies, Age 89

HASTINGS, Jan. 30 — (ENS) — Timothy O'Grady, 89, resident of Hastings for eighteen years died Thursday in Cobourg General Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Mr. O'Grady, who would have celebrated his 90th birthday on Feb. 5, was born in Asphodel township.

Here he farmed and was a well-known cattle shipper until he moved to the village.

Funeral services for the late Timothy O'Grady will be held in Our Lady of Mount Carmel church here Saturday morning with interment in Mount Carmel cemetery.

Sweater Knitting Subject Of Talk

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 30 (ENS) —A report of the branch's latest shipment to Toronto headquarters was given at the regular meeting of Campbellford and Seymour Branch of the Red Cross Society on Tuesday afternoon. According to the statement made by the secretary seven large cartons were packed by the committee last Friday and these contained 23 quilts, 9 units for 8-year-old boys consisting of 1 coat, 2 pair pants, 2 shirts, 2 pair sox, 1 pair suspenders, 1 tie, 1 handerchief, 1 comb; 1 girl's suit; 1 boy's coat; 1 dress; 2 pair sleepers; 3 dresses (6 years); 2 nighties; 3 boys' shirts; 1 baby outfit; 1 pair pillow cases; 1 cap.

During the afternoon some refreshing hints on knitting were passed along to the ladies who were told to keep in mind that the neck of a turtle neck sweater must stretch twelve inches. Some, it was pointed out, were forgetting this very important matter while others were failing to follow instructions with regard to finishing the toes of sox which "should be grafted carefully" or sent in on a string so that they can be finished according to directions at the work room. Three quilts were taken off during the afternoon and members were advised there were 30 girls to be outfitted. It was suggested that anyone who was to sew should leave their name with Mrs. R. A. Linton. Also to be made are 30 Cardigans (6 year size), so it was asked that anyone wishing to donate a hand knitted one or supply the wool could leave it at the Library.

Port Hope May Aid Minesweeper's Crew

PORT HOPE, Ont., Jan. 30 (CP)—Port Hope citizens are holding a meeting tonight to organize support for a proposal that the town provide comforts and equipment for the crew of a minesweeper due for commissioning here in May which will be named the H.M.C.S. Port Hope.

Navy Minister Angus Macdonald will attend the commissioning ceremony. The minesweeper will be manned by five officers and 60 to 65 men, the town council has passed a resolution supporting the "adoption" of the ship by the town and the meeting has been called to present the matter to the townspeople.

Burma Road Is W.A. Subject

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 30 (ENS). —Plans for a mother and daughter banquet at which Mrs. A. H. Aiken, Toronto, will be guest speaker, were made by St. John's Women's Association at their annual rally meeting here on Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. W. F. Scott, presided for the meeting which was the first one of the year, was largely attended and featured a cooking sale sponsored by the ladies of Ward II under the conveners, Mrs. A. J. Armour, Mrs. L. B. Glover, and Mrs. W. A. Kingston.

Mrs. E. A. Stuart was in charge of the devotional period, and the program was arranged by Mrs. A. J. Armour and Mrs. A. G. Watson. The secretary reported 30 calls made by members during the past month, and announced the names of the newly apponted group conveners as follows: Ward 1, Mrs. A. G. Watson, Mrs. C. W. Palliser, Mrs. S. L. O'Hara; Ward 2, Mrs. A. J. Armour, Mrs. L. B. Glover, Mrs. W. A. Kingston; Ward 3, Mrs. W. H. Bakes, Miss Stella Keir, Mrs. G. W. Lucy; Ward 4, Mrs. R. E. Fox, Mrs. T. J. Craighead, Mrs. E. J. Bonney, Mrs. Earl Craighead.

Highlight of the program was a talk on the Construction of the Burma Road, delivered by Miss Dorothy Kingston, who gave some interesting statistics on the "Life line of China." She told of the tremendous task it had been for the Chinese without modern tools to build and maintain this 726 mile road which at its widest point is but 16 feet. Half the road is but nine feet wide and neither rocks nor guard rails mark the sheer drops of from 1,000 to 7,000 feet and narrow suspension bridges which sway over deep chasms as one truck at a time crosses them. She quoted one writer who said it looked as though the Chinese had scratched it out with their finger nails, and compared it with the task of building a road through the Canadian Rockies.

Others who took part in the program of the afternoon were Mr. Ross Richardson and Francis DeCarrol, both of whom rendered vocal solos, and Miss Shirley Burgiss who gave a piano solo. At the close refreshments were served by the committee.

Ladies' Aid Honors President With Gift

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 30 (ENS) —To honor the birthday of their president members of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid presented Mrs. J. C. Anderson with a lovely bouquet of carnations and daffodils as a feature of the Social evening and program held Tuesday evening. Proceeds of the largely attended affair for which Mr. F. F. Long was chairman, were over $25.00. The birthday bouquet was presented to the president by Anne Hay, and Mrs. Anderson who was taken very much by surprise, responded very appropriately, expressing her profound thanks. The program opened with community singing for which Mr. Albert Hazell presided at the piano, and the other items were a guitar duet by Misses Josephine and Doris Locke; vocal solo, Mrs. C. J. Vessey; vocal solo, Francis DeCarroll; vocal solo, Miss Hilda Bonnycastle; a talk on Robert Burns by Miss Hazel Atkinson; reading, Mrs. Bruce Grills; duet, Mrs. Victor Hay and Miss Dorothy Reynolds; vocal solo, Mr. John Storie. At the close refreshments were served by the committee headed by Mrs. I. B. Hutcheon, Mrs. J. R. Battisby and Mrs. H. T. Scott.

Cadets To Be Given Morse Signalling

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 30 (ENS) —High School Cadets here are evincing considerable interest in the course in Morse signalling and semaphore which has been recently instituted at the school. The course is a part of the specialized cadet training program authorized by the Department of Education and classes are being supervised by Principal E. H. Greig, B.A., and are being held several afternoons each week. It is expected by the time cadet inspection rolls around they will be able to give a real demonstration of their skill in this work.

Choir Members Are Entertained

PORT HOPE, Jan. 30 (ENS)—The senior choir of the United church entertained the junior choir at a lovely party on Thursday night in the Sunday School room.

The evening was spent in playing all kinds of games, musical chairs, guessing how many beans in a bottle, carrying peanuts on a knife and singing contests. The prizes going to each contestant, as everyone received a Valentine, suckers, etc., for each contest.

After the children's party had ended the members of the senior choir had a social hour. Great credit is due Mrs. G. Ward, president of the senior choir for her interest and encouragement to the children.

Mrs. J. L. Sheehan has received a card from her nephew, Francis Walsh, who is serving on a U.S. ship at Pearl Harbor.

Cafe Employees Misinterpret Sugar Ruling

COBOURG, Jan. 30 — (ENS). — Hotels, cafes, and other public eating places yesterday followed the Government's request and whisked sugar bowls off their tables. In most cases patrons were asked concerning the amount of sugar required and no complaints were registered by anyone as the rationing was apaprently understood by all.

Copies of Government notices made their appearance in most of the places and were in all cases clipped from the press as no printed instructions have as yet been received here by any of the local dining places.

Stores report no undue rush to purchase the foodstuffs and it was generally felt the allowance was sufficient for all consumers.

For restaurants and hotels it is pointed out in the order that the patron must ask for sugar, and it is assumed that the waitress should not make any inquiries about the amount desired until the customer makes the request.

Manslaughter Charge Laid Over Again

COBOURG, Jan. 30.—(ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hosburgh of Murray Township were again remanded when they made a brief appearance in court by Magistrate R. B. Baxter here yesterday.

The two are charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of their infant daughter due to malnutrition.

Evidence in the charge will be heard next Tuesday.

F. C. Richardson of Cobourg represented the accused couple who were taken back to the county jail.

Vagrant Released

Roy La Rue was allowed to go after being sentenced to five days in jail on a vagrancy charge. He had served the time previous to his appearance.

Cpl. G. Burton, R.C.A.F., Trenton was fined ten dollars and costs on a drunk charge.

HONEY FOR BRITAIN

Peterboro' Men Fined In Port Hope

PORT HOPE, Jan. 30 (ENS) — The Thursday morning court was much less exciting than last Thursday; with five charges coming up. The first one was against Laurence Williams of Port Hope for being intoxicated in a public place, the evidence of this case was heard and the case dismissed.

The second charge against the same person, Laurence Williams, for causing a disturbance in a public place. This argument allegedly started in the Royal Grill and finished with the breaking of a window in the I. S. Margles Ladies' Ready-to-wear store. Williams' wife also was charged with causing a disturbance in a public place and each charge was adjourned for one week.

Byron Foster of Peterborough was charged with having liquor in an illegal place and was fined $10.00.

Lorne Foster of Peterborough appeared for the same charge of having liquor in an illegal place and received the same fine of $10.00.

Points Of View

In another column is a letter from a reader, signing himself A Merchant, who takes exception to the "spirit" of an editorial published in the Examiner on Tuesday, January 20, titled: "Brutality in the Philippines.

The "spirit" of the editorial was expression of the revulsions which have been made so generally articulate as a result of the gross treachery practiced by the Japanese in their sudden blow on December 7th in the Far East, and what responsible news services and special correspondents reveal about their brutal, infamous treatment of civilians in and about Manila.

It is the privilege of citizens to comment on the statements of a newspaper. In fact, letters displaying a keen, intelligent interest in subjects discussed are welcomed, but apparently our correspondent is issuing a challenge when he leaves the Japanese matter, switches to another editorial which appeared some time ago headed Pressume vs. Assume, and warns us not to take him to task for he has a "shot' in reserve.

Now how could an editor be expected to retire to his corner and stay there when the glove is thrown down before him like that? He simply wouldn't leave any ink in the ink bottle at all. And that wouldn't be in keeping with the history of the Fourth Estate, would it? But what our correspondent is probably doing in an artistic way is baiting us and saying 'Come on MacDuff.' So, we'll have to put on our war paint and stand up to our engaging fellow citizen. We are sure he won't mind a good-natured talk in answer to the bouquets he tosses to us.

The principal two points raised seem to be about our words "yellow rats" and the reference to how sincerely and graciously Japanese had been treated by the people of Canada, United States and the British Isles, how missionaries had taught them Christianity and how basely they, as a people, are now treating us. This is the paragraph embodying those editorial views:

> "What dastardly conduct! (Referring to the the terrorism, looting, firing squads, hostages and so on of the invadng Japs). What unprecedented barbarism! These are the type of yellow rats who attended universities and colleges in the British Isles, Canada and the United States a few years ago, who were shown every courtesy by the industries and institutions they visited here; who were taught Christianity by our missionaries..."

Let us discuss the second point first. There is nothing in that paragraph, or any other in the editorial which detracts from or casts any reflection on the splendid work missionaries have done among the Japanese for years. Certainly their labor has been devoted to inculcating the highest ethical principles and ideals; to ministering to the spiritual, physical and moral welfare of the Mikado subjects. That fact is not questioned. What was said and what, surely, is made clear in the entire context is that in return for this teaching, in return for the confidence we English-speaking people put in them, they as a race (not as individuals)—and they are everywhere known as A Yellow Race—have repaid us with treachery, with bombs and death and destruction.

There are, undoubtedly, people in Japan who at heart do not want this war, who appreciate what the Christian missionaries have done, but the race as a whole has shown itself in the past few weeks to be brutal, crafty, barbaric and utterly insensible to the humanities. Readers can draw their own conclusions as to whether the word "rats" is too strong, considering the helpless civilians who were killed or wounded, the sorrow brought to hundreds of families and the fiends of destruction that have been unleashed to join the atrocious, ruthless Nazis and Fascists. When Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt, to mention only those two great statesmen, have used equally frank, descriptive words we feel the language we employed is not overstrong.

The writer recalls well a party of advanced Japanese students who toured some of the large cities of Canada and the United States a few years ago. They were entertained with every kindness and courtesy in Toronto, were shown through institutions, plants, colleges everywhere they wanted to go to study our life, our mechanisms, our manufacturing methods and so forth. In fact they were treated like princes. They may have been honorable at the time but that kind of thing went on for years in America and Europe. We put trust in them. Every person can decide for himself whether that trust was abused; whether they were of the same type as the U.S. Minister Grant, to Thailand, spoke about a few night ago in a public address when he told of how Japs had cunningly infiltrated in Thailand, and elsewhere, gathering information, reporting secrets, preparing for the blitzkrieg given December 7th.

No one, certainly not in these columns, condemned all Japanese. There are no doubt many law-abiding men among them in our own British Columbia, but some way we don't want to be as innocently trustful as we were while their Ambassador and envoy were negotiating in Washington on a pretence of desiring peace and at the same time were parties to the deceit since exposed.

As to the question: What are we fighting for? the answer is, of course, to overcome evil, but twenty-six nations of the world have signed a pact to overcome that evil with the power of arms, the only kind of power the Axis accomplices appear to understand. Had the United States been more alert to the enemy with a dagger in a gloved hand, the sad story of what has happened the past few weeks might have been prevented.

With respect to the Massey Hall meeting and the liquor business, if our correspondent will turn to the Examiner of January 22 he will find an editorial referring to the meeting of ministers and their protest. We cannot agree, however, that ministers as a whole would say that any matter affecting the moral life of a people is not as much their business as it is that of anybody else.

Regarding Charles E. Wilson's exceptionally able and well-reasoned views on post war matters, that is a very large subject in itself and will be discussed on another occasion.

Meanwhile, we trust our friend accepts these comments in the best of good humor, just as we accept his letter.

A Quarter's Worth, Please

In view of the statement of Munitions Minister Howe that gasoline supplies are short, and that the Allied demands for this commodity are daily increasing, the rationing terms announced as effective April 1st are not likely to impose any real hardship on anybody. That there may be some disorganization of business here and there and perhaps handicaps now and then is to be expected, but on the whole the amounts allowed do not appear to be seriously restrictive. It may be, of course, as the Minister says, that further cuts may be necessary later on because of conditions affecting the supply over which this country has no control. For the present, though, the 1,600,000 car owners should be able to get along on what is in sight.

Those who will no doubt be disturbed most by the order are the individuals who now get a car out to go two or three blocks to a store or to work, and also young people in the large cities who have rolled up to college and university lectures in flashy roadsters or have sported around to night clubs and fashionable road houses with girls. It's going to be pretty tough on them. One doesn't cut anything like the dash when he walks that he can cut when he is at the wheel of a swanky model. Seriously, however, we believe the young element of the population have just as good stuff in them as their ancestors had, when it comes to a real test. They will joke about the "bump" they've been given and let it go at that. The men, and women too, for there are both, who became so fond of riding that they almost forgot how to walk, will have to exercise their legs a little more and will benefit in health as a result. When the non-essential classes of drivers are allowed up to 300 or 400 gallons a year, they will still be able to go around considerably, even in the "good old summer time."

In any case war is war. The shortage problem is here and we have to keep our chins up and face it like soldiers.

Grab Psychology Is Very Old

The psychologic essence of the sugar grab that shook up the grocery business at the beginning of the week, traces back in a direct vein to the very beginning of things as related in several of the first verses in Genesis.

That's how old it is. Let any one say to man—and woman—possibly the parenthesis should be—and especially woman, thou shalt not, and immediately the reaction begin to ferment.

"Of the tree of knowledge of good and evil thou shalt not eat." There was the first injunction, the first "verboten." And then, according to Holy Writ, God announced the direct mandate. "For in what day soever thou shalt eat of it thou shalt die the death."

All kinds of fruit trees in that antediluvian orchard, but on one of them God focussed the restless, inciting attention, perhaps even subconsciously, of that first man and woman.

All kinds of sugar in the country, and the larder adequately supplied, no one sugar-conscious, and then the Government issues a partial ban, and everybody makes a rush at the nation's sugar pile.

Supposing some one says to you: "Did you hear that they're not going to let the boot people make any more shoes with crepe soles?" No. That's news You never wore a pair of those shoes; you were not thinking even remotely about them; but some one mentions the word "ban" and your very first thought is: "I wonder whether the shoe stores have any more of the crepe-soled shoes?"

The Government said: "You can't have liquor" and just think back over what happened to society when it went into the bootlegging business.

"Of every tree of paradise thou shalt eat." Gorge yourself with all this other fruit, but don't reach an itching, coveteous arm up to the shining fruit on that tree over there. Keep away from it, because if you take a bite of its apples, you're going to die.

Did Adam's wife ponder the thought of dieing? She probably didn't hear it in the distraction of something forbidden. Did she sit up at night thinking of the penalty? When the ordinance is broadcast along the streets people somehow skim the idea of penalty so eager are they for the having of the thing forbidden, or such is a natural, uncivilized defiance of injunctions—police, municipal, provincial, federal, and so on right up to divine law itself.

Canada's Family Growing

A redistribution of seats in the House of Commons will be made necessary as a result of population figures gathered through the last census. Unfortunately for Saskatchewan and Manitoba, they lose three and four seats respectively, the basis of representation according to population being fixed under the terms of the British North America Act.

While the population growth of the Dominion is slow, it is steady. The increase has been 1,043,110 in ten years and stood, as at June, 1941, at 11,419,896. Ontario, as the central province, keeps on raising a larger and larger family and now has over three and three-quarter millions comprising its household. By way of contrast it is amazing that Greater Old London has of itself more population than has Ontario, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Bruswick combined. The "vast open spaces" of Canada afford room for many generations yet to come without the slightest likelihood of crowding.

NOTE AND COMMENT

If Russia is training 40,000 more ski troops it can't be expecting the first robin to show up very soon.

Mr. De Valera doesn't like the idea of United States troops being so close to him—in North Ireland. It's possible that the displeasure may be mutual.

St. Thomas Times-Journal asks why Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Ontario Minister of Highways, is going to charge one dollar for gasoline rationing books. That's so we will all cut down on our buying of popcorn and peanuts, of course.

Gallantry is coming back to meet these abnormal rationing problems. Overheard in a restaurant, "Pretty waitress, will you please fetch me three kernels of sugar for my coffee? Thank you. You're so sweet."

A despatch from Berne, Switzerland, says that famine conditions in Greece are so acute that 2,000 persons died in Athens alone in a single day and bread sells at $15 a loaf. What a tragic reflection on the lust for power, ruthless enslavement of peoples and the base concept of "might!"

LULLABY FOR PILOT'S SON

"One of the pilots is safe," my baby,
Hush-a-by sonny, sleep.

The moon is diffusing its merciless light,
And Daddy's a-hunting the Hun in the night,
For evil is wantonly winging on high,
And death is abroad in the cloudless sky.
Hush-a-by little son, sleep.

Close up your eyes. We will banish our fear
With dreams that he's safely at home with us here.
But what of the news that comes with the dawn?
"Four of our aircraft are missing and gone."
Hush-a-by little one, sleep.

Hush-a-by sonny, sleep.

Real Stalemate Looming For the Desert

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—The "Mother of Parliaments," by a rousing vote of confidence, has recommissioned tough-fibred Winston Churchill to lead the British Commonwealth to victory despite gathering gloom about the fate of Singapore and a further British setback in Libya.

Rome-Berlin claims of recapture of Bengazi, prime port and air base site on the Libyan hump, closely commanding the Mediterranean waistline, lacked British confirmation as this was written. However, London spokesmen said, another British evacuation was probable.

That is the most serious aspect as yet of the Nazi-Fascist counter-offensive in North Africa. By Mr. Churchill's own accounting, Bengazi plays an important part in the major strategy of the middle sea. In British hands and adequately manned with air power and equipped to service submarines, Bengazi powerfully backed up the Malta outpost in the Sicilian Strait.

RETREAT UNEXPLAINED

There is still no explanation of the second British retreat in Central Libya unless it springs, as did the first, from withdrawal of Empire forces on that front for use elsewhere, presumably in the Pacific theatre. If that is the case, reinforcement must soon make their weight felt in Malaya. Otherwise Singapore may become a fortress as closely besieged as is General Douglas MacArthur's mountainous stronghold in the Philippines.

There seems small question that transfer of Empire air power to some other fronts, as well as Axis success in feeding reinforcements to Libya through the British blockade, had something to do with British backstepping in Africa. It was air mastery that paved the way for the second British westward push, now in reverse.

Indicated loss of Bengazi, however, raises anew the spectre of an Axis thrust into Egypt. The offsetting factor is the evidence now doubly impressed on all observers that in desert warfare there is a distance limit beyond which mechanized forces cannot maintain their attack momentum.

EGYPT REASONABLY SAFE

The original Italian attempt to invade Egypt bogged down only a short stride east of the Libyan-Egyptian border. It quickly ran itself out of breath, once it left the fairly close vicinity of Italian bases in Libya. The first British counter drive that stabbed more than 300 miles westward was similarly stalled.

In precisely the same way, the first Axis counter drive which reached the Egyptian border ran itself out, and now Britain's second massive offensive seems to have met the same fate. The implication is that mechanized warfare in a desert terrain can take objectives 200 to 300 miles distant from advance bases; but cannot securely hold them. The enemy, falling back on his sources of fuel and supplies, gains strength as the attacker loses it.

The obvious lesson of that is that Egypt is reasonably safe from invasion from the West, unless the Axis pours far greater air, tank and infantry forces and supplies across the Mediterranean than it has been able to amass there up to now or is likely to achieve. Some sort of a stalemate seems brewing there, with the active war centre shifting to the Pacific and Atlantic.

THOSE NEW UNIFORMS

THOUGH local soldiers find some fault with the new "walking-out" uniforms authorized for the Canadian army, it is probable that, in the long run, the advantages will far outweigh the objections. What is in the minds of the men at the moment is that the extra uniform will add to the weight of the kit to be carried, and will also necessitate a return to the old job of button-polishing.

It will not take the soldiers long, however, to realize the social advantages to be gained. The smarter and more attractive appearance on the street will have a decided effect on morale, and it will take only one admiring glance from feminine eyes to convince the average soldier that the "spit and polish" energy has not been wasted.

The battle dress is an efficient and business-like outfit, but it lacks something as an incentive to romance.—Windsor Star.

HAIL TO THE MIDGETS

IN an all-out war, all must serve—midgets as well as the mighty.

So, when the Brewster Aeronautical Corp. discovered, by accident, that dwarf Johnnie Gee did excellent work in the wings of a bomber because he could work in such limited space without getting cramps, the plant was swamped with volunteering midgets.

They now have 13 of them but can use no more, yet they come by train, plane, jalopy, bicycle and roller skates.

Be not discouraged, little men! When that giant Ford bomber plant gets under way Mr. Ford may hire thousands of you. And we might make midget submarines as have the Japs, and you can join the Navy.

Put them on the roll of honor, along with Doc, Grumpy, Bashful, Sleepy, Happy, Sneezy and Dopey.—Detroit Free Press

Letters To The Editor

HE BEGS TO DIFFER

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—Re editorial page 4, Tuesday, January 20, 1942: "Brutality in the Philippines."

I, as others, have the privilege to listen, once or twice a week, to one of the soundest minds in Peterborough. I believe he would disagree with the spirit of your editorial.

By now, you should know that, as a business man, I take exception to it.

You are vague when you say "Yellow rats." Have you reference to courage or race?

Re missionaries. Perhaps some of the good they have done in China may have been done elsewhere in the world. We should be happy that the Chinese have fought the Japanese for so long. Perhaps the Chinese would be pleased to see your bitterness expressed.

Anyhow, just what are we fighting for? Isn't it to overcome as much evil as possible and make the world a better place to live in?

A reverend gentleman recently expressed himself to me about something: "It burns me up the way ——." Being human, I have an idea how he felt about the matter in question, for I have felt the same about other things at times. It is possible you were over-wrought at the time.

Too bad you have not the "intestinal fortitude" to comment on the doings at Massey Hall, Monday night, January 19. All businessmen, manufacturers, citizens and Governments of Canada should be ashamed of themselves when affairs get so far out of hand, that the Toronto ministers have to do other people's work. I quote from the Toronto Daily Star, Monday, January 19, page 9: "Dr. C. A. Williams, Howard Park: 'Without any hysteria, ... and the open thoroughfare for the booze business everytime, all the time.'" There is reference to the same by Rev. Carl V. Farmer, at the bottom of the same column as the first quotation.

One often sees the same news in the Toronto and Peterborough papers. Did you people overlook the above and the report of the meeting in the Toronto Daily Star, Tuesday, January 20?

If others would take an interest in their country as they do in some flag-waving events, then ministers would be free to go about "their own affairs" (some people say it is none of their business).

What have you had to say about "Plan for Postwar Tomorrow," condensed from the American magazine, by Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Electric Company, as told by Beverly Smith in The Reader's Digest, January, 1942? People, especially those in Peterborough, should be interested in such a good article by the head of the largest industry in Peterborough.

Personally, I like his idea on research. However, one time, research failed. It was during the evacuation of the drought area in southern Saskatchewan. Certain institutions, along with the government, assisted in helping with this problem.

It would be interesting to know if the proposed "Congress of the American Free Enterprise System" has met. If they could get the people of the institutions that helped in Western Canada, as aforementioned, by the "grape-vine method" in on the scheme, it might be a big help. Some people object to such institutions.

I apologize for taking up your time and must get along with reading Order in Council 75, Wartime Prices and Trade Board Retailers Bulletin No. 1, etc. Your editorial Monday, January 19, "The Gift of Laughter," was appreciated. It synchonizes in the pace of the present day.

Please do not take me to task as you did once on "Presume vs. Assume." If you do, I have a "shot" for you in reserve, same editorial.

STUDY OF GRAMMAR

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—The Ottawa Journal of January 26, reproduced your editorial "Grammar is Needed." I am keenly interested in the subject you bring up, so keenly that I am prepared to do something about it. I would gladly become a paying member of a society organized to further the study of grammar. We might call it the "Society for the Protection of the English Language." Whenever I see a mistake of syntax in the newspaper I clip it out and send it to the editor. So far none of my clippings have been acknowledged and no apology has been published. I sent one to the Montreal Gazette the other day, where they had manhandled the word "whom." An error in the Gazette is deplorable because it is read by many French people who are studying English.

My idea is that the society would operate along the lines of the Motorists who are banded together for the enforcement of traffic laws. They report to the traffic police the numbers of cars speeding, or driving dangerously. The traffic authorities then send a polite letter to the offender. One of my friends told me the other day "the last time Arthur Meighen was in town he invited Josephine and I to dinner." The society would send him a little tract explaining about the objective case. The tract would clear up the prevalent idea that there is something vulgar or objectionable about the objective case.

We should not seek to correct the English of the farmer nor of the artisan: their language normally is ungrammatical but picturesque. The field that we should aim at is made of college and university men, newspaper men, clergymen, lawyers and doctors. I have tried correcting the language of very good friends of mine and they told me that I make them feel self-conscious. In other words, they think I am a nuisance.

By all means let us teach grammar in the secondary schools, in the colleges and in the universities.

WHAT! NO BONUS ON FEB. 15?

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—If I am not mistaken, a great many people who are figuring on the full cost of living bonus commencing next month are going to be sadly disappointed, particularly those lacking bargaining power who have had no increase in wages, or very little, since living costs started to climb.

Present indications are that these unfortunate families, who no doubt are doing their best in voluntary contributions as well as bearing the compulsory deductions, are going to receive a bonus of 25c a week or less. That is 25c for each point of increase in the cost of living since Oct. 15, and not as some think, since the war started.

This bonus which goes into effect in February is, I feel, unjust, because the same act put a ceiling on wages, and limits many wage earners not working in nor near war industries to practically pre-war wages.

I am sure our members of parliament at Ottawa would not intentionally provide only for the comparatively few who had previously been generously dealt with. Some of these received the bonus in addition to wage increases. One organized industry which comes under the industrial code of Ontario has advanced wages around 20 per cent and added a cost of living bonus of 7c per hour extra. Surely it is not asking too much that the full cost of living bonus, less any general increase in a factory or office since Sept. 1939, be paid to one and all, retroactive to November 15.

Therefore, I would appreciate the opportunity of suggesting to your readers that they write to their representative at Ottawa informing him of their income at the present time as against pre-war income, giving the information about themselves and also, if possible, the approximate average wage and increase and number of employees for the concern where they are employed, in order that our law makers may be made aware of the existing inequality.

ISOLATIONISM STILL

We should not imagine that isolation sentiments in both Canada and the United States is dead. It still lives. In the United States, it is lying dormant and, in Canada, it is still active in that a large proportion of our people have not sensed to the full the perils which confront us and are thus an obstacle to complete regimentation of our energies and resources for the task ahead.—Galt Reporter.

A Bit of Nonsense

Much Cheaper

The business man was fast asleep in his hotel room when the 'phone rang. It rang for a full minute before he awakened. He picked up the receiver sleepily.

"Long distance calling!" an operator sang out. "Here is your party."

"Okay," yawned the business man. "Hello!"

"What's that?" cried the voice at the other end.

"I said 'Hello!'"

"Oh," said the voice, "Hello!"

The business man paused.

"Well," he demanded, "what do you want?"

"Nothing," answered the voice. "Absolutely nothing."

The other saw red.

"Why, you dope," he roared. "If you didn't want anything, why do you call me at three in the morning."

"That's simple," replied the voice cheerily. "The night rate is cheaper!"

GERMANY'S NATIONAL INDUSTRY

People who think modern Germany has grown more warlike than the older Germany do not read their history or their literature. A century and a half ago, Mirabeau said; "War is the national industry of Germany." What's more, that was so when the Germans still wore horned helmets and painted their faces blue.—Brantford Expositor.

TOUCH WOOD

THE superstitious gesture of "touching wood"—or perhaps it is with most people nowadays more humorous than superstitious—apparently dates back to very early times. The oak was sacred to Zeus, the supreme deity of the Greeks, and in Great Britain was sacred to some Celtic deity. The ash was sacred in Wales. Because the oak seemed particularly liable to be struck by lightning, it was even regarded by some as the abode of a god. To touch one of the sacred trees was to protect oneself from evil. Hence our modern "Touch wood."—Toronto Star.

A RIP VAN WINKLE

MOST of the towns and villages on Long Island are maintaining some sort of monitor system for air-raid alerts. In Roslyn, this is the duty of the fire department. A sleeping bag has been provided for the man who takes the night trick; he just cuddles up beside the telephone and relaxes while awaiting an alarm. Well, the other night the Mitchel Field people, testing out their system, telephoned all the monitors in the neighborhood. Everyone answered on the dot but the Roslyn man. He called in, forty-five minutes later, and reported that the zipper on his sleeping bag had jammed.—The New Yorker.

Bing Crosby Barbecue Tabooed

RANCHO SANTA FE, Calif., Jan. 30 (AP)—Three hundred golfers are ready to begin play . . . the Rancho course is in excellent shape . . . A record gallery attendance is expected . . . Samuel Jackson Snead and Benny Hogan are hot favorites to win most of the $5,000 purse money.

The stage is set for the start today of the sixth annual golf tournament fathered by Bing Crosby.

But 2,000 hungry hearts, a conservative estimate, were saddened last night when they learned that the customary barbecue on closing night will not be held.

It was quite a blow, because this was no ordinary barbecue. It was an extravaganza in buffet.

It ranks as the only barbecue in the world that became so popular it developed into a menace to national safety.

That's why it was called off. Defense authorities in this San Diego area feared it was liable to exceed the 5,000-crowd limit ban.

The squire of Crosby Acres started the affair as a gesture for the visiting golfers and the tournament family. One year he held it at his ranch and set plates for 200. Four hundred came and the ranch wasn't large enough.

The next year the host ordered 400 steaks and moved the party to what he thought would be sufficient space — his rambling race track at nearby Del Mar. Eight hundred showed up.

Crosby ordered more steaks last year. Approximately 1,800 attended and the steak supply was shy again. At the height of the festivities, there was a commotion at the front gate.

Mound Stalling Irks Many Fans

DETROIT, Jan. 30—(AP).— If baseball is to be fitted to a war-time pattern, General Manager Jack Zeller of the Detroit Tigers thinks streamlining of the battle of home plate would be a notable contribution.

Zeller has in mind the countless individual battles between pitchers and batters in the course of a major league season. By various time-consuming methods this feud has become primarily a war of nerves, and Zeller wonders if it isn't the customer who is greatly irritated.

"There's no reason why major league games should consume two or perhaps even three hours," said Zeller today as he prepared to leave for the special league meeting at New York for consideration of the game's war course.

"In addition to having less time for baseball, the customers won't have the patience to sit out an exhibition of stalling by batter and pitcher."

Zeller declared: "I think it's time to enforce the rules against delaying the game."

The rules specify that a balk may be called against the pitcher if he consumes more than 20 seconds under normal circumstances in delivering the pitch. There are various penalties for batsmen who fail to stick to business at the plate.

With league presidents instructing their umpires to give strict interpretation to the code, Zeller believes games may be curtailed to 90 minutes or slightly longer.

Puffer Kayoes Osborne In 32 Seconds

KINGSTON, Ont., Jan. 30 — (CP).—Kingston district fight fans, both military and civilian, today were looking forward to a resumption of hostilities in the Ontario military boxing championships, which started here last night.

All bouts were interesting—from hard-punching, even affairs to one which ended with a knockout after 32 seconds. There were six knockouts. Semi-finals and finals were reached in all event, and championships will be contested tonight. Winners may participate in national military boxing eliminations as part of a wide program for army sports planned for this year.

The fastest bout was Pte. Mickey Puffer's savage 32-second knockout of Pte. Harry Osborne in one of the heavyweight semi-finals. Puffer is from Norwood, Ont., and both he and Pte. Osborne are stationed in Military District No. 2.

Pte. Bob Street of St. Catharines, Ont., was on the losing end of the only technical K.O. of the six knockouts, the referee stopping his welterweight bout with Gnr. Ralph of Montreal in the third round.

Pte. Eldon Murray of Queenston, Ont., knocked out Gnr. G. Crockford in the second round of their bantamweight semi-final by a stinging blow that opened a gash in Crockford's cheek.

Curvin Rolls High Three

When Tom Curvin lined up eight straight strikes and Leo Martyn had a run of seven in last night's City League games at Duffus Alleys the spectators present began to visualize a couple of perfect games on the way. Those who know of the past achievements of the above pair could hardly be blamed for thinking, because there is usually no stopping of either Tom or Leo when they got out on a hitting rampage. The records shows the veteran Curvin as one of the two 450 game performers of Peterborough and they also show where Martyn rolled a 1061 total in the 1931 tournament, which still stands as the best three-game string ever bowled locally. In their bid for the $100 prize last night, Tom was beat in his ninth when a five pin stopped him, while Martyn slipped away from the head pin in the eighth. Leo finished his game at 371 and Tom hit 362.

Big scores popped up in all directions. Curvin shattered Fred Martin's 961 season's three-game record when he planked down 362, 348 and 252 scores for a 962 total. Martyn finished with a fine 862 and the clever little trundler from Capitol Grill, Bud White, came in with 855. In addition to Martyn's and Curvin's singles White hit a 338, Tom Miller 333, Ed Johnston 322 and Oscar Perdue 306.

Points on the evening were handed out on a 3 to 1 basis, Capitols, Jay's, Freeman's, Outlaws and Royal Yorks taking decisions in that manner. The Capitols rolled up a 3730 count for the top team score.

The standing: Jay's 47, Freeman's 39, Capitols 38, Outlaws 34, Old Timers 34, Dunn's 33, Big Five 29, Royal Yorks 27, Huffman's 25 and Quakers 14.

SPORTS — DAY BY DAY

By FRED D. CRAIG

The Military Training Centre team is decidedly glad about one feature of tonight's game with the Trenton Flyers at Brock St. Rink and that is that it will be played on a lightning fast sheet of ice. The last time the Airmen were here the cushion was more like glue than ice and the Soldiers had a hard time holding off the battling boys in the air force blue. They expect the conditions to be more to their liking tonight and hope that on that account they will not find the job of taking care of the Flyers as tough as it was on their first visit here. At that they are looking for the hardest kind of battle for the team from the Air Force has been steadily improving and is about due to break in with a victory. The Petes, however, intend to see that the initial win of the Flyers does not take place here tonight for they need this game to consolidate their hold on first place. A win tonight will about cinch the top slot for the Military Training Centre outfit and they will be out there battling for the two points that will do the job. The game is called for 8.30 o'clock sharp and will be the last home appearance of the Peterborough squad until the week after next as they finish the regular schedule with two away-from-home games next week.

* * * * * *

The Peterborough lineup will have at least one change tonight. Coach Jim Ellis has decided to give Joe Rochetta, high-scoring centre of last year's junior team a chance to show his stuff tonight. Rochetta will be used to pivot the Blewett-Nichols line and a lot of fans who saw him perform in the last couple of seasons will be pulling for the youngster to make good. He surely piled up a high scoring average for a none-too-strong junior team and he was always bobbing up in front of the net with the puck and always dangerous when he was close-in. Flanked by a pair of wings like Blewett and Nichols, Rochetta should give a good account of himself. He has been practicing regularly with the squad and should be in good shape for the battle with the Flyers. The Air Force team will likely have Ken McAdams on the defence along with Fleet and Livingston and Dixon, Brown, Lauder, Brackenbury and Hay carrying most of the load along the front line.

* * * * * *

There is another important game in the group race tonight with Belleville Reliance playing Whitby Combines in Whitby. Second place hinges on the result of that battle and Mike Rodden's team are on the well-known spot. They have to beat the Whitby gang tonight or be satisfied with third place, unless Whitby blows one of its two games with the Flyers and both of them are scehduled for Whitby ice so the Oshawa-Whitby alliance is not likely to slip up on either of those assignments. Whitby have beaten Belleville twice in succession and look good enough to make it three in a row tonight, especially as the Reliance Club has lost the services of one of its most useful and dependable forwards, Tilly Donihee, who is out for the season with a broken collar bone. The former Cornwall player has turned in a lot of good hockey for Belleville and he will be missed off the front line when the Rodden-coached team goes into action tonight.

Feature American Stars

This No. 5 R.C.A.F. Initial Training School team from Belleville who will battle Outboard Marines in the feature game of the big basketball card at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium Saturday night in aid of the Outboards is undoubtedly the strongest cage outfit that has been seen in action here this season. A glance over the Flyers roster shows four outstanding American stars as well as a pair of well known Canadian basketeers. The team is led by a player-manager in the person of Flying Officer Archie Green, former University of Western Ontario crack who plays guard on the quintette and is a great playmaker. Capla, a Toronto boy who starred with the Lizzies before joining the Air Force is the other Canadian on the team. The delegation from across the line includes Halpin, a Connecticut boy who played with Northwestern and Yale, Turpin, a lanky centre player from Indianapolis, Perrault who hails from Maryland and Patton, another husky American forward. Outboard Marines will have to cut loose with their finest brand of basketball if they hope to earn a win over that star-packed array. The Air Force-Outboards game is billed to start at 8 o'clock sharp and it will have as a curtain-raiser a lively battle between two hustling girls' teams, the C.G.E. Generals and Electrics. The two outfits from the big plant dearly love battling each other and they will give the early-comers plenty of excitement.

* * * * * *

Incidentally the Outboard Marines treasury was not helped much last night when the team made a trip to Cobourg to meet the Picton team in an intermediate O.A.B.A. game, worth four points to the winner, and their opponents failed to put in an appearance. Picton sent no word to the convener that they would not be able to fill their engagement and the Outboards will undoubtedly win their four points by default but that does not make them feel much more enthusiastic over their needless trip to Cobourg last night. The trouble with this group seems to be that the Peterborough team is too strong for its opposition and outside of the Cobourg outfit the other clubs are not anxious to keep their dates with the local squad.

* * * * * *

Leafs Gain Ground

Boston Bruins, minus four stars, failed to break in front of the National League race last night when they were beaten 5 to 4 by the Brooklyn Amerks. The Bruins did not go down without a fight however as they battled up to even terms with the Amerks after being three goals down and then were nosed out by a Buzz Boll goal. Toronto gained ground by walloping the Montreal Canadiens in a game that was tight enough until a free-for-all in the last period blew the contest wide apart and the Leafs came on to win 7 to 3. The Leaf press-agents can take some of the blame for that near-riot that really spoiled a good game. They smoked up the affair as a grudge fight, pictured some of the Canadiens as killers and in general tried to sell the game to the public as an agrument in which bloodshed might be possible. They shouldn't be disappointed, therefore, that the players themselves believed the propaganda.

* * * * * *

Chicago Black Hawks who were making a strong bid for third place slid back last night when Jack Adams' Red Wings handed them a 2 to 0 defeat in Detroit. It was Syd Howe night, with a piano and other gifts for the veteran Detroit forward. And then Howe proceeded to give Old Man Tradition a kick in the trousers by going out and grabbing off the two goals that represented the Wings' margin of victory. Usually an athlete who is the centre figure in one of those presentation affairs blows under pressure but Howe went out to show the crowd his honors were really earned.

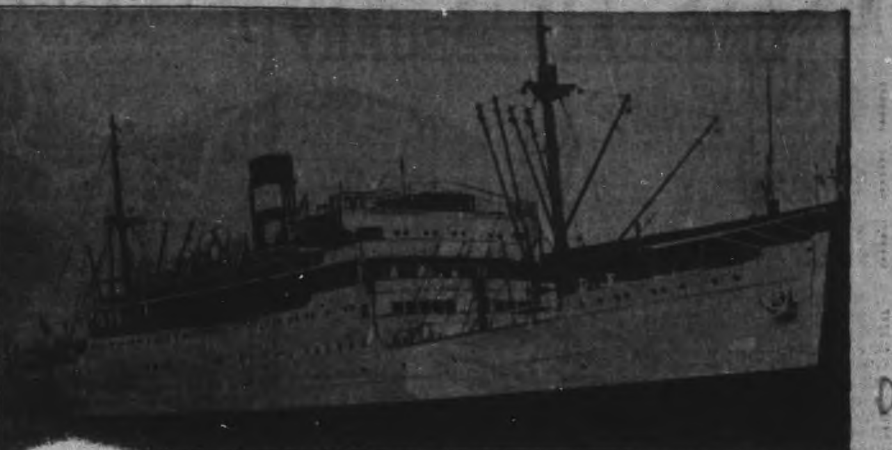
Liner Lady Hawkins Sunk With A Loss Of 200



The Canadian National Steamships liner Lady Hawkins has fallen a victim to a German U-boat with a loss of more than 200 lives it was revealed when 71 survivors were landed by a rescue ship at San Juan, Puerto Rico. The Lady Hawkins was sunk at night and passengers were hurled into the water by the force of torpedo explosions as they waited to get into lifeboats.

Eleven Patrons Produce Three Tons Of Cheese

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 30 (ENS)—The eleven patrons of Brae Cheese and Butter Company increased their production by 6,576 pounds during 1941 according to the report of their President and Secretary, Percy Odie, tabled at the annual meeting held Thursday afternoon. Improved pasture and feeding rather than a longer operation of the plant were cited as the principal reasons for the increased production. The patrons, who belong to one of the best farming districts in the Township of Seymour, drew milk to the factory for only three days longer than they did a year ago, and although Brae Factory has adopted neither mechanical refrigeration nor pasteurization of whey they produced 99 per cent first grade cheese and 95.7 per cent of it was in the premium class.

In his remarks to the gathering Mr. Oddie, who for 8 years has held the office of president and secretary, commented that two patrons alone had accounted for approximately 26,000 pounds of cheese. He felt a refrigerated curing room would have been an asset in July since it was then they had "fallen down on three or four shipments" and he reminded the patrons they would have a better idea of what it costs to operate a factory since we are going to furnish all the supplies next year" thus departing from the policy of letting the maker supply.

The financial statement showed a total of 916,756 pounds of milk delivered to the factory and from this the cheesemaker, Frank Lain (who they gave a $35.00 bonus), made 79,997 pounds of cheese of 11.46 pounds of milk per pound of cheese. They received a total of $12,814.73 from the sale of cheese or an average price of 16.31 cents per pound with Butterfat yielding 46.9 cents per pound. Total butterfat was 31,019 or 2.57 pounds of cheese per pound of fat. The Provincial subsidy brought them $1,509.94 while the premium on quality brought an additional $1,096.81 or $732.20 more than they got in 1940. For 1,865 pounds of whey cream they got $568.93.

Swam Blockade And Dodged Shells At Hong Kong

LONDON, Jan. 30 — (CP). — The depleted and exhausted British-Canadian Hong Kong garrison faced Japanese reserves which totalled more than 20,000 men when it surrendered on Christmas Day, according to a British officer who escaped a few hours after resistance ceased.

A Daily Mail despatch from Chungking China, said the officer was a member of a party which got away in a launch with Admiral Chan Shak, Chinese liaison officer, swam a half-mile through artillery and machine-gun fire to a nearby island and eventually reached safety at Shackwan.

There was no panic or rioting at Hong Kong, though the presence of fifth columnists on the mainland caused looting and disorder before the entry of the Japanese, the officer told the Daily Mail's correspondent at Chungking.

Attacked Morale.

'Civilian casualties were astonishingly low—under 150 a day," the officer continued. "This was due to the sense of the populace in seeking shelter and to the efficacy of the air raid precaution tunnels.

"The Japanese tried to undermine civilian morale by showering Hong Kong with leaflets, but these were crude and apparently quite ineffective. Loud speakers also blared out from Kowloon and the harbor, broadcasting messages about the hopelessness of the position and advising surrender. Familiar musical melodies such as "Home Sweet Home" and "Swanee River" were frequently played in an attempt to make the garrison feel homesick.

"Gradual physical exhaustion in the face of a numerically superior enemy who had complete control of the air finally began to tell on the defenders. Our men totalled fewer than 12,000 and they had been without rest or relief for 17 days.

"The enemy attack was stubbornly contested, even in the streets from Shaikwan and North Point, through West Height and Happy Valley, to the extreme west section of Wanchai.

"On Christmas morning it was estimated that the depleted and exhausted British and Canadian regiments faced reserves of upwards of 20,000 Japanese troops on the island alone. The end could not be long delayed. It came the same afternoon."

Made Bold Break.

Admiral Chan Chak remained on the island until two hours after the colony's capitulation and then with a party of British officer set out in a launch in an attempt to escape, the officer said.

When the launch was 100 yards from shore concealed Japanese snipers opened fire. Then bullets from machine-guns and shells from mortars fell nearby. The admiral was hit and lost much blood. Another officer was disabled and some were killed. A heavy burst of machine-gun fire finally silenced the engine and the party abandoned the craft and swam towards Aplichau Island, a half-mile away.

The party reached land, evaded the snipers, climbed the rocks and found shelter in the rougr ground. Later they found another British launch sheltering in the lee of the island and under a clear moon the overloaded boat ran the Japanese blockade and reached the China coast.

G. A. Macdonald Again Chairman Of Advisory Vocational Committee

George A. Macdonald was chosen to act as chairman of the Advisory Vocational committee of the Board of Education for another term, when the committee met on Thursday evening to consider the estimates. Mr. Macdonald objected to the suggestion, saying that the honor should be passed around, but he was prevailed on to accept the chair.

The members went over the proposed expenditures with a thoroughness that kept Mr. Johnston and Mr. Toole busy answering questions. On the final analysis they had whittled $229 from the estimates, reducing the final figure from $2,699 to an even $2,400. Last year the figure was $2,737.

Industrial Arts, covering auto mechanics, drafting room, electrical construction, electrical laboratory, wood working, machine shop, industrial chemistry and science. The committee cut the appropriation for industrial chemistry, and science supplies and equipment from $580 to $350.

The Commercial department estimates totalled $790 and includes a transcribing machine, either an Ediphone or a Dictaphone. This is the first new equipment since 1931 with the exception of the regular trade-in every year of five typewriters. The schools gets a special price on the machine of 0240 instead of $300, pays no duties or sales tax, and gets $50 worth of instruction records free.

Ian McRae of the C.G.E. Company said he regarded the machine as a desirable addition to the course to round out the training of the commercial pupils. This view was shared by W. A. Richardson and H. G. Walker.

Actually this committee's outlay for the year is in excess of $4,000, but receipts from night school classes, and from materials sold, school grants reduces the cost by about $1,875.

When the estimates had been set at $2,400 and on motion of G. H. Thompson and Mr. Walker were passed on to the Board, W. A. Richardson pointed out that the city has a tremendous investment in the Vocational School, and he thought it was a very shortsighted policy to whittle this estimate below the $2,400. "It is quite easy to save $200 or so and spoil the efficiency of the department," he said.

"It is an amazing thing to me that so many pupils can be trained at such a low cost," Mrs. Morris added.

F. E. Johnston told the committee that the machines in the machine shops were running 23½ hours a day, and he feared that before the year was out, there would be breakdowns and burned-out bearings, with a mounting repair, maintenance and overhaul costs. He added, too, that practically all of the boys coming in as war work trainees were absolutely green to the machines, while in the day school some of the pupils had been studying for two or three years and took better care of the machines.

It was decided to hold one of the meetings at the Collegiate, so that the members might inspect the Vocational School.

Shot In Parachute

Shooting down two Japanese planes, Lieut. Marshall J. Anderson of Oklahoma City was forced to take to his parachute when his own plane was hit. Jap planes followed his descent and machine-gunned him as he helplessly floated to earth. He was killed before he reached the ground, but one Jap plane returned to machine-gun the body on the ground.

Havelock News

The Parish Guild of St. John's church met this week on Thursday afternoon for a quilting at the home of Mrs. Robt. Jones.

The Ladies' Aid of Knox church met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Avery, when quilting was the work of the meeting.

The A.Y.P.A. of St. James church met for their weekly meeting on Tuesday night in the parish room. The two speakers of the evening were David Lemon of Norwood, giving a talk on "Is Democracy Worth Saving for the Youth of To-day," and Oakley Peters of Havelock, who spoke on "Relationship of Democracy With the Church." Both boys gave very splendid addresses and were much enjoyed by all.

The meeting decided to hold a skating party and tea on Saturday, Feb. 7th. Meeting closed with prayer.

HERSHEY, Jan. 30 (CP)—Pittsburg Hornets, who have been given little chance of pulling up among the leaders in the American Hockey League, apparently intend to show all and sundry that they can make a comeback, and to add weight to this belief they stung the leading Hershey Bears last night with a 7-1 defeat.

The avalanche came at a time when the Bears, who sit atop the Western Section table, were hoping to pile up a few extra points at the expense of the lower placed clubs.

Providence, still striving to overtake the Eastern Section rulers, Springfield, turned aside Buffalo 4-1 in the only other league game last night. The leading Indians hold an 11-point edge over the Reds.

Getting off to a two goal lead in the initial period, Pittsburg gave up one goal to Hershey midway through the second frame. But after that, the Bears weren't in it as Hornets banged home five more tallies.

Mickey Blake set the goal-getting pace with two, while the others were divided among Norm Mann, Harry Currie, Red Heron, Vic Grigg and Norm Schultz. Howie Mackie tallied the Hershey goal.

After scoreless first period, Providence got to Goaler Claude Bourque for two goals in the middle frame by Jack Shill and Defenceman Buck Jones. Shill added No. 3 early in the third session, then Chuck Shannon beat Mike Karakas for the only Buffalo counter.

Ab Demarco, league-leading scorer, added the closing tally on a play with Ernie Dickens with three minutes of game time remaining.

Clippers Swap Deacon Jones

AKRON, O., Jan. 30 (AP)—John (Deacon) Jones, 22-year-old goalkeeper for Akron Clippers of the Michigan-Ontario Hockey League, has been traded to the Atlantic City Seagulls of the Eastern League for Leith Dickie, 19, also a goalie.

The deal was announced last night by Brock Coleman, Akron business manager.

Jones is playing his second year of organized hockey, and was with Hibbing, Minn., last year.

Last year before joining the Atlantic City club, Dickie played with the Montreal Royals of the Quebec Amateur Senior League. He is expected to see action with Akron here Sunday night against Toledo.

(By SCOTT YOUNG.)

Just when the general public was beginning to believe that professional athletes were gentlemen and hockey was strictly a business, the National Hockey League came forth with a program of vaudeville . . . or perhaps burlesque.

Syd Howe played a piano in centre-ice at Detroit, then scored two goals as the Red Wings stopped Chicago 2-0. Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens fought with their fists in Toronto and when seven players crowded into the penalty box, the Maple Leaf Gardens power system for the time clock failed. Nobody knew who was penalized, or for how long. Sportswriters had to telephone team managers after the game to find out the record of the riotous third.

Only sure thing about the game was that Toronto won 7-3 and moved to within three points of the league-leading New York Rangers and Boston Bruins. Sole piece of straight acting on the league's entire program for night was at New York, where Brooklyn Americans beat Boston Bruins 5-4.

The Bruins were without the Kitchener line, which yesterday was shattered into its components: Aircraftmen Milton Schmidt, Robert Bauer and Woodrow Dumart, Royal Canadian Air Force. Bill Cowley, star centre, also was missing with a shattered jaw that will keep him out for weeks.

Piano For Howe.

Detroit fans gave Syd Howe a piano, and he obliged them twice during the next couple of hours. First he played a few bars in centre ice, then he scored both goals in Detroit's victory. It was the third shutout of the season for Goalie Johnny Mowers.

Pete Langelle, who had scored only four goals previously this season, got three last night. Sweeney Schriner bagged two. Wally Stanowski and Johnny McCreeedy one each. It was Stanowski's first goal of the season, but he may have aggravated an old injury during the fight in the third period. He stepped on a loose glove and turned an ankle, then retired for an X-ray. The score was 3-2 for Leafs when the brawl started, and seven players were in the penalty box at once a short time later.

Americans' fast line of Buzz Boll, Mel Hill and Billy Benson looked good against Boston, with pieces in four of the five goals. Hill's goal and three assists led the scorers of both teams. Boll had two goals, Benson two assists. Ken Mosdell and Tommy (Cowboy) Anderson each counted once, for Americans, with Flash Hollett, Herb Cain, Eddie Wiseman and Art Jackson scoring for Boston.

Boston counted twice in the third to tie the score, but Boll's second goal—on a double-passing play with Wilf Field and Mel Hill—gave Brooks their final margin.

Hockey's Big Seven

(By The Canadian Press)

The National Hockey League scoring leaders remained unchanged following last night's three games. Bryan Hextall of New York Rangers continues to hold down top spot with his 34 points on 16 goals and 18 assists, while his teammate, Phil Watson, is only one point behind.

Tied in third place with 32 points each are Lynn Patrick of Rangers and Bill Thoms of Chicago. Gordie Drillon, Toronto, shares fourth place with two Detroit players, Don Grosso and Sid Abel, all with 29 points apiece.

West's War Loss In Horse Racing Is Florida Gain

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 29 — (CP).— What the all-star game is to baseball a fabulous clash of the sport's greatest performers, the $50,000 Widener Handicap will be to United States horse racing this year.

Almost every outstanding thoroughbred in training is eligible to prance to the post before a glittering assemblage at Hialeah Park on March 7. The yalone will hold the spotlight. The rival $100,000 Santa Anita classic like all California racing, has been cancelled because of the war.

History will be in the making because never before in America have so many ace horses been pointed for one race—an entry list of 90 and it reads like a racing honor roll.

A quirk of fate barred Whirlaway, the only notable horse not eligible. Owen Warren Wright, with his eyes on a new money-winning record, pointed the Kentucky Derby winner for the rich California prize and did not enter him for the Widener.

Other sportsmen with horses destined for the Santa Anita Handicap were more fortunate. They made complimentary nominations for the race here and consequently were not left out in the cold when authorities cancelled racing on the West Coast.

Oddly enough, Wright is a Hialea director. Whirlaway was kept in Florida all last season training for the Kentucky Derby.

Moore's Big Pebble.

Top weight—129 pounds—was assigned to Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Moore's Big Pebble. The six-year-old bay stepped into distinguished company last year by winning the sixth Widener. Other winners of the six-year-old event are William Furst's Mantagna, triumphant in the first Widener in 1936; W. J. Hurst's Columbina; Samuel Riddle's War Admiral; Wright's Bull Lea; and Lemar Stock Farms' Many Stings.

An injury will keep Big Pebble out this year, though, and the post of honor goes to one of the California horses brought here because of the fortunes of war. Charles S. Howard's Mioland, winner of $224,450 in a brilliant career, will carry 128 pounds.

W. L. Prann'sgreat duo—Challedon and Pictor — each came in at 126 pounds. Neither would have been in Miami had the Santa Anita been run. A victory for Challedon would raise the six-year-old's winnings to third place in the American list. Challedon has earned $322,835 so far and top money would pull the horse almost even with Sun Beau, second only to Seabiscuit. Seabiscuit's winnings were $437,730, Sun Beau's $376,744.

Other Possibles.

Glen Riddle Farms' War Relic, a conqueror of Whirlaway, was in at 126. Another winner over Whirlaway Louis Tufano's Market Wise, was asigned 125 pounds.

The spectacular 1941 two-year-old champion, Mrs. Al Sabath's Alsab, is one of the low-weighted entries, at 109 pounds.

The big race was named in honor of Joseph E. Widener who developed Hialeah into a showplace of wide renown.

Widener horses never have been able to win the cup, but Mantagna was Widener bred. Mantagna's time of 2:01 4-5 for the mile-and-a-quarter is track record equalled only by Columbiana in winning the 1937 renewal.

Giant Farm Team For Lindstrom

NEW YORK Jan. 30 — (AP). — Bill Terry, general manager of the New York Giants' farm system, announced to-day that Freddie Lindstrom, his roommate of many playing days in years past, will manage the Giants' Western Association farm team at Fort Smith, Ark., during the 1942 season.

Lindstrom, manager of the Knoxville, Tenn., Smokies in the Southern Association last year is the second former Giant player to receive a managerial assignment in Terry's revamped farm setup this week. His appointment follows by two days that of Frank (Pancho) Snyder at Jersey City.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 (AP)—Future book notes: Sports scribes are speculating on the possibility that the major leagues will go back to the old schedule system of fewer intersectional tours and longer series now that railroad fares are going up.... Most travelling secretaries think they can get accommodations without much trouble but higher costs are something else....Chances are the subject will be considered at next week's meeting.

Sheer nonsense:

Most discussed subject in recent sport columns has been Buddy Baer's damage suit over his automobile accident before the Louis fight....Some scribes think either the fight or the suit must be phony and both ought to be investigated... Others, like Walter Stewart of the Memphis Commercial Appeal, suggest it was a bumper in a six-ounce glove that hurt Buddy and Bob Stedler of the Buffalo Evening News suggests: "Charity covers a multitude of sins even unto the boxing game."

Sport pourri:

Minor league ball players may get more dough this year even though the big leaguers won't. Bill Terry points out that they're being moved to higher classifications faster than before and that a lot of kids will be paid as much as league rules allow to offset the appeal of high-pay defence jobs.

Californians aren't hopeful about big-time racing this year but most of the country fair tracks will operate. So will the minor coast tracks —Longacres and Vancouver.

Veal Regains 50, Hogs Drop 25 On Toronto Mart

TORONTO, Jan. 30.—(CP).—Cattle prices were down 25 cents on slow trade at the livestock market here this week. Veal calves regained an early loss of 50 cents while hogs dropped 25 cents. Sheep and lambs were steady.

After three weeks of heavy cattle runs and active markets, the trade ran into a slack period and slow clearance was made on the week's moderate run. Weighty steers made a top of $10 with most sales from $9.60 downward to $8.75. Butcher steers and heifers closed at $7.50 to $9.25 with a few light steers up to $9.60. Fed calves were mostly $9.50 to $10.50, with a few tops $11. Cows sold at $5.25 to $7.25 for butchers and at $4 to $5.25 for canners and cutters. Bulls were mostly $7.50 to $8.50. A few lots of medium to good stockers sold at $7.50 to $8.50. Good milkers and springers sold at $100 to $115 each.

Veal calves opened at 50 cents at $14.50 for tops but regained to a $15 top on short closing runs. Common lights sold downward to $8. A few grassers brought $6.50 to $7.50

Hogs were down 25 cents cwt. at $15.25 dressed for the basic grade with sows at $10.50 dressed.

Sheep and lamb supples included 80 westerns. Lambs were unchanged 12 for good ewes and wethers with culls downward to $9. Sheep were steady at $4 to $7.50 cwt. according to quality.

out first ascertaining the facts and added: "It would help considerably in the defence of Canada, and certainly would not afford the comfort to the enemy that a speech of this kind would afford."

Mr. Green said it was a "bad thing" when the coast defenders had to use old American rifles instead of modern ones. He had not come to Ottawa to make cheap political talk; he was worried about the people on the coast and "the men who are defending us are entitled to the best equipment that can be obtained in Canada."

"Hear hear," said Col. Ralston. "My honorable friend will find out that with regard to the availability of equipment, it will be a different story. He will also find out with regard to the efficiency of those rifles he is speaking about."

"There are men in the Active Army on the coast who have no rifles at all," Mr. Green said. "These are not men in the (Reserve) battalions, they are in the Active Army. Every soldier on that coast should have a rifle and should be trained in how to use it."

Mr. Green's speech was a feature of afternoon and evening sittings of solid debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, in which Liberal, Conservative and C.C.F. members participated.

The plebiscite on anti-conscription pledges of the Government and activities of citizens making up the Committee for Total War, formed recently in Toronto, predominated the speeches.

Lacombe Changes Seats

When the sitting opened Liguori Lacombe (Ind., Lib. Laval-Two Mountains), whose attack on the Government's plebiscite policy and opposition to conscription Wednesday was coupled with his announcement of a new "Canadian party" pledged to home defence, took a seat in the lower part of the opposition side of the chamber. There was no other indication of activity of the new party during the day.

The Senate adjourned to February 24, after adopting the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. An amendment to the address moved by Senator C. C. Ballantyne (Con., Quebec), acting Conservative Senate leader, was defeated. It expressed regret over the Government's intention to hold a plebiscite seeking release from anti-conscription pledges.

Bruce Condemns It

Dr. H. A. Bruce (Con. Toronto-Parkdale) opened yesterday's debate in the House with condemnation of the plebiscite and a demand for immediate action by the government to impose compulsory service.

He defended the Committee for Total War and read a list of names of its members to illustrate his contention that many of them were old personal and political friends of Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

W. H. Golding (Lib.Huron North) defended the plebiscite proposal because it would seek release of the Prime Minister and all Liberal and Conservative members from their pledge against conscription. He criticized the newspapers for "unjust" attacks on the government which he said were impairing the war effort.

He said the Toronto Leadership League and other groups similarly organized were endeavoring to undermine public confidence in the people's reference in parliament.

Wants Secret Session

Mr. Hansell, like Mr. Green, criticized Pacific coast defence and said there should be a secret session of the House at which members could be given full details of defence forces there.

John Turner (Lib. Springfield) poked fun at Toronto organizations urging conscription, referring to National Government advocates, Leadership League and the Ontario Voluntary Constabulary Association.

"All these movements and activities, all these champions of 'what Toronto says must be done' have come together in a grand crescendo of demand, affirmation and condemnation by the device of the committee for total war," Mr. Turner said.

"They cannot bulldoze, stampede, railroad and muscle in on our present prime minister,' he said. "That is what is burning them up'.'

He referred to "a group of racketeers from Toronto who I am informed have held that province in their hip pockets for some time and have had the lead-off man in that province over a barrel so long that he has become warped."

While the Japanese land forces forged ahead in the central part of the Malayan Peninsula, British headquarters said there was no change in the eastern sector of the front, where the invaders last had been reported 40 miles from the Strait of Johore.

On the western flank it was reported 1,000 British troops who had been cut off in the Batu Pahat area, 60 miles north of Singapore, now had rejoined the main defence bodies.

Pontian Besar, on the west coast, is approximately 35 miles from Singapore, airline, or roughly 20 miles from the Strait of Johore.

With the Japanese driving steadily closer, a stringent curfew was imposed on Singapore Island.

Lt.-Gen. A. E. Percival, general officer commanding in Malaya and administrator of martial law in Singapore, imposed the curfew, effective at 9 p.m. tonight, as the latest precautionary step by which the island was preparing for any eventuality.

The curfew order forbide all persons except those on active military duty or otherwise authorized to leave their houses or use the streets between 9 p.m. and 5 a.m., except during air-raid alarms.

Captured Japanese Submarine

The Japanese two-man submarine, TOP, captured during the sneak raid on the Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, naval base, on December 7, had a wicked-looking bow, BOTTOM. Two torpedo tubes and a knife-sharp guard used to cut through underwater nets are the bow's features. The tubes are loaded. The torpedoes are fired through the guard. The submersible was driven through the water by two propellers rotating in opposite directions.

Among 400 villages and towns reoccupied in the southern advance to Lozovaya was Barvenkova where 1,000 Germans were wiped out in a single day's action.

Mopping-up operations consolidated earlier gains on the central front where Soviet troops invest vast blocks of territory both above and below the Smolensk highway.

A communique said the Russians recaptured Sukhinichi and Myatlevo, in the Kirov zone 150 miles south-west of Moscow, and the village of Aleksandrov and Mokroye.

German handicaps in winter aerial warfare were ascribed by Maj.-Gen. Grendal of the Red Air Force to difficulties in starting engines, insuficient ground personnel, and a shortage of landing skis.

Writing in the Army newspaper Red Star he said the Germans' newest fighter in use on the Russian front, the Heinkel 113, was 'absolutely unfit for work in winter conditions."

Dressed Poultry Filling Demand

TORONTO, Jan. 30.—(CP).— The dressed poultry market showed no material change during the current week, the Dominion Department of Agriculture reports.

Offerings of fresh chicken are plentiful (with some beginning to show stagginess) and some dealers are buying only sufficient for current needs while others are packing any surplus into storage.

Supplies of fowl are in excess of last week's supplies, volume now being sufficient to meet enquiries.

Broilers supplies are about the same as last week.

Dealers are quoting producers and country dealers (nominal); broilers, 1½ to 2½ lbs., Grade A milk-fed 30, Grade B milk-fed 28.

Chickens: Grade A. milk-fed, over 5 lbs. 24-25; 4 to 5 lbs. 23-24; 3 to 4 lbs. 21-22; Grade B milk-fed, over 5 lbs. 22-23, 4 to 5 lbs. 21-22, 3 to 4 lbs, 19-20; Grade A, over 5 lbs. 22-23; 4 to 5 lbs. 21-22; 3 to 4 lbs. 19-20; Grade B, over 5 lbs. 20-21, 4 to 5 lbs. 19-20; 3 to 4 lbs. 17-18.

Almost Blind Boy Wants To Serve Canada

Almost totally blind since he was ten Edwin Wheeler, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wheeler of 29 Brown Street, last week appealed to Col. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, for assistance in getting a job in which he can help to serve in Canada's war effort. "I told him I felt there was something I could do to help and if there is something I don't want to miss out on it." He is awaiting reply from the Minister.

Last July Edwin was called up for training at the Military Training Centre here but owing to loss of his sight, he was turned down. "It was like slamming a door in my face," he said.

This young man who lives in a practically black world, save for the illumination from electric light bulbs and the sun, has made his life a most useful one.

He attended May's School until he was about ten years old and was one of its brightst pupils until glaucoma gradually dimmed his sight to the extent he had to quit. His parents took him to specialists and many operations were performed, but without success. "I am still hopeful that some day we may find a means that will enable Edwin to see again," said his mother.

Ed. has spent about ten years at Brantford School for the Blind and graduated its leading pupil with 'A' in every subject on the curriculum. He has three trophies for being the best all round student of the school three successive years. Last term, he won a scholarship, but did not take it because he preferred the trophy. "The money soon would be spent. but I will always have the cup," he told the Examiner.

Accomplished Typist.

He is an acomplished typist and takes shorthand. It is in this field particularly he feels that he might be of some service in the war effort. Edwin is a keen student of physio-therapy and secures books in Braille on the subject from the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. "He had the distinction of picking up the Braille system quicker than any other pupil in the school for some years," said Mrs. Wheeler.

Among Edwin's many accomplishments are piano playing, card playing, cornet soloist, chorus singing, and not least is his talent for public speaking, which was one of his best subjects at Brantford School. He weaves baskets from reeds, makes all sorts of leather articles, can skate and play "Tin Can Hockey." This young man is well read on many subjects. He finds that at night after everyone has gone to bed is the best time, and many mornings when his father is coming home from a night shift. Edwin is sitting at the table with a book in front of him, reading with his hands.

An interesting feature to the story is that Edwin spends much of his time next door where there are two crippled boys and a girl. The group holds several sessions every day in which the crippled persons paint some of the baskets Edwin has made from reeds or help him finish other work and Edwin in turn renders them assistance in making things.

Omemee Trinity United Church Reports Encouraging Balances

OMEMEE, Jan. 30.—(ENS).—Encouraging reports of the past year's activities of the various organizations of Trinity United church, Omemee, were presented at the annual congregational meeting held in the schoolroom of the church on Wednesday evening, with the pastor, Rev. R. M. Patterson, presiding.

Preceding the meeting, the ladies of the congregation served a pot luck supper.

Mr. Lamb acted as secretary for the evening. Rev. Patterson gave the report of the session, in which it was noted that there were 162 families, of 522 persons, the membership to commence 1941 was 235, membership at end of 1941 was 239; 12 persons joined the church, there were 9 funerals, 9 marriages and 7 baptisms. The baby band report was given by Mrs. Harry Deyell. Receipts amounted to $2.71, balance on hand $1.30. Mrs. J. Shield reported $30.00 in the reserve fund In the absence of the Mission Band superintendent and assistant, Rev. Patterson gave the report, membership of 17, average attendance of 13, 11 meetings were held during the year, and the allocation of $25 was reached.

The W.M.S. report by Mrs. Vaughan showed a membership of 42, 37 active and five life members, receipts amounted to $235.60.

Mrs. Deyell reported for the Women's Association. Membership of 21, balance on hand 1941, $66.81. Receipts $253.56, balance of $77.26; Sunday school by Miss M. Rea, 141 names on the roll, average attendance of 72; receipts $165.24, expenditures $162.92, balance $2.32; Garnet Pogue, the Young People's Union, showed receipts $97.27, expenditures $95.80, balance $1.47; Mr. Weir, Trustee Board, receipts $672.13, expenditures $619.63, balance $52.50. Mr. Race, treasurer of the Board of Stewards, receipts $1,210.80, expenditures $1,128.88, balance of $81.92. M. and M. givings were $276.84.

During the evening Bill Weir led in the singing of a few favorite songs

A hearty vote of appreciation was extended to Rev. and Mrs. Patterson, and to the choir, choir leader and organist. Mr. Race acted as treasurer.

At a recent meeting of the Trustee Board, Mr. D. Weir was nominated as a member of the board and also to act as treasurer.

The following stewards were elected for three years: A. Lang, W. Brown, G. Werry and C. Graham.

Housing Head Grateful To Peterborough

Appreciation of Peterboroug's cooperation with Wartime Housing Limited in the building of 325 temporary houses in this city was gratefully expressed by Victor T. Goggin, general manager of the Government's subsidiary company, as guest of the local advisory committee at the Empress last night.

Among the other guests were Judge Smoke, Mayor Hamilton, G. S. Matthews, chairman of the Utilities Commission, Ian F. McRae, H. L. Garner and Hubert Eastwood.

By contrast with the helpful attitude of Peterborough through its council and Utilities Commission and also in its dealings with private interests, Mr. Goggin mentioned especially exorbitant prices quoted over night on land that was required by the Housing Company in another province. Off the record he gave the small dinner group exceedingly interesting glimpses of the extent of the housing enterprise which the government found necessary to undertake in many places such as Peterborough where a new munitions industry attracted many hundreds of wartime workers for whom accommodation had to be provided.

Mr. Goggin also spoke of the important contribution Canada was making through its industries, particularly in motor transportation in Libya, Canadian tanks in Russia, and more recently even shells in the Pacific arena.

The members of the housing advisory committee who were present were: R. L. Dobbin, H. J. McCannan, H. A. Cranfield, T. T. Rodgers, H. S. Longhurst. Wartime Housing has already built 6,400 houses throughout the country, and their work is still a long way from being ended.

Curling Stones Make $54.55 For War Victims

The very nice sum of $54.55 is included in this day's receipts for the city and district British War Victims' Fund, through a draw which was made on a pair of curling stones donated to the fund by Lou Brooks, the sale of tickets for which had been sponsored by the Peterborough Curling Club, of which T. McArthur is president.

On Wednesday the Peterborough Curling Club held a very successful bonspiel, and it was near the close of the day's activities that the draw was made by the donor of the pair of stones, which resulted in ticket number 494 being the winner, who proved to be Ben Ward of the Oshawa Curling Club.

To Herb Martin, rink manager for the local club, goes quite some credit for the part the club played in raising the nice sum of money, in which J. G. Harkness, treasurer, also participated, and Mr. Brooks also assisted by disposing of a considerable number of tickets. To them all we say many thanks for the help thus given to the cause of furthering the objects of this fund.

Almost exactly one year to the day, we record a repeat donation from the Senior Peterborough Chapter of Hadassah, this time in an amount of $10 per R. Green, secretary, and Lilian Aiken, treasurer, demonstrating a continued interest in the welfare of those stricken in Britain. The box at the Capitol Theatre yielded the more than average amount of $8.45 for this type of contribution to the fund when collected on Thursday and one nice personal donation of $5.00 is also included in the day's receipts.

Keith Reid had the misfortune to break his leg at school two weeks ago, and from out of his bad luck, goodness is made to flow to others through friends paying for the privilege of signing their names on the cast placed to restore it to its normal functions, the result of this adding a further $2.00 to the fund.

Men of Omemee.

A great effort is being staged by the men of Omemee to raise at least $600, which will be divided equally between this fund, the Red Cross, and Soldiers' Aid Funds, and for this purpose tickets are now on sale at 25c each or five for $1 on a registered bull, the draw to be made at the close of a hockey match between Peterborough and Omemee Junior and a dance in Coronation Hall on Feb. 13th and from all accounts this effort is meeting with good success.

To-night a dance is being held at Centreville in aid of the fund, with Marshall's Orchestra supplying the music, and the Excelsior Bible Class of St. James' United church is holding a tea from 7 to 10 p.m. to also assist in helping British War Victims in their Sunday school hall.

Free Marriages

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 30—(AP). — If the soldiers can persuade the girls to say "Yes," three St. Louis Justices of the Peace will marry them —free of charge. "We felt the least we could do was save a soldier $5 if he wants to get married," said one of them. "If he'll come in uniform with a license and the girl, we'll do the rest."

WesternCanada Pioneer Once Lived Here

MONTREAL, Jan. 30—(CP).—Sir Frederick Haultain, 84, Chief Justice of Saskatchewan for 26 years and Premier of the Northwest Territories from 1891 to 1905, died at his home here today after a lengthy illness.

Sir Frederick suffered an attack of jaundice December 1. His illness was complicated by other ailments.

For the last few years Sir Frederick had lived in retirement here. He paid his annual visit to Western Canada last summer and went through to the coast, spending a long holiday in Vancouver.

Be Buried In Peterborough.

A funeral service will be held at 2.30 p.m. Monday in Christ Church Anglican Cathedral, following which the body will be taken to Peterborough, Ont., for burial. Sir Frederick had lived in Peterborough during his early years in Canada.

In 1938 Sir Frederick married Decima Ward, widow of William Gilmour of Montreal. Surviving besides his wife are two stepsons, Arthur W. and Thomas W. Gilmour, and one stepdaughter, Mrs. D. B. Creighton, all Montreal. Other survivors include a sister, Miss Clara E. Haultain of Montreal and one brother, Wilmot G. Haultain of Regina; three nieces, Miss Helen Haultain, Mrs. Wilfrid Bovey and Mrs. Arthur Boucher and one nephew, Fred C. A. Macklin, all of Montreal.

Retired To Peterborough

Sir Frederick was born in Woolwich, Eng., Nov. 25, 1857, the son of a colonial soldier, Col. F. W. Haultain, who had served many years in Canada. Sir Frederick's father was married in Montreal and when he retired had gone back to Canada to establish a home at Peterborough. He took his family with him.

Sir Frederick was educated in Montreal and Peterborough schools and completed his education at the University of Toronto in 1879. He then went into a Toronto law office and in 1884 decided to try his luck in the Frontier country.

He established a law office in Fort Macleod in the heart of Southern Alberta's cattle country. Within three years he was elected to the council of the North-west Territories as the representative for his district.

When the council was given the status of an assembly in 1888 Sir Frederick was chosen with three others to act with the Lieutenant-Governor as an advisory committee on Finance. A year later when the Governor failed to act on the advice of Sir Frederick and his colleagues a constitutional question arose.

In 1891 Sir Frederick saw his argument partly won when the Dominion legislation authorized the appointment of an executive committee to govern territorial affairs. This committee was responsible to the Assembly and not the Governor.

Sir Frederick remained in Regina to keep in touch with political affairs and gradually became known as Premier. With the impetus of immigration to the West Sir Frederick urged that a separate western province be established. In 1905 the Federal Government introduced autonomy legislation setting up two provinces between Manitoba and the Rocky Mountains. Sir Frederick's friends were disappointed when they learned that Walter Scott, representative for Assiniboia, got the post of first Premier of Saskatchewan. They thought it would go to Sir Frederick.

But it was reported that Sir Frederick's attitude against educational clauses in the autonomy bill was not popular with the Federal authorities who feared his arguments might cause prolonged litigation and disturbance.

In the first Saskatchewan election in 1905 Scott won by an eight-seat margin over Sir Frederick's Provincial Righters. He remained leader of the provincial opposition until 1912 when he was appointed Chief Justice of the province. In 1916 he was given a knighthood.

Shortly before his retirement and at the age of 80 he married Mrs. Gilmour. Upon his resignation he moved to Montreal.

Haultain presented a striking picture as he presided over Saskatchewan's Appeal Court, where his analytical treatment of the complex legal problems contributed much to the high reputation of the court. He carried his years lightly. His trim, erect figure was a familiar sight on city streets or on the golf course—laid out on land he had seen not so many years before as wild prairie.

In By Stage Coach

Haultain had just $45 when the stage coach took him to Fort Macleod then, in 1884, an important post for the North West Mounted Police. He soon won the confidence of the cattle men, policemen and townsmen and established a good practice despite the competition of another lawyer.

Fort Macleod then was in the process of moving from an old to a new townsite. Its civil population was between 200 and 300. Typical of the times was a sign in the Macleod Hotel.

"Spiked boots and spurs must be removed at night before retiring.

"Towels changed weekly.

"Insect powder for sale at the bar.

"Special rates for Gospel Grinders and the gambling profesh.

"Assaults on the cook are stirctly prohibited.

"Only regularly registered guests will be allowed the special privilege of sleeping on the bar room floor.

"To attract attention of waiters or bell boys, shoot a hole through the door panel, two shots for ice water, three for a deck of cards."

Haultain's first case—which he won—concerned a big cattle deal. The attendant retainer gave him a good start in the new country, and he prospered. For a time he was Crown Prosecutor.

Sang in Choir

Haultain was well liked by Macleod's hard-riding, fun-loving cowboys—they appreciated his inexhaustible fund of humor so necessarys in a hard, new land. Haultain often joined them in their celebrations but only to keep them out of riotous mischief, for he was not given to the wilder type of "horseplay." Indeed, he was a regular attendant at Macleod's little log church, where his baritone voice led the choir.

Indicative of his love of fun was the prank the young lawyer played upon Rev. H. T. Bourne, rector of the Anglican Church of which he was a member. One Sunday he and a friend got to church ahead of the rector, went up to the pulpit and glued two written sermons together. Mr. Bourne read both discourses at a stretch without noticing the change of topic.

But it was not all fun in the new West. Haultain took his responsibilities seriously and when in 1895, as administrative member of the governing executive committee, he did his best to alleviate conditions among the farmers when crops failed. A newspaper of the time records that Haultain was "always on the move," driving about the country continuously, "giving what practically was relief but was guarded by conditions of work to preserve self-respect."

For three years after he arrived in Fort Macleod the young easterner ignored politics. Then in 1887 Sir John A. Macdonald and other Conservative party leaders in Ottawa attempted to designate the candidate to be named by Alberta Conservatives to contest a federal election. Haultain and others resented the move.

So ably did Haultain campaign for a Western-chosen candidate D. W. Davis, that Davis was elected easily, and Haultain, to his surprise, found himself a political figure. He was drafted to contest the seat left vacant in the council of the North-West Territories when Viscount Boyle, who had represented Macleod, was summoned to Great Britain to take his seat in the House of Lords as the Earl of Shannon.

Haultain won the election without difficulty. In Macleod, only one vote was cast against him. He represented a teritory of 1,000 square miles with a population of 1,000 and for 16 years he was re-elected by acclamation.

Haultain acted as his own scrutineer in that first election. Seated in a Lethbridge polling booth, he greeted almost every voter by his nickname, which helped not a little in piling up a big majority. For Haultain knew almost everyone in the district and never was at a loss in addressing passersby.

An Able Debater.

Walter Scott who later as Premier of Saskatchewan was Haultain's political rival, paid tribute to the rising young lawyer when he wrote: "The House at once recognized Haultain as the representative chief of the Council. He quickly took his place as one of the best debaters in the House and from the first exhibited abilities, both critical and constructive, of a high order.

"Punctiliously honest, possessing courage which has stood the test in more than one severe trial, and being imbued with a progressiveness which is wholly free of any tincture of splurge or recklessness, it is scarcely possible to imagine one better qualified to occupy the place he has occupied during the period of evolution, through which this country is passing."

Schools increased rapidly under Haultain's administration. In 1886 there were 76 schools in the Territories with 84 teachers and 2,553 pupils. Eight years later there were 917 schools, 1,129 teachers, and 41,033 pupils.

Sir Frederick in 1902 attended the Coronation of King Edward VII, representing the North-West Territories. A London newspaperman annoyed him by expressing amazement at his cultural and social attainments, and Haultain snapped: 'Let me remind you, sir, some of the best blood of Britain is to be found west of the Great Lakes, and within a decade that area will be the richest heritage of the Empire."

The University of Toronto honored him in 1916 with a Doctor of Laws degree. The Cree Indian tribe of the Pasqua Reserve in Southern Saskatchewan made him a chief, and in recognition of his efforts on their behalf the Indians granted him shooting rights in his lifetime, and after, should he wish to return from the Happy Hunting Grounds.

Dies Suddenly

Deputy Reeve Herbert Nelson of Percy township and former warden of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham who died very suddenly at his home near Dartmouth early today. Mr. Nelson has been leader in municipal affairs in Northumberland for years and was also president of the Percy Cheese Factory. His wife died about a year ago.

Sparkling Revue Booked For This City

A highlight of the forthcoming Victory Loan in this county will be the presentation of the topnotch revue "Pull Together Canada" which is being brought to the city through the work of the local Victory Loan organization.

It is hoped to obtain permission to use the Collegiate auditorium for Saturday, February 28. The revue consists of some top ranking choruses, peppy and in keeping with the times, three short sketches—one in an air-raid shelter, one a factory scene, and one in a typical home. A comedy sketch with a strong patriotic finale in which "Land of Hope and Glory" is sung as a solo is perhaps the finest part of the entire presentation.

This is an adaptation of an American Revue which has been playing to packed theatres on the other side of the line, and has been toured through the principal cities of the northern and eastern States.

It is intended to provide a background for a Victory Loan speaker who will deliver a brief but forceful message to the patrons of the revue on the war effort. The speaker accompanying the revue is Mr. Bernard Halward. He is an Oxford graduate, was formerly an executive of the Montreal Star, and now is president and owner of the St. Raymond Paper Mills. He has offered his services for the entire Victory Loan campaign. There is however the possibility that the local committee will decide to have a local speaker instead and this point will be decided on at a later date.

TOP SCORING R.A.F.

LONDON—(CP).—The Royal Air Force's top-scoring station started the New Year with a bag of 848 enemy planes destroyed since the war began. Its squadrons destroyed 224 planes in 1941 for the loss of 71 pilots, 12 of whom are known to be prisoners.

Air Gunner Missing

Sgt. Harold Taylor, 23, wireless air gunner, who is reported missing somewhere off the coast of Newfoundland. He was transferred several weeks ago from Dartsmouth, N.S. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Victor Taylor, Rawdon Township, who reside 9 miles east of Campbellford, were officially notified this week. Sgt. Taylor is a graduate of Campbellford High School.

W. A. Anderson Director Of Reforestation

Appointment of W. A. Anderson of Otonabee to the reforestation branch of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests takes effect February 1. He will be engaged in this district under the direction of E. J. Zavitz, Toronto, Provincial Forester, and will probably be associated with G. M. Linton, superintendent of the department's station, nursery and plantation, at Orono.

Mr. Anderson was the first president of Zone 4 of the Conservation and Reforestation Association comprising eight or nine counties in Central Ontario, and continued at the head of that organization until last year. He has also been the main promoter of the Peterborough county forest in Dummer and Belmont townships, and in connection with these interests he has made a close study of forest conditions in this area, the history of lumbering and the possibilities of reforestation.

District Directors

Two years ago the Conservation and Reforestation Association recommended to the provincial government the appointment of district directors, generally to promote the work of reforestation an enterprise which has made substantial headway since the zone groups came into being. Information regarding the appointment of Mr. Anderson affirms that the position sought him because of his interest in the work and his practical knowledge of it. Similar appointments for the same purpose are being made in other districts.

The vision of E. J. Zavitz, contemplating the eventual development of new resources of timber in Ontario, had gradually made a widening impression upon many citizens throughout the province who are interested in this natural asset. On many platforms he has told the story of countries in Europe whose states reap permanent revenues from forests which have been exploited on a scientific basis, and his convictions have reached out to many who have heard him.

An Investment for Future

It is recognized that reforestation is a necessarily slow process of restoring timbered areas, especially on submarginal lands which have no agricultural value. It is an investment for future generations, but it must be begun in the present. Specimen reforestation plots here and there throughout the country have demonstrated what can be done in the course of twenty-five years, but the movement demands a far greater effort than it has so far received.

Reforestation propaganda has been enlisting the rural schools during the last two years. Assisting in this effort have been the school inspectors, teachers and a number of trustees and parents. Although some people are "conservation-conscious," they have come into the fold late, and it is now believed that the winning of the younger generation offers one of the most effective ways of establishing enduring practical work in reforestation. Farmers are being encouraged to manage their wood lots, and also to set out young trees in ten, twenty or thirty acre sections.

The Conservation Association has persuaded the government that there should be continual leadership in this direction, and that assignment has been allotted to Mr. Anderson in the Peterborough area.

ORIGINAL CORVETTE

Canada's first corvette was the Charybdis, a wooden steam vessel loaned by the British Government for training purposes.

Demand Heavy For Office Help

H. A. Toole, head of the Commercial department of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Vocational Training School reported to the advisory vocational committee on Thursday evening that since September he has had a wave of requests from employers in the city seeking trained office help, and Mr. Toole has been unable to supply them.

"For the information of the committee I might add that all our day school students who graduated in June became employed before the end of the school year or shortly afterward. There will be another class graduating at Easter."

The report on the evening classes indicates that classes are being held in the following subjects: junior typewriting, speed typewriting, junior stenography, intermediate and senior stenography, and bookkeeping.

The maximum registration is relatively unchanged as from last year, being 211, as compared with 217. There are 70 students in the junior typewriting class, and there are just 52 machines. However not all students attend every night, and many drop out, so the large class can be accommodated.

F. E. Johnston reported on the attendance at night school industrial classes as follows: Mathematics, 32; machine design, 20; electricity, 47; tool design 14; draughting, 28; machine shop, 74; blueprint reading, 79; vocational science, 12; woodworking, 17.

In the household arts department there are 105 taking sewing and only 15 registered in the cooking class.

City Receives Only One Bid On Incinerator

Only one tender for a new incinerator was received by the property committee of the council Thursday afternoon.

Francis Hankin & Company of Toronto submitted their own plans for a plant to consume 24 tons of garbage in an eight-hour day, the building to be erected for $46,200.

The plans provided for three burning "cells" with provision for a fourth whenever required by the city's growth, with forced draft equipment, turning bay, brick stack, and so on.

A seemingly peremptory condition demands that the tender be accepted by January 31, because of the uncertainty of the cost of materials and source of supply. The tender did not include the making of an earth ramp, and supplying such services as sewer and water.

The company promises no offensive odors from the chimney. The capacity of the plant that is planned in the bid, a building of 40 feet by 30 feet, to enclose the actual incinerating units, is regarded as being slightly in excess of Peterborough's present daily average of 20 tons of garbage, with more than that amount seasonally.

It is estimated that three men would be needed to operate the incinerator, the same number now employed, and with the ultimate construction of a fourth unit the capacity would be something more than 32 tons of garbage a day.

Alderman Bradburn said he was disappointed in getting no tender for the present type of incineration.

City Engineer Parsons said he had advertised the contract in the engineering journals, and "four people asked for specifications."

Extras May Cost $8,000

Alderman Curtis said there was no reason why some local contractor could not construct the building itself, because it was expected that the contractors would sublet that detail. He also expressed the opinion that the additional work beyond the contractual terms would cost the city "another $8,000."

A minor snag was encountered in the proposal to supply a sewerage connection, but there is no sewer on that section of Townsend street. A septic tank was suggested, and another solution was to lay a sewer southerly across the big vacant lot across the way to Rink street. Another idea was to extend a sewer easterly on Townsend street to the creek and then follow the creek on its south and west faces to George street. Mr. Parsons said there was no "fall" on Townsend street to carry seweage to the main sewer on George street at the Townsend intersection.

Foundation Clause

Some of the members of the committee were interpreting a clause about the foundation, as if the company were not including it in their bid.

"You're worrying about something that is not there at all," said Alderman Sands. "It is clear to me that they'll put in the foundation, but if it is something extra, on account of the ground conditions, that would look like an extra. But the first thing we've got to do is to get some soundings, find out what depth is needed. That is something that should have been done long ago, instead of waiting until the middle of winter."

The committee decided as a preliminary to request the company to send one of their engineering staff to Peterborough today to "clear up" several details for the assistance of the committee. The time condition in the tender is Saturday, January 31. However, the committees of the Council are holding their monthly sessions tonight, and it is expected that Alderman Swanston's committee will be in a position to decide at once on the Hankin bid.

Fish And Game Association Wins Top Award

High honors have come to the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association with the announcement from the Toronto Anglers' Association that the Mary Pickford Trophy has been awarded to this organization.

The Mary Pickford trophy was handed to Bill Lang, past president of the Anglers' Association a few years ago by Miss Pickford when he was visiting in Hollywood, and it goes to the Fish and Game organization which in the opinion of the association makes the most outstanding contribution to the good of the country along fish and game conservation lines in any one year.

A letter from Bill Lang brought the news to the local association this week, and it is expected that Charlie Kingan, president of the Peterborough group along with two or three others will attend the annual meeting of the Toronto Anglers in Toronto on February 11 to receive the award.

It was pointed out that the local organization did excellent work in restocking and conservation and that extensive reforestation has been carried out in this country, to present a complete picture in favor of the local organization. While the tribute for the reforestation goes to the county council, nevertheless, the fine work in restocking and conservation generally can be laid directly on the broad shoulders of Charlie Kingan, hard working president of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association.

Besides being a much coveted award, the presentation of the trophy should focus the attention of sportsmen and fishermen from all parts of Ontario on this Kawartha Lakes district, and definite benefits in the form of increased traffic to the lakes of the section should follow.

Child Knocked Down By Delivery Truck

Diane, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph O. Standish 618 Gilmour street, was bruised but not seriously injured when she was knocked down by a truck near her home shortly before noon to-day.

The child was playing on the sidewalk when a delivery truck, driven by W. J. Robson, 428 London street, backed out of the laneway at 620 Gilmour street and struck her, knocking the little girl over. Fortunately the vehicle was not moving fast. The child was picked up and taken to the Standard Medical and Surgical Clinic, where it was found that she had not received serious injuries.

No FDR Hedging As Churchill Asked For Troops

LONDON, Jan. 30 — (CP Cable) —Lord Beaverbrook disclosed in a broadcast address last night that the first meeting between Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt which resulted in the Atlantic Charter took place in Newfoundland.

The Minister of Supply, who recently returned with the Prime Minister from Washington, made the disclosure in the course of an address in which he said Mr. Churchill "has never failed" in his relations with the United States. "He was right when he went to Newfoundland for the meeting with the President," Lord Beaverbrook added.

"He was right twice over when he took his chance with the Americans in declaring whole-hearted, unqualified and unrestricted support for Russia and the Russians."

The Supply Minister then revealed that when Britain gave her pledge of aid to Russia "we agreed to give Russia half the effective tank production."

"Production in Britain is good," he said, but it "must be increased."

"The Prime Minister is never satisfied. He is always asking for more. He is continually pressing us, inquiring into our plans and asking us to extend the scope of our operations."

No Roosevelt Hesitations.

Lord Beaverbrook also disclosed that the Prime Minister put forward his case for sending American troops to Northern Ireland at his meeting in Washington with President Roosevelt. He said that when Mr. Churchill had finished his plea, the President replied: "We will send the troops."

Lord Beaverbrook cautioned Britons that they "must not expect too much in the way of increased supplies from the United States in the immediate future, because they "have their own necessities."

Of Britain's present production, Lord Beaverbrook said: "We are turning out guns, at the rate of 30,000 a year. By the end of 1942, it is estimated by the director-general of weapons and instrument production that the output will reach the rate of 40,000 a year. I predict a rate of 45,000 guns, and let me tell you that 30,000 guns exceeds the total of guns produced in Britain in the whole of the last war.'

In spite of this high rate, Beaverbrook said, Mr. Churchill "is never satisfied."

Janie Canucks Register For Farm Work

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 30 (ENS) The Janie Canucks, girls' club of Seymour East unanimously endorsed the plan to register for farm work with the Department of Agriculture when they met for their regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon. Their leader, Mrs. William Hume, read a communication from the Women's Institute branch of the Department of Agriculture drawing attention to the fact that farm, village, town and city girls would be called on as never before to assist with the production of farm products. In her letter Miss Florence Eaddie, director of th Homemaking Club suggested that the farm girls should plan to assume more responsibility in their own homes and should assign herself some daily work such as the care of chickens and milking. It was suggested that the weeding of the home vegetable garden was another assignment which the farm girl might well adopt or even assist with the driving of the horses or tractor. Following their decision to register the names of all of the members were forwarded to the Department. In addition to sewing on housecoats members discussed making children's clothes for the .Red Cross. They will hold their next meeting at Miss Dorothy Eagleson's.

CONSTIPATION A LIFELONG STRUGGLE

Relief Found at Last

With perfect frankness a woman correspondent writes:—

"I have suffered from constipation as long as I can remember, and taken all sorts of things—which in some cases seemed to do good at first, but afterwards to have no effect. Bethel Baptist Annual Meeting

Members of the Bethel Baptist Church met on Wednesday evening to hear the annual reports of the church. The meeting opened with the singing of several hymns and a period of prayer. Rev. L. E. Jones presided for the business session.

Most of last year's officers were returned to office, the only major change being the election of George Whatley as treasurer of the church. Mrs. J. Smith reported for the church treasurer and showed a cash balance on hand for both current account and building fund.

L. Wilfong reported for the Y. P.A. and Miss Margaret Smith for the Sunday School, and both organizations had a substantial credit balance on hand. The total revenue of the congregation for the year exceeded $3,400.

The congregation now numbers about 75 adult members and adherents, besides their children. Eight were received as members during the year by baptism and eight others by letter. During the past year nearly a score of adults have professed to be converted and also a number of children. The Sunday School has more than doubled in the past year and now there are about 150 on the roll. The past year has been an eventful one in the life of the church since the buildwas opened on October 5 and the pastor ordained on October 7.

Haydon, Brule Are Found Guilty

OTTAWA, Jan. 30—(CP)—Sentence will be passed at the end of the Ontario Supreme Court assizes cn Capt. J. A. P. Haydon and Rudolphe E. Brule, of Ottawa, convicted last night of seven charged under the criminal code of Canada.

After deliberating four hours, an Ontario Supreme Court jury found Haydon and Brule guilty on an indicement which charged that they did, on seven different occasions, under the pretence of possessing influence with the government or with an official thereof, demand or receive money as a compensation, fee oi reward for procuring or furthering the obtaining of a benefit from the government.

Another indictment, including three charges of fraud upon the government and one of false pretences, is laid against Brule and will be heard next week along with a joint indictment of false pretences against Brule, Haydon and Hector K. Carruthers of Ottawa; a joint indictment of fraud against Brule and Carruthers; and an indicement against Brule and Haydon on two counts, one charging government fraud and the other false pretences.

The Crown is expected to begin its case to-day against a fourth accused—J. Richard Grant, Federal Works Department employee from Hull, Que., who faces two charges of false pretences.

Sir Harry Lauder Sends Greetings

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 30.—(ENS)—Sir Harry Lauder has sent his best regards to Peterborough. In a recent letter received by Mrs. John Charlton from her daughter, Miss Phyllis Charlton, R.N., who is in Great Britain, she tells of being at a party New Year's Day and of being introduced to Sir Harry Lauder, who had entertained the guests with singing and stories for about one half hour.

When introduced to Miss Charlton he asked where she was from and upon learning she was from Peterborough County he said he knew the place and when next writing to send his best regard.

Th party of nurses and doctors have been entertained at various parties and have visited Edinburgh, St. Giles' Cathedral and have also been to John Knox's house and have been introduced to Sir William Holden and Mrs. Holden.

R.A.F. Hits Muenster

LONDON, Jan. 30 — (CP). — British bombers raided Muenster, Germany, and docks at the German-occupied cities of Boulogne, France, and Rotterdam Holland, Wednesday night, Air Ministry announced yestetrday. Air fields in the low countries also were bombed.

Six bombers were missing from the night operations, the Ministry said, while one fighter plane was missing from yesterday's patrol.

Sewing Circle Meets

HASTINGS, Jan. 30 — (ENS) — Officers and members of the Sewing Circle of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Parish gathered at the rectory on Wednesday evening to bid farewell to Miss Rose Murphy, the housekeeper of the late Rev. Paul Costello, and one of the officers of the Circle. Miss Murphy is leaving this week for her home near Ottawa. Presentations to Miss Murphy were made by the Sewing Circle and by the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin. From the former she received a housecoat and slippers and from the latter a beautiful statue. Mrs. A. J. McKenty read a short address expressing regret because of Miss Murphy's ensuing departure, and Miss Margaret Lynch. president of the Sodality, presented the statue. Miss Murphy thanked the societies for their gifts, and the ladies then served refreshments.

RECTAL SORENESS AND

PILE TORTURE

QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from McDermid & Jury or any druggist and use as directed This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended, and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money —(Advt.)

TIRE CONSERVATION

is of Vital Importance to Every Canadian

Our rubber supplies are in jeopardy. Canada and her Allies must have rubber for the armed forces, for factories, for ships. Already drastic steps have been taken by your Government to conserve existing stocks. Tire sales have been prohibited except for essential needs. But Government action is not the whole answer. Every Canadian must do his part. The necessity is imperative. This day and in the days to come Canada expects every citizen to do his duty.

HERE ARE THE ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS ABOUT

RUBBER:

Question: How serious is the rubber situation?
Answer: Because facts of value to our enemies cannot be revealed, published reports have been conflicting and sometimes inaccurate. The shortage is so grave it can truly be said that anyone hoarding rubber or using it unnecessarily is committing an act of disloyalty.

Question: Can we obtain more crude rubber?
Answer: Not at present, except from our Allies who need it as badly as we do.

Question: What about sources other than the Pacific?
Answer: All other sources, including U.S. synthetic production, represent only a very small percentage of our needs.

Question: What is rubber needed for in the war effort?
Answer: For thousands of articles. Here are only a few:

Gas masks	Insulation
Tank tracks	Life preservers
Fire hose	Surgical supplies
Tires	Telephone lines

Question: Who is now permitted to buy new tires?
Answer: Only doctors, visiting nurses, police and fire departments, certain other public services, owners of farm and factory trucks, and certain others. A list of "eligible" vehicles is posted in every garage in Canada or it can be obtained from the Controller of Supplies, Department of Munitions and Supply, Ottawa.

Question: What can I do to help?
Answer: Whenever you contemplate using your car ask yourself, "In fairness to our fighting services can I really say this trip is necessary?" If you must use your car, drive carefully and keep your tires in good condition.

Question: How else can I help?
Answer: When you buy anything, carry it with you. All retail suppliers, including bread, milk, coal, and ice dealers, are denied new tires for transporting goods to your home.

Question: What happens to my worn-out tires?
Answer: Before discarding a tire, try to get it repaired or retreaded. If it is beyond repair it can be "reclaimed" to make new rubber articles. The law provides heavy penalties for burning, cutting, or destroying any tire or tube, including bicycle tires and tubes. If you have old tires it is your patriotic duty to turn them over to a garage man or scrap dealer. If you own any "eligible" vehicle you must turn in your old tire or tube before you can purchase a new one. No turn-in allowance will be given.

Question: What about the guarantee on my tires?
Answer: Your dealer will give you details, but broadly speaking, all guarantees on tires sold up to December 11, 1941, are replaced by limited guarantees of not more than 90 days. All new guarantees are for 90 days.

Question: How can I save my tires?
Answer: Above all, by not using your car, by sharing trips with neighbours, by employing other means of transportation, including your own good legs. Here are eight rules for tire preservation:

1. Maintain recommended air pressure at all times.
2. Shift tires from wheel to wheel every few thousand miles.
3. Never take corners at high speed.
4. Never slam on the brakes—except to avoid an accident.
5. Have wheel alignments checked regularly.
6. Drive slowly.
7. Start gently. Never spin the wheels.
8. Keep the tires away from curbs.

Question: Can I buy used or retreaded tires?
Answer: Yes, but only if you prove your need.

Question: What happens to anyone who illegally buys or sells a tire, or otherwise contravenes any of the regulations regarding tires, casings and tubes?
Answer: Penalties for infractions of Order C.S. 4F may be as high as a $5,000 fine, or five years' imprisonment, or both. Copies of the order are posted in every garage, or may be obtained from the Controller of Supplies.

HONOURABLE C. D. HOWE, MINISTER, OTTAWA

DRIVE SLOWLY, DRIVE CAREFULLY, DRIVE LESS, HELP WIN THE WAR

Officer Honored In Death, Philippine Hero

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 —(AP)— The United States' highest decoration, the Congressional Medal of Honor, was conferred yesterday on Lieutenant Alexander Nininger for gallantry and valor in a hand-to-hand battle in which he was killed in the Philippines.

Armed with rifle and hand grenades, Nininger repeatedly attacked snipers and Japanese groups in "fox holes" who had penetrated the American lines and stalled a counter-attack. He died, but his companions, retaking their lost positions later, found his body and beside it the bodies of an enemy officer and two Japanese soldiers.

The terse and formal phrases of citation for valor, issued by President Roosevelt in the name of Congress, described Nininger's "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty" in bitter fighting Jan. 12 at Abucay on Batan Peninsula, along the shore of Manila Bay.

His own company was not in the action, so Nininger, 23, and less than a year out of West Point, attached himself voluntarily to another company of the Philippine Scouts which was under attack by an enemy force of superior fire power.

Fairview Friends Honors Clarence Tully

FAIRVIEW, Jan. 30—(ENS). — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tully was the scene of a happy event when over sixty of their friends and neighbours from the surrounding community gathered on Saturday evening to honour their son Clarence, who has offered his services with the R.C.A.F. and holds the position of clerk's stenographer at Manning Depot, Toronto.

After an evening playing cards Carman Bell expressed the sentiments of everyone present on the country. Clarance is missed greatly county. Clarancse is missed greatly in the community and in the Fairview church, where he was a valued workers in the young people's work. He was then presented with a beautiful gold ring.

Clarance expressed deep appreciation for the lovely gift.

He is the second son in the Tully family to join the forces. Kenneth is with the R.C.A.F. at Belleville and was also present.

The local Red Cross Society is holding a social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown next Friday evening, Jan. 30.

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—(CP)—The Royal Canadian Air Force announced last night that four airmen, listed in yesterday's R.C.A.F. casualty list as missing after an operational flight in Canada, have been located alive about ten miles south of Grand Falls, Newfoundland.

Names of the men were given as: Flight Lieutenant A. S. Pilcher of East Kootenay, B.C.; Sergeant L. A. McGregor, Winnipeg; Sergeant H. F. Taylor, Harold, Ont. and Sergeant H. A. Wishart, Dartmouth, N.S.

An R.C.A.F. statement said the aircraft and crew were found by searching aircraft but owing to rough terrain the searchers could not land.

An R.C.A.F. statement said that "while returning from patrol, bad weather required the pilot to attempt a forced landing." That was the only information available.

The locality where the crash took place was reported accessible and is reached by logging roads.

ARISTOCRATIC AIR

By PRUNELLA WOOD

CERTAIN fabrics fall naturally into the class of materials that are equally at home whether worn to a formal function or a more simple affair. One of these—and a special favorite of fashion at the moment—is lace, whose aristocratic air carries off any situation in which it finds itself with dignity and grace.

Young Canadians Entertain At Camp

Marion Perry Laird's Young Canadians on Parade entertained the boys at the training centre on Thursday evening. The house was packed and the numbers received such thunderous applause that it was difficult to carry on the show. The program was a variety show of song and tap, ballet, comedy, Scotch, toe and acrobatic dancing and military drills.

This group of youngsters has entertained the soldiers once, and sometimes twice a month since the first week that the camp opened. On Wednesday evening they performed in the Sergeants' Mess, where they were extremely well received and enjoyed themselves immensely. The hope was expressed that they would entertain the Sergeants' Mess again in the not too distant future.

Miss R. Young Tells WCTU Of Work of Children's Aid

Miss Rachael Young was guest speaker at the January meeting of the W.C.T.U. on Thursday afternoon. The meeting opened at three o'clock with the president, Mrs. H. T. Rehill in the chair. Mrs. R. C. Boulter gave the scripture lesson, which was based on the story of the girl who was raised from the dead and the woman who was healed by faith when she touched the hem of Christ's garment. Mrs. Rehill then told of the Home Centre for soldiers to be established by the W.C.T.U. to provide a centre for Christian fellowship and leadership. It was decided to hold a tea for the purpose of raising their contribution to the Centre.

Mrs. J. Tinney made an appeal on behalf of the Salvage committee for co-operation in the saving of cardboard, newspapers, and grease. Mrs. Wand spoke on the committee for peace and international relations and saiad that we should begin now to prepare for the peace which is to come.

Three short readings by Mrs. McLaren were very much enjoyed by her listeners.

Miss Rachael Young spoke on the work of the Children's Aid Society, laying particular emphasis on that part which relates to the work of the W.C.T.U. The work of the society, she said, covered the whole field of human relationships. It is chiefly concerned with the family, however, and with those things which affect family relationships. The family, and the individuals which compose the family are the basis of our social structure and those things which threaten, or weaken the family, are the things which threaten our social structure. Some of us are well fitted to withstand the difficulties of adjustment to family life; others find it hard to make these adjustments and need help in order to overcome the difficulties.

One of the chief difficulties which attends adjustment to marriage and family life to-day is a lack of preparation for the dutes and obligations of marriage, and an irresponsibility toward the meaning of marriage. Many households are still suffering from the effects of the depression. After being dependent on relief or charity for years, it is difficult for people to adjust themselves to the sudden abundance of the present day. Too easy access to intoxicating liquors makes that adjustment increasingly difficult.

When one member of the family drinks excessively he uses up money which is often desperately needed for other purposes. His irritability creates an unhappy tension in the family. Drinking by parents breeds a lack of self-respect in the children and sometimes results in the children getting the habit too.

Miss Young said that prohibition alone was not the answer to the problem. We must provide other interests, of a more constructive nature to fill up leisure hours.

The speaker made it clear that excessive drinking was not by any means the only cause of difficulties in family life but it is a large one.

With The Girl Guides

ASHBURNHAM DISTRICT

The regular meeting of the local association of the Ashburnham District Girl Guides was held at the home of Miss Margaret Stevenson, 756 George street on Tuesday evening.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. H. M. Dunkerly.

Reports for the month of the two companies were given by the president.

Miss Edna Borland is planning to start Brownies on Saturday afternoon and Mrs. A. Howson was appointed to find a meeting place for them.

Each Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 the Fifth Ashburnham Company of Girl Guides meets at the Lyceum and is desirous of obtaining some new Guides between 12 and 14 years of age, also Rangers 16 to 18 years of age to study in particular home nursing and A.R.P. work. The first meeting for Rangers was held at the home of Mrs. Radcliffe, 535 Reid street on Thursday night. Any girls of the Rangers age (16 to 18) wishing to join should get in touch with Mrs. Radcliffe.

The next meeting of the Association will be held at the home of Mrs. H. M. Dunkerley the last Tuesday of February.

Council of Women To Co-operate In Sugar Rationing

In a letter to members of the local Council of Women Mrs. Edgar D. Hardy, president of the National Council, requested the co-operation of all Local Council of Women in the effective enforcement of the Price Ceiling regulations. Many authorities say that food will be a factor in determining victory. If that is so then one of the great instruments for victory lies in the hands of Canadian women, who do 85 p.c. of all the buying.

In a recent telegram Mrs. Hardy requested co-operation in the matter of sugar rationing. This is a splendid opportunity for the members of the Local Council to show their loyal support of the policy of the War Time Price Board and the members are advised that the supply of sugar on hand is sufficient to provide the present ration indefinitely and there is absolutely no need for panic. It is suggested that ways and means of economizing on sugar be discussed.

The government has asked the co-operation of all women in seeing that the Price Ceiling and the rationing of sugar are properly enforced and it is the patriotic duty of all the women of Canada to comply with this request to the best of their ability. It is one of the important contributions which women can make toward final victory.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, January 31

Prospects for the fulfilment of high ideals, ideas and practical objectives are sustained by this day's intriguing and unusual stellar aspects. This fine opportunity may arise from a sudden, quite unpredictable and surprising source, which may involve unlooked-for change of plans, or even associations and environs, bringing a quick shift to altogether new aims and accomplishments. Stranger forces and personages are at work, with elders as well as old establishments contributing.

Those whose birthday it is should have a year of definite advance upon their cherished ambitions and lofty ideas and ideals, with their expansion and growth receiving sudden impetus from strange and surprising sources. Not only unforeseen and thrilling aid is seen but dependable old attachments, friends or institutions figure in fair and enduring fortunes. The public or groups may also be ready with recognition of sound as well a brilliant new enterprise. There should be growth of values in investments.

A child born on this day should have much brilliant ability as well as sterling worth, which should insure performance or adventure.

Norway's Girls For War Duties

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Jan. 30.—(CP)—Fifty members of the "Lotte," the women's army of Norway, are being trained here in auxiliary duties for the Norwegian army, navy and air force.

Most of them are recent arrivals. Some crossed the North Sea in small boats to escape the terror of German ocupation and others came with the Commandos who raided Vaagso and Lofoten.

Three of the girls who came back with the British forces from Vaagso are at this camp. When fighting started at the Norwegian fishing village one of them ran with her parents to a shelter in an adjoining house, explaining 'ours has no cellar."

Another girl, whose home was demolished by a bomb, said she was home only for the Christmas holiday and "for a New Year present I got a chance to come to help win the war." She is going to be a nurse.

This girl brought her brother with her, and as soon as he has recovered from a bullet wound received in the Vaagso fighting, he will join the navy.

Dressed For Raidy Day

Refusing to be lulled by any feeling of false optimism, Philadelphia is going right ahead with its air raid precautions, and the latest innovation is the fire-fighting suit for women wardens. Made of a chemically-processed fireproof cloth, the suit is modelled here by Virginia Sibert in the civilian defence office. At LEFT, a full-length view of the suit. RIGHT, the fireproof helmet that is worn with the suit in fire-fighting action.

Women Capable of Career Family at Same Time

By ROBERT NOBLE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

WINNIPEG, Jan. 30.— (CP).— Wartime needs have summoned Canada's womanhood to new activities, releasing men for more urgent duties. The modern girl drives and repairs trucks, sends and receives telegraph code, shines shoes, acts as messenger, bangs a typewriter in the bedlam of a daily newpaper's city room or, above all, toils over machines of war where great technical skill is required.

Will the infiltration of women into various phases of industry tend to lower birth statistics? Doctors here think not. "The modern woman has proved for several years now that she is capable of following a career and bringing up a family at one and the same time," one physician said. "A little thing like hard work isn't going to stop the woman of the world from maintaining an interest in both her job and her family."

In Winnipeg, 72 co-eds of the University of Manitoba have delved into wireless telegraph and some of them can send and receive continental morse code at the rate of 20 to 25 words a minute. All girls in the group have signified a willingness to take over any post to help in winning the war.

Pretty 17-year-old Kay Cathcart of suburban St. James is cycling around the business section of Winnipeg as a "telegraph boy." She is the first girl to take the job in Winnipeg and company officials were pleased with her work. There may be more, they said.

Variety In Work

At a downtown stand is Penny Ruth Toews—shining men's shoes. Native of Los Angeles, Penny came to Winnipeg as a child, worked as a domestic, took to the road with a carnival company, says she likes the shoe-shining job "because it is something different."

In an aircraft plant here, girl employees work on machines that turn out wooden propellers used in training planes in which Royal Canadian Air Force and other airmen, training under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, go through their fledging period.

Women radio announcers work at various periods on both Winnipeg radio stations. One large taxi cab operator said that no women are employed as taxi drivers in Winnipeg now. "But contrary to opinion, women are good drivers and we might use a few girls yet."

His Christmas Carol

By ADELAIDE HAZELTINE

CHAPTER XVI

Sick with the knowledge that Andy had failed again, Carol fled from the store. For a few brief moments Andy had shown a strong self. She had gloried in him. At last she had thought he was going to make his father proud of him.

Only to be scared out of it by the fear he might lose the income which meant an easy life!

She could go to him and tell him the true contents of the will. That might give him courage to defy Mr. Herrick. But she wouldn't. You can't make a man strong by removing temptation. If he were saved, he would have to save himself.

Now, more than ever, she was burning with the desire to find the will herself, show up the whole miserable scheme and revel in the part she would have to take in disinheriting Andy.

It was a resolution that brought her little comfort on New Year's Day.

SEARCH AT NIGHT

The fact that Mr. Herrick had told Andy the will was still in existence gave Carol new hope. Maybe she could find it.

Provided Andy didn't let Mr. Herrick destroy it first!

She would have until Saturday morning. She was reasonably sure of that. But where would she look? Where, in a store like Dearborn's, would a man hide a will?

In the end she decided she would have to search the store at night. It was her only chance.

And her time was limited. Once Andy gave an affirmative answer and signed the contract, the will would be burned. Both Mr. Herrick and Andy would see to that.

She must find it before it was destroyed. She must find it tonight!

No one would think it odd that she should come to the store to make a late purchase nor would they bother to notice that she didn't go out with the last shoppers. She could hide on an upper floor, make her search and then let herself out a side door.

It was that easy. When the closing bell rang she was crouched behind a little used case on the sixth floor. She had taken pains to choose one where there were no windows to be closed and no lights to be turned off.

After endless minutes she heard the last salesperson go down the stairs and dared to straighten up.

The night watchman was her only worry now. He made his rounds on the hour. She knew his schedule. It would be fairly simple to avoid him if she kept tab on her wrist watch.

Her plan was well in mind. When Mr. Herrick found the will in the vault he would have carried it to his office on the second floor. There he would have read it, realized its possibilities and hidden it somewhere neutral and safe. Not in his own office. That would probably be the last place she would look.

Carol had remembered to bring a flashlight and used it now. She would search all the general office files first. Then the small safes where various records were kept. She would pry into the desk of Mr. Herrick's associates on the theory he might have planted it on one of them so he would be blameless if the will were discovered.

Carol went about her task methodically.

She was in the general offices, thumbing through the files when she heard the watchman's steps. She had been too engrossed in her work to remember the time.

Panicky, she slipped behind the tall metal case and flattened herself against it, then heard the man enter the room, saw the beam of his flash as he surveyed the empty desks. She held her breath. If she were caught, she'd be in real trouble. Even the finding of the will could not explain this!

The footsteps approached her hiding place, hesitated. She was too frightened to think. She could only feel fear inching down her spine, freezing her.

Then, miraculously, the feet turned back!

Thank heavens! He hadn't seen her. She was safe again!

She waited until he was gone to the next floor before she risked moving, deciding not to be careless another time.

The files contained no clew. Where now?

Mr. Herrick's office was about the only chance left. It was improbable that he would hide the will there but it wasn't impossible. She'd leave no place unsearched.

Nine-thirty. Half hour before the watchman started his next round. Cautiously, she made her way to the second floor to Mr. Herrick's office. She would start with his desk.

The drawers were filled with reports, expense records and the usual mincellany of any office man. Extra pencils, a box of cigars, some paper clips, a note pad. She fingered them all, watching for the folded white paper that would be the will.

Then she checked his personal files.

Having read stories where valuable papers were concealed in the back of pictures on the wall, she began to remove those, looking for evidence of tampering.

She had the largest one in her hands when she heard the noise. It was only a rustle, a stir of air. But it was foreign to the silence of the quiet store.

Carol stiffened, not daring to move to hang the picture back in its place, finally managed to lean over and push the button on her flashlight to extinguish its beam.

Waiting she could hear the seconds ticking on her wrist watch, feel the rasp of breath as it tore up and down her throat. Her lungs seemed to swell and burst.

The movement came again, nearer this time. It was no longer a swish. It was the sound of leather treading on wood. It was stealthy feet.

Then blinding light flooded the office.

She was caught!

SPRING SPECTATOR

By PRUNELLA WOOD

THIS is the time of year when the sharp-eyed stay-at-home can pick up many a costume left behind by resort and cruise shoppers, and hang them away in her closet for spring and summer wear.

Such a frock, for instance, as the spectator sports dress shown, made of beige cashmere jersey, which is equally useful for the south now and the north later on. Tucks decorate skirt and bodice, and the waist is action-gathered in back.

FASHIONS

PATTERN 9899

Yes, there is a frock you can wear every day and still look fashion-right! It's a shirtwaister, Pattern 9899—Marian Martin designed it for you who are clever with your needle! See that smart tab collar with cuffs to match—see that gracious semi-circular yoke with soft gathers below it! It narrows down your bustline in a deceiving way—twin panels in the skirt are slimming too. Don't those polka-dots have a spring-like air—especially if made in green and white! You might try the contrast of pique collar and cuffs—and complete the effect with contrast accessories! A long-sleeved shirtwaister is practical too . . . Follow the Sew Chart and you'll have time to make two frocks.

Pattern 9899 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 requires 4 yards 35-inch fabric.

GIRLS SHOULD LEARN HOW TO SUPPORT THEMSELVES

When They Are In High School They Should Prepare to Make Own Living if Marriage Proves Failure.

If I could say one word more earnest than any other to teen-age girls, it would be to urge them while they are still in high school to decide on some trade or profession by which they can support themselves and to begin to prepare themselves for it. I would implore them not to think of their future in terms of romance and roses and millionaires who will marry them and bear them off to live in palaces, but as a hard proposition which will be harder still if they are not fitted to grapple with it. I would like to make these little cuties realize that the best happiness insurance that any woman can take out is to be able to earn her own bread and butter and cake, for it is only the woman who can stand on her own feet who is not crushed by the trials of life. The incompetent woman, the helpless woman goes down under misfortune and is ground into powder. So I would say to these girls: Daughter, if you want to be happy, if you want to be successful, get busy. Don't waste any more time in vague yearnings after the whatness of the what. Get down to brass tacks and try to decide what you really want to do in life, and more particularly, what you have the ability to do. Then get going. Don't let chance decide your fate. Don't take up stenography because Mary Jane is doing it. Don't go behind a counter just because Uncle Tom offers you a place as a saleswoman. Study your aptitudes and see what nature cut you out for, and follow the wise old dame's plan.

Like Your Work

The things you like to do are the straws which show which way the winds of success will blow for you. Did you always stand at the head of the spelling class? Then stenography is your dish. Have you personality and a glib line of talk? Salesmanship is for you. Have you magic in your fingers and an eye for color? Somebody is waiting to pay you big money as a milliner and dressmaker.

Choose your job to your liking and then perfect yourself in it. You will have to work just as hard and just as long hours for a small job as you will for a big one. The difference in your pay envelope will depend upon your skill. A poor cook gets a few dollars a week. A famous chef hundreds. Make up your mind which you want to be. It is up to you.

Prepare yourself for whatever work you undertake as if you knew you were going to do it the balance of your life. The reason so many women fail in business is because they regard their jobs as just a bridge between the schoolroom and the altar, so what's the use in bothering to do a thing well that they only expect to do a short time?

Marriage Uncertain

But the catch in this is that you never can tell about marriage. Maybe you will get a husband who can't support you. Maybe you won't get a husband at all. Maybe your husband will fall ill and you will have to be the breadwinner. Maybe he will die and leave you with a houseful of little children to care for. Many a widow, many a married woman has far more need of knowing how to make money than a single one has. And many an old maid finds a fat pocketbook a good substitute for a poor husband.

Naturally, daughter, you look forward to getting married and living happily ever afterwards. Good! Then begin in the schoolroom to study domestic science. Make yourself a crackerjack cook. Learn how to juggle a budget. Beauty will fade, wit pall; but a man's appetite never fails. And "feed the brute" is still the best recipe ever given for retaining a husband's love. Also, being an expert cook and housekeeper gives a woman a trade by which she can always make a living if the necessity comes upon her. More women have made fortunes out of boarding houses than ever did in being movie stars or writing best sellers.

And finally, daughter, having a good trade on which you can cash in on is the best protection you can have if you are fortunate enough to marry a brute. The helpless, dependent woman has to endure whatever treatment the man she is married to accords her. Not so the woman who is self-supporting. She can put on her hat and walk out if her husband fails to treat her as politely as he would his secretary.

Think over what I have written here, girls, and begin to plan your future life. It is not a day too soon.

WHO IS UNCLE SAM?

Dear Miss Dix—Two friends of mine had an argument over a cartoon about Uncle Sam. The husband says that Uncle Sam is the President of the United States; but the wife says that Uncle Sam isn't any one person, but something that America believes in. Which is right?

IGNORANT.

ANSWER—The wife. Uncle Sam is supposed to typify the average American, just as John Bull does the average Englishman, and especially to visualize the spirit that animates the people as a whole.

IN MEMORIAM

PRESTON.—In ever-loving memory of a dear husband and father, William Preston, who passed away January 30, 1934.

The flowing stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of him who once sat there.
His life was one long sacrifice,
His heart was true and tender,
He toiled so hard for those he loved
Then left us to remember.
—Sadly missed by his Wife and Family.

Dear Mr. Brethen.—We have decided we can handle 300 W. Leghorns and 200 New Hampshire chicks (mixed) any time after 15th of March. 1941 chicks were grand big strong fellows, no trouble at all and have done splendidly.
Sincerely, Mrs. Elmo Kidd.

R.R. No. 3, Keene, Ont.
Dear Mr. Brethen.—Could we get 400 sexed W. Leghorn pullets around the 4th of March? We had splendid results with our chicks last year. Our pullets have held around 65% right along when eggs were highest, and still laying well.
Hope you will be able to fill this order, and thanking you.
Yours, truly, Mrs. Jas. Wilson.

OBITUARIES

MRS. CHARLES H. GEALE

The late Mrs. Hettie S. Geale who died in Toronto on Thursday was a former resident of Peterborough until her marriage to Charles H. Geale of Toronto. Mr. Geale who survives her is a retired banker and was in his early days a member of the staff of the Bank of Toronto here.

Mrs. Geale leaves two sons, both on active military service. Harold is now in England, and Beverley is on Naval Service at Halifax. She also leaves one brother, Frank Burnham of Hamilton, and two step-sons, Herbert of this city and Norman Geale of Port Colbourne.

Mrs. Geale is a daughter of the late John Burnham, K.C., of this city and granddaughter of the late Reverend Mark Burnham, a former rector of St. John's Church, Peterborough.

Other relatives in this district are Mark S. Burnham of Otonabee and Mrs. Gwen Hall, wife of W. T. Hall, Mrs. Leah Geale, Lillian Rogers, George and Heber Rogers of this district.

Funeral service will be held in Christ Church, Yonge and Heath streets, Toronto, on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be made in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

DAVID GREENWOOD.

A Great War veteran, David Greenwood, 52, died on Thursday noon at the family residence, 72 Park Street South, following an extended illness which did not become serious until recently. He was born in Manchester England, a son of Arthur Greenwood and Mary Swarkrick, both dead. He resided in Cavan before coming to Peterborough in 1922 wher he was employed at Parker's Dye Works. Fourteen years ago, he was forced to retire through ill-health. Mr. Greenwood enlisted with the 136th Battalion in Port Hope, on January 26, 1916, and served overseas for 26 months.

Funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Dr. G. S. Easton officiating at the Nesbitt Funeral Home, 347 Charlotte Street. Interment will be made in Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. ALFRED RAPER

Committal service was held at one o'clock this afternoon at Gardiner's cemetery, Millbrook, for the late Annie King, widow of the late Alfred Raper, whose death occurred in Toronto Wednesday at her home, 87 Dewson street.

Funeral service was held last evening in a Funeral Chapel in Toronto.

NORSE GIRL SAVED HIM

LONDON—(CP).— Pte. F. Garland of the Commandos owes his life to a Norwegian girl. When he fell and was unable to regain his footing on an icy slope at Vaagso, the girl dragged him out of range of German bullets chipping the frozen earth around him.

WHEN THEY BEGAN

Quebec Arsenal, now turning out huge quantities of war supplies, began to manufacture ammunition in 1882.

Gay Vanity Table You Make Easily

Daisies A Smart Trimming

Daisies are tacked here and there to the three organdy ruffles, which range in color from white through creamy yellow and canary. More daisies edge the top, form at the centre a pretty bouquet, tied with black velvet ribbons.

And, if you place your table in front of a window, charming to use white organdy curtains with matching bouquets for tie-backs.

To make the table, nail on your packing case a kidney-bean snaped top, cut according to the dimensions in our diagram. Cover top, also make a skirt for the sides, in plain white sateen.

And now stretch over the top a layer of organdy. Cut perky organdy ruffles in graded widths measuring twice the distance around front and sides for fullness. Hem edges, gather, and fasten to the foundation.

Find full directions for making this lovely table in our 32-page booklet—also how to make many other items for home and personal use. Among them are a bookrack table, novelty pillows, utility bathroom box, sewing stand.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps for your copy of "Hand-Made Gift Novelties" to the Examiner, Home Service, Peterborough." Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR THE EXAMINER

"The Authority on Authorities"

MAKE HIM COME TO YOU

IF YOU hold a tenace position in trumps over your right-hand opponent, but have no trump in the dummy to lead through him, there are still several possible ways available to take advantage of the position of your cards. One may be by playing the hand down to the point where you lead from the dummy something which he has to trump before you do. Another is by tossing his partner into the lead and making him lead either a trump or something else which both you and his partner have to trump. A third is by putting the holder of the guarded trump in the lead himself, and making him come to you with a trump lead at the end.

With East keeping his mouth shut until the moment of his business double, it was clear to South—Sidney Silodor, great Philadelphia star—that he was endowed chiefly with plenty of spades, possibly all of them that were out. So he played accordingly.

Winning the heart K, West then made dummy trump the Q, and the declarer bent to his task, aiming to shorten his trumps. The diamond A was used for a discard of the last heart in his own hand, and a small diamond was ruffed. Dummy was re-entered with the spade K and the third diamond led, East ruffing with the 5 and the 7 winning, which left three trumps each with both the declarer and his adversary.

The two high clubs were scored, the third sent to East, and the latter returned the fourth, making South lead again. That didn't bother him, though, as he had lost only two tricks and could afford to lose another. He led the spade 8 to the 10, and there was East having to lead from the Q-6 into the A-J, which of course took the last two tricks, making the contract.

If you get into 6-Clubs or 6-No Trumps in the south on this deal, and the heart J is led against you, how would you plan your play in rubber bridge, and how in match-point duplicate?

Include Seaway

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30—(AP).—Administration leaders in Congress decided today to urge enactment of a bill to authorize 2 6 rivers and harbors improvements costing $1,000,000,000, but to defer expenditure of money until after the war on all but 40 of them deemed necessary for defence. Among the select few are the $285,000,000 St Lawrence waterway development. All would cost about $400,000,000.

Warkworth Lady Mrs. Peterson Passes 85 Mark

WARKWORTH, Jan. 30.—(ENS). —On the occasion of her 85th birthday, Thursday, January 29, Mrs. W. F. Peterson, a highly esteemed resident of this village, received congratulations, callers, a shower of cards and telephone calls from a large number of friends and relatives. In the evening about twenty-five relatives gathered at her home, where a birthday dinner was partaken of and a social time enjoyed.

Mrs. Peterson, formerly Isabella Wilson, is one of a family of eight and is a daughter of the late Samuel Wilson and his wife, Jessie Hermiston. The only other living member of the family is a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Spiers, who will observe her 93rd birthday, February 11.

Mrs. Peterson was born in Percy township on the farm now owned by her nephew, Frank Wilson and which is about four miles north of Warkworth. She received her education at a log school house which was on her father's farm. On December 24, 1879, she married W. F. Peterson and went to a farm near Norham, where they lived until coming to Warkworth in 1919.

On December 24, 1929, they celebrated the golden anniversary of their marriage, August 29, 1933, her husband passed away.

Mrs. Peterson is able to carry on with all her houshold duties. She always excelled in the art of cooking and her hospitality is known throughout the community.

She is the mother of five children: Mrs. George Dawe and Mrs. Charles E. Bowen, Warkworth; Alex, Martin and Roy, Norham. She has seven grandchildren and one great granddaughter, Lois Fowler, Renfrew.

Omemee Group Packs Aid Bale

OMEMEE, Jan. 30.—(ENS)—The Soldiers' Aid Society met on Tuesday afternoon and a bale was packed to be sent to headquarters in Toronto.

The list of articles brought in during the past two months was as follows: 7 quilts, a number of children's dresses, suits, etc., 115 pairs socks, 15 scarves, 2 sweaters, 12 caps, 4 turtle-necks, and 29 pairs mitts and gloves.

Guests on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Swain and two sons Glen and Paul of Valentia with Mr. and Mrs. D. Smith; Mr. Wilbert Fallis and daughter Mary with Mr. and Mrs. D. Smith; Miss Shirley Smith of Valentia with her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed, Reaboro, Mr. Laverne Jones, Toronto, were guests of Mr. Henry Jones on Tuesday.

Church Officers Appointed At Millbrook

MILLBROOK, Jan. 30.—(ENS)—The Venerable Archdeacon William Simpson, B.A., presided for the annual Bestry meeting of St. Thomas' Anglican church, held on Monday at 8 p.m., with a gratifying number in attendance, and reports of a most encouraging character.

The Wardens' report, presented by L. H. Winslow, Peoples' Warden, showed all accounts paid, with a balance on hand after making the usual transfer to the Rectory Fund. R. I. Fallis was re-appointed Rector's Warden, and L. H. Winslow re-elected Peoples' Warden. Delegates to Synod are E. H. Barnes and L. H. Winslow, with Captain W. E. Massey-Cooke and Reginald I. Fallis as alternates.

The list of sidesmen for 1941 were re-appointed, with the addition of Captain W. E. Massey-Cooke, and the Advisory Board includes: J. E. Allen, convener, T. A. Campbell, D. R. Fowler, H. M. Trick, and Wilbert Wood, together with the delegates to the Synod, and the head officers of the various organizations of the church.

For the cemetery committee, which is headed by the rector, other members are: the two Wardens, T. A. Campbell, and the appointees of the Vestry of Christ church, Bailleboro. Reports were made from the Women's Missionary Auxiliary, the Women's Guild, the Altar Guild, the Sunday School, the Choir, and the cemetery committee, all of which showed regular meetings for business purposes, with educative missionary programs in the W.A., encouraging attendance, and finances in satisfactory condition.

Last year, the initial year of increased allotments owing to the release of missionary societies in England from any financial responsibility in Canada, the Advisory Board had been asked to look into the matter and arrange a suitable system to be adopted locally in order to reach the required objective, and so well had its work been done, that the full amount was raised. For 1942 the same board has been asked to again function.

New British Battleship Brought Churchill To U.S.

Lacroix Brands Vote Bowing To Extremists

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—(CP)—Edouard Lacroix, Liberal Member of Parliament for Quebec's Beauce constituency, last night expressed opposition to the government's proposed manpower plebiscite, terming it a "terrible concession to the extremists."

Mr. Lacroix spoke in French as last night's sitting neared an end. He was the second Liberal member to oppose the plebiscite Tuesday. The other was Ross W. Gray, Liberal-Lambton West.

The Beauce member said the clamor for what he described as "an exaggerated war effort" was led by "a little clique from Toronto." He said some of those leading the clamor had come to Ottawa as 'dollar-a-year' men and gone away with contracts worth millions of dollars in their pockets.

Mr. Lacroix quoted figures to support his argument that Canada's war expenditures already were tremendous and her taxes a heavy burden. War taxes in the Dominion was substantially higher than those of the United States he said. The government's estimate that 40 per cent. of Canada's national income was spent on the war was an indication, he said, that the Dominion is spending four per cent. more of its national income on the war than Britain and 18 per cent. more than the United States. Canada, he said, had five per cent. of her men under arms and that proportion also was high.

And As For Conscription

After referring to what he called the "all-out advocates, Mr. Lacroix said:

"They begin by obtaining the services of a new chief — not without guaranteeing him a competence for life—and then they take conscription as a battlecry, since that propaganda succeeded so well....in 1917.

"Mr. Speaker, I regret that these extremists find some of our friends to sympathize with them, and these latter have forced the prime minister to make concessions."

To ask the Canadian people to relieve the government of past commitments by plebiscite was "a terrible concession to the extremists."

He said he would have to oppose the motion to adopt the speech from the throne, and also the amendments proposed by the Conservatives and the C.C.F.

"As for the plebiscite, I shall vote against removal of the obligations taken by the government and by 90 per cent of public men," he said.

Bethany Church Shows Balance

BETHANY, Jan. 30.—(ENS)—The annual vestry meeting was held in St. Paul's Anglican Church on Monday evening, with a record attendance.

In the unavoidable absence of the rector, Rev. E. Mason, the meeting was opened by the retiring minister's warden, Mr. H. Muckle. Mr. F. W. Reynolds was appointed chairman, and Miss Laura Morton acted as clerk.

Reports on the W.A. by Miss Nesbitt, treasurer, Sunday school and C.G.I.T. by Mrs. Mason were found to be very satisfactory with splendid balance.

Report from Girls' Guild also showed a balance.

Dr. J. J. Hamilton was appointed minister's warden; Mr. Robert Morton, people's warden; Mr. Muckle, lay representative to Synod; Mr. H. Padgham, auditor of envelopes; Mr. Byron Davis, sexton of church property; Advisory Council, Byron Davis, F. W. Reynolds, H. Muckle, and Charles Smith. Sidesmen: Calvin Reynolds, George Gilliss, Gordon Jarvis, H. Muckle, Charles Morton and Charles Reynolds.

The joint meeting of C.G.I.T. for the New Year was held on Monday evening at the home of Miss Jean Jarvis with 17 members and adherents present.

Miss Jarvis supervised a contest which furnished keen enjoyment. Mrs. Mason assisted the group, making some pretty pot-holders.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henry of Peterborough were Sunday guests of Mrs. J. J. Clark. Miss Jean Fair spent the week-end with her parents at Fairmount. Mr. Roy Jarvis of Scarboro Beach spent the week-end with his family.

The Mellville Lathangue family, on returning home on Sunday from evening service at Ballyduff Church, were forced into the ditch, when they car skidded on the ice. The driver, Keith Lathangue, suffering lacerations to his head, which required stitches to close the wounds.

Mr. H. Kyle spent the week-end with his family at Bethany, returning to duty at Pickering on Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. Kyle.

Mrs. Waddell returned to her home on Monday from Peterborough where she had been staying with her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Smith, who has been quite ill.

Mrs. R. Johnston and son Harry were Sunday guests at the dinner hour of her daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Rowan and family of Brunswick.

Mrs. Bagley of Toronto is the guest of her brother, Rev. E. Mason, at the Rectory.

Miss Elsie Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rowland and Miss Hannah Staples attended the funeral of the late Miss Elizabeth Staples, which was held from her brother's home, Mr. Stanfield Staples, on Tuesday to 9th Line Cemetery, Cavan.

Sail Lifeboat 2500 Miles Across Sea 13 Men Battle Pacific For Month

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—An extraordinary story of thirteen men battling the open sea for a month, which may become one of the great small-boat sagas of maritime history, was reported by the United States Navy Department last night on the basis of fragmentary information received from Wellington, N.Z.

At 5.30 in the morning of December 19 the steamship Prusa, owned by the Lykes Brothers Steamship Company of Houston, Texas, was torpedoed 100 miles from Honolulu. Eight were killed, the radio operator was lost, and two lifeboats were launched. In one boat were Captain G. H Boy and twelve men, and in the other was the chief mate and twelve others.

The Prusa sank within nine minutes after the torpedo struck, and those who succeeded in launching the two boats held a hurried consultation and decided to set a course for the Marshall Islands.

In a few days the two lifeboats became separated. The chief mate's boat was sighted by scouting planes, which directed a United States Coast Guard cutter to its assistance. On December 27, after eight days in the boat, the chief mate and his twelve men were picked up and taken to Honolulu.

No trace of the second lifeboat containing the captain and twelve men was obtained, and for more than a month their fate was unknown.

Then, from Wellington, came the story that the second lifeboat, after crossing some 2,500 miles of open sea, had landed January 19 on tiny Nukunau Island, one of the Gilbert group approximately 2,500 miles north of New Zealand.

They had been in the open boat from December 19 to January 19.

Shortly thereafter, the fourth officer left Nukunau and reached nearby Beruin Island.

Recent visitors in Lakefield and district were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stubbs, Freddie and Joan of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKee of Peterborough, with Mrs. Mae Jory.

John Hampton of the R.C.A.F., St. Thomas, has been transferred to Yorkton, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. George G. Hendren and Mr. a d Mrs. Charles Hunter were business visitors to Toronto on Monday.

The Junior Red Cross held a successful skating party in the rink on Monday evening, when many of the parents were the guests of the evening. Following the skating the party went to the school, where refreshments were served. Over nineteen dollars was realized and this with the proceeds of a previous party which netted ten dollars, was sent to headquarters at Toronto.

The ladies of the W.A. of St. Andrew's Church held a quilting at the home of Miss Laura Quinn, recently, for the Red Cross.

Among those who attended the funeral of the late Miss Shields were Mrs. A. W. Record of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gordon and Messrs. Gilbert and Ted Gordon of Bobcaygeon, also Wallace Hendren of the Provincial Police, now stationed at Kirkland Lake.

I WANT 2000 PEOPLE TO TRY SYNTONA FOR ONLY 25 CENTS

SUFFERERS FROM STOMACH TROUBLE, WEAK KIDNEYS, LAZY LIVER, NERVOUSNESS AND GENERAL RUNDOWN CONDITION

What It is!

SYNTONA is an advanced medical compound of 12 of the finest medicinal herbs, and not one a habit-forming drug. It is taken before meals and mixes with the food in one's stomach, thus throwing off the poisons that foster stomach troubles. It acts within 10 minutes to stop gas and pains, sourness, bloating, and belching. At the same time SYNTONA drives the poisons from the kidneys and relieves backache bladder irritations and weakness.

What It Does!

It acts on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It DRIVES out rheumatic and neuritis pains; puts a stop to boils, pimples, and other common blood disorders, by ELIMINATING THE CAUSE! It builds strong, healthy nerves. It will free your system of its oversupply of acidity. Those ravaging acids that accumulate and irritate your stomach—fill you with gas—sour your food and cause constipation.

Now, whether SYNTONA will help you as it has thousands of others—whether it will end your suffering in a day or week—remains to be seen. But in light of what it has done for others, it is surely a mistake not to try it for 25 cents, only a fraction of its worth. This introductory offer is good Friday and Saturday ONLY. Act at once. 19 Stranded British Fliers Out-talk Italians, Capture 100

UNARMED BRITONS CONVINCE CAPTORS PEEVED BECAUSE HUN HAD COMMANDEERED THEIR TRUCKS, BEST POLICY IS TO HIKE FOR IMPERIAL LINES.

(By EDWARD KENNEDY.)

WITH THE ROYAL AIR FORCE IN NORTH AFRICA, Jan. 31—(AP).—Shot down into the Mediterranean, 19 crewmen of a Royal Air Force Sunderland flying boat have reached their base with 100 Italian prisoners after swimming to shore through rough seas and hiking across the Libyan desert with the captives.

The British plane was attacked by two German Messerschmitts. One was shot down and the other damaged and driven off, but the Sunderland also was hit, and its starboard engines stopped. The big craft hit the sea hard, bounced 50 feet, and finally come to rest 4½ miles off the African shore. One passenger was killed in the attack and a gunner was wounded critically.

The crippled craft drifted inshore and finally sank. The gunner was placed in a rubber dinghy and the others—19 men and a dog—swam beside it to shore near

Battle Everywhere On Amboina Isle, Mainly Naval Base

BATAVIA, N.E.I., Jan. 31—(AP). — The Japanese have opened a fifth front in the Battle of the East Indies with a furious assault from the air and sea on Amboina Island, site of the second most important naval base in this archipelago. The Netherlands command declared to-day that the fighting was "raging everywhere."

"This morning at 6:20 a.m. enemy ships and aircraft were shelling and bombing the island and the battle was raging everywhere," a Netherlands East Indies communique said.

The high command also reported that a Netherlands warship keeping up the Netherlands schedule of hitting the Japanese fleet and merchant ships at a one-a-day clip, dstroyed a Japanese submarine in Indies waters by depth charges.

The Indies tersely announced that once again they had destroyed vital points in Amboina and vicinity—carrying out on another island the declared policy of putting to the torch or blasting their riches to keep them from falling to the Japanese.

Similar destruction was done to oil and other items when the Japanese invaded the Celebes, Tarakan Island off North-east Borneo, and even before the Japanese sailed against the important oil port of Balik Papan, on the east coast of Borneo. The Japanese also have invaded the west coast of Borneo, landing troops at Pemangkat.

The communique revealed that the Indies had shadowed for some days the Japanese convoy sent against Amboina and that on Thursday it became clear just where the attack would be made.

(Australian reconnaissance planes also spotted the Japanese ships and the attack on Amboina was forecast in Melbourne).

"The attack began early Friday

1 Singapore Reservoir Said Seized

Mainland Tank Gone But 2 Others Available On Island

TOKYO, (From Japanese Broadcast), Jan. 31.—(AP).—A Domei dispatch from the Malayan front today claimed that Japanese forces moving down upon Johore Strait have seized control of a water reservoir serving the island of Singapore from the peninsula mainland

(There are two other reservoirs for Singapore on the island itself.)

No resistance was encountered by the Japanese as the Imperial forces moved southward to Johore Bahru, facing Singapore Island, the Domei correspondent reported. (British forces have withdrawn completely from the Malayan mainland).

Japanese Imperial Headquarters claimed to-day six enemy transports were sunk and five others set on fire or heavily damaged Tuesday and Wednesday during a Japanese air attack on the port of Padang, on Sumatra's west coast.

The Japanese report claimed one 10000 ton ship and three 6,000 ton vessels were set on fire, one 2,000 ton vessel was heavily damaged and two 4,000 ton ships and four other small vessels were sunk.

Mantle Of Rain

LONDON, Jan. 31—(CP).—A report received by the War Ministry said today that a heavy rainstorm recently saved a large Allied convoy which since has arrived at Singapore carrying planes, troops and materials.

"Sixty Japanese planes," the report said, "appeared menacingly and it looked as if they were ready to swoop down just as the heaviest rainstorm in weeks broke and the ships were blotted out."

MacArthur Snubs Surrender Call 6th Assault On

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—(AP).—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's army braced itself in the mountains and forests of Batan today against a sixth major assault by Japanese forces in 29 days of siege.

Contemptuously ignoring a demand for surrender, MacArthur held his United States and Filipino troops alert for a new Japanese offensive. He gave no indication of where he expected the full weight of the attack.

It told how "General MacArthur and his troops paid no attention" to demands for surrender in a Japanese air force leaflet raid January 10 and how a new Japanese appeal yesterday, directed at Filipino troops, "occasioned much mirth among the Filipino soldiers, who are continuing their resistance with loyalty, courage and resolution."

The original surrender demand was showered down on the defenders' front lines three weeks ago, the day before the first major Japanese attack. Signed "Commander-in-Chief, the Japanese expeditionary forces," it was addressed to MacArthur.

1,100 Huns Slaughtered About Leningrad; Gestapo Works Spain

The Soviet information bureau reported that the 46 towns newly recaptured were in the pincer zones of the central front and in the south, where the previously-announced drive of a Soviet spearhead to Loovaya had placed Red Army legions only 70 miles from the big bend of the Lower Dnieper River.

Later, in its midday communique, the information bureau said Russian tanks blasted what it called a "psychological attack" by the Germans in fighting for the village of "K," leaving 100 Germans dead on the battlefield.

The mid-day report also said Red soldiers operating on the Leningrad front during the last two days destroyed 14 enemy blockhouses, eight enemy machine guns, and killed nearly 1,100 officers and men.

"The Hitlerites lost over 800 soldiers and officers killed" in a 48-hour action on the Kalinin front; 2,500 in the conquest of Sukhinichi, in the Kirov sector 150 miles south-west of Moscow, and suffered heavy casualties in other snow-covered battle zones, the bureau said.

Battle Of Malaya Closes As Troops Retreat Last 18 to 40 Miles During Friday; 750,000 Populace Given Orders To Assist

SINGAPORE, Jan. 31—(AP).—The siege of Singapore began today with the withdrawal of British Imperial soldiers to the island under cover of darkness, and the British commander in Malaya called on every man and woman in Singapore to help defend "this fortress until help can come."

"Today we stand beleaguered in our island fortress," declared a statement by Lt.-Gen. A. E. Percival, commander, who rose from the ranks to command the army defending this $400,000,000 stronghold.

The British Far East headquarters announced that the short causeway from the State of Johore to the island was breached, with the aid of the Royal Navy and the Royal Air Force, after withdrawal of the British, Australian and Indian soldiers had been effected last night.

The half-mile causeway ran from Johore Bahru, the first railway station on the Peninsula after leaving the Island, to the northern shore of the heavily-fortified stronghold.

Little Jap Intervention

British headquarters said the Japanese made little effort to interfere with the withdrawal to the Island.

The statement by the general officer commanding in Malayan, Lt.-Gen. Percival, declared "The battle of Malaya has come to an end and the battle of Singapore has started.

"For nearly two months our troops have fought an enemy on the mainland who has had the advantage of great air superiority and considerable freedom of movement by sea."

"Our task has been to impose losses on the enemy and gain time to enable the forces of the Allies to be concentrated for this struggle in the Far East.

"Today we stand beleaguered in our island fortress.

"Our task is to hold this fortress until help can come, as assuredly it will come; this we are determined to do.

Ierwin Rommel from about that Libyan port have rejoined the main British forces.

"In the Msus area (70 miles south-east of Bengasi) our mobile columns continued through the day to engage the enemy, whose patrols again withdrew on making contact," a communique said.

Valera Yelps Out Of Turn On Yanks

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—(CP). — Judging by all outward evidence, Prime Minister Eamon de Valera of Eire did his cause in the United States no good by his protest over the landing of American troops in Northern Ireland.

A few hours after the vanguard of the United States forces landed this week at an Ulster port, the Brooklyn-born leader of neutral Eire protested their presence on Irish soil, claiming he had not been consulted by Washington or London and reiterating Eire's old quarrel over the yartitioning of Ireland.

There can be no doubt that his protest fell flat—the American State Department did not even deign a reply or make any public acknowledgment of his views.

The official example of ignoring Mr. De Valera has been adopted generally by the press of the United States, except for some comment to the effect it was none of his business anyway and Eire's old quarrel over the partitioning of Ireland had nothing to do with the issue.

It is generally agreed in Washington that if Mr. De Valera raised the partition question in order to keep it alive and to enlist the sympathy of the United States in some future settlement, he went about it the wrong way. It is admitted even by pro-Erie partisans—and they are

New Jap Swoop Direct Darwin Threat

(By LEON EDEL.)

The battle for Singapore, bastion of the Pacific and of the British Empire east of Suez, has begun. The causeway at Johore Bahru, bridging the half-mile water gap between Singapore Island and the mainland, has been destroyed. British, Australian and Indian troops have been removed to the island, and Lt.-Gen. A. E. Percival, Commander, has declared: "Today we stand beleagured in our island fortress."

The term siege applied to his situation is not completely accurate, since the island is not surrounded. Britain still controls the exit to the sea, the Strait of Singapore, lying to the south of the island. The attack on Singapore is coming from its rear, from the Malayan mainland. As long as the sea exit remains free the situation will be somewhat analagous to the so-called siege of Tobruk.

It is a foregone conclusion that the Japanese will strike hard at the great naval base, located on the northern coast of the island, on the Strait of Johore. It was placed in a snug enough position from the point of view of a sea attack, but it is full-face to the enemy in the offensive from the mainland. As in their previous landing attempt the Japanese also may be expected to strike at the Tenga airport at the eastern tip of the island, and the Seletar airport at the western tip.

Meanwhile, landing of Japanese forces on the Netherlands East Indies island of Amboina today means that within 10 days Japan has placed herself in an effective position to attack Australia by air from the northwest as well as the northeast. Port Darwin, the Australian naval base in the northern territory of the Commonwealth on the Timor Sea is directly threatened.

Amboina belongs to the Molucca group of islands lying east of the Indies Isle of Celebes where the Japanese have obtained strong footholds and is about 635 miles north-west of Port Darwin. Previously the Japanese had obtained holds to the north of Australia in New Guinea and the northeast in the Bismarck Archipelago and the Solomon Islands.

Thus the Japanese claws clutch at Australia north of the Dominion across the Timor, Arafura and Coral Seas, threatening also the united nations supply route through these waters.

There is a difference of opinion between London and Australian spokesmen as to whether these obvious Japanese preparations to strike at the commonwealth indicate a possible full-fledged invasion attempt. In London official observers, and Prime Minister Churchill himself, have expressed the belief Japan would not risk an invasion at this moment, or even later, since she is too busily engaged elsewhere. The Australian army minister, Francis Forde, declared two days ago however "It would be a hazardous and desperate adventure for Japan to attempt a full-scale invasion of Australia, but perhaps somewhat less so than it would be for Germany to attempt to invade Britain in force."

As the peril to Australia grows she

Nine New Senior Officers Named

OTTAWA, Jan. 31.—(CP).— New appointments for nine senior officers in the Canadian army overseas were announced to-day at National Defence Headquarters.

Brig. J. P. U. Archambault, 51, of L'Assomption, Que., commander of an infantry brigade, is appointed to command "F" group headquarters.

Col. S. A. Lee, 50, of Barrie, Ont., second-in-command of a Canadian armored brigade, is appointed to command "E" group headquarters.

The other seven appointments involve lieutenant-colonels who are promoted to rank of acting colonels:

Lt.-Col. M. K. Greene, 53, of London, Ont., officer commanding No. 1 staging camp, No 1 Canadian infantry holding unit, is appointed to command a division infantry reinforcement unit.

Lt.-Col. N. B. MacDonald, 37, of Lake Megantic, Que., assistant

Driver Killed On Road Crossing

NAPANEE, Ont., Jan. 31 —(CP)— Morley Garrison Lake, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lake, of RR 1, Napanee, was instantly killed this morning when the car in which he was riding was struck by Canadian National Railways east-bound flyer No. 16 at the Belleville road crossing. Lynn Perry, a neighbor of Lake who was accompanying him, escaped with bruises.

The car was badly wrecked. Provincial Constable F. W. Barrett of Napanee was called to the scene.

Besides his parents, Lake is survived by a brother, Wilfred, with whom he resided and operated one of the largest farms in the district.

U-Boat Gunners 'Bum Shots'

Survivors Claim 2 Torpedoes, 12 Shells Fired

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 31 (AP)—A story of "bum shooting" on the part of German U-boat crewmen was told by the 30 survivors of the tanker Rochester when they were landed today at the United States naval operating base here. The tanker was sunk in daylight off the Virginia coast yesterday.

The 6,836-ton tanker, riding light, was torpedoed without warning. The submarine pierced the aft portion of the ship with two torpedoes and fired 13 shells at the hulk.

The first torpedo hit in the engine room and trapped three of the black gang there. Capt. A. L. Clark said the three men were killed by the explosion or escaping live steam.

DEBATE INTEREST SLIPS IN COMMONS, BARELY QUORUM PRESENT

BothMeighen Plebiscite Under Fire

Debate Interest Slips Barely Quorum Present At Times

OTTAWA, Jan. 31 — (CP). — Attacks upon the Government's conscription plebiscite and upon Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, new Conservative Party Leader, held a major place at yesterday's short sitting of the House of Commons.

One Liberal, two Conservatives, and a new Democracy member took part in the debate on the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

Jean Francois Pouliot (Lib. Temiscouata) used much of his 40 minutes in an attack upon Mr. Meighen and the Conservative Party generally and said the new Conservative Leader would be beaten in the February 9 by-election in York South constituency.

Elimination of all partisanship from issues having to do with the war and abandonment of the plebiscite by which the Government proposes to seek release from anti-conscription pledges was urged by John Diefenbaker (Con. Lake Centre).

F. D. Shaw (N.D. Red Deer) made a plea for the great army of rural school teachers. A teacher himself for many years, he said this class was underpaid and now was presented from obtaining any increases by the wage-ceiling regulations.

Douglas Ross (Con. Toronto-St. Paul's) expressed opposition to the plebiscite and urged the Government to act with the consent of Parliament, as it did in declaring war and bring a conscription measure before the House.

The House adjourned at 6 o'clock a practice to be followed generally on Fridays during the session.

Apollonia. There the unarmed Britons encountered an isolated party of 40 or 50 Italian soldiers who claimed them as prisoners.

The mixed band started along the coast, carrying the gunner on an improvised stretcher.

The next day they met 20 Italian officers. Embittered because, they said, the Germans had made off with their vehicles, these officers proposed that in return for their help they -- given favored treatment if they fell into British hands.

After that, it became difficult to distinguish between captors and prisoners.

An Italian major publicly flogged an Italian soldier who had made off with the wounded gunner's flying boots.

Next day the gunner died, and the Italian major conducted a military burial.

Then the major proposed that his party head for Bengasi, leaving the British party with rifles to fend for itself. The R.A.F. leader insisted Bengasi had fallen to British forces. The Italians at first were skeptical, but finally were convinced and gave up the idea of trying to regain the Axis lines.

Then the whole group set out eastward toward the British lines. From time to time other straggling Italians joined the party.

Perhaps one of the oddest angles of the adventure was that a R.A.F. sergeant who had a small camera made a photographic record of it—and the Italians were as anxious to get into the pictures as were the Britons.

Ma Ming. Many of his countrymen died. But Ma Ming was determined to live, even when nearly everyone else in the lifeboat had gone.

He piled up the bodies of his shipmates to shield him from the wind and spray a: persisted in staying alive until the rescue ship found him. "The men there very kind to me," he said, paying tribute to the Dominion's navy personnel.

He spent 20 hours in the lifeboat.

All that worries him is the fate of his family in Hong Kong. Fatalistically, he feels that never again will he see his "one" wife and two sons. All this because he is sure the Japanese are "brutes" and worse.

Victory Measles

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 31 — (AP).— There'll be no more German measles cases on record here for the duration — not because of any special preventive — but because Dr. A. S. Pinto, city health commissioner, decreed that from no on they'll be "Victory measles."

Talk about horse races—the students of P.C.V.S. are running a neck and neck race of War Savings Stamps that threatens to be a photo finish before the goal is reached! H. A. Toole has been announcing at regular intervals the respective sales differences between this term and the term a year previous. Last week we were sixty dollars behind last year's total but now that has been narrowed down to $35. Mark you—just $35 to go 'till we set a new record. Also, this record must be made very soon since sales a year ago shot up near the thousand dollar mark in February and March. A total sale of $455 next week will assure the War Savings Committee that everyone is doing his or her utmost to advance our War Sales.

Mobile Kitchen Jottings

Students at the Collegiate stared blindly at the mobile kitchen fund thermometer this week and (after much squinting) saw that the red mercury column was on the upward trend to the eleven hundred and fifty mark—the price of the mobile kitchen. This thermometer is at the front of the Assembly hall and will serve as a bait to the final goal. Let's speed the day when we can tear the thermometer down in triumph.

Donations came in splendidly this week. Congratulations!

Grade X A Academic was represented by Jean Ferguson who gave Treasurer Bob Honour the sum of $18.55 as the results of individual contributions from her form. Congratulations X A.

X B Commercial donated one of the largest amounts from separate forms also when Jean McCullough presented $28.50 to Bob. Six dollars of this total was raised by a candy sale and the rest by personal donations. This means an average of 82c per pupil. Good work.

The Finance Committee made their second donation on Friday morning. Marion Foster gave a financial statement for the year to date and presented the sum of one hundred dollars to Bob Honour for the fund. This brings their total to $150 and boosted the mobile kitchen fund up to $754.29. Surprise statement was the $144 odd dollars from the corsage sales.

There you have the acknowledgements for this week. If you look into the not too-distant future you should be able to see a faint sign of that $1,150 coming round the bend. There is now but $396.71 left before this year's war effort is accomplished.

Fifty-fifty Odds

The Senior Boys' basketball squad took their second straight loss a week ago at the experienced hands of the Quakers but the Juniors trimmed Lindsay 37 to 23 to brighten the outlook. The whole Senior team played magnificently but were on the wrong end of a 71-49 tally. Taylor, Saunders, Gardner, and Richardson did their utmost but you know the result. Smith, MacTavish, Dinsdale, and Frank were best for the Juniors, who play in Cobourg next Friday night.

Both girls' teams are getting in shape for a proposed week-end tournament February 20 and 21. Plans are not yet complete but it is expected that all teams in the lakeshore group will avail themselves of this opportunity to save transportation difficulties in war time. The schedule would be completed over the week-end and the winner would then be free to enter the finals for the province. We hope to have the schedule soon but in any event here's something to look forward to next month.

Well, that's about all there is on basketball this week.

Another Byline

Our principal read an overseas letter on Monday morning just received from a young man who visited P.C.I. a year ago. His name is —Jerry Wooll. All of us remember that visit for many reasons— we missed the first period, we were introduced to a new song (Tiggerty-Boo), but, best of all, Jerry spoke most entertainly on a subject that he is vitally interested in. For, as you know, Jerry—is Pilot Officer Gerald Wooll of the Royal Air Force.

In this letter he thanked the students for his Christmas "Echoes" letter and the attention he has received from P.C.I.'ites. Naturally enough, Jerry drifted onto the topic of aviation—this time in the form of Air Cadets. A wonderful offer was made to the school regarding these Air Cadets by P. O. Wooll. He expressed a desire to sponsor a shield to be place in competition among the Air Cadets at P.C.V.S. But there's the rub—there are no Air Cadets at the Collegiate. In our column of October the thirteenth we stressed the formation of an Air Cadet corps at P.C.I. Nevertheless, it looks as if someone of authority will have to look into the matter of an Air Cadet corps at the Collegiate. Our ex-students expect that we already have one organized so how about it? This is a splendid gesture by Jerry and should do much to stimulate interest in this new Canadian movement. Will there be action now?

Teasettes

The first movies for this year were shown on Wednesday and Thursday mornings of this week. As you might expect (from the season — not the weather) the pictures were on "Ski-Time in the Laurentians". Gasps of delight filtered through the student body as they saw on the screen what they had planned to do this winter? Enough of that however, but keep the movies rolling into the morning assemblies.

Walter Hanbidge took the Camera club meeting this week and gave a practical demonstration on copying with the use of the enlarger. Pictures in the showcase this week were by V. R. Henry. They were superb shots of the falls above Scott's Mills.

Some members of the Girls' Shooting Club graduated this week into a special group. These girls had shown promising signs of marksmanship (would it be marksgirlship?) and from now on will shoot independently of their previous groups. Others will no doubt try to make the grade soon.

Rose O'Day was sung by the senior school on Monday this week. No one got tongue tied and, all in all, it was about the most successful attempt to date for a new song.

Visual evidence was on display Friday of the work being done by the girls after school in sewing, knitting, etc. Several quilts are in various stages of construction, afghan squares, nightgowns—fifty infant gowns and fifty for older children, socks for the Army, Navy and Air Force (for next year's Christmas parcels), baby jackets and 20 pairs of ankle socks, outfits for four-year-old girls for cool and warm weather—of which 50 will be made this year. These articles are either handed in or being hurried to completion and are excellent examples of the spirit of the girls of P.C.V.S. Congratulations girls—keep up the good work!

One of the star members of the Senior basketball team has been given "The Official Basketball Guide" by his coach. This is probably a broad hint that he should learn more about the game in which he is already quite proficient. Wonder if it made much difference in his playing last night?

Copenhagen Blackened

LONDON, Jan. 31.—(CP).— The Rome radio, quoting dispatches from Stockholm, said to-day that one-quarter of Copenhagen, capital of German-occupied Denmark, had been destroyed by fire.

(The dispatch did not say whether the fire was started accidentally, by incendiarism or attacks of British bombers which have been raiding Danish military objectives.)

Port Hope Adopts Minesweeper Will Outfit Crew And Quarters

PORT HOPE, Jan. 31 (ENS)—The general public turned out in goodly numbers on Friday night at the town hall to show their interest and hear more about the minesweeper H.M.C.S. Port Hope which is to be launched from this harbor about the 15th of May.

Mayor Sherman Gifford took the chair opening the meeting and explaining the purpose of the meeting in supplying the minesweeper with other than regulation necessities. He then called on Mr. Fred Belyea who described to the audience a minesweeper which is 180 feet long, 35 feet wide carrying 60 of a crew.

Mr. Herman Smith then gave an interesting description of how Port Hope became interested in a minesweeper and how the job of the crew of such a vessel is the first to clear the mine fields for shipping and all ocean transportation.

Need Clothing

One complete set of clothes is all each of the crew is supplied and it is the privilege of citizens to supply each of the crew with a change of clothing.

Some of these woollen articles mentioned were socks, seaman's scoks, scarves, helmets, sweaters, mitts and the cost of the wool for these would be $300 for the whole crew. Great need is also stressed for turtleneck sweaters which can be bought waterproofed for a cost of about $2. Then also is needed leather vests which could be bought for a cost of about $150 from a leather factory for the entire crew. Ditty bags are essential but must be small and compact as the minesweepers quarters are very small, the lockers are only 2½ feet square. Five radios could be used for the entertainment of the men, one for each of the messes, officers' mess, engineers' mess, stokers' mess, seaman's mess. These radios would have to be a special type of battery set at a cost of $55 each.

Small Quarters

Space for only 200 books such as adventure and ordinary fiction, some kind of reading for relaxation, also small games such as checkers, darts, cards and chess.

It was also mentioned that a couple of electric irons would be accepted for the crew to use to press clothes before going ashore. A few of the towns that have had extra funds have supplied leather couches.

Mayor Gifford then told how the total endeavor including the launching would be $1200.

The meeting was then declared open for questions etc. Mr. J. B. Holland expressed his views suggesting the forming of a good purchasing committee followed up by the ladies of the town and assured the meeting that the Harbor Commission would be behind this project to the full.

Committee Formed.

Mrs. Wotherspoon then declared that the Red Cross would give its full support and that they could buy the wool cheaper if given a chance to do so, but that a requisition would have to come from the captain or the commanding officer.

Herman Smith then explained that the total endeavor would not only be the $1,200 but would include the upkeep of the minesweeper for the duration of the war. Mr. Smith then deemed it a great honor to move that the town of Port Hope adopt this minesweeper Port Hope as their project and supply them with these articles. Ben Cole seconded this motion.

George Garnett suggested an executive committee be formed, and Mr. Freeman favored this idea. Mr. Garnett's suggestion was put in the form of a motion and seconded by Ed. Brandwood, and carried.

J. B. Holland was appointed chairman of the committee by Mr. Smith and seconded by F. N. Belyea.

Secretary R. B. Baxter, moved by S. Gifford and seconded by E. B. Lingard.

Treasurer C. P. Freeman, moved by Ed. Brandwood, seconded by E. B. Holland.

Many Will Assist.

By motion, the following committee was formed: F. H. Briden, Herman Smith Mrs. G. V. Strong, F. N. Belyea, Howard Jordan, Mrs. J. A. V. Fraser, Mrs. J. L. Westaway, L. T. Sylvester, Mrs. J. Sheehan, J. Y. Kellough, C. G. Mercer, M. L.A., and F. Rickard, M.P.

Mr. Smith said now that the project had been accepted he felt it was in order to say that a substantital donation had already been promised by an old Port Hoper this is hoped to be the forerunner of further donations.

The general meeting was then adjourned, after which the committee met to discuss plans.

doomed," it said. "The end is near. The question is how long you will be able to resist. You have already cut rations by half. I appreciate the fighting spirit of yourself and your troops, who have been fighting with courage. Your prestige and honor have been upheld.

"However, in order to avoid needless bloodshed . . . you are advised to surrender."

"Dear Filipino soldiers there are still one was left to you," said the crudely-written message. "That is to give up all your weapons at once and surrender to the Japanese forces before it is too late, then we shall fully protect you."

Insurance Rates Cut

Along with MacArthur's staunch defence came' an improved allied naval position in the Pacific, indicated in a decision of marine underwriters to cut cargo war risk insurance rates on shipments from the United States to Southern Australia ports from 7½ per cent to six per cent, effective today.

In the Atlantic the Navy announced the torpedoing and abandonment of the 6,836-ton tanker Rochester in another submarine attack off the Canadian and American coasts in three weeks. Only one of 15 vessels reported attacked has survived to make port—the tanker Malay. A 16th vessel, the Pan Maine, sighted a submarine but was not attacked and reached port safely.

In the Batan Peninsula fighting, MacArthur has varied his defence tactics to meet each different Japanese blow.

In some instances he has broken the enemy spearhead with concentrated artillery fire. At other times he has counter-attacked directly as soon as the fighting lulled. Again, he has hurled his scant forces at one end of the line in surprise thrusts to relieve pressure on the other.

All Attacks Hurled Off

After an early strong push January 5 which they repulsed with 700 Japanese killed, the American and Filipino troops felt the shock of the first major attack January 11, when the Japanese struck the right flank with tremendous force.

Although thrown back with heavy losses during the first day of this battle, the invaders came on again, but their tanks an darmored columns were shattered in a 24-hour artillery engagement January 14.

The second heavy assault opened against the right flank January 17, but faded out in two days fighting. The third large-scale attack was against the centre, where the Japanese struck in force January 20 only to be thrown back by a counter-attack the next day.

The Japanese launched a fourth big attack January 22, graually concentrating on the left. MacArthur relieved this pressure by a counter-attack on the right, which stabilized the front January 25.

Thursday the Japanese sent their infantry in headlong assaults on the right and left flanks, but MacArthur broke up this fifth assault with artillery.

Wool Controller Says No Vests For Double-Breasted Suits

COBOURG, Jan. 31 (ENS)—Mr. David C. Dick was the guest speaker at the Rotary Club meeting held her on Friday afternoon. Mr. Dick is the wool administrator of Canada and is in addition the president of the Cobourg Dyeing Company.

In his speech he told of his duties in connection with his war post. The wool supply was ordered in advance of two years due to the process involved in the buying and curing of the wool. The wool board had not as yet gone to the Insurance Company for a dollar.

Complications

The entry of Japan into the war complicates matters and delivery of wool might be affected.

The possibility of loss makes a harder job of the delivery of the wool which comes from New Zealand and Australia.

60 Per Cent.

The United States is using a large amount of wool at present for war purposes. 60 per cent of all wool was being turned to the army at present Mr. Dick said. Only 40 per cent was going for civilian uses.

The style of clothes would be effected by the new regulations he said. One pair of trousers would in future be the regulation while users of double breasted suits would go without the usual vest.

Price Control

The second duty of Mr. Dick was the allocation of price control. Price control appears to work hardships with retail men he said, but this was far better than an inflation program, which would destroy the "savers" of the nation. Germany had provided an example in 1922-23 when inflation had ruined the country.

This war, Mr. Dick said, was taking 50 per cent of the manufacturing effort while the last war had taken only 18 per cent. Civilian needs were being sacrificed, but when this was taken into consideration that every effort was being given to war purposes the people would not begrudge the effort.

The retail merchants were being given special consideration by the board Mr. Dick said and their cooperation was being given very freely.

Cooperation Essential

While the merchants would suffer under the new ruling of prices, the words of Mr. Gordon, chairman of the board, echoed the final hopes of the united nations. Mr. Gordon said that cooperation was the essence of democracy.

The speaker was introduced to the club by Mr. R. Wilmott, while Mr. A. D. Spragge conveyed the message of thanks.

Visitors to the dinner from the C.C.I. were Morley Budd and John Richardson.

numerous and powerful in the United States—that Mr. De Valera this time spoke out of turn.

At the same time there is a conviction in some quarters here that his protest and the official silence that greeted it in Washington may have the effect of making it more difficult than ever for the United States to put pressure on Mr. De Valera to permit the use of Eire's naval bases by American or British forces against Germany.

It seems to be generally agreed that if Mr. De Valera would protest the landing of American troops in Ulster where their presence would not prejudice Erie's neutral status, he would be even more insistent in refusing to permit the use of Eire's soil for belligerent action.

Meanwhile, all evidence here points to the probability that the De Valera protest will pass quietly out of the picture. Political sources here say it failed to arouse either sympathy or much interest even in Irish-dominated areas where Eire's long fight for freedom and independence is almost as vital an morning with air attacks," the communique distributed by Aneta, Indies News Service, said.

"From 7.45 a.m. until 9.45 a.m. bombers, protected by fighters, bombed and machie-gunned. The Japanese succeeded in destroying a church and school building and inflicted slight damage to a radio station. No casualties were reported.

"All preparatory destruction of vital points in Amboina and vicinity were ordered and immediately carried out.

"In the evening the enemy began the real attack. At several points along the coast cruisers, destroyers and transport ships were lying, while on various places destruction was still burning."

114,297 Population

Amboina, about midway between the Celebes and New Guinea, is in the Molucca Islands, about 775 miles south of Mindanao Island in the Philippines, where the Japanese have a base at Davao, and about 635 miles north of Darwin, Australia, site of an Australian naval base.

The island is about 32 miles long, covers an area of 386 square miles and has a population of 114,297. The city of Amboina is the site of a naval and air station second in importance only to the main Netherlands East Indies base at Soerabaja, Java.

Amboina city has a population of about 11,000—of which approximately 1,400 are Europeans—and boasts an excellent harbor, well equipped with wharves and warehouses.

The Netherlands communique said that reports from several places in the Archipelgao told of Japanese air activity.

The airdrome at Banjermasin, a Borneo port 300 miles northeast of Soerabaja, Java, was machine-gunned but no casualties and no damage were reported.

Some bombs were dropped at Tanjongbalai, on the northeast coast of Sumatra, at Sabang, off the north tip of Sumatra and Baoebace, on the island of Boetioeng, off the southeast coast of Celebes. Two men and two children were reported killed, two men and four women seriously wounded and many other slightly wounded.

Informed sources told the Aneta News Agency that the attack on Amboina, in addition to threatening the naval base, also was apparently aimed at cutting the Allied supply route to Australia.

It was announced that a transport transferring German internees from the Netherlands East Indies to British territory was "subjected to Japanese action which caused a great many victims."

Surprise Party Features Silver Wedding

PORT HOPE, Jan. 31 (ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Payne of Wesleyville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Meadows, 58 Brown street, Port Hope, on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary were host and hostess to about 75 of their friends at a delightful surprise party on Friday evening, Jan. 30.

The happy couple were quite taken by surprise and presented with a beautiful silver basket containing twenty-five pink carnations. Two lovely occasional chairs were also presented and an address read.

The evening was spent with a very fine program, a banjo selection was given bgy Mr. Murray Payne and the Misses Mason sang a delightful duet. There were also violin solos and a much appreciated duet by the Misses Snell.

Campbellford High School Principal Pays Tribute To Memory Of Sgt. Pilot Richardson

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 31. — (ENS).—Principal E. H. Greig paid tribute to this district's first war casualty, Sgt. Pilot Douglas R. Richardson in an address before students at a meeting of the High school Liecterary Society on Thursday afternoon. Referring to Sgt. Richardson Mr. Greig characterized him as a "brilliant student" and "a real athlete" during his term at the Norwood High school. He also spoke of Sgt. Harold Taylor, formerly a student at Campbellford High who was reported missing on Wednesday morning following a reconnaisance flight off Newfoundland. (Sgt. Taylor was reported on Friday to have survived the plane crash.) Robert Curle, president of the Literary Society, presided for the meeting, and the program was arranged by members of Grade XII. It opened with a chorus, 'The Shepherd's Serenade' by the entire form, followed by a contest conducted by William Watson and current events by Neil McKenty. A "Fibber McGee and Molly" skit was thoroughly enjoyed by the students and the cast for this comprised Fay Kelly, Gladys Grills, John Bell, Glenn Maxwell, William Murray. The chorus, 'White Cliffs of Dover,' concluded the program and Philip MacDonald gave the critic's report of the meeting.

Inward Thoughts Show Up In Man's Walk or Speech

REV. E. R. JAMES

Ps. 12; 8.

This world of men where all around us the ungodly strut and where base creatures rise to power.
Moffatt.

A thumb nail sketch of real life. More than twenty-five hundred years ago the Psalmist watched life and wrote this description, which is true in every age, especially ours. Dr. Moffatt, the learned Commentator, throws much light on the King James' translation by the expression "the ungodly strut". How the word sticks in your mind and you vividly see that wicked and proud man.

The Master teaches that evil thoughts come from the heart. "For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts." It is true. But the inward thought must show itself in the walk or speech. In his feet, muses the psalmist. "He struts". "Watch your step" is a common advertisement on trains and cars. Do you really watch your step or your speech? When you are full of joy and happiness you show it in your walk or speech. Your sadness causes your feet to drag. And remember that history confirms the Psalmist's statement that "the blood-thirsty and deceitful men will not live out half their days."

The Lord Jesus calls men to follow Him, to walk with Him. He called a small band of men that "they might be with Him"; drink in His Spirit and walk in His ways. "I am the way" He declares clearly. The primitive Christians were called "the men of the way." Those who followed Him in the days of His ministry soon discovered that it was not easy to walk after Him. "Many of His disciples went away and walked no more with Him." Moreover by their walk His disciples showed His enemies that "they had been with Jesus".

Are you a religious man? Have you a religious strut in your walk or speech; more probably in your speech. There are religious speakers on the radio whose voices throb with religiosity. Unconsciously they cry aloud: "I am sure of my goodness, it even affects my voice." When such a voice enters your room turn the radio and offer the supplication: "Lord, open his ears that he may hear."

You could not imagine Our Lord speaking in such a tone. The Pharisees stood at the street corners and intoned their prayers. The Pharisee never dies; his clothing may change but his spiritual superiority is revealed by his speech or walk. The loving, tender Saviour uttered His most bitter words against such men. "Ye generation of vipers how can ye escape the damnation of hell". St. Matthew 23; 33.

The Lord calls men to walk in the path of service for others. The men and women who are devoted to Him will walk in that way and there can be no strutting. Their acts of service will be so full of sympathy and loving kindness that men cannot be offended. There are the sensitive poor. The ungodly strut in walk or speech will spoil the gift or bring a bitter refusal.

The Lord calls men to walk in the way of sorrows. He is a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief. Today floods of tears are being shed in every part of this unhappy world. Hearts full of pain and desolation look for comfort. They can only receive it from those who have walked in the path of sorrow and have discovered Him Who is their Comforter. Are you qualifying to being a comforter whose foot fall in the house of sorrow will be welcome?

You will be able to comfort because God Himself has comforted you through His Son Jesus Christ. This is one of the great tests of your religious life. You are being saved that you may hold the cup of comfort to the lips of men and women and your speech will be soft and gentle bringing peace to their hearts. In a small way you will be fulfilling the ancient prophecy: "How beautiful are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings." They are in a mental condition to "bear your words" now. You will speak out of the fulness of your spiritual experience with the living Christ and through their pain their ears will be opened to hear you. "Thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the highest"; the man who bears a message from God to comfort the heavy laden and "to guide their feet into the way of peace."

He speaketh with his feet.

The Golden Text

"Come ye after Me, and I will make you to become fishers of men."

Armageddon of the Soul

Ah, who shall gauge the anguish and the mourning
  Wrought by the cruelty of thoughtless man?
The venomed hate—the petulance—the scorning,
  That mark his blood-stained path since time began?

Impelled by greed and wild, insensate longing
  To win the glory of a great emprise,
He scales huge heights, to find, forever thronging,
  Successive peaks in motley order rise.

Undaunted still, in fevered heat he presses
  As seasons in unchanging sequence roll,
Till life and limb, grown weak in world excesses,
  Cry out for comfort to his tortured soul.

How fruitless, and how sad, the urge incessant!
  The tumult and the fury! shall they last?
Or are the hopes for joys of days quiescent
  Cast in the furnace of the frenzied past?

Go, seek the story of man's mortal journey,
  Hidden in moss-strewn plot or ocean bed;
You'll find the script of many a hard-fought tourney
  Writ with the relics of the nameless dead!

Fit food for earnest thought—while hosts are waging
  Earth's fiercest conflict in unmeasured years
And fiends of Hell, in ram pant mood, are raging,
  And love's fair light is dimmed in sweat and tears,

Let us remember! in our hearts we cherish
  Strong foes entrenched to draw us from our goal!
Up! and be strong! repel them, or we perish,
  Lost in the Armageddon of the Soul!

Statesmen and Missionary

To Preach in City

Rev. J. G. Endicott, M.A., recently returned from China where he worked under the direction of Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek. He will speak at Trinity and George Street churches tomorrow.

Rev J. G. Endicott was born in China, the son of the Very Rev. James Endicott, D.D., former missionary and secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of The United Church of Canada, will preach at the Sunday morning service in Trinity United Church and in the evening in George Street United Church.

Mr. Endicott received his university training at Victoria College, Toronto, where he won the Lincoln Hutton Essay Prize and the Moss Scholarship. During his university career he was chairman of the Student Volunteer Movement of Canada, of the Student Council of the University of Toronto, and of the Student Christian Movement, while his summers were spent in Saskatchewan in mission work.

Rev. Mr. Endicott went to West China in 1925. His early work was evangelical and his station was Fowchow. Later he was transferred to the Boys' School at Chungking. Two years ago, at the request of Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, Mr. Endicott was loaned to the staff of the "New Life Movement" under the direction of the Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, and in that position he has done spectacular work for the Movement. One year ago, because of depleted staff at the University he was appointed to take charge of the English Department of the West China Union University.

He has a pleasing personality and is an outstanding speaker.

Jesus Calls Four Disciples To Become Fishers of Men

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Feb. 1 is Matt. 4:18-22; Mark 1:16-20; Luke 5:1-11, the Golden Text being Mark 1:17, "Come ye after Me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.")

THERE ARE two distinct accounts of the calling of four disciples by Jesus, which is the story of today's lesson. St. Matthew tells us that Jesus, walking by the Sea of Galilee, saw two brothers, Simon, called Peter, and Andrew, casting their net into the sea, for they were fishers.

"And He said unto them, Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men. And they straight-way left their nets and followed Him."

Going on from that place, Jesus saw James, son of Zebedee, and his brother, John, with their father in their boat; and He called them, and they immediately left their father and the boat and followed Him. St. Mark tells the story approximately the same way, but St. Luke relates that Jesus "stood by the lake of Gennesaret, and saw two ships standing by the lake; but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets. And He entered into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land. And He sat down, and taught the people out of the ship."

When Jesus stopped speaking to the people, he told Simon to launch out into deep water and let down the nets. Simon demurred, saying "Master, we have toiled all night, and have taken nothing. Nevertheless, at Thy word I will let down the net."

We are apt to think of Jesus as a gentle man, because He was so full of love and sympathy, but He must have also been a man of great authority, because when He issued an order, albeit in quiet tones, He always was obeyed. So Simon let the net down into the deep water, although it was customary to fish in shallow, and also although he and his partners must have been very weary because they had been fishing all through the night.

Jesus Man of Authority

The result of this was that their net was so full of fish that it broke, and they beckoned to their partners who were in another ship; to come and help them. Both ships were filled with fish, so that they began to sink. Simon Peter was so overcome that he fell on his knees before the Savior, and said, "Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord."

Simon realized that this was no common man, but the Lord, and a sense of his own unworthiness overcame him. Jesus answered him, "Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt catch men." The other three men also were amazed at the great catch of fish, and when the ships were landed (for they did not sink, it seems) all four of the younger men followed Him.

Students of the scriptures think that these four, Simon Peter, his brother Andrew, James and John, had been with Jesus soon after His temptation in the wilderness; that they had left Him or been sent back to their homes to resume their occupation of fishing, so that when He came and called them they were ready to follow Him and give their lives to His work of saving souls.

These four were the first of Jesus' disciples, and you know that eventually He added eight more, so He had 12 special fiends who shared His labors, and when He was crucified and carried up to heaven, to carry on His work and found the church. Twelve were appointed, alluding probably to the 12 tribes of Israel.

At this time Jesus was well known throughout the Holy Land, and was much talked about. Also He had already incurred the resentment of the priests and leaders of the established church, who were determined that this new religion should not gain a foothold and take away their privileges and authority. Jesus had need, therefore, of friends about Him, not only to fight the good fight with Him, but to talk with Him, and by their sympathy and understanding, to help Him.

It is a wonderful thing to be God's helpers. Each one of us has our own work to do, although we never had the glorious privilege of being in personal contact with Jesus. If we do our part faithfully, we too can feel we are co-workers with Him, even as were these men whom He personally called while on earth.

Among Cannibals

Rev. T. Titcombe, who will be the special speaker on Sunday and for the folowing weeks at the Bethel Baptist Church. From Monday through to Friday Mr. Titcombe will bring lantern lecturs on his work among the cannibals in Africa. This man has a great story to tell of the real experiences of a missionary among the heathen people in the continent of Africa. Mr. Titcombe is a director of the Interior Sudan Mission with headquarters in Toronto.

Jesus Calls Four Discip[illegible] — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

Jesus, walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew, his brother, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishers.

Jesus said to Simon Peter and his brother, Andrew, fishermen, as He saw them casting their net into the sea, "Follow Me," and they followed Him.

Seeing James and John with their father, Zebedee, in a ship, mending their nets, Jesus called them, and they left their father, and went with Him.

These four men were His first disciples, and He told them that He would make them fishers of men instead of fishes. (GOLDEN TEXT—Mark 1:17)

The Lamented Sugar Bowl

The good old sugar bowl of dining-room fame has certainly got a knock-out blow, right from the arm of power at Ottawa. We feel sorry for it, as one of our honored friends, but nothing can be done now except to pay tribute to its sweetness under all conditions—unless, of course, it happened to be empty, which was no fault of its own. All it can do now is to retire to its obscure corner and let countless numbers of fans lament over its passing.

What, though, may we ask, is going to become of all who found pleasure in its company? How will the man get along who has been accustomed to going into a spacious lunch room, buying himself a cup of coffee, and then getting interest on the money he spent by standing there pouring the delicious granular substance out in a steady stream until the cup overflowed and spilled its contents in the saucer and he had to turn for a serviette to wipe up the spill.

What about the solitary mortals who used to go in and sit down alone at a table and whirl the top of the sugar bowl around while they dreamed of a love which was unrequited? Or the small group of idlers who would take out cubes and construct miniature castles with them while the waitress was away trying to make the chef understand restaurant Esperanto? Yes, and the home brand of warrior who would spill enough sugar on the table top to take care of a canning factory and then proceed to trace out the movements of fighting armies in Libya for the enlightenment of his friends?

Then, too there was the boarding house reach—an ancient custom which is jealous of its lore and tradition. How it is going to be missed, for it seldom ever failed to capture its prey once the arm was extended, regardless of whether other dishes were upset in the effort or a dangling sleeve dug a furrow in the butter. And as for the flies, when they return to their haunts in the spring, well, they will simply be furious over the way they have been cheated.

Of course, its' all too bad. The sugar bowl has been a real institution, so much so indeed that some people thought it a sacrilege to wash its outside. But, the war is on and there is no possible way of saving it from the indignity of oblivion except—and we hesitate to suggest such degradation—to leave it empty. Even to be able to look at it there in its accustomed place would constantly revive deep-rooted memories, gastronomic and otherwise but the Controller hasn't made any provision for that privilege in his order so there's no alternative, we'll have to say a sad "Good-bye."

How Things Do Happen!

Mayor Morrison of Hamilton has told the Automobile Club there that before the end of the year it may go through a kind of metamorphosis and become a bicycle club. What he has said might be applied to other places, too. War, of course. That's the reason—shortage of metal, rubber and so on.

What an interesting prospect for contemplation! Scores of well-groomed men, growing rotund and not too long of breath, astride a machine and pedalling along the street. Would remind one of the "gay nineties," as the generation of today says, but, of course, they were merely common-place, every day, not-much-fun nineties to the people who lived then. That was because folks of that time were too close to their own social environment. They couldn't see things as one does it retrospect, when the worries are over.

However, the bicycle. That's the subject. What kind is it going to be, the low frame or the high? There's real importance in that question for if men would hope to join utility with picturesque, adventurous locomotion, they should become historical ir earnest and perch up on a wheel of the pre-twentieth century vintage, a wheel about equal in circumference to a country race track. That make used to lift their riders up, exalt them, so that when they went out for a journey through the town or along a country highway, they could command an audience. And after all, speaking quite seriously, there never was, couldn't be, any dramatic value in tumbling off down to earth if there weren't any spectators to see one go headlong over the handle bars! That's the reason, perhaps, that the old "high-wheel' 'is preserved in the museums. It tells the present generation of how some of their ancestors travelled in state, forty-five or fifty years ago, and how acrobatic feats, unpremeditated and therefore unrehearsed, were put on when the wheel took a notion to be skittish on a slippery pavement or on a high embankment. The gay nineties? Well, we guess so! Going at twenty miles an hour --whi-ss-shoo—!

Furthermore, in those days, a cyclist wasn't robbed of constant thrills. He hadn't yet evolved, in the upward climb of civilization, to the point where he had splendid rubber tires, puffed up with air and pride. Instead, the tire was a hard, round creation, like a rubberized rope, and about an inch thick. It's purpose was to keep the metal rims of the wheel from playing music all the time on the concrete or gravel roadway. Crickets didn't welcome any competition of that sort. But it had no idea — would even scorn the suggestion that it should be a shock absorber. When a person hit a stone, a rut or a bump, which was every other second or so, he had the full, unqualified knowledge that he hit, all right. It was a kind of roller-coaster experience in miniature. It all helped to toughen a man for the adversities of life.

Of course in this more advanced period of society the bicycle has become something of an aristocrat. It believes in keeping its passenger fairly close to the earth and giving him a nice cushy seat to sit on so that he won't get nervous troubles and have to go to a psychriatic hospital. It has ball bearings in its glistening wheels. That permits the rider to keep his mind on the stock markets, or on the glories of a sunset or on the purity of politics. Then the inflated tires give one the pleasant sensation one feels when he is poised, mentally, somewhere between sleep and wakefulness. Besides, with all these luxurious appointments a rider can do three or four things that should quite reconcile him to becoming a bicycle club member if the misfortunes of war take his automobile away. He can go at a cool forty an hour, if he wants to pedal hard enough. He can once more exercise the muscles of his body so that he can stand right up with squared shoulders and face the tax collector, and he can sail along like the Flying Yorkshireman, and politely lift his hat to all the ladies as he goes. In view of these possibilities we must be philosophic and turn to sweeping the snow off the verandah.

The Municipal Voting System

Though municipal elections are over, eleven months will soon roll around and the matter of choosing representatives for public offices will come up again. Meanwhile voting methods are still being discussed in Peterborough because there are lively differences of opinion on the question as to whether electoral machinery should be changed from the present system under which a voter must cast his ballot for four aldermen, regardless of how many candidates there may be, or if he marks his ballot for one only, it is spoiled and discarded.

There are those who maintain, and with good logic, that the voting franchise vests in a qualified voter the right to support whom he likes when he goes to the polls. So long as he casts one properly marked ballot, it is argued he is fulfilling all that the law should have any reason to demand from him, and that when he is obliged to pick out three, four, five or any other number of candidates in a municipality, and vote for them, even though they mean nothing more than names to him, or, at the other extreme, mean so much that he doesn't want to see them elected, when this is the case, the inherent value of the ballot, as an instrument, is more or less destroyed. "I want to vote for whom I please, and nobody else," is the plain declaration.

As things are now, a person who goes into a booth may have sufficient acquaintance with one candidate to give him intelligent support. He might know nothing whatever about any others, yet he is compelled in a kind of "blind man's buff" to mark down the names of a definite number of persons regardless of what he, as the ballot holder, thinks and feels. There are informed persons who go so far as to say this is quite unsound, in a democratic age.

In the opposite camp are citizens, also keenly interested in municipal affairs, who hold that in a city like Peterborough, where the ward system is not in operation, the result of allowing electors to do entirely as they wish, would lead to general "plumping." Too many people it is said, would vote for one candidate only or for two, perhaps. Where the election of four is necessary, somehow, as it is at present, such a practice would not, or might not, lead to a general representative vote throughout the municipality. A strong attitude is raised against the "one man, one vote," principle, or turned around, "one vote for one man"—unless the candidate is a lady—on the ground that the single vote idea is equivalent to a "plumper" and by some that is considered an electoral defect which should be discouraged.

On a general basis, when the one vote method works out so satisfactorily in the selection of members for the Board of Education, the contention appears to have a good deal of merit that it would accomplish just as favorable results for the City Council.

Racial Contrasts

"The innocent, unsuspecting English" is a term which has been applied by some of the Japanese who, on occasion, have revealed the opinion they held of those who speak the English language. Though offered with a degree of scorn, it was true, but not unmoral. Indeed, the foreigners' appraisal while intended to be contemptuous, was a fairly accurate reading of characteristics which we as a race have been taught to respect as virtues. They are no less virtues because unscrupulous enemies have coupled them with what they thought were weakness and indecision.

The contrast between our way of thinking—meaning Anglo-Saxon, Anglo-Celtic peoples in Europe, Australasia and North America—and the thinking of the Japanese who struck on December 7 was convincingly brought out by United States Minister Grant who was for some time a Representative of his nation in Thailand (formerly Siam). Previous to going into the diplomatic service he was a journalist and therefore trained to be a keen, intelligent observer. He evidently made careful mental notes—judging by the things he revealed in an address in Toronto.

Among other facts he brought out was that the Japs were carrying on exactly the same crafty practices as the designing Germans who went into European countries in the guise of students, tourists, laborers, farm workers and so on. They were spies, actually gathering every kind of information which they thought might be useful to the armed forces of the Mikado when they went to war.

They could not hold land in Thailand, said Minister Grant, unless they were married to Thailand women, so married they were. In this way they got possession of properties that would also come in handy at a later date. Every cunning, sly move they could make to map out the territory, to convert the Siamese to their way of thinking and to aid the intelligence department in Tokyo, they made. Some were even officers, concealing their identity by posing as humble, hard working, loyal citizens.

These observations were passed on to Washington, in the ordinary course of duty, but apparently "the innocent and unsuspecting" people of America, as a whole, put trust and faith in the profession of the leaders of Japan that peace was earnestly desired. What has happened since is known only too well to the world.

A TRUST

Only a stone in the tangled grass,
Hidden from view of all who pass
Down the long roadway into the town.
There the wind's lament was heard
Bearing the cry of a lonely bird,
While flakes of snow came lightly down.

Only a grave on that quiet hill
Only a memory, left to fill
Long, empty years that stretch ahead.
Was the hope of that heart and mind,
Striving to benefit all mankind,
Buried deep with the lonely dead?

Only a thought as I stood that day
Silent again where sleeping lay
Him whose work on earth was done;
Then the answer came in part,
Bringing peace to a troubled heart:
"Grieve not, he lives in you, his son."

Calve Acclaimed Greatest Of All Carmens

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

LAST Saturday afternoon the Metropolitan Opera broadcast was of Bizet's popular opera, Carmen. It was magnificently conducted by Sir Thomas Beecham, the great British conductor who has recently been doing so much to show our American cousins that all the musical talent outside their own land is not confined to the Axis countries. Listening to the familiar strains, it was impossible not to be reminded of the recent death (early this month) of Emma Calve, the French prima donna who was accounted the greatest of all Carmens. For many years the singer had been in retirement in her chateau in the south of France. But the possession of a chateau must not be taken as an indication that Calve spent her last years in affluence. She lived in a castle simply because it never occurred to her that it was possible to live anywhere else. She was one of those people who cannot exist without an atmosphere of magnificence. In a small villa, more in keeping with her circumstances, she would have stifled; her draughty castle suited her exactly. In it she could breathe and indulge in the lavish self-dramatization which was her normal way of life.

Calve was not born to magnificence; it was a taste which she acquired in the days of her greatness and which she never lost. She was at the height of her career during the great days of the Metropolitan, when she and Melba shared the honors in the great female roles, and when Caruso and Antonio Scotti, the de Reske brothers and Plancon were the golden-voiced heroes and villains of the day. "Carmen" was then Calve's special artistic property, and no other prima donna dared challenge her supremacy in it.

She brought to the part a quality of genuine and convincing wickedness and abandon which were rare on the stage in the days of Edward the Peacemaker. Most actresses, and particularly most opera singers, were content then to indicate wickedness by various conventional means, such as mocking laughs and much by-play with feather fans. Not so Calve. As Carmen she wore upon her lovely face that expression which Shakespeare has called 'the leer of invitation,' and the effect upon her audiences was electric. She played Carmen for what she was, a gypsy harlot, and some of the reputation which she gained in that role stuck to her in her private life. Oddly enough, she hated the part, but she played it again and again because it brought her the money which she loved. She loved the applause, too. Minnie Maddern Fiske, herself a fine actress, once said: "There are two great actresses in the world today; not as the man in the street might say, 'Duse and Bernhardt,' but Duse and Calve." Calve basked in the admiration which she won in the exercise of her great talent.

She made a great deal of money in her time and she spent it lavishly. Speaking of herself and her colleagues at the Metropolitan she said "We were a race of giants." Quite true, and in case you don't know it, being a giant is a very expensive business. The cost of food and drink, not merely for oneself but for one's fellow-giants and one's scores of attendant gnomes, is a very considerable item. And the cost of jewels for a female giant is really fabulous. It is not surprising, then, that when Valve's popularity began to wane, she accepted an engagement to appear in vaudeville, at Eddie Darling's New York Palace. The prospect unnerved her so greatly that she was unable to appear at her Monday matinee (Washington's Birthday, 1920) for she had lost her voice. But $4,000 a week is an excellent doctor and she was soon on the job. It was shortly after this that she retired to her native land.

But wherever Macgregor sits is the head of the table, and Calve soon made her French chateau a stopping-off place for many of the wealthy and the famous who travelled in that direction on their way to the Riviera. She also took pupils; one of the most distinguished of these was the American singer Peggy Wood, who scored her greatest success in Noel Coward's "Bitter Sweet." Calve, who was very fond of money, blamed herself for having put her first earnings into her French castle; her self-accusations were particularly bitter whenever the franc dropped to a new low. Melba, she said, had been more astute; Melba had invested her money, not in her native Australia, but all over the world. Calve's opinion of her old friend and rival was kindly but patronizing; "the voice of an angel, but no heart," she said. No one could ever accuse Calve of lacking heart, or temper, either. And she possessed that rarest of qualities in a singer—wit. Her imitations of her friends, and particularly of her enemies, were inspired by an accuracy of perception and a kindly malice which made them unforgettable.

The fall of France must have been a bitter pill to Calve. She had a poor opinion of Germans, both as people and as artists. It is said to imagine what her last days may have been, in her 'robber-baron's castle,' as Peggy Wood calls it. But one thing is certain; when death came, Calve met it with spirit. No one who knew so well how to greet life could possibly fail to know how to greet death.

"GENTLEMEN, LET'S FACE THE FACTS"

—St. Louis Star-Times.

The Majesty of Little Things

Unique, Dramatic Moment in Ancient, Weathered Chamber of British House of Commons.

IT must have been an unique and rather dramatic scene in the British House of Commons when Randolp Churchill, son of the Prime Minister, and himself a Member, stood up in that historic old Chamber and defended his father for his conduct of the war, during the debate this week. It is doubtful if in the long, crowded story of that famous debating forum, there ever has been an event of such paternal and filial significance. What a picture!

There in the tight, rather small, yes, somewhat dingy room, in the heart of that magnificent architectural pile, the Houses of Parliament, —a room whose carved and fretted woodwork is darkened by the silent industry of time—there, where great statesmen of the generations have stood and sat, one can see in fancy the elder man, somewhat like a scarred and seamed warrior at bay, facing the assembled representatives of millions of worried people. As head of the Government, responsible for the administration of all normal matters, but with the extra load of terrible world conflict on its back, he was opening the door to all critics, that they might have their say, and then asking for a vote of confidence when the oratory barrage was over. Would he get that vote? If he didn't he and all his colleagues who have been prosecuting the strategys and movements of the Empire's armed forces, would go down to defeat. The Government would have to step out of office and another be formed. The political giant who has thus far guided the destinies of his race, who has been the embodiment of what his people think and want, whose name is constantly before the eyes, and reaches the ears, of the nations everywhere—that giant, invested with a power which no statesman, perhaps, has ever before carried, would have to leave the bench he occupies, immediately to the right of the Speaker, and lay his mantle of office aside. He would go down with his fighting head erect and the valor of a true Briton still glistening in his eyes, but he would have to submit, nevertheless, to the inevitable.

In the midst of this battle of words, now surging in one direction, then in another; in the midst of attack and thrust, of charge and praise and invective, a comparatively young man with the light complexion and chiselled features that demote a Saxon strain, rises when he is able to catch the Speaker's eye, and talks with the sincere conviction which comes from a knowledge of, but also a devotion to, his father. His words are not a eulogy of a son for a distinguished sire, but an array of argument and reason in support of the man who is Prime Minister. That figure happened to be his revered parent, but he was also the weathered Captain of the British Ship of State, with his thick-set shoulders squared to the storms and blasts of terrific days.

What emotions of pride must have filled the heart of that doughty descendant of the celebrated Duke of Marlborough! How even the pomp and glory, the power and dignity of supreme office must have been dwarfed by the majesty of that moment when the golden thread of kinship carried the thrill of simple, but fervent allegiance. There are times when silence is more expressive than words. We imagine that particular occasion was one of those times in the life of Rt. Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill.—J.M.E.

• Inspiration at Batan

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 91 —(AP)— Among countless birthday greetings showered upon him by men and women great and small in the affairs of a war-torne world, Franklin Delano Roosevelt could have received none that so clutched at his heart-strings as that salute of the brave from far-off Luzon.

General Douglas MacArthur, for himself and his men who have made an American-Filipino "trench of bayonets" there, radioed his commander-in-chief:

'Smoke-begrimed men, covered with the marks of battle rise from the fox-holes of Batan and the batteries of Corregidor to pray reverently that God may bless immeasurably the President of the United States."

Whatever fate awaits them, the men of Batan and of Corregidor have kept the faith. That gallant stand in Luzon is an asset item of still imponderable strategic meaning in the war ledgers of the United Nations. It is a still galling failure for the Japanese aggressors, the effect of which on the whole course of the war in the Pacific cannot yet be gauged.

SYMBOL OF CONFIDENCE

But it is more than that. It is a symbol of confidence for Americans in the valor and fighting elan of their manhood in this generation as Verdun was a heart-stirring game for Frenchmen in another, as Tobruk and Dunkirk are for Britons today, as Singapore may be for all freedom-loving peoples tomorrow.

It is remarkable that MacArthur found both the time and the solemnly gallant words for that birthday greeting amid the din of the endless battle he is fighting against seemingly impossible odds. That having both the will and the words, he also had the means to communicate it, timed to the minute as a message not only to the President but to all Americans, is also a striking fact.

Man's conquest of the air and the depths of the sea for the business of commerce or war will be weighed by historians of the future against the bane as well as blessing the airplane and the submarine have brought him. The two greatest wars can be traced directly to such scientific and mechanical triumphs of human ingenuity. The first Great War was born of evolution of the U-boat; the second the perfection of the airplane.

SUSPENSE ELIMINATED

Conquest of the air waves that mankind could use the ether itself to transmit sound, even sight, around the world has another meaning. It has relieved humanity of perhaps its greatest mental hazard, suspense, lack of knowledge for days or weeks or months or years of the fate of ships at sea and their company, of the turn of far-off battles.

There has been no known time since MacArthur's withdrawal to Batan Peninsula that he was not able to communicate directly by radio with Washington.

A reporter, hearing that Alexander Woolcott was dying, telephoned the hospital and talked with his nurse. The nurse denied the story.
Overhearing, Woolcott insisted on talking to the reporter . . . grabbing the phone he said, "Tut, tut. I'm just here for observation." "Then you're not dying?" asked the reporter.... "Of course not" Woolcott replied. . . "Well" asked the reporter, "What are your plans?"
I often talk to men who have very little life insurance. I ask them what they intend to do to remedy a situation which can mean nothing but misery and deprivation for loved ones sooner or later. I receive every kind of answer.
Most of these men are proud of their homes and children, but they admit having insufficient life insurance. It makes me think of the reporter, and I want to say as he said to Woolcott "What are your plans?"

Trinity Church Sets New High Mission Givings

The annual meeting of Trinity United Church was held in the ladies' parlour with the minister, Rev. Dr. George S. Easton in the chair. Devotional exercises were conducted by the minister and Rev. Wm. McDonald.

At the commencement of the business, Dr. Easton presented a resolution re-affirming the continued loyalty of this congregation to King and Country. On motion of Rev. Wm. McDonald and Judge Sheldon Smoke the resolution was unanimously approved and the national anthem and the doxology were sung.

Dr. Easton gave a comprehensive pastoral address and reviewed the work of the church during 1941. He reported a resident membership of 804; a net increase of 70. In concluding his remarks on the work of the church Dr. Easton expressed his appreciation and that of Mrs. Easton to Trinity people for their loyalty to the church, for their many acts of kindness and for their continued deep interest and sincere co-operation in the welfare of Trinity church.

The total amount raised for all purposes, during 1941, amounted to $20,925, of which $9,243 was for missionary and benevolent purposes. The missionary contributions ($4,608) are the highest in the history of the church. The congregation raised $2,220 in War Savings Certificates for the General Fund of the United Church of Canada. The treasurer's report showed all obligations fully met with a substantial balance on hand to begin 1942. The reports from all branches of the church were interesting, instructive, inspiring, helpful and hopeful.

Rev. Mr. McDonald and W. D. Campbell moved that a hearty vote of appreciation be tendered Dr. and Mrs. Easton for their excellent leadership during the past year. Light refreshments were served by the ladies of the church at the close of the business session.

The following resolution re-affirming the congregation's loyalty to King, Country, Empire and God was unanimously adopted:

Whereas our service of freedom in these days requires of us two things:

First—that we should have freedom from the threat that hangs over it by driving back and destroying the Nazi tyranny of dictator states, and

Second—that we should see to it that our freedom is rooted in faith in God which alone can mature it as a vigorous and healthy plant, and in that truth which is in Jesus Christ which alone can make us free.

Therefore we, the congregation of Trinity United Church, Peterborough, assembled at our annual congregational meeting on Wednesday, January 28, 1942, do hereby pledge anew our loyalty to our noble King and gracious Queen, and to those charged with the high and heavy responsibility of leadership in the Empire and this Dominion, and would call upon all our faithful members and adherents through more prayerful acknowledgment of God over all, and through fuller surrender of all our resources, material and spiritual, unto Him for His purposes, to help to make our National and Empire an ever fitter instrument in God's hands for the accomplishment of final victory for the cause of truth and right, freedom and peace, and for bringing in a new and better day among all nations.

Except Wheat Farm Prices Fair

OTTAWA, Jan. 31—(CP).—Prices of Canadian farm products generally, with the exception of wheat, are at least fair prices in relation to any standard that can be properly set up, Hon. Gordon Taggart, Saskatchewan Agriculture Minister and Food Administrator for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, told the Canadian Federation of Agriculture's annual meeting yesterday.

"This may not be true of every individual product at every marketing point, but certainly it can be verified by reference to quoted market prices for livestock, dairy products, poultry, eggs, fruits and vegetables," Mr. Taggart said.

Mr. Taggart said it was often suggested that any advantage the farmer may have obtained from increases in the price of his product during the last two years had been more than offset by rising costs of supplies which farmers must purchase. Prices of farm products on the average, with wheat excepted, were close to those of the 1926-29 period. At the same time, since 1926 some groups of commodities which farmers buy had tended to decline in price.

"Among these are tractor fuel, lubricants, rubber tires, farm trucks and tractors," he said. "The decline in the cost of trucks and tractors has not been great, if we limit our examination to the actual price per unit. If we relate the price to capacity to do work, then in many instances the cost has been cut in two."

Subsidy Not Permanent.

A subsidy had been granted on butter, he said, "but I want to emphasize the fact that the present subsidy is not regarded by the Board as a permanent policy."

"It is mainly an expedient to maintain the supply until a more satisfactory plan can be evolved."

Mr. Taggart said the Board had authorized certain specified increases in the ceiling prices of lamb carcasses to permit lamb feeders to obtain increased prices for a product of higher value because of the feeding process, and to permit of the payment of storage charges on frozen lamb carcasses.

"The ceiling price was established during the period of heavy sales, but those who fed lambs and those who stored carcasses paid the prevailing price with the proper expectation of receiving higher prices at later dates. If the supply and demand position permits, people engaged in these two functions may now obtain higher prices under the Board ruling."

$60,000 Cash Aid For Farm Labor Unused

OTTAWA, Jan. 31—(CP). — An appropriation of $60,000 places in the estimates last year for the possible movement of farm labor went unused, Agriculture Minister Gardiner told the Canadian Federation of Agriculture to-day.

The Minister said that a year ago he was told farm labor difficulties were anticipated in Ontario because of the movement of men to war industry factories from the farms.

In urging that the appropriation be placed in the estimates he predicted a movement of farm labor might be necessary either within Ontario or by moving farm labor into the province.

"The $60,000 was placed in the estimates and as far as I know no one has asked for a dollar of it," Mr. Gardiner said.

Mr. Gardiner said he doubted if those taken into the armed forces and factories totalled as many as the 1,000,000 without work at the peak of unemployment. He said he knew there were farm labor shortages near Ontario industrial cities, but increases in farm production demonstrated "someone is laboring away at the job, getting more returns per unit of labor if there is a shortage of labor."

Favors Higher Price.

Support for an increase in the initial wheat price paid by the Government in 1942 was indicated by the minister.

Mr. Gardiner said the advance price on wheat (70 cents a bushel, basis No. 1 Northern, Fort William) was not high enough to maintain the former and acreage payments of at least $60,000,000 had been made during the present crop year to carry wheat-growers through their difficulties.

Mr. Gardner said farmers should not be misled by those who shout that Canadian agriculture must produce to the limit of its possibilities 'no matter what the cost to the Government, or Britain is going to starve.'

"Do not let us run away with the idea that Britain must beg at our door for food. We will only deserve the consideration of Britain and the other Allies if our effort is a balanced effort. Manpower, munitions and supplies, ships, tanks and guns must be properly balanced with food supplies."

Two important facts related to the farm must not be overlooked in dealing with manpower on farms, the minister said. The first was that the farm is a home.

"The young man who intended to inherit the land is more essential to the farming industry as we have developed it in Canada than any key man in industry can possibly be," he said.

"The second is that there are 70,000 farmers in Canada over sixty years of age who have no sons or other heirs in line to take the farm. These might be replaced by men with young families or men who will be returning from the war."

This would help solve the labor problem on farms.

So far as prices went, the minister said the Government would have to contirue to pay bonuses to farmers to maintain prices.

QUAKER AND WESTCLOX KEEP UP PRESSURE ON THE C.G.E. LADIES

Y Gym Girls Normalites Drop 2 Games

Quakers and Westclox are keeping the pressure on C.G.E. Generals in the battle for the leadership of the Ladies' City Basketball League. The Generals are still on the top rung, but Quakers are nipping at their heels in second place, after beating "Y" Gym, 25-24 in a nip and tuck battle at the Y.W.C.A. last night. Westclox are just a pace back of them in third place by virtue of trouncing Normalites 43-17 in the other half of the double-header. Standing to date:

	W.	L.
C.G.E. Generals	5	1
Quakers	4	1
Westclox	4	2
St. John's	3	3
"Y" Gym.	2	4
C.G.E. Electrics	1	4
Normal	0	4

Quakers ran up a 17-8 margin in the opening half, but were hard pressed to overcome "Y" Gym's battling rally in the final period before they hung up a 25-24 victory. It was all Quakers in the opening half, but after the losers had come battling back in the last period, it was a rip roaring nip and tuck battle through the final minutes. The Quaker team got away to a flying start and coupling a fast breaking attack with some nice shooting to take a commanding lead in the early minutes and it looked as though it was going to be an avalanche, "Y" Gym, came back strongly in the final period, and the story was reversed with the losers threatening to come from behind to win, but Quakers held out to the finish and just eked out the victory. The winners made but one of their seven free throws and "Y" Gym counted two of their six tries. P. Ayres and H. Rutter led the winners, and R. Hewitt and I. Young were the stars for "Y" Gym. The teams:

Quakers (25).—H. White 3, M. Youdell, H. Rutter 6, D. Smith, P. Ayres 14, D. Weese, M. Duncan, G. Allen 2.

Referees—V. Coleman, J. Cooper.

Normal made Westclox hustle all through the first half before relinquishing a meagre 16-12 lead at the rest period, but the Alarm Maidens went to town in the last period to run it up. The opening half was fairly even, with the winners holding a slight edge, but it was anybody's game until after half time. The Normalites faded badly after the half, and the winners ran up the count with a past passing, accurate shooting attack that was getting better as the game ended. Normalites played the best basketball they have shown this year, in the first half and looked to be on their way to a possible upset victory, but it was a different story in the final 20 minutes. A. Flynn with 17 and B. Saunders with 10 were best for Westclox, and R. Roblin and E. Pitney led the Normalites. The teams:

Westclox (43).—M. Hawthorne 6, F. Bestard 4, M. McFadden, I. Bullock 2, J. Crowe 4, B. Saunders 10, A. Flynn 17.

Normal (17).—R. Roblin 7, K. McMillan, R. Ainsworth, Y. Rowan, E. Van Allen 3, M. McInnes, E. Pitney 3, C. McKelver 1.

Referees—L. Grose and V. Coleman.

SPORTS — DAY BY DAY

By FRED D. CRAIG

The Military Training Centre team came back to form last night after an indifferent game against Whitby Wednesday and walloped a Flyer team that had held them to a 3 to 2 score last week to the tune of 9 goals to 1, with two regulars off the lineup. The homesters showed speed and clever passing worthy of group leaders and they worked right inside for all their goals in a refreshing display of hipper dipper hockey that enabled them to pile up a wide margin against a battling team that has been giving all and sundry a tough argument. Sparked by the Kingdon-Tompkins-Heal line who went on a scoring rampage, banging in two goals each and helping themselves to a total of fifteen scoring points, all of them earned, the Soldiers put on a fine show of offensive strength and their onslaught was too much for the Flyers. Don Crowe was still absent through illnes and Johnny Godfrey sat this one out because of an injured side as the result of a cross-check in the Whitby game but two of last year's juniors Bob Parnell and Joe Rochetta filled in most acceptably and the team as a whole gave one of its best performances of the season.

* * * * * *

As was expected Whitby triumphed over Belleville Reliance last night to take over second place from Mike Rodden's team but the Quinte crowd gave the full-strength Whitby team quite an argument before succumbing. In fact they led 3 to 2 until less than five minutes before the end of the battle when Whitby tied it up and then followed with three fast goals to win 6 to 3. The Oshawa-Whitby Combines have only two games with Flyers left and should hang on to the second slot. As a result of the night's doings the Military Training Centre has about cinched first place. They cannot get worse than a tie in games won and lost, no matter what happens in the remaining games and if there should be a tie the Petes who have the best average in goals for and against would grab off the first slot in any case. However the squad say there will be no tie. They have games with Belleville and Flyers in Belleville and will go after them both.

Will Be Real Battle

With Flying Officer Archie Green's United States basketball stars stacked against the Outboard Marines at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium tonight the best exhibition of the cage game of the current season is certain. Outboards, after a slow start, have been hitting their stride in recent games and playing smart basketball to run up big scores. Tonight they face the strongest opposition they have encountered all season, however, for the visiting Flyers have gobs of class and they will put on a demonstration of ball-handling, speed and sharpshooting that should be a revelation to the fans. Halpin, Turpin, Perreault and Patton of the visiting squad are the American members of the team and Ontario is represented by Green and Caplan, the latter a former star of the Toronto Lizzies. The Peterborough squad is a cross-section of the City League with McPherson, McIntyre, Jakafby, McArthur and Thorburn of the Quakers, Joe Stewart of C.G.E. and Rogow, Johnston and Craig, of Dominions on the lineup. The game is billed to get under way at 8 o'clock sharp, with a girls' game between Generals and Electrics starting at 7 o'clock. All the proceeds go toward financing the O.A.B.A. campaign of the Outboards.

It was expected that the Quaker-Y Gym game in the Ladies' Basketball League double-header at the Y.W.C.A. last night would be a real battle and it turned out to be exactly that. Quakers finally won by the scant margin of one point, but the Y girls threw a bad scare into the Quaker camp by staging a second half rally that almost won for them. It was 17 to 8 for the porridge team at half time but the Y outfit outscored their opponents 16 to 8 in the second half, only to lose out 25 to 24. It was a scoring duel between Phyllis Ayres for Quakers and Ruth Hewitt for the Y, the former getting 14 points and the Y ace 16. Normal School made a good showing against Westclox in the first half and were down only 16 to 12 but the Clockmakers cut loose in the second half to win 43 to 17.

* * * * * *

Julian Wade, product of the Peterborough junior O.H.A. squad, is making good with a bang with the Boston Olympics of the United States Eastern League and sport scribes in Boston are predicting that Wade and his line mate McGill, a former Edmonton junior star "will be winning the Stanley Cup for the Bruins before the year is over" as one writer puts it. Julian had popped in 22 goals and had 10 assists to his credit for a total scoring mark of 32 points at the last report received and in one game against Ned Vitarelli's Johnstown, Pa. team, the Peterborough lad and McGill racked up seven goals and four assists between them. Here is a thumbnail sketch of Wade as given by Scribe Henry McKenna in a recent Boston paper: "Jake Wade, 19, left wing, from Peterborough, Ont. ....Most improved member of team this season....Great skater, goes both ways....A 20-goal player, clever around net....Never talks, never smiles....Good stick-handler and rusher. Was with Young Rangers of Toronto last season and is just coming into his own."

* * * * * *

The standings of the three sections of the South-End Hockey League appear elsewhere in today's paper and they indicate that in each of the three divisions, bantam, midget and juvenile a red-hot race is in progress. Mild weather set back the schedule a little but the teams have taken advantage of every opportunity to play and there has been some decidedly lively hockey among the future greats in the only loop that offers the kids a chance to get some training in organized hockey. At present Canucks lead the juvenile loop with three straight wins and no losses but Churchills are right on their heels, with two wins and no defeats and there is sure to be some spirited hockey between the two before a winner is decided. In the midget division the Canucks have a one-point advantage at present but Colts, undefeated so far, have two games in hand on the present leaders. But the real tight race is in the bantam section where Spitfires and Westenders are tied with 3 points each for first place and St. Peter's and Canucks are just a point behind the leaders.

* * * * * *

The upward surge of the Whitby team has resulted in the outfit getting an unwonted amount of publicity in the home town journal the Times-Gazette, formerly given over almost entirley to the exploits of the Oshawa Generals. Thus George 'Soup' Campbell says in his sport column: "Whitby has lined up a couple more Oshawans, Carl Gamble and Tommy Durling. All they need now is Doug Maundrell, a former Whitby Junior player, to bolster their defense, and they'll be in fine shape to win the Senior "B" title. Coach 'Hap" Hamel is feeling quite pleased with the showing his team is making, and rightly so, while Jimmie Reid and John Berlett, co-workers of the Whitby club, are smiling too." And John Brownlee who writes the Whitby hockey dope has this to say: "It is the opinion of this writer that if the boys keep playing "heads-up" hockey as they have during this past week or so, they will give Peterborough a battle for first place. It is the hope of all the county town hockey fans that the boys will continue on their way to the Senior "B" championship."

* * * * * *

Sporting Chili Con Carne: There has not been a shutout in this senior B group this season. Ray Harding has come the closest to grabbing one off. In four different games he allowed only one goal....Last night's win was the fourth in a row for the Petes and the eight straight loss for the Air Force team....Collegiate basketeers broke into the win column with a bang last night, running up a big score on their own floor over the Military Training team....Outboard Marines are going to give local fans plenty of fast basketball. Next Saturday night Shag Park's Navy team will be here for an exhibition game and on the following Saturday the Eglington R.C.A.F. featuring Tony Golab will meet Outboards here....Whitby had the whole works waiting for Belleville last night but Reliance made it a real tight fit....Petes play Mike Roden's team in Belleville Monday and finish the group schedule with the Flyers in the Quinte city on Friday....Flyers play Whitby, Belleville and Peterborough next week and wind up their season with another game in Whitby a week from Monday.

(By ALLAN NICKLESON.)

TORONTO, Jan. 31—(CP)—Before Moose Ecclestone was injured fatally in an automobile accident last spring, nobody actually knew how many friends he had. They still don't know. But almost 14,000 of them gathered in Toronto Maple Leaf Gardens last night. Moose was an amateur hockey manager. Every town in Ontario knew him. Few rinks in Ontario had rafters that hadn't been shaken at one time or another by the Moose's stentorian bellows at referees or players—for justice, redress or the maximum of effort that Moose put into his own life, sports and business. Only his wife and his immediate family remembered that his name was Robert, not Moose.

When Moose Ecclestone died at 33 sportsmen in Ontario searched for something with which they could make his memory live, the way Moose would like to be remembered. Moose liked crowds. He liked talking people into coming to watch anything. So the Ontario sportsmen dreamed up a night of sports that Moose would have liked fine except for one thing—he wouldn't have had to do any talking to get the crowd in. Or perhaps that's wrong. Perhaps all the talking Moose ever did in his life crowded Maple Leaf Gardens last night.

14,000 Turn Out

Fourteen thousand people watched the Toronto Senior Marlboros bounce St. Catharines Saints 7-3. As Goodyears, Marlboros had been the Moose's last club. Marlboros were third in the league, St. Catharines first. But Marlboros won, and won before the biggest crowd ever to watch them play. Moose would have liked that. It is good for the next gate.

The crowd gave $9,800 for the privilege of being counted as Moose's friends, and that sum will be placed in trust for his widow and family. Moose's friends got quite a show thrown in. A team of Oldtimers tied Toronto Maple Leafs 3-3 in a 20-minute exhibition. Gord Drillon counted two for Leafs, Sweeney Schriner one. George Hay got two for the Oldtimers, Joe Primeau the third.

Syl Apps won the National Hockey League championship in a race-off with Lynn Patrick of New York Rangers. Toronto's Apps sped around the course twice in 14 4-5 seconds and once in 15. Patrick did in twice in 15 and onece in 14 4-5.

But the biggest victory of the night was for Moose Ecclestone, over the world. He tried for much of his life to crowd the Gardens for an amateur game, and he finally made it.

Primeau Gets Call

Joe Primeau was selected the top performer of the exhibition and was presented with a gold watch.

Participating in the National Hockey League speed tests were Jack Portland of Canadiens, Max Bentley of Chicago Hawks, Tommy Anderson of Americans, Syd Abel of Detroit Red Wings, Flash Hollett of Boston Bruins, Syl Apps and Lyn Patrick.

Each player had two whirls around the rink under the direction of Squadron Leader Harry (Punch) Broadbent. Apps and Patrick were the fleetest, clocked in 15 seconds flat. Second time round Apps and Patrick again were low, this trip at 14 4-5 second. In the skateoff, Apps hit 14 4-5 again and Lynn 15 seconds.

Excellent Show

It was a toss-up whether the capacity house enjoyed the speed trials or the return to action of old N.H.L. favorites the most.

Manager Art Ross of the Boston Bruins, and members of his club not participating in the show, were among the spectators. Frank Patrick and Dick Irvin of the Canadiens were also on deck with their players.

So heavy was the customer traffic that it was necessary at the last minute to place the Montreal players in the second row of the press box.

Little Viv Smith was popularly acclaimed by the crowd for her entertaining figure skating performance.

Here's how they skated:

	1st lap	2nd lap
Portland, Can.	15 1-5	15 1-5
M. Bentley, Chi.	15 1-5	15 2-5
Apps, Leafs	15 flat	14 4-5
Anderson, Amerks.	15 3-5	15 2-5
L. Patrick, Rangers	15 flat	14 4-5
Abel, Detroit	fell	15 flat
x-Hollet, Boston	16 1-5	15 flat

Skateoff—Apps, 14 4-5; Patrick, 15 flat.

x—Hollett temporarily lost control of the puck on his first try.

MAKE FAST TIME

Navy aircraft carriers are the fastest of any U.S. big ships, and almost as fast as destroyers.

Leafs And Les Canadiens Engage In Free-For-All

Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Les Canadiens resumed their feud at Maple Leaf Gardens when the Leafs trounced the Canadiens 7-3 after turning the game into a free-for-all during the third period. The boys are pictured as they started to mix it up in a fighting spree which brought majors to Schriner and O'Connor and minors to Carr, Stanowski, Morin and Ken Reardon.

Night Playing Is Big Issue In Wartime Ball

NEW YORK, aJn. 31 — (AP). — The wartime future of baseball will be decided here during the next three days in what may prove to be the most momentous meetings the leaders of the sport ever have held.

Although President Roosevelt has given baseball a green light, the major leagues are at loggerheads over twilight and night baseball and several minor leagues are being forced to shut down.

Some solution for these questions must be found quickly because the training season will open in about two weeks and as a result virtually every important figure in baseball is heading here this week-end to help solve the puzzle.

William S. Bramham, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues the governing body of the minors, is due in town to-day and Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis will arrive to-morrow along with William Harridge, president of the American League, and all of the club owners.

The International and Eastern Leagues will have important meetings to-morrow and the board of directors of the American League also will gather as a preliminary to the sessions of the two majors on Monday and the joint meeting on Tuesday.

The magnet around which all of these sessions were originally scheduled is the annual dinner of the New York Baseball Writers to-morrow night. The scribes will honor three prominent baseball personages —Joe DiMaggio as the outstanding player of the year; Mel Ott for meritorious service to baseball over a long period of years, and Sergt. Hank Greenberg for "extraordinary service to baseball" based on his Army service.

St. Peter's Hand Canucks 4 to 1 Defeat

Presented with the keenest sheet of ice of the season, minor league hockey put on its most sparkling display of the year at the Sacred Heart Rink on Thursday night, in a full schedule of four games in the South-end League.

First on the card was a Bantam game between St. Peter's and the Canuck Beavers, and after having absorbed defeats in their two previous starts, St. Peter's came roaring back to hand the Canucks their first defeat of the season by a final count of 4 to 1. Jumping into a one-goal lead almost at the opening bell St. Peter's by constant pressure continued to increase it until late in the second period they had a four-goal advantage. Only in the final period were the Canuck Beavers able to untrack themselves, and run in their single marker. McCartney Ferren, J. Basciano, and Lazure were the goal-getters for the winners, while Masters picked up the losers' only goal.

The teams:

St. Peter's— Lester, Conroy, McCartney, Ferren, Basciano, J. Basciano, Russell, Brooks, Caccavelli, McIsaac, Lazure Peel, F. Peel.

Canuck Beavers — McDonald, Dunk, Livings, Fontaine, Condon, Phillips, Campanaro, Masters, O'Brien, LaPlante, Davis Lane, Hickey.

The second game was also a Bantam affair, with the Spitfires going down to defeat at the hands of the West-enders by a score of 4 to 1. Displaying all around power both on the offence and the defence, the West-enders were full value for their win. Running two counters in the opening stanza, the West-enders split two goals with their rivals in the second, and then came back to score the only goal of the final period. Doughty, McNutt, McDougal, and Anthony each with a goal led the way for the winners, while Legrow picked up the single marker for the losers.

The teams:

West-enders — Zavitz, Fry McDougal, Darling, Anthony, Doughty, McNutt, Hardy, Green, Williams.

The Midgets took over for the third contest, and after a battle royal, the Canuck Rovers and St. Peter's were forced to share the two points by playing to a 1-1 tie. The opening period was scoreless, and it was only after the middle of the second that the Canucks managed to break the ice with Mortimer netting the puck after LaPlante had set up the play. Constant power plays on the part of St. Peter's finally paid off in the third period, when Levoy blasted a five-footer past Woodcock.

The teams:

Canuck Rovers—Woodcock, Giardino Dugan, Mortimer, LaPlante, Goodman, Carter.

St. Peter's — O'Brien, Murphy, P. Basciano, J. Monahan, Daly, McIsaacs, H. McIsaacs, Levoy, Quigley, Begley.

The final game of the evening brought together the Churchills and the Generals in the Juvenile division and the Churchills overpowered their opposition by a 7 to 0 shutout. Paced by Ainslee, a fine rushing defenceman, and Anderson, the best centre man to show all season, the Churchills completely outclassed the Generals, scoring in every period and coming close on many other occasions, Parsons in the nets being their greatest stumbling-block. Anderson with four goals, Ainslee with three, and Garvey with one, accounted for all the goal-getting of the night.

The teams:

Churchills — Leether, Gillespie, Ainslee, Anderson, Close, Lawson, Millen, Garvey, Harris, White, Dorrell, Hudson.

P.C.I. Too Fast For Boys Of Training Centre

P.C.I. showed too much speed and scoring prowess for the Military Training Centre, running up a 69-21 victory over the Soldiers in the Collegiate gym. last night, in a battle to get out of the City Basketball League cellar. It was the initial victory for the Garnet and Grey quintet and enabled them to climb out of a last place tie and move past the Soldiers who are still victory-less in three starts. The Soldiers battled hard all the way but P.C.I.'s attack was working in high gear and they took the lead in the early minutes and were never in danger from then on.

They used a fast passing, accurate shooting attack to run up a 30-5 margin in the opening period and continued to pile it up in the last half. They broke fast and beat the Soldiers' defence back, time and again on the big school floor to score most of their points in close, meanwhile holding the Army attack in check with careful, close, checking. The losers had a fair share of the play, but poor shooting and a passing attack that was not effective held down their attempts to match P.C.I.'s high scoring offensive. Taylor with 24 points, Gardner with 15, Ferguson and Richardson led the winners, and McLaren and Wolfe were best for the Soldiers. The teams:

Soldiers (21).—Campbell 1, Brown 4, Wolfe 5, Driscoll, McLaren 5, Lamont 6, Kilfoyle.

Dukes Outshine Saints 7-3; Weavers Win

TORONTO, Jan. 31.—(CP)—The regular schedule of the Senior 'A' division clubs in the Ontario Hockey Association is on the last lap with less than two weeks to go but who'll meet who in the playoffs still remains a mystery.

St. Catharines Saints and Hamilton Majors have definitely caught a berth but what teams they'll tangle with probably won't be decided until all the three clubs which are fighting for the remaining playoff spots have played their last games. The playoffs get underway Feb. 13.

Last night two of the three clubs —Toronto Marlboros and Niagara Falls Weavers—gained two points on the other team which still is in the running—Kingston Combines —by blasting out victories over St. Catharines Saints and Port Colborne Sailors while the Combines were idle. The Dukes whipped the Saints 7-3 in Toronto and the Weavers whitewashed the Sailors 7-0 in Port Colborne.

The victories enabled Marlboros and Weavers to keep pace with each other and the results left them still tied for third place—each with 26 points. The Combines are right on their tails with 23 and they can hop into the third spot tonight if they take their four-point game with Hamilton in Kingston.

Hamilton could do itself some good with a win. They are still battling it out with the Saints for first place, and a victory would shoot them out on top by one point. The Saints at the moment are leading the pack with 36 points, and the Majors are only three behind.

Marlboros swept to victory with a powerful three period drive that netted five goals after they previously had come from behind twice to tie the score. They pulled level for the first time 22 second after the second period opened when Whitey Farrant wiped out Red Reynolds' first period goal.

Gaye Stewart, who scored three of Marlboros' seven goals, evened the score the second time after Eric Adamson had given the Saints the lead again. The Dukes then swept out in front by three goals before St. Catharines scored their final tally, George Grigor, Regina Tisdall and Stewart scoring for Toronto and Paul Mundrick for St. Catharines. The last two Toronto goals were counted by Obs O'Brien and Stewart.

In their game with Port Colborne, Niagara Falls scored three times in the first period, twice in the second and four times in the third. Eddie O'Keefe and Cooper paced their attack with three goals each, Newbold, Roy Heximer and Doug Boston counted the other markers.

Dit Clapper Named Assistant Manager

BOSTON, Jan. 31 — (AP). — Apopintment of Dit Clapper, Boston Bruins captain and star defenceman, as assistant manager of the team was announced last night by the management.

Clapper, now in his sixteenth season with the club, was promoted because of the added work shouldered by Manager Art Ross. The enlistment of the famed Kraut line of Milt Schmidt, Bobby Bauer and Woody Dumart, in the Royal Canadiar Air Force and the loss of Bill Cowley, probably for the season, with a fractured jaw, has forced Ross to start assembling a new team.

"Dit will take over immediately as assistant manager and will continue to play," Ross said. "The Bruins are going to fight right down to the end to win this National Hockey League championship and gather another Stanley Cup. Necessarily, it is going to be a tough haul, and I may have to be away from the team often. I have every confidence in Dit."

Farnsworth Bees Nab Lead

TWEED, Jan. 31—Two upsets occurred in the Centre Hastings Rural League on Thursday night, when Steel Works trounced Sulphide 3-0 to take over the third rung in the league standing, and Farnsworth Bees edged Roslin 6-5 to snatch the leadership.

Steel Works played headsup hockey against the Sulphide boys. Orr opened the scoring and then sifted again through the visitors, passed to Prout who gave the Steelites a 2 goal lead in the first period. At the 30 second mark of the middle canto, Atton took a neat pass from Prout to give the Steelites a 3-goal lead.

Lineups:

Sulphide—Goal, D. Palmateer; defence, B. McRate, E. Akey; left wing, G. Cordy; centre, L. Langevin; right wing, E. V. Akey; subs, S. Lakotas, H. Shannon, H. Jackson, E. Wallace, A. Akey.

Referees, R. Maguire, G. Geraldi.

The second game saw the Farnsworth Bees, holders of the cup, step into the Roslin boys 6-5. L. Meraw and Joe Marsh were the standouts, scoring two goals apiece. In the first period, Roslin gained a 3-1 edge, with Hart tallying on a pass from Grey, Empson from Hart and Collins from Grey, before L. Meraw soloed. The second period was a 2-1 affair in favour of Roslin, with L. Meraw opening the scoring for Farnsworth, only to have Grey and Hart score for Roslin. Determined to best their opponents in the last period, Farnsworth tallied four. Joe Marsh snared a pass from D. Palmateer on a ganging play to score, while the order was reversed on the next counter of the frame. Then Marsh and L. Meraw combined for the tenth goal of the game, and Lajoie speeding into the Roslin area backhanded a pass from D. Palmateer, to win the game with three minutes to go.

Lineups:

Referees—R. Maguire, G. Geraldi.

Petes Lengthen Hold On League Lead

Showing a world of speed and a lot of clever hipper-dipper passing the Military Training Centre team swept through the Trenton Flyers before a fair crowd at Brock Street Rink last night to win 9 goals to 1, the most decisive victory they have registered over the R.C.A.F. crew this season.

The homesters were shy the services of Don Crowe and Johnny Godfrey but even without two of their regular defence players they had too much on the ball last night for the Flyers. The ice was fast and on a perfect cushion the Soldiers outskated the boys in the light blue sweaters and passed them dizzy.

It was 2 to 0 at the end of the first period and 6 to 0 at the close of the second. Then the Petes ran in three more goals in the last session before Trenton finally scored just before the end of the game on a power play with the homesters short-handed through a penalty to Tompkins.

The whole Peterborough team had a hand in the victory and it was a feature of the first five goals were each scored by a different player. But it was the razzle-dazzle line of Kingdon, Tompkins and Heal that supplied most of the attacking punch. Each of the three scored two goals and the line picked up a total of 15 scoring points with a dazzling display of skating, passing and stickhandling. Kingdon and Tompkins were each in on six counters and Heal garnered two goals and an assist.

Two of last year's juniors, Bob Parnell and Joe Rochetta, filled in gaps in the Petes' roster and both youngsters gave a good account of themelves. Rochetta, in particular had hard luck in not getting on the score sheet. Din Reilly went back to the defence and turned in a fine chore in a new role and Nichols, Blewett and Bennett all went nicely and were good going both ways. Much of the defence work fell on Jopling and Burton and they made few mistakes. As for Harding, while he did not have nearly as much to handle as Sponarski, he had to move fast on half a dozen occasions with a puckcarrier in the clear and made some sensational stops. He was only three minutes away from a shutout but had no chance on the one shot that beat him.

Sponarski was the real Trenton star. Although the Petes beat the former star junior nine times he blocked a lot of drives at point-blank range and the crowd applauded his work in the net. Fleet and Livingston were good all the way but none of the forwards particularly stood out. The pace was too fast for the veteran Marty Lauder. On soft ice last week the former Buffalo Bison looked good but he could not get rolling lst night.

Score Two in First

The Military Training Centre team outscored the invaders 2 to 0 in the first period and had the edge on the play although the Flyers came very close on three or four plays but were beaten by Harding, who made several circus stops. In the early stages the Petes buzzed around the Flyer net, especially when Livingston was off for dumping Heal, but they failed to cash in. It was not until the 8.50 mark that the homesters finally scored. Kingdon and Tompkins teamed through the Flyer defence and Kingdon back-handed a shot over Sponarski's knee into the net. Millar missed a great chance soon after when he stick-handled inside only to have Harding kick the drive out of the corner. The Petes lost the services of Rochetta for an interference penalty and later Reilly was chased but the Flyers could not get an attack organized. Flyers lost another great chance when Jones shot from close in and Harding dived to divert the puck just over the net. At the 18 minute mark the Petes went two in front when Reilly slipped in a rebound after Sponarski had made a nice stop of Bennett's shot.

Ganging Up Fails

Although the Flyers tried ganging up in the second period they had little luck and the Petes, breaking fast, swept through for four goals while the visitors failed to score. Nichols got the first when he took a pass from Blewett, rounded the defence, cut in front and back-handed the rubber past Sponarski. Shortly after Les Burton broke away passed to Kingdon, took Bun's return pass at the defence and drilled a beauty past Sponarski. The goalie hadn't a chance on that one. At the 11.50 mark Heal made it 5 to 0 after a neat passing play with Kingdon and Tompkins. Kingdon's pass put the little left winger into the clear and he pulled Sponarski out to slide the puck into the empty net. It was the feature play of the game. A little later he scored again on a pass from Tompkins, again pulling the goalie out and slipping the disc into a vacant cage.

Three More in the Third

It was noticeable at the start of the third session that the Flyers had decided that ganging up wasn't getting them anywhere against the fast-breaking Petes. However their shift in tactics failed to halt the homesters who kept carrying the play to them. Finally after five minutes had gone Kingdon, Tompkins and Heal combined through the Trenton defence and after Heal had rounded the net and brought the rubber around in front Tompkins completed the play by pushing the disc into the cage. Fifty seconds later he scored again with Bun Kingdon setting up the play, and he nearly had three in a row a few seconds later but Sponarski saved. At the 13.00 minute mark, Kingdon made it 9 to 0 when he took a forward pass from Tompkins. The Flyers protested this goal but it counted just the same. The game was almost over when Trenton finally scored. Tompkins drew a penalty and with the Flyers staging a power play they were finally rewarded when McBrien slipped a forward pass from the boards to Jones, camped just at the edge of the crease and Harding had no chance on the play.

The teams and summary:

Army Pinch Just Hitting Hockey

TORONTO, Jan. 31 — (CP). — Exodus of the Kitchener Krauts from the National Hockey League after completion of this week-end's play probably will be just the beginning of a mass face-falling (or face-lifting, who knows?) for Big-time hockey.

The official communications which started Porky Dumart, Bobby Bauer and Milt Schmidt on the swift route of examination for compulsory service, then voluntary enlistment, will be dropping into mail-boxes of other hockey players within the next few weeks. Big-time, Small-time and Part-time—single hockey players will be called to the Canadian army. Married ones, too, if they were married after July 15, 1940.

Oldtimers and youngsters will reap the benefit. Probably some hockey men eyed the oldtimers in last night's game between the Oldtimers and the Toronto Maple Leafs in Toronto with more than dreams of the past. On second thought, let's not think of getting Nels Stewart, King Clancy and that generations back into active hockey until it's absolutely necessary.

Consider Red Dutton's Brooklyn Americans. Dutton said the other day six of his players were eligible for call-ups. It makes the mind stagger to think about Americans losing six of the modest little group Dutton has gathered this season.

But that's the situation. Hockey players make just as good soldiers as anyone else, although no better, and the Krauts are only a start. Bauer and Schmidt probably will play against Leafs in Toronto tonight, and Bauer and Dumart will be with the Bruins in Boston tomorrow night against Americans. Dumart stayed in Boston today winding up some business, and Schmidt won't travel back for the Brooklyn game. Then comes the R.C.A.F. for all three.

Leafs meet New York Rangers in New York tomorrow night, with Montreal Canadiens at Chicago. The leadership probably will be with one team when the week-end's games are completed. Rangers and Bruins are tied on top at present, with Leafs three points back.

Swede Polishes Puffer In Second Round

KINGSTON, Ont., Jan. 31—(CP)—A 200-pound Swede in stocking feet, with a punch like a falling building—as easy to see and as hard to stop—captured the fancy of fight fans here last night, winning the heavyweight title at the Ontario military boxing championships.

He is Cpl. Roy Reise, a native of Stockholm, who fought in the Finnish War and later escaped from Norway during the German invasion. Now stationed in Military District No. 3 at Kingston, he knocked out Pte. Mickey Puffer of Peterborough, Ont., after 1.47 of the second round to win his crown. Puffer, a smart and fast worker, had been picked by ringsiders as the most promising fighter in the tournament. He won his semi-final bout in a 32-second knockout Thursday night. But he could take Reise's reveille-punch, and stand up.

Five of the eight championships went to M.D. 3, two of M.D. 2 and one to M.D. 1. Prior to Reise's heavyweight victory, Sigmn. J. Turney of Montreal won the featherweight crown; Gnr. Ralph Walton of Montreal, the welterweight; Sgt. Ken Chamberlain of Newcastle, N.B., the flyweight—all for M.D. 3. Pte. John Edwards of Chatham, Ont., took the bantamweight final, with Pte. R. C. Meable of Dauphin, Man., winning the light-heavy division, both for M.D. 2.

Pte. Nick Michailiuk's lightweight triumph was the lone title for M.D. 1. Michiliuk is from Lachine, Que.

Six of the title were won by knockouts, and a total of 16 in the tournaments 35 bouts were kayoes.

After Rescue From The Sea

Cecil Brown, Far East correspondent of the Columbia Broadcasting System, was on the British battle cruiser Repulse when it was torpedoed and sunk by Japanese airplanes. Brown jumped twenty feet from the deck of the Repulse into the oil waters of the South China Sea off the Malaya coast. This picture shows him aboard a destroyer half an hour after he was rescued with a bundle of waste in his right hand which he used to wipe the oil from his face and out of his eyes. Brown was one of several hundred survivors from the torpedoed and bombed warships which included the Prince of Wales, also sunk.

Foot Path Is Estimated To Cost $1,515

• A revised estimate of $1,515 for the opening of a pedestrian crossing at the east end of the C.P.R. bridge for the convenience of the residents of Burnham's Point, was reported to the Board of Works last night by the Dominion Board of Transport. Yearly maintenance was set by the C.P.R. at $150.

The people living in the wartime houses are now taking the short cut over the railway to the pedestrian bridge across the river, but at present this convenience is actually trespass. Besides, there is a low railing which is an impediment to women and children, and especially baby carriages.

Negotiations for permission to lay a narrow crossing at the east end of the bridge, suitable for pedestrian traffic to the wartime community has been going on for months between the Council, Wartime Housing Limited, the C.P.R. and the Board of Transport.

Alderman Bradburn suggested last night that when Wartime Housing was through with the property, the city would have to assume the annual cost of maintenance. The Housing Company is upwilling to assume the cost of setting up a warning bell and other incidentals plus the annual maintenance item.

Mayor Hamilton pointed out that the city's "no whistling" bylaw was the cause of requiring the installation of a warning bell.

Alderman Bradburn proposed that no action be taken. "Let Wartime Housing deal with the C.P.R. and the Board of Transport," he said, but the C.P.R., it transpired, refuses to recognize Wartime Housing because as a government subsidiary they have no permanent standing.

"The C.P.R. are smart," Alderman Bradburn commented. "They are looking forward to a time when Wartime Housing no longer exist. That is why they insist on dealing with the city, because we would have to pay the annual cost of maintenance."

Mayor Hamilton said that when the war was ended the Council had the right to demand the removal of the Burnham's Point houses and the closing of the proposed foot crossing.

Let us urge Wartime Housing to do something now," said Alderman Dutton. His reason for some kind of action was that he feared there might be an accident.

Alderman Sands objected to the no action" attitude, and pointed out step by step from the correspondence, first that a crossing was necessary; second that a bell had to be set up because engines were forbidden to blow their whistles in the city limits; and third that the cost had been revised as directed to the C.P.R. by the Board of Transport..

The Board finally adopted a motion by Alderman Glover, seconded by Alderman Sands, that Wartime Housing be advised that one of their engineers was to consult the Board of Transport regarding the crossing, and that no information had come to the council as to whether that interview had taken place.

Aldermen Bradburn and Curtis voted against the motion, and those supporting it were Mayor Hamilton, Aldermen Mark, Sullivan, Swanston, Glover and Sands.

Aldermen Cotton and Gordon were not present. The sentiment of the Board seemed to be that as Wartime Housing was willing to bear the entire expense of the crossing and the Point residents needed it, something helpful should be done about it.

Canadian Corps Artillery Equal To Best

(By ROSS MUNRO.)

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Jan. 31—(CP).—Canadian Cirps is building up one of the most formidable artillery formations of any army in the world.

Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, corps comander, is a firm believer in the tremendous value of guns coordinated with tanks and aircraft, and recently a new artillery branch was established.

It is under a brigadier who bears the title "Corps Commander Medium Artillery." This branch is a powerful pool of gunner regiments—not just medium regiments—which can be used to support action along any part of the corps' front.

The brigade major is R. S. Dyer of Kingston, Ont., and staff captain is J. S. Walford of Montreal, Lieut. T. P. Lownsbrough of Toronto is intelligence officer.

Field guns, anti-tank guns and howitzers are included in this command as well as light anti-aircraft regiments using the fast-firing Bofors which have been so effective in bringing down aircraft under 10,000 feet.

In the British offensive in the western desert, co-operation between the gunners, tanks and infantry reached a high point of precision and when observers report back to Britain on the operations it is possible new tactics will be developed in Canadian training.

Canadian-made field guns have arrived in Britain and some field regiments will be issued with them shortly. The gunners say they are the best guns of their kind.

As the corps develops into an army of two corps, air support will be built up to parallel this artillery strength and the two will have to work closely together. Present plans call for establishment of a Canadian air suport control which will be able to call up bomber planes for targets the artillery cannot handle.

Lakefield Brothers Serving Overseas

Gnr. G. B. Graham, LEFT, age 21, is serving in England with the R.C.A. and his brother, Pte. A. E. Graham, RIGHT, age 23, is with a Canadian Forestry unit somewhere in Scotland. Both are sons of Mrs. Isaiah Graham of Lakefield and the late Mr. Graham.

MarmoraPlayers Drop 7 Events

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 31 (ENS)—By taking seven of the 12 events in a scheduled Kawartha-Trent Tourney staged in Marmora Thursday evening Campbellford defeated the homesters for the second time this season and maintained their position at the top of the league. The visitor's triumph was well earned since they were played the toughest teams in the league on their own courts. Marmora lost five of the seven mixed doubles events, but this was partly a result of their strength being reserved for the men's and ladies' doubles where they picked up four events.

Mixed Doubles

C. Brady and Mrs. Reynolds, Marmora, defeated Mr. and Mrs. George Ralph 15-12; E. Darling and R. Callaghan, Campbellford defeated G. Murray and Mrs. Hickey 15-5; Mr. and Mrs. D. Meyers, Campbellford defeated F. Wells and Mrs. Murray 15-11; Mrs. Fink and W. A. Kingston, Campbellford defeated R. Neale and Mrs. Neal 15-13; Archie Crosier and J. Hendy, Campbellford, defeated Mr. and Mrs. Hilton 18-14; E. Allan and G. Maxwell, Campbellford defeated Mr. Prentice and Mrs. Linton 15-4.

Men's Doubles

Ralph and Darling of Campbellford defeated Hilton and Murray 15-2; Brady and Wells, Marmora defeated Meyers and Crosier 15-8; Neal and Prentice, Marmora defeated Kingston and Maxwell 15-11.

Ladies' Dougles:

Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Hickey, Marmora defeated Mrs. Fink and Miss Callaghan 15-7; M. Linton and W. Sabine, Marmora defeated Mrs. Meyers and Mrs. Ralph 15-3; J. Hendy and E. Allen, Campbellford defeated Mrs. Neal and Mrs. Hilton 15-9.

Two Campbellford Brothers Serve Wearing The Air Force Blue

SERGT.-OBSER. JOE KELLY.

PILOT OFF. J. M. KELLY.

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 31. — (ENS).— Word has just been received here that Sergt. Observer Joe Kelly, 19, has reached England safely. Joe is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kelly, Rear Street, and he joined the R.C.A.F. in December, 1940, seven months after his brother, now Pilot Officer J. M. Kelly, who has been with the Western Command in British Columbia since last October. The boys are graduates of the Campbellford High School and are following the Kelly tradition by both their fondness for sporting activities and in going to the defence of their country. Pilot Officer Kelly took a leading part in track and field sports while at High School, while in 1939-40 Joe starred on the Campbellford Sunocos hockey team.

Their father went overseas with the 4th C.M.R.'s in the Great War and was wounded in France and he was granted a commission on his return to Canada. He was widely known in lacrosse and sporting circles as was his brother Mike Kelly a lieutenant in the 3rd C.M.R.'s, who was president of the Canadian Lacrosse Association at the time of his death in May of last year.

Brands Theft Sabotage

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.— (AP). — District Attorney Frank S. Hogan, declaring that any crime which takes advantage of war-time conditions amounts to sabotage, struck hard and fast yesterday after theft of a truck and trailer loaded with 24,000 pounds of sugar. Twelve hours following the $11,500 hijacking, John Pantulino, 36, as indicted on first degree grand larceny changes. He pleaded guilty and was held under the unusually high bail of $7,500. Trucks, trailer and tires are all rationed; sugar is soon to be government-allocated.

Cormack Widow Dies

AUBURN, Calif., Jan. 31.—(AP). —Mrs. Marguerite B. Carmack, 58, widow of G. W. Carmack, the prospector who made the original gold strike in the Klondike in 1896, died yesterday. She owned the Carmack gold mine and the Pacific Blue Lead mine in Westville.

Pastor Whips Gus Lesnevich

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—Bob Pastor popped up today as the first boxer to earn three shots at heavyweight champion Joe Louis.

But in spite of the neat 10-round exhibition Pastor displayed in defeating Gus Lesnevich in Madison Square Garden last night, Pastor is not going to get that chance the next time the Bomber goes to the post, in March.

It became known that the March heavyweight title bout Promoter Mike Jacobs has scheduled for the United States Army relief will find either Mello Bettina, the Beacon (N.Y.) southpaw, or Abraham Simon, the Long Island policeman, being served up to the Bomber.

Meanwhile Bob, who went the 10-round route with Louis once and then lasted 11 more heats the next time, is holding out for an outdoor bout with Louis, probably in September.

The Ex-New York University veteran showed a crowd of 9,592 last night that he is better than any other contender with the exception of Billy Conn, who is slated to meet Louis in June.

Pastor didn't have much trouble with Lesnevich, outboxing the Cliffside, N.J. battler from start to finish.

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

The battleship of U.S.S. Indiana, launched November 21, was completed six months ahead of schedule.

City Carpetball

Three double wins, one draw game and three splits are the results of this week's rolling. We were really surprised at the Moose letting the Pork Packers skin them as we were eating the old Bulls pretty tough meat in their own compound. One can never tell, look at the Hook and Ladder gang. We had to practically haul them into the league by their whiskers and now they go and trim poor old King Billie and his mighty Orange Squeezers for a complete washout on the round and so think that the Orange lads are the only other team to hand out the same sort of medicine to the old Moose earlier in the season—retribution some will call it. The Brinton Carpet squad laid their rugs so that the Old C.N.R. Freighters got badly derailed. Our last season's heavies seems to have lost weight this year.

The results:

Moose No. 10, 8-7 v. St. George's No. 9, 14-21.

S.O.E. No. 2, 15-2 v. Auto Tops No. 12, 4-17.

Moose No. 10, 7-10 v. St. George's No. 9, 9-7.

Schedule

St. George's No. 9 v. Brintons No. 11.

S.O.E. No. 1 v. Auto Tops No. 12.

Only one game not heard from and we believe the games being played at time of writing. Keep up the good work—keep the schedule rolling.

From Douro Township

Mrs. J. D. Quinn, Rogers street has received word that her husband, L. Bombadier J. D. Quinn, serving with a heavy artillery unit has arrived overseas. He is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Quinn of Douro township, and his father is one of the better known farmers of the district being president of the Peterborough Plowmen's Association.

Our Mother

Dear Mother, our hearts are yearning,
For you, whom we hold most dear.
Oh! how we long to be with you,
Just to fill our hearts with cheer.

We know that you love us, Dear Mother,
And pray for our safety each night.
That the good Lord will guide us to you,
Just to make our lives happy and bright.

In your heart, there's a tender feeling,
For the ones who are far away.
And we know you worry, Dear Mother,
That this life will lead us atray.

But we'll always be honest and true, Dear
What 'ere our future shall be.
And we'll always remember, your teachings,
For all our thoughts are of thee.

Although your life has been shattered,
With trouble, sorrow and pain.
But the ones that you love, most dearly,
Shall all be with you again.

We'll make your life bright and happy,
And burden your sorrow and pain.
We'll take away all your troubles,
And make life worth living, again.

We'll fight for the freedom, we cherish
And protect the ones that we love.
And we'll pray for you often, Dear Mother,
To our only Savior, above.

So, until we are happy together,
And our beautiful country is free.
Will you pray for us often, Dear Mother,
And remember the ones who love thee.

—Composed and written by Pte. Patrick James Webb of Midland Regiment and son of Mr. and Mrs. William Webb, 326 Water Street.

On Patrol

The man in the mask is Seaman Harold Lundquist, togged out in his special cold weather garb, including face protector. He is shown on the top deck of the "Eagle 57," flagship of the U.S. inshore patrol that keeps an eye on things around Puget Sound.

Beginning Our Second Year

On this, the First Anniversary of our business, may we repeat the principles upon which it was founded—

• To win confidence by meriting it.
• To create and hold a reputation for fair dealing and friendliness.
• To build a progressive business that will always be abreast of changing times.
• To ask moderate and honest prices for our services rather than lower our standards of quality for consideration of price.

We believe that strict adherence to these ideals has been the reason for the growth of our business.

May we express our deep gratitude to the people of Peterborough and the neighboring communities for their splendid support of our efforts to render a maximum of service to the community.

This Week In Radio

Herbert Marshall, suave gentleman of the screen, whose program will now be heard Friday nights at 9.00 over WJZ.

Regulations to keep enemy spies from broadcasting military data over impromptu radio programs has been issued by the office of censorship in Washington. All broadcasters have been called upon to ban certain types of quiz and request programs and conduct forums and audience interviews with caution. This does not mean that Dr. I. Q., Take It or Leave It, Vox Pop or Double or Nothing will be off the air but the man-on-the-street type of informal program is gone. Telephone and telegraph requests for musical numbers will be accepted but no given request at the given hour will be broadcast . . . Dr. Robert R. Williams the discoverer of Vitamin BI and Merle Oberon celebrated British film star will share the spotlight on the "Listen America" broadcast on Sunday, WEAF, 4.30 p.m. . . . "The Beggars' Opera" in which John Gay and John Pepusch set the style of national British opera for centuries to come will be the third in the CBC ballad opera series heard at 9.30 p.m. Sundays. Sir Ernest MacMillan is the conductor and John Brownlee of the "Met" heads the cast, which will also include Frank Oldfield . . . Vic and Sade those two loveable characters who have been on the air so long in a daytime serial may be heard every evening Monday through Friday at 7.30 CFRB . . . Lilting testimony to the fact that the waltz has a durability unequalled by any other form of modern music is radio's long-run Waltz Time. The show made its bow back in Sept. 1933 and is still going strong (Fridays 10.00 p.m. CBL) . . . Puccini's opera "Tosca" with Grace Moore singing the title roll is the opera broadcast on Saturday, Feb. 7 at 3.00 p.m. CBL.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

RECEIVE PROMOTIONS.

The following promotions to Lce.-Bombardier with the 4th Field Battery are announced: Gunner C. A. Grant and Gunner G. A. Plumpton.

THE OFFER REFUSED

A local man, charged in police court this morning on a second offence drunk charge offered to plead guilty as a first offender but the police reused to accept the offer and the case was adjourned until Tuesday of next week.

ON VAGRANCY CHARGE

Two local men, arrested by police Friday night in a barn on Hunter street, faced vagrancy charges before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C. the police refused to accept the offed not guilty and at the request of the police were remanded until February 5.

FIVE JOIN ACTIVE SERVICE.

Havelock and Campbelford were represented mainly in the list of active service recruits accepted at the Armory yesterday. They are: C. Curry and H. Cherd, Havelock, who joined the R.C.A.; C. Bebee, 1st Midland Regiment, and L. Johnston, R.C.C.S., both of Campbellford; G. C. Smith of R. R. 1, Peterborough, with the R.C.O.C.

RECEIVE QUALIFICATIONS.

In the 4th Field Battery, Part II. Orders, the following members are mentioned as having received their qualifications as second year signallers: Sergt. W. O. Thirnbeck, Gnr. F. G. White; first year signaller qualifications were received by Brd. F. Worsencroft, Bdr. W. G. Brady, and J. B. Bianco. A class in gunlayers listed were: Sergt. L. J. Anthony, Sergt. F. J. Green, Bdr. J. H. Cranford, Bdr. J. F. O'Brien, Gnr. W. E. Fanning, and Gnr. G. M. Plumpton.

MUST EXPROPRIATE

Annexation of another section of Smith township must be undertaken by the council since Wartime Housing extended its development beyond the original intention at the northwest corner of the city. In the meantime the company has gone ahead with its housing plan, pending expropriation of the extra property. City Clerk Outram said last night the owner had left his car on the site of one of the houses, and the company was forced to engage a lawyer before it could proceed with the erection of that house.

WILL CO-OPERATE.

Alex. L. Elliott, K.C., M.P.P., reported to-day that D. J. Taylor, Deputy-Minister of Game and Fisheries, announced he would extend all the facilities of the Department should the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association decide to bring in adult trout for restocking the back lakes. It was suggested that some arrangements be made with commercial fishermen at Lake Simcoe to net the fish and transportation arrangements could then be made.

TWO CARS DAMAGED

Cars owned by Alfred Lee, Alexander avenue, and S. Walling, 451 Edison avenue, were damaged in a traffic accident at Park and Lansdowne street. Lee was driving west on Landsdowne street and Walling south on Park when the collision occurred at the intersection. The right front fender of Lee's automobile was bent and the spring coupling damaged while Wallings' machine suffered injury to the front bumper and headlight.

SHOWING A PROFIT

The gas department of the Utilities Commission made a profit last year for the first time since 1938. The Utilities Commission decided yesterday to publish audited statements of their financing in all three departments last year.

TAXI TELEPHONES

Hugh Davis, proprietor of Capitol Taxi, may arrange with the Bell Telephone Company for five outdoor telephones, the Board of Works agreed last night, but if he wants to attach them to street light standards he will have to consult the Utilities Commission. The proposed locations are Romaine street, McDonnel street, Park Hill Road and Hunter street east.

INTER-CITY MEETING

It is expected that a large delegation of Peterborough Rotarians will attend the inter-city meeting sponsored by the Lindsay Club on Monday night. The Lindsay Club was organized by Peterborough Rotarians. Monday's program will include a curling match which is billed to start at 3 o'clock.

SKIERS HAPPY

Skiers' faces wreathed in smiles this morning when they looked outside and discovered a nice fall of snow had come during the night. By nine o'clock this morning almost two inches had fallen. This added to the little there was in the country should make good skiing over the week-end and quite a crowd will be hiking to try out the new ski-tow at the rifle range hill.

STILL DELIVER.

Rumors that the larger chain stores had discontinued delivery service on Friday are apparently incorrect as a checkup this morning reveals delivery of groceries is still in force. No deliveries are accepted after five o'clock on the week days, and perhaps this rule caused the misunderstanding. Late deliveries are made on Saturday.

GETTING FOOD.

Charlie Kingan reports that the men of Buckhorn placed several bales of hay on the game preserve for the last truckload of elk brought in, and tracks indicate the animals return for the hay regularly. Mr. Kingan had two bales of hay and some oats sent up to the Nepheline Mine for the Himilayan Thar and the Chukar partridge which were introduced.

"WALLAPALOOZERS" LOSE.

The Red Patch Club of Peterborough on Friday night defeated the Sergeants' Mess in a bowling tourney at the K. of C. Alleys in the first of a series of tourneys. Following the match all players retired to the Sergeants' Mess in the Armory, where a social hour was spent. Both outfits plan to hold several more tourneys this winter.

GIVE THEM A RIDE.

Motorists who head south towards the Exhibition Camp late in the evening could do their daily good turn if they would give the soldiers walking back to camp a ride. If the boys are late it means so many days confined to barracks, and the boys in khaki would appreciate the service of a lift. One well-known merchant piled seven of the men into his car and took them to the camp gate this week.

TRADESMEN LEAVE.

The remaining fourteen trainees taking up the driver mechanics course left Peterborough to-day for Ottawa, Barriefield, Petawawa and Camp Borden. Two of their members remain here in hospital. This is the first time that no training tradesmen have been left here since the course was inaugurated a year ago. No replacements have been sent, but it is expected that further clases will begin some time in March.

A BRAVE FELLOW.

Friends of George Cook, well-known sailor and skier of this district have been seeking to learn under what circumstances this man received the George Medal. The naval record indicates as follows: "For gallantry and undaunted devotion to duty on July 29, 1941." No other details are given. George Cook, G.M., serving with the Royal Navy, is the first man from this section to be decorated. His home is in Lakefield.

TO SUBSCRIBE $25,000

The Utilities Commission will subscribe $25,000 of the new government loan. The motion of G. A. Macdonald and Fred Hills expressly directed "up to $25,000," meaning that if only $20,000 was available for this investment that would be the limit. G. S. Matthews, chairman, said he expected the Commission could subscribe the larger amount.

JOIN ACTIVE SERVICE

Among those struck off strength of the 4th Field Battery recently to join the active service are: Sergt. N. P. King, Gunners W. B. Clark, W. T. Collins, J. E. Doherty and F. E. Stewart. Among those taken on the strength of the Battery recently were Gunner K. E. Freeburn, Gunner K. E. Sproule.

BILL FOR $32,680

"We might as well pay it," was the comment of G. A. Macdonald at the Utilities Commission meeting Friday when R. L. Dobbin reported receipt of a bill for $32,680 for iron pipe. This material was ordered in September, has been manufactured and is now in stock in the maker's yard. It is to be used in the trunk water main to be laid down Bethune street this year. It is virtually in the city's possession, the iron company spent the money, and are now asking for entire or part payment. The Commission decided to pay the account. Mr. Dobbin explained that the pipes weigh about one ton each. They will be trucked directly to the Bethune street job in the Spring, eliminating handling labor.

Accept Hankin Bid For Incinerator

Acceptance of the Francis Hankin & Company bid of $46,200 for the construction of a new incinerator was recommended to the council last night by the property committee. Alderman Dutton's motion was seconded by Mayor Hamilton, and was unanimously accepted.

City Engineer Parsons told the committee he had interviewed an engineer of the company in Toronto yesterday, and was told that the company "would be glad to have us build the foundation and the whole superstructure."

Apparently they intend to sublet contracts for the foundation to the plant and 125 foot brick chimney, and the city will have a chance to bid on the concrete work, but the enclosing job is a job for contractors.

Alderman Swanston said he had called at the company's office in Toronto and brought back the impression that some local contractor would have a chance to erect the shell of the building. Francis Hankin & Company are specialists in radial chimneys and incinerating plants. They are not general contractors.

Alderman Bradburn said that if the city did the foundation work they would not get the benefit of any saving that might be affected.

"Well, let us leave out the contract price," Alderman Dutton suggested. That was agreed, especially because it was reported that the tender would be "broken down" into four parts, including one covering the foundation, and the council should wait until it received this detailed information with the specifications.

New Minister At Knox Sunday

Rev. H. J. Mahoney, B.A., B.D., minister-elect of Knox United church, together with his family, has arrived in Peterborough during the week and will conduct both services at Knox on Sunday.

The date of the induction of Mr. Mahoney has not yet been set, but will likely take place during February.

Stewart Church Holds Annual Meeting

The annual congregational meeting of the Stewart Memorial church was held recently. The meeting opened with a worship period in charge of Marion Patterson. Robin Thorn was appointed chairman for the meeting and Miss Mina Steware secretary.

The report of the secretary-treasurer was read by R. L. Stewart, which showed a balance of $230.00, with $142.0 raised for missionary purposes. Miss Teasdale read the report of the Y.P.S., which had a balance of $27.45. The S.S. report was read by Mina Stewart and also had a small balance, after sixty dollars had been sent to the Bible Society for the support of a Bible woman

The ladies of the W.M.S. were successful in raising their allocation of $130. This report was read by Mrs. G. Savgney.

The following officers were elected: Stewards, E. Thompson and Wm. Hutchison; secretary-treasurer, R. L. Stewart; congregational secretary, Mina Stewart; ushers, Ken Savigney and Fred Deyell; pianist, Marion Patterson; assistant, Helen Savigney; choir leader, Mrs. G. Savigney.

Mr. Rowland closed meeting with prayer.

Board Approves Plumber's Bill

"Peterborough is the only city in Ontario that assumes any responsibility for the blocking of sewer connections," City Engineer Parsons informed the Board of Works last night.

In spite of that solitariness, the Board decided to pay a plumbing bill of $29 incurred by W. S. Derry, 500 Gilmour street, in clearing his sewer connection of elm roots which clogged it.

"You are starting a precedent," Mr. Parsons remarked as the committee approached assent to Mr. Derry's request that he be relieved of the expense to which he was put in re-opening his sewer connection.

"I think he's entitled to the money," Alderman Glover declared with a note in his voice that sounded like resentment or heat. Alderman Curtis seconded the Glover motion.

"You are putting us in for a lot of trouble," Mr. Parsons remarked as the Board voted unanimously. It seems Mr. Derry called in a plumber who ordered the digging into the sewer course on the private side of the street line. The search for the trouble spot extended out into the street. In Hamilton the property owner pays for all that kind of work, Mr. Parsons said. In fact the city has licensed men especialy to look after it.

Last Minute Rush For Auto Licenses

There is a last minute rush today for 1942 automobile licenses and driver's permits and the Chamber of Commerce staff was on duty this afternoon in an effort to clear the decks.

"I'd like to make a bet that before night there will be an announcement through from Toronto that the time has been extended," one local man declared this morning.

However police are not looking for any such development. They have special and explicit orders from the Attorney-General's department to prosecute all motorists who attempt to drive after today without this year's automobile license and driver's permits. These orders came to municipal as well as to provincial officers.

Says City Lots Priced Above Their Values

Some of the vacant lots the city has for sale are not worth one-quarter of their listed value, Alderman Swanston told the property committee Friday night.

"A lot of the values are all right, but we have others on lots that would cost four or five hundred dollars to fill in before you could do anything. And we are asking $150 for them," the chairman said.

Apparently Alderman Swanston was thinking especially of properties in Ashburnham which the city has for sale.

Two lots on Euclid Ave., listed at $100 and $80, were sold to H. Meeks for $150, by the committee depending on ratification by the council Monday.

BOSTON, Jan. 31 (AP) — Joe Toye, 52, Boston Traveler Editorial writer, nationally known for his terse style of expressing his opinions, died of illness last night in his home. A member of the Traveler staff since 1922, his assignments as a newsreporter took him to four continents before he became an editorial writer in 1929.

ADVOCATED UNION

Fascists in Belgium advocated the union of Belgium and the Netherlands before the German invasion.

Board Of Works Wants Automatic Drill

Purchase of an air compressor and automatic drill equipment was recommended to the Council last night by the Board of Works.

Alderman Dutton, chairman, told the Board that in the digging of the new trunk sewer in the northwest end of the city, to accommodate the wartime houses beyond Park Hill Road, workmen had encountered a rocky formation along Cross Street which had impeded the estimated rate of excavation. As a labor facility it was decided to rent a compressor drill at a cost of $220 a month. In the course of that temporary investment it was felt that the machine would be needed by the Board for at least three months, entailing an expense of $660.

A new machine with gasoline engine air compressor, paving breakers and other incidental equipment would cost $3,365. It is manufactured by the Canadian Ingersoll Rand Company, and would permit a substantial saving of labor not only in the ordinary operations of the Board of Works, but also at the city's quarry on the Lakefield Road.

"We have been assured that the Utilities Commission would rent this machine from the city whenever they needed it," Alderman Dutton said.

City Engineer Parsons said the equipment should stand up in use for fifteen or twenty years.

"I think it is a mistake we did not have it years ago," Alderman Bradburn commented.

Breaking through frozen ground, macadam and paved streets and hammering by hand holes at the quary for the blasting of material to be run through the stone crusher was a slow and expensive method, Mr. Parsons said, and the members of the Board agreed that the machine they recommended would be an economy.

Winter excavation of trenches has followed the necessity of thawing the ground with fires strung along the surface, altogether an antiquated and costly practice, that is also too slow for these times of labor scarcity.

Alderman Dutton said the company was willing to apply the three months' rent on the price of a new machine if the Council decided to buy one.

The motion to recommend purchase was proposed by Mayor Hamilton and seconded by Alderman Glover.

"That west-end sewer will cost us more than we expected on account of the difficulties we met with from big stones and a rocky condition of the ground," Mayor Hamilton said.

"How are you going to pay for a machine?" City Treasurer Shaver inquired.

"It has to pass the Council first," His Worship answered, "and we can decide afterward how we will pay for it."

$250 for A.R.P.

A grant of $250 for Air Raid Precautions work in Peterborough was recommended by the Finance Committee at the request of Mayor Hamilton.

"The citizens who are organizing A.R.P. work here are now getting somewhere," Mayor Hamilton said. "I have been attending the meetings of the wardens. They are going to have their first basic lecture on Sunday afternoon, February 8. We have secured the Lyceum as the headquarters, and the cost will be only to cover heating and janitor service. The Council gave us $100 last year, but we used very little of it. If you give us $250 this year it will be used only if we need it."

Mayor Hamilton said the Government would pay the expense for any injury suffered by a warden engaged in A.R.P. during a blackout.

The motion to grant the sum of $250 was proposed b Alderman Dutton and seconded by Alderman Glover.

War—25 Years Ago

(By the Canadian Press.)

JAN. 31, 1917 — German government announced unrestricted submarine warfare to start within certain specified zones. New German attacks on the Riga sector of the Eastern Front repulsed.

FEB. 1, 1917—German submarines sank 10 ships of 10,039 total tonnage on first day of intensified submarine warfare. Russians regained several positions in Riga area on the Eastern Front. Further British successes reported at Kut-el-Amara in Mesopotamia.

Song Recital Adds $39 To War Fund

As a class, and speaking quite impersonally, the musicians and talented students of music in this community have many time demonstrated their whole-hearted support of the Peterborough and District Fund to help British war victims, by staging concerts and recitals on their behalf, from which a very fair portion of the total amount received to date has come for the fund.

To this, the pupils from the studio of Dorothy Allan Park have been no exception, for many times have the results of their work been represented in the fund's lists, and today's acknowledgments include the splendid sum of $39 as a result of a recital held on Wednesday, when eight gifted and talented young ladies gave an excellent rendition of their art to a capacity audience in the recreation room of the Y.W.C.A.

Assisted by Gwen Craw, who acted as accompanist, this group was composed of Mrs. L. R. Mitchell, and the Misses Gwen Bond, Margaret Dickson, Helen Glover, Alicia Langley, Isabel Weddell, Margaret Westbye and Olga Westbye, all of whom added their quota towards making an artistic as well as a splendid financial success to their effort, which was a credit to their teacher and themselves, to whom we say thanks, and thanks again for this help to the fund.

One of the fund's best supporters, a lady who prefers to be known as "In as much" appears in the lists today, marking the 17th donation for $10, and it cannot be helped but felt that here too is a real friend of the stricken people in Britain, for on an average this is over one contribution for every month the fund has been operating, and also it represents on the average a contribution towards every donation so far sent to Britain.

From the boxes in the Royal Bank the sum of $4.25 was obtained on Friday, amongst which was a two dollar bill, the highest amount so far deposited in any box.

From the proceeds of the sale of paper collected by the pupils of Queen Alexandra Sschool, the fund was enriched by $4.50, which appears in the lists today, and was handed in by Donald Grant and Clare Connell, who were responsible for tying the paper in bundles, and selling it to produce that amount, and these boys' effort is commendable.

Boys' Band Concert

In an effort to add further to the splendid sum turned in from their concert last Sunday night, and with the objective of bringing their total to the fund up to $100, the Prince of Wales Rangers Boys' Band directed by Sgt. H. Parnell, plans a series of neighborhood concerts, the first of which is to be held in All Saints' Parish Hall on Monday night at 8 p.m., in which they will have the assistance of Roy Rome, violinist, and Joy Edgar, vocal soloist. All the proceeds of a silver collection wil come to the fund.

On Saturday, February 7, the Saturday Night Cub of the Y.M.C.A. will hold a dance in aid of the fund, repeating its effort of a year ago which was so very successful. Tickets at $1 per couple are now on sale for this and can be procured from any member of the club, or at the desk at the Y.M.C.A. Music will be supplied by Lloyd Budge's orchestra.

Bus Line Ask New Franchise

A fifteen year transportation franchise to Peterborough Bus Lines, beginning January 1 last, was recommended to the council last night by the finance committee.

Frank Mitchell of Windsor, head of the local bus system, said the present franchise does not expire for 5 years, and is then automatically cancelled, unless a renewal was obtained. The proposed accommodation is actually for twelve years beyond the end of the existing franchise.

"Their request is reasonable," said Alderman Bradburn. "They have given us excellent service, and they do things without having to be asked." He seconded Alderman Glover's motion for the extension.

Mr. Mitchell recalled to the committee that the buses have been in operation twelve years. One new bus was recently added to the fleet, and four others are on order. "I have set a tentative date at May 5 for their arrival. They will double the number of buses we now have in operation. The old ones will disappear. When these improvements are completed we will have a ten minute service throughout the city until midnight."

Mr. Mitchell said that the extension of the franchise was an assistance in financing the new stock. Transportation had to face the difficulty of gasoline rationing, priorities in new materials and so on.

The system is now running on a ten minute service during the factory rush hours. Arrangements were being made to meet the factory shifts, and in that respect, Mr. Mitchell said, the buses were receiving full co-operation from the heads of factories in this city.

Hot Ashes Blamed For Fire In Home

A house owned and occupied by Mrs. Lillian Middleton at 493 Cross street took fire last night after Mrs. Middleton and her father had retired to their beds. She called the fire department and by the time they arrived the floor, wall and ceiling were ablaze, which was put out with about 75 gallons of water and the use of a fog nozzle. Damage of $125 was caused, Chief Gimblett said. Cause of the blaze was said to have resulted from a box of hot ashes placed on the floor. The fire had burned a hole in the floor and crept along to a partition and up to the ceiling when it was discovered.

Fire Chief Gimblett said firemen were delayed "a couple of minutes" by construction work being carried out in that area and that equipment was temporarily blocked on the road.

Kiwanis Reports Soldiers Centre Self Sustaining

A report on the soldiers' recreation centre given Kiwanians yesterday at their luncheon showed that it has so far been self-sustaining—all expenses incurred since the opening including rent and so forth have been met by receipts from the canteen. The report, read by Dick Raine, was for the period from July 22 to January 14. However, the report indicated that the Kiwanis should expect to replace some worn furniture and possibly add some fixtures within the coming year. The report had been presented at a committee meeting and had been adopted before its presentation to the club.

Ernie Bartlett, assistant secretary of the club, was honored at luncheon when immediate past president John Troke presented him with a token as recognition of his assistance to the club in the past. It was pointed out that Mr. Bartlett was appointed to the position to relieve some of the load from the shoulders of Secretary John McKone. Mr. Bartlett has been secretary at committee meetings of the club.

An attendance contest was outlined by Jack Lewis who produced a large card on which the names of 40 Kiwanians appear—20 on each team to be known as Builders and Boosters. It is expected the contest will whip up interest because the losing team must buy the dinner for the winners at the end of the contest.

Rev. Howard L. Roberts suggested to the club that Kiwanis bring to the meetings on certains occasions well known speakers or authorities on certain matters who will bring out points of provincial importance and have these speeches also appear in Toronto papers. He pointed out that Kiwanis of other Ontario cities is mentioned from time to time in the Toronto press when such speakers attend and this tends to add to the prestige of that club. Bill Garner of the Examiner said that could be accomplished with little trouble.

A pretty wedding took place quietly on Friday afternoon when Susan Braidwood Cumming, only daughter of Mrs. Janet Cumming and the late Mr. J. Cumming, of Dalmiur, Scotland, was united in marriage with Mr. David Menzies, of 535 Chamberlain street. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother at 554 Chamberlain street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William McDonald.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. James Cumming, and was attended by Miss Blanche Sloan. Mr. William Cathcart was best man.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to about 30 relatives and friends, after which the young couple left on a short honeymoon. On their return they will reside at 535 Chamberlain street.

Bible Class Sends Work To Peterborough, Eng.

The Excelsior Bible Class of St. James' United Church held a tea Friday night to display the work accomplished since last October. This class, which numbers about 12 active members, has piled up the splendid total of 10 quilts, 7 large and 3 small and one afghan and four layettes, complete to the last safety-pin.

No mother could have put more loving care into the creation of her own babies' first clothes than went into the creation of these warm, dainty garments for the bombed babies of Britain. Pretty, lace-trimmed slips and dresses and gowns smocked or embroidered in pink or blue, and cosy, beautifully knitted bonnets, sweaters, and booties were among the work of this group. The quilts are very well done by the group, very few of whom had done any quilting before.

During the evening guests were entertained with piano solos by Miss Alma Duffy, A.T.C.M., and songs by Mrs. Leslie McLaren.

Mrs. F. Craik, Mrs. Elmer Frost, Mrs. Frank Kitney and Mrs. G. Wallace poured tea at a beautifully decorated with pink and mauve flowers and pale pink candles. Mrs. A. Saunders presided at a home made candy table.

The work of the Excelsior Bible Class has been done under the direction of their teacher, Miss Jessie Martin, who received the guests.

The goods are to be sent to Peterborough, England, and enclosed will be a letter from the Bible Class and a message from the Mayor of Peterborough, Ont., to the Mayor of Peterborough, England.

Helen M. Eberts Weds L-Cpl. Corbett

PORT HOPE, Jan. 31—(ENS). — St. John's Anglican Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon when Helen Marjory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eberts of Lindsay, became the bride of L.-Cpl. Clarence Forest Corbett, son of Mr. and Mrs George H. Corbett of Porth Hope.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a pale blue gown with pink accessories and a corsage of stevia and dream roses. She was attended by Miss Ruth Corbett, sister of the groom, who wore light blue wth black accessories and a corsage of pink and white flowers. The groom was supported by Mr. Frank Short. The Rev. Mr. A. J. Arthur performed the ceremony.

A reception was held later at the home of the groom's parents where about 30 guests were received by the groom's mother, who wore navy blue with a corsage of pink roses.

After the reception the couple left for a short honeymoon, after which the groom will return to Allenburg Barracks at Thorold, Ontario.

Anna G. Oke Wed In Port Hope At Quiet Ceremony

PORT HOPE, Jan. 31.—(ENS)—A quiet, pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Oke, 57 Bloomsgrove avenue, when their daughter, Anna Gwendolyne became the bride of Mr. Hugh Miller Coleman. The ceremony was performed against a background of ferns, pink and white carnations and tall tapers, with the Rev. J. W. Gordon officiating. Wedding music was played by Mr. T. W. Stanley.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length gown of heavenly blue crepe, with matching accessories, and carried yellow Elizabeth roses and blue forget-me-nots.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Douglas Waldon, was matron of honor and wore dusty pink with matching accessories and carried pink premier roses and blue forget-me-nots. Mr. Jack Rowland was best man.

At the reception which followed the ceremony, Mrs. Oke received the guests in a gown of black crepe with a corsage of pink carnations and stevia. Mrs. Coleman was in soft blue with matching hat and accessories and a corsage of pink carnations and stevia.

For travelling the bride wore a mimosa yellow wool crepe dress under a dusty blue boucle coat trimmed with grey lamb, and a matching hat of the same material. After a motor trip to Montreal and points east the newlyweds will reside in Port Hope.

Kawartha Kids Discuss Salads

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 31.—(ENS).—Salads, their value as a food and their preparation was the central theme of the 'Kawartha Kids Klub' meeting at the home of Miss Minnie Charlton on Thursday evening.

Members answered the roll call with an exchange of recipes using cheese or macaroni.

The making of salad dressing was demonstrated by Miss Eva Higgins, and Miss Hazel Northey showed the making of an appetizing salad, with members assisting in the preparation of the requirements for each.

There was also a discussion on the use of left-overs. Also favorite beverages for the evening meal, and it was found that milk held the preference.

The leader gave a short talk on salads and of how necessary it was that they be included in the menu. A fruit salad may form the second course, or a vegetable or meat salad from the first course of the supper menu. Preparation of salad materials was discussed and a slogan given was, 'Sell your salads with a garnish,' with the reminder to avoid over garnishing.

A daintily arranged buffet lunch, in which the prepared salads were used, concluded the meeting.

The next meeting is scheduled for Friday, Feb. 13 at the home of Miss Hazel Northey, to which members are asked to answer the roll call with a prepared individual salad.

A.Y.P.A. Notes

ST. GEORGE'S BRANCH

About thirty soldiers from the local training centre were guests of St. George's A.Y.P.A. on Thursday. Part of the evening was spent in playing "Cootie." Six trainees and six A.Y.P.A. members formed teams for a closely contested quiz, with the A.Y.P.A. group being declared winners. Dancing was also enjoyed by guests and members.

During the evening, Rev. T. H. Floyd, who has joined the R.C.A.F. as a chaplain, was presented with a gift from the A.Y.P.A. by the president, Ken Gibson.

Refreshments were served by the Social Convener and her committee. The singing of "God Save the King" brought to a conclusion a most enjoyable evening.

Sugar Rationing Is Blessing In Disguise to Many People

By MARY MOORE

Instead of allowing this sugar rationing to send us into a mild panic a little Pollyanna treatment is indicated.

A man that is world famous to dental men, Dr. Bunting of the University of Michigan, says flatly that 90 per cent of tooth decay is due to the sugar and refined starches we eat. His life work is food research with relation to dental health and the story of his control groups of children, and how he eliminated all tooth decay by cutting out all their sugar is a romance. That's blessing number one.

Dietitians say that if we make a virtue out of this reduced sugar necessity we will be better cooks—recipes tell below. Blessing number two.

Doctors say that the lowered body acidity from reduced sugar intake will make more vigorous Canadians. (Acidity induces fatigue.) No. 3.

...and the overall is the Number Four blessing of being a Willing Patriot.

Don't hoard sugar; you don't need to.

Like Gracie Fields I was on a spot "proper." The announcement of the ¾-pound-per-person ration caught me napping. I had promised to bake a birthday cake to serve fourteen people for a birthday celebration for three of them. I needed at least 3 cups of sugar for the cake and 2 for the frosting. That would take our entire family's supply for 5 days. Below you will find the cake and frosting recipes I used, and still had most of my sugar left.

This sugar substitution subject is too big for one day—so watch the page every week for recipes without sugar or calling for very little of the precious stuff.

Sugar Equivalents

One cup sugar equals ¾ to 1 cup molasses plus ¼ to ½ teaspoon soda.

One cup sugar equals 1 cup honey plus ¼ to ½ teaspoon soda.

One cup sugar equals ½ cup maple syrup plus ¼ to ½ teaspoon soda.

One cup sugar equals ½ cup maple syrup plus ¼ cup corn syrup.

Soda must be added when honey or molasses or maple syrup replace sugar in a cake or other flour mixture.

One-quarter cup of the liquid requirement in the recipe should be omitted when honey or other liquid sugar-substitute is used.

Cakes or cookies made with honey or molasses or syrups stay fresh longer than sugar mixtures.

Plain Honey Cake

Two cups sifted flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ cup shortening (part butter and part lard are best), 2-3 cup honey, 1-3 cup sugar, 2 eggs, whites and yolks beaten separately, 1-3 cup milk, 2 teaspoons cream. Sift the dry ingredients. Cream shortening sugar and honey together well, add beaten yolks and blend. Sift dry ingredients into honey-butter mixture alternately with the milk. Do not beat after flour has been added—merely cut in the flour until it is moistened. Add the cream and stir it in, and pour batter into 2 layer cake tins which have been lined with waxed paper and buttered or oiled. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 20 minutes.

Honey Boiled Icing

One cup honey, 2 egg whites, few grains salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla. Cook the honey to 238 deg. Fahr. or until it will spin a thread. Pour slowly over the well beaten whites, beating constantly. Add salt and vanilla and beat until stiff enough to spread.

Honey Cakes are delicious with spices: ¼ to ½ teaspoon each ginger, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves is a good suggestion.

Lemon Pie Filling (using honey)

Three eggs, ½ cup honey, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, rind ½ lemon, 1 tablespoons butter, 1¼ cups hot water (or milk), juice of 1 lemon. Mix together the honey, cornstarch and lemon rind and slowly pour in the hot milk or water, and cook over boiling water until all trace of raw starch has disappeared, usually 30 minutes. Add butter, beaten yolks, and lemon juice and cook 1 minute and remove from heat. Pour into baked pie shell and cover with meringue made by beating the leftover whites until foamy then adding 3 tablespoons honey and beating until meringue will stand in peaks, add ½ teaspoon vanilla and spread over lemon filling. Place in warm oven of 300 deg. Fahr. to brown meringue.

By writing to me in care of this paper you may have recipes using honey in cookies, puddings, quick fancy breads, with fruits, cereals, in making jams and jellies, preserving, frozen desserts, beverages and numerous other branches of cookery.

Maple Bavarian

Two eggs (or 4 yolks), 1¼ cups maple syrup, 1¼ tablespoon granulated gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, few grains salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup whipping cream, ½ cup chopped nuts—preferably pecans. Beat the eggs or yolks until very light. Bring syrup to boiling point and pour the beaten eggs slowly into them stirring. Cook in top of double boiler until mixture coats the spoon. Add the gelatine soaked in the cold water for 5 minutes. Add salt and vanilla. Chill. When the mixture thickens slightly, fold in the cream which has been beaten until stiff, and the nuts. Pour into moistened moulds or into the glass dishes in which it will be served. When serving garnish with a touch of whipped cream and a whole nut.

Rice Maple Dainty

Boil rice in plenty of slightly salted water until tender, then rinse under hot water, cover with cloth and lid to allow steam to collect in cloth. Let rice chill. Into 3 cups cooked rice fold ½ cup cream which has been whipped, and serve into tall stemmed glasses. Sprinkle over top 1½ tablespoons grated maple sugar. If servings of rice and cream are large you may require 2 tablespoons grated maple sugar.

I have recipes for Maple Cake using maple syrup, maple syrup tarts, maple icing, cookies, frozen desserts, muffins, etc., that readers of this paper may have if they will write to me.

Molasses Orange Cake

One cup molasses, ¼ cup shortening, 2 eggs, well beaten, ½ cup lukewarm water (or milk), juice and grated rind 1 large orange, 2 cups flour, ½ cup whole wheat flour, 1 teaspoon each soda and ginger, ½ teaspoon allspice. Mix together all wet ingrdients. Sift the dry ingredients into the wet mixture and beat until well mixed. Pour into shallow pan which has been well greased. Bake for 35 minutes at 350 deg. Fahr. When done take from oven and brush over with 2 tablespoons melted butter mixed with 2 tablespoons brown sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon. A little extra grated orange rind may be added too. Return to oven for 5 minutes to melt topping.

We have recipes for Cottage Pudding, Delicate Gingerbread, Brandy Snaps, Molasses Cookies, Ginger Nuts, Bran Muffins with Pineapple and many other recipes utilizing molasses in place of sugar, and will send them to readers or print them, if they care to write to me in care of this paper.

Buckwheat Cakes

(Using Corn Syrup)

Other griddle cakes may use corn syrup for sweetening, but this is a great favorite in the south and shows you how it may be employed. Four cups buckwheat flour, 1-3 cup cornstarch, 2 teaspons salt, 1-3 of a yeast cake (with a whole yeast cake these may be made in 2 hours), ½ cup lukewarm water, 1 tablespoon corn syrup (or 2 if you like them sweeter), 2 cups lukewarm water. Sift together buckwheat flour and cornstarch and add to liquid. Beat well and let stand in warm place overnight to rise, well covered. In morning add cooking oil, salt and soda, beat well, and bake on hot griddle oiled slightly. In the South they serve these with "sorghum" but you would use corn or maple syrup.

Corn syrup may be used in place of sugar in any yeast mixture where it calls for a small amount of sugar with which to "start" the yeast when mixed with the lukewarm liquid.

Corn Syrup is one of the most economical of the sugar substitutes, but before we give you any flour mixtures using it we must experiment further—so watch for corn syrup recipes next week.

Readers are urgently invited to send us their recipes that use other sweetening agents than sugar. If you have methods of using corn syrup, molasses, honey, maple syrup, or maple sugar in your cooking we would appreciate it if you would share them with the other readers of this paper. Simply adddress your letters to Mary Moore, in care of this paper.

COLD, NAGGING WIVES ARE ONES WHO LOSE HUSBANDS
Office Secretaries Are Often More Understanding of Their Bosses' Problems and Are Apt to Gain His Love

DEAR MISS DIX—If you came home from strenuous work and received no greeting from your wife night after night; if upon entering your door you had to listen to a detailed report on how hard she had to work all day and how troublesome the children had been; if your wife used strong-arm methods in dealing with your children—which you knew to be wrong—and if she refused to change her tactics after a thorough discussion of the subject and insisted on you backing her up when she got into trouble with them; if she discouraged you in everything you undertook and wet-blanketed your every effort to advance yourself; if every attempt at friendly discussion ran into personal application and abuse; if your home life was so unpleasant that you drew into yourself and worked alone; if your only love and companionship came from the children you cared for so dearly. And after enduring a number of years of this lonely married life you had a secretary who was more than a robot; who saw your despondency and honestly tried to cheer you up; who analyzed you for what you aspired to be and tactfully encouraged you to make good; who worked as hard as you did to make your business a success; who has understood your problem and has done something about it without any thought for herself, wouldn't you admire her greatly, even if you could resist falling in love with her? I think you would if you had honestly tried to establish a loving home life, bring up your children, make something of yourself that would really count—and had failed to reach the goal. —S. E. D.

Beyond Human Power

ANSWER—I think that the man who has a cold, selfish, nagging wife and who is starved for affection and understanding and sympathy, and who is thrown every day with a secretary who is warm-hearted and fine and generous and inspiring and who gives him the comprehension and encouragement that his wife never does, is subjcted to a temptation that is almost beyond human power to resist.

The real office tragedies are not philanderings of the flirtatious employer and the pretty gold-diggers who are out for good times and what they can get out of the boss. They are the meeting, too late, of a fine middle-aged man and woman who have been balked by Fate and who find in each other what they most want and need in a mate.

This happens oftener than we know, and many a man, with a wife like the one of the man whose letter I give, is only given the courage to carry on with his unhappy marriage and keep a home together for his children by the woman in his office with whom he spends his days. And many such a woman sacrifices her whole life to bracing up such a man and helping him make something of his life, instead of sinking down into a bog of despair and unhappiness.

The Other Woman is not always a villain. Very often she is not only a man's guardian angel, but that of the wife who has failed in her duty.

Don't Sacrifice Honor

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am in love with two men. Both are now in the service. The formal education of one is inferior to mine, but he is kinder and gentler than I ever thought it possible for any one to be. The other is a college man, a smoothie, and our backgrounds are very similar. Both have told me that we should take our happiness while we can, meaning—you know what. I don't want to hurt, as I love them both equally. Which should I choose? With whom would I be the happier?—A.

ANSWER—As I understand your letter, neither man offers you honorable marriage. All they want is a brief liaison, after which they will kiss and ride away, leaving you damaged goods that no self-respecting man will want. Don't you think it is a pretty poor bargain that you would make?

Don't you think that you would pay a high price for what you are pleased to call "your happiness"? Don't you know that if either one of these boys really loved you, or expected to make you his wife when the war was over, he wouldn't make such a proposition to you?

Unmarried Mother

Dear Miss Dix—I am an unmarried girl of 23 and am going to have a baby. The boy who is the child's father doesn't want to marry me because he says he doesn't love me and is going to marry somebody else, but he said for me to write you and ask you if he is not right in not marrying me because he doesn't love me.—WORRIED.

ANSWER—I think there are few greater crimes than any one can commit than to bring an illegitimate child into the world, because the poor little innocent creature has to pay as long as it lives for its parents' sin.

Tell the boy that you won't insist on his living with you if he doesn't love you, but that you implore him to marry you for the sake of the child.—DOROTHY DIX.

Buy For Tomorrow, Says Style Expert

June Hamilton Rhodes, managing director of the Bureau of Fashion Trends in New York has good sensible advice to offer the women of Canada and the United States regarding the buying of clothes. "Consider quality above price," she says, "for the things which we buy today have to last a good many tomorrows.

"Wool will not leave the market entirely, but pure wool fabrics will become scarcer and army, navy and air force requirements will rightly be given first consideration. Cotton will be available and probably there will be new developments in this field.

More and more leather will be needed by the army, so it advisable to buy warm, comfortable, long-lasting shoes.

It's smart to be patriotic and wise to be thrifty. This war must be won, and if all we have to do without is a few clothes we will be very lucky indeed."

For Sunday, February 1.

Sunday's horoscope is favorable for all matters concerning church, state, and those in high power in affairs generally. All such affairs should be expansive, productive and give personal satisfaction. Yet such good influence might be defeated by a conflicting state of mind, at war or in discord with the senses, emotions, and impulses, with superiors or those in authority.

Those whose birthday it is, although having splendid auguries for success and the fruition of cherished ambitions and personal desires, these may be nullified by tempestuous ungoverned, confused, or discordant conflicts between the mentality and the emotions or impulses.

A child born on this day while having many kind, congenial and benevolent traits of character may be obstinate, capricious, contentious variable.

Religious Heads Meet Labor To Help Toronto

TORONTO, Jan. 31 (CP).—Heads of various religious denominations conferred last night with the executive of the Toronto District Trades and Labor Council and discussed means by which labor and church organizations could work together to improve conditions throughout the city.

Rt. Rev. J. C. McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, said he was pleased to be present at any conference that was for the benefit of the masses and he believed the Roman Catholic Church would support any program that was for the benefit of those who needed help.

Canon W. W. Judd reported the Church of England could agree with organized labor in its social legislation, but there were a number of difficulties which should be faced frankly when considering the more practical phases of trade unionism.

The ideals of the churches and of trade unionism are largely the same, said J. W. Buckley, secretary of the Toronto Labor Council and suggested the conferences between church and labor might be continued.

On motion of Rev. Peter Bryce, the conference appointed a committee of six to meet together and arrange another conference at an early date.

Nazi Agent

The unsmiling gentleman is Werner Von Clemm, president of the Pioneer Import Company, New York, which was named in a federal indictment as acting as "agents for the German high command." The indictment came as the result of the alleged dumping on the American markets of millions of dollars worth of gems looted by the Nazis after their conquest of the Netherlands and Belgium. President Von Clemm's wife is a cousin of Nazi Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop, who never sold diamonds, only champagne.

HEALTH CHATS

By D. B. AVISON, M.D., D.P.H., Medical Officer of Health

Last day we talked on the legal quarantine periods for the commoner communicable diseases and said that in our next chat, we would say a word about those now well but still under quarantine.

Last week one of our doctors phoned me to ask if it would not be possible to allow an adult worker to return to work before the isolation period was up provided he, the doctor, was convinced the patient was well. I was naturally very sympathetic but had to reply that so far as I knew, the M.O.H. had no discretionary powers in changing Government Regulations and that I feared that if we were to start making exceptions the whole purpose of those regulations would fall to the ground. I promised, however, to ask Dr. Phair, the Chief Medical Officer for Ontario, for a definite ruling and I did this immediately. The following is his reply:

In reply to your letter of January 24th might I say that the regulations in respect to the isolation of patients suffering from mumps are not subject to amendment by the local medical officer of health or the local board of health. Having in mind the season of the year when mumps is usually prevalent and the fact that this can be, and often is, the most serious of any of the minor communicable diseases when it affects young adults, particularly males, the period of isolation, namely, 16 days from the onset of illness, could not be considered as an unreasonable one. The highly communicable character of this condition warrants you in requiring the rigid enforcement of the governing legislation.

I want to draw your attention to what he says especially with respect to adults. In mumps, adults, far more frequently than children, have secondary complications involving the sex glands. These result in great swelling, severe and often excrutiating pain and at times sterility. It is especially important, therefore, that adults keep quiet for the full isolation period for their own protection. At this very moment at least one adult in Peterborough is suffering from the complication referred to.

Its perfectly clear isn't it? One rule for all and no hard feelings! Incidentally up to the time of writing, we have 205 cases of Mumps reported for January.

Definitions. It has occurred to me that some folks may be confused at times by some of the high-sounding words we doctors like to use. What's the difference, for instance, between Isolation and Quarantine? What do we mean by Incidence and Epidemic, Morbidity and Mortality?

Fortunately these words are easily explained and I will take them up in our next chat. There are words we doctors use that really mean as much, or as little, to us as to you lay folks if you were to demand an explanation. For instance a chap comes in with some sort of red skin trouble and for the life of us, we don't know what it is. We want time to study it in order to make a correct diagnosis but the patient wants to know now what it is. We may pull a serious expression, figuratively stick our tongues in our cheeks or cross our fingers and say solemnly, "You have erythema." Quite true. We have told you you have "a superficial blush or redness of the skin." Our patient goes away happy with instructions as to when to return and next time we may probably produce a word that accurately describes the condition.

We doctors do like big words so why deny it? It reminds me of the doctor's definition of a kiss which, dear friends, is "the juxtaposition of the orbicularis oris muscles in a state of tonic contraction."

Next day, then, we'll discuss some definitions.

Gilmour Church Hears Good Reports

The congregation of the Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church held its annual meeting to receive reports for the past year and to elect officers for the current year, on Wednesday evening. The attendance was good and reports from the church and its organizations were most encouraging.

The pastor, Rev. M. C. MacLean, D.D., presided and conducted opening devotional exercises reminding members of the long, interesting history of the church and the urgent need in these tragic times, to be and give our best to resist evil and to promote the kingdom of God.

Well prepared reports were presented by all the church societies, showing wide and varied activities for the community and extending to "the regions beyond." With the pursuit of studies in present day missionary activities in all parts of the world, there is cultivated the spirit of giving for the support of these objects and of prayer for their success.

The reports of the church treasurer and those of the various organizations showed that during the year the sum of $2,568.04 was given, of which $674.99 was for missionary and benevolent objects outside of the congregation. It was decided that at an early date the congregation will make special offerings to the British War Victims Fund and to the work of the Ontario Temperance Federation to support its campaign against the liquor traffic.

Officers for the current year were chosen: Clerk, Allan B. Mann; treasurer, A. J. Edmison; deacons, James Mann, James Young, Charles E. Moone, Grattan Telford, and Gordon McGregor; Sunday School superintendent, Grattan Telford.

The meeting was ended with expressions of appreciation to those who have served the church faithfully in their various offices during the past year, and to the men and women who gave financial support and much voluntary labor in maintaining and improving the church and manse properties.

Surplus Shown At Westwood

The annual vestry meeting of St. Michael's Church, Westwood, was held in the church on Wednesday afternoon. In the absence of the rector, Rev. R. E. Lemon, who unfortunately confined to his house through illness, the chair was occupied by the church warden, William Thompson.

A good representation of the congregation was present and the meeting opened by the repeating of the Lord's Prayer. The incumbents' report showed steady progress in the church during the past year. The financial report, presented by William Elmhurst, was most satisfactory, showing a balance on hand of $63.98, an increase of twice the amount shown in the previous year. Congratulations were extended to Mr. Elmhurst for managing so well for the church during the year.

Colonel R. E. Birdsall reported a balance on hand of $68.97 from the Endowment Fund of the late Charlotte M. Birdsall, after paying for repairs to the church.

The following appointments were made: People's warden, William Thompson; Lay delegate to Synod, V. Stanley-Jones; vestry clerk, Mrs. F. E. Birdsall; vicar sidesmen, L. Elmhurst, A. Reid, G. Elmhurst; vestry sidesmen, J. Thompson, C. Bray, V. Stanley-Jones, F. Godfrey; envelope secretary, Mrs. Charles Locke; auditors, Mrs. James Thompson and Mrs. William Thompson; representative to the Cemetery Board, L. Elmhurst.

Cottesloe Y.P.U. Hosts To Warsaw

COTTESLOE, Jan. 31 (ENS)—The Warsaw Y.P.U. visited the Cottesloe Y.P.U. on Tuesday evening. The president Miss Helen Tedford welcomed the Warsaw Young People. Mr. Hampton then took the chair and Warsaw Y.P.U. put on a very fine program. Miss Doris Clysdale read the scripture. The topic "Business Man Looks at Prayer" was given by Miss Ashenhurst; Miss Edna Clysdale read "What Prayer Can Do"; Miss Lenore McIlvena rendered a beautiful solo on "Victory"; a paper on "Prayer is Power" was given by Miss Iris Darling; Donald Clysdale gave a paper on "The Meaning of Prayer"; Miss Joyce Digweed read "Wishes"; Mrs. Snelgrove conducted "Bible Games."

Rev. Mr. Robinson and David McNeil brought greetings from the Norwood Union and spoke a few words to the group.

A social half hour was spent during which Betty Barr and Marjory Patterson rendered a beautiful duet, "Jesus Loves Me" followed by contests and lunch.

IN MEMORIAM

MAGEE.—In loving memory of my dear sister Ethel, who fell asleep in Jesus. February 1, 1941.

With tears I watched you sinking,
I watched you pass away,
I tended you with loving care
But could not make you stay.
I watched beside your bedside
As the lonely hours passed,
And how my heart was broken
When I saw you breathe your last.
—Sister Lizzie.

HUGHES—In loving memory of Sam Hughes, who passed away January 31, 1937.

Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
—Ever remembered by his Mother, Father, Brother and Sister.

His Christmas Carol

By ADELAIDE HAZELTINE

ANOTHER SEARCHES
CHAPTER XVII

When light flooded Mr. Herrick's office, Carol stood paralyzed, staring.

Her knees gave way. She slipped soundlessly to a chair and let the big picture slide to the floor.

"Yes, Andy, I'm here."

She couldn't read the expression on his face. Was it condemnation or bewilderment?

"I—I—," she stammered. Her hands trembled like a schoolgirl's caught stealing the teacher's apple. "I—you see—"

"Secretary turns burglar?" He asked quietly. A hint of gentleness in his tone should have reassured her. But it didn't. He would hardly approve her mission.

Well, she was caught. He would have to know the truth, come what would!

"If you want to know," she said breathlessly, "I'm looking for your father's will."

"Yes. Because you would like to see it destroyed! Because you aren't man enough to face the consequences—afraid what Mr. Herrick says is true, that your father wouldn't trust you with the store!"

"What good would it do for you to find it?" His eyes probed hers.

"I could see your father's wishes respected. No matter whom it hurts!"

"You think I'm afraid it will hurt me?" he asked levelly.

She hesitated an aching moment, dared at last to sweep aside all pretense. "Yes, Andy. I think you are afraid."

She saw his face tense, he didn't move.

"I can't blame you for thinking that, Carol. I've been an awful fool. You tried to save me from myself and," he smiled bitterly, "I referred you to Herrick!"

She bit her lips, nodded numbly.

"In the last few days," he continued, "I've learned a little of what you did for me. You knew Mrs. Milligan and Mrs. Grover thanked me for their refunds. Well, I've had dozens like them. Small complaints that you corrected. Miss Fanny, too, came to tell me about her chicken farm. They all spoke of the letters I was supposed to have written."

"I didn't dream they'd come in person."

"They did. They said they were glad to see me running the store as my father had." In a moment, he added, "It made me feel like a heel to know that I wasn't. I've just begun to see what their good will can mean."

"It's—important."

"It all made me realize what I should be doing. I did some checking up on Herrick and found that he was taking credit for everything you did, found that he blamed Bill unfairly."

"Yes, I know. I was near the office when you told Mr. Herrick he was through. It made me—proud of you", she faltered, "for a minute. Then I heard Mr. Herrick's proposition and, practically, your consent to it. I guess it won't do any good for me to argue that you're wrong in letting him destroy the will?"

"Would it make any difference to you?" There was a new light in his eyes. It twisted her heart with the torture of loving a man she wouldn't respect.

She lifted her chin. "Yes, Andy, it would make a difference." Her eyes told him why but her lips were quick to deny it. "You see, I promised your father that his wishes would be followed."

"So you were looking for the will to keep your pledge to him? That's like you, Carol. But Herrick would never hide it in his office. He told me that if it should be found it could never be traced to him. That suggested a plant to me. And I was right."

"A plant? I thought of that, too. I looked several places."

"But not the one place he would be most likely to put it." His hands went into his breast pocket and withdrew a long folded paper. "I have it here, Carol."

"You—you mean you've found the will, Andy?" she cried incredulously.

"Yes. You and I had the same idea tonight. I had just located the will when the noise you made removing pictures startled me. You were directly above me, you know."

"But where in the world did you find the will?"

"The last place you would have looked. In one of those old city directories in your office!"

"In my office?" she gasped.

"Yes. He knew if it were found there I'd never prosecute you and without that his own guilt couldn't be proved."

"In my office," she repeated dazedly. "He wanted to blame me for withholding it!" She remembered the day he had asked her to walk through the store and check up. She had thought it queer. It must have given him ample time to hide the will. "Then you know what is says."

"No, I don't," he replied. "You disturbed me before I could read it, Carol, and I'm getting anxious to know the worst."

"It can't matter, can it, Andy?" She was remembering that he wanted it destroyed anyway. "I suppose you put Mr. Herrick off only so you could get the will and do away with it yourself. Now you won't have to sign his contract," she finished tonelessly.

"I put Herrick off because I wanted to find the will. Yes. That's right. But I don't expect to destroy it," he said with determination. "I want it to be recorded, respected, followed." He paused before he added. "Even if it means I lose everything. I'm not too old to start over. There's nothing to keep me from founding a store of my own. My father did it with no capital except his two hands and a willingness to work. I can do it, too!"

Her heart swell with gratitude as it echoed his words. He could do it, too. But perhaps he wouldn't have to.

"Then you didn't intend to agree to Mr. Herrick's proposition?"

"No. He's through. I only put him off to give me time to find the will."

"Oh, Andy!" The two small words had her heart in them.

He could smile now. "Well, are we going to read this will?"

She could smile with him. "Yes, Andy, we're going to read it."

Sitting side by side in Mr. Herrick's office, they read the will which had kept them so far apart and which promised at last to bring them together.

But Carol couldn't keep her eyes on the pages. She wanted to watch Andy's face.

She saw the muscles of his jaw tighten when he came to the part about the jury. She saw a look of admiration when he read the last paragraph which ordered the store sold and the proceeds given to charity.

"I understand a lot of things, now," he said slowly. "Dad was perfectly justified in writing such a will. The jury is bound to vote me incompetent. But it doesn't matter. By disinheriting me, my father has willed me his greatest asset, Carol. Work! The need to work for a living!"

"He'd be proud of you, Andy!"

He put his arm around her. "You must have known something of the conditions of the will all the time."

"Yes." It was good to share her secret with him. "I typed it but I gave Mr. Dearborn my word that I would never reveal its contents."

"Yet you saved Dearborn's reputation in spite of me. At least the store will be closed with its fine name intact."

"It won't be closed," she said firmly. "I'm on that jury, too. I'll get a hearing. I know what you told Mr. Herrick before you read the will. I know you're going to do what your father would have wanted."

"Yes. I've been blind to the responsibility he always tried to show me. But I see my way now."

"It's a way of happiness. . . . "

He drew her close. "Yes. Yet why should you do so much for my father and me?"

She clung to him. "I had to do it," she murmured into his shoulder, "because—"

"Because—you love me," he said huskily. "I've been blind to that, too!"

Exultation swept away every doubt she had ever had of Andy Dearborn, bringing a warm glow of ecstasy. Here was the real Andy, the one she had loved for six years.

He lifted her chin and bent to kiss her lips.

Charming Speech Wins More Beaux

Lively Words Add Spice

Bill can't wait for his next date with Dorothy.

He can almost see her happy smile, the friendly twinkle in her eye. Her shining vocabulary gives her talk charm.

How he chuckles when she tells him about the Joneses' new French poodle, "just like a clump of neatly trimmed shrubbery rushing out to greet you."

And how his mouth waters as she speaks of those "crisp golden muffins," she's planning for Sunday breakfast. (Can YOU make commonplace things vivid and amusing?)

Because she keeps her eyes open, picks up fresh colorful words and phrases from newspapers and magazines, Dorothy never resorts to worn-out comebacks like "You're telling me!" (How's YOUR repartee?)

And she's correct. You don't catch her saying "between you and I" for "between you and me," "hadn't ought" for "ought not." (What's YOUR score on errors in English?)

Chatting with old friends meeting new ones, or talking to the boss, you need a good vocabulary—and our 32-page booklet tells you how to build it. Lists errors you're likely to make and gives correct forms. Explains meanings of words often misused, tells what slang isn't acceptable.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps for your copy of "How To Improve Your Vocabulary" to the Examiner, Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

"The Authority on Authorities"

DON'T BE GREEDY

APPRECIATIVE players, who are able to see that their contract might have been beaten if a different lead had been made, will sometimes play the safe way to be sure of making it at all, whereas others view the good fortune of a lucky lead as presentation of a chance to make an extra trick. The difference between them does not show itself so clearly in rubber bridge, as you cannot be sure then just what the other fellow would have done, but in duplicate you can look at the scores and see what he actually did do.

Better bidding would have prescribed a rebid of hearts by North on his second turn, instead of a raise of the clubs with only three cards, but the side would then have landed in the correct contract of 6-Hearts, which cannot possibly be made because East's natural lead is a diamond, which would compel one loser in that suit and one in hearts.

Several pairs got into 6-Clubs, however, in the nationals at Richmond, Va., some making it and some failing. All got leads other than diamonds, for the obvious reason that nobody likes to underlead a king. It was a trump or a heart in these cases. Those who went for the extra trick by dropping trumps, then trying to run hearts, found the suit failing to break. Lacking a re-entry then to the dummy, they had to lose a spade and a diamond, and so were set.

Only one declarer was caught in the act of making a safety play for his contract, in gratitude for his lucky lead, which was the heart J. He won that in dummy, took three high club tricks and then led a second round of hearts, letting West win it. After return of the spade 5 to the 10, J and A, he was able to run the rest of the hearts and discard both the spade and the diamond losers in exchange for the one heart he had given up. That gave him top score on the deal, most emphatically top, as he was not in 6-Clubs but 6-No Trumps after almost the same bidding as landed so many pairs in 6-Clubs or 6-Hearts

What is supposed to be the greatest advantage of the Blackwood convention over the older four-five No Trump Culbertson ace-showing convention and therefore the principal reason why many of the top-ranking experts have adopted it after refusing ever to use the other? What is still contended by devotees of the Culbertson convention as its chief advantage over the Blackwood?

Lively 9 Months Reviewed Westwood W.I.

WESTWOOD, Jan. 31—(ENS).—The report of the war work group of Westwood Women's Institute for a period of nine months, April 1 to December 31, 1941, shows activity along several lines, with an average attendance of 15 ladies at each weekly meeting, and considerable assistance given by ladies of the community.

Treasurer Mrs. H. S. Nelson showed total receipts $475.85. The sum of $210.57 was paid out for yarn, material for garments for the evacuees, quilt linings, batts, etc., $25.00 was donated to the British War Victims Fund, and $10.00 to the Keene Red Cross Blanket Fund. There were 120 pairs of sox sent out 90 to the Navy League and 30 in parcels to enlisted men of the district, also 7 sweaters, 44 pairs mitts, 16 pairs wristlets, 3 seamen's caps, and 18 men's pyjamas.

Eight parcels of children's clothing valued at $144, were sent to England. Of a total number of 33 quilts quilted, 16 were donated to the Norwood I.O.D.E.

St. Andrew's Reviews Year.

The annual congregation meeting of St. Andrew's United Church was held on Wednesday evening, commencing at 6:30 with a pot-luck supper served by the ladies.

Rev. J. E. Glover was chairman, with S. C. Warr acting as secretary. The church treasurer reported a balance of $92.00 to begin its new year. Missionary and Maintenance givings showed $224.66 had been raised. Miss Jessie Davidson, W.M.S. said $168.75 had been raised. Sunday School by Mrs. E. W. Sargent showed a balance; Rev. Mr. Glover for the Session noted 14 members had joined th church, 3 baptisms, 1 marriage, and 3 funerals.

A vote of appreciation was tendered Rev. and Mrs. Glover for their faithful service throughout the year.

Card Party and Dance.

A successful card party and dance in aid of the War Work Fund was held in Westwood Town Hall on Friday evening, when 18 tables of euchre were played. Prizes were awarded the winners as follows: Ladies' first, Mrs. Walter Mortlock; ladies' second, Mrs. Alfred Hie; gent.'s first, Alfred Hie; gent.'s second, Bruce Graham; ladies' carrying prize, Mrs. F. Mortlock; lucky plate, James Thompson.

Following refreshments the floor was cleared for dancing music being supplied by local young people.

A quilt donated by Mrs. Elmo Kidd was sold by progressive auction and realized $10.00 for the war fund. Door receipts amounted to $46.00.

Malta May Be The Next Hot Spot

By LEON EDEL
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

Singapore, which is as far from Japan as Gibraltar is from New York, now is under direct threat of the Imperial forces of Emperor Hirohito.

A general headquarters communique from the Great Straits Settlement base, Britain's Gibraltar of the east, said today that British, Indian and Australian forces are in contact with the enemy at Kulai, thus placing the Japanese forces within 18 miles of the narrow strait of Johore which separates Singapore island from the mainland.

This does not necessarily mean that the fall of Singapore is imminent, for the British Imperial forces do not yield ground easily and Singapore island itself is formidably defended. But Singapore's peril is manifest.

Kulai is situated in the centre of Johore, just southeast of Sedenak, which the Japanese claimed last night. It lies on the main highway to Johore Bahru, opposite the British naval base on Singapore Island. On the eastern sector of the front the Japanese have made slower progress and appear to be about 40 miles from the Strait of Johore, in the vicinity of Sedili. To the west, however, their drive has kept pace with that of the centre, and the troops are reported fighting at Pontian Besar, roughly 20 miles from Johore Strait.

Should the Japanese succeed in breaking through the now-narrowed British line stretching across the southern section of the Malayan Peninsula, they would reach the shores of Johore Strait. From here they may be expected to launch drives to take the airdromes of Tenga and Seletar, on the eastern and western extremities of Singapore Island, and if they obtain footholds there the worst may be expected.

Thus the British Empire is suffering in the East the direct consequences of a battle that was lost in the West. The Japanese have not reached Malaya in operations across the more than 2,000 miles that lie between Singapore and Tokyo. The Japanese forces are in Malaya today because they were able to obtain bases in nearby Indo-China. They obtained bases in Indo-China because the Battle of France was lost. Thus the first blows against Singapore can be said to have been struck by the Hitler legions in Europe. Nothing illustrates more effectively how war, like peace, is indivisible.

London, Jan. 31 (CP).

A BRITISH military commentator today estimated the total Japanese strength in Malaya, the Philippines, Borneo and New Guinea at about 250,000 men.

He divided these forces as follows:

Malaya—Six divisions totalling about 100,000 men.

Philippines—Four divisions.

Borneo and adjacent islands two divisions.

New Guinea—One division.

other trophies were added at Sukhinichi to the already enormous stores of captured German war equipment.

Ski-equipped planes of the Russian Air Force struck again and again in support of the ground troops.

"On Jan. 29 our aviation destroyed 139 trucks with supplies, six armored cars, over 40 carts with war equipment, four guns and three ammunition dumps," the information bureau reported. "Our aviation also dispersed and annihilated over a battalion (600 men) of enemy infantry."

A 68-year-old collective farmer named Belichenko, an artillery veteran of the 1904-05 Russian Japanese war, was praised officially for his help in driving off an armored detachment which had pushed Red Army troops back at the village of Nikiforovska.

"Belichenko decided to help the Red Army and took his place at one of the guns," a communique reported. "By direct fire he damaged one German tank and smashed an armored car."

Gestapo Active In Spain

Tass reported in a dispatch from Lisbon, Portugal, that Germany had sent a large group of Gestapo agents to non-belligerent Spain under the guise of "recuperating German soldiers and officers," whose admission had been authorized in Madrid.

(The London Daily Mail said in a dispatch from Madrid that Hitler had recalled all his active divisions from France, Belgium and Holland as a nucleus of reserves for a spring campaign, replacing them with units in the 16-18 and over-40 age groups.

(The possibility that such a report was promoted from Berlin is obvious. It suggests that continental anti-invasion bases are materially weakened, and may have been put out solely to tempt the Allies in the west before they are sufficiently organized.)

several occasions there was barely a quorum of members in their seats and less than a dozen spectators in the Galleries.

Mr. Pouliot said he was not going to quarrel with anyone because that person was in favor of conscription "when I am against it." It was every member's right to have his own views. "But I do not want anyone to tread on my toes," Mr. Pouliot said. "I have sincere convictions and they are well known to my colleagues.

Canada Must Be First.

"I am not anti-British. I am pro-Canadian, and in my humble view the interests of Canada must be considered first in all our dealings whether with Great Britain, the United States or any other country."

Of the by-election in York South he said:

"Arthur Meighen will be beaten on February 9 next worse than he has ever been beaten before at the polls.

"The Canadian people have turned their thumbs down on him every time he came before them because they do not trust him."

Mr. Pouliot described Mr. Meighen as "the Charlie McCarthy of the Edgar Bergen of high finance in Toronto."

Commenting on the activities of the Committee for Total War, formed recently in Toronto, he said "The idea is not at all to wage total war; the idea is to speculate in Canadian bonds and that is all behind that move."

Referring to Mr. Meighen's reported demand that soldiers overseas be permitted to vote in the plebiscite, Mr. Pouliot read a telegram which he said was sent by Mr. Meighen to Prime Minister Fobert Borden in 1917 asking for 1,000 soldier votes at large for distribution in Manitoba ridings.

"That is the man who wants more soldier votes," he said.

Party Needs Two Changes.

Mr. Pouliot said the Liberal Party was in good health "although it has two decayed teeth." He did not identify the "teeth," but said that "if they are removed its (the party's) health will be splendid."

Mr. Diefenbaker suggested that a group of Canadian parliamentarians go to Washington "to show the United States of America our appreciation of the efforts that they are putting forth at this time." He would also invite American Congressmen to visit Ottawa.

Mr. Diefenbaker pleaded for a realization of the danger threatening Canada in common with all the democratic countries and for an end to partisan feelings and political jockeying.

He urged an immediate declaration by the Government of the plans it proposed to adopt to maintain a supply of manpower not only for the Army but for the essential production effort at home.

Mr. Diefenbaker asked the Government to bring in a resolution on conscription, or let a private member do it, and have a free vote to decide the wishes of Parliament rather than have the delay and expense of a plebiscite.

Mr. Shaw expresed regret that the Government "for political expediency" had placed itself in the position of having to hold a plebiscite on conscription.

"Verily, in my opinion, it would seem that for them at least the day of judgment has at last arrived," he said.

Plea for Teachers

Mr. Shaw said there were 30,000 rural school teachers who during 1940 received less than $1,000 salary. There were 19,000 who received less than $625 a year and approximately 13,000 who received less than $525 a year.

In other British countries teachers were better paid and when war-time bonuses were instituted teachers were included—but not in Canada, Mr. Shaw said, and he urged an amendment to the wage and salary ceiling order to permit teachers to obtain higher salaries and cost-of-living bonuses.

Mr. Ross, last speaker of the day, said imposition of conscription was not nearly as serious or important to Canadians as the act of declaring war, yet war had been declared without any consultation with the people.

"The way to settle this question of compulsory selective service in any theatre of war is for parliament to thresh out the question here, and not by appealing to the people," he said.

"This is not just Canada's fight nor Great Britain's. It is the fight of what I like to call the new commonwealth of the democracies of the world, and their crying need is for men."

Japanese forces thus have driven 350 miles down the rich Malayan Peninsula from the Thai border to the doors of the great British Far East base in less than two months of fighting in jungle, swamps and mountains.

British headquarters for days past have been preparing for the siege, clearing a mile-wide strip along the northern shore facing the State of Johorne and clamping a strict curfew on residents of the island.

But even as the thunder of battle rolled toward this $400,000,000 British base, the oft-bombed 750,000 residents of Singapore went about their daily tasks and defence preparations with the grim determination to "take it"—no matter what the Japanese bombers may send.

(A Tokyo broadcast heard in New York by CBS said the Japanese had "hurdled the last barrier" before Johore Bahru, the railroad station across Johore Strait from Singapore Island, by breaking through British defences at Kulai, 18 miles north of the Strait.

The battle line on Friday, as drawn in the British Far East headquarters communique, extended roughly from the Pontian Besar area in Western Johore State, 17 miles from Johore Strait, across mangrove swamps, jungles and hills through Kulai, in the centre, and on across swamps and humid forests and hills to the Sedili River area 40 miles nirth of Singapore.

The Pontian Besar area is near a junction of roads. One highway leads 17 miles southward to the southern tip of the Malayan Peninsuda, due west of Singapore. The other runs eastward to the main road through Johore Bahru, thence across the half-mile causeway which connects Singapore Island and the Peninsula.

City's First Curfew

Singapore had its first curfew last night, with the streets barred from 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. except to persons on active military duty or otherwise authorized to leave home or use the streets.

Japan lately has increased the ferocity of its areial attacks on Singapore, hitting sections of the 24-mile long and 14-mile wide island as well as the city itself, which lies on the southern shore of the island.

But the raids are costing the city less in working time, as the workers carry on until the "overhead" alarm is given and return to their jobs as soon as the "raiders passed" signal sounds.

Tangled wires, remnants of motor cars and masonry from blasted buildings blocked the road in one area hit by bombs yesterday, but the debris was removed and the road was clear within a few minutes. Yesterday's raids resulted in 94 dead and 256 wounded.

A huge crater was dug by a bomb in the centre of an important road in another sector of the island but within an hour the road was open again.

Enemy air raiders were active over Singapore again today, but there were no immediate reports of bombs falling.

Barce Back In Axis Control As Imperials Retreat 100 Mi. East From Bengasi

11th Infantry Brigade Halts Huns At Slonta
Indians Fight 200 Mi. To Rejoin Lines
Engineers Wrecking Bengasi Are Captured

CAIRO, Feb. 2—(AP).—British forces have fallen back about 100 miles from Bengasi under attacks by Axis forces "in considerable strength," the Middle East communique announced today.

The war bulletin mentioned fighting at Maraua, 85 miles east of Bengasi, and in the Slonta area, about 19 miles still farther northeast.

Maraua, roughly midway between Bengasi and Derna on the hump of Cirenaica, lies east of Barce, which Axis communiques reported today ha"e fallen to Field-Marshal Erwin Rommel's troops.

At Maraua the British announcement said the 11th Infantry Brigade carried out a successful counter attack "in which many casualties were inflicted on the enemy" and counter attacks also checked the enemy in the Slonta area.

Engineers Captured.

The communique said that the 7th Indian Infantry Brigade, which had held Bengasi, fought its way almost intact through Axis territory to reach eastern bases, but that engineer and other units left behind to demolish installations in the lost port probably had been captured.

The 4th Indian Division was withdrawing in the highlands ea:t of Barce "in close contact with the enemy who is following up this movement in considerable strength," the communique said. It indicated that British forces of some size were passed by the Axis advance and were receiving air support.

At Msus, southeast of Bengasi, it said, Imperial mobile columns remained on the offensive yesterday and captured four enemy vehicles with their crews.

"Throughout the course of yesterday's operation," it added, "our air forces continued to render effective support to operations on land, while our bombers during Jan. 31-Feb. 1 attacked mechanical transport columns in the area of

Two boats have been sunk this afternoon by the Indians' accurate fire and some 80 Japanese shot or drowned in the muddy tidal waters swirling in from the sea.

Eight miles upstream, however, Japanese have slipped across the river to raid the railway which runs north from here around the Gulf of Martaban to Rangoon. The Japanese were thrown back once from a temporary bridgehead established last night, but the infiltration continued.

Aussies Pushing Secret Defence And Bomb Raids

MELBOURNE, Feb. 2—(AP)—The Australian Government moved swiftly today to put into effect secret defence measures decided upon yesterday as Australian bombers lashed out again at Japanese forces battling to extend their foothold on New Britain Island in the Bismarck Archipelago.

A communique said Australian airmen had twice attacked Japanese shipping in the harbor of Rabaul, capital of New Britain, but results were not immediately disclosed.

It was announced here meanwhile, that Japanese forces which landed Saturday on Amboina Island, site of an important Netherlands naval base some 635 miles north of the tip of Australia, had fought their way close to the Amboina airport.

A Netherlands communique from Batavia yesterday made no specific mention of the situation on Amboina, but reported hard fighting at the various scattered points in the Netherlands East Indies where Japanese forces previously had won footholds.

These included—in addition to Amboina—the east and west coasts of Borneo and the Island of Celebes.

Blizzards Rake Coast 3 Days Tie Coal, Kill 2

OTTAWA, Feb. 2 (CP)—Relaxation of censorship restrictions today permitted disclosure of a pair of blizzards which ravaged the Maritimes Jan. 27, 28 and 29, halting street transportation, causing at least two deaths in the Halifax area and crippling coal production in industrial Cape Breton.

The first storm came up on the afternoon of Jan. 27, and continued until morning, spreading a half-foot blanket over most of the region. Winds of gale force blew up during the night of Jan. 28, and snow again began.

Drifts 15 feet high were blown up by the second storm. Automobile traffic was halted in Halifax, and street cars ran only at intervals of an hour or more.

The same storms struck Newfoundland, and they were followed by a 24-hour deluge of rain that sent streams to flood levels and caused considerable damage. A bridge at Long Pond was swept away. Water street in St. John's, Nfld., was under a foot of water at one time.

Worst in Decade

For Cape Breton, the storm was the worst in 10 years. Practically all towns in the area were isolated from one another as roads were blocked and telegraph and telephone wires snapped. Communications had not been fully restored today.

All Cape Breton collieries except No. 4 at Glace Bay were forced to stop operations because the crews could not get to work. Some had yet to resume work today.

During the morning of Jan. 29, at the height of the second storm,

MOSCOW, Feb. 2—(AP)—Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Southern front army was reported today knifing on through heavy minefields and beating down German counter-attacks in an onslaught back into the Ukraine in a 60-mile wide wedge southwest of Kharkov.

"We haven't stopped for a single hour," said a dispatch from this area where the Russians already had thrust 55 miles over fields of Nazi dead.

Names of towns recaptured were kept secret, as was the fate of German units hemmed in behind the Russian drive, but dispatches said that on one battlefield 1,200 Germans were wiped out and 800 others were killed by bombing, machine-gunning, Russian planes.

The Russians kept grimly to the advance, spurred by belief that they must not only regain lost ground, but must deal the German army a blow that will sap the power of the Nazi spring offensive which the high command regards as sure to come.

Russian dispatches said the village of "K" had been won back on the Kalinin front and a village of "N" in another sector of the northwestern front had been recaptured in a drive by infantry and tanks.

Near Leningrad the Germans were said to have lost 1,700 men in operations over an unspecified period.

Place names generally were omitted from the reports.

"We are not announcing the capture of a single village, town or city until after we are sure the Germans know of its fall," one Russian authority explained. "In this way their surrounded, cut-up, outflanked regiments are suffering from even more confusion."

The mid-day communique said offensive operations continued throughout the night and that one Red army unit on the Kalin front, northwest of Moscow, killed 350 German officers and men in capturing a village.

It also reported the slaying of more than 100 German soldiers when a platoon of Russian skiers ambushed a supply column.

Singapore Sees Little Of Japs

By SERGT. IAN FITCHETT
(Official Australian Correspondent.)

WITH THE AUSTRALIAN IMPERIAL FORCES ON SINGAPORE ISLAND, Feb. 2.—(Australian Associated Press to CP).—The first 36 hours after the blowing up of the Johore-Singapore causeway passed in a manner strangely contrasting to the previous eight weeks in Malaya.

All yesterday our troops gazed over the narrow stretch of water dividing this island from the mainland but could see little signs of life in Johore Bahru or along the roads so familiar to them.

What were identified as Japanese cars were seen late yesterday and there were a few more to-day.

Our gunners have been fairly busy shelling the main crossroads on the other shore, but apart from that there has been no military activity against the enemy.

The troops looked like new men after a good night's sleep and a change of clothes. This amazingly quick recovery from fatigue was possible only for men in the fittest condition.

Those who came in first have been busily at work supervising civilian evacuation of prohibited areas and exploring remoter areas of the island.

Defence Batteries Hammer At Massing Japanese Across Mile-Wide Strait

Morale High Among All Island Forces
Awaiting Zero Hour Of Jap Attack
Whole 35-Mile North Shore Is Cleared

(By C. YATES McDANIEL.)

SINGAPORE, Feb. 2—(AP).—Bolstered by the arrival of long-awaited reinforcements, the defenders of Singapore braced themselves today for a last-ditch stand against Japanese forces massing on the north shore of Johore Strait for an all-out assault against this island stronghold.

It is presumed the Japanese will require a few days to reorganize after their long push down the Malay Peninsula but Singapore is proceeding on the theory the invaders might launch their attack at any hour.

Along the 35-mile front formed by the mile-wide strait which lies like a moat between the mainland and Singapore Island, British artillery kept up a sporadic fire designed to break up the Japanese assault preparations.

From trenches, fox-holes and more permanent fortifications machine-guns were trained on the narrow strip of water, ready to loose a withering crossfire. Special precautions were taken to guard against surprise attack by Japanese parachutists.

All civilians were withdrawn from the northern part of the island to clear the way for the movements of defence forces, and in Singapore itself military authorities enforced a 9 p.m. curfew.

The welcome news that reinforcements had arrived was disclosed by Sir Shenton Thomas, Governor of the Straits settlement, in a broadcast yesterday.

Sir Shenton did not disclose the nature of the reinforcements.

His confidence was echoed by the King who sent a message of sympathy and good cheer to Sir Thomas and his people.

No Sign Of Fear Or Panic

A tour of the island by this correspondent yesterday disclosed no signs of panic or despair among the populace, despite loss of the entire Malay Peninsula to the invaders.

On the contrary, morale appeared to be high, and propaganda leaflets dropped by the Japanese airmen suggesting that resistance was useless were greeted with contemptuous smiles.

Yanks Whip Two Jap Divisions, 17 Mi. Up Batan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP). — Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported to-day that the defenders of the Batan Peninsula in the Philippines had repulsed with heavy losses the latest series of Japanese attacks, made by the foe's best troops who employed new tactics.

A War Department communique reporting developments of the past 24 hours and also summarizing savage fighting during the last several days said that two Japanese divisions were hurled simultaneously against American-Filipino lines.

On the west coast, the South China sea shore, the invaders were forced back to the coast, and either destroyed, captured or drowned, the communique said.

On the east side of the peninsula, facing Manila Bay, a front mass attack was smashed by artillery fire before it got well under way.

The communique made clear, however, that the Japanese had fought their way in the last three weeks about half way down the peninsula.

17 Miles To Go Yet.

The fighting on the east coast took place in the area of Pilar, the War Department said, and this point near an important road junction is only 17 miles from the end of the peninsula opposite the Corregidor fortress.

Gen. MacArthur said the Batan west coast attack was made by picked groups known as Tatori who made simultaneous attacks at several points. He paid tribute to

Fleets Speaking Up

LONDON, Feb. 2 (CP) — The Royal Navy and the United States Pacific Fleet have just pulled off two operations which may have an important bearing upon the immediate tide of the war in the Far East.

British ships have shepherded a large convoy, presumably from India or Africa, to Singapore, reaching there in time to provide reinforcements and supplies to the Malayan army under siege in the great Naval base.

The United States fleet, engaged in what appears to be a mighty offensive sweep of thousands of miles from the naval base at Pearl Harbor, has struck fiercely at a nest of Japanese bases in the Marshall and Gilbert Islands where they menace the supply lines from Britain to Australia, New Zealand and the Netherlands Indies.

Both actions are in accordance with the division of authority and responsibility which Mr. Churchill announced last week in one of his two great speeches to the House of Commons. The Royal Navy, he said, is responsible for communications across th Indian Ocean to the embattled Far East; while the United States fleet is charged with maintaining the supply lines across the Pacific.

Still a third sphere of command is made up of the fighting units of the United Nations' fleet—British, American, Netherlands, Australian—engaged in actual operations against the Japanese in the Southwest Pacific. Under command of

2 Ships Hit Objects At Night—One Uses Her Guns

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Feb. 2—(CP). — Possibility that three Axis submarines might have been wiped out in brushes with merchant ships and Canadian warships in the Atlantic recently was seen here today as sailors of the merchant vessels told of the encounters.

The men of one Canadian merchantman told of ramming two objects believed submarines within a few minutes and of a subsequent hour-long attack by two Canadian corvettes. Crewmen of a British freighter said they had opened fire at night on what appeared to be a submarine and had scored direct hits.

That same day, the British vessel picked up 32 survivors of a torpedoed tanker who had been in a lifeboat 18 hours. The shipwrecked

Goering Plots With Mussolini

BERLIN (from German broadcasts), Feb. 2 — (AP). — Marshal Herman Goering has been in Italy since last Tuesday and has talked for several hours with Mussolini, it was announced today.

The announcement said Goering, Commander of the German Air Force, was in Rome except for three days, from last Friday until today, where he was inspecting units of the German Air Force in Southern Italy. He returned to Rome today for further conversations.

(Goering's inspection may indicate a considerable reinforcement of German air units in the Mediterranean area. The withdrawal of such units from Southern Italy was announced several months ago, while the Russian drive was at its height and before the British began their Libyan offensive November 18).

Beaver for Action

(By HAROLD FAIR.)

LONDON, Feb. 2.—(CP Cable)—Prime Minister Churchill worked out details of the new British production ministry during the week-end.

The Prime Minister, who will soon announce how the ministry will function, had little to worry about concerning the man to take the job of Minister of Production. The public generally has acclaimed the expected appointment of Lord Beaverbrook. Whether the Canadian-born peer, now supply minister, has been appointed, was not dsiclosed.

In the production debate of last July Mr. Churchill had rejected such a proposal. Where, he asked then, could be found a "super personality" to dominate the Admiralty, teach the Minister of Aircraft Production how to make aircraft more quickly "and interfere" with the functions of the supply minister?

The Sunday newspapers followed the dailies in hailing the Prime Minister's change of mind. The Observer described its effect of parliament and the public as "like the wave of a wand."

As an evidence of national unity the confidence vote after a debate in which 120,000 words of oratory flowed across the Commons chamber should last for a long time, J. L. Garvin wrote in the Observer.

Arguing that such a debate "is the kind of democratic luxury we cannot afford to repeat...until the worst dangers of this year are mastered," Garvin declared: "We

SIX JAPANESE ISLAND BASES BLASTED BY THE UNITED STATES FLEET

SurpriseBlow Wrecks Ships, Planes

MacArthur's Big Guns Wipe Out Japs Massing To Hit Fort

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP). — The United States' Pacific fleet was believed here to-day to have recovered a considerable measure of the striking power lost at Pearl Harbor Dec. 7 and new offensive action against Japan's vulnerable position in the mid-Pacific was regarded as entirely probable.

This heartening view of the strategic situation in an area where the initiative had been almost solely in the hands of the enemy was held by naval experts as a result of the navy's disclosure yesterday that fleet units had attacked Japanese naval and air bases in the Marshall and Gilbert islands.

In a surprise action, United States surface and aircraft raided five island bases in the Marshall, and one in the Gilbert group. Amid fierce fighting they sank or severely damaged many enemy fleet auxiliaries, shelled and bombed vital short installations and destroyed numerous enemy planes—all at a cost of 11 planes missing, two surface vessels slightly damaged and personnel losses officially estimated to have been light.

The only disappointment for the American forces was indicated in the navy's statement that Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, had reported that "no large enemy combatant vessels were found."

Coup By MacArthur

Word of the attack, first such foray by the fleet since the Japanese assaulted its main base at Pearl Harbor to start the war, was paralleled by a war department announcement that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's embattled army in the Philippines had discovered and smashed extensive Japanese preparmen, who were brought here, reported 10 others aboard the ship were killed.

The fourth engineer of the Canadian freighter, whose name cannot be revealed, told of the meeting with the supposed U-boats after his vessel had put into port for repairs. She was damaged only slightly in the bow.

The collisions came at night, the engineer said. The ship scraped over one obstruction and about five minutes later ran into another one.

A few minutes later, the corvettes started depth-bombing in that area, he said, apparently having picked up the sound of submarine engines. He counted 18 explosions.

"We all thought we were goners and expected to get a tin fish in us any time, but we had no more trouble," he said.

The British vessel's adventure came about in a similar way. At dush, her keel grated over some object. Shortly after, the silhouette of what seemed to be a sub loomed up about 50 yards away.

Opening fire, the ship's gunners appeared to score two hits. The object disappeared.

"It if wasn't a submarine, I'm not a sailor," the engineer asserted. The outline was plain, he said.

have to get on with the war."

Some members of parliament expect that as an additional result of the debate Mr. Churchill might take the advice of various newspapers and hand the office of Minister of defence—which he holds himself—to someone else. The ensuing cabinet shuffle would please members who agree with the contention expressed in a newly published book by the Conservative, Captain Arthur Cunningham-Reid that the Prime Minister is a superb captain but lacks a winning team.

The capstic Captain's book, entitled "Besides Churchill—Who?" which appeared immediately after the war debate did not answer the question of who would succeed to the Defence Minister's post.

The suggestion that Mr. Churchill delegate some of his duties was made also in two of Lord Kemsley's papers, the Sunday Times and the Sunday Chronicle.

Pointing to the onerous task of being Prime Minister and Minister of Defence, the Sunday Times failed to see an altertive to Mr. Churchill for either job, but urged he obtain relief by assigning the home front supervisory function to a colleague who would be a sort of deputy prime minister.

Political circles speculating on this possible division of work, also reported that a Labor leader might go to India to try to iron out the constitutional deadlock there, and mentioned A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, as a possible intermediary.

Fleet Speaking Up

Admiral Hart, an American, who in turn is under the general direction of Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, the southwestern commander in chief, this fleet caught a large Japanese convoy in the Macassar Straits last week and, with strong air assistance, inflicted enormous damage upon it.

The spectacular American action in the mandated Japanese islands was carried out by the main United States Pacific fleet which now has once again found itself after the shocking blow of Pearl Harbor.

Under orders of Admiral Chester Nimitz, a squadron of undetermined strength, but presumably large and accompanied by at least one aircraft carrier, steamed 2,000 miles southwest from the Hawaiian islands to strike at the enemy.

Their initial thrust was aimed at six island bases, five in the Marshalls and one in the Gilberts, where Japanese aircraft and light surface and underwater vessels have been a constant threat to the ocean route to Australia.

An undisclosed number of fleet auxiliaries — the light craft which are vital to the supply and maintenance of warships—were sunk and numerous aircraft were destroyed, the Washington Navy Departmnt announced. Resistance by the Japanese was heavy; 11 American planes were lost.

Observers believed further action of this sort against the Japanese was probable at any of a score of points where the enemy has spread his naval and air forces thinly over the vast Pacific. Such harrying tactics would retard his timetable upset his arrangements for supplying munitions to his forces, meanwhile granting the United Nations time for the inevitable massing of forces needed to meet the Japanese at vital points in sufficient numbers.

British Desert Big Naval Base

LONDON, Feb. 2.—(CP)—Reuters reported today that the big Singapore naval base on Johore Strait at the northeast of the beleagured island is no longer being used.

The base is within sight of a range of hills across the strait which would afford idea positions for Japanese artillery, the dispatch, sent from Batavia, said.

Three of the island's air bases also were said to be within range of Japanese artillery.

"Admittedly Singapore with its great naval port and its airfields unusable by the Allies is of little immediate value as a base," the dispatch said, "but if it can be held and its military installations are not completely destroyed it will provide the nucleus of an offensive centre later."

It added that the importance of holding Singapore was realized fully at Batavia.

The dispatch intimated that the stronghold's supplies of food and water were expected to prove adequate.

Trains Kill Six For Toll Of 10 Over Weekend

TORONTO, Feb. 2 — (CP). — Three persons, killed on Sunday when their motor car skidded into the path of a moving train at London, Ont., were among the ten killed in the Province during the week-end. katchewan. Prime Minister Mackenzie King and members of the Cabinet heard the presentation.

The brief was submitted by John H. Wesson of Regina, chairman of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool.

The ability of many Saskatchewan farmers to continue wheat production might well be at stake if existing conditions were allowed to continue, the brief said.

Its major proposals:

1. The government should recognize the principle of "parity prices" for all agricultural commodities. While the general wholesale price index was now close to the 1925 level,the wheat index was about one-half the 1926 level.

2. The initial payment on all wheat delivered to the wheat board should be not less than $1 a bushel, basis No. 1 Northern at Fort William, and a final settlement on wheat delivered to the board should be made by deferred payments on the basis of a parity price.

3. No price ceilings should be established on farm commodities below parity levels, "using the word parity in the sense that a parity price for farm commodities would be the price which these commodities would need to realize in order to purchase as large a quantity of other commodities now available as it actually did during a specified base period."

The Delivery Problem.

4. Equitable delivery quotas on wheat should be established and continued as long as necessary.

5. The government should undertake to provide that growers may deliver the amount of wheat which it is estimated can be marketed during the crop year 1942-43, unless in the government's opinion, additional reserves should be built up. The brief suggested 280,000,000 to 300,000,000 bushels, about the same as last year.

6. All sales of wheat by the wheat board during the present crop year should be credited against present season's deliveries. It should be possible to wind up the marketing of the crop within the year of its delivery and distribute any surplus which may be available to the growers, the brief said.

7. Provision should be made that an emergency year may be declared under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act, irrespective of the market price of wheat during the three fall months.

8. "The delegation would look forward to the day when under happier circumstances, a more complete form of crop insurance might be established, which would provide protection to all growers and the cost of which might be shared between the Dominion and Provincial governments and the individual producers."

With an initial payment of $1 a bushel, basis Fort William, equal to 80 cents a bushel on the farm, wheat income from 280,000,000 bushels in 1942-43 would be $224,000,000, or $15,000,000 less than in 1940, it was estimated.

The Generals Pass

Moscow, Feb. 2 (AP)

AN official Russian announcement, broadcast by the Moscow radio, said today that Gen. Drisen, described as commander of the 62nd German Army Corps, has been killed.

An announcement yesterday reported the death of Gen. Braun, commander of the 68th German Division, when Russian guerillas blew up his headquarters in Kharkov.

(The German radio broadcast an announcement of the death of Maj.-Gen. Hans Georg Hofmann, chief group leader of the Storm Troopers and Under-Secretary of State for Bavaria. It said he died Saturday at Munich of heart disease.)

Bouchard Plans De Valera Role

QUEBEC, Feb. 2 (CP) — Paul Bouchard, Quebec lawyer, said at a mass meeting here Sunday that he would oppose the Justice Minister, Hon. Louis St. Laurent in the Quebec East Federal by-election, Feb. 9.

Bouchard, who was defeated by the late Justice Minister, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, in the same riding in the general elections of 1940, said that he would run as a "Canadian Nationalist."

Several days ago, Paul Latouche, an employee of the Provincial Department of Public Works, announced that he would run as an Independent Liberal.

Mr. Bouchard said that "If you elect me, I will be for Canada on the whole and especially for French Canada what Eamon De Valera has been for Ireland.

"The people of the province of Quebec should let it be known that the do not want conscription for overseas service," Mr. Bouchard said. "They do not want their sons to die in Libya, at Hong Kong and in Malay, where neither Australians nor Canadians should be found but those who have an interest in maintaining these centres or world-wide exploitation."

GOVERNOR'S SON DIES

Army Weapons On Train Here Thursday

OTTAWA, Feb. 2 (CP)—Central and Western Ontario towns will have the first look at the Canadian Army train which is to tour the country this month in the interests of the second Victory Loan campaign in which the objective is $600,000,000.

It was announced today that the train, carrying its mobile exhibition of army equipment would, after leaving Ottawa, make its first scheduled stop at Carleton Place Feb. 4.

Aboard the 15-car train will be tanks, universal carriers, guns and other equipment so that those who contribute to the loan will be able to see just how their money is used for the army.

On Feb. 4 the train will also stop at Smiths Falls and Perth.

Other dates:

Feb. 5—Peterborough and Lindsay.

Feb. 6—Bracebridge, Gravenhurst, Orillia.

Feb. 7—Midland, Barrie, Collingwood.

Feb. 8—Guelph, Galt and Kitchener.

Feb. 9—Stratford, Owen Sound.

Feb. 10—Harriston, Clinton, Goderich.

Feb. 11—Sarnia, Leamington.

Feb 12—Windsor.

Feb. 13—Chatham and London.

The converted baggage cars in which exhibits are set up will be marshalled in such a way that visitors will enter the train at one end and pass through to the other. Each car will have trained soldiers in constant attendance to explain the exhibits and answer questions.

On Bogus Passes

London, Feb. 2 (CP)

HEADQUARTERS of the British Broadcasting Corporation, supposedly one of the best-guarded buildings in Britain, was captured at 4 a.m. Sunday — by Home Guards engaged in exercises.

The attack began at midnight and was finished by the successful entry of two Home Guards armed with bogus passes — one signed "Adolf Hitler."

29 Huns On List R.A.F. Ace Tuck, Prisoner

LONDON, Feb. 2 —(CP)—Wing Commander R. R. S. Tuck, one of the greatest aerial aces of the war, has been shot down over France and is a prisoner of war.

The tall, slim Londoner, twice a visitor to Canada, was the pilot of a plane which the Air Ministry reported missing last Thursday. The Air Ministry news service said that Tuck, with an official score of 29 destroyed enemy aircraft to his credit, was accompanied on Thursday's operation by another Spitfire. Both aircraft crossed the Channel at wave-top height. The other pilot reported he last saw Tuck near Boulogne, where he apparently was hit by gunfire. He disappeared inland, with white smoke streaming from the plane.

Uncle In Canada

Canadian airmen knew the 24-year-old Tuck well and admired him as "a great guy and a great pilot." He knew, and liked, Canadian pilots, too. He had close personnel connections with the Dominion, as he spent some time there five years ago when he visited his uncle, Captain M. A. Tuck, in Vancouver.

Only a short time ago he returned to flying duties after visiting Canada and the United States with other noted R.A.F. pilots to advise aircraft manufacturers of air force requirements.

Tuck, whose smiling face and neatly trimmed mustache were known to all who followed the fortunes of the Empire's air heroes, had won the Distinguished Service Order and was the first pilot in this war to get two bars to the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Luckiest, Most Skilful

He had been called the luckiest and one of the most skilful men in the R.A.F. "He always seems to be around when the Nazis show up," a fellow pilot said last autumn after Tuck shot down two Germans while out on what he called "pleasure spin."

"He has that happy faculty of being at the right place at the right time, and, boy, he sure knows what to do when he gets there," the fellow pilot added.

Tuck's luck held up for him on at least four occasions when he was forced to abandon damaged planes. He is a permanent member of the R.A.F. and had his first close call before the war when his plane collided with another in the air. Tuck got out uninjured but the pilot of the other plane was killed.

Saved From Sea

After the war began he was forced down three times and once was picked up from the sea where he had been tossed around in a dinghy. Another time he had to go to a hospital with injuries and it was there that he received from a German he had just shot down an iron cross he carried on all his flights.

Tuck was as modest as he was great and his only display of "show" was a row of neatly painted swastikas along the fuselage of his Spitfire, showing the number of planes destroyed.

While some officers might prefer the seclusion of their mess, Tuck enjoyed an occasional glass of beer at the village pub near his station, and he was a close friend of the tavern keeper, who displayed his picture and those of other aces in a prominent place behind the bar.

Tuck never resembled the picture of a fighting pilot when he visited the pub to play darts with the "regulars" because he nearly always wore civilian clothes in preference to his beribboned uniform.

Watch Pleasure Car Gas Buying

OTTAWA, Feb. 2 — (CP). — All passenger automobiles except those owned and operated by Federal, Provincial and municipal governments must obtain their gasoline supplies from an established service stations or dealers under the gasoline rationing system effective April 1. Oil Controller G. R. Cottrelle said to-day.

"Owners of fleets of trucks and buses and all others who possess consumer pumps or equipment, will be prohibited from supplying gasoline to passenger cars," he said.

Mr. Cottrelle also cited statistics to prove that motorists who travel at excessive speeds are deefating their own interests.

"Few motorists," he said, "know just how much a continuous high rate of speed will reduce their miles per gallon average."

The average automobile travelling 80 miles per hour encountered so much wind resistance it wasted 57.5 per cent of its gasoline, he said. At 70 miles an hour the wastage was 43.8 per cent, at 60 miles an hour 33 per cent, and at 50 miles an hour 23 per cent.

"This means," he said, "that if a Category A motorist (automobile pleasure driver) made a daily practice of driving 60 or 70 miles an hour, by about the end of the first two months of every quarter his ration for the three months would be exhausted and he wouldn't be able to drive for a month, or until the next quarter's coupons could be used."

Students Win And Lose At Basketball

PORT HOPE, Feb. 2.—(E[illegible] Several interesting basketball g[illegible] were played in the Port Hope [illegible] School gymnasium on Friday n[illegible] against the Bowmanville H.S. teams.

The evening's games opened with the junior team, the Port Hope first junior basketball game to be played this year. This was an exhibition game with a core of 14-9 for Bowmanville and was a hard-fought game.

Line up:

The senior P.H.H.A. game with Bowmanville was an extremely exciting one with a final score of 10-10. At half time the score was 6-2 in favor of Bowmanville. In the second period with only two minutes to go Port Hope scored making it 8-10. Then another basket was scored by Port Hope just as the whistle blew to end the game making the score 10-10. Port Hope rallied greatly after the first period and the last half of this game was one of the most exciting yet played. Line up:

Bowmanville Wins

In the boys' games the visitors were victorious with a score of 23-18. At half-time the game was 12-11 in favor of Port Hope and was a close, exciting second period with Bowmanville scoring 5 quick points and P.H.H.S. 6 points ending with a total of 23-18 for Bowmanville. Line up:

Bob Minaker (4), Russel Downey (8), Lorne Smith (3), Dave Fulford (1), Albert Martyn; subs, Arthur Bran[illegible]ood (2), Cecil Hagerman, Nelson Hodgson, George Watson, Paul Currelly.

At the close of these games the teams were entertained to lunch of hot coffee, doughnuts and apples.

South America Described In Talk

PORT HOPE, Feb. 2 (ENS) — A fireside gathering of the Young Men's Bible Class of the United church, under the leadership of Mr. Gordon Garnett, was held on Sunday evening after church.

Mr. Henderson, who has returned to reside in Port Hope from Argentina, was guest speaker for the evening and related many interesting details of the life and conditions in South America.

Between 40 and 50 young men and women were present at this meeting and at the close refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed by all.

Chief Of Air Staff

Major-General Millard F. Harmon, of San Francisco, has been assigned as chief of the air staff of the U.S. Army Air Force with headquarters in Washington, according to a War Department announcement. Gen. Harmon has been acting chief of the air force combat command since the assignment of Lt.-Gen. Delos C. Emmons to duty as commanding general of the Hawaiian department.

Natives Are Hostile To Invaders

Rylstone Cheese Takes Third Position

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 2 (ENS). Patrons of Rylstone Cheese and Butter Company had more than one reason for being pleased with the reports tabled for them at their annual meeting held Saturday afternoon. They not only increased their production by over 26 per cent, but according to Dominion Grading Statistics they got an average score of 93.808 for all of the nearly 130 tons of cheese graded, and hold third place in this district, being topped only by Hoard's and Menie factories. Though Rylstone had 41 patrons throughout the summer, this was boosted in December when 10 more were added to the pay sheet as some neighboring factories closed down for the season. And when they ceased operations on December 15, their cheesemaker, William Moore, had kept the plant operating three weeks longer than he ever did in the eight years he has been making at Rylstone.

In his 15th annual report to the patrons, F. W. "Fred" Barnum, president and secretary, reviewed the season's activities and recalled that the last annual meeting had been held nearly a month and a half earlier (December 15, 1941). He referred briefly to the new equipment installed at the plant during the year, and that the refrigerated butter room constructed in 1941 together with the mechanical refrigeration in the curing room purchased the preceding year, had pushed the total load with the Hydro out of Class 3, and as a consequence they were now paying an additional $40 per year for electric power. He said the directors had already met and re-engaged Mr. Moore as their cheesemaker for another year. However, under the new terms of the contract the company will furnish all supplies and pay him 8 mills per pound cheese plus 7 cents per pound butter. Mr. Barnum spoke of the difficulty of getting cheese boxes last fall, "and when we did get them, the wood was green and shipment was held up again because they won't grade cheese in green boxes.

First Grade Cheese

Both in regards to price and quality the company had an exceptionally good year, with the price being "the best we've had since the company was started in 1917. Of all the cheese graded 98.7 per cent was in first grade "which is a very good showing for a factory this size, and this was not due to the maker alone, but to the patrons as well, for if the milk isn't good he can't make good cheese. But the maker certainly has to be on his toes these days, for they are very particular both with regards to grading (flavor, suality, etc.), and also with boxing and labelling. He commented on the fact the factory had lost some milk since thty didn't make on Sundays; however, this was partly compensated for by extra patrons who delivered to Rylstone in the early Spring and late Fall. Of cheese boxes, he declared they had paid 28c, 35c and as much as 40c during the past season, but the price for the current year had already been set at 35c. Other statistics he gave the more than sixty farmers at the meeting were: 3,072,175 pounds of milk delivered to the factory; produced 259,780 pounds or 2,740 boxes of cheese of which 80.6 per cent was 94 score, 17.2 per cent, 93 score; .84 per cent, 92 score, and 1.3 per cent, undergrades (3 lots, a total of 28 boxes—7 in May, 6 in July and 15 in November) produced 54,828 pounds cheese more than in 1940; total butterfat was 93,107.67; total received for cheese, $52,581.34; average price per pound cheese (including bonus and premium) 20.24 cents; average milk per pound cheese 11.82; average cheee per pound fat 2.79; average price per pound fat 50.33 (exclusive of butter); total whey butter, 6,730 pounds, which yielded $1,991.84; quality premium, $4,606.45; Provincial subsidy, $5,194.80; average Dominion money per pound fat paid patrons, 4.9 cents; average Provincial money per pound fat 5.5 cents.

Pey Dividends

In commenting on the year's showing, District Dairy Instructor J. A. Murray said, "Not only did you send more cheese but you sent better cheese and your average score of 93.808 indicated there were not very many under 94 score, which is a very good record." Local Bank Manager A. G. Thompson looked at the report from the banker's standpoint, and referred to the dividends paid to patrons by the improvements made in the curing room. He spoke of the fine work done by Secretary Barnum, particularly his policy of sending out statements at the same time each month. He congratulated the patrons on their excellent year, as did Councillor J. R. Battiby of Campbellford, District Milk Tester Thomas Fry, and F. S. Linton.

One thing they were not quite so unanimous on was the matter of making cheese on Sunday. The question was introduced by the president and secretary, who pointed out to the shortage of milk cans as one reason why Sunday making might become compulsory. He asked for some opinions on the question and soon got the feeling of the gathering. Said F. M. Rutherford (Ayrshire breeder), "I either have to ship my milk to another factory on Sunday or put in ice. I would rather make here if it's not going to be a hardship on the maker."

W. Spencer: "If it's a necessity we can't do anything else. Personally I don't like the idea of it."

William Moore (cheesemaker): "If they are all willing to come on Sunday, I'm willing to make, but there's no good having part sending while others bring in old milk the following day."

Thomas Reid: "If we put this through everybody should ship."

Sanford Meiklejohn: "I'll ship on Sunday if a wagon comes down to pick it up. I won't deliver it. It's a matter of principle."

Mac Anderson: "If we can't get cans, I think we should ship our milk on Sunday."

Andrew Thompson: "I don't think we should make it compulsory."

A vote was finally taken and a motion made by W. Spencer, leaving the problem with the directors "if they deemed it necessary to make on Sunday," was carried.

The new board of directors was named as follows: Thomas McKeown, Harold Barnum, Mac Andrews, Ernest Irwin, Fred Barnun. President and Secretary, Fred Barnum. Auditor, Thomas Reid.

W.A. Officers Installed Sunday

PORT HOPE, Feb. 2.—(ENS)— The evening service of the United Church was given over to the installation of the officers of the Women's Association. The entire service was gathered around the work and place of women in the Christian church, the place of women in the Old Testament, in the New Testament, and in the church through the ages.

Rev. J. W. Gordon in addressing the new W.A. president, Mrs. E. B. Hyne said: "To you has been given the responsibility and privilege of leading the Women's Association of this congregation in all the varied tasks which they undertake through the year. Do you promise as much as in you lieth, trusting in God for help, to patiently and faithfully perform the duties of your high office.

The same pledge was asked of the assisting executive and group leaders, Secretary Mrs. J. Reynolds, Treasurer Mrs. Reeve, Vice-presidents Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. Chas. Taylor and Group Leaders Mrs. Potts, Miss Dorothy Bath, Mrs. A. E. Fulford, Mrs. Moncrief, Mrs. Whetstone, Mrs. C. Moore, Mrs. J. Bennett, Mrs. Fred Oke.

Mr. Gordon led in prayer and Mr. Gillard Darling sang a much appreciated solo, "There Is No Night There."

Large Congregations Welcome Minister

Large congregations attended the morning and evening services yesterday at Knox United church to welcome the new pastor, the Rev. H. J. Mahoney, M.A., B.D. Mr. Mahoney expressed much pleasure at the morning service to be with the Knox congregation and in the evening he brought personal greetings from the Rev. David Wren, former pastor of Trinity United church here who is now located in Stratford.

Subject of his morning service was "The Three Men" in which he brought out the necessity for discipleship.

The evening subject, "This Business of Living," dealt with the finding of Jesus in the Temple where he was instructing wise men. When approached by his mother, he replied "Did you not know I must be about my father's business." Mr. Mahoney pointed out the three main virtues of living are faith in a a better life, more courage to do things in a manner more pleasing to God and to others, and love for others.

Under the direction of William R. Potter, musical director, the anthems "Pilgrim's Chorus" and "Abide With Me" were given. Mrs. T. Williams sang a soprano solo and the male quartette sang "Sweet Sabbath Eve."

Receives Training

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 2 (ENS). —Instruction in different kinds of hemstiching featured the weekly meeting of the Jolly Thimble and Needle Club of Seymour which met on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Hoard. The girls, whose primary objective is sewing, displayed considerable interest in the rather tedious part of their sewing program. Mrs. Hoard presided for the meeting and it was announced that the draw would be made on the reversible blanket, on which they have been selling tickets since last Christmas, next Saturday afternoon. The proceeds will be used to further the work of the group and to assist in defraying expenses such as transportation on Achievement Day.

Annual Meeting Hears Good Reports

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 2.—(ENS). — Rev. Dr. G. S Easton, of Trinity United church, Peterborough, was the guest speaker at the annual congregational meeting of Lakefield United church Friday evening.

The meeting commenced at 6.45 p.m. with a pot luck supper served by the ladies, after which the business session opened with a hymn and prayer by Rev. G. F. Kelly.

The treasurer's report was read by Geo. H. Spence and Mr. Kelly, in the absence of J. A. Porter, gave the missionary report. Both reports showed a good financial year had been completed.

The slate of officers was presented by Geo. E. Mullen They are: Elders re-elected for term of five years, A. E. Higgins, Geo H. Spence and T. T. Milburn; stewards elected for five year term, W. W. Leonard, W. J. Charlton, F. L. Erskine and Clayton Bullock. E. Sloan and Percy Spence added to the board of trustees; church treasurer, Geo. H. Spence; auditors, W. A. Fairbairn and D. J Campbell; ushers, Ralph Jackman, Arnold Jackman, Harry Spence, David Spence, Braden Bullock, Geo. Tanner, Gordon Carveth, Bob McCracken.

Cable Received.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the reading of a cable by Rev. G F. Kelly from the Lord Mayor of London, England, thanking the congregation for the $100 white gift sent at Christmas time for the children's division of the British War Victims' Fund.

Dr. Easton, who is convener of the M. and M. Fund for the conference, congratulated the church officials for their fine work accomplished during the year. He said: "God made a good world and all would be peaceful were it not for the greediness among men. Wherever the Union Jack flies, there is freedom, because the Union Jack stands for freedom. The church also stands for freedom and if we would all work together with the church we would make a better world."

The Misses Maragret and Olga Westbye of Peterborough, delighted the gathering with several vocal solos and duets.

W.M.S. Instals New Officers

SPRINGVILLE, Feb. 2—(ENS). — Miss J. Schaeffer was hostess to the W.M.S. for the January meeting.

The following officers for 1942 were installed: Past President, Mrs. S. S. Staples; President, Mrs. J. F. Everson; Vice-president, Mrs. F. Clarke; Secretary, Mrs. O. Dunford; Treasurer, Mrs. J. Whitfield. Sesretaries. — Christian Stewardship, Mrs. Grandy; Temperance, Mrs. M. H. Johnston; Literature, Mrs. H. Rowan; Missionary Monthy, Mrs. E. Johnston; Press, Mrs. J. Whitfield. Group Leaders.—Mrs. Murray, Mrs. G. Whitfield, Mrs. Gilmour and Mrs. Hunter.

Mrs. Everson then took the chair and conducted a brief business period. Mrs. H. Cathcart and Miss J. Schaffer were appointed delegates to the Presbyterial.

The treasurer's report, showing that $162 had been raised during 1941, was given.

Letters of appreciation from Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Everson and Mrs. Lord were read.

Mrs. B. Preston offered her home for the combined W.M.S. meeting and Day of Prayer service in February. Mrs. Murray, leader of Group 2, to be in charge.

Mrs. Shaw was in charge of the worship period and chose for her subject, "Forward." "There is no standing still," Mrs. Shaw said; 'we must progress or we go back." Those present were urged to go forward to meet tasks that would demand their utmost any to remember that 'every mile God has chosen for me and everywhere I pitch my tent he has chosen."

Mrs. G. Whitfield, leader of Group 1, then took charge. She stressed the fact that this year we must work harded and pray more.

Readings on the New Year were given by Mrs. Kelk and Mrs. F. Clarke.

Mrs. Whitfield then introduced the study book. Readings on China were given by Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. R. Wood, and Mrs. J. Whitfield.

After the hymn, "Oh, Master, Let Me Walk With Thee," Mrs. A. Hunter closed the meeting with prayer.

Successful Euchre

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 2. — (ENS).— The members of Christ Church Parish Guild were well pleased with the attendance at a euchre party held in the Parish Hall on Saturday evening. Nine tables took part in the playing and the prizes were presented at the close by Miss Gertrude Maynard to the winners, Mrs. Eric Tinney and Mr. John Ray. The proceeds will be used to further the work of the Guild, which is giving consideration to another euchre in the near future.

Masonic Funeral For George Third

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 2 (ENS) —Funeral services for George Third, 83, one time prominent resident of Seymour township and for the past nineteen years a resident of Campbellford, will be held from his late residence on Alma street, Tuesday afternoon. For nearly half a century Mr. Third figured as one of the leading farmers and dairymen in the township. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Third, and though farming was his primary interest he also found time to take part in township affairs, having served for nearly thirty years both as councillor and deputy reeve. He was for some time a school trustee for the English Line School and as a patron of the Kimberley Cheese and Butter Company was elected to the Board of Directors, and served in the office of president for almost twenty years.

On his retirement from the farm Mr. Third brought his wife to Campbellford but he continued to be active, and as a consequence he accepted a position as Road Superintendent in Huron County, which he held for five years. His wife, the former Margaret Eagleson, predeceased him eleven years ago and he is now survived by five sons. Neil of Seymour township, Herbert of Stirling; Alfred in Sacramento, Cal.; Thomas, New York City and Henry of Fort Erie, Ont. One brother, Thomas of Edmonton, Alberta, and two sisters, Mrs. William Ketcheson, Chicago, and Mrs. Mary Eagleson of Seymour, also survive.

The funeral service will be under Masonic auspices at 2.30 E.D.S.T. and interment will be at Burnbrae cemetery.

Catholic Women Hold Euchre Party

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 2.— (ENS).— Members of the Catholic Women's League were the hostesses Thursday evening in St. Paul's parish hall for a euchre party. Five tables were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Trude and John McManus, for high score, and Miss Pearl Charlton and Martin Sullivan consolation prizes.

Following the games dainty refreshments were served by the ladies.

Advertising Man To Address Kinsmen Club

COBOURG, Feb. 2 (ENS) —Mr. J. H. Turnpenny, advertising manager of the British American Oil Company will be the guest speaker at the Kinsmen club on Tuesday night. Another speaker will be Mr. Hal Rogers, Kinsmen National War chairman of the Milk for Britain Fund, and founder of the Kinsmen organization.

Among the guests will be the Cobourg council headed by Mayor J. D. Burnet. The meeting will also consist of the regular get-together of the local service unit.

Meet Tonight

The regular meeting of the Cobourg Public Utilities will take place here tonight in the Utility office on Division street.

Down to Zero

Cold weather again visited Cobourg on Sunday with an even mark of zero being recorded on Division street at eleven o'clock.

Seriously Ill

Mrs. Frances Gordon underwent a serious operation in St. Michael's hospital this week. She was removed to the Toronto hospital on Wednesday last for the surgical treatment.

Back to Duty

Fifty members of the 1st Midland Regiment, C.A.S.F., returned to camp today from here on the expiration of their four day leave. These men will not be here again until the end of the month under the new leave system.

Soldier Is Ill

Gunner Archie Campbell, R.C.A., Canadian Army Overseas, underwent another operation in England during the past three weeks, according to word received here.

Campbell was a very well-known athlete in local hockey and baseball circles during the past ten years and before that in Belleville.

Recent Newlyweds Honored By Friends

GILMOUR, Feb. 2—(ENS). — A shower held by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McCall and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Miles was held at the home of a recent bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Darling (nee Jane McConnel), where a large crowd gathered to enjoy themselves at dancing and cards.

At midnight Mr. and Mrs. Darling were asked to take the seats of honor, and Mrs. Cecil Miles read a very appropriate address, and asked them to accept several gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Darling both gave suitable replies.

Lunch was served and dancing was started again.

HOW HE GOT IT

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, was named after a mountain in Georgia where his fathed was wounded in a Civil War battle.

Beginning Our Second Year

On this, the First Anniversary of our business, may we repeat the principles upon which it was founded—

- To win confidence by meriting it.
- To create and hold a reputation for fair dealing and friendliness.
- To build a progressive business that will always be abreast of changing times.
- To ask moderate and honest prices for our services rather than lower our standards of quality for consideration of price.

We believe that strict adherence to these ideals has been the reason for the growth of our business.

May we express our deep gratitude to the people of Peterborough and the neighboring communities for their splendid support of our efforts to render a maximum of service to the community.

Value Of Cadet Training

Discussion is becoming quite general again about cadet training in the schools. It is to be hoped that the subject does not raise the opposition anywhere which was rolled up against it in Ontario a few years ago. There may be sound financial reasons why it is not practicable or may not be, on account of the cost for uniforms, but leaving that problem aside, there could be no training better suited to develop the physical and disciplinary side of youths when they are in secondary schools than the training given by ordered manoeuvres and regulation of conduct, together with the alertness and the precision necessary to the movements of platoons or battalions. Such an opportunity has been open to boys in advanced forms in the secondary schools of Peterborough for some time.

The basis of the objections raised, when the matter was alive in Ontario at an earlier date, was that it had a tendency to make young people war-like. That was at a time when the current was running rather strong for a civilization which would exemplify only peace. Most of the argument was advanced by women through their organizations and they were sincerely strong in their convictions that boys entering, or in adolescence, would unconsciously become militaristic if taught the principles of soldiering.

This would seem to be a logical view, but the judgment of those who took cadet training in collegiates thirty odd years ago, and have watched the careers of others who have gone out into the busy world, does not go that far. Rather, experience would show that the training received had little or no influence in making the men so trained any more war-like than were others of the same generation who were not cadets. Results depend on the social outlook of any age and on the idea behind the corps instruction. If, as in Germany, the rising generation is taught to glorify war and weapons; if that kind of thing is a political, half-religious motive, accompanied by hate for another race than your own, then it would seem that cadets would naturally carry that ideology through their lives and put it into practice when their country decided to become belligerent.

What has taken place since 1939 proves that until some federation of peace-loving democracies, or other combination of powers is set up to prevent a recurrence of the war of 1914-18, and now the present war—until that international condition is created any physical development, discipline and elementary instructions of a military character given youths should not be, need not be, anything more than training for self-preservation.

The policy of drift and non-preparedness in Britain has made possible a loss of lives and property which might not have taken place if a more robust and realistic outlook had prevailed following the Armistice of 1918. Huge sums of money have already been spent by the Federal Government on giving a short period of military training to thousands of young men. Had half a million or more of the boys and youths been given drill of this kind in the peaceful, academic environment of schools during the past quarter of a century, they would be better equipped to fit into any war program today. From a purely character and body-building point of view, however, the education a cadet gets makes him stand up straight, walk with a firm, strong step, respect the orders of those over him and conform to the team work necessary to group formations. Boys who have been given this kind of training in this city and district manifest what it has done for them.

Why This Grouching?

What is the difference between a person who talks subversively on war matters and the one who complains in bad humor and protest because he or she is asked to cut down on sugar or some other supply in order to help this country in its efforts against the enemy.

What, according to their reports, some of the clerks in stores have listened to during the past few days from disgruntled citizens, not a few of them women, hasn't sounded like anything even faintly related to loyalty and patriotism. One prefers to think, however, that grouchers and ill-tempered people of this kind are simply not yet seized of the fact that a war is on and that enemy submarines are operating not far off the coasts of Canada and the United States.

Perhaps if they were brought face to face with grim realities, through bomb raids or other attacks, they might prove to be true, tough patriots, but meanwhile they are making themselves offensive to salesmen and saleswomen who are merely carrying out the instructions given them, as a result of the country's situation.

Bolstering World Fronts

A careful reading of Prime Minister Churchill's address to the British House of Commons, giving a broad survey of the war picture, together with President Roosevelt's remarks to press correspondents at Washington, reveals a little of what is now going on in Allied activity. Taking the two pronouncements, guarded, as they necessarily must be, one can get a glimpse of developments that are the beginning of a united and powerful offensive.

In addition to what has been made public from time to time of the movements and policies of the British High Command, we now have the news that six, eight or ten American Expeditionary Forces are operating in various parts of the world. There comes to one, therefore, a new, vigorous sense of confidence with the tangible evidence of what Mr. Churchill has frequently declared, namely, that the enemy will be fought wherever he is found and that fight will go on to the day when Naziism, Fascism and Nipponism is defeated.

What so often is overlooked when comparisons are made between what German forces have won and what Britain has lost to date—is that the two European Axis powers—Germany and Italy, with their allies—suddenly swooped down on a number of Central European countries and overran them before any effective opposition could be given.

Consequently, as a glance at the map shows, these powers are able to concentrate their principal strength on a kind of territorial hub from which their armed legions work outward. Britain, on the other hand, has as its centre only the three small islands with even a part of one—Eire, or Southern Ireland—of no use as a partner, and its navy, air force and army have to be spread over many parts of the globe. That obviously has placed it at a disadvantage when its equipment and munitions have not been what were needed until recently. Indeed Empire manpower has been spread rather thinly over certain sections of the world's battlefronts. Now, as a consequence of close co-operation between Britain and the United States the Empire forces are being speedily reinforced. The results will become evident as spring opens out.

Thieves Are Thieves

The order from Ottawa affecting the use of motor car tires has brought to light a big batch of thieves, according to news reports from different parts of the country. The old saw might now be paraphrase to read: "Necessity is the destroyer of convention." Many who were going along as apparently decent, law-abiding citizens have suddenly turned loose the primitive instinct to take whatever is wanted, regardless of the fact that it belongs to someone else.

This practice of helping one's self was pardonable among the North American Indians because it was an age-old part of their social and moral nature. To them it wasn't theft. They didn't understand what the word meant. The only time they forcifully took things from others was when they went out on the war path against enemies. That custom of seizing the possessions of those whom you can over-power still exists among hill and desert tribes. With the Indians, however, of this Continent, foods, utensils and so on that were badly needed were taken from one tepee or another to merely satisfy a want, not to injure anybody else. It is the way of living yet in the Canadian North that the door of a hut or cabin is left unlocked—that is by most people—so that any person on the trail may go in and rest, or get a meal, or take what will help to sustain him against starvation or cold. Woe betide the person, though, who "steals" or deliberately pilfers what custom says he shouldn't take. The law of retribution exacts rough toll.

In the more thickly settled parts of the Dominion, where roads are in use instead of trails, where civilization has moved up to written legislation, and where educational opportunities acquaint every person from childhood up with the fact that to take what is the property of somebody else without the proper procedure of buying and selling, or of borrowing with the distinct promise to return or to reimburse—in a social state long accustomed to these laws it is a crime to take, with artful design and cunning, that which is known to be another's. Because the article happens to be an automobile tire doesn't make the purloining any the less a serious violation of the criminal code and therefore punishable by the court.

By some strange process of thinking, there are a limited number of people who seem to bring themselves to the point of believing that there are certain kinds of "lifting" which is quite respectable if you can "get away with it." They will take silverware, glasses, towels and so forth out of hotels, restaurants, boarding houses, even out of the homes of friends whom they are visiting and gloat secretly over the idea that they have cleverly fooled everybody. Some men and women in high places, who are strict moral observers in other respects, appear to treat petty theft of this kind as a half-lark. Occasionally medical men and nurses have been known to help themselves to all the towels they want in hospitals and sanatoria and take them to their private dwellings. Commercial travellers, also, have been heard to joke about what they "captured" and how cleverly they "got away with it." Of course very few indeed in any class have been guilty of this offence but the practice of that scattered few has done injury to the honest, respectable majority.

Tire stealing is grossly reprehensible. Thieves of this class are dangerous to the community because a tire is not a trifle, and any persons who would rob his neighbor of this essential article should be given the punishment he deserves. Attorney-General Conant has been aware of the probability of such criminality and has sent out a warning for people to be watchful. Law enforcement officers should keep a sharp eye on these unprincipled offenders.

NOTE AND COMMENT

When all Canada goes on daylight saving, February 9th, what opportunity is going to be left for anybody to miss trains, boats and undesired appointments?

When any one says the white collar class is on the way out, he merely means, probably, that they have gathered up enough dimes to pay for their laundry and are going to "call on the best girl."

Premier Churchill has received some splendid editorial comments for his strong, frank statement to the British Commons, according to leading papers in the United States, New Zealand, Spain, South America and elsewhere. One of his admirable qualities is his courage and candor.

Canadians as well as the people of the United States did join in wishing President Roosevelt many years of health and public service. He entered on his sixty-first birthday on Jan. 30 and perhaps nothing appeals to him more on each anniversary, as it comes around, than the knowledge that all over the great republic parties and dances are held to raise money with which to overcome the handicap of Infantile Paralysis from which the President himself suffered. What he has done with a strong will to battle against the affliction is one of the inspiring features of his career.

"Remember Pearl Harbor" has become a slogan in the United States and, like most slogans, is superficial. It may serve a good purpose, nevertheless. But there are two facts the thoughtful will ponder, one is, of course, that the Japs practiced the basest of treachery, the other that two high commanding officers, an Admiral and a General, have been found grossly negligent and may be court martialed. Pearl Harbor might well be known hereafter as MacArthur Harbor, after the splendid General who is doing so much to redeem the prestige of his country.

LONDON PORT

Long ago our seamen brave
Feats of heroism wrought;
Slew the foe and rode the wave,
Bringing food to London Port

To subdue our island home,
Knaves before have vainly sought;
Snug behind the Channel foam
Sentinel stood London Port.

Now, as then, our foemen sly
Once again shall be outfought
Ships of nations still shall ply
In and out of London Port.

Every Holdup Deadly To Jap Plans

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—The United Nations-Axis struggle is at a crisis on the Pacific front almost as grave for the Allies as it was for Britain in that black June of 1940 when France fell.

Even so, the essential fact is that Britain weathered that storm. The tight little isle stands today stronger and better prepared to fight for freedom than ever before. It is the symbol of Hitler's greatest defeat. Not even his retreat in Russia yet has like significance.

Can besieged Singapore or the menaced Netherlands colonial empire in the far Pacific similarly survive agains all the Japanese have done or can do?

Prime Minister Churchill, Britain's sturdy and courageous war captain, did not undertake to answer that question when seeking Parliamentary approval of both his own leadership and of the strategy that exposed Empire Pacific outposts. He would make no promise except that of ultimate victory. That frank acceptance of personal responsibility, and readiness to take the bad with the good, lost him no confidence votes.

ELEMENT OF DESPERATION

Mr. Churchill sought no refuge behind the several circumstances in the far Pacific he could have noted to lighten the gloom. He did not minimize the danger to Singapore, to the Netherlands Indies, to Australia. Nor did he set out the measures taken or concerted with Washington to stem the Japanese attack beyond repeating that reinforcements had arrived in the Southwestern Pacific war zone.

There is other evidence of that. The Admiralty's acknowledgment of loss of a destroyer, in a running fight off the Malayan coast, is one such item.

Japan also lost a destroyer in that action. It increased the toll the American-British-Netherlands forces are taking of seacraft which the enemy can ill spare in a battle that has just begun in those seas.

Tokyo knows that. The very scope of the expanded Nipponese drive to master the rich Netherlands Indies even before the Singapore and Luzon resistance centres have been cracked has an element of desperation in it.

It emphasizes the vital time element for Japan. It is now or never for the Nazi-minded Tokyo war pundits. It is all or nothing for them, and every moment of delay in Malaya and the Philippines or in the passages to the Java Sea is to the advantage of the Allies.

THREAT FROM SIBERIA

The effect of the American-Filipino stand on Batan Peninsula, of the fighting retreat to Singapore of the British forces in Malaya, of the Chinese offensive on many fronts against Japanese invaders, is cumulative. Each makes its own demand upon Japanese army, naval, air and shipping resources.

There is an added deterrent factor for Japan in Russia's aloofness from the Pacific conflict. Russia's Asiatic frontiers are heavily manned. Even the crisis at Moscow failed to lessen materially Red Army air and submarine concentrations at Vladivostok. That pins heavy Japanese defensive forces in the north, remote from the crucial war fronts.

It is beyond reason that Tokyo places any real reliance in the Russo-Japanese non-aggression pact. That was a marriage of convenience for them both.

Japan gambled that under German hammering in the West, the Russians would not dare enter a two-front war before Nipponese major objectives in the South Pacific had been attained.

But Nazi hammering in Russia has ceased. Whenever and wherever the front stabilizes there it will stabilize for months. That will be the moment when Tokyo must look northward with apprehension redoubled.

EINSTEIN'S VIEW

PROFESSOR Albert Einstein says "This war will come out well for the democracies. We must strike hard and leave the breaking to the other side." Unfortunately Dr. Einstein followed for many years a philosophy of unrealistic pacifism. Before he faced the facts, he and many like him unwittingly did much to encourage the aggressors with whom we are now locked in a death struggle. It is to be hoped that henceforth Dr. Einstein will think as clearly along political and social lines as he does along mathematical lines.—Brantford Expositor.

WHAT THE COAST WANTS

This suggestion is made in the belief that the Pacific Coast has become Canada's No. 1 war front, and that since December 7, 1941, the defence of the Atlantic seaboard has become secondary, so far as Canada's active participation goes, to the defence of the Pacific seaboard.—Vancouver Sun.

DON'T BELIEVE HIM

The best think anybody can do in a theatre panic is to keep his head. That's the best thing we can do now in wartime.

Beware of that awful fellow, Ben Told. He's a fear monger and panic spreader. His name is on too many lips. "I've Ben Told this, and I've Ben Told that." He's a real fifth columnist.—Detroit Free Press.

Letters To The Editor

LET US HAVE LASTING MEMORIALS

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—Besides caskets we see flowers banked in profusion, rows and rows of them. To show our regard for the departed and our sympthy for the bereaved we send flowers which soon fade. Why not invest in a lasting memorial to our loved ones? "In what form?" is the thought in your mind.

The formation of a "Lasting Memorial Society" would be the answer. Ordinarily, a person spends from three to ten dollars for flowers; if such a society were in existence the donation could be sent to it. When five thousand dollars or so was accumulated, the society could acquire a home for old couples and worthy single people in straightened circumstances, who would be asked for a much lower rent than they would pay elsewhere. Different sized apartments could be obtained in the building—mainly small rooms with light housekeeping facilities. The caretaker and his wife, who might be tenants, could manage a cafeteria for those who wanted to buy their meals occasionally and for any sick ones; a nurse's attention also could be provided in emergency.

But you are thinking, "Anson House and the House of Providence cover that need."

No, they do not; these proposed homes are for couples who wish to be independent of their children or of charity, and who are willing and probably able to earn some money still, but not able to pay a high rent for respectable rooms. Comfortable, heated, well-lighted rooms, either furnished or not, would be an Eldorado for many couples in their sixties, who obtain only part-time employment.

Think of the amount of money which has been spent in buying flowers. Some funerals run over a hundred dollars in flowers; and, if we reckon on a funeral a week in a town, there is, roughly, $5,000 a year. Think of the number of such homes for older people, which could have been built in our city with the thousands of dollars spent on temporary memorials to the departed ones. Think of the joy which would have been brought to the hearts of the worthy couples; they would not be dependent on cold charity but could retain their pride by helping to pay their own way themselves.

'What! have no flowers at funerals?" you ask.

"Yes, a few; less than half a dozen bunches are ample and in much better taste than banks of them."

When your donation is sent to the Lasting Memorial fund the treasurer deducts enough money for probably four bunches of flowers, sends the names of donors as well as the aggregate sum to the bereaved family; the balance is retained for the building of a Lasting Memorial; a monthly account could be published in the paper.

Why not co-operate to make better use of the money in expressing the exuberance of our sympathy by building Lasting Memorials for the benefit of living people.

A.F.F.T.

SQUARE DEAL WANTED

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—The Legion is trying to make the public believe that all the veterans are out solid for conscription. I may say such is not the case, it is only the official brass hats of the organization that are looking for soft jobs out of the conscription issue. I have just come back from Christie Street Hospital and you should hear the opinion of the boys up there about Mr. Meighen and Mr. King. They want nothing to do with any one of them, all the veterans want is a square deal and they are not getting that, and the Legion is making no effort to get them a square deal. When a horse gets too old they shoot it and send it to the glue factory, now if they do not give the old soldiers any more than $40 per month to live on, they would better start now and shoot a few of us and send us to a glue factory at once.

Can any clear thinking veterans vote for conscription to send his sons over to Europe when he looks around and sees big husky, able-bodied farmers and young men doing patrol duty that ex-soldiers should be doing. They surely need a shaking up in the local Legion as I see it, you can not have an officer at the training centre working for the government and at the same time working in the so-called interest of ex-servicemen. No man can service two masters, not even the great president of the local Legion. Veterans do not be lead away by brass hats.

W. MASTER.

• Larger Rural School Units

THE Larger Unit of Administration for rural areas has, up to now, been a much misunderstood subject to the majority of trustees and ratepayers.

Some years ago, when this topic was first introduced at the Rural Trustees section of the Ontario Educational Convention during Easter week, the delegates objected so strenuously that a speaker was scarcely tolerated on the platform who advocated this measure.

Today, the opposition is slowly decreasing probably because of the trustees who are now serving on the larger boards, speaking favorably for this advantageous method of administration.

The small school section originated and reached its highest development in the New England States around 1928. In Massachusetts, the small unit not only had the right to hire and fire teachers, but they also had the right to certificate teachers. It had the right to choose its own text books, its own course of study and to entirely finance its school. While this was considered very democratic, the historian of the State of Massachusetts states, it was the low mark of education in that state.

Over fifty years ago, this state discarded the small school section and went back to the township area which at that time was the English system. The present "Larger Unit of Administration" which is being advocated for Ontario rural school sections, today, was the English system of school administration over fifty years ago. England has long since discarded the township unit and has gone in for much larger county units. One educationist recently stated that "the small unit is neither democratic nor particularly British. It is nothing short of antiquated Americanism."

One objection to the "Larger unit" that is most frequently heard is that it leans towards "Consolidated Schools." This is absolutely untrue. Sections may unite in any number feasible to the Inspector and Department of Education, but the number usually found to be most satisfactory is 5 or 6 school sections. A Board of 5 trustees is elected to control the sections, one trustee from each school section. The school section boundaries remain exactly the same as when the small unit was in control. Instead of three trustees controlling each section, only one trustee is elected to the Larger Unit Board. The trustees are nominated exactly the same as township councillors, on nomination day, and are voted on at the township election.

Some of the advantages obtained by the Larger Unit Board is greater co-operation between school sections, in buying school supplies, coal and wood, library facilities, inaugurating manual training with an itinerant teacher, household science. Special equipment can be used in turn by all the schools instead of purchasing expensive equipment for each school.

Regular board meetings are held and, as a rule the Inspector is present, giving expert advice on school problems which include finance. A well qualified secretary-treasurer well versed in the Schools Act can be obtained with better business administration and school accounting as a result. It is much easier to arrange transportation for high school pupils to the nearest high school under this larger Board of Administration, thereby giving rural children an equal opportunity in education with their urban cousins.

It was 20 below zero here early this morning and at noon it was still 10 below.

OIL IN FAR NORTH

OTHER northern oil possibilities than those of the Athabaska tar sands are receiving much publicity. The New York Herald-Tribune had a lengthy article a week ago Sunday which stressed the potential value of Fort Norman field as a source of supply for Alaskan war bases. It was pointed out that with a winter road and a pipe line connection Norman and Mayo, at the head of Yukon River navigation, "Alaska would no longer be wholly dependent on coastwise tanker service for oil and its new source would be far removed from any likely scene of conflict." — Edmonton Journal.

IN SOUTH AFRICA

ON Saturday the South African Parliament, by a vote of 90 to 48, rejected an Opposition proposal for the creation of a republic of South Africa, independent of the British Empire. The Minister of Finance, Hon. J. H. Hofmeyr, described the motion, which had been introduced by Dr. D. F. Malan, as "an effrontery," because, he said, Malan was "the leader of a disolving party and a dwindling sections of the people." Recalling that the South African Parliament had approved the Smut's Government's resolution of war by a bare majority of 16, as against this two-to-one defeat of the Malan motion, there seems to be no exaggeration in describing the faction he leads as representing "a dwindling section of the people."—Sydney Post-Record.

A WIS EMOVE

The Government has done the wise thing in placing the whole of Canada on daylight saving. With the United States on daylight saving and the Canadian railways going on advanced time it would be awkward for those portions of Canada which are still on standard time like Western Ontario. The daylight saving will go into force on February 9.—London Free Press.

Badminton Party At Y.W.

Seven soldiers from the Training Centre were guests of the Girls' Badminton Club at the Y.W. on Saturday, when the girls held a mixed badminton party. Play started at 4.30 and a welcome supper prepared by Misses Betty Detcher, Lily Taylor, Gertrude Butcher and Mrs. Harold Minion was served. After supper the military guests performed some mopping up operations on the dishes and the enemy was completely wiped out in short order. The party was an unqualified success and came to an end all too soon. However, the girls hope to have another party in the near future.

Chamberlain—Rose

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose, Driscoll Terrace, when their daughter, Betty, was united in marriage to Pte. George Chamberlain, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Chamberlain, of Expanses, Saskatchewan. The home was decorated with pink and white streamers and Adjutant Norman Buckley performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a turquoise blue dress with black hat and gloves and black suede shoes. Her attendant was Miss Irene Moore, who wore an old rose frock with black hat and accessories. The best man was Pte. Runel Mather.

Cassan—Sherwin

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 2. (ENS) —A quiet wedding was solemnized in the United Church parsonage at Trenton on January 29 when Doris Mae Sherwin, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Sherwin of Brighton became the bride of Jack G. Cassan, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet H. Cassan of Campbellford. Rev. P. G. McClennan officiated. Miss Pauline Cassan, sister of the groom and Mr. Jack Sherwin, brother of the bride, were the couple's only attendants. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Brighton and the guests included the immediate members of the two families. Mr. and Mrs. Cassan will reside in Campbellford.

Girls' Supper Club Donates $75

Miss Gwennie Bond delighted members of the Supper Club with her rendition of the gently satirical "American Lullabye" and the old favourite, "Home Sweet Home."

The members decided to donate $75.00 to Mrs. Winston Churchill Fund, to be used in the club or hostel nearest Peterborough, England. They aso agreed to donate $20.00 to the "Y" for the purchase of kitchen equipment.

The meeting was held as usual in the Recreation Room with Miss Helen Miller, president, presiding.

British Girls In Lonely Camps Welcome Visitors

One of the great services which the British Y.W.C.A. renders to the girls in the services is the taking of a "Club on Wheels" to girls in camps in lonely, isolated areas, serving the men who man the anti-aircraft guns. These groups are too small to warrant the establishment of a hut but their need for a chance to relax is great, since they seldom leave their camps and are seldom visited.

These "clubs on wheels" are cars of vans which are driven by "Y" organizers through blitz and blackout, often over shell-torn roads and round shell craters, often covering hundreds of miles in their weekly rounds. They carry a supply of cosmetics, hair-dressing requisites, cigarettes, and when it is available, chocolate, and in addition, a small circulating library. The vans are equipped with cinema projectors so that the girl and their men friends can enjoy a short film show.

But better than all these luxuries, for in Britain to-day they are luxuries, the girls welcome the weekly visit from the outside world; a chat with someone who is not in uniform whom they do not have to salute; someone with whom they can associate on the free and easy terms of civilian life.

The cost of providing these necessary, much appreciated services is now far beyond the resources of the British Y.W. and they have appealed to their sister organizations in the Dominions for help. In Canada the Mrs. Winston Churchill has been organized for that purpose.

Sat. Night Club To Hold Dance For War Victims

Three basketball teams, the two ladies' teams from the C.G.E. and the Belleville R.C.A.F. teams were guests of the Saturday Night Club on Saturday at the regular weekly dance. Lloyd Budge and his orchestra provided the music as usual. The prizes for the spot dance were won by Miss Dot Brown and Mr. Reg. Chumley. Madeline Spence won the door prize.

The three-quarter length sleeve is becoming more and more popular. One youny lady wore it in a tailored dress of dusky rose crepe with a gored skirt. A pretty blond girl favored powder blue wool with a fitted bodice and high neckline, finished with white collar and cuffs.

A slim dark girl was jitter-bugging gaily in a black and white striped sweater and a pale yellow, knife-pleated skirt. 280 people were present at the dance.

Next week the dance will be a special one for the benefit of the British War Victims' Fund and a good turnout is expected.

Helen J. Porter Marries FO. Thomas Church

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 2.—(ENS)— White and ivory stocks, evergreens and tall, lighted ivory tapers in silver candelabra formed the setting in the Lakefield United Church on Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Helen Josephine Porter, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Porter, Lakefield, to Flying Officer Thomas Gordon Church, R.C.A.F., Fingal, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Primrose Church of Vanouver, British Columbia. The Rev. Mr. G. F. Kelly officiated. Wedding music was played by Mrs. H. E. Moore and during the signing of the register W. H. Walker of Toronto sang "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a graceful gown of ivory Faille made with a shirred bodice and torso back with a short train. She wore a halo and finger-tip veil of net and carried ophelia roses and bouvardia.

Miss Elizabeth Barclay, daughter of Dr. G. O. Barclay of Ottawa was her cousin's bridesmaid and wore an American beauty sheer gown, royal blue shoulder veil and carried Talisman roses. Flying Officer Cecil Elliott of Toronto, now of Fingal, was groomsman. The ushers were Dr. Borden Marshall of Toronto and Mr. Jack Dobbin of Peterborough.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Porter received her guests wearing a gown of pencil blue sheer, with a hat of navy straw trimmed with forget-me-nots, and a corsage of American Beauty roses. Miss Cora Charlton delighted the guests with her solo, "My Orchid."

Later the bride donned a printed silk frock of red and green, a paddy green French felt hat and brown and green accessories, for the honeymoon, which will be spent at the Gray Rocks Inn, St. Jovite in the Laurentians. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Church will reside at 106 Wellington street, St. Thomas.

Mrs. Church is a graduate in Arts of Queen's University and her husband a graduate metallurgical engineer of the University of British Columbia.

FASHIONS

Here's the style you know is easy to sew and easy to wear—Pattern 9763, designed by Marian Martin as your wardrobe "stand-by." It makes a one-piece classic shirtwaister as well...the two-piece version has the new hip-length blouse, the trim notched collar that makes it so attractive. Shoulders darts fit the blouse in front, a wee bit of fullness is gathered into the belt both back and front. The four buttons can be self-covered or made of novelty plastic for a color touch. In shantung crepe, a short sleeved mode is just right for the coming season—the one-piece version shown is serviceable too—make both.

Pattern 9763 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 4⅝ yards 39-inch fabric.

AN EXCEPTIONALLY lively, progeressive and enterprising day, with al things moving at high tempo and into new grooves of initiative and achievement. It is a time to push propositions of magnitude and audacity, with heightened energies, resourcefulness, determination, courage and power. There is, however, a present danger of overdoing or too strenuous or aggressive action, with tendencies to overspend, to excess optimism and enthusism.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of high pressure activities, with all things moving into bold and adventurous grooves of achievement. New projects of magnitude are under fine spur foor constructive effort, with initiative and enterprise keyed to advanced and original objectives, with power, courage, determination and virility. However, there may be a tendency to extravagance, prodigality and overdoing.

A child born on this day will have great executive, constructive and productive forces and faculties, with much virility, courage and enterprise.

MOTHER'S PITY, SYMPATHY OFTEN BRING RUIN TO SONS

Fly the Flag of Glory, Especially If Your Young Man Is Headed for the Army.

From time immemorial mothers' tears and mothers' sympathy have been glorified by sentimentalists, but, in reality, they are one of the most baneful and demoralizing influence in the world. They are responsible for more failures in life, they have made more quitters and cowards and shirkers, and been at the bottom of more divorces than all other causes combined.

This would seem a hard saying to the women who believe that mothers should be a mush of pity and that they should dissolve in brine and "poor darling" their youngsters whenever they get any of the bumps of existence, but for all of that it is true. No mother does her children such a wrong as the one who brings them up to be softies who cannot endure hardships, when what they are going to need in life is the grit to stand up and take whatever comes without flinching.

And it is the mother who decides, while her children are still in the cradle, whether they are going to grow up into weaklings or strong men and women. If, when little Johnny falls and bumps his nose, mother runs and picks him up, beats the bad floor for hurting her precious baby and lets him sob himself to sleep on her breast, you know perfectly well he is going to grow up into a self-pitier who will never get anywhere in the world, because he will always give up every undertaking as soon as the sledding gets hard.

But if, on the contrary, mother calls out cheerily: "Be brave. You are not hurt. Pick yourself up. Don't cry. Try it again, and watch your step so you won't fall," little Johnny will bite back his tears and laugh at his misadventure. And you don't need to be a prophet to foresee that little Johnny will never be sorry for himself. He will think it is fun to fight his way to the top.

Mothers Often Ruin Fine Boys

I know a woman who ruined a fine and promising boy by weeping tears of sympathy over him. They had enough money to live on decently, but not to afford luxuries, and Tom grew up to an accompaniment of mother's wails over him because he couldn't go off to expensive camps in the summer time, and he couldn't have the fine clothes that rich boys had, and he couldn't have an automobile, and he couldn't go to a swanky college, until she made Tom bitter and anarchistic and feel that he was the victim of a malign fate.

And when Tom finally went to work mother was so sorry for him because he had to work, and because he had to get up in the morning and go to the horrid old store, and because he didn't get a bank president's salary, that she made him feel like a martyr and, employees with the martyr complex not making a hit with employers, Tom lost job after job until he finally gave up trying to work at all.

But Bill's mother never shed any tears over his not being born with a silver spoon in his mouth. She pointed out to him that everything he wanted was in the world and it was up to him to go and get it. She never wearied of telling him that most of the great men in the world started from scratch, and that she expected him to be one of them. And he is.

Don't Misplace Your Sympathy

It is a matter of common knowledge that it is a mother's sympathy that is first aid to nine-tenths of the divorces. If, instead of pitying her children because they had to put up with the peculiarities of their husbands and wives, she would tell them to brace up and act like adults, it would save many a home from being broken up.

Right now, when so many young men are being called to defend their country in its hour of peril, it is mother's tears and pity for them that is making their hard task harder still. Not one of these young men but who is making a great sacrifice of his personal desires and tastes and plans and ambitions, not one but who knows that he is risking his life, but he has gathered his courage together and steeled himself to do his duty and defend his country.

In this crisis of his fate what he needs is to be bucked up, not softened by sympathy for himself, or weakened by the grief of the mother he loves. He needs a mother who will fly flags of glory before him, not wave sodden handkerchiefs; who will pour the strength of her soul into his, and who will make it easier for him to go because he goes with her blessing.

God pity the mothers whose sons must go to war, but God pity, too, the sons who have to tear the clinging arms of distraught mothers from about their necks and whose morale is broken down by the memory of their mothers' tears.

Marmalade Makers Should Buy Sugar, Oranges, Together

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—Housewives who are accustomed to making orange marmalade at this season of the year, were urged last night by George H. Rennie, regional prices and supply representatives, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, to make their purchases of both oranges and sugar at the same store.

"In that way," Mr. Rennie explained, "the retailer will be able to determine the amount of sugar required according to the number of oranges."

He added that he was making the announcement at the request of Deputy Sugar Administrator H. J. Hobbins. A check, he said, with home economists, indicated that five pounds of sugar are ample where marmalade is being made from six oranges.

"In cases where housewives find it inconvenient to purchase oranges and sugar at the same shop, the purchaser should provide the sugar retailer with a bill for the oranges so that the sugar retailer may gauge the equivalent of sugar required by the housewife," he said.

Mr. Rennie asked for the co-operation of both housewives and retailers in conserving sugar to the extent possible during the marmalade-making season.

Here's Quick Relief from

SINUS PAIN

3-Purpose Medicine Helps Clear Out Congested Sinus Areas

ONE best way to get relief from torturing sinus pain is to clear congestion from nasal passages and give sinuses a chance to drain. A few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol in each nostril is usually enough to bring this comforting relief.

3-PURPOSE MEDICINE

Va-tro-nol is so successful because it does three important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes of the nose; (2) helps clear out pain-causing congestion and (3) soothes irritation. Many sinus sufferers say it's best relief they've found. Try it!

VICKS VA-TRO-NOL

"Don't wait for me . . . I might not ring!"

"LOOK, LADY . . . I don't know what kind of a call you're waiting for, but don't sit around on my account. Why, who knows? I might not even ring! And then where would you be? Right where you started!"

NO, THERE'S NO SENSE in waiting around for what you want. If its a job you're after, or more business, go out and get it . . . and the best way to do that is to advertise in the EXAMINER.

Urge All-Star Ball Tilt With Army; Part Pay, Bonds

(By JUDSON BAILEY.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 — (AP). — A wartime program for baseball involving an all-star game with a United States Army and Navy team and partial payment of players in defence bonds, was proposed for the major leagues to-day by Larry MacPhail, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The fiery boss of the National League champions outlined an all-out emergency effort for the diamond sport last night at the 19th annual dinner of the New York baseball writers and said he expected the National and American Leagues to consider the subject at their meetings to-day.

MacPhail, a captain in the First Great War and one of a small group that attempted to kidnap the Kaiser after the Armistice, was allotted a few minutes on an extensive speaking program at the writers' affair and it was midnight before he got his chance to tell the assemblage of 1,000 persons what he thought baseball should contribute to the war program.

His suggestions fell into four groups:

1—Move this year's all-star game from little Ebbets Field to the spacious Polo Grounds and let the winner face an all-star Service team in some Mid-Western city.

2—Let everyone in organized baseball, including the players, accept a percentage of his salary in defence bonds.

3—Set aside a part of every admission to buy a bomber which he suggested might appropriately be named Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

4—Make use of every open date before and during the season for major league clubs to play service teams at Army or Navy camps.

Others in Approval.

MacPhail said he offered these suggestions on his own responsibility, and during his talk mentioned consultation with one other magnate. He said he already had talked to President Horace Stoneham of the New York Giants about transferring the all-star game and had received approval.

Since Commissioner Landis, the presidents of both major leagues and the majority of the club owners were present while he made his suggestions, it was considered probable he had discussed them with various other leaders before making them public.

He said he thought a game between the champions of the major league all-star game and a team of baseball standouts from the military services (which might include Hank Greenberg, Bob Feller, Ted Williams, Cecil Travis and others) would gross $250,000 and suggested it might be held in Cleveland or Detroit, possibly at night within a few days after the regular all-star game which now is scheduled for Brooklyn on July 7.

Georges Takes Second Place In Downhill

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 2.—Douglas Mann of Toronto registered a double triumph in the Huntsville Ski Club's second annual military meet, held here Saturday and Sunday, sweeping the downhill and slalom events in the face of stiff competition.

Racing under the colors of the R.C.A.F., the former Canadian champion and member of many powerful ski teams at McGill University, navigated the downhill run in record time Saturday and continued to show rare form in turning back the strong Royal Norwegian Air Force challenge in the slalom Sunday. Mann lowered the Big East River downhill plunge by three seconds in the opening event of the meet, covering the 1,300-foot two-run course in 66 seconds. Louis Georgas of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, Toronto, and more popularly known as the Owen Sound flash, finished second, while Carl Strousland, R.N.A.F. wound up in third position.

Heavily outnumbered, the Canadian entrants gave way to the experts from Little Norway in the jumping at Mica Mine Hill Saturday. Irne Albrechtsen annexed first place with a leap of 126 feet, well off the record held by Celius Skaavas of Toronto. Skaavas' official mark for the 150-foot jump is 137 feet, while unofficially he has set a mark of 142 feet. Conrad Mohr, R.N.A.F., won second place with a 122-foot effort. Two spills marked the initial jumps as the contestants were a little uncertain in the face of a stiff wind. Neither jumper was injured, although both broke skis.

The Norwegians also swept the gruelling cross-country grind over a nine-mile course. No Canadians were entered for the event.

Downhill—1, Douglas Mann, R.C.A.F., 66 secs.; 2, Louis Georgas, R.C.O.C., 70:9 secs.; 3, Carl Strousland, R.N.A.F., 71 secs.

Jumping — 1, Irne Albrechtsen, R.N.A.F., 126 ft.; 2, Conrad Mohr, R.N.A.F., 122 ft.; Oli Macher, R.N.A.F., 120 ft.

Cross-country—1, Ragnur Hvoself, R.N.A.F., time, 1:19.5; 2, Nico Selmer, R.N.A.F.; 3, Linn Andvig, R.N.A.F.

Slalom—1, Douglas Mann, R.C.A.F., 80 secs.; 2, Oli Blacher, R.N.A.F., 84:3 secs.; 3, Drik Eidzen, R.N.A.F., 84:8 secs.

Winnipeg Lass Retains Skating Crown

WINNIPEG, Feb. 2 — (CP). — Mary Rose Thacker held to-day her third Canadian women's figure skating championship in four years and second in a row.

With an almost flawless performance in the compulsory figures and a breath-taking free skating program, the comely Winnipeg girl defeated three opponents here on Saturday to retain the championship she won last year and in 1939.

Mary Rose outpointed tiny Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa. The 13-year-old Ottawa girl gave an excellent free-skating display, but poise and assurance that come only with experience were in favor of Mary Rose.

Succeeding Ralph McCreath as men's senior champion was youthful Michael Kirby, former Winnipegger, who has lived at Toronto for three years. McCreath, now in the Royal Canadian Air Force, did not defend his crown, and Kirby narrowly outpointed Donald Gilchrist of Toronto, only other entrant.

Eleanor O'Meara and Sandy McKechnie of Toronto won two championships. They defeated Floraine Ducharme and Wallace Diestelmeyer of Waterloo post entrants who won the junior championships on Friday, in the senior pairs, and also earned the senior waltzing crown.

CURLING NEWS

By HERB MARTIN

There will be double-headers on Tuesday night and Thursday night of this week.

Two ladies' rinks from our club are competing for the Ladies' Ontario Tankard at the Granite Club, Toronto, today.

Our next open bonspiel is set for Wednesday, Feb. 11th. It's for the Canada Packers Trophy—'member the fun we had a few days ago—get your entry to the committee as early as possible, delays might prove fatal.

A number of soldier boys, who have been curling at our club every Saturday, played their farewell game on Saturday night last. They are leaving this week. They were a fine lot of men and we wish one and all of them "good luck."

Almost a capacity house turned out on Saturday afternoon, and how those boys did go after one another. Any rink that cashed in on the prizes, earned them.

The winning rinks were:

1st	2nd
J. Freeman	G. Best
W. Widdess	D. Clark
Dr. Clark	E. Thomas
R. Payne, skip	M. Cruthers, sk.
3rd	4th
C. Lowe	K. Hawley
A. Buck	M. Wells
W. Harvey	G. Green
G. Putnam, sk.	C. Giroux, sk.

And then at night the ladies held a mixed 'spiel with the following results:

1st	2nd
Mrs. H. Jamieson	Mrs. L. Bateman
Mrs. A. Gibbs	A. Gibbs
Mrs. H. Dulmage	Mrs. Robinson
A. Robinson, sk.	E. Thomas, sk.

SPORTS – DAY BY DAY

By FRED D. CRAIG

After a two weeks home stand the Military Training Centre senior B squad takes to the road again tonight for their second last game in the regular group schedule, meeting the third-place Belleville Reliance team in Belleville. During their long run at home the Soldiers played and won four straight games, defeating the Flyers twice and taking single games from Belleville and Whitby to cement their hold on first place. Now they start the last week of the regular schedule with the pressure entirely off for no matter what happens in the remaining games the Petes can hardly be beaten out for top shelf in the group. It only needs an even break on the two games they have left to make it impossible to tie them in the matter of games won and lost and in any case if they were to drop both games—and there is no reason why they should lose either—they would still take first place by reason of their much better goals for and against average. Figures show that the Petes have scored 59 goals and had only 27 scored against them while Whitby the only team with a mathematical chance to tie them has scored only 43 and has had 52 registered against them.

* * * * * *

The Petes are confident of settling the thing beyond all argument tonight by taking a fall out of Mike Rodden's crew. They have won both their previous starts on Belleville ice this season and can see nothing to stop them making it three straight by giving Reliance another ride in tonight's engagement. Don Crowe will still be out of action but Captain Johnny Godfrey will be back at his defence post, after an absence of one game and Coach Jimmy Ellis may take a whirl at it himself tonight. Harding will play goal and Burton and Jopling will be doing a defence chore as usual while up in front the Kingdon-Tompkins-Heal and the Reilly-Nichols-Blewett lines will be carrying the mail with Bruce Bennett and Eddie Starr seeing action as extra forwards. After tonight's game the Soldiers will only have an engagement with Trenton R.C.A.F. in Belleville on Friday night to complete the regular schedule in Belleville on Friday night to complete the regular scheschedule. So far they have won three out of four games on the road and five out of their six home fixtures. Their only two losses have been by one goal and one of those was sustained in an overtime game.

Playoffs Next Week

Under the setup arranged at the beginning of the season the playoffs in this senior B group will begin a week from Wednesday with the second and third teams playing a best two-of-three series to decide which club will meet the team finishing first in a three-of-five game series for the group title. As the situation stands now it looks as if the first game of the playoffs will see Belleville meeting Whitby in Whitby on Wednesday, February 11 with the second game in Belleville on Friday, February 13. If a third game is required it will be staged in Whitby on Monday, February 16. All of which means that it may not be until Wednesday, February 18 that the first game of the final series for group honors will be played, with the Whitby-Belleville winners meeting the Military Training Centre on local ice. The third game of the series will also be played here and if a fifth should happen to be needed it would also be staged in Peterborough.

Hockey fans in this entire district were dismayed when they heard of the serious accident to Aubrey "Dit" Clapper in Saturday night's game at Toronto. There is no player in the National Hockey League with so many friends in this part of the world—and everywhere that hockey is known, for that matter—as has the Hastings boy, one of the hockey greats of all time, a big, aggressive, sportsmanlike player, who began his professional career as an ace forward and has risen to even greater fame as a fighting, hard-hitting and clever defenceman. Only a few days ago Clapper was named by Art Ross as assistant manager of the Bruins, a promotion he had richly earned. Then disaster struck. Saturday night he was the victim of a very grave and unusual accident when the Achilles tendon at the back of one heel was severed by a skate. The mishap may keep the Boston captain and defence star out of the game for the balance of the year and may end his hockey career for all time. If that should prove to be the case, professional hockey has lost one of its most popular figures and one of its strongest assets.

Outboard Marines' benefit basketball night at the Y.M.C.A. Saturday night proved a success. Much the largest crowd of the season turned out to see the Peterborough team battle with the strong Belleville R.C.A.F. cage squad. The Outboards incidentally arose to the occasion by coming from behind and pulling off a neat win over the Air Force quintette. The final score was 47 to 43. Half way home the Flyers were in front 26 to 20 and looked like winners but the homesters abandoned their zone defence policy in the second half and the man-to-man game enabled them to outscore the classy visitors 27 to 17 in the second half and come home in front. Stewart and Thorburn made the bulk of the points for the winners while Flying Officer Archie Green, playing coach of the Air Force shared honors with Patton, each of them coming through with 13 points. Two girls' teams, Generals and Electrics, staged a lively curtain-raiser with the former emerging victorious by 29 to 24.

Rangers Are Red Hot

The New York Rangers handed Toronto Leafs a bad trimming last night, winning 7 to 2 before the biggest crowd of the season in New York and as a result the Young Men of Manhattan, the warmest club in hockey right now climbed up on even terms with the injury-riddled Boston Bruins. And the Rangers have two games in hand over the Stanley Cup champions. Rangers, with three powerful lines constituting a constant scoring threat have hammered in 27 more goals this season than either the Bruins or the Leafs and are looking more and more the club of the season. Toronto had a decidedly bad week-end. After losing an overtime game at home Saturday night to the Bruins who won 3 to 2, thanks to a super-dilly exhibition of goal-minding by Frankie Brimsek, the Toronto gang were really shellacked Sunday in New York. However they got one break when their nearest rivals the Chicago Black Hawks suffered a surprise defeat at home at the hands of the Canadiens who won 3 to 2.

This is Boston's black year. With the Kraut line drafted for war service and Bill Cowley out for the season with a fractured jaw, they lost the services of Phil Hergesheimer last Thursday night with a twisted knee and Saturday night both Dit Clapper and Herbie Cain were sent to dry dock with serious injuries. Cain sustained a fractured cheek bone. When he was knocked down by Bucko McDonald Saturday night Radio Commentator Foster Hewitt described the play as a good clean bodycheck. The Bruins are getting one break, however, as the Kraut line will be able to play for the next two weeks as they are not to be called by the R.C.A.F. until February 14.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: Shag Park's Navy basketball squad will be here Saturday night for a game with the Outboard Marines....Kingston Combines won a 6 to 5 thriller from Hamilton Saturday night and now all the Penitentiary town club has to do to get a place in the playdowns is to win from Port Colborne on Friday....Boston fans have evidently given up the ship already....Only 8,500 turns out last night to see the game with Brooklyn Amerks....Red Hamill got a major and a match misconduct penalty in last night's game with the Montreal Canadiens....Rangers have a chance to take the lead when they play their Brooklyn rivals tomorrow night, provided the Bruins drop their battle with Chicago....Flyers play Whitby in Whitby tonight....Incidentally the Air Force who haven't won a game this season will be the busiest team in the group for the balance of the schedule. They meet Belleville Wednesday, the Petes in Belleville Friday, and wind up next Monday with their final game in Whitby.

Ski-ing Good Neighbors

A South American ski team consisting of four Chileans and two Bolivians has arrived to tour the United States for eight weeks to observe and study Red Cross first-aid training, the operation of the national ski patrol system and the organization of the national volunteer winter defence. It was invited to the United States by the National Ski Association which is co-operating with the office of the co-ordinator of inter-American affairs on the project. Members of the team are shown on the roof of the New Weston Hotel with the sky-line of New York in the background.

Tweed Juveniles Defeat Visitors

TWEED, Feb. 2—(ENS).—In the regular O.M.H.A. game at the local arena Friday night, Tweed Juveniles were forced into overtime before they finally edged the Campbellford aggregation 4-2, in a close checking game. Hendy, refereeing the game, kept the boys in check, which resulted in clean fast hockey being played, and the goalies had their work cut out for them, particularly Wagar in the Tweed nets, when two of his team mates were in the cooler. However, he handled everything that came his way and played a splendid game.

The only goal of the first period came from the stick of White, who rapped in a rebound after C. Rivers had fired a hard shot at McKendy. The second period went scoreless, but the penalty bench had a waiting list, with five penalties being handed out.

The last period was a hectic affair, with Campbellford tying the count, when Hamilton sifted through only to have D. Meraw take a three-way pass from Prout and Vance to put the locals one up, and then gain a two goal lead when Prout banged in a rebound from a scramble in fornt of the nets. Dunk, starry centre player for Campbellford, tallied two quick counters, the last with 30 seconds to go, to tie the count. Vance, drifting around inside the Campbellford blue line, snared a pass out from Prout to give the locals the one goal victory in the first part of the overtime. Four penalties for minor infractions were handed out in the last frame. Line-ups:

Tweed—Goal, J. Wagar; defence, D. White, D. Connor; centre, V. Prout, r. wing, L. Vance; l. wing, D Meraw; subs., G. Connor, C. Rivers, L. Rivers, C. LaVallee, B. Thompson.

Referee—Hendy.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Fab. 2 (AP)—Here's a suggestion for the big league bosses to consider at their meetings today and tomorrow . . . George Carens of the Boston Traveler proposes that one day in July should be set aside at each Park for an Infantile Paralysis Fund Benefit . . . It would be a fair enough acknowledgment of President Roosevelt's endorsement of baseball . . . We heartily second the motion but doubt that it will come up . . . If the two league's finish today's meetings on schedule it will be a triumph for the guys who keep the arguments on the straight and narrow path . . . From what we hear, they could keep going all day on the night-twilight game issue and all the red ears won't be due to the ribbing from the baseball writers last night . . . A good compromise might be to trade Clark Griffith unlimited night games for guaranteed hotel accommodations in Washington.

Today's Guest Star:
Tom Sweeney, Worcester (Mass.) Evening Gazette: "People we can't understand: hockey fans who consider it a near-tragedy because the Bruins are losing their famous 'Kraut Line' to the Canadian Armed forces . . . Better to lose a world hockey championship than to lose liberty."

One reason why Hank Greenberg so quickly became popular around Camp Custer (Mich.) was that he always took his army pay cheque and set up soft drinks and beer for his buddies as long as it lasted . . . Golfers around Fort Dix (N.J.) had better not issue any rash challenges to the medical detachment. Joe Turnesa has just been added to the pill rollers' squad, which includes Porky Ed. Oliver . . . When Dale Jones, former Detroit sandlot ball player, was cut loose from the Tigers in Judge Landis' famous housecleaning, he went to the Phillies and then to the Navy. Now he's back in Detroit doing yeoman duty at the Federal building.

R.C.A.F. Gives Krauts Leave Of Absence

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—Manager Art Rosse of the Stanley Cup champion Boston Bruins announced Saturday that the team's Kitchener line—Milt Schmidt, Bobby Bauer and Woody Dumart—had been granted leave of absence from the Royal Canadian Air Force until Feb. 14.

The trio, who enlisted in the R.C.A.F. last week after being called for active service with the Canadian home defence forces, thus will be able to play in five more National Hockey League games for the Bruins

They also will take part in next Friday's old-timer all-start contest in Boston for the benefit of the United States Army relief, and in a proposed R.C.A.F. benefit contest in Canada on Feb. 12 or 13.

The latter game, suggested for either Toronto or Ottawa, will pit the Bruins against an opponent to be selected later. Possibilities as opponents are an all-star National League team, Toronto Maple Leafs or the Ottawa team of the senior amateur league, with whom the Bruins played an exhibition game prior to the start of the season. Leafs play in Montreal Thursday, Feb. 12 and in Toronto Feb. 14 against Detroit. Consequently a Toronto game is unlikely.

N.H.L. games in which they will appear are: Feb. 1, Brooklyn at Boston; 3, Chicago at Boston; 5, Rangers at New York; 8, Detroit at Boston, and 10, Montreal at Boston.

Hockey's Big Seven

(By the Canadian Press.)

Bryan Hextall of New York Rangers managed to hold his one point lead over his teammates Lynn Patrick and Phil Watson at the head of the National Hockey League individual scoring list following week-end games. The rightwinger now has 17 goals and 18 assists for a 35-point total, compared to Patrick's 19 goals and 15 assists and Watson's 11 goals and 23 asists.

Chicago's Bill Thoms is in fourth place with 33 points, while tied in fifth spot with 30 points each are Gordie Drillon of Toronto and Boston's little Bobby Bauer. Two Detroiters, Don Grosso and Sid Abel, share the next [illegible] with 29 points apiece.

C.G.E. Generals Victors In Exhibition

Outboard Marines' brilliant last half scoring, enabled them to come from behind and eke out a thrilling 47-43 victory over Belleville I.T.S. in a well played exhibition basketball game at the Y.M.C.A. Saturday night. A packed gallery watched a smooth passing, clever shooting Air Force team set up a six point lead in the first half and the homesters come roaring back in the final period to win out in thrilling fashion.

C.G.E. Generals, who are setting the pace in the Ladies' City League, won a 29-24 victory over their sister team, the Electrics, in a fast well-played exhibition preliminary.

It was easily the best played double-header of the season and the large crowd saw a pair of games that were in doubt to the final whistle.

The Generals found themselves on the short end of a 15-14 score at half time in their battle with the Electrics, but came back to take the lead as the second half opened and maintain it to the end. It was a fast, nip and tuck battle all the way, with neither team able to set up a safe lead. The battling Electrics held a slight edge in the first half, but the winners' better shooting and some clever team work earned them the decision in the last period. Electrics had but one substitute and had to finish the game with five players as they had one thrown out with four fouls. A. Craig and M. Hodson were best for Electrics. The teams:

Generals, 29 — A. Craig 10, M. Wood 6, A. DeCarlo 2, C. Stabler 3, M. Hodson, L. Norran, B. Dundas, M. Snowden 6, E. Harte-Maxwell 2.

Electrics, 24—C. Merritt 4, E. Craig 16, M. Hodson 4, M. McCarthy, B. Stalter, H. Harte-Maxwell.

Referee—L. Grose.

A smooth working, clever passing Belleville Air Force team set up a 26-20 first half lead over Outboard Marines, but the homesters came back with a high pressure last period offence that gradually overcame their deficit and carried them out in front. The R.C.A.F. team, led by Flying Officer Archie Green, kept possession of the ball through a good portion of the first half with clever, slow moving passing plays. Marines' tight zone defense kept them from breaking in close for baskets but the Fliers gradually forged ahead with some beautiful shots from centre court.

Marines' sharp shooting kept the Air Force from getting too far ahead and after the half they opened up a fast breaking, driving attack that gave them an edge in play from then to the finish. It was a hard fought, well played contest all the way and neither team had a lead greater than six points at any time. Flying Officer Green's aggregation lived up to their reputation for clever team work and ball handling and sharp shooting and Marines were pressed to the limit before they hung up their victory. Stewart, Thorburn and McPherson were outstanding for the winners. Green and Patton starred for the R.C.A.F. team The teams:

Outboard Marines 47— Thorburn 17, McArthur 4, McPherson 2, Craig, Stewart 21, McIntyre 3, Jackafby, Rogow, Johnston

Belleville I.T.S., 43 — Kakura 4, Patton 13, Green 13, Perreault 9, Rosenstein 4.

Referee—Nels Stanger.

Drop Leadership Following Weird Battle

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The injury-riddled Boston Bruins dropped to a tie for the National Hockey League lead with the New York Rangers by permitting the lowly Brooklyn Americans to overtake them for a 2-1 triumph before a skimpy crowd of 8,500 Sunday night at the Boston Gardens.

Although the Amerks, who also were unable to dress more than thirteen players, had only five shots at Goalie Frankie Brimsek, they managed to end the second period in a 1-1 deadlock, thanks to the thirty stops made by Charlie Rayner during the first forty minutes.

Egan Gets Winning Goal

About halfway through the finale the aggressive Pat Egan rifled in the winning goal from the Boston blue line after taking a puck batted back to him as two Bruins tried to corner Ken Mosdell when he hit the defense just in time to take a pass from Mel Hill.

Mosdell also gained an assist on the Amerks' first goal, for he passed out of the right corner to Bill Summerhill, who blasted a five-footer through Brimsek during the fifteenth minute of the second period.

The Bruins' only success followed the Americans' first rush of the game, which Buzz Boll made after twelve minutes of one-sided action. Buzz got in close enough to test the Boston goalie from the edge of his crease and his rebound bounced out to Flash Hollett, who raced the length of the rink and beat Rayner with a point blank shot.

It was the second victory over the Bruins in four nights for the Amerks, who gained a hard earned 5-4 decision in New York Thursday.

Big Dit Clappr In Hospital, Tendon Severed

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—(CP)—Boston Bruins came out of one of the greatest National Hockey League games in years with a 3-2 overtime decision over Toronto Leafs Saturday night at Maple Leaf Gardens to find that the price of victory was an increase in headaches for Manager Art Ross. Dit Clapper and Herbie Cain were forced out of the game with injuries.

Dit Clapper, captain and defence star of the Bruins, was helped from the rink during the third period, suffering from a bad skate wound that came in collision with Bingo Kampman near the Boston nets. Clapper was wheeled from the Gardens on a stretcher and taken to Toronto General Hospital, where he was operated on immediately by Dr. R. J. Galloway, club physician for the Leafs.

Clapper's Achilles tendon in the left leg was cut above the angle. He will remain in hospital here for at least two weeks. It is doubtful whether he will be on skates before five weeks and there is uncertainty whether the popular Boston ace will be able to don a uniform again this winter.

Clapper was still in the Boston dressing-room, waiting for the ambulance to arrive, when Herbie Cain joined his skipper. Cain suffered a broken left cheek-bone after being jolted by Bucko McDonald. He was also taken to Toronto General Hospital. He will remain there until late this week. It is doubtful whether he can rejoin the club before ten days.

Saturday night's double casualty jolt loaded Art Ross with the greatest managerial worries experienced by a N.H.L. leader in years. Phil Hergesheimer, who joined the team Thursday against the Americans, came out of that contest with a twisted knee. He watched Saturday's game from the Boston bench. Bill Cowley, ace centre of the Bruins and 1940-41 scoring champion, is in a Detroit hospital with a shattered jaw. He is out for the season. Schmidt, Dumart and Bauer leave the club February 14 to go on active service with the R.C.A.F.

Leafs and Bruins met here Saturday before the first Toronto sell-out N.H.L. crowd of the winter, and responded with a nerve-tingling display that eclipsed anything offered this season. It was a wide-open puck-chasing battle between clubs that were at the peak of form. It featured brilliant defensive work, sparkling combination plays and a storybook show of netminding by Broda and Brimsek, the top goalies of major hockey.

It was "Bobby Bauer Night" at the Gardens for Kitchener-Waterloo sports followers. Between the first and second periods Mayor W. E. Brill of Waterloo and Durward Preston, president of the Waterloo Baseball Club, presented a silver tea service to Bauer, who managed and played outfield for the team last year. Birdie Goman, past president of the Waterloo club, presented military brush sets to Bauer and his teammate, Milt Schmidt. Milt was also an outfielder for the team.

Toronto.—Broda, goal; Kampman and Church, defence; Apps, centre; Drillon and M. Metz, wings. Alternates: McDonald, Langelle, Carr, Schriner, McCreedy, Goldham, D. Metz, Taylor, Goldup.

Officials.—Norm Lamport, referee; Obs O'Brien and Bert McCaffrey, linesmen.

First Period:

1—Toronto—McCreedy (Langgelle) 4:31

Penalties—Smith, Church, M. Metz.

Second Period:

2—Boston, Cain (Bauer) 3:49

3—Boston, Wiseman (Conacher) 8:47

4—Toronto, Drillon (Apps)...16:34

Penalty—Hollett.

Third Period:

No scoring.

Penalties—H. Jackson, McCreedy, Hollett, Wiseman.

Overtime:

5—Boston, Schmidt (Bauer, Hiller) 2:53

Penalties—H. Jackson (misconduct), Kampman, Smith.

Week-End Stars

By The Canadian Press.

Charlie Sand, Canadiens, scored goal which beat Chicago 3-2 and set up play for first Habitant tally.

Milt Schmidt, Boston, broke up a bitter struggle against Toronto Saturday when his overtime goal gave Boston a 3-2 verdict.

Bears Lace Two Lions, Buffalo; Eagles Win Pair

HERSHEY, Feb. 2—(CP).—The leaders of the Eastern and Western divisions of the American Hockey League proved over the week-end they have something more in common than being top dogs, and that is they are consistent. Hershey Bears, however, have more to cheer about their regularity in that they won two games while Springfield Indians dropped two.

Bears started off when they nipped Washington Lions 5-4 Saturday then added a second triumph at the expense of Buffalo last night, 3-1.

It was the only double win of the heavy week-end schedule which saw five games played Sunday and four Saturday. Cleveland, placed behind Hershey in the Western table, came through with a victory and a tie, as did the cellar-place Pittsburg Hornets and New Haven. The Barons handed Buffalo a 3-0 setback Saturday, but were held to a 2-2 draw by Indianapolis in their next encounter.

Hornets and Eagles also won Saturday with the former beating Philadelphia, 8-5, and New Haven trimming Springfield, 3-1, and kept their unbeaten mark intact as they played to a 4-2 deadlock last night.

Reds Triumph 6-3

Washington came through with a neat 1-0 decision to hand Springfield its Sunday loss, while Providence took advantage of the verdict by beating Philadelphia, 6-3, and pulling into second place alone in the Eastern section behind Springfield.

In both victories, Hershey was pressed to the end. Rightwinger Bobby Kirk broke up the Saturday struggle against Washington when he scored with less than three minutes of game time left. Then last night, Buffalo remained on even terms with the Bears until five minutes of the final period, when the veteran Johnny Sorrell scored, ending a 1-1 tie which had existed from the first period.

Georges Mantha, who toiled for several seasons with the National League Canadiens, came through with the payoff goal which gave Washington its 1-0 verdict.

Philadelphia Rockets, who have only eight victories to show for 39 games to date, lost their 12th straight to Providence. The league's individual scoring leader, Ab Demarco, set the scoring pace with Bob Sherwood, each scoring two goals. Augie Herchenratter celebrated his last game before entering the Canadian army by scoring one of Philadelphia's goals.

Bruins Recall Shewchuk, Bruce

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—(AP).—Immediate recall of Defenceman Jack Shewchuk and Left-winger Gordie Bruce from Hershey of the American Hockey League was announced today by Boston Bruins.

Shewchuk will fill in for Assistant Manager Dit Clapper, who suffered a severed Achilles tendon in Toronto Saturday night, and Bruce for Herb Cain, who came out of Saturday night's game with a fractured cheekbone.

Clapper, keystone of the Bruins' defensive forces, will be out for at least six weeks and Cain for two weeks. In addition, Phil Hergesheimer, recently purchased from Chicago Black Hawks, is out of action with a knee injury.

Await MacKay's Release By Wings

MIDLAND, Ont., Feb. 2.—(CP).—Possible reinstatement of Dave MacKay, former defenceman for Chicago in the National Hockey League, cannot be considered by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association until word of MacKay's release by Chicago is received from the N.H.L., President George Dudley of the C.A.H.A. said last night.

"MacKay has been under suspension by the C.A.H.A. because we recognize National Hockey League suspensions, and he had been suspended by Chicago," Mr. Dudley said. "Application for MacKay's reinstatement to amateur status must come to us through Frank Calder, president of the N.H.L."

(It was reported in Vancouver last night that MacKay had been released outright by the Chicago club, and therefore was eligible for reinstatement upon application. MacKay intended to act as coach for Nanaimo of the Pacific Coast Intermediate League until the C.A.H.A. decided to recognize his N.H.L. suspension.)

Noted LOBA Lady Mrs. McGill Dies In Ottawa

The late Mrs. McGill was born at Waubaushene, in Oct., 1867, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Graham, an dwas married to Mr. McGill fifty-four years ago at Blackstock, and shortly afterwards moved to Havelock, where they resided ever since.

They had five children, Effie, Mrs F. Quinn, Ottawa, John of Montreal, and Kenneth of town, two children did in infancy. She also leaves to mourn her loss, two sisters, Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Gabriel, and one brother, Mr. Robert Graham, all of Toronto.

The late Mrs. McGill organized and was a charter member of the local Lady McGill L.O.B.A. Lodge in 1922, and was made an honorary member of the Grand Lodge in Ottawa in 1938. She has also been a member of the Foresters since 1913, and a member of the Women's Institute since it was first organized. Her funeral service was held on Sunday afternoon from the Curtis Funeral Parlour, under the auspices of the local L.O.B.A., with Rev. D. K. Perrie of Knox Presbyterian church, officiating Interment was at Pine Grove cemetery.

In an apparent effort to wipe out the central Philippine stronghold in one blow the enemy had concentrated invasion vessels, barges and launches, and presumably troops, at the village of Ternate about 25 miles south of Manila, but within range of Corregidor's guns.

Suddenly guns of the American fortifications system began to pour tons of shells into the enemy concentration. "The surprise was complete and the force and its equipment were destroyed," the war department reported.

Corregidor and its satellite fortifications guard the rear of the Batan Peninsula where MacArthur's main army is drawn up and where several strong enemy thrusts were repelled Saturday afternoon and night and Sunday morning.

While there was no disposition here to minimize the essentially grave situation of the Allies in the western Pacific—with Singapore Island besieged, a strong enemy force at Moulmein seeking to cut China's Burma Road lifeline, and increasing activity against the Netherlands East Indies—it was noted nonetheless that the Japanese had found the going increasingly difficult in the last 10 days.

In three actions — the battle of Macassar Strait, smashing of the Corregidor invasion scheme and the fleet raid on the Marshall and Gilbert Islands—it appeared that the enemy had lost untold thousands of men and dozens of ships sunk or damaged.

Land Bomber After 20 Hits

These Canadians did a marvellous job of flying and navigating their giant Stirling bomber to its home base after it had been hit 20 times by "flak." They landed with only sufficient fuel to have permitted one more circle of the airdrome before landing. The three members of the R.C.A.F. attached to an R.A.F. bomber squadron are Pilot-Officer Ian Hoidas of Saskatoon, standing at the step, and Sgt. W. H. Bracken (W.A.G.) of Moose Jaw, LEFT and Sgt. G. J. Kearns (W.A.G.) of Halifax. For P.O. Hoidas it was the first trip over Germany, for Bracken and Kearns it was the fourth.

pore residents on war developments elsewhere. One yellow sheet headed "Extra" gave purported highlights of a dispatch dated Lisbon, Jan. 14, asserting:

"Yankees Tender Olive Branch—Roosevelt Wants Singapore Declared Neutral Zone."

The withdrawal of civilians from a mile-wide strip on the north shore of Singapore Island was accomplished during the week-end with little commotion.

Driving their livestock before them and carrying their household goods, Chinese and Malay residents of the area moved quietly to districts farther south.

Some civilians had already left the island, which has a peacetime population of about 750,000 scattered over its 220 square miles. Sir Shenton said yesterday that as many women and children as desired to go would be removed regardless of race, as long as transportation facilities existed.

Water supplies in Singapore are said to be adequate to resist a long siege, despite the loss of reservoirs on the mainland. Although the rainy season is over, Singapore had a heavy downpour during the week-end which raised the water level in already well-filled reservoirs and wells.

ried it several hundred feet, demolishing it.

At Burlington, the partly frozen body of Gordon Crooks, 18, was found lying on the Canadian National Railways tracks Sunday. Police said they believed he had been struck a glancing blow by a train and left on the tracks exposed to cold and unable to help himself.

A sectionman named Bedore on the Canadian Pacific Railway at Roberts, 30 miles west of Chapleau, was fatally injured Sunday while attempting to pull a hand-car from the path of a speeding west-bound train.

One Escapes Crash

Morley Garrison Lake, 22 of Napanee district was killed while his companion, Lynn Perry, escaped with bruises, when their automobile was struck by a fast Canadian National Railways train at Belleville road crossing near Napanee. The car was thrown into a farm field and wrecked.

An explosion Saturday in the Powder Mixing plant of the T. W. Hand and Co., at Cooksville, near Toronto, took the life of Jack Dickinson, 18. Dickinson died Sunday in hospital from burns and lacerations suffered in the explosion said by government officials to have been caused by a spark igniting chemicals used in the manufacture of war pyrotechnics. Three other employees of the plant, all men, were injured.

Both traffic fatalities took place Saturday night.

Napoleon Renaud, 62, of Buchanan township was killed when struck by a car on Highway 17, 30 miles west of Pembroke. In Ottawa, Jacques Arsenault, died in hospital shortly after he was struck by an automobile police said was driven by Henri Dagenais.

John Rowswell, 22, well-known Ontario amateur golfer, was killed at Thornhill, a Toronto suburb, Saturday when his shotgun discharged while he was climbing a fence during a rabbit-hunt. Police said he was hunting alone and the charge hit his head when the gun, leaning against a tree, was jolted and discharged.

3. Three regular divisions were defeated in a 55-mile advance in the Lozovaya sector 80 miles south of Kharkov. Details were not given.

4. Berestovoya, 30 miles north of the Sea of Azov, 135 miles west of of Lozovaya and 115 miles west of German-held Taganrog, was reported recaptured but dispatches did not reveal how the Russians got there. It was recalled, however, that recent reports had told of Russian landings on the shore of the Sea of Azov west of Taganrog.

5. Several important hills overlooking Sevasopol, in the Crimea, were reported occupied by the Red army.

An official announcement said that Gen. Braun, commander of the 68th German division, was killed when guerillas blew up his headquarters at Kharkov.

Tremor On Coast

VANCOUVER, Feb. 2 — (CP). — Two earth tremors of short duration shook buildings and rattled dishes through the Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria districts last night.

Both tremors were close together, the first a mild motion and the second quite distinct with residents reporting mirrors and lighting fixtures swaying and dishes rattling on shelves.

There was no report of damage.

Village Merchant Is Buried Friday

MILLBROOK, Feb. 2 — (ENS) — Following a lingering illness, the death of Frederick Folliett Pendrie, lifelong resident of this community, occurred on Wednesday, January 28, in his 69th year.

He was the youngest son of the late William Pendrie, and his wife, Sarah Timm, pioneer residents of Millbrook, the Pendrie family having been actively connected with the church, social and business life of this village over an extended period of years. With the passing of Fred Pendrie, as he was familiarly known, the last one of this name is removed from local history, those previously deceased being six sisters: Mrs. (Rev.) William Buchanan (Mary); Mrs. Albert Payne (Eva); Mrs. William Archer (Nettie); Mrs. T. W. McIndoo (Emma); Annie, who taught school in Millbrook and vicinity for several years; and Lillie, of Woodbridge, whose last years, however, were spent at the homestead; also two brothers, William of Millbrook and John, of Rochester, N.Y.

For over forty-eight years Mr. Pendrie was connected with business life in this community, entering the well-known firm of Wood and Kells as a junior when a boy just out of school, and continuing with them as the name changed to Kells and Fowler, his natural business ability and advancing experience leading finally to a partnership, following the death of John Kells, the firm became known as Fowler and Pendrie. Increasing ill health for the past few years, has prevented him from being at the store, and within recent months the business has been taken over by his nephew, Mr. A. R. Payne, of Hamilton, now resident at Millbrook. The firm name is continued, however, D. R. Fowler having taken the place of his father, the late George Fowler.

Three years ago, in January, 1939, the marriage of Frederick F. Pendrie and Mrs. Clara Walkinshaw took place at Los Angeles, California, his widow surviving him. He was a member of St. Andrew's United church, and faithful in attendance as long as health and strength permitted. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on Friday at 2 p.m., from his late residence, King street east, Rev. A. L. Sisco, B.D., conducting the service. he pall-bearers were four nephews: Senator William Buchanan, of Lethbridge, Alberta; Matthew McIndoo, of Toronto; A. R. Payne, Millbrook Frederick McIndoo, of Fairmount; D. R. Fowler, business partner, and W. H. Coombe, a life-long friend. Interment was in the family burial plot at Gardiner's cemetery.

Call To Save

ANDERSON, S.C., Feb. 2—(AP). —A cafe took cognizance of the sugar shortage in the United States with this sign, posted so patrons could see it: "Go easy on the sugar bowl, and stir like hell; we don't mind the noise."

Potatoes Firm At $1.75; Eggs At 30-35

Potatoes at $1.75 a bag held a firm position on the produce market Saturday. Recent advances all along the vegetable front showed no signs of relaxing, and potatoes apparently attracted the most attention. J. J. Healey of Asphodel asked $1.75 for White Stars and Katahdins, and the supply for the morning seemed generally on the light side.

Herb Doig's prices were: potatoes, $1.75; carrots, $1.50 a bushel; onions, $2.25 a bushel; parsnips, $1.50; turnips, 75 cents a bushel. The outdoor attendance of growers was more representative than on recent Saturdays.

Egg were 30 to 35 cents a dozen, the larger grades getting the top prices. One woman asked 33 cents for a variety that averaged 24 to 25 ounces a dozen, and 35 cents for others that weighed from 26 to 30 ounces to the dozen.

"Run of the nest" eggs could be had at 30 cents. Butter was 35 to 37 cents with the emphasis on the 36 and 37 cents prices. Chickens were 25 to 28 cents a pound.

Harry Gill's meat prices were: pork, 18 and 20 cents; beef, 16 and 18 cents and lamb, 20 and 22 cents.

Four pound tins of honey were quoted at the old prices of 65 cents. "There's a ceiling on honey," Allan Brown remarked to the Examiner. "Demand has increased quite noticeably during the last week, especially for the eight pound tins, and I have only a few of them left."

The apple dealers had quite a busy morning in spite of the rather frosty weather. Norman Moncrief's prices were: Northern Spies, 70 cents a peck; McIntosh Reds, 75 cents; Domestic Spies, Salomes and Talmans, 60 cents.

J. H. Johnston's prices were: Spies, 65 cents; Starks, 50 cents; Pippins, $1.85 a bushel and Russets 20 cents a measure of one-quarter peck.

Half a dozen trucks of wood were offered during the morning and all were taken.

A Spy Jailed

MONTEVIDEO, Urugpay, Feb 2 —(AP).—Police last night arrested Karl Heinrich Adamonsky, 47, a German, and said he possessed documents suggesting he was a spy in touch with the Nazi party and with the German Legation.

Valor Rewarded

The first man to be so honored in the current war, Lieut. Alexander R. Nininger, Jr., of Grinesville, Ga., has been awarded the Congressional Medal posthumously, according to a special announcement by the U.S. War Department. The award wa made on recommendation of General Douglas MacArthur, who cited the lieutenant for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action against the Japanese near Abucay, Bataan, in the Philippines. Before he was himself killed in action Lieut. Nininger attacked the [illegible] with rifle and hand grenade and single-handed wiped out several enemy groups and snipers, the citation said. Alexander R. Nininger, father of the hero, will receive the medal.

Gas Department Profit $4,022

Elsewhere in this issue is printed the Financial Statement for the Gas Department for the year 1941.

Gas sales for the year amounted to 42,687,000 cubic feet, which is an increase of 11 p.c. over 1940.

Loss of $3,582.00 in 1940 changed to profit of $4,022.90 in 1941.

Cost of coal and oil was increased by 15 p.c., but economies of operation overcame this handicap, so that total costs were not materially increased.

There were no capital expenditures of any size during the year.

MAKING OF INKS

Linseed oil is the principal ingredient in printing inks.

because You faltered?

Out there on the Libyan sands, in Malaya's torrid jungle, on the high seas and in the air, brave men's lives depend on you. They look to you for support—they cry out for it.

Give them then the weapons for which they call and they will defeat our enemies. If you fail, they must give ground, desperately fighting, inch by inch.

Perhaps your place is at their side in the very heart of it, the proudest place of all.

Or if circumstances deny you this privilege, help to forge and shape the weapons they need, make them faster, make them with all the skill you possess, in larger and still larger numbers.

Remember our young men, your young men, stand between us and disaster—"Open-eyed and unafraid, with their faces to the foe."

Put equal weapons in their hands and they will defeat the foe. Give them superior weapons and in greater quantity and their task will be lighter.

Make this your sacred pledge:

BRAVE MEN SHALL NOT DIE BECAUSE I FALTERED

The third asked for an adjournment to give him a chance to secure the money for his fine and was granted a week.

RECOMMEND GRANT

A grant of $1,200 to the local War Savings Committee was recommended by the finance committee of the council Friday night. G. S. Matthews, chairman of the committee, and R. L. Dobbin, sketched the work done by the committee last year. The city's grant in 1941 was $1,000. Incidental expenses of clerical assistance and other costs were paid out of the money contributed by the city.

BELLEVILLE PRICES

Potato dealers were demanding $2 a bag at Belleville Saturday. Carrots and turnips were 40 cents a peck and butter 40 cents.

SKI FOUND.

PAPERS TO AMALGAMATE.

A letter read from all pulpits of the Catholic churches in Ontario yesterday indicated that two of the weekly Catholic papers, namely the Catholic Register and the Canadian Freeman were amalgamating and one paper would be published under the name of the "Catholic Canadian Freeman." Circulation lists of the two weeklies will be obsorbed by the new publication..

FUND STILL GROWS.

Bob Hotrum reports that contributions to the Buckshee Fund to provide cigarettes for the boys overseas are coming in steadily and the total number now purchased and shipped is 545,000. He extends special thanks to the executive of the Peterborough Senior Baseball Club for turning over the surplus in their treasury for the fund.

TOW TRUCKS BUSY

City garages operating service trucks reported a mild rush of business generally this morning in the wake of this latest cold snap. Many motorists who attempted to start their machines this morning found they required a start behind a tow truck. "We were good and busy," was the report from Duffus' garage.

1942 PLATES IN VOGUE

Police reported today they are checking up on motorists who are still using 1941 license plates. The time limit expired January 31 and motorists were warned that date was the deadline. While there was no indication at the police station that any 1941 plates were still being used, it was reported that at least one driver was seen using last year's plates today. It may be that he had forgotten they expired or that he was not aware of the new regulations.

TO CONVENTION BY BUS

Local Holstein breeders have chartered a bus for an expected group of twenty or more of their members going to Toronto Wednesday to attend the convention of the Canadian Holstein-Friesian Association. C. E. Moore of Smith said that already twenty-two members of the county association have signed up for seats, and probably others will make the trip. Usually the Holstein men have used their own cars for this convention outing, but they decided to save gasoline by engaging a bus.

FENDERS DAMAGED

Fender damage was done to two cars owned by professional men on Armour Road yesterday when the vehicles met in collision. Dr. Harold Worton, V.S., Water street, was driving south on Armour Road when Dr. Atkinson, Norwood, drove north on the same street. As the two vehicles were about to pass Dr. Atkinson applied his brakes and his car skidded on the slippery surface of the road and came into contact with the other machine. Both left front fenders were damaged.

MAY USE FIELD AGAIN

Renewal of permission to pasture cattle on the property adjoining the sewage disposal plant was granted to Walter Bromwell by the Board of Works. In consideration of this advantage Mr. Bromwell contributed 360 quarts of milk to the Children's Shelter last year and $25 for some charitable or war work. City Engineer Parsons turned the money into the British War Victims Fund.

SUPPORT RESOLUTION

A Windsor resolution urging that old age pensions and mothers allowances be increased was endorsed by the finance committee of the council Friday night.

TO ADDRESS ENGINEERS

Frank Pope of the Western Clock Company is slated to address the local branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada on Thursday evening in the Paragon Hall. He will describe clock manufacture and production methods in the local plant, and his talk should interest factory men and engineers.

Former Warden Dies At Farm Home

WARKWORTH, Feb. 2 — (ENS). — There passed away suddenly on Friday morning January 30, at his home near Dartford, William Herbert Nelson, Deputy-Reeve of Percy Township.

Mr. Nelson, who was in his 67th year, was the oldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Nelson, and was born in Otonabee, but most of his life has been spent in Percy Township.

He was prominent in municipal affairs, being a member of the Percy Township Council for nineteen years and during that time he has been Reeve and Deputy-Reeve, and has also been a former Warden of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham.

He also took a keen interest in thet Warkworth Agricultural Society being a director for years and president in 1941.

For a number of years he has been secretary-treasurer of S.S. No. 10.

He is president of the Northumberland Cheese Producers' Association and secretary-treasurer of the Warkworth Cheese Company. In politics he was a staunch Conservative.

He was a good neighbor and friend and he will be greatly missed in the community.

He is survived by four daughters and four sons, namely: Mrs. H. C. Kelly, Warkworth. Mrs. Warren Harlaw, Stirling, Mrs. Roy White, Roseneath, Mrs. Leslie Hardy, Peterborough Earl and George of Dartford, Gordon of Stirling. and Milton of Warkworth. His wife, formerly Mary Inglis, predeceased him about a year ago.

Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Cooper was in charge of the funeral service which was held from his late residence to Dartford United Church on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment was in Warkworth Cemetery.

Police Recover Stolen Overcoat

John Foster Thompson, Business street, was remanded until Thursday for sentence, after he had entered a plea of guilty before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court this morning to a charge of stealing an overcoat from the Hotel Champlain, Saturday night.

Officer Archie Menzies, giving evidence in the case, told of Thompson's arrest and said that the accused had admitted stealing the overcoat and had told officers where he had left it. The garment had been recovered later by Sergt. W. E. Wigg.

At the request of the Crown Thompson was remanded to give the authorities a chance to obtain his record.

Three Injured In Car Crash

When their heads went through the windshield after the car in which they were riding collided with another automobile on Highway 7, seven miles east of Peterborough, Saturday night, two men sustained head lacerations and a woman passenger in the same car had her knee hurt

The injured were Pte. H. Gerow, Midland Regiment, driver of the car. bad cuts over left eye and on the forehead, Allan Tucker, Norwood, cut over the eyes, and Mrs. Allan Tucker, Norwood, knee injuries.

The accident happened as John Moher, Douro township, drove out of Emery's service station at the Sixth Line just as the Gerow car, travelling east on Highway 7 came along. The eastbound automobile crashed into the side of the other machine and both vehicles were damaged considerably.

Moher, who was alone, escaped unhurt and Mrs. D. Rynott, Norwood, a fourth occupant of the other automobile, also came through the crash without injury.

Gerow had a close call from losing the sight of his left eye. He was cut above and below the eye but the glass fortunately missed the eyeball. The three injured persons were treated by Dr. Wright of Keene.

The accident was investigated by Provincial Constable Price Morris.

V. J. McElderry, K.C. Returns To Work

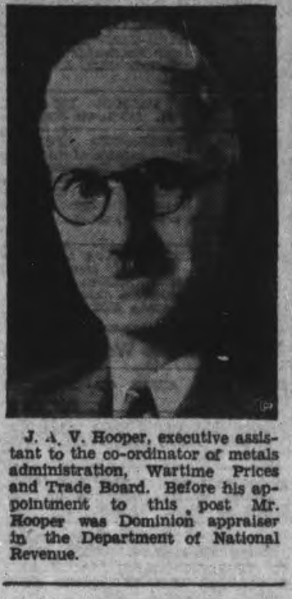
Absent for several months because of illness Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., returned to duty at the police court this morning and was welcomed by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C.

"I am sure we are all glad to see Crown Attorney McElderry on duty here again after his severe illness" His Worship said.

"I thank Your Worship for your welcome" replied Mr. McElderry" "and I am glad to be back."

To the magistrate's advice not to overdo things for a while Mr. McElderry smilingly said that he was quite ready for work "Bring on your cases" he added.

Executive Assistant



J. A. V. Hooper, executive assistant to the co-ordinator of metals administration, Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Before his appointment to this post Mr. Hooper was Dominion appraiser in the Department of National Revenue.

Sugar Rationing Said Violatd

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—Certain flagrant violations in connection with the purchase of sugar had come to his attention, George H. Rennie, regional prices and supply representative, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, reported last night.

"These are being investigated and if they are as reported, there will be prosecutions in the courts," he emphasized. "Any disregard for the sugar rationing law will not be tolerated."

At the same time he asked retailers to co-operate earnestly in order that the honor system might work. "There have been some cases where customers either through lack of knowledge or deliberate hoarding, have secured more sugar than they are entitled to, and have already returned the sugar to the retailer from which they bought it. The onus," Mr. Rennie reminded, "is on the purchaser but we expect co-operation from the retailer.

"One of the largest retail food distributors in the east end of the city has been reported to be selling as much as 20 pounds to a customer," he continued. "Obviously, this is very considerably more than most families require for a two weeks' supply.

"The rationing law is clear: three-quarters of a pound per person per week is the limit allowed. That means that a family of ten may buy as much as 15 pounds every two weeks but no more, unless the sugar is specifically required for making marmalade or for canning."

The following table indicates the amount of sugar which a family of from two to ten persons is entitled to purchase:

Size of family.	Quantity for 1 week.	Quantity for 2 weeks.
2	1½ lbs.	3 lbs.
3	2¼ "	4½ "
4	3 "	6 "
5	3¾ "	7½ "
6	4½ "	9 "
7	5¼ "	10½ "
8	6 "	12 "
9	6¾ "	13½ "
10	7½ "	15 "

China's Struggle Is Told In Graphic Style

An audience of between eight and nine hundred people including all the missionary groups of George Street Church, listened to one of the most dramatic addresses ever given in this city on Sunday. With hardly a gesture and in the simplest of language, Rev. James G. Endicott, son of the late celebrated Dr. James G. Endicott, former Moderator of the United Church, and twenty-five years resident in China, told the flaming story of China's courageous four and a half years of war with Japan. Mr. Endicott is a personal friend and advisor of the Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, and served under the direction of Madame Kai-Shek in providing food, clothing and medical aid to all bombed towns and cities in the war-torn area.

The speaker's restrained delivery gave terrific impact to his stories of the almost incredible hardships and suffering of the Chinese people, and their courage, tenacity and endurance in the struggle for survival. He spoke highly of the personal sacrifice and determination of Chiang Kai-Shek in maintaining the morale of the Chinese people and of his Christian faith that they were fighting a righteous cause that would triumph in the end. Rev. James Endicott, M.A., was born in China, and during his lifetime there has witnessed the ravaging and the bombing of China's cities by the enemy. His admiration for the Christian Generalissimo and his wife and the Christian Chinese population has been intensified a hundred-fold. He spoke plainly but bitterly of the corruption of nations who provided the machine guns, the airplane engines and other war materials to Japan, now the arch-enemy of all the democratic countries.

He called on all the membership of the United Church to maintain its services and financial support to foreign missions which have already given such inspiration and help to the stricken people of China. The necessity for enormous sacrifice and Christian endurance after the war is over will demand our continued striving for the ideal of the brotherhood of man, he concluded.

The speaker was introduced by Peterborough's Medical Officer of Health, Dr. D. B. Avison, himself born in Korea, and one who knows intimately the problems and peoples of the Orient.

The concluding hymn was "Rise Up, Ye Men of God," on which Rev. Mr. Endicott based his address.

The musical part of the service was appropriately enhanced by the excellent singing of Dett's "Listen to the Lambs," by the capacity choir and a quartette "Turn Thy Face from My Sins." sung by Misses Jean Sarginson and Marion Biggs, Fred Skitch and Henry Batten.

MORE ROOMS REQUIRED

Accommodation must be found within the next six months for upwards of 500 men and boys according to H. A. Cranfield, employment supervisor at the Canadian General Electric Company. Any person who can take one or more boarders is asked to telephone names and addresses to the Employment Office, C.G.E. at once.

Russian Guns Take Toll Of Nazi Planes

Downed by Red army gunners, this German plane has made its last flight. The pilot lies in the snow beside the wreckage of his craft, BOTTOM, while, TOP, Russian soldiers search the debris. They remove a machine-gun and other instruments. A card on the instrument panel gave the pilot's name as Muller. This was but one of the hundreds of planes wrecked on the bleak Russian countryside during the Red army counter offensive

Havelock Flier Promoted To High Rank

A former Havelock, Ont., boy is second-in-command of the Royal Canadian Air Force in England under Air Vice Marshall Harold Edwards. He is Air Commodore Wilfred A. Curtis, who has been promoted from the rank of group captain. Announcement of the promotion was made today. Air Commodore Curtis was born at Havelock and educated in Toronto.

Following outbreak of the war, he was placed in charge of the R.C.A.F. personnel in Ottawa and, in April 1941, became commanding officer at No. 2 service flying training school at Uplands near Ottawa. His appointment to second in command of the R.C.A.F. establishment came six months later.

The Air Commodore has several relationship connections in this district among whom is an aunt, Mrs. W. T. Curtis of Havelock. Three cousins also live in that village. They are Bruce and Madge Curtis and Mrs. Rogers McMillan.

In Peterborough, Bill Burford of Dunn's Tailor Shop, George street is a brother-in-law. His sister, Pearl Burford of Toronto, is wife of the air commodore. Mrs. Curtis was formerly connected with the Toronto Conservatory of Music and taught here Saturdays.

Bruce Curtis of Havelock, a cousin, said today Air Commodore Curtis left Havelock as a young boy before he was ten but has since visited the village on several occasions.

The air commodore has two brothers and a sister in Toronto.

Drunk Driver Gets Seven Days

Arrested at the main gate of the Military Training Centre Saturday night by military police and Constable Leo Murphy, Jeremiah Collins, Romaine street, faced a charge of drunken driving in police court this morning and pleaded guilty.

"I am not asking for more than the minimum penalty and I don't think it necessary to submit any evidence" Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry stated. "It apparently was not a flagrant case."

Magistrate Langley sentenced the accused to seven days in jail and made no order in regard to the cancellation of the accused's driving permit.

The car that he had been driving was not his own property and was not impounded.

Seeks Cooperation From Wholesalers

TORONTO, Feb. 2.—Wholesalers have an "important stake" in the success of the price ceiling plan, according to R. F. Chisholm, wholesale administrator, Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Helping towards successful operation of the new price regulations may be one means of justifying the economic function of the wholesaler and preserving his status in the future," he said today. He asked that travellers and special salesmen be encouraged to take a constructive attitude towards the ceiling plan both in their contacts with retailers, and in bringing advice to administrators of the board.

"All representations by wholesalers will be welcomed either in person or in writing and group meetings can be arranged at any time," he declared.

Obituary

ROERT HARPER

A resident of Peterborough for four years, coming from Birmingham, England, Robert Harper, 76, died Monday morning in hospital here, following an illness of three weeks. He was born in Dawley, England, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harper, and was a compositor by profession in the Old Country. His wife, Alice Court, died in 1935.

Three daughters survive. They are Mrs. Herbert S. Lane, Peterborough; Mrs. J. James and Mrs. B. Robertson, both of Birmingham, England.

The remains is resting at the Nesbitt Funeral Home, 347 Charlotte street, until Tuesday morning. The funeral will be held from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. H. S. Lane, 485 Paterson street at 2 p.m. Wednesday afternoon with the Rev. C. C. Boyter officiating. Interment will be made in Little Lake cemetery.

To Train Airmen

Establishment of a new flying training command in the U.S. Army Air Corps was announced in Washington coincidental with the reshuffle of air corps personnel. Major-General Barton K. Yount will be in charge of the task of turning out 30,000 new personnel required for the 1942 airplane production program.

Light Snowfall Is Not Record

Many enquiries have been made at The Examiner as to whether or not the snowfall up to the end of January this winter constitutes a new low record for the past several years, and a statistical survey of snowfall by A. O. Phillips, official weather recorder, reveals that the snowfall, while comparatively light, is far from being a record low figure.

Skiers in particular will be inclined to disagree, as there has been only a few days so far during the winter when there was sufficient snow on the ground to permit skiing in comfort. The snowfall for the past 23 years to the end of January in each year has averaged 38.3 inches, and to January 31 this year the total was 29.6 inches. There was a lighter snowfall during the same period during the years 1932, 1933 and 1937, as the following table will show:

	Inches.		Inches.
20-21	31.1	32-33	28.7
21-22	39.1	33-34	67.2
22-23	38.8	34-35	40.5
23-24	45.2	35-36	32.5
24-25	45.3	36-37	26.3
25-26	40.9	37-38	29.8
26-27	39.7	38-39	43.4
27-28	38.7	39-40	34.2

Groundhog Goes Back To Sleep

You couldn't blame the groundhog if he turned tail on his shadow in today's brilliant sunshine and crawled back into his burrowed den for another six weeks.

Such is the weather legend, that if the woodchuck sees his shadow on Candlemas Day, in other words if the sun shines, we are in for another six weeks of winter.

This was the first trial day of weather lore portending the immediate future of this year. For this month of the Hunger Moon get ready for an excess of stored up snow and frost. The winter odds have turned against us after highly favorable December and January. We can't expect to get through the next four weeks as lightly and that means as comfortably as we have come from the onset of winter.

At any rate this tradition about the groundhog intimates that he and the other six sleepers are putting no trust in February and its extension into March, and so they roll over and snooze on while the winds blow above them, and perhaps the snow carpets the fall wheat and the intrepid skiers get a bit of slaloming after two months of waiting.

Keene Shippers Donate $50 To War Victims

Looking back over our records we find that on February 1 of last year, the Keene Co-operative Shippers made a contribution of $50 to the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund. On Saturday, which was almost exactly one year from that date, S. M. Comrie who is their secretary-treasurer, hands in a cheque to the fund for a similar amount, thus duplicating the splendid gift given at that time, and this amount appears in our column of receipts for today, demonstrating that their interest in the work of assisting the victims of Nazi frightfulness over Britain is still just as great as ever, and to them we extend our very sincere appreciation and thanks. One of our most regular contributors who appear under the name of "E. M.F." is again listed today, and the Box at Routley's China Shop yielded $2.36 when collected late on Saturday night.

Draw For Fur Coat

The draw for the ladies' beaverlamb fur coat donated by the Women's Institute of Bailieboro will be made on February 9, and thus only a few days remain in which to buy tickets for a chance on winning it. The coat, which is displayed in the windows of Zellers Department Store, is in first class condition, is beautifully lined, and will give at least ten years of good service with ordinary care. Tickets are priced at the very low figure of 15c each or two for 25c and can be procured from interested workers in the industrial plants, and uptown at Zellers Store or at the Examiner office.

Another similar effort for the fund is being staged by the Range Pals Club, who are selling tickets at 15c each or two for 25c for three prizes which are a bedspread, a shawl which comes direct from India, and an embroidered motto, the latter two donated by Miss Elizabeth Smith of 735 Water street this city.

The fund is now over the half-way mark from the 36th to the 37th thousand dollar mark, and already there is a balance on hand in the bank of $293 towards the 16th donation of £500.

IN MEMORIAM

IRWIN.—In loving memory of William J. Irwin, who passed away five years ago today, February 3, 1937.

He is gone but not forgotten,
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.
—Ever remembered by his wife, Mrs. W. J. Irwin, and Family.

MOUNT JULIAN

Holy Trinity Church Re-elects Officials

MOUNT JULIAN, Feb. 2—(ENS).—At the Holy Trinity Anglican Church vestry meeting no changes in offices were made. Wellington Dunford is carrying on as rector's warden; William McCauley, people's warden; Mr. William Thompson, vestry clerk; Mrs. Don Fowler, secretary of the envelope system; Mrs. Albert Reid, auditor; Orville Bolton, caretaker. Violet McCauley was secretary for the meeting, with Rev. E. C. Moore presiding.

All financial obligations have been met and no new business taken on for the time being.

Word had been received acknowledging the gift of a quilt to the British War Victims, and from the local boys, who are now overseas, who had received their gifts of tobacco and candy at Christmas time.

Don Fowler was appointed delegate to the Synod.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Church and son, Sgt. Pilot Don Church, visited relatives here last week.

The ice harvest is now well under way on Stoney Lake, with ice a fine quality of clear blue, about sixteen inches thick.

band lies to his wife he still loves her, but when he starts telling her the truth he doesn't care for her any more? I am young, have been married six years and so much in love with my husband that I trusted him implicitly and left him free to come and go as he pleased. Now I find he is having a sordid affair with a woman. When I asked him why he deceived me, he said that it was because he loved me so much he was afraid I would divorce him if I knew the truth. Do you believe that the reason men lie to their wives is because they love them?—
C. C. J.

ANSWER—No. Men lie to their wives because they are afraid to tell them the truth. Many philandering husbands do not want their wives to divorce them, so they deceive them as long as they can. A lie never was and never will be a proof of love.

VICTORIA, Feb. 2—(CP).—Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, in closing the budget debate in the British Columbia Legislature, said, "I don't feel safe with the Japanese on the coast."

Mr. Maitland yesterday discussed various factors in Pacific defence, and said:

"It is not what they (the Japanese) have done, it is what they might do. Whatever the Eastern Canadian viewpoint, we know we have every reason to fear attack; to fear fifth column activities."

Dancing Learned in Home Lessons

Good Dancer Sure of Steps

She looks so lovely waltzing! Other girls feel clumsy when they watch her.

She may, though, have learned to dance at home, following simple diagrams. Many good dancers have! For when you know how to place your feet in each step, and know pointers on following, you can dance well with anyone.

Try our Forward Waltz Step to a 1-2-3 rhythm. On Count 1—Step forward on your left foot. 2—Place right foot a short distance to side of left. 3—Close left foot to right foot.

Other waltz steps are learned as easily. A little practice and you're soon waltzing as lightly, as dreamily as the girl you envied. At a slight pressure from your partner's arm or hand, you glide from one step to another!

Be a popular dancer with the aid of our 32-page booklet. It has footprint diagrams and instructions for waltz, fox-trot, tango, rumba Congo, Samba, Westchester, Peabody, Lindy and shag. Tells how to combine steps, lead and follow well.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "How to Do the Newest Dance Steps and Variations" to the Examiner, Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

COMPETITIVE MINDED

IF YOU analyze the chief differences between top rank players and those just below them, one thing you will find is that, as a rule, the greater their skill, the more competitive minded they are. In both their bidding and their play, they pay more attention to outwitting their opponents and worry less about being accurate in their own teamwork. That is the principal reason why many of the first-caliber stars have incorporated the Blackwood slam convention into their methods after refusing to employ the Culbertson four-five No Trump convention.

North: ♠ Q J 6 4 3 ♥ K Q 4 ♦ Q 7 ♣ K 8 5

West: ♠ 10 8 7 5 ♥ 9 6 ♦ K J 8 5 ♣ 7 6 2

East: ♠ K 9 2 ♥ J 3 2 ♦ A 10 9 4 2 ♣ Q 10

South: ♠ A ♥ A 10 8 7 5 ♦ 6 3 ♣ A J 9 4 3

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 ♣	Pass

That was the bidding at one table of a team-of-four match-point game, North and South using the Blackwood convention. West knew from it only that South had asked North how many aces he held and North had answered that he held none. West had no idea whether South held two aces, three or four, as in that convention the 4-No Trump bid tells nothing, only asks. So he decided to lead his heart 9, to try to stop a cross-ruff.

South, after that lead, taken by his A, laid down the spade A, led to the heart K, called the spade Q and ruffed when it was covered, led to the heart Q, took dummy's spade J for a diamond discard, ruffed the spade 4, led to the club K, used the spade 6 for a toss of his other diamond, dropped the club Q with the A and ran his other clubs, making an unbid grand slam.

At the other table, the bidding was the same except that the North-South pair used the Culbertson 4-5-No Trump convention. The 4-No Trumps there proclaimed possession of either three aces or else two of them and the king of a previously bid suit. When North responded with 5-Clubs, a sign-off, and South then placed it in 5-Hearts, West felt the side lacked one ace. If North had possessed two, or one of them and the kings of all bid suits, he would have bid 5-No Trumps. If South held all four, his bid to show them would have been 5-No trumps after his 4-No Trumps.

So West was sure in his own mind that they lacked an ace, hence his partner had one, probably in the only unbid suit, diamonds. Consequently he led the diamond 5 to the A and the returned 4 enabled him to take the K, holding the declarer to his bare contract.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠ 10 2 ♥ K Q 9 8 7 6 ♦ A Q 6 ♣ K 2

West: ♠ K Q J 9 8 7 ♥ 2 ♦ K 10 9 8 ♣ 4 3

East: ♠ 5 4 3 ♥ J 4 3 ♦ 7 3 2 ♣ Q 9 6 5

South: ♠ A 6 ♥ A 10 5 ♦ J 5 4 ♣ A J 10 8 7

(Dealer. South. Neither side vulnerable.)

How would you play this deal against a spade lead to make 7-Hearts by North, 7-Clubs by South and 7-No Trumps by South?

Nylon Hosiery To Be Curtailed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2—A stoppage of nylon hosiery manufacture in the near future is indicated.

War Production Board officials advised the rayon industry advisory committee that "most, if not all, of the nylon supply will soon be needed for military requirements" and called upon the rayon markers to furnish hosiery manufacturers with more rayon than they are now getting. There was no official announcement as to how much of total rayon production would be allocated to hosiery mills whose supply of silk has practically been consumed and whose purchases of nylon apparently soon will be cut off.

The rayon industry group also was told that the WPB had decided to allocate to Latin-American countries 4 per cent of the nation's total rayon production. This will amount to approximately 13,000,000 pounds a year.

The Government's decision to take over virtually all of the nylon production resulted from vastly increased military requirements.

Is Second Crisis

It was the second critical development in the hosiery industry in the last six months. When the United States froze Japanese assets last summer, silk imports ceased and virtually all stocks of raw silks were commandeered by the Government to insure their conservation for military uses. When silk supplies were shut off it was estimated that the nylon industry would be able to supply about 20 per cent of United States silk hosiery needs, then estimated at 47,000,000 dozen stockings per year.

It had been believed in July, however, that the nylon production for silk hosiery manufacture would be doubled by the end of 1941, but this hope was dashed by Friday's decision to withhold "most, if not all," nylon from civilian consumption.

Rayon manufacturers also were advised by the WPB that the production of high tenacity, or extra-strong, yarn must be increased to meet military needs. This yarn, now being used for the manufacture of tires for heavy duty trucks and busses, will be required in "greatly increased quantities" for war equipment, it was announced.

In Minus a Finger

TACOMA, Wash. Feb. 2—(AP).—The United States coastguard told Stanley Bartle he could enlist if he would cut off that finger. Well, he's in—with nine fingers and a stub. An old injury had left the pinky on his right hand stiff and useless.

E. A. Corneil Is Named President Of Omemee Horticultural Society

OMEMEE, Jan. 31 — (ENS). — The Omemee and District Horticultural Society held its annual meeting in the Council Chamber on Wednesday evening with the president, Mrs. Moyer, in the chair.

The yearly financial report was read and adopted, showing a membership of 64 and a balance on hand of $12.08. The secretary and the president reported on the year's activities. The Bridge Committee, with Miss Irene Clemett as convener, reported on the improvements made at the approach to bridge by the planting of shrubs, etc. The Hall Committee reported the planting of bulbs, etc., and improvements made on the park at the Coronation Hall.

The election of officers took place as follows: President, E. A. Corneil; 1st vice-president, Mrs. R. Bradley; 2nd vice-presisdent, Rev. R. M. Patterson; secretary-treasurer, Horace Hill; new directors, H. Lamb, Mrs. Moyer, Mrs. Mackey, Mrs. Acreman, and George Werry; last year's directors still acting, Carrie McQuade, Irene Clemett, Mrs. M. D. Earle, Mary Faulkner, and Mrs. Moore.

S. J. Mackey and T. B. Chester were appointed auditors for next year. Hazel Wilson and Mrs. Horace Hill were appointed a nominating committee. Hazel Wilson and Rev. Mr. Patterson, with Mrs. Moyer and Mrs. A. Rutherford as alternatives, were named as delegates to the annual convention to be held in Toronto in February.

The society arranged to buy more books in collaboration with the Public Library.

Home beautification and tree planting projects were discussed and further plans were laid for the year's activities.

A donation of $10.00 was made to Horace Hill for his services as the secretary-treasurer.

HASTINGS

Cent-a-Day Giving New W.A. Scheme

HASTINGS, Feb. 2 — (ENS). — The main discussion during the business period of Trinity W.A., held in the church basement on Thursday, was the matter of finances. It was decided to dispense with all teas and lunches and adopt a new envelope system of giving. Each family will be requested to try and give 1c a day and members from the W.A. will make personal calls.

A delightful supper attended by eight gentlemen and many ladies, was served at 6.30 p.m.

Mrs. A. E. Metcalfe read the scripture.

Letters of appreciation for Christmas parcels were read from the boys of the congregation now overseas. Miss Mae Huycke gave a solo and Miss Kate German, president, a reading.

The guest speaker, Mrs A. C. Herbert, formerly of the Arctic, was introduced by Mrs. A. E. Metcalf. Her address on her experiences and the lives of the Eskimos in the far north, was told in a most interesting manner and her many curios from the Arctic were thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs. Herbert's address was a challenge for self sacrifice.

Cavan W.A. Pot Luck Dinner Nets $2.50

CAVAN, Feb. 2 — (ENS). — Miss A. Tinney was hostess on Thursday afternoon for a pot-luck dinner under the auspices of the W.A. of Cavan United Church. Guests included Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. S. Boyles, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Albert Tinney, Mrs. Paul, Mrs. M. Kinsman, Mrs. Richards, and Mrs. H. Braithwaite. An interesting program included a contest, "How much do you know?" a spelling and singing contest, and chorus, "There'll Always be an England." A social time was enjoyed, the ladies knitting. Two dollars and fifty cents was added to the W.A. treasury by this enjoyable gathering.

Mrs. Donald Tinney was hostess for the seventh meeting of the Cavan Kotton Kids Club on Thursday. The girls made felt slippers. A short time was taken to discuss the next unit which they would take. No decision was made. Their home asignment was finish sleeping garments.

Hun Ace Red Captive

MOSCOW, Feb. 2—(AP).—Karl Brauchner, commander of a German bombing squadron, said to have participated in 200 raids over Poland, France and Britain, has been shot down by Russian auti-aircraft guns and is now a Soviet prisoner, the Moscow radio declared today. Brauchner was reported shot down on his first flight over the Eastern front.

District Fair Dates Set

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 2 (ENS).—J. A. Carroll, Queen's Park, Toronto, was the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Central Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies held in Belleville on Thursday, when delegates from the various societies in district No. 3 gathered to elect their officers and set the dates of fall fairs in 1942. In his remarks before the gathering Mr. Carroll reviewed district reports and expressed confidence in the future of the fair as evidenced by the enthusiasm attending the various district meetings all through the province. He emphasized the importance of the role played by the Junior member of the Agricultural Society and also touched on the labor problem, field crop competitions and the export of bacon, cheese and eggs.

The retiring president, A. R. Woods of Madoc, presided during the meeting and the delegates were extended a welcome to the city by Mrs. H. J. Clarke as proxy for Mayor G. Thompson. Other speakers were Agricultural Representatives H. J. Fair, Stirling; C. W. Buchanan, Napanee; F. J. Webster, Picton. Mrs. Fred Meyers of Brighton reported on the meeting of lady delegates which was held simultaneously in another building where Mrs. K. R. Vivian of Shannonville was named District Director. A feature of the election of officers in the city hall was the returning of J. J. Lewis Hay of Campbellford as secretary treasurer for the 11th consecutive year.

The following is the complete slate of 1942 officials—district director, C. W. Varcoe, Roseneath; president, W. H. Nelson, Warkworth; 1st vice-president, Fred Denyes, Brighton; 2nd vice-president, B. Dodds, Picton; secretary-treasurer, J. J. Lewis Hay, Campbellford; auditors, Fred Mallory, Stirling, Fred Chamberlain, Belleville; representative to the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies, R. A. Woods, Madoc.

The dates set for Fall Fairs in the District are:—Stirling, Sept 17-18; Ameliasburg, Oct. 3; Madoc, Oct. 6-7; Napanee, Sept. 28-29-30; Wooler, Sept. 15-16; Brighton, Sept. 24; Picton, Sept. 25-26; Tweed, Oct. 1-2; Belleville, Sept. 21-22-23; Demorestville, Sept. 30; Campbellford, Sept. 29-30; Roseneath, Oct. 15-16; Odessa, Sept. 17-18; Shannonville, Sept. 18-19; Centreville, Sept. 12; Mohawk (Deseronto) Sept. 16; Port Hope, Sept. 29-30; Warkworth, Oct. 8-9.

Start To Be Made On Air Engines

HALIFAX, Feb. 2—(CP).—Manufacture of Ranger aircraft engines will begin shortly in Ontario plants, R. P. Bell, Director-General of Aircraft Production in Canada, said on his arrival here last night.

"This will be the first attempt to manufacture aircraft engines in the Dominion," Mr. Bell said. The Ranger is a trainer plane engine which has been adopted by the United States army as a standard type, Mr. Bell said. The engine will be produced in Chrysler plants in Ontario, and the quota has been set at 300 per month.

Hot Reception

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Feb. 2 (CP).

ROYAL Air Force fighters engaged a German reconnaissance plane yesterday over Ulster, the area to which the vanguard of United States expeditionary forces have been assigned, officials said today.

"Bullets were seen to enter the rear turret of the (reconnaissance) bomber and, almost at the same time, return fire ceased," said a communique issued by the R.A.F.

ThomasBatemanPresident Of Marmora Fair

MARMORA, Feb. 2—(ENS). — Thomas J. Bateman was named president of Marmora Agricultural Society at the meeting of directors which followed the adjourned annual meeting which was held in the Council Chambers on Friday afternoon. Allan McComb, last year's second vice-president, was elected to the first vice-presidency, his former office being accorded to William J. Pack. H. W. Sabine was reappointed secretary-treasurer. At the anual meeting it was stated that all account in connection with the 1941 fair had been paid, to leave a small balance on hand. The following directors were chosen for 1942: Irwin McCoy, T. J. Bateman, Allan McComb, Wellington Billings, Donald Neal, Raymond Bonter, William J. Park, John Finnegan, Thomas E. Neal, H. A. Burwash, Vincent Lynch, and W. A. Sanderson.

The society will hold another field crop competition this year, with potatoes to be grown instead of grain. It will continue to sponsor the Junior Farmers' Club. The Central Ontario Fairs' Association will be asked to approve the dates desired for Marmora Fair, namely October 2 and 3.

The retiring and incoming presidents were appointed as delegates to the Ontario Fairs' Association's annual meetings in Toronto on February 12 and 13. H. L. Fair, agricultural representative, who was present, gave helpful hints in the discussions and presided for the election of the new executive.

HASTINGS, Feb. 2 — (ENS). — Jack Brinklow, employee of the tannery here and softball and hockey player, was taken to Peterborough yesterday suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis. Following an emergency operation late yesterday afternoon in St. Joseph's hospital, his condition was reported to-day to be favorable.

Confiscate Guns OnOmemeeMan

LINDSAY, Feb. 2 — (ENS). — Two years' suspended sentence and the confiscation of a rifle, shotgun or other weapons at present in his possesison together with a declaration that he would abstain from drink was the sentence imposed by Magistrate Gee upon Albert Brooks of Omemee on Friday in the Police Court, on an information laid by Constable Dixon of Omemee, that accused did have in his possession firearms in a manner dangerous to the public.

According to the evidence given by the police officer, as well as Russell Brooks, the accused, who had been engaged in a mill south of Reaboro by his brother, had been discharging a rifle in the district and had approached the mill with the weapon, which had been taken away from his. Constable Dixon was notified and hurried to the mill. The accused was later seen approaching the mill with a shotgun, which was pointed in the direction of the mill. When he entered the mill the constable grabbed the gun and placed the accused under arrest. According to the evidence of the two witnesses accused was in an intoxicated condition.

County Crown Attorney Anderson stated that the incident was a most unpleasant as well as serious one, and might have been accompanied with more serious circumstances. The accused, victim of strong drink, appeared in court on two previous occasions on charges which had to do with firearms, and he felt that in this case the weapons should be handed over to the proper authorities.

The accused told the court that he had nothing to say, but admitted that he had been drinking wine which had been given him at home by a man.

Painful, Pus Filled Boils the Cause of Much Misery
If you suffer from boils you know how sick and miserable they made you feel.
Boils are an outward indication of impurities in the system, and just when you think you are rid of one another crops up to take its place and prolong your misery. All the lancing and poulticing you can do may not stop more coming.
To help overcome boils you should purify the blood, so why not give that old, reliable blood medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, a chance to show what it will do in helping you get rid of them? Thousands have used it for this purpose for the past 60 years. Why not you?

JAPS TEST SINGAPORE WITH AERIAL BOMB BLITZ

(By C. YATES McDANIEL.)

SINGAPORE, Feb. 3—(AP)—Wave after wave of Japanese bombers hurled high explosives at this great British bastion today while Nipponese troops concentrated at the tip of conquered Malaya for an attempt to storm the island. With Imperial forces drawn up along the mile-wide moat of Johore Strait and watchful around the entire 70-mile perimeter of this stronghold, firemen and police were kept busy throughout the interior controlling fires started by the Japanese bombs.

In the section of Singapore City which bore the brunt of this morning's bombing, authorities and A.R.P. squads cleared away the debris within a few minutes to make way for fire trucks which quickly played water on a number of high fires.

When one of the shirt-sleeved civilians who was laying hose straightened up for a moment, I recognized Sir Shenton Thomas, Governor of the Straits Settlements. He was working alongside scores of natives.

The main objectives of the Soerabaja raiders, military observers told the Netherlands Agency, undoubtedly were to cripple the base there, whose importance to the United Nations in the Pacific has become paramount now that Singapore is under siege, and to incapacitate airfields there, at Malang, Madoien and Magetan.

Like Soerabaja itself, all those fields are at the disposal of United Nations forces now in Java and are a serious menace to Japanese operations.

They lie along an arc from the port of Rembang, about 100 miles west of Soerabaja, to Malang, roughly the same distance to the southwest.

Aneta said that there were no casualties, and only slight damage to the Malang field, and that it still was in use.

Singapore held up well to the intensified Japanese aerial assaults which started at daybreak with low level bombings and strafing of targets in the outlying districts. The raids were climaxed near noon with concentrated blastings by formations of high-flying twin-engined bombers.

Heavy smoke and cloud banks helped shield the island in the afternoon when a small formation of Japanese planes continued the raid.

Singapore's guns threw up a heavy barrage when the first formation of nine bombers roared over the city. An even heavier curtain of steel was hurled skyward when 27 bombers came over later.

Anti-aircraft shells burst amid the leading flight of three bombers, one of which trailed smoked and lost altitude. By the time the formation disappeared the stricken Japanese plane was fluttering, just clearing the distant tree tops.

Allied Stroke In East Under Way—"Hold On" Aussie Army Chief Cheers Singapore Troops

CANBERRA, Feb. 3—(CP). — Army Minister Francis Forde told the Australian forces overseas in a broadcast today that 'a big movement by the Allies is under way."

Addressing especially the men of the Australian Imperial Force at Singapore, Mr. Fords declared that each hour that the Japanese are held at bay permits the concentration and deployment of more reinforcements and the accumulation of more weapons.

"It does not need my words to impel you, therefore, to hold on," he said.

Prime Minister John Curtin gave premiers of all Australian states at a conference here a confident outline of the war situation.

The democracies' resources are being marshalled, he explained, but problems of distance and time prevent plans from being carried out immediately on a great scale.

MacArthur Overruns Jap Trenches Wipes Out Barge Invasion Try

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—(AP).—Two attempts by the Japanese to land troops on the west coast of Batan Peninsula during the night of February 2 were repulsed with heavy enemy losses, the United States War Department announced today.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces also successfully counter-attacked the Japanese on their right flank, overrunning three lines of enemy trenches, the War Department said.

The landing attempts on MacArthur's left consisted of a first raid by Tatori special shock troops which were repulsed by artillery fire, and a second and more serious attempt at midnight, when American night flying pursuit planes discovered a large number of barges approaching the coast under naval escort.

The planes attacked the convey immediately with light bombs and machine-guns, and as the enemy troops approached the shore the American and Filipino beach defence force attacked them with artillery. None of the barges reached shore

On MacArthur's right, where Japanese had attempted to drive a wedge into the defending lines, the Americans counter-attacked and captured large amounts of enemy equipment.

New Attacks Due.

New United States air and sea attacks to slow the onrush of Japanese forces in the southwestern Pacific were expected today.

An army report that formations of heavy American bombers were helping the defence of Singapore by raids on Japanese airfields gave evidence of increasing air strength in that vital area.

Think Royal Rfls. Chief Survived

OTTAWA, Feb. 3 (CP)—National Defence headquarters confirmed today that Lt.-Col. W. A. Home, officer commanding the Royal Rifles of Canada during the defence of Hong Kong, was still alive Dec. 25 when the garrison surrendered to the Japanese.

This information came to the External Affairs Department via the British Embassy in Chungking, which reported yesterday that Lt.-Col. H. L. Sutcliffe, officer commanding the Winnipeg Grenadiers, also was alive and well on Christmas Day.

Most of the 1,885 men comprising the Canadian contingent at Hong Kong were members of the Winnipeg Grenadiers or the Royal Rifles.

Offensive Soon

TOKYO, (from Japanese broadcasts), Feb. 3 (AP)—Lt.-Col. Hotta, Japanese military spokesman, said today at a press conference that a Japanese general offensive against Singapore would be launched soon "according to careful plans."

He contended it would not take long to oust the remaining United States forces from Batan Peninsula in the Philippines, despite the fact they are occupying favorable positions in rugged mountains and thick forests.

Hun Calling For 20 Divisions

British Fight To Hold Inland Libya

Coastal Units Retreat To Ground For Showdown Scrap

CAIRO, Feb. 3 (AP) — Roving British armored columns fought on the offensive northeast of Msus today in a dogged effort to hold the Island shortcut which dominates the bulging North African shoreline while the 4th Indian Division slowly retreated through the Gebel El Achdar coastal range.

The British Middle East communique said this division was under heavy pressure of enemy forces which apparently had been reinforced. The extent of the withdrawal was not given, but yesterday this division was said to be just east of Slonta, about 240 miles from the Egyptian border and 100 miles northeast of Bengasi.

(The Italians claimed they had passed Cirene, ancient seat of Greek culture, just to the north and slightly east of Slonta.)

Msus is 80 miles south of Slonta and slightly east. Thus while giving way along the coast, the British forces were endeavoring to hold their positions on the inland route along which they have twice slashed in previous campaigns to cut off Bengasi.

R.A.F. Supporting Indians

The Royal Air Force, particularly fighter patrols, was giving close and effective support to the Indians and also to the moving mobile forces attempting to counteract the coastal advance by manoeuvres inland, the communique said.

Apparently the rearguard action in the Msus area, 70 miles southeast of Bengasi and 240 miles west of the Egyptian frontier, was being fought in the hope of stabilizing a front across the North African coastal bulge by threatening Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's extended flank.

It was obvious that enforced evacuation of Bengasi and the area to the east had rendered futile any hope of smashing Rommel's offensive by a counter-attack aimed at his left flank.

In view of this situation, strategy appeared to call for a general withdrawal which would stretch Rommel's vital lines of communication and finally force a showdown on ground suited to a strong defence.

VICHY, Feb. 3—(AP).—Vichy newspapers today quoted Francois Lehideaux, Secretary of Public Works, as saying that shortages of materials and fuel had created a grave situation for French industry from which "only strict discipline can save us."

"We have no more coal, no more gasoline, no more cement, no more steel, even no more water to feed our turbines," Lehideaux was quoted as saying in a speech at Marseilles.

Canada May Aid U.K. With Welfare Staff

(By FOSTER BARCLAY.)

LONDON, Feb. 3—(CP).—Canada may come to the aid of Britain's hard-pressed child welfare workers as result of an exhaustive survey of conditions by three Canadian social service experts.

Spokesmon for the experts, Dr. C. M. Hincks, chairman of the Canadian Committee on Mental Hygiene, said they had unanimously concluded after a three weeks' study that an immediate dispatch of a token force of 30 or 40 trained Canadian welfare workers was necessary to help relieve the burden shouldered by staffs in evacuation and nursery centres here.

The specialists, technically attached to the Ministry of Health while in Britain, each visited a different district, so all types of children and conitions could be observed. Dr. Hincks inspected the Bristol area, while Dr. S. K. Jaffray, Director of the Canadian Council of Child Welfare, and Dr. W. E. Blatz, Professor of Child Psychology at the University of Toronto, toured the Manchester and Cambridge areas, respectively.

"We found that the cream of Britain's child welfare workers have been utilized in the vast evacuation scheme," Dr. Hincks said. "They have done a remarkable job considering the handicaps they have faced. Our investigation, however, showed that many areas were under-staffed and that the need for trained personnel might become precarious if more parents enter the services or work of national importance and place their children in evacuation centres or war nurseries, constantly growing in number."

High Jap Loss Sees China Units Rushed

Spot 69-Ship Convoy Heading South; Bahru Costs Division

(By SPENCER MOOSA.)

CHUNGKING, Feb. 3.—(AP)—A Japanse convoy including 41 warships and enough transports to carry a division has been sighted steaming south in Formosa Strait off Amoy in one of several moves by the Tokyo high command to make up for its heavy losses in manpower in the southwest Pacific, a Chinese army spokesman said today.

He said the convoy consisted of 69 ships in all, with nine large, one medium and 11 small transports, six launches and a hospital ship in addition to the warships.

The spokesman said several other divisions which had been reported moving south along the Tientsin-Pukow on Jan. 23 were diverted at Tsinan to the North China port of Tsingtao, where they embarked on transports. Tens of thousands of additional Japanese troops, he said, were pouring into Shanghai by train to board ships there.

As one of the heaviest blows to the Japanese in the Pacific area, the spokesman reported the virtual annihilation of the Japaneses 16th division at Johore Bahru, across the narrow Johore Strait from Singapore. He said 10,000 bodies had arrived at Saigon, in French Indo-China.

The spokesman told a press conference the Japanese were making thorough preparations for a drive into Burma from northern Thailand, and had thrown pontoon bridges across the Salween River. Concentration point for the Japanese forces, he said, was at Chiengmai, 100 miles due east of the river and 175 miles northeast of Moulmein, city at the Salween River mouth which has been evacuated by British forces.

OTTAWA, Feb. 3 — (CP). — Ligouri Lacombe, elected to the House of Commons as an Independent Liberal for Laval-Two Mountains, who last week announced the formation of the Canadian Party to oppose conscription, to-day said in a statement the doctrine of the party extended across Canada and was not restricted to one province.

A Back-Slider?

LONDON, Feb. 3—(CP).—Intimations of a possible breach between the British Government and King Farouk of Egypt, with the suggestion that his "loyalty to the alliance is by no means above suspicion," appeared in the British press today as a result of the resignation of Prime Minister Russein Sirry Pasha's Cabinet in Cairo.

The Daily Herald's diplomatic correspondent said: "Every since his accession King Farouk, who is only 22, has been arrogant and domineering in his dealings with successive ministries. He's shown no sense of the duties of a constitutional king."

Duke Blacklists Industrialist Swedish Friend

NASSAU, The Bahamas, Feb. 3—(CP).—The Duke of Windsor, Governor of The Bahamas, has signed a Bahamian Government order placing Axel Wenner Gren, Swedish industrialist, on its commercial blacklist.

Wenner-Gren is now in Mexico. The action here conformed with a previous action by the United States State Department, which has included the Swedish manufacturer in its list of firms with which America may not trade.

The Wenner-Gren industries in The Bahamas include a vegetable canning plant. These will be operated by the colonial government.

Wenner-Gren was a friend of the Duke of Windsor, who has been a guest on his yacht, the Southern Cross, at various times. The industrialist left The Bahamas some time ago.

Fear General Russian Line Break

Reds Matching Nazis Reinforcements Continue Advances

(By EDDY GILMORE.)

MOSCOW, Feb. 3 — (AP).— The Germans are sending air and tank reinforcements to parts of the southern front to combat Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's increasingly active army but are being more than matched by Red Army weapons, Soviet despatches reported to-day.

("Despite the reinforcements which have already been brought up to the Russian front from the German-occupied countries, the German generals have demanded from Hitler the immediate despatch of 20 fresh, picked divisions," the B BC said in a broadcast heard by the NBC in New York.

"The generals have threatened," it added, "that otherwise it would be very hard if not impossible, to prevent a general Russian breakthrough.")

Testifying to Red Air Force superiority, despatches from the front credited one Russian air unit with destroying 17 Nazi planes in a week and long-range bombers with deepening their offensives far into the German rear.

At one German railroad junction, they said, 3 supply trains of more than 200 cars were destroyed.

Dragging machine guns and cannon sledges in 40-below-zero cold over the same roads used against Napoleon, the Russians were pressing forward on several fronts, all pointed toward Smolensk 210 miles west of Moscow, and keeping up their fast pace despite determined German resistance.

Japs Strike Main Java Base, Fortresses Get 2 Transports

BATAVIA, N.E.I., Feb. 3—(AP).—A fighter-escorted formation of 26 Japanese bombers raided airports of the Soerabaja naval base and other towns of Eastern Java, about 300 miles south of Borneo, for the first time today in the wake of a United States aerial attack which sank two or three additional invasion transports in Macassar Strait.

Two Japanese transports are known to have been destroyed and a third probably was sunk yesterday in the strait off Balik Japan, Netherlands East Borneo, in two thrusts by United States aircraft, said a communique transmitted through Batavia from Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell's allied general headquarters on Java.

It was in the same strait that Indies and United States air and naval forces had already attacked a huge invasion armada, sinking and damaging a total estimated as high as 46 ships.

Moreover it was said that during the past few days Allied aircraft carrying out reconnaissance on shipping in Macassar Strait "have shot down a total of nine enemy aircraft for a loss of one of our own" and Netherlands aircraft shot down a hostile machine in another part of the area.

The communique added normal attacks on enemy airdromes and bases had been carried out over the area between Malaya and the East Celebes.

Observers said the Japanese raids upon the airports of Soerabaja, the largest naval base of all the Netherlands Indies, and other cities might be the prelude to an invasion attempt. It was considered an evident attempt to cripple the United Nations' striking power.

The Japanese already have invested parts of Borneo, 300 miles to the north. The Netherlands Indies Command said many fighters accompanied the bombers for the attacks upon Soerabaja, Malang and Madioen and on the village of Magetan.

Some damage to "naval establishments and a few aircraft lying on the water" was acknowledged.

Aneta News Agency, however, said anti aircraft batteries and mobile anti-aircraft guns defending the base bagged at least one bomber

4 Forts Left Yanks after Batan

Overwhelming Weight Of Jap Troops, Supplies Telling

(By H. M. PETERS.)

The weight of crushing manpower, ordnance and air strength is slowly beginning to tell on the Batan Peninsula of Luzon Island, the Philippines, where Gen. Douglas MacArthur with a comparatively small United States and Filipino Army has held up the Japanese for almost two months.

The picture of that front as it emerges from Washington communiques is of a badly-outnumbered American force beating off intermittent attacks, inflicting heavy losses upon the Japanese but using up its own manpower and supplies and gradually yielding territory.

MacArthur lacks air support while the mountainous country upon which he is making his stand would not offer bases for airpower even if it could be got to him, and supplied with reserves of gasoline, through or over waters dominated by the enemy.

The Americans in their gradual withdrawal southward down the Batan Peninsula have yielded, in succession, the naval base of Olongapo and apparently the towns of Balanga and Moran. On the western side of the wooded peninsula the fighting now centres around Pilar, just across Manila Bay from the City of Maila.

On the eastern side the Japanese yesterday attempted a three or four pointed landing operation just south of Bagac, but these forces, Washington announced were either destroyed or captured.

At MacArthur's back, as he fights the important delaying action which is holding many of Japan's best divisions from service on more potentially profitable fronts, is the Island of Corregidor on which is situated Fort Mills, which his forces hold firmly.

Close to Corregidor and also American-held are the Islands of Caballo, Fraile and Carabao, which contain, respectively, the big guns of Forts Hughes, Drum and Frank.

Taboo Areas In B.C. Named

Think Less Than 2,500 Japanese To Be Shifted

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—(CP).—British Columbia, west of the Cascade mountains and including the villages of Terrace and Hope as been defined a "protected area" under the Defence of Canada regulations.

The order defining the area was published last night in a special edition of the Canada Gazette and went into effect Jan. 31.

Certain Japanese nationals now resident in the area are to be moved out. Government officials now are giving consideration to where they will be taken and possible labor projects on which they may be employed.

A high Royal Canadian Mounted Police official last night estimated the number of Japanese affected by the removal plan would be considerably less than 2,500.

No Aid for the Wheat Farmer

Plenty Of Supplies Says Taggart — Act If Shortage Showed

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—(CP).— The Wartime Prices and Trade Board would have to act if there were danger of the supply of wheat drying up but, with abundant wheat supplies on hand now, the Board could do nothing to assist the wheat industry simply because it was distressed, Hon. Gordon Taggart today told western wheat farmers.

Mr. Taggart, foods administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and Saskatchewan Agriculture Minister, spoke to the 400 representatives of western farmers who yesterday placed before the government their brief calling, among other things, for an increase from 70 cents a bushel to $1 in the initial government's payment for wheat.

"I don't say no one has a responsibility to deal with wheat," said Mr. Taggart.

John Wellbelove, Eston, Sask., asked Mr. Taggart if the Board could decide the costs of finishing products such as flour and bread, and determine the spread between wheat and finished products so the farmers could establish what their wheat was worth.

Mr. Taggart said the Board did not propose to relate various commodity prices. Its objective was to halt retail price rises.

Dean A. M. Shaw, chairman of the Federal Agricultural Suppliers Board, said the prospects were that larger quantities of foodstuffs would be required from Canada during the war.

Canada had more than doubled hog production since the war started and production was coming closer to the capacity of plants, Dean Shaw said.

Dean Shaw said orders had been received for 500,000 cases of Canadian eggs, equal to 15,000,000 dozen, for shipment to the United Kingdom this fall in addition to the 30,000,000 dozen contract now being filled.

Details All In Due Course

Premier King Sure Plebiscite Plan To Suit All

OTTAWA, Feb. 3—(CP).—Details of the proposed plebiscite of anti-conscription pledges of the Government will be made public in due time, Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons Monday, in reply to a question from Conservative House Leader Hanson.

Mr. Hanson based his question on a report that 1940 election lists would be used without revision and that the ballots would be brought to Ottawa and "pooled" for counting without reference to province or localities.

Mr. King said the plebiscite plans would be made known in due course "and I am sure the procedure to be adopted will commend itself to all sides," he said.

NAZI COUNTER-ATTACKS REPULSED IN 3 SECTORS BY RUSSIANS

MOSCOW, Feb. 3—(AP)—Russian forces pursuing their winter drive through snow and against stiffening German resistance were reported today to have killed some 1,400 Germans in three different sectors of the front and thrown back Nazi counter-attacks launched in a vain effort to stem a steady retreat.

The Moscow radio said 1,000 Germans were killed when an important inhabited locality, identified only as "V," was recaptured by the Russians. Death of 200 German officers and men in each of two sectors, one southwest and one south of Moscow, also was reported.

Repulse of German counter-attacks in some sections was announced by the Soviet information bureau.

Sukhinichi, nearly 150 miles airline southwest of Moscow, was recaptured last Friday by forces seeking to drive a spearhead toward Smolensk.

In an unidentified sector of the southern front, the communique added, the enemy lost more than 200 officers and men in fighting in which the Russians captured seven guns, one tank and 16 machine-guns.

(Jacques Doriot, a leader of French volunteers in the German army, said in a Paris address that rain and mud had crippled the invasion machine even before 43-below-zero weather arrived.

("At those temperatures everything changes," Doriot said.

"Men lose part of their faculties; their fingers become swollen, and their joints become stiff with ankylosis.")

Beachhead Abandoned

The Russians said that one of their hard-won Crimean beachheads had been abandoned when, "Some days ago, our troops withdrew from Feodosiya." (The Germans said they recaptured that Black Sea port on the Crimea's panhandle, Jan. 19.)

Japanese propaganda sought last week to convince the world that the main forces had already withdrawn to these islands, which together completely dominate the entrance to Manila Bay. But the troops on the peninsula still have about 20 miles to sell dearly before they are compelled to quit the mainland for their island strongholds.

Reduction of these island forts would pose a difficult problem for the Japanese. Corregidor's huge naval guns would outshot any ship's guns which could be brought to bear against them. But the possibility that Corregidor can be smothered by air power, as was Crete, was not overlooked. One difficulty facing the enemy in an attack of that sort is the fact that whereas Crete had level stretches where the Germans could land troop transports to follow up their parachutists, Corregidor has but one small airport, Kindley Field, which, now that the Americans have practically no planes left of their own, doubtless can quickly be rendered unserviceable.

Berlin's Claims.

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), Feb. 3 — (AP).— The German high command claimed to-day the repulse of heavy Russian attacks north-east of Taganrog on the Sea of Azov and asserted that elsewhere on the eastern front counter-attacking Nazi troops scored local successes despite "stubborn enemy resistance" and adverse weather.

The bulletin gave no other details of land operations on the eastern front, but reported that 23 Soviet planes had been destroyed in air battles and attacks on Russian airdromes without loss of a Nazi plane.

HOW TO RELIEVE PILE TORTURE
QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from McDermid & Jury or any druggist and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended, and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.—(Advt.)

Air Compressor Purchase Given Approval

Purchase of an air compressor and equipment from the Canadian Ingersoll-Rand Company for the Board of Works to be used in breaking road surfaces, rock material in trenches, and also at the city's quarry in Smith Township was approved by the Council last night at a net cost of $2,765.

The gross cost of the machine and equipment is $3,365, but the city is to receive credit of $600, the rental of the same type of machine for three months at a cost of $200 a month.

The details of the tender as recommended by the Board were as follows:

That the tender of the Canadian Ingersoll-Rand Company for supplying compressor equipment as follows: One (1) size GK-105 gasoline engine-driven two-stage air-cooled portable compressor complete, and mounted on four steel wheels and complete with drag bar, price $2,655; net f.o.b. painted post, duty, exchange, war exchange tax and Federal sales tax included; two (2) size CC-80 paving breakers, complete with frontheads for either 1⅛-inch or 1¼-inch hex. steels, price $245, f.o.b. Sherbrooke, Que., Federal sales tax included; and one (1) JA-55 blower type jackhammer complete, fitted for either ⅞-inch hex. or 1-inch Q.O., steels price $220, f.o.b. Sherbrooke, Que., Federal sales tax included, be accepted, and the order be placed to the satisfaction of the city engineer, it being understood that the rental charge of $220 per month paid by the city for renting similar equipment will be credited to the above tendered price.

H. J. McMahon was given the contract for sidewalk snow plowing in No. 8 District for $175, a substitute arrangement made by City Engineer Parsons after the original tenders were accepted, but the Ashburnham district was left without a contractor for snow removal.

The contract for the construction of a new incinerator was embodied in the following brief paragraph in the Property Committee's report: "We recommend that the tender of Francis Hankin & Company Limited for the erection of an incinerator at a cost of $46,200 be accepted." It was adopted without comment.

Sale of two lots on the south side of Euclid Avenue to H. Meeks for $150 was authorized and a lot on Wolfe Street, north of the C.G.E., to F. A. MacPherson for $150 was also approved.

Extension of the Border Transit Company's transportation franchise for fifteen years from January 1, 1942, as reported last week, was also ratified by the Council without discussion. The recommendation of the Finance Committee included the following condition: "On the understanding that the Bus Company will at an early date supply much additional motor equipment and improve and maintain better service."

Nearby, Lt.-Gen. A. E. Percival, commander of the defending army forces, was directing men removing valuable materials from a warehouse in the path of the flames. Singapore's civilians and ranking military men plunged unhesitatingly into the most dangerous spots to localize the damage.

Aside from the air attack practically no military action worthy of mention occurred during this fourth day of siege.

The big guns poised along the narrow Johore Strait fired intermittently, but so far the targets have been well concealed.

The wail of raid sirens filled the air, off and on, throughout the day.

R.A.F. reconnaissance showed a considerable movement of enemy troops southward through the green Malaya jungles.

JANUARY BUILDING.

Four building permits were issued by City Engineer Parsons in January. They were for one $2,500 dwelling and three miscellaneous buildings totalling $5,000. The aggregate for the month was $7,500.

ARMY TRAIN THURSDAY

The Canadian Army Demonstration and Display Train will arrive in Peterborough about 9 a.m. (DST) Thursday, and will be open to the public from 11 a.m. until 4.30. It will be placed in the station yard near the Co-op mill, at Dalhousie and George streets.

TRUCK STRIKES HYDRANT.

A fire hydrant at the corner of Hunter and Queen Streets was damaged this morning when it was struck by a coal truck belonging to the Scott Coal Company, Ashburnham. The truck also was damaged by the impact.

MEMBER OF EXECUTIVE.

H. R. "Barney" Armstrong, former member of the Examiner staff and now with a Toronto daily, has been elected to the executive of the Press Gallery at Ottawa. He is a son of the late Simon R. Armstrong, who was clerk of Peterborough for almost half a century. Mr. Armstrong's name appears among writers of many Canadian dailies whose accounts of doings in the House of Commons are known to all of Canada.

NEW REEVE OF DOURO

Jeremiah Mahoney has been appointed Reeve of Douro by the township council, succeeding Martin Coughlin, who has accepted the municipal position of road superintendent in Douro. Mr. Mahoney is an experienced councillor. He was a member of the council ten years, but was defeated for the reeveship two years ago by Mr. Coughlin.

GORGEOUS SKY

How about a little orchid for that February sky last night. Only the planets and first ranking stars shone through the moonlight from the deep blue background. Jupiter dominated the stellar company, and the outline of Orion was brilliant. And down beneath the earth's ceiling several volunteer airmen circled over Peterborough as its homes were securely turning out its domestic lamps around midnight. Those moving lights of the planes marking the way of several Canadian youths seemed more sublime even than ruddy Mars.

THOUGHT IT WAS COLDER.

Announcement that the official low in Peterborough this morning was 16 below zero brought a chorus of dissent from most citizens. A Gallup poll would undoubtedly have brought in the finding that the majority of folk were convinced that the thermometer had dropped to 20 below at least, and a few would not settle for anything higher than 25 below.

MANY LICENSES ISSUED.

The popularity enjoyed by the bicycle in Peterborough just now is shown by the fact that the police have already issued licenses for over 600 machines and the total is being increased daily. Many more wheels, not in use at the present time, will undoubtedly be issued later and it would not be surprising to find that the total will be well over the 1,000 mark.

Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet, said every man and every vessel of his command was being used to the fullest extent to take the war to the enemy's front door.

Small formations of Flying Fortress type bombers raided the Japanese airfields at Kuala Lumpur and Kuantan, on the Malay Peninsula, the army said. Poor visibility prevented a check on results of the attacks, but the planes returned safely to their bases.

All-Out Jap Assault On Singapore Expected As Matter Of Prestige

SINGAPORE, Feb. 3—(CP).—Japanese pounded Singapore with explosives and bombs today, apparently the aerial forerunner of an invasion attempt which this British citadel's defenders expectedly momentarily.

Two separate formations of bombers, one numbering nine planes and the other 27, swept over the island during the morning in a swift attack.

Confident of their ability to make the invaders pay dearly for a mass assault across Johore Strait, Imperial forces kept sharp watch to thwart any repetition of the infiltration tactics which forced them to yield the Malayan mainland but there was no sign yet of any ground activity.

Bombing activity was described by a communique as "considerable during the last 24 hours, high-level and dive-bomb attacks being carried out and causing some fires." Military casualties were slight.

The British command, countering the aerial blow with a bomber smash at Kluang, on the Malay Peninsula above the Johore Strait, carried out a low-altitude attack on the Japanese-held airdrome and on enemy motor transport.

'Chutists And Night Raid.

Military circles expressed belief the Japanese would try to win a foothold on the island either by dropping parachute troops or by slipping ashore from small boats under cover of darkness before launching a frontal assault.

They saw little chance, however, that such tactics might succeed, for they pointed out that the troops concentrated here have little more than 70 miles of coastline to defend.

Some observers suggested that the Japanese, having won the Malayan Peninsula, might elect to neutralize Singapore's stategic importance merely by holding it in a state of siege, thereby avoiding the losses they might suffer in trying to capture it, and releasing large numbers of men for action elsewhere.

The general view in military quarters, however, was that the Japanese would take the risk of trying to reduce the fortress for reasons of prestige.

Observers acknowledged that aerial supremacy probably would be a major factor in the battle of

CAMPBELLFORD

Wage Increase Voted Town Employees

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 3 (ENS). — Following the principle adopted by other municipal bodies, Town Council upped the wages of their employees in the lower income brackets, adding five cents per hour to the 30 cents formerly paid to all employees of the Road and Bridge committee. Deputy Reeve P. H. MacMillan brought in the recommendation and made the motion that will bring the new schedule into effect as of February 1.

A request for 375 feet of sidewalk between 1st and 2nd streets was made to council by Charles Bedford, who claimed he had been without a proper walk for 14 years, and as a result had been wading through snow every winter and mud each Spring. So anxious was he for some action on the matter, that he offered to draw all the necessary gravel and stone free of charge if Council would build the walk. However the question was shelved temporarily, as a motion leaving it to be decided on till after the Finance committee had held its annual budget meeting.

The Legal committee was left to wrestle with a problem arising as a consequence of the annual audit to Library Board accounts. Rev. G. N. Maxwell, who took over the duties of treasurer in November of last year, explained that the report submitted by the auditors (whose report was as of December 31, 1941), did not coincide with the one prepared by the board whose year normally doesn't end until January 31. Unfamiliar with the former method of book-keeping he had not had all of the January cheques certified in December, and as a consequence the Board stood to lose in the neighborhood of $270 in annual grants. When asked why these grants could not be credited as of the following year, H. Townsend said that only a certain amount was appropriated to these grants each year, and the Board stood to lose if there was very much carry-over from one year to the next.

The council of the village of Warkworth does not like the idea of contributing to the upkeep of the Campbellford Police Court, and they made this quite clear in a letter read by the clerk. According to the communication they refused to pay the $1 per case fee for all counts heard in the local police court. Quick to take action council passed a motion authorizing their clerk to advise Warkworth that no further charges could be booked for hearing at Campbellford unless the nominal fee of $1 each was paid. Councillor O'Sullivan suggested the action might tend to drive a certain amount of business away from the town, and asked what this charge would amount to for the neighboring municipality. Councillor Battisby said, "They are a pretty good bunch of people over there, so I don't suppose there would be a dozen cases during the year."

Further discussion revealed the anticipated proceeds from all other municipalities would not run the total income from this source to more than $50 a year.

"Why should we maintain a court room and provide a janitor and heat without these municipalities, which are benefitting, paying part of the cost?" asked Reeve Calver.

Other communications were read from the Salvation Army Rescue Fund, thanking the corporation for their donation of $25 and from the Navy League requesting permission to hold their annual tag day here on June 6.

Reporting in his capacity as chairman of the Fire, Water and Light committee, Councillor O'Sullivan told council the Fire Chief had asked for 500 feet of new hose, but he said, "I would recommend to council that they buy 250 feet." He explained the department had 150 feet of hose go out on them during one fire last summer, and added that a hose ring expander would be a great asset to the department, which could then salvage a considerable amount of hose which was only partly gone. He was of the opinion the department could cut down on its hose order if they had this device. Of the hose itself, he said, "I think we should order it right now because we don't know how soon we will be able to get it."

Dean Of City Council Visits Aged Mother

Several little notes of sentiment were quietly sounded at last night's council meeting. In one of them Alderman Cotton thanked the council "for the lovely flowers Mayor Hamilton and the members of the council sent my mother on her ninety-seventh birthday last Saturday. I sincerely appreciate that kind remembrance. My mother is really a remarkable woman for her age. She is in possession of all her faculties, and although she had a fall last summer from which she was laid up for quite a while she is now getting around again pretty well. My mother wished me to thank you, and her own thanks I expect will come through my sister."

Mayor Hamilton said that Alderman Cotton's fidelity and love for his mother "have been an object lesson to all of us, and we admire him for this trait. We knew this birthday of his mother was approaching, and we did not feel like letting this occasion go by without showing our appreciation of Alderman Cotton and his mother."

Hesitating a moment in reply, Alderman Cotton said he had visited his mother once a month for forty years. Her home is in Gananoque.

Scot Jumps $5,000 A Year Job To Join Army At $1.30 A Day

KINGSTON, Feb. 4—Young men of military age in Canada might take a leaf from the book of Pte. W. F. Campbell, of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, who recently resigned a position at $5,000 a year to join the Canadian Active Army at $1.30 a day. The story of Pte. Campbell's patriotism was told by the Recruiting Officer for Military District No. 3.

Pte. Campbell is a chartered accountant by profession and is a member of the Institute of Accountants and Actuaries in Glasgow, Scotland. For five years he was employed by a British firm in Manila, Philippine Islands. In July last year he started on a holiday to visit his parents at Oban, in the highlands of Scotland. He stopped over in Western Canada to see his three uncles, all of whom had served in the First Great War. During his stay in the West he noticed the call for men in the Army and in August presented himself at a recruiting centre. He was accepted for service with the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, a branch of his own choosing.

It was the second time Pt. Campbell had applied for enlistment. When war broke in 1939, he, with other British subjects in Manila, offered his services to the British consul at Shanghai, China. Pte. Campbell was advised that for a time at least he would be of greater service by remaining with the British firm, which was performing invaluable war work.

The decision to resign from a lucrative position was not hard to make, Pte. Campbell said. "I was too young to get into the last war but I knew it was my duty to offer my services in this one. Everything worth living for is at stake right now."

Pte. Campbell is an only son.

1939 Tax Roll Is Returned

In recommending the acceptance of the tax roll for 1939 from S. A. Couper, tax colector, Alderman Cotton informed the council last night that the outstanding taxes for that year were $12,642.76, mostly chargeable to land. The unpaid taxes for that year are $7,000 less than for 1938.

Alderman Sands urged that Monaghan Road south from Charlotte street to Lansdowne street be made a through street on account of increased traffic, most of it to and from the Canadian General Electric plant. His resolution providing for boundary becoming a through street was seconded by Alderman Glover. Alderman Bradburn suggested that at the same time the Board of Works should set up protective signs for the benefit of the children of the Prince of Wales School.

City Engineer Parsons told the council that Monaghan Road from Frank street south already provides the right of way for traffic. Frank street is a township road north of Chamberlain street.

Alderman Dutton reported that enamel signs, the only kind the council would accept last year, were not available. As one of those who had held out for the enamel work, Alderman Sands said he was willing to throw in the sponge and assent to the painted signs for the school area.

Lost Part Of Finger

INFORMATION VANTED.

The Peterborough police department is anxious to secure information as to the present whereabouts of Thomas Jewett, who at one time, it is said, was a resident of Peterborough, living on Crescent Street. Any citizen who knows anything about Mr. Jewett or where he may be located at the present time is asked to communicate with the police department as soon as possible.

Hepburn Scores Federal Appeasement

WELLAND, Ont., Feb. 3.—(CP).— A heavy week's campaigning by all three candidates in the Welland Federal by-election Feb. 9 was under way to-day with new interest stirred into the campaign with the entry of Premier Hepburn whose opening speeches on behalf of Douglas Watt, Independent, predicted the defeat of Labor Minister Mitchell, Liberal.

The Premier spoke twice last night, declaring in a broadcast over a St. Catharines station (CKTB) that Canada's "whole war effort has been dictated by the policy of appeasement" and at a public meeting here last night that Prime Minister Mackenzie King's government would be swept out of power by a "wave of public resentment" against the conscription plebiscite.

He charged at the public meeting of 600 persons here that sugar rationing had been instituted to draw attention away from the plebiscite; that the people of Canada are being "fooled" by "highly-paid propagandists" of government regarding the manufacture of airplanes and tanks and that Ralph P. Bell, director of aircraft production, had attempted to aid the Labor Minister's campaign by stating 300 airplane engines soon would be built monthly at the Windsor, Ont., plant of the Chrysler Corporation.

Claims 18 Months Yet.

Mr. Hepburn said he had checked on this with John Mansfield, president of Chrysler, and had learned that "if everything goes well it will be 18 months before we can make one engine and even then parts will have to be imported."

Third candidate in the by-election is Mark Kriluck, C.C.F.

The Labor minister spoke at Fort Erie, saying that "I suppose I will read in the newspapers tomorrow that my old friend Mitchell Hepburn called me a Yes-man, because I made a recent statement that being an old sailor I'd be loyal to my skipper."

"Well, I wonder if Mitch ever gives orders to the members of his cabinet."

Mr. Hepburn referred to the Labor minister's remark in both his speeches, declaring that because Mr. Mitchell had said he would stick to the ship, "a ship he knows should be sunk," he (Mr. Hepburn) would "come back, and back, and back" to advocate the election of Mr. Watt.

He had been warned, Mr. Hepburn said, that he was "sticking my neck out" in entering the campaign, "but I don't care how far I stick it out if it helps defeat the Mackenzie King representative."

No Appeasing Axis

Mr. Hepburn charged Mr. King with 'sabotaging" the British Government's attempt to start the Commonwealth Air Training Plan and the placing of munitions factories in Canada in 1937 because he wanted to appease Quebec. He told the public meeting the Government's policy of a national registration, followed by the 30-day military service and then the four-month call-up was all a part of its appeasement methods, and declared:—

"The trouble is that we've been loaded down with a policy of appeasement. But you can't appease nations of killers such as the Germans and the Japs."

The conscription plebiscite was the "crowning instance" of appeasement and had left the Canadian troops overseas "asking if they're to be left without reinforcements when they invade Europe and open a second front to aid the Russians." By calling the plebiscite the Government had reneged on its commitments to the other American nations and this the Premier termed "a criminal act."

In both his speeches, Mr. Hepburn said the Canadian Government's policy in having sold Japan nickel, steel, cellulose and wheat, even after Japan became an active Axis partner "and her policy of Pacific domination was well known" was part of the appeasement program.

Premier Godbout of Quebec had said "Mr. King was "tied to a policy of non-conscription," Mr. Hepburn said, but the Prime Minister did not have the courage himself to say what he intends to do after the plebiscite.

A Second Front Line.

Mr. Mitchell, in his address at Fort Erie, stressed the importance of the labor ministry and declared it is essential that labor form a second front-line in this war.

"This war will be won within the next two years on the industrial and agricultural front, if we keep going at the pace we are maintaining now," he said.

"When the great mass production machine on the North American continent gets going at full swing, both Japan and Germany will be swept aside like chaff. When the history of this country is written the name of Prime Minister Mackenzie King will go down as its greatest son."

Suburban Area Commission Reports To City

"They are doing a good job," was Mayor Hamilton's tribute, endorsed by several of the aldermen who expressed the same appreciation in other words, to the Suburban Area Commission when M. H. Gainey, the city's representative, presented its report of the work done last year.

Mr. Gainey was accompanied by Duncan Maciver, county road engineer. The Commission has 60.1 miles of suburban area roads under its administration.

"We haven't laid out a program for 1942 yet because the county council did not make their appropriation for the year until last week," Mr. Gainey said. "There is an agitation for us to assume the Buckhorn Road, but we have not decided anything so far. Some people want it to go by way of Selwyn and others from Phelan's corners near Lakefield."

Mr. Gainey explained that the Commission is chiefly guided by the results of a traffic census. That has been its practice in assuming roads.

To Alderman Gordon he replied that the county charges the Commission with one-third of Mr. Maciver's salary, and as a matter of fact the Commission receives considerably more than one-third of his time. Moreover, the county had absorbed any small overdraft which might be shown at the end of a year. When it has occurred the sum has not amounted to much, Mr. Gainey said, and the county council wrote it off.

The attitude of the council last night was complimentary to the work of the Commission.

Alderman Dutton enquired whether it would be of any advantage to the Commission to call in representatives of the county and city council in deciding upon the assumption of new work such as the Buckhorn Road.

"They have done things well so far without conference," Mayor Hamilton regarked, and Alderman Gordon said the Commission was an independent body appointed by statute.

"I am not suggesting any interference," Alderman Dutton said. "I just wondered whether we could be of any help. That was all."

A letter from Miss J. A. Batten, county clerk, informed the council that the county had set aside $10,000 for the Suburban Area Commission this year. The city is required to make an equal appropriation, and the Department of Highways contributes the equivalent of both these sums.

30 Below Zero

KINMOUNT was the coldest spot in the Peterborough district overnight with a temperature reading of 30 below, while in Peterborough itself the mercury dropped to 14. Bancroft was 23 below, Apsley 20 below, Deloro 25 below, Lakefield 17 below and out on highway 28 at Springville the garageman clocked the drop at exactly 22 below zero.

Haultain Rites Observed

MONTREAL, Feb. 3 — (CP). — Representative of Dominion and Provincial Governments and the Bench and Bar paid tribute Monday at funeral services for Sir Frederick Haultain, Chief Justice of Saskatchewan for 26 years and Premier of the Northwest Territories from 1891 to 1905, who died here Friday.

Sir Frederick, 84, who had been living in retirement for several years, will be buried at Peterborough, Ont.

The services were conducted in Christ Church Cathedral by Rt. Rev. Arthur Carlisle, Anglican Bishop of Montreal, and Very Rev. J. H. Dixon, Dean of Montreal.

Chief mourners were Lady Haultain, whom Sir Frederick married in 1938; Miss Clara Haultain, a sister; Miss Helen Haultain, Mrs. Arthur Boucher and Mrs. Wilfrid Bovey, nieces.

Honorary pallbearers were Prof. Herbert Haultain of Toronto, a cousin; F. C. A. Macklin, a nephew; and Lt.-Col. Wilfrid Bovey, Lt.-Col. H. M. Wallis, Thomas Gilmour, Arthur Gilmour and D. C. Creighton, all related to the family.

Oshawa People Injured In Crash

COBOURG, Feb. 3.— (ENS).— Floyd Mosley of Ottawa, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Fitzgibbon, of Division street, had a miraculous escape here during the week-end. Mosley was the driver of a Motorways transport and Fitzgibbon was driving his own car east of here when they collided. Fitzgibbon's car went into the ditch and snapped a hydro pole causing disruption of service for six hours. Constable D. Adair investigated.

Four Hurt.

A car driven by Gene Newell of Vernon Rd., Oshawa, also came to grief durng the week-end. The car encountered a patch of ice east of Grafton village, went into the ditch, turned over after careening off a tree. Agtha Morley of Vernon Rd., Oshawa, was seriously hurt, suffering a broken leg and concussion of the brain. Newell suffered cuts and bruises. Other passengers were Ruth Gulliver of Retson Rd., Oshawa, and Verna Harrinton of Vernon Rd., Oshawa Dr. A. R. Richards attended the injured people, who were removed to Cobourg General Hospital for treatment.

Provincial Constable D. Adair investigated.

Mother Not to Blame for the Children's Colds

Despite all the mother can do the kiddies will run out of doors not properly wrapped up; have on too much clothing; get overheated and cool off too suddenly; get their feet wet; kick off the bed clothes, and do a dozen things the mother cannot help.

Half the battle in treating children's colds is to give them something they will like; something they will take without any fuss, and this the mother will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy used by Canadian mothers, for the past 48 years.

Price 35c a bottle; the large family size, about 3 times as much, 60c, at all drug counters.

Canadian Asked Only To Invest New War Loan

"We are not asked for our money. We are asked to make a gilt-edged investment at a reasonable rate of interest; to invest in a free country to keep it free," declared J. C. McRuer, K.C., of Toronto, in firing the first gun in the Peterborough County 1942 Victory Loan campaign in an impressive address before the Peterborough Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel on Monday.

Present as guests at the gathering were Vincent Eastwood, Sr., the chairman. Gordon S. Matthews, W. C. Hughes, J. K. Hughes and C. E. LaBranche of the Peterborough County Committee, and George Brown, W. Reid, and C. W. McBride, organizers of the campaign.

Rotarian T. J. Carley, K.C., introduced the speaker.

"It would seem an unnecessary effort on my part for me to come to Peterborough to take part in this, the Victory Loan Campaign of 1942," said Mr. McRuer. "Peterborough has always done its full share when called upon for any national service, and I feel sure you will continue to do your full share, and that your only object in inviting me to come here is to give me a very pleasant opportunity to be a partner with you in adding another distinction to your past achievements.

"It is not my purpose to make any appeal to your emotions. You do not need that and in any case this is not that sort of a war. We leave the emotional field to Hitler and Musscling. We are fighting a war with dogged determination to win, and by dogged determination we will win. But one does not fight with dogged determination and hysterical fanfare at the same time, so may I talk plain business for a short time.

"You and I, and all the other eleven million five hundred thousand people of Canada, are at war with a ruthless and unscrupulous band of international bandits. They have already exterminated many nations of free people, and if we and the Allied Powers do not exterminate them they will exterminate us. There is no middle course. There is only one way we can exterminate them, and that is by men and guns, tanks, ships, airplanes, bombs, bullets and shells. Men without guns tanks, ships airplanes, bombs, bullets and shells are useless, and these all cost very real money. As for those of us who cannot shoulder a rifle, man a tank, a ship, a gun or an airplane, as long as we have a dollar in our pockets and that dollar is needed, we have not discharged our full duty to ourselves and to all others in defence of our right to live as free people.

What Has Been Done.

"Now that you are being asked for money, and you are about to ask others for more, it is not inappropriate that you should have some slight review of what has been done with the money that has been raised for the defence of Canada in the past, and what will be done with it in the future.

"In 1939, 11,500,000 people of Canada were living at peace with the world, and they wished to continue to live at peace with the world, as did all other British people. In that we were no different than any other one of the 26 Allied Powers. But through no fault of ours we were not permitted to live at peace with the world. We were required to take on the full duty of defending ourselves against aggression. In less than two and one-half years we have risen from the position of a nation of no military or naval consequences, to a nation assuming a major and creditable part in this conflict. We have, Mr. Chairman, great power and resources, and our duty is only limited by the utmost use of that power and those resources.'

"I am about to review in a general way what we have done. In doing so I do not wish to suggest that we have any right to look upon it with smug satisfaction, but rather as a measure of how we can do greater things in the future.

Navy Figures.

"At the outbreak of war there were twenty ships and two thousand men in the Royal Canadian Navy. At the beginning of 1942 the Royal Canadian Navy consisted of 350 ships and 27,800 men. One hundred and forty of these are corvettes and minesweepers built in Canada. One does not need to pause for a moment to emphasize the importance of the work that the men of the Canadian Navy are doing in defending the sea lanes of the world.

Army.

"At the outbreak of war Canada had a regular Army of 4,500 men. At the beginning of 1942 there were enlisted 260,000 for service anywhere and a reserve army of 140,000. These men had to be equipped, and of that I shall speak presently.

Air Force.

"At the outbreak of war the total strength of the Royal Canadian Air Force was 4,000 all ranks. At the end of 1941 it exceeded 100,000.

"The total of Canada's armed forces enlisted for service anywhere amounts now to over 390,000.

"Canada's task has not been confined to enlisting and equipping men. Not only have we been required to provide the equipment for our own forces, but we have been required to provide equipment for the British and other Allied forces, and our duty in this direction will be increasingly heavy.

Production Statistics.

"Labor and industry, working in unparalleled harmony, have worked miracles in the last two and one-half years. At the outbreak of war there were few firms working on newly let and comparatively small war contracts. For some time there was a disposition on the part of the British that indicated that they did not need to place large orders on this side of the Atlantic. I can well remember, prior to Dunkirk, the Government being questioned in the British House of Commons as to why contracts for munitions were being let in the United States while British workmen were not being fully employed. The result of this was that during the early months of the war the shops of Canada were neither geared nor tooled to produce modern implements of warfare.

"Notwithstanding all this, since the war commenced Canadian industry has produced: 200,000 army vehicles, 14,000 Bren guns, delivered 9,000,000 heavy shells, 10,000,000 shell cases, 500,000 bombs, and 150,000,000 pounds of explosives and chemicals. We are now producing heavy guns, anti-aircraft guns, field guns, naval guns, tank guns, Bren guns, Browning machine-guns, naval machine-guns, Lee-Engield rifles, trench mortars, bomb throwers, and smoke projectors. Medium tanks are being turned out at the rate of five a day, and by July it is expected they will be produced at the rate of ten a day. Thirteen types of airplanes are being made, including Harvard trainers, Avro-Anson trainers, Hurricane fighters, and Catalina flying boats.

"In addition to this the whole range of miscellaneous equipment, including uniforms, instruments, radio locators, parachutes, minesweeping gear, and naval stores.

City Council Plans to Place Suggestion Book In City Clerk's Office Handy To Everyone

A suggestion book is to be bought for City Clerk Outram's office and kept conveniently for the members of the Council and especially for citizens with ideas for the welfare of the city. And monthly reviews are to be drafted from this book and reported to the Council.

This proposal by Alderman Glover was adopted at last night's Council meeting, and he and Mr. Outram were instructed to look after the details of getting a book that is to be kept handy to the public in the clerk's office.

Alderman Glover said this simple form of record had been adopted in an American city which was highly successful in its administration. "Some times we report things that are to be attended to, at least it has been my experience, and there are times when possibly we have not made a note of them. Any way, nothing comes of them, and to make sure about it in the future, I think we should have a book in the clerk's office for this purpose, and then there can be no question about suggestions being attended to. We should have a monthly report from this book to the Council, showing these matters have been disposed of."

"It's a simple plan, and should be tried," Alderman Bradburn remarked.

"Are complaints to be registered in the same way?" Alderman Swanston asked.

"Certainly," Alderman Glover said.

Alderman Dutton laughed heartily at some thought stirring in his mind, and then said, "I can't help thinking what's going to happen about complaints."

Skating Parties Are Popular

PORT HOPE, Feb. 3—(ENS). — Skating seemed to be very popular with the different church Young Peole's Societies on Monday night. St. Paul's Presbyterian Y.P.S. held a skating party at the Young street rink with a good attendance, after which a very enjoyable social time was had at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lozier, where pork and beans, doughnuts and coffee were enjoyed by all.

The United Church Young People journeyed to Baltimore by car, where they were the guests of the Baltimore Young People's Union at a skating party.

The Baptist Church Young people enjoyed lantern slides on religious education, with Miss Dorothy Ough convener of this program.

Judge Allows Appeal Drunk Driving Count

COBOURG, Feb. 3 — (ENS). — Judge L. V. O'Connor dismissed the conviction of drunk driving given again Howard Hugh of Roseneath last Fall by Magistrate R. B. Baxter. The case was dismissed as the result of Hugh's appeal, which was heard in county court here yesterday.

16 Below Zero

COBOURG, Feb. 3. — (ENS). — What is believed to be the coldest spell since 1932 descended on Coburg yesterday when Division street thermometers registered 10 below zero as early as 9 o'clock at night and steadily dropped until a mark of 16 below was registered at 11 o'clock.

Check Is Made On Work Done On Sunday

The Peterborough Ministerial Association met in the Y.M.C.A. on Monday. Present were Adjutant Norman Buckley, Canon W. P. Robertson, Revs. F. W. Craik, H. N. Bracken, J. H. Sutcliffe, C. C. Boyter, W. McArthur, W. C. MacLean, H. L. Roberts and E. W. Young.

Adjutant Norman Buckley, vice-president, was elected president for the remainder of the session.

Rev. C. C. Boyter reported that action had been taken in connection with certain breaches of the Lord's Day Act in the city. Several fresh cases were reported at the meeting in which men are taking advantage of the stress of war time to do Sunday work which has no connection whatever with the war effort. Our methods however must be persuasion rather than force. The committee was continued and its work was approved.

C. E. Kitney of the Little Lake cemetery spoke on the proposal of the Cemetery Board that all funeral services in future will be conducted in the chapel, and that committal of the bodies will be made at a later date. The Association warmly approved of this method of burial, especially during the winter months. It also commended Mr. Kitney's cooperation with the ministers at all times and his reverent attitude at the funeral services.

Community Sunday School

Rev. H. W. Bracken introduced the subject of community effort to provide a Sunday School for children in the new houses in the Parkhill road area. A house he believed would be available. The scheme was approved if it can be carried out. Revs. Bracken, Young, Sutcliffe and McArthur were appointed a committee to investigate the matter and report to the next meeting.

The secretary introduced some correspondence from the Committee of Evangelism and Social Service of the Peterborough Presbytery of the United church, dealing with the modern liquor situation. It was felt that the present time is strategic for a campaign to curtail the wasteful expenditure of money on alcholic beverages. It was recommended that each minister bring this matter before his congregation at an early date in this month as possible.

New World Order

Rev. M. C. MacLean gave an address on some suggestions for a new world order. Many men, he said, who were pacifists before this war begun now believe that the defeat of the totalitarian powers is absolutely necessary. J. B. Priestley once said that the "be prepared" set were fools; guns were dangerous weapons, if they are made they are bound to be used. Bishop Hobson of the American Episcopal church, once said that the nations must be freed from the scourge of war, he too urges today the defeat of Germany.

Our Dominion Premier said that a new world order is not made by parchments and seals, it must be born in the hearts and minds of the people. A new relationship is beginning to take shape in the Alliance between the United States and Britain. It is seen in the devotion of the Dominions to the Mother Country and in the decisions of the Pan American Congress. The five points outlined by the Pope of Rome in his recent encyclical have been approved by most thoughtful people.

War Movies Shown To Ex-Servicemen

PORT HOPE, Feb. 3 — (ENS). — The ex-Service Men's Club held their regular meeting on Monday night with almost 40 present.

Mr. R. C. Morris was in the chair, and introduced Mr. Fred H. W. Brooks, who gave a most interesting display of his motion pictures, "The Blitz," and "The Warning," both of which are in technicolor and sound.

Refreshments were served later, with Mr. Howard Reeve in charge.

Conviction Made In Theft Cases

COBOURG, Feb. 3 — (ENS). — Clarence Beebe was found guilty and Hubert Vitali of Campbellford pleaded guilty to theft charges here yesterday, when they came before Magistrate R. B. Baxter in police court. Chief Wellman of Hastings took the pair into custody in Hastings over a week ago. Magistrate Baxter remanded the men until February 10. Beebe was allowed bail of $1,000, while Vitali was returned to jail.

Suspended Sentence

V. R. S. Perault was given two years suspended sentence on being convicted on non-support charges laid by his wife. Perault agreed to pay his wife $15 a week until such time as he can make arrangements to transport her to Montreal, where he is domiciled.

Mrs. W. Loukes Is 92 On February 4

ALDERVILLE, Feb. 3 (ENS) — Mrs. William Loukes, Alderville's grand old lady, will observe her 92nd birthday on February 4, and assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Christopher Marsden, will be happy to serve her callers on that day with a piece of her birthday cake and a cup of tea. Mrs. Loukes was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Crow of Alderville. Her mother, Mary Phalen of Ireland met and married William Crow, while she (Mary Phalen) was living in the boarding school of Elder and Mrs. Case at Alderville. Mr. Crow was an emigrant from England. Their daughter, Ellen, while attending the Alderville boarding school under the direction of Mr. Hulbert, met her future husband, William Loukes. On June 7, 1872, they were married in Chicago, Illinois, by Rev. L. B. Kent. They lived for three years in Chicago, returning then to Alderville, where they farmed. Mr. Loukes was the only postmaster on Alderville Reserve serving for thirty-five years. In 1922 Mr. and Mrs. Loukes celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Died in 1928

Mr. Loukes died in 1928. Of nine children four are living: James of Toronto; Mrs. Frank Joblin of Janetville; Mrs. Christopher Marsden and William Loukes of Alderville. Mrs. Loukes also has one brother living, William Crowe of Alderville.

There are eight grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mrs. Loukes although somewhat feeble is up and about each day, uses glasses only for reading and converses intelligently on present day news, and, responded clearly by telephone to birthday congratulations.

Try This Old Home-Mixed Cough Relief. Surprising!

Anyone Can Make It. No Cooking. Big Saving.

You may not know it, but, in your own kitchen, and in just a moment, you can easily prepare a really surprising relief for coughs due to colds. It's old-fashioned—your mother probably used it—but for real results, it is hard to beat.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. No trouble at all.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in throat and bronchial irritations.

Put the Pinex into a 16 ounce bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make sixteen ounces of really splendid cough syrup, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick relief, it's splendid. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Utilities Commission Postpones Action On Rebate To Consumers

COBOURG, Feb. 3—(ENS).—The Public Utilities Commission debated the rebate question here Monday night but when the question was thoroughly discussed it appeared to be headed for a spot in the no-action bracket.

Mayor J. D. Burnet thought a month's free service now and a second month in the fall might be best. It would be a nice gesture, he thought, in view of the Commission's surplus. Leamington had followed the rebate plan for several years, the Mayor said.

Urged Delay.

Commissioner J. Delanty was in favor of waiting the next eight months' issue before going into the rebate plan. He pointed out that in 1939 the Commission had owed $32,000 and a debenture issue was looming. They had refused to issue the debenture and had pursued a policy of collecting arrears in earnest. Now the finances were favorable.

Chairman McGuire thought that the rebate plan was not a wise one just now. Some equipment needed replacing, the chairman said, and this should be done first because this was to the advantage of the Commission. Next fall he thought might be a better period to think of this rebate plan as they would then have come through any eventualities.

Wants More Data.

The Commission finally decided to have the data presented on the surplus in order that the rebate plan might be more thoroughly considered. It was pointed out that only the electric consumers would receive the rebate in any event. No free service would be considered for water users.

To Attend Meeting.

The Commission received a letter from the Ontario Municipal Electric Association in regard to the convention to be held in Toronto on February 10 and 11. Manager A. K. McIntosh will attend the convention as Commission representative.

A letter from the Kinsmen Club asking the Commission to send a delegate to their meeting on Tuesday, February 3, at which Hal. Rogers, Kinsmen founder, will speak on the Milk for Britain Fund.

Mr. J. H. Turnpenny, oil executive, will also deliver an address at the gathering.

The Commission in view of the inability of Chairman McGuire and Commissioner Delanty to attend decided to send Manager McIntosh as their representative. Mayor Burnet will be with the council which is also asked to attend.

Wants Water.

Mrs. J. Ling of Park Lane asked for water service but no decision could be made due to pipe shortage at present. Her home is over 200 feet from the closest line.

A decision will be made regarding the request in the spring as it is impossible to lay it in any event at present due to weather conditions.

The following accounts were passed by the Commission: Electric department, $541.30; water department $830.52.

Prepaid accounts—Electric department, $12,361.19; water department, $11,370.62.

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—lie awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite remedy. 103

What Singapore Means

Anxious attention may well be centred on Singapore which has been withstanding the massed air attacks of Japan with such grim courage and defiance. So long as it remains in British hands, it is an "open" port. Should it pass into the possession of the Nipponese it will no longer be in that class. The difference is great to the trading and shipping interests of the world.

Singapore is of course, of tremendous importance to Great Britain and to the Allies, too, because it is a splendid base for the Navy in Far Eastern water. The Island of Singapore itself, on which the docks and wharves are built, is only about ninety miles north of the Equator. It contains an area of 217 square miles, with a population of upwards of 570,000, of whom between 8,000 and 9,000 are Europeans.

The approach to the harbor of Singapore is said to be one of the most beautiful in the world. The harbor is practically land-locked by islands. The rise and fall of ordinary spring tides is about nine feet.

Because so much depends upon whether the defenders may be able to hold out under terrific strain, and their battling for some weeks along the entire Malaya Peninsula has won universal admiration—because of this it is of interest to realize the difference between the British and what will be the Japanese policy with respect to the place should they capture the stronghold, temporarily at least. There is not much doubt that even though it should have to capitulate as a result of the disparity of the defence and attacking forces, the Allied powers will retake it at a later date.

In any case the present "Charter or Port Policy," writes L. C. Bacon in Colonial Shipbuilding, may be said to have been given, or laid down, by Sir Stamford Raffles at the head of his report to the Government of India when he wrote:

"I have declared that the Port of Singapore is a free port, and the trade thereof open to ships and vessels of every nation free of duties, equally and alike to all."

The port limits cover an area of over 23,000 acres and consist of an inner harbor, outer harbor and western anchorage and within these confines, up to the time Japan struck, could be seen an almost endless variety of vessels.

Mr. Bacon gives this engaging and informative description:

"A wonderful variety of vessels is to be seen in the harbor; in addition to the large ocean-going passenger and cargo steamers, there may be seen at all times some hundred or so local coasting steamers, several of about 800 tons burden, but mostly about 100 tons only, the adjacent Dutch Islands with their many inlets and settlements requiring a large service of small vessels for carrying food supplies and collecting produce. There is also a large number of Chinese junks, and native six-oared fishing boats, the rowers standing facing the direction in which the boat is proceeding.

"The Singapore Harbor Board controls all the public wharves and dry docks in Singapore, the Estate comprising over 690 acres of land, much of which is available for future development of the docks and wharves and their adjuncts.

"The Board has its own Police Force and Fire Brigade fully equipped with modern motor fire floats, motor fire engines, smoke appliances, etc. The Board lights its premises throughout and controls all traffic thereon, does all road making and repairing. It also undertakes the entire sanitation and scavenging of the premises and maintains a medical staff and motor ambulance."

A Bureau Of Agriculture

As big and constructive an idea has been offered to the public for a long time was put forward by Captain Cleveland Fyfe, secretary of the British Farmers' Union, when speaking at Ottawa last week before a meeting of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. He advocated the setting up of a Bureau through which the conditions and problems of each great agricultural country in the British Commonwealth of Nations and the United States could be made known to the others and discussed.

The Farmers' Union in Great Britain, he said, had created a committee in 1940 to examine the whole matter of post-war agricultural policy. When hostilities are over, the broken and hungry countries of Europe will provide for a while an outlet for accumulated surpluses of foodstuffs, but in order to frame a long-term program it would be necessary to consider what permanent markets will be available.

The value of such a plan would be enormous providing—and this is what has been so hard to get in the past—that the big farm organizations in Canada, United States and Great Britain would work together with a firm spirit of co-operation. A knowledge of what one country—yes, even one zone of that country—is raising and what its needs are, or are likely to be, should be known to the farming interests in other countries and their various zones. It is a lack of this specific information all the time, and lack, too, of unity in the political, transportation, wholesale and other fields which has permitted an unmarketable surplus to exist in one place and a serious want of products in another.

These facts, of course, are known to agriculture already. They have been known and struggled against for years, and by some very able leaders, but it is doubtful whether at any other time have circumstances of a world-wide nature, as caused by the war, been as favorable to a Bureau such as suggested as they are now. When the necessities of fighting a common enemy have proven that the three countries mentioned can work together for solidarity in defence and attack against powerful armed forces, it is evident they could achieve incalculable results of an economic character by having their agricultural industries in close and co-operative touch with one another. There is no purpose in reiterating that enough food supplies are grown and raised to feed Europe and America if no sensible practical international plan is put in motion to serve both producer and consumer to advantage. Captain Cleveland has offered such a scheme.

Big Hearted People

Certainly the heart of most people of the United States is big when it comes to giving a lift to the needy. Here is one example: the British War Relief Society of America has contributed four and a half million pounds to provide Britain with nearly 800 mobile canteens, 144 "Queen's Messenger" food vehicles, a fleet of mobile canning units as well as much other material and many services.

This fact has been revealed by Rt. Hon. Thomas Wiles, P.C., chairman of the Port of London Authority, presiding recently at the presentation of five additional mobile canteens at one of the English docks. It is a great thing for Canada to have neighbors of that kind.

Result Of The Conference

Though Canada has not been a member of the Pan-American Union, whose various representatives held so epochal a conference in Rio de Janeiro, nevertheless what transpired there is of the utmost importance to this Dominion.

Not only is this true with respect to probable developments of trade and commerce, but also with respect to the war. With practically all of those South American republic joining in a declaration against the Axis powers, the current of things is beginning to turn toward the pooling of their raw materials with those of the United States to help the Allied nations.

The significance of events as they have been shaping themselves can be the more easily understood, perhaps, by considering the reverse side of the picture. It was a part of the German long-term program, looking ahead to this world war, to have its people penetrate craftily into several of the South American states; to learn all that could be learned about them; to establish business and social interests and in every other way smoothly "politicize," to coin a word, the population, so that when Germany and Italy were ready to strike those rich republics would be on the Axis' side.

It was the same scheme as carried on for the infiltration of France, Belgium, Austria, Czecho-Slovakia and other European countries. According to despatches and special correspondents, similar secret work has been going on in Spain and Portugal. Japan was for some years preparing places in the Far East through equal cunning and false pretence.

Had the designs of the Nazis and Fascists succeeded, it is not difficult to imagine how serious the combination would have been now for the United States and Britain. That it has failed, except in Argentina—and even there the decision of that country to hold back from the terms laid down by the Union cannot be said to be entirely for pro-German reasons—that it has failed means an incalculable loss to Hitler, Mussolini and now to the Nipponese.

As matters stand, since the conference is over, there can be little doubt that the resources of all the republics in the Union will be pooled with those of North America (for Canada is directly affected), to create an enormous output of ships, planes, tanks, guns, munitions and whatever else their raw materials will be valuable for in the production of war essentials. Granting that this is true, and it is not only logical but is predicted by those close to southern life, some idea may be obtained of what the combined output of the two continents will be within another twelve months.

Merely a Suggestion

So, the probability is that the double-breasted suit will have to go! Cloth, like good humor, needs to be preserved. No button-over any more if that order gets its feet firmly planted on the ground.

Well, supposing it does disappear for the duration, what's the difference? Not very much except in the mind. There were many fine looking and great men walking the highways of the world before this fashion came in, before cuffs were added to trouser bottoms and before buttons were allowed to run races all over sleeves and coats and vests.

As a matter of fact a large number of males have been complaining for years that their outward garments were as changeless in style as the laws of the Medes and Persians, that they were hard and formal, without the softness and free-flowing spirit of some of the European and Asiatic apparel. Why not, then, invite the animals in the Far North to send down carloads of their furs and let us all go back to caveman days?

Not much cloth used that way, and besides, just fancy how handsome both young gay Lochinvars and old dignified patriarchs would appear in a suit made of a cross between a Scottish gilt and a Neolithic bear skin or fox pelt.

It's only a suggestion, but it's war time, you know, and substantial economies must be effected Besides, such a costume would excite the admiration of the ladies which, by the way, is a good deal and always has been in the subconscious minds of all men, ever since Noah put on a raincoat, during the Flood.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Fatuous optimism is like a soap bubble, it has an attractive outside but nothing inside—at least not in these hard, realistic days.

Hugh Templin, editor of the Fergus News-Record, writes, after visiting Britain, that one reason why Churchill is so popular and such a great war-time leader is because he is so fearless. True, but that is a quality that is admired in any man, whether in public or private life. It has been so all through the centuries.

That vote of confidence given to Churchill—464 to 1—a vote registered by as critical a body of legislators as may be found in the world, was a magnificent tribute to a public man. It is of interest to note, by the way, that the vote taken in the United States Congress when that country jumped into the war early in December, after the Japanese struck, registered all "yeas" except one and in the British Commons there was only one "nay."

The American correspondent who has just returned to the States, after two years in Berlin, predicts that the Germans will invade Turkey within three months. That is not improbable nor is it unlikely that they will strike down through Spain also. Some big moves may be looked for this coming spring and summer, but Britain and the United States will be in a position then to checkmate them on something like an equal basis. It is rash to prophesy, but there is an idea in the back of our heads, which didn't get there by chance, that by the end of 1942 the Allies will have the advantage over the enemy on land as Britain has had it in the air and on sea during the last half of 1941.

THE MEN INSIDE

'Tis not the uniforms we meet,
It's just the men inside
Who cause the magic thrills we feel
And swell our hearts with pride.
The trim and tidy sailor men,
The airmen with their wings,
And khaki-clad brave sturdy lads
Make us feel vital things.

The splash of color on the street,
The chests expanded high,
Admiring looks will fondly get
And sometimes cause a sigh.
No thinking person e'er car look
On all these things with pride
Without a sense of something more—
The men who are inside.

We all admire the uniforms
And what they represent—
The empire's fighting forces, and
The laws of parliament.
The workings of democracy
Are things our foes deride;
But when a uniform we see
We love the man inside.

Hollywood Busy Converting Dumas' Works

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

IN one respect, at least, Hollywood resembles Ottawa; no one who goes there is ever quite the same again and nothing which falls under its influence is permitted to retain its clarity of outline. How many novels we have seen translated into movies by that city (Hollywood, of course—Ottawa confines itself to the production of vaudeville) and so completely metamorphosed in the process that their own authors wouldn't know them! It appears to be an axiom of the movie tycoons that no stray will ever do in its original form. It must be tinkered with until it conforms to their own special standards of love-interest and violent action. Authors, even great ones, are not fellows to be trusted with the millions of dollars which must be invested in the making of a movie.

The ordinary person — you or me, for instance — might perhaps think that if any author was able to satisfy the exacting Hollywood standards of love and excitement, Alexandre Dumas would be the very man. He wrote some of the best adventure novels that we have; who has not read far into the night to follow up the adventures of "The Three Musketeers" or "The Count of Monte Cristo," to name only two of his books. Dumas is still an immensely popular author, and in his day (he was born in 1803 and died in 1870) he rivalled Sir Walter Scott in fame. He was a quadroon; his father was a mulatto general in the Empire. He had very little scruple or integrity as an author; his works were all built upon plots which he himself devised, but many of them were written by hacks whom he employed. He had a faulty knowledge of French grammar, and his spelling was also shaky. He wrote for fame and money, and he received both in quantities which might have embarrassed a less vigorous man. Surely he was the ideal Hollywood author? Apparently not.

Hollywood is hard put to it to find suitable stories for its stars. Take Douglas Fairbanks Junior, for instance. His father's mantle has fallen upon him, and he wears it with grace. He is doing business at the same old stand. Douglas Senior in "The Mark of Zorro" or Douglas Junior in "The Prisoner of Zenda"—is is much the same thing. Flashing teeth, swordsmanship, leaps through the air, and a great deal of raffish charm—he has them all. But it is hard to find films in which he can play, for modern authors are far from skilful in concocting stories in which these qualities are necessary. And so the movie tycoons must turn to authors who knew the ropes of romance, like Anthony Hope Hawkins, and Alexandre Dumas, the master of them all.

ONE of Dumas' lesser productions was a little story called "The Corsican Brothers." It was made into a play, as were so many of Dumas' stories, by a couple of hack dramatists called Grange and de Montepin, and was first performed at the Theatre Historique in Paris on August 10, 1850. The celebrated romantic actor Fechter played both the brothers. It was a huge success, and was a very popular play for the next sixty years or more. Henry Irving played it many times. Canadian playgoers will remember Sir John Martin-Harvey playing it in this country about fifteen years ago; he produced it along the lines laid out by Irving, and it was one of his most successful and thrilling melodramas. Who will ever forget his first entrance in a green velvet Corsican jacket and a hat trimmed with cock's fathers? Who will forget his cry of horror when he saw the ghost of his brother at the end of the first act? Who will forget the duel in the snow, in which the villainous Chateau Renaud met his horrible death at the hands of the revengeful Corsican? The whole play was drenched in a romantic essence which has temporarily disappeared from the stage, and which the movies have never been able to capture. That essence was the very lifeblood of the theatre, and those who have known it can never be wholly satisfied with anything less.

The story was simple. The dei Franchi brothers were Corsican twins who were born joined by a ligament of flesh; though their bodies were separated by the scalpel, their souls remained in mysterious communion. One brother, Louis, was slain in a duel over a lady's honor by Chateau Renaud, while he was in Paris. His brother Fabien knew of this, though he was far away in Corsica, by their strange sympathy. He swore revenge to his mother, rushed to Paris, sought out Chateau Renaud, and slew him; as the curtain falls upon the play, the ghost of Louis appears to Fabien, promising that they will be re-united in heaven.

But the film—ah, the film! The love of the brothers is turned to hate, for both love the same girl, and their unity of feeling makes for grave difficulties. Also, whenever one of them is prodded with a sword or struck with a whip, the other feels it, and in such an adventurous family this is a serious disadvantage. The fight in Paris is discarded entirely, and a Corsican vendetta is substituted for it. The beautiful Emilie de Lesparre, whose injured honor was the cause of the quarrel in the play (actually all that happened was that she was tricked into having supper with a man whom she did not know) is transformed into a forthcoming Corsican countess, who makes no bones about living in the forest with both the brothers. In fact, Hollywood has so augmented and exaggerated the story that they have robbed it of all its charm and made it ridiculous.

But it gives Douglas Fairbanks Junior a chance to play both himself and his brother. One actor played these parts in the stage performance, but he never attempted to be both at once. The film goes one better. Mr. Fairbanks is beside himself, literally, a great part of the time. So are the audience, for they can never tell which is which, although they are fully conscious that both are the same. In his grave in far-off France, Dumas must be whirling like a top.

NEVER MIND CAMOUFLAGE—KEEP WORKING

—St. Louis Star-Times.

• Singapore Should Hold

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—American sea-air battering at Japanese island outposts in the Pacific, midway between Hawaii and Australia, struck an encouraging note for the defenders of Singapore and Java, grave as their situation is against the hydra-headed Nipponese attack.

Unhampered enemy use of air and submarine bases in the Marshall and Gilbert Islands would be a deadly menace to the route for reinforcement of the United Nation defense bastions in the southwestern war zone. The first big blow struck by the United States Pacific Fleet since the Pearl Harbor disaster tends to confirm the impression that its immediate mission is to keep those reinforcements of men and war gear flowing westward at all costs.

The size and composition of the naval forces engaged in the raids is undisclosed except that it included plane carriers and ships of all combat categories. That means battleships as well as heavy and light cruisers, destroyers, submarines and the like, which sufficiently indicates the importance of the operation in the eyes of the American High Command.

The crisis for British forces at Singapore is at hand. Besieged on Singapore Island, itself, however, they have one advantage denied to General MacArthur's American Filipino troops on Batan Peninsula in Luzon. Mile-wide Johore Strait is a formidable moat the Japanese must force if Singapore is to fall. It is a better defensive position than the jungles and mountains of Batan, of which MacArthur is making effective use.

Short of concentration against Singapore of massed Japanese air power which can ill be spared from other essential operations on the far-flung attack front, there seems little possibility of quick reduction of the island. Its garrison includes fortress troops as well as the mobile forces which retired to the island from the lost battle of the Malay Peninsula. It should be able to duplicate MacArthur's stand indefinitely, and the probable cost in life of Japanese effort to take the island by storm across Johore Strait well might give even Japanese generals pause.

The Malay Peninsula battle was lost because of Japan's skillful use of flanking landings on both coasts behind British lines. There is no opportunity for repetition of that technique against Singapore Island itself. From whatever direction it is attacked it must be by frontal assault. It remains to be seen whether Japanese strategy will not call for by-passing Singapore to concentrate against Java and Sumatra.

There are indications that on Batan, MacArthur has gradually pulled back his lines down the peninsula, perhaps halfway to its Corregidor-guarded southern tip, to avert enemy recourse to flanking landings. The guns of Corregidor dominate a wide sweep of the southern shoreline, while MacArthur's field guns on the slopes of Mariveles Mountains in the southern sector would overlook the rest of the shoreline as well as the land approaches.

The mere fact that the enemy attempted to storm Corregidor by water, only to have the flotilla blasted by the guns of the fortress and its supporting outworks before it even got started, testifies to the strength of the Batan position. It was a desperate undertaking, suggesting that Tokyo has demanded of its commander in Luzon reduction of the Batan fortress regardless of losses and without delay.

A similar prolonged British stand at Singapore, tying up masses of Japanese troops, a large segment of air power and the many ships required to supply the army, seems in rospect.

BLACK CANDLES

PATRIOTIC citizens of Dallas, Texas, have forever established their reputation for farsightedness by buying 10,000 candles of black wax to burn during blackouts—though civilian defence officials pointed out that "just any old candle" would do.

Don't snicker. It's really sort of touching. Can't you just see hundreds of Dallasers getting up bright and early to surprise the Easter bunny? Or tiptoeing out-of-doors with salt shakers to capture robins unawares?

Dallas ought to be a perfectly swell place to sell somebody Lake Minnetonka or a half interest in the Mississippi River. — Minneapolis Star-Journal.

The travelers in the railway carriage were discussing railway matters. "I consider," said one, "that the single fare for the double journey is a very good investment."

"It certain is," added another, "because you get a return for your money."

"Really?" said the bricklayer. "And 'ow many thousands are there in an inch?"

The witter scratched his head, and then replied, "Blimey, millions of 'em."

Soldiers Entertained

In the Recreation Room of the Y.W.C.A. on Monday evening the Girls' Council entertained a very large group of soldiers from the Training Centre at their regularly monthly dance. Jack Marshall was pianist and master of ceremonies and refreshments were served by Mrs. Ken Choate, assisted by Miss Frances Haines and Miss Gwen Fee.

One feature of the evening was the dancing of the Virginia Reel by about half of those present.

Murray St. Choir Entertains Soldiers In Camp

The choir of Murray Street Baptist Church entertained a large and appreciative crowd of soldiers at the Training Centre on Sunday evening with a program of sacred music. Under the direction of Arthur Collison, the choir sang "Praise The Lord," "Creation's Hymn," "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," and the 'Old Rugged Cross." Miss Mona Gibson and Mr. Clark sang two duets, "There Is No Friend Like Jesus," and "One of God's Days." Walter Farr, baritone, sang "Till The Lights of London Shine Again," a secular number which made a pleasing variation in the program. A ladies' quartet sang "Fling Wide the Gates."

Community hymn singing was interspersed among the choir numbers, and the men joined in heartily. Mr. Arthur Collison was at the piano. Special prayers were offered for those men who are leaving the camp, and whose last Sunday it was.

Salvage Report Favorable; Help Still Needed

The Civic War Service Council held its monthly meeting in the Board Room of the city buildings on Monday evening. About a dozen ladies braved the zero weather to be present. The report of the Salvage Committee was read by Mrs. R. Whalon in the absence of Mrs. A. W. Heckman and Mrs. C. Collins, both of whom are ill.

During the month of January the salvage work has pushed forward. A man has been hired to take charge of the depot, answer the telephone, do some of the baling, and help unload the truck; and it looks as if this arrangement will prove to be most satisfactory. Volunteer help, both on the truck and in the depot, has increased but there is still room for more helpers. The shed has been completed and helps considerably to relieve congestion in the depot. Miss Mary Medd is still doing a fine job in managing the truck. The sum of $184.40 was cleared in sales of salvaged materials during January.

A process has been discovered for recovering the cork lining from caps of beer and soft drink bottles, thus making possible the salvage of the entire cap. Citizens are asked to save all bottle caps and it has been suggested that they be collected by the school children.

The importance of salvaging all scrap rubber was strongly urged and it was pointed out that is now against the law to destroy rubber. Grease also is becoming increasingly important, both for its glycerine contents and because many of our vegetable oils formerly used in the manufacture of soap, are now unobtainable. Grease is worth five cents a pound.

A special gum, now almost unobtainable, can be recovered from gramophone records; good records can be sold for five cents and broken ones for three cents.

A letter was read from the Y.W.C.A. thanking the War Service Council for their gift of $100 to the Mrs. Winston Churchill Fund.

Mrs. Kearns passed on a suggestion from Mrs. Adjutant Norman Buckley that the organizations which send in contributions to the Red Shield should send a list of the articles in each box, as this would save a great deal of time and work. Mrs. Buckley also sent out an appeal for clothing for boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 14 as there is a shortage of these sizes in Britain.

Home and School Association News

CENTRAL SCHOOL

The Founder's Day meeting of the Central Home and School Association was held on Monday evening with Mrs. O. Leeming presiding. Mr. Brown of the Victory Loan Committee read a letter drescribing the bombing of Great Ormond Street Hospital in London, and also displayed some fragments of debris sent from there. He made a strong appeal to the members to support the forthcoming loan. The president thanked him briefly.

The Kindergarten won the attendance banner for February and the total attendance was very good indeed. It was an inspiring sight to see the room filled to capacity.

A letter was read from Alex Elliott, M.P.P., regarding the association's stand against lowering the school age. A standing vote was taken on this issue and the association voted 100 per cent against.

A quiz program on Home and School was conducted by the principal, F. H. Dearborn. Twenty-seven members took part in the quiz.

Mrs. E. A. Outram conducted the candle-lighting ceremony. She gave a short synopsis of the life of Mrs. Courtice, founder of the association. Small Murray Mander lit the first candle. Mrs. Chambers, president of the Council, Mrs. B. Fowler, Mrs. N. Stanger and Mrs. O. Leeming lit the remaining candles. Mrs. L. Groombridge sang the Home and School song "My Task."

A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Outram for arranging such a fine program, after which the meeting was adjourned and birthday cake and tea were served by Mrs. Alex Sollitt and her committee.

QUEEN MARY SCHOOL.

Mrs. R. K. Hall, vice-president of the Federation of Home and School Associations, addressed the Queen Mary Association on Monday afternoon, which was Founder's Day. She explained that Founder's Day, marking the birthday of the Home and School movement is celebrated each year in order to stress and keep in sight the purpose for which it was formed, namely, the turning out from the schools and homes of citizens socially efficient to meet the problems which do and will exist.

Many phases are included besides the school education. Home training of parents is a necessity and much literature is available on this subject through the association, whereby parents are helped in the difficult problems concerning the child. Physical attention is also necessarily given because without this the essential degree of mental perfection cannot be attained.

Mrs. C. Crowe opened the meeting and welcomed members, guests and past presidents. Mrs. E. Chambers, president of the Home and School Council, read the association's prayer. Mrs. W. R. Morris introduced the speaker and brought a message from the Victory Loan Committee. Mrs. T. J. Carley reported on current events and further reports were heard fom standing committees.

Miss Helen Parkinson entertained with two pleasing vocal selections. Piano accompaniment for the evening was by Mrs. H. A. Mitchell. The senior and junior classes who won banners for the attendance of mothers were Miss McNaughton's class and Miss Stenton's class.

The tea table with a birthday cake with 24 candles was the centre of interest. Miss E. Deyell, a past president of the Association, officiated at the candle-lighting ceremony. Mrs. H. A. Mitchell and her committee were in charge of the table arrangements. Tea was poured by Mrs. E. R. Shirley and Mrs. W. E. Conway. Mrs. Conway was organizer and president of the first mothers' club in Peterborough.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA SCHOOL

The meeting of the Queen Alexandra Home and School Association in the kindergarten room on Monday evening was very well attended. Mrs. R. K. Hall, vice-president of the Home and School Federation was the guest speaker. Mrs. Hall was introduced by Mrs. W. R. Morris and spoke very simply and informally of the aims, past, present and future of parents to provide the child of today with the necessary requirements of character and general well-being so that he becomes the kind of citizen well prepared to overcome the difficulties which he must meet in the aftermath of the war.

The pre-school child is taught the first requisites for the development of character by his mother, as well as the ability to co-operate with his playmates. When he enters school it is to his benefit that there should be the maximum of co-operation among parents, teachers and the trustees of the school. The speaker mentioned the part played by the Home and School workers can play in helping to avoid inflation and congratulated the members of their stand in the matter of voting against the lowering of the school age limit from 16 to 15.

She concluded her remarks by comparing all workers to three types of boats; the row-boats, those who must be pushed; the small boat, those who travel with the wind; and the steam boats, who are the real workers in any organization.

A special musical treat of the evening was the lovely voice of Mrs. James Goldie, heard in two very appropriate sacred numbers, "Just For Today," and "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way." She was accompanied by Mrs. H. F. Doig.

Mrs. A. W. Nelson, president, was in the chair and reports were heard from standing committees. The attendance banner was won by the classes of Miss D. Walker and J. E. R. Munro. Mrs. J. Collis was appointed the Association's representative to the Civic War Service Council. Mrs. W. R. Morris addressed the meeting with regard to the New Victory Loan campaign and urged all members to support the Loan. Mrs. A. Bacon read a short extract from the official Home and School paper on the aims and ideals of holding a founder's day each year. Mrs. W. R. Morrow was accompanist for the evening and played several favorite hymns of Mrs. Courtice, founder of the Home and School Association.

Mrs. H. H. Graham fittingly thanked the speaker and the vocalist of the evening. A short but impressive candle-lighting ceremony concluded the meeting.

Mrs. W. K. Hall lit a tall blue candle for Federation and Katherine Benton played very well the part of the child addressing the parents and invoking their aid in helping to build the requisites of good womanhood and manhood for the future and was answered by the parent, Mrs. J. Curtis, who lit her red candle from the blue one and in turn lit the child's white candle.

A reading of the Home and School prayer by Mrs. R. Parnell brought the ceremony to a close.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. A. E. Buck and her committee. Tea was poured at a beautifully appointed table by Mrs. G. S. Kingdon.

CONGENIALITY IS ESSENTIAL IF MARRIAGE IS TO SUCCEED..

Having Same Points of View and Liking Same Things Mean Continual Happiness

Dear Dorothy Dix—Recently I broke my engagement to a man whom I love very much because all of our tastes, habits and ideas about life and entirely different. What he liked I disliked, and what I enjoyed doing bored him to tears. In the four years we were engaged he never once consulted my pleasure about anything. We always did what HE planned to do, and he frankly told me that I would have to take him as he was because he did not intend to change. And, as I couldn't see any happiness in a marriage where I would do all the appeasing, I called it off. Yet my heart aches for him and I am desperately lonely, without his companionship, and I am wondering if I was wise or foolish in refusing to marry him.

ALICIA.

ANSWER—I think you were wise because congeniality is the most important thing in marriage. It is more necessary even than love because it lasts longer, for it does not take long for a husband and wife who fight over every trivial incident in the lives to kill love between them, whereas having the same points of view and being able to yes-yes each other draws them closer together as time goes on.

If we could achieve the success of our marriages by making one great heroic sacrifice, we would gladly do it. But there are few big moments in marriage. It is just a long succession of little ones.

Getting Along With Mates

We are not called upon to give our life blood to save our mates, nor to relinquish a vast fortune in order to marry them. We just have to live with them, day in and day out, and whether we get happiness or misery out of it depends upon whether we like our coffee weak or strong, and cheese with our pie, or don't.

At the bottom of all domestic friction is the lack of congeniality. It is the husband thinking one way and the wife thinking another way that precipitates every domestic scrap, from religion down to whether the steak should be cooked rare or done, and that eventually sends the husband out to hunt up some lady who has sense enough to see that HE IS ALWAYS RIGHT. It is because they can never talk anything over pleasantly that makes most husbands and wives spend their evenings together in a bored silence, because they dare not even mention the weather for fear of starting something.

It is the dissimilarity of tastes that makes husbands and wives censorious of each other. The husband who hates cards baits his wife for her bridge parties. The wife who doesn't like outdoor sports bemoans herself as a golf widow. But let both of them be crackerjack card players or golfers and they have a perfectly beautiful time together discussing their games and holding postmortems on their plays. None of us think the things we like to do are wrong or foolish. It is the other people who waste time and money on frivolities.

We talk a great deal about husbands and wives adapting themselves to each other, but human nature isn't very pliable, nor do many husbands and wives enjoy being cut over according to their mates' pattern, so the wise thing is to marry those who have the same likes and dislikes that they have.

The Wife's Pay Envelope

Dear Dorothy Dix: Three months ago I married a boy who told me he was able to support me and my mother, but now he wants me to pool my salary with his. He makes $80 a month and I make $120. I have my mother and grandmother to support and am obligated for $300 which must be paid. I figure that as long as I owe these bills my salary cannot be considered my own. He say that I shouldn't look at it this way because I could borrow enough money to pay these bills and then I could put some money in the bank. Several days after we were married he asked me if I would sign my name ot a contract for the purchase of an automobile, which I did. The down payment took every cent he had and I withdrew $50 from the bank, all of which he has spent. He lives at our house and has not paid one dime in board, or even for his own laundry. He refuses to let me use the car until I help him pay the notes on it. Now the question is: Should I pool my money with his? Is he entitled to any part of my salary when I buy my own clothes and pay my mother's and grandmother's expenses? He demands that I turn over my check to him. What shall I do?

FAY.

ANSWER: Hang on to your pay envelope with both hands, for evidently your husband not only doesn't intend to support you, but he expects you to support him and furnish him with a car. You will see that when the next note becomes due for the car you will be called upon to pay it.

It used to be that only rich girls were married for their money, but now every girl who gets a good salary is pursued by fortune hunters who think that it is easier to work a wife than it is to work at a job. Every community is infested with these lazy, lowdown bums who spend their time loafing around pool halls and otherwise diverting themselves, while their wives pound typewriters or stand behind counters all day and then come home and cook their lords and masters good dinners.

Keep your money. It is your only protection for yourself and the two old women who are dependent upon you.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

A DAY of unusual adventures and undertakings, following quickly after the sudden removal of some stubborn obstacle or a long-standing static situation. Such quick transition may have far-reaching effect on molding the future life and its destinies and should influence decisively the fruition of advances ambitions and desires. Yet all may not move successfully and happily, since there is opposition, intrigue and duplicity to cope with from open as well as hidden sources. Be alert and cautious, and both friends and strangers may be of benefit.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year calling for much ingenuity, resolution and sagacity, to cope with conflicting forces. While sudden and unforeseen opportunities for financial improvement are seen, with those in influential places assisting and showing a helpful, friendly spirit, yet it would be advisable not to go too far in taking advantage of this. Also it would be wise to preserve harmony and happiness in the home circle by restrained impulses and soft speech when aggravating circumstances arise.

A child born on this day will be friendly, generous and good-natured, despite a fondness for arguments. It will be ambitious in one of the fine arts.

PETES ASSURED OF FIRST PLACE DROP GAME TO BELLEVILLE TEAM

Three Imports Inspire Reliance Team

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 3.—(Special) —Facing an inspired team paced by three imports from Kingston, Jim Ellis' Peterborough short-handed Soldiers dropped a 3 to 1 count to the Belleville Reliance here last night. Belleville scored first, the Petes evened the count and Martin scored for Belleville later in the initial session. The only score in the middle frame notched by Bowen for the homesters, despite the fact the Soldiers swarmed Major in the Belleville net without results on a fast sheet of ice. Upwards to 2,000 fans saw Bowen score that middle frame goal as the final session went scoreless despite the fact the Petes carried the bulk of the territorial play. With Whitby losing to Trenton it gave the Petes the first place in the group.

Skipper Ellis iced a weakened squad with Don Crowe, Kingdon, Reilly and Heal absent, while Mike Rodden tossed in three senior icemen from Kingston in the person of "Dud" White, former "Combine" defenceman, "Pepper" Martin and Bill Grisdale from Queen's University. The addition of the Kingston players sparked the Belleville sextette to a win. As Coach Ellis had to shake his front lines it was players like Godfrey, Burton and Jopling that steadied that patched-up Peterborough front, although Blewett, Tompkins and Nichols battled White, Williamson and Hastie to a practical standstill after Martin had put Belleville in an early lead.

Belleville entered into the scoring column early with "Tobe" White whipping in Bowen's set-up play. As Blewett stickhandled his way through the off-side of the local defence and sank the equalizer. Harding beat Hastie and "Tobe" White at close range as the game opened up after lackadaiscal initial effort. Both teams subsequently tossed caution to the tall winds and the fat was in the well known fire as end-to-end races were predominate with the Belleville defence standing up under fire. An exchange of plays saw "Pepper" Martin take Williamson's blue-line pass and evade the entire Peterborough squad on a solo rush to put Belleville 2-to-1 in the lead at the end of the initial frame.

The middle period saw drives into both sectors, as the Petes carried an early territorial play, but Belleville subsequently retaliated as Harding rose to heights and thwarted Chipman and Hastie at the Petes' goal. "Tobe" White came back to be beaten by Harding after Blewett tossed Major and as the Petes were trying a powerplay Don Bowen broke away and skipped through the Petes defence to poke in a sweet lone tally. Jopling drew down his second penalty of the game and Belleville moved to the front with Harding beating Hastie and Hamilton as the gong sounded.

It was all-out hockey in the third period as both squads drove hard in futile efforts to score. The Petes muffed their final effort when Hamilton drew down a tripping penalty, but in the meantime Harding again rose to heights when Tobe White broke away and was skating too fast as he rounded Burton. In the dying moments Coach Jim Ellis used all forwards in a futile efforts to at least knot the count for the Petes.

The line ups:

Belleville: Goal, Major; defence, Hamilton and D. White; centre, Bowen; wings, C. White, Williams; alternates, Williamson, Martin, Chipman, Hastie, B. White, Grisdale.

Peterborough: Goal, Harding; defence, Godfrey and Burton; centre, Tompkins; wings, Blewett, Nichols; alternates, Starr, Mortimer, Bennett, Jopling, I. Nichols.

Referee—D. A. Houston, Toronto.

Summary:

First Period

1—Belleville, C. White (Bowen) 6:35
2—Peterborough, Blewett 9:05
3—Belleville, Martin 12:42
Penalties—None.

Second Period

4—Belleville, Bowen 14:05
Penalties — Hamilton, Mortimer, Jopling (2).

Thrid Period

No score.
Penalties—Hamilton.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

We are indebted to our friend Bill Hamilton for the following little verse entitled:

THE CURLER'S MOTTO

On bended knee with broom and stone
Our supplications we make known:
May we take ice correct, and true,
Always be up and never thru'
Forbid that we confuse the turn
But heed the order well, and learn
If we mistake an "in" for "out"
'Twill cause the skip to fear and doubt
And may we not incline to sleep
If stones were slow but sweep, sweep, sweep;
Likewise bestow a just renown
On those who place a perfect guard
And whether ends be lost or war
Make us good sports when game is done.

Well, our ladies did not win the Tankard up in Toronto, but they did have the satisfaction of knocking out last year's titleholder.

There were no real walk-aways in last night's scheduled games, and the scores do not indicate the play—in two of three of the games a little break would have easily turned the tide.

Yesterday afternoon a lady from the south end of the town rang us up and wanted to know if we thought the bear saw his shadow?

And just a few minutes ago—8:46 a.m.—to be exact, a chap who lives on Gilmour street, when he is not at the rink, and with the old thermometer hitting about 8 degrees below zero, he calls up and asks: "Do you think the ice will hold for tonight?" And so it goes, just one continual round of pleasure.

Double-header tonight — 7 p.m. and 9.00 p.m.

Marine Ladies Whip Westclox For First Place

Outboard Marines went into first place again in the Ladies' City League standing when they defeated the Westclox all three games at Duffus Alleys last night. It was a bitter struggle and very well played by both teams, the Marines winning by 10 pins in one game and 15 in another.

Points were played for again on an all or nothing basis, 4 to 0 decisions being registered in all five matches. The Kawarthas came through with a smashing 3005 team score and they also supplied two of the handiest pinch-hitters to be found anywhere in Mrs. Giles and Mrs. Jones. The former headed a line-up of ten expert pin spillers with a fine 655 total while Mrs. Jones rolled 253 and 251 singles in a 653 count.

Mrs. Lionel Browne hit 652, Marg Selkirk 651, Betty Castle 648, Marg Hawthorne 641, Phyllis Whatley 636, Gerry Payne 625, Mrs. Maurice Holt 606 and Mrs. Harold Worton 602.

SPORTS — DAY BY DAY

By FRED D. CRAIG

Although an illness-riddled Military Training Centre team was beaten 3 to 1 by Mike Rodden's Reliance Club at Belleville last night, the loss meant little or nothing to the Petes. As for the Petes, all they had to worry about in last night's engagement at Belleville (and it turned out they didn't need to worry about that) was to keep the score down to respectable proportions and protect their goal average so as to be safe against a possible upset in the Friday night game with the Flyers which is billed for the Belleville arena and will wind up the regular schedule so far as the Soldiers are concerned.

* * * * * *

An epidemic of bad colds hit the Petes over the week-end and as a result the team had to go to Belleville last night minus four regulars, Don Crowe, Bun Kingdon, Art Heal and Din Reilly. It was fortunate under the circumstances that a victory was not necessary to ensure the Military Training Centre club finishing first in the group race and it was also fortunate that for the first time in years the Petes have enough reserve power this season to fill gaps when regulars are off because of illness or injury. The club has been carrying a large string of players this season and as a result were able to ice a good squad last night in spite of the absence of some well known members of the Soldiers' lineup. With two thirds of the razzle dazzle line out of action because of bad colds and Reilly, pivot man for the other line also missing, Coach Ellis had to juggle his material and send out two revamped forward divisions. Honey Tompkins was shifted to centre on the starting line with Perce Nichols and Joe Blewett as wings and a second line was made up of Eddie Starr in centre with Doug Mortimer and Bruce Bennett on the wings.

* * * * * *

Mike Rodden's team turned up with three Kingston players and one of them, Pepper Martin, scored the goal that put Reliance out in front in the first period. Just how those birds qualify is another mystery that will have to be hung up on the same hook as the explanation for Johnny Hamilton's permit to play senior B hockey after playing part of the season with another senior A club. The manner in which hockey is being operated now has got beyond the guessable stage. However we imagine that the Belleville club will need more reinforcements if they hope to knock off Whitby in the semi-finals of the group playoffs. Against the Petes, operating with makeshift forward lines last night the Reliance Club did not look so formidable. They managed to set up a goal lead in the first period and add another in the second but for the remaining 26 minutes play the Petes held them without a score. Joe Blewett got the only Peterborough goal last night on an individual effort. Incidentally last night's game was the only one this season in which the Petes' scoring efforts were cut down to a solitary marker.

Too Many Injuries

This has been a disastrous season for professional hockey players with an unusually large list of serious injuries. Some of these casualties were sheer accidents; the serious mishap to Dit Clapper the other night was undoubtedly in that category. But there have been other cases that did not look so blameless and the N.H.L. governors would do well to be sure that some of this smashing up of star players is not the result of a combination of rough play and inefficient refereeing. Misconduct penalties to players who happen to use unparliamentary language are all right in their place but we would like to see a few long penalties handed out to the rough-house brigade. There are too many broken jaws and fractured cheekbones and they can't all come from 'good, clean bodychecks." Oldtimers remember how lacrosse was nearly ruined by too much rough play; the hockey moguls should make sure that the national winter game is not threatened with the same fate.

* * * * * *

Irv. Nichols who was used as an extra forward by the Soldiers at Belleville last night is a cousin of Perce Nichols, right-winger of the squad and he is in training at the Military Training Centre here. Nichols played hockey in St. Catharines and showed good form in a workout with the Petes the other night with the result that the management decided to use him against Belleville. He has played both centre and wing and may develop into a useful man for the local crew.

Flyers Spill Beans

They have been predicting all along that the Trenton Flyers would sooner or later spill the beans for some one in this group race. They did last night when they invaded Whitby and defeated the Oshawa-Whitby Combines with their full team on 7 to 5 and as a result the dope is almost completely upset. The Flyers' win assured the Petes of first place in the group race no matter what happens from now on. The best either Whitby or Belleville can get is seven wins and five losses while the worst the Petes can get is eight wins and four losses, so that is that. Belleville and Whitby are tied for second place and each of them has a game left with the Air Force so that the Flyers have two more chances of upsetting the applecart for some one. They play Reliance in Belleville tomorrow night and can be depended upon to do everything in their power to hand Mike Rodden's

Brighton Boys Drop Game To Midgets 9-2

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 3 (ENS). —Campbellford Midgets won an easy 9-2 victory when they tangled with Brighton here last night. The locals walked into the lead early in the first and were never headed by the visiting pu'ksters who made valiant but futile attempts to break up the scoring thrusts of the winners. They stepped out with a six-goal rally in the first while Roy Spencer, rugged visiting defence man, notched Brighton's only counter of the period, while in the second th: visitors succeeded in slowing the homesters down to a pair of markers, but they themselves went scoreless and didn't count again till M. Wight registered in the final canto. Doug. Free was the locals leading marksman with a total of four tallies to his credit and the remaining five were divided between Baker, Dunk, O'Rourke, Ferrill and Shillinglaw. Joe Wilson of Brighton was the referee.

Brighton—Goal, Semple; defence, Gordon Spencer and Roy Spencer; centre, M. Wright; wings, Bill Craig and Bangy; alternates: Leonard, Stringer, Ketcheson, Ryhus.

Campbellford—Goal, E. McComb; defence, George Baker and Ralph Osborne; centre, Doug. Free; wings, B. Peloquin and L. Dunk; alternates: J. O'Rourke, L. Ferrill, Bill Oliver, A. Shillinglaw, A. Hollings, K. Sutton.

On a Bicycle For Two

ATLANTA, Feb. 3—(AP)—Georgia's 58-year-old governor, Eugene Talmadge, and Atlanta's mayor Roy Lecraw climbed on a bicycle built for two and pedalled it several miles at the head of a parade of more than 600 cyclists Sunday. The parade was staged to show that bicycles can replace automobiles during the war.

Brady Outscores Shillington

TORONTO, Feb. 3 — (CP). — Dillon Brady of Hamilton Majors retains a slight lead over his teammate, Clarence Shillington in the O.H.A. Senior "A" series' scoring race. Brady won the title last year and a repeat performance will make him the first holder of the Robert "Moose" Ecclestone Trophy, donated recently by admirers of the late Toronto sportsman. Patrick Gains With 35 Points In Scoring Race

MONTREAL, Feb. 3 — (CP). — Bryan Hextall, who finished in second place behind Boston's Bill Cowley last season, maintained his one-point margin at the top of the National Hockey League individual scoring race during the past week, according to statistics issued today.

Although he picked up only one goal during the week, the New York Ranger right-winger, with 17 goals and 18 assists for 35 points, remained at the top of the heap, one point ahead of his linemates, Lynn Patrick and Phil Watson. Patrick moved up from third place, scoring two goals, while Watson collected only one assist.

Chicago's Bill Thoms held on to fourth spot, three points ahead of Gordie Drillon of Toronto, assisting in one goal during the week. Drillon counted one goal and brought his total to 30 points.

Tied with Drillon in fourth place was Boston's Bobby Bauer who moved up from eighth place. Bauer assisted in two goals during the week to bring his total 30, 10 goals and 20 assists.

Still the penalty box's favorite visitor was Brooklyn's Pat Egan, who added two minutes to his discredit during the week to bring his total to 74 minutes in the cooler. The burly defenceman also has two misconduct penalties against him.

Canadians Asked

Shipbuilding Program.

"Before the war there were 1,500 workers employed in Canadian shipyards. Now there are over 20,000 men employed in 17 major and 15 smaller yards.

"To-day's shipbuilding program, including the merchant shipping program, involves an expenditure of about $320,000,000. One hundred and twenty million dollars is to provide naval vessels, and $200,000,000 merchant shipping.

"When I tell you that the Canadian shipbuilding program is almost equal to the annual output of ships in Great Britain, it will indicate to you in some measure the credit that is due to labor and industry in the manner in which they have answered the desperate call that went forth during the height of the Battle of the Atlantic—'Give us ships—and more ships—and more ships.'

"Here are, in brief, some of the costs:

"A cargo boat, $1,750,000; a corvette, $550,000; a Catalina flying boat, $100,000; a cruiser tank, $100,000; a Huricane fighter, $25,000; a 25-pounder gun carriage. $25,000; a Bren gun, $325; a depth charge, $75.

The Over-all Cost.

"Now may I say a few words in regard to the over-all cost of two and one-half years of war.

"The total commitments for Canadian and British account have been $2,400,000,000 — $1,278,000,000 was spent by Canada on her own account. The war expenditures for the current fiscal year will amount to $1,450,000,000. or nearly twice as much as was spent in the previous fiscal year.

In two years Canada has spent $905,000,000 for account of Britain, and for the current fiscal year will require $900,000,000 to finance the British account.

"For the current fiscal year $1,500,000,000 will be collected in taxes. The remainder must be met by funds borrowed from the people.

"The financial situation between Canada and Great Britain has recently been clarified. As to past transactions. Canada has granted Great Britain a loan of $700,000,000 which is to be non-interest bearing until the end of the war. In addition to this Canada is putting at the disposal of Great Britain one billion dollars to provide for the supply to Britain of munitions, raw materials and food stuffs. This is a gift and must be financed by the Canadian people. To provide this money is our immediate share in the conflict.

"Peterborough County is asked for $2,750,000. Every man, woman, and child with a bank account is left to be the judge of his own share.

"But, gentlemen, are we asked to do anything more than do ourselves a favor? We are not asked for our money. We are asked to make a gilt-edged investment at a reasonable rate of interest—to invest in a free country to keep it free.

Tales of Heroism.

"If ever we think that taxes are high, or that the demands made upon us are heavy, all we have to do is to pick up the daily paper and look for one of those incredible tales of heroism that appear in almost every issue—

"A sailor clinging to an ice-caked open boat for three days while his companions died around him, frozen to death, and a short time after his rescue taking his place in the next convoy.

"A pilot setting the controls of his bomber thousands of feet in the air, fighting the flames of a burning plane after the crew have been asked to bail out over hostile country extinguishing the flames and bringing his plane safely home so that he and his plane may return in a few days to do duty over Bremen, Hamburg, or Berlin.

"We can think of the men in the tanks in the sand storms of Libya fighting Rommel and his trained artisans of war; or we can think of the British and Australian soldiers in the jungles of Malaya fighting to the last ditch in the defence of Singapore.

"The sailors of the Navy and the Merchant Marine — the airmen of the bomber and fighter command—the men of the tanks and the guns—are all heroes of the first order. They deserve the best we can give them—the best ships, the best planes, the best guns, the best tanks, and the best bombs. These are the tools. Canada says to you and to me today: 'Give us the money, and we will give them the tools.'"

Vincent Eastwood, chairman of the Peterborough County Committee, moved the vote of thanks to the speaker.

Before Mr. McRuer's address, two new members were welcomed to the Rotary Club, George H. Roper introduced by Rotarian J. L. Gillespie and Wiliam Hamilton, sponsored by Rotarian Ken Currie.

MAJOR BASEBALL LEAGUES TO PLAY TWO ALL STAR GAMES IN '42

Ask 10 p.c. Of All Salaries Be Defence Bonds

(By JUDSON BAILEY.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Baseball's bit in the second great war is going to be something more substantial than just helping maintain morale.

The major leagues decided yesterday that they would play two all-star games instead of one for the "Bat and Ball Fund" and in addition would try to get everyone on their payrolls from Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis down to the batboys to accept 10 per cent of their salaries in defence bonds.

The National and American leagues were in almost continuous session for seven hours yesterday and they considered other means of co-operating in the war effort—such as exhibition games with services teams and admitting uniformed men free—but their accomplishments were the double all-star spectacle and the payroll plan.

They agreed to play the first all-star game in a National League Park in the east (probably New York Giants' Polo Grounds) on Monday, July 6, and to follow this the next day with another skirmish between the same stars in an American League park in the west. The owners admitted an inclination to play this second game at night in the mammoth municipal stadium at Cleveland, where they might attract 80,000 fans.

It was agreed that the admission prices for the first game would be double the regular scale, while the second game would be played at the ordinary prices plus $1. Each purchaser would receive $1 in defence stamps with his ticket.

The two leagues were unable to reach complete agreement on night baseball and tossed this old argument back into Landis' lap at their special joint meeting today. The National League voted to double the number of its night games to permit a maximum of 14 nocturnal contests at home for each club and this figure was agreeable to all members of the American League except Washington Senators.

Bruin Nosedive To Hurt NHL Gate Receipts

BOSTON, Feb. 3.—(AP).—National Hockey League magnates who, rewriting the pleas of some of their baseball counterparts have been chanting "break up the Bruins," today appeared to have received a speedy and, undoubtedly, a costly response.

Due to an almost incomparable series of mishaps, the Boston Bruins, hockey's supposedly invincible world champions, apparently are slated for a nose-dive that is bound to hurt every other club where it will be the most painful—right smack in their own gate receipts.

Within the past week, the Bruins have lost the heart and core of their powerful forces. Dit Clapper, rated as the greatest of present-day defencemen, suffered a severe Achilles tendon, just after High-scorer Bill Cowley, conceded to be the ice game's most astute play-maker, fractured his jaw. Neither is expected back for at least six weeks and both may be out for the season. In betwixt, the famous Kraut line—Milt Schmidt, Bobby Bauer and Woody Dumart who grew up together in Kitchener, Ont.—entered the Royal Canadian Force and will go on active service Feb. 14.

Ever since professional hockey came down over the Canadian border, the Bruins have been packing all of their circuit's rinks with cash customers. Even if the home club was weak, the Bruins could pull in the fans.

Much of the profits will drop out of hockey if the Bruins become feeble for in that sport the home team retains all of the gate receipts, and sure-fire drawing cards are, and have been, much too few.

Leafs Recalling Dickens Deal Church

TORONTO, Feb. 3 — Recall of recruit Defenseman Ernie Dickens from Providence Reds of the American Hockey League and sale of Defenseman Jack Church to Brooklyn American, are the latest transactions in the camp of the Toronto Leafs.

Coach Hap Day announced the sale of Church to the Americans on his return from New York Monday morning. Church played his last game in a Toronto uniform Sunday night against the Rangers. He will make his bow with the Duttonites tonight in a Madison Square Garden engagement against the Rangers.

Junior Duke Graduate

Dickens, a Winnipeg hockey product, brought east by the Toronto Leaf organization a couple of years back, starred on the defense for the junior Marlboros in 1940-41. He was signed to a professional contract after last season, along with Teammate Bob Goldham and Frankie Eddolls of Oshawa Generals. All three youngsters had shown promising form in the Leaf training camp at St. Catharines last fall. Goldham and Eddolls were packed off to Hershey for experience. Dickens was loaned to Providence Reds.

The Leaf management had been following the freshman progress of the three junior amateur rookies closely, and recently brought the aggressive, shart puck-chasing Goldham up to the N.H.L. Under an arrangement with Hershey, Leafs had the option of recalling Goldham or Eddolls this season, but not both. In order to bring up Eddolls, it would mean return of Goldham. And at the moment it looks as if the youngster will succeed Wally Stanowski as the puck-carrying leader of the Toronto defense division. Providence reports indicate that Dickens has been showing impressively in American League competition.

Coach Day hoped to have Dickens here for Wednesday's workout of the Leafs, who play the Red Wings in Detroit Thursday night. Dickens will make his N.H.L. start in that game according to plans. Rangers, the hottest team in the majors at present, will be here Saturday.

Coach Day announced that the Leafs had given Church and cash to the Americans in order to complete the outright purchase of Lorne Carr. He explained that Carr had come to the Leafs on loan, but was now Leaf property.

Hurt Last Winter

A bad knee injury a year ago last December interrupted what gave promise of being a big hockey season for Church, one of the quietest and most unassuming puckchasers ever to join the Toronto Leaf family. He had come up to Leafs via Toronto Marlboros after the 1935-36 season and was farmed out to Eddie Powers' Syracuse Stars for three seasons. He is 26 years old and hails from Kamsack, Saskatchewan.

Goalie Turk Broda of the Leafs injured his hand in Saturday's game. It was to be X-rayed this morning.

Jack Church returned to Toronto to complete moving arrangements. He left late Monday night for New York and his new assignment.

Sports Spice

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 — (AP). — Baseball's bosses are afraid to lift the night game limit beyond 14 games and some of them still argue it should be strictly a daytime game, but the customers don't seem to agree....A short survey made by the Chicago Daily News indicated that the fans think two or three games a week after working hours would be just about right....Some wanted half twilight games so they wouldn't lose too much sleep before time to go to work.

Cheers for the Naismith Memorial Committee for its decision to invest its take from the Golden Ball games in defence bonds. It not only is a fine patriotic gesture, but it should net a nice profit for the basketball Hall of Fame....Sharpest jab of the baseball writers' dinner was made by Arthur Mann as the voice of Charley McCarthy: "That Landis amazes me—he looks funnier than the guys who imitate him."

Abe Greene the N.B.A. president, suggests reviving the junior welterweight class to provide a title shot for Ray Robinson, who can't get a whack at the welter crown until the Navy gives Reu Cochrane time off to train....Bill Osmanski and Johnny Siegal of the Chicago Bears both are dentists. During the grid season they could advertise painful extractions every Sunday.

Top Goalgetters Out Tonight In All-Star Tilt

CLEVELAND, Feb. 3 — (AP). — The American Hockey League's all-star game to-night will start with a 47-goal Cleveland line on the Western team, but the Eastern division has the most impressive array of high-point scorers. Proceeds of the game will be divided equally between the Canadian and American Red Cross.

Bill Cook of Cleveland and his brother Fred (Bun) Cook of Providence, opposing coaches, have 17 men each.

Cleveland's first line of left wing Norm Locking, centre Les Cunningham, second high scorer of the league with 44 points, and right wing Jofre Desilets will start for the West, with Pete Bessone of Pittsburg and Chuck Shannon of Buffalo on defence. Rookie Joe Turner of Indianapolis will start in goal to be relieved later by Nick Damore of Hershey.

Bill Cook had planned to start the Hershey line of Wally Kilrea, Harry Frost, and Gordon Bruce, but Bruce was called up by Boston Bruins, and Cook wanted to send in an intact line.

Washington's Lou Trudel, who leads the circuit's goal scorers with 25, and two New Haven forwards, centre Norman Burns and right wing Gus Mancuso, will be the opening line for the East. Eddie Shore of Springfield and big Frank Beisler, one of his stalwarts, will be on the defence and Mike Karakas of Providence will be goalie. Earl Robertson of Springfield is the reserve goaltender.

The East's scoring punch is bolstered by the presence, as an extra forward, of Ab Demarco of Providence, now leading the league with 46 points. Others include Pete Kelly of Springfield, tied with Trudel at 42 points for third highest scoring total in the league, and Norman Calladine of Providence, who has the second highest number of goals, 22.

Jaffra's Spurt Whips Speary

TORONTO, Feb. 3 — (CP). — A flurry of swift and straight punching in each of the last three rounds gave Harry Jeffra of Baltimore a 10-round decision over Billy Speary of Nanticoke, Pa., in the featherweight boxing final bout of a fight card here last night.

Ringside scorecards gave Jeffra five rounds, Speary three and scored two even. The decision for Jeffra was unanimous by the judges.

Jeffra weighed 126½, Speary 127½.

The crowd was estimated at about 5,000.

In a preliminary bout, Louis Alters of Montreal dropped a six-round decision to Nels Broadhead of Guelph, Ont., in a bantamweight bout. Alters weighed 115½, Broadhead, 118½.

Willkie The Guest

HOLLYWOOD ,Calif., Feb. 3. — (AP)—Wendell Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential candidate, will be guest of honor of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences when it awards its "Oscars" for the best movie performances of 1941 at a banquet Feb. 26. Academy President Walter Wanger said tickets will be $10 instead of the usual $25. "There will be no white ties or black ties, and men will wear business clothes," said Wanger. "There will be no formal evening gowns and no dancing."

Hextall Far Off Record By Cooks-Boucher

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (CP)—New York Rangers star scoring trio—Phil Watson, Lynn Patrick and Bryan Hextall—has a long and arduous route march ahead before it approaches the spot occupied in hockey's history books by the greatest forward line of them all, the Cooks and Boucher.

It may be more than co-incidence that Frank Boucher, centre on that other great Ranger trio, is coach of this one.

But Boucher and the Cook Brothers, Bill and Bun, formed the only line ever to gather a total of more than 1,000 scoring points. It was the only line on record to comprise entirely 100-goal scorers. Watson-Hextall-Patrick won't catch up in those departments for years—if ever. One Cooks-Boucher mark the modern Ranger top line may pass this season is in single-season scoring—72 goals. Watson-Hextall-Patrick have 47 goals in 31 games and if they maintain that pace for the remaining 17 they'll have knocked down one of the Cooks-Bouncher line's hard-won standards.

The all-time scoring record for one season by a forward line is far above that—102 goals by Cooney Weiland, Dit Clapper and Dutch Gainor of Boston Bruins in the 1929-30 season.

Here is the Cooks-Boucher lifetime record, excluding play-offs:

	G	A	Pts
Boucher	141	237	378
W. Cook	228	134	362
F. Cook	154	139	293
Totals	523	510	1033

Tonight the Rangers have another chance to take over undisputed possession of first place, now shared with Boston Bruins, and the shattered Bruins have a chance to hang on. Rangers will meet Brooklyn Americans in New York, with the rising Chicago Black Hawks travelling to Boston.

Armored Division Headed By Worthington

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—(CP)—Command of Canada's new armored division goes to 52-year-old Brig. Frederick F. Worthington of Barrie, Ont., the seasoned fighting man who dreamed about tank warfare before this country had any tanks and founded the present armored organization in the Canadian army.

National defence headquarters today announced his promotion to rank of Major-General and his appointment to command an armored division.

From this it was taken for granted he has been recalled from England where he commanded an army tank brigade to assume the task of converting the 4th division into an armored division.

Decision to make the conversion as part of a plan to develop the Canadian Corps overseas into a two-corps army was announced in the House of Commons last week by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

In connection with the transformation of the 4th division, defence headquarters also announced appointment of Brig. A. M. Thomas, 47, of Toronto, and Brig. E. L. M. Burns, 44, of Ottawa, to command the 3rd and 4th armored brigades respectively; of Brig. Walter C. Hyde, of Montreal to command the support group of the 4th armored division; and Lt.-Col. G. R. Bradbrooke, 45, of Winnipeg, to command the new 2nd army tank brigade with the rank of brigadier.

Recalling Experts

Three of the five appointments involve the recall from overseas of experienced officers to take charge of the proposed additions to the armored section of the army as they are organized, trained and equipped in Canada for eventual movement overseas.

Gen. Worthington was the first officer commanding the Canadian Armored Fighting Vehicle Training Centre at Camp Borden. There he built up the nucleus of Canada's present tank forces, and went overseas in command of the First Arm. Tank Brigade which was to serve with the infantry divisions overseas.

The new set-up calls for a two corps army, one corps consisting of three infantry divisions and two army tank brigades and the other of two armored divisions. The latter will be an armored corps which may turn out to be the spearhead of any push the Canadian army is called upon to make on the continent of Europe.

Today's announcement made no reference to Gen. Worthington's successor as commander of his overseas tank brigade. As 4th Division Commander he succeeds Maj.-Gen. L. F. Page, who now is commanding Canadian army troops in Newfoundland.

Burns From Overseas

Brig. Thomas who gets command of a Brigade in the 4th Division comes to his new post from the command of an infantry brigade in the division as it stood but Brig. Burns, the other brigade commander has been serving overseas as Brigadier, General Staff, at Canadian Corps headquarters. He is a former assistant deputy chief of the general staff.

Brig. Hyde is an original 4th Division man who will carry on when the formation turns to tanks. He commanded the division at artillery and in his new role will have charge of all the numerous supporting formations needed to keep a division, with its fleet of tanks, functioning.

The other officer recalled from overseas is Brig. Bradbrooke who commanded the 14th army tank battalion. With the benefit of his overseas experience he will head the new army tank brigade, destined eventually to take its place beside General Worthington's former brigade in the 1st Canadian Corps overseas.

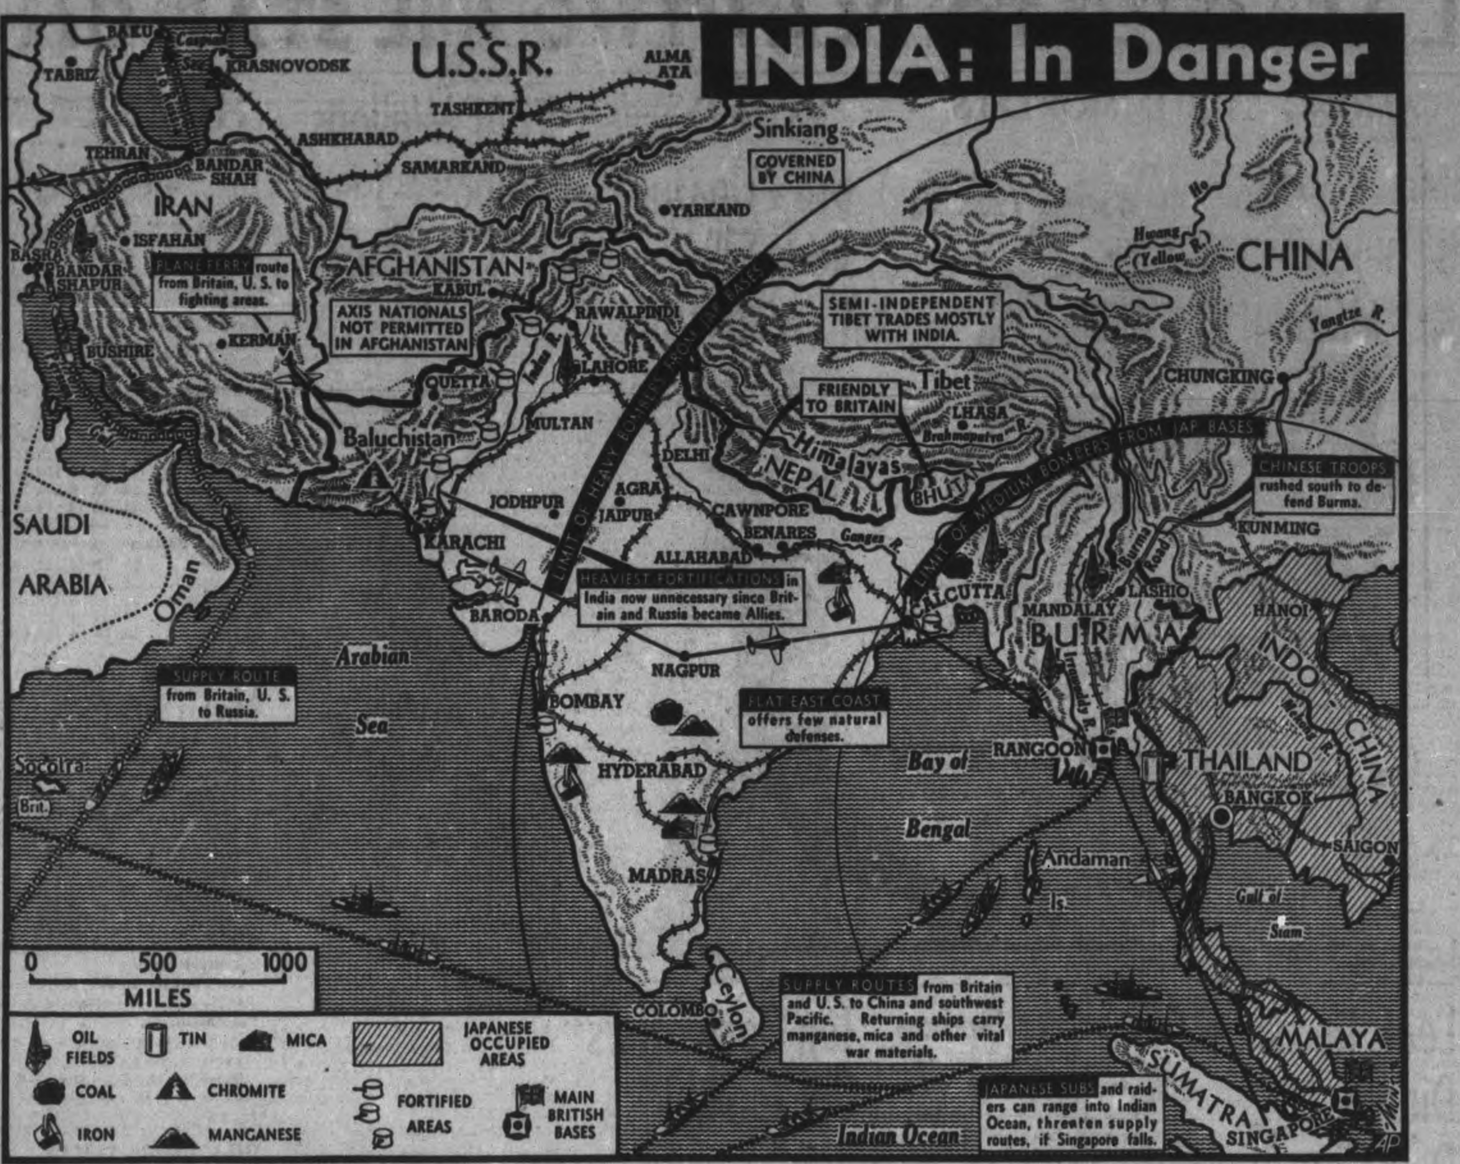
Gen. Worthington was born in Peterhead, Scotland, went to California and was graduated from the University of California.

At the outbreak of the First Great War he joined the 73rd Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force as a private. In 1917 he was appointed lieutenant in the Canadian Machine Gun Corps.

On formation of the Canadian Tank School in 1936, he became chief instructor and on assuming command of the Canadian fighting vehicles school at Camp Borden, two years later, was granted rank of lieutenant-colonel. He was appointed commandant of the Canadian vehicles training centre school when the second great war broke out.

When the Canadian armored corps was established he became commander of its first brigade. Early in 1941 it was decided to organize a Canadian army tank brigade and he was appointed to its command.

INDIA: In Danger



British India is just now like a turtle on its back.

It has been apprehensive of an invasion from the northwest border region for years. Armaments and fortifications have been concentrated there. Now British generals face the unhappy prospect of invasion, not from the guarded northwest, but against the fat, soft southeastern sector.

From the Japanese advance bases on the Burma-Thai-Malay line, the southeast coast is within range of medium bombardment airplanes.

The east shore also is the least defensible area in the whole sub-continent. Flat lands stretch down to the ocean from the eastern ghats, are almost ideal for a determined landing force to establish a foothold and lay out "quickie" air bases.

That India should be threatened by a power with headquarters 4,000 miles away is a startling commentary on modern warfare. It seems such a short while ago that men of mark were arguing seriously in the United States that oceans 3,000 miles wide were ample protection.

But that's the prospect India faces. Singapore, threatened by the Jap drive down the Malay peninsula, alone guards against Nipponese incursions into the Indian Ocean. Singapore in Japanese hands would be the signal for Japanese submarine and airplane raiders to harry the commerce of the whole Indian Ocean.

The threat to United Nations communications is deadly serious. Two of the most vital routes of supply to the two biggest members — China and Russia, intersect in the waters of the Indian Ocean.

One is the only all-weather route to Russia, the artery around Africa and to the head of the Gulf of Persia where goods are trans-shipped across Iran. The other is to Rangoon, Burma, where the Burma road haul to Chungking begins. It's Chinas' only munitions route.

Internally, India seems in better shape than at any time for several years past. The very real threat of Japanese invasion has unified the Indian people, and Nehru, the new leader of the Indian Nationalist movement, has given qualified support to the war effort. It's likely that Britain will make further concessions to the Indian independence movement in return for all-out co-operation.

India supplies some soldiers, but no forces in proportion to its 325,000,000 population. The fighting forces come largely from the northern states and Nepal. The Gurkas, Sikhs and northern Mohammedans are India's fighting men. The Hindus of the south never have been warlike and have not been used to any extent in India's military organization.

India's part in past wars, in addition to the fine fighting men from the north, has been to supply raw materials and wealth to the Empire effort. It was considered as a safe and remote and virtually inexhaustible storehouse of goods and provender. Now the enemy is at the virtual gates of the storehouse.

Much depends on the defence of Singapore. So long as that bastion holds, it will be difficult for Japanese undersea raiders or invasion convoys to make serious inroads in the Indian Ocean area.

If Singapore falls, wealthy and hard-to-guard southeast India is right on the Japanese line of march.

India is in danger now as never before.

be submitted, but declined to break with the Government and join the new "Canadian Party," formation of which was announced a few days ago by another Liberal dissenter, Ligouri Lacombe of Laval-Two Mountains.

Mr. Bertrand declared himself opposed to conscription.

Criticism of the plebiscite proposal also came from two Conservative members, who said they favored immediate application of compulsory overseas service. They were John R. McNichol of Toronto-Davenport, and D. King Hazen of Saint John-Albert.

A Plea for the Ukraine

Anthony Hlynka (N.D. Vegreville) made no reference to conscription or the plebiscite in a speech devoted to a plea for Canadian support for the independence of the Ukraine after the war.

Thomas Reid (Lib. New Westminster) said he disliked the idea of a plebiscite but believed it the best thing under the circumstances and hoped it would carry. He devoted the major part of his speech to the Japanese problem in British Columbia and the danger of attack there. He urged that Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian Corps commander, be recalled from overseas to advise the government on Canadian defence.

Belief in the efficacy of the voluntary system of enlistment was expressed by Joseph Bradette (Lib. Cochrane) who said he supported the government fully on its plebiscite proposal.

Capt. Mutch said that as a member of the House, as a soldier in the First Great War, as one who was born in Canada of purely British descent, perhaps he should be the "most reluctant conscriptionist."

But, he added, "Should I be convinced or when I am convinced—I admit freely that I foresee the probability or at least the possibility of that time coming—I would take the last son from the last widow in Canada and send him away if I were convinced that by doing that Canada would be making her greatest contribution to the winning of this war."

Need Huge Vote

For those who believed conscription necessary, he said, the best course was to give an overwhelming affirmative vote on the plebiscite which would prepare the way.

He said he shared with other members of the forces a distaste for the antics of "little Canadians."

"I refer to those belitters of Canada and Canada's contribution to the war effort," he said.

"People of this kind thrived and multiplied during the dirt and despair of the depression and with the outbreak of war they multiplied again. They see only the efforts of someone far away and turn a jaundiced eye, if they look at all, towards the miracles of accomplishment that have taken place in their own country."

Canada had not done all that could be done and the government did not deserve all the credit for what was done, said Mr. Mutch. It was the work of all Canadians.

"My considered opinion is that most of the organized effort for the adoption of the slogan 'selective service' is pure humbug," he said.

OBITUARIES

WILLIAM W. RICHARDSON

A former foreman of the C.P.R. at Pontypool for many years, William Walton Richardson, 77, died at the family residence, 29 Ware street, Peterborough, on Monday following an illness of three months. He was a member of St. James' United Church.

The late Mr. Richardson was born in Cavan township, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Richardson and had resided in Pontypool until 26 years ago, when he took up residence in Peterborough.

He was a member of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends at Pontypool and a life member of L.O.L. 82 Pontypool.

Besides his sorrowing wife, two brothers, Bert and Harry Richardson of Pontypool survive.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m. D.S.T., at the D. Belleghem and Sons Funeral Home, 190 Hunter street, with the Rev. Fred W. Craik of St. James' United Church officiating. Interment will be made in Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. ANNIE RAPER

MILLBROOK, Feb. 3—(ENS). — The death of Annie King, widow of the late Alfred Raper of Toronto, and formerly of Millbrook, took place on Wednesday, January 28, at her home, Dewson street, Toronto. Thirty-five years ago Mr. and Mrs. Raper moved from Millbrook to make their home in Toronto, continuing to reside there until their decease.

Mr. Raper predeceased his wife by two years, and the immediate surviving relatives are four sons: Cecil S., Harold, Alfred G, and Donald B., all of Toronto.

The funeral service took place at 8 p.m. on Thursday at the funeral chapel of Bates and Dodds, Ltd., Toronto, and the commital service was on Friday at 1 p.m. at Gardiner's Cemetery, Millbrook; the Rev. A. L. Siscoe, B.D., conducting the ritual, and the four sons acting as bearers here. This was the first of three funerals immediately following each other for which Rev. A. L. Sisco was the officiating minister on Friday, something which had not previously occurred during his years in the ministry. The other two were those of Frederick F. Pendrie, and Henry John Armstrong.

THOMAS HOLLAND

The throngs of people who paid their final respects and extended sympathy to the family of the late James Holland at their home, 584 Murray street, and who were present at the funeral mass offered for the repose of his soul by Rev. J. V. Masterson, D.D., was outstanding evidence of the high esteem in which he was held by a large number of citizens from Peterborough, Ennismore and particularly from the township of Douro, where Mr. Holland was born.

The numerous spiritual offerings and floral tributes, gratefully accepted by the sorrowing members of his family, were further testimony of their sympathy and respect.

Among those who were present from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. W. Quest, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Dawson of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. James Holland, Joseph Holland and Mrs. K. Hickson of Ennismore; and Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Leahy and daughter, Eileen of Douro.

Pall-bearers were Messrs. J. Roach, F. Traviss, Morley James, Melville James, and Joseph and James Holland of Ennismore.

Interment was in St. Peter's Cemetery. Prayers were recited by Rev. J. T. Finn.

U.S. Rationing Power

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—(AP). — Rationing of electric power in nearly every sector of the United States is expected in informed circles here.

War Production Board spokesmen say lights have to be dimmed in cities from New York to San Francisco in order to pour power into a huge grid system feeding defence plants in other sections.

Class Sponsors Sleighing Party

MARMORA, Feb. 3 — (ENS). — The two senior classes of the Deloro Sunday School held an enjoyable sleighing party to Marmora on Friday evening. Upon their return to Deloro Hall they partook of a pork and beans repast and wound up the evening with games.

The January meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held on Friday evening in the Parish Hall with a fair attendance. The chair was taken by Mrs. Jules Ethier.

Following the roll call the secretary, Mrs. Hugh Brady, read a letter from Miss Anna V. Foley tendering her resignation as president owing to ill-health. The secretary also read a letter from the national president regarding the present rationing of sugar, in which she urged all members to economize and live up to the regulations as requested by the Government. A letter of appreciation was also read from a sick member who received a basket at Christmas.

Life Of Great Poet Subject Of Meeting

HAVELOCK, Feb. 3—(ENS). — The United Church Young People's League was held Monday evening, with Miss Eileen Brisbin presiding. Scripture lesson was read by Glenn Price, followed by the singing of "Land of Our Birth." Miss Ruth Wilkinson was convener of the program, and the topic chosen was "A Road Is Built," dealing with the life history of Stevenson and his journeyings. Miss Mary Page read an interesting item. Meeting closed with prayer by Rev. J. W. Wilkinson. Interesting games were thoroughly enjoyed for the rest of the evening.

VOL. LXXXV, No. 28 | PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1942 | PAGE 9

MAIN STREET TOPICS

TAKES OFFICER'S COURSE

2-Lt. F. R. Duncan of the 4th Field Battery is taking a qualifying course for 2-Lt. at Brockville.

BUILD BONFIRE

City Engineer Parsons was requested by the council Monday night to gather inflammable material for a big bonfire which will be lighted in connection with the opening of the Victory Loan campaign in Peterborough.

IT MIGHT AFFECT THEM.

Along the main street this morning one man was of the opinion that the population at Chemong Park would be materially reduced this summer. He claims that gas rationing and reduction in number of tires available would interfere with the daily commuting by the Chemong Park cottagers, about 90 per cent. of which live in this city and drive to and from the city to work. That is just one man's opinion, though.

FARMER GETS ANGRY.

The man who figured out the ration quotas was given a tongue lashing to-day by a red faced farmer, who seemed to think the oil controller had a poor sense of values. "They say a veterinary surgeon gets a 15,000 mile a year rating, and any vets I know drive twice that distance, on work that is vital to the farmer." He added that he intended to have a group of farmers appeal this particular rating.

RANGERS NUMBER 891

Strength of the Prince of Wales (R) machine gun regiment stood at 891 men as at January 31, 1942, figures in the battalion order reveal. The unit comprises the following ranks and their numbers: Colonel, 1; Lt.-Colonel, 1; majors, 9; captains, 6; lieutenants, 3; 2-Lieutenants, 16; regimental sergeant major, 1; regimental quartermaster sergeant, 1; orderly room quartermaster sergeant, 1; company sergeant majors, 6; company quartermaster sergeants, 4; sergeants, 54; corporals, 27; l.-corpoals, 34; privates, 310; regimental resrves, 94; National Resources Mobilization Act recruits: course 1, 80; course 2, 119; course 3, 124.

TWO ACCEPTED FOR ARMY

Two were accepted for service in the active army Monday, both with the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps. They are: Pte. G. A. Kesler of Lindsay and Pte. R. Parcells of Havelock.

CITY LOT BRINGS $400.

Sale by the city of a lot at the corner of Charlotte street and Pearl avenue to Russell Cook for $400, as recommended by the property committee, was approved by the council Monday night.

APPOINTED LANCE-CORPORALS

RECEIVE APPOINTMENTS

Sergt. Sid. Whatley of the Prince of Wales Rangers (MG) has been promoted to staff sergeant in charge of Tech Stores. Lance-Corporal H. D. White has been promoted acting corporal.

A POSSIBILITY.

Hints frob the back countries indicate that many of the cottage owners may have a little trouble getting men to fill their ice houses for the summer season. Several ice contractors report there is a marked scarcity of men to work at ice cutting, and they have had to refuse some ice house filling contracts.

POLICE ECONOMY.

"They have set an example of efficiency," was Alderman Gordon's comment as the council last night received the Police Commission's budget of $38,000. "They are not making an addition to their staff, and their increase provides only for cost of living bonus." The requisition was referred to the finance committee.

VITAL STATISTICS.

Of the seventy children born in Peterborough during January, 24 were of non-resident parents. Five children were born to unmarried parents, City Clerk Outram informed the council in his review of the month. There were 17 marriages and 40 deaths, and five of those who died were non-residents. The corresponding statistics for January of last year were: Births 74, marriages 16 and deaths 34.

TWO ACCIDENTS.

Recent accident injuries to George W. Mulligan and Lorne Webster were reported to the council Monday night. Mr. Mulligan fell near George street and Barnardo avenue, January 20, injuring his head and one shoulder, and Mr. Webster slipped on the sidewalk at Charlotte and Stewart streets January 17. These accidents were referred to the legal committee.

ICE 17" THICK.

Mac McWilliams and Mr. White, of Chemong, are both cutting ice on Lake Chemong, and Mr. McWilliams reports the ice is about 17" thick and all good blue ice. Last year about six inches of the top layer was now ice which melted in the ice houses or soon after being taken out, thus adding to the scarcity of this summer necessity. A heavy snow blankets the ice now, which will add to the labor cost.

THE RUSSIAN RELIEF DRAW.

It was reported to-day that the draw for $15,000 worth of fur coats and furs will take place on Wednesday evening, Feb. 4, in Toronto. There are 36 prizes and 500 tickets have been sold in this city. There is a hockey match that evening and it is expected the draw will take place between periods and the names of the winners will be broadcast.

JANUARY RELIEF.

The city's relief expenditure last month was $1,741.54.

WHO WANTS A BULL?

Reporters seem to be easy prey for every ticket seller in the country, and this week a new one came into the office when one of the scribes brandished a pasteboard and declared he might start farming. It seems that someone connected with the Men of Omemee sold him a draw ticket on "Ferdinand the Bull." proceeds for the British War Victims and the Red Cross. The draw is set for February 13, which is also a Friday, and anyone who wins a bull on Friday the 13th deserves it.

OBSCURED IN RECORD

Buried in the city council file Monday night was an account of what surely sounded like tragedy, at least as the circumstances would apply to normal women. At Leaside in York county a married woman who lived five years in Peterborough formally consented to her baby girl becoming a ward of the Children's Aid Society, who are to find a home for it. She answered 'yes' to a magistrate's question: "You understand that you lose all rights to this child." Its father was not her husband. Hardly a normal group. At any rate the council's interest was only that the city would not be liable for any part of the maintenace of the little girl.

FINE OF $50 IMPOSED.

Pleading guilty as a second offender on a drunk charge, a local man was fined $50 and costs, with the alternative of a month in jail when he appeared before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court this morning.

AN EXCITING SPORT.

Rob Roy and John Frank built an ice boat carrying 200 square feet of canvas, and equipped with steel-shod runners about two feet long. The craft was used on Lake Chemong just prior to the big snowfall last week-end and with John Frank and Miss Mildred Spicer riding the boat, it attained a speed of 40 miles an hour. The young people had one of their friends pacing the craft in a car to gauge the speed. This is a thrilling sport, but conditions are rarely ideal for enjoying it, as a large expanse of ice is required along with a strong wind.

MILK FOR BRITAIN

Alderman Adam Sands reports that plans to raise money for the Kinsmen Milk Fund are coming along fine. Tickets are going well for a bridge and euchre to be held on Friday night in the King Edward School for valuable prizes. The games start at 8 o'clock and reservations for tables may be made by calling 7670. On Friday, February 13, the Milk for Britain Charity Ball will be held at the Kawartha Club, with music being supplied by a Royal Air Force Band from England.

THREE CHIMNEY FIRES.

Fire Chief George Gimblett reports today that three chimney fires occurred on Sunday and Monday. Firemen were called to 495 Albert Street on Sunday. The second run was made at nine Monday morning to 485 Sherbrooke Street, and again at 2.20 Monday afternoon they were called to 23 Edgewater Bvld., on Burnham's Point to one of the dwellings crected by Wartime Housing, Ltd. The Chief said both pipes and chimney were ablaze. No damage was caused in the first two fires but firemen were checking today on possible damage to the Point fire.

NEW CLASS EVERY WEEK.

War emergency classes in machine shop practice are starting at the Vocational School at the rate of about one class per week, Bill Mellis of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, said today. The classes number from 20 to 25 members. The graduates of these classes are being absorbed by Peterborough industries principally for the manufacture of machines and other equipment of war.

TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY.

Peterborough Rotary Club will celebrate its birthday on February 23 and arrangements are bing made for a special program on that occasion. The aim of the club is to have a 100 per cent. attendance for the anniversary.

Mercury Dips 30 Below At Kinmount

Householders shivered this morning after the alarm clocks had jangled them into consciousness, and forced them out of bed, as the temperature outside hovered around 16 below the zero sign for the second coldest day of the winter. Coming on the heels of the damp raw weather of Monday, early morning pedestrians hurrying to work felt the cold more than ever, and several report frost-bitten ears.

Up at Kinmount the mercury dipped to 30 below zero according to the station-master's thermometer, which is the best one in the village. At Bancroft, the Forestry branch office using government-tested thermometers, report a 23 below figue, while at Apsley it was an even 20 below. It was reported from Marmora that the temperature had dropped to 24 below at Deloro with one degree less than that at Marmora. Out on Highway 28, the garageman at Springville said his thermometer showed a 24 below figure, but this sound a little like the reading from an alcohol thermometer rather than a mercury one.

Ross Dobbin of the Peterborough Utilities Commission reported that if a thaw follows this cold spell the danger to the water mains and sewers will be eliminated. He admits, however, that frost has penetrated the ground for a quite a distance, due on doubt to the thin blanket of snow which has been evident since winter set in.

At nine o'clock this morning the thermometer at The Examiner registered 8 below zero, and within two hours it had claimbed up to zero.

War—25 Years Ago

(By the Canadian Press.)

FEB. 2, 1917 — British force in Mesopotamia reached point on right bank of the River Tigris 25 miles west of Kut-el-Amara. Appeal made to British people to economize in food to avoid rationing. Successful raid made by British troops near Guelecourt on Western Front.

FEB. 3 1917 — United States severed diplomatic relations with Germany. British troops advanced north of the River Ancre on Western Front. U.S. steamer Housatonic sunk by submarine off the Scilly Isles. System of voluntary bread, meat and sugar rations introduced in Britain.

Flaming Beacons To Mark Loan Campaign

Beacons, relic of bygone days when settlers and colonists in remote sections of the country built huge fires to warn of the approach of an enemy will be used in the Second Victory Loan drive which starts on February 16.

From the wind-whipped shores of Nova Scotia, westward to the sun dappled Pacific coast, beacons will flame from the high points throughout the country at each urban centre, a reminder and a warning that the enemy is approaching and all must gird on weapons, and do their bit in a financial way to ensure that all enemies must be overthrown.

On Friday night, February 20, a Beacon For Freedom ceremony will be held in this city, despite weather conditions, and in all probability will be erected atop Armour Hill in Ashburnham, where there is easy access for the motoring public. This beacon service will take the place of the "Torch of Freedom" which was the rallying symbol in the First Victory Loan.

Plans are shaping up for the Revue which is being brought to Peterborough as part of the campaign, and this wartime, yet gay and tuneful presentation will be shown at the Collegiate Auditorium. The date set is February 26, and tickets will probably be handed over to the various chapters of the I.O.D.E. and the different service clubs in the city. Seats sell at 50 cents, with no reserves, as just enough will be sold to fill the auditorium.

Draw On Quilt Adds $29 To War Victims

Two very nice efforts from the surrounding district are reported in today's list for the local and district fund, operating to help British war victims.

The largest of these comes in as a result of a draw on a quilt made and donated to the Daughters of Cavan, L.O.B.A., 1066, at Millbrook, by Mrs. James Paul of Ida, who is their oldest member, to be utilized by them to help along the war effort.

This Lodge, of which Mrs. A. Lunn is Worshipful Mistress, decided to make it the means of raising money to help the distress of those stricken by enemy air raids over Britain, and for that purpose sold tickets for a draw on it, which has resulted in the very nice sum of $29 being credited in this day's list of receipts as a result of their work.

The draw was made at a social evening and euchre held in Millbrook on January 26, when the R.B.P. No. 945 of Millbrook entertained the Daughters of Cavan, by Sir Kt. James Paul, who was celebrating a birthday, and resulted in Alfred Birchard of 213 Stewart Street, this city, being the winner with ticket No. 32, and the proceeds being turned over to the fund by Mesdames J. Morton, J. Thompson and V. R. Sweeting.

The other district effort comes from Centreville, where a dance was held on Friday night by the Centrevillt short course group in the hall there to net $12 to the fund.

One nice personal donation of $5 is noted, and the box at the Centre Theatre kept up its good work for the fund by adding another $7.05 to the day's receipts when collected by the secretary of the fund on Monday.

Lily Lake Basket Social.

Adding still further to the splendid efforts already resulting in large contributions to this fund from community efforts of the folk at Lily Lake, the Sunday School and Christian Endeavor of this district with Miss E. Hancock as convener, is sponsoring a basket social at the Lily Lake School on the 2nd Line of Smith to start at 8.30, D.S.T., this Wednesday evening, which will be preceded by an intetresting and varied program. At the same time, the draw for a spread made and donated by Mrs. M. M. Young, of Lakefield, will be made, and Gordon Hancock will auction off the baskets to further aid the fund.

Zeller's Dance February 11.

A social event which promises to be well supported and add materially to receipts for the fund, is being staged by the staff of Zeller's Department Stores on February 11 in the Knights of Columbus Hall, commencing at 9 p.m., with Patsy Connell's orchestra supplying the music. This will be a St. Valentine's dance, and tickets for same are now on sale at $1.25 per couple, and can be obtained from any of the employees at the store. Dress is optional.

W. R. Morris Named To City Trust

W. R. Morris was reappointed to the City Trust Commission for five years at last night's council meeting. Alderman Cotton's nominating motion was seconded by Alderman Dutton.

Sale of a lot in Auburn to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission for $200 was approved. This property is required by the Hydro for a right of way, Alderman Swanston said. It leads toward the site of the vanished woollen mills.

"Two hundred dollars doesn't sound much for that land," Alderman Gordon commented, and Alderman Swanston's reply was to the effect that the city had marred the lot by leaving deep sandpits.

Tribute To Service Rendred Peterborough By Late W. H. Bradburn Paid By Council

The following resolution recording the council's appreciation of the service of the late William H. Bradburn was passed Monday night by a standing vote. Moved by Alderman Sullivan, seconded by Alderman Mark: "That this council keenly regrets the passing of William H. Bradburn who for many years was one of the chief leaders in the city's progress, having served as Mayor, Chairman of the Utilities Commission, Member of the Ontario Legislature, and whose energy and thought for the welfare of Peterborough and its citizens will be long remembered; and that the sincere sympathy of the Council is extended to his son, Alderman Herbert I. Bradburn."

Alderman Bradburn remained seated while the council stood in memorial testimony to his father.

"I thank you at this time for the resolution you have just passed," Alderman Bradburn said in acknowledgment of the tribute. "It is difficult to express in words the feelings I have; but I do thank you most sincerely, and I assure you that any service my father rendered to the city and the province were performed to the best of his ability. He found a great deal of pleasure from the public work he did."

Changes Made CPR Schedule

The new passenger train schedule of the C.P.R. affecting Peterborough beginning at 3.01 a.m., new time, Monday, February 9, was received at the local offices of the company today.

The early morning train will leave Ottawa at 11 p.m., Peterborough at 5 a.m., and arrive in Toronto at 7.10 a.m. The morning local leaves here at 7.10 o'clock, reaching Toronto at 9.16.

The afternoon express arrives at 5 p.m., leaves at 5.15 and arrives in Toronto at 7.25 p.m. The Sunday afternoon train leaves at 5.30 and arrives in Toronto at 7.55 p.m.

The eastbound morning train leaves Toronto at 9.30 o'clock, reaches Peterborough at 11.40 a.m., and arrives in Ottawa at 5.35 p.m. and Montreal at 7.30 p.m.

The evening local leaves Toronto at 6.30 o'clock and reaches Peterborough at 8.30.

The midnight train leaves Toronto at 11.35 p.m., arrives here at 1.45 a.m. and in Ottawa at 7.30 a.m. The Sunday morning train leaves Toronto at 9 and arrives here at 11.20.

The new schedule is described as following "new time." It is new for the C.P.R., but it is actually based on the present daylight saving time.

Tipsy Transient Gets 3 Months

Joseph J. O'Brien, a transient who is known in police circles here as 'Gold Tooth," appeared before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of having been drunk here Monday. He also admitted having been convicted of drunkenness on two previous occasions during the past twelve months.

O'Brien made a plea to the court to be allowed to go, promising to leave Peterborough for good.

He will get an opportunity to do so early in May. Magistrate Langley sentenced him to three months in jail as a third offender.

GIRLS INVITED.

Girls interested in courses conducted by St. John Ambulance Association will be welcome at opening meetings at the Fire Hall—Home nursing February 4, First-aid February 9, at 8 p.m.

New Dance Spot Has Fire Escape

The Piccadilly dance spot on George street has complied with the city's building ordinance requiring a fire escape for use in emergency.

That fact was determined by City Engineer Parsons this morning, following a license discussion at last night's meeting of the council. Sanitary Inspector MacPherson refused the dance hall a refreshment booth permit, he reported, because the place lacked facilities for "operating a sanitary kitchen."

Mr. Parsons informed the council that he had no recollection of having approved a dance hall permit because there was no fire escape at the rear of the building.

Enquiry at the city hall this morning elicited the fact that Joseph Fontaine was granted a dance hall license in the same premises, over Tamblyn's, in December 1940, and it was further said that "he lasted just one week." It was also learned that Louis Yeotes obtained a license by resolution of the council in February 1941.

City Clerk Outram remarked to the council that Andrew Paris was at least the nominal proprietor of the Piccadilly, but that Louis Yeotes claimed that right. City Engineer Parsons added the further comment that the last time he examined the rear of the premises a fire escape "was lying in the yard."

From the scant information the council had last night it was not definitely known when the fire escape had been set in position.

"It is all right now," Mr. Parsons told a reporter today, "and would be all right in an emergency if the rear door was unbolted."

Bond Purchases Payroll Plan To Be Discussed

B. A. Trestrail, executive of the Rogers Majestic Company, will be guest speaker at a luncheon in the Empress Hotel on Wednesday at noon, and he will deal with the Second Victory Loan. The luncheon was arranged by the Victory Loan committee for the benefit of industrial and business leaders in the city who wished to obtain all data in connection with the Loan.

Fred J. Overend will act as chairman in the absence of D. G. H. Melton, chairman of the Employees Committee, and head table guests will include Judge Sheldon Smoke, Mayor James Hamilton, T. H. Stinson, K.C., Lindsay, Alex L. Elliott, K.C., M.P.P., Gordon S. Matthews, J E. Girven, Thos. Glover, L. H. Ferguson, Alderman James Dutton, Alderman J. E. Sullivan, Vincent Eastwood, John Hume, Port Hope, and B. A. Trestrail.

Mr. Trestrail has made an intensive study of a system which enables employees to purchase victory bonds on the payroll deduction plan, a plan that will find favor with many people and yet not interfere at all with any existing program of War Savings Stamps buying.

Start Drilling In Iron Mine

MARMORA, Feb. 3.— (ENS).— Diamond drilling for iron is expected to start about next Wednesday about 24 miles north of Marmora, on Lot 17 of the 3rd Concession of Lake township, close to Tongamong Lake. The project is being undertaken by George M. Edwards and his son, George K. Edwards, of Toronto. For several years it has been reported that there is a good showing of iron in that district. For the past six months Mr. Edwards and his son have been working on the project.

team a trimming. In the meantime the group standing is as follows:

	W	L	F	A	Pts
Peterborough	8	3	60	30	16
Whitby	6	5	51	59	12
Belleville	6	5	55	48	12
R.C.A.F.	1	8	27	56	2

Belleville has a goal average advantage over Whitby for second place if the two teams win their remaining games with the Flyers.

The schedule for the second half of the Ladies' Basketball League at the Y.W.C.A. is being drawn up and will swing into action Friday night. It is not definitely known yet which teams will be slated for the opening night and these will be announced tomorrow. Judging by the pace set in the first half there should be a lot of lively basketball in the second part of the schedule before the championships are decided. The teams are well-matched and any one of four or five squads still has a chance to come on and grab off the honors. Anything can happen in the loop in the next four or five weeks by the way the games are going.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: Peterborough ladies' rinks were defeated in the Ladies' Ontario Tankard series yesterday. Mrs. O. DeGraw's rink defeated Mrs. L. E. Woolley of Sarnia 8 to 7 in the first round, one of the upsets of the day but lost out to Mrs. Reive of High Park in an extra end....Dominions and C.G.E. will play a City League basketball game at the Y.M.C.A. Wednesday night at 8 o'clock....Ray P. Best of Peterborough has entered a rink in the annual Ontario bonspiel....Flyers got the jump on Whitby by outscoring them 4 to 1 in the first period. After that the losers got rolling but it was too late....Bill Calladine had a bad week last week and as a result the Peterborough boy has slipped to fifth place in the American Hockey League scoring race, seven points behind the league-leading Ab Demarco. Bill has been left behind in the goals scored department, too, his total remaining at 22 while Louie Trudel has boosted his mark to 25....Demarco has also climbed into the 20-goal circle also, and the three are the only players in the circuit who have registered 20 or more markers.

Wage Increase

Reeve MacMillan, Councillor O'Sullivan said he thought the department had upwards of 1,500 feet of serviceable hose, and he added that one fire during the summer had called nearly all of it into play. He pointed out all hose was hung in the tower to dry following use and there then arose the question of the time consumed in giving adequate care to it.

"I think we would be money ahead if we changed our system and paid firemen on an hourly rate," said Reeve Calver, "with the increased cost of hose ($1.30 to $1.70 per foot) we would be better off if we had to pay a dollar an hour to see that it is properly dried." His suggestion failed to rally any support as Councillors felt this would result in a much higher cost for fire fighting than the budget would stand and the matter was dropped. "Why don't you wait till we've had our finance meeting before you order any hose?" asked the deputy reeve.

"No. It doesn't make any difference about the finances. If we need hose we're going to get it even if we have to go into debt," shot back Councillor O'Sullivan. He maintained it was good business to buy a small quantity of new hose each year so as "to keep up a good supply of serviceable hose at all times" he added crisply. Councillor Anderson said he had looked over the records and found the town had been buying an average of 150 of hose each year but he suggested that all on hand be tested thoroughly to find out how much could actually be salvaged.

Finally Mr. O'Sullivan consented to change his original motion and moved the town purchase 200 instead of 250 feet of hose and also a ring expander "providing the present one can't be repaired."

An amendment by Calver and McMillan got a snag into the proceedings. They moved for the purchase of 150 feet and that all existing hose be tested before any action. Mr. Mason joined in supporting the amendment and as Mr. Battisby had retired it left Councillors Fowlds, Maguire and Anderson to support the motion. But Anderson didn't vote despite the Mayor's suggestion that he should do so. With the matter deadlocked Mayor Long declared it was the right and duty of every councillor to express his opinion, and when this failed to bring any response from Councillor Anderson the Mayor by virtue of his own vote declared the motion carried.

Chairman of the legal committee, S. A. Maguire, put the council straight on the question of who could and who could not vote on public school matters at Board of Education meetings. His report came as sequel to a question raised at the last meeting when it was brought out that W. J. Smith, a Separate School supporter appointed to the Board by the County Council was not permitted to vote on problems affecting the public school. He summarized a statement prepared by town solicitor, N. Alex. MacColl, who quoted from the School Act that "a member of the Board who is a Separate School supporter or is appointed by the counties council shall not vote or otherwise take part in any of the proceedings of the Board exclusively affecting the Public School." It was further pointed out that the Separate School supporter was interested in the High School to the same extent as the Public School supporter, while the County Council was also interested in the High School by virtue of the substantial grants it paid over annually. However, neither has any right to take part in the administration of the affairs of the Public School and must not take any part in the discussion or voting when such questions arise.

The greatly improved tax situation since 1937 was summarized by Collector J. C. Birmingham who said that in 1937 and '38 uncollected taxes had amounted to $12,000.00, with 60 per cent of the total roll collected. In 1939 and '40 there was $10,000.00 in uncollected taxes and 62½ per cent of the total roll in while in 1941 the amount dropped to $7,000.00 uncollected, or 86 per cent of the roll collected. He said there was $6,300.00 in old arrears at the present time and all but $300 of this was classed as being collectable. He added that $9,582.60 had already been paid on 1942 taxes.

On behalf of the Seymour Agricultural Society G. G. Stephens and W. J. Duncan asked council for the annual grant to that organization, and although they were left with the impression they would certainly get a gift from the town, the matter was left in abeyance until the budget meeting had been held.

Shorthand Course for Home Study

Practise For Promotion

Chances do come in business, but only those who're ready can profit by them. A way to be ready is to learn a skill, shorthand in your spare time.

Shorthand isn't difficult. You can learn it in simple home lessons. Then, when an opportunity comes, you're trained, ready to step in—with an advantage over unskilled workers.

In Pitman shorthand, you write symbols based on the sounds of words, instead of their spelling. The word "pay," you learn, is a light slanting stroke followed by a heavy dot. "Say" is a light curve and a dot.

There aren't many sounds in the language, so you soon master the symbols. And for common phrases like "in order that . . . as soon as," you have abbreviated time-saving symbols, easy to learn.

Then for regular practise each day—with someone dictating to you, slowly at first. Before you know it, you'll be taking real office-speed dictation.

Our 32-page booklet gives the essentials of the famous Pitman system in easy step-by-step lessons. Includes exercises; abbreviated symbols for words and phrases; pointers on acquiring speed, accuracy. Can be useful as a foundation for a business college course.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps for your copy of "Self-Instruction in Shorthand' to the Examiner, Ho[illegible] Service, Peterborough. Be su[illegible] [illegible] write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

"The Authority on Authorities"

HE SWIMS UPSTREAM

"ONLY THE game fish swims upstream" is one of the most inspiring of sportsmen's mottos. Its principle has to be applied by the contract declarer who willingly places himself in a grand slam contract at No Trumps when it is clear to him that it should be easier to take 13 tricks in some suit previously bid. He deprives himself of such plays as ruffing out losers, ruffing up a long suit to furnish discards, grand coups and a number of other devices. With his number of weapons cut down, he has to depend largely upon squeeze plays to build non-obvious tricks, much as an infantryman is sometimes reduced to using his bayonet when his cartridges are gone.

That bidding produced top score on this deal for Herbert J. Gerst of Norfolk in the Southern Appalachian championships. But first let's see what he beat. Next best on the deal was 7-Hearts by North, who made it by finessing clubs, discarding a spade on the third club, ruffing a fourth club, then discarding a diamond on the fifth and finessing diamonds.

One South made 7-Clubs by means of a grand coup, ruffing a good fourth heart to shorten his trumps and using the diamond finesse for a needed extra entry to dummy, enabling him to discard his own losing diamond on a heart and trap East's trump Q.

Mr. Gerst had to get along without these devices, in No Trumps. West led his spade K and then came six heart tricks from dummy, followed by the club K, J and A, which squeezed the stinger out of West's cards. Mr Gerst discarded so as to have in his hands three diamonds when he led the club A, and in the dummy the spade 10 and three diamonds. West held his spade Q as the only protection against the dummy's 10, so had to toss one of his diamonds. The diamond Q, the A dropping the K, and the J completed the contract, giving the intrepid declarer a well-earned and huge reward

If West leads the 8 of the diamonds which East had bid, what card should be played from the dummy by South, who is in a contract of 3-Spades?

Severe Reaction

CAMDEN, N.J., Feb. 3—(AP).—Sugar rationing note: When a restaurant customer asked for a second spoonful of sugar for his coffee—and didn't get it—he and his two companions threw the waiter through a plate-glass window and knocked the restaurant manager unconscious. Annual Meeting Brings Fine Reports

MILLBROOK, Feb. ?—(ENS). — Mrs. C. M. Westmacott entertained the W.A. of St. Thomas' Church for its annual meeting at her home, King Street West, on Thursday, the attendance being gratifying and reports of a most satisfactory character.

The officers for 1942 were elected as follows: Hon. President, Mrs. John Allen, Sr.; Hon. Vice-President, Mrs. C. A. Campbell; President, Mrs. C. M. Westmacott; Vice-President, Mrs. W. I. Massey-Cooke; Secretary, Miss Rose Macnamara; Treasurer, Mrs. ?. E. Allen; Dorcas Secretary, Mrs. H. J. Russell; Leaflet Secretary and Superintendent of Junior W.A., Miss Bella McCorry.

Mrs. George Raper, Mrs. William Simpson and the president led in the opening Bible reading and prayers, after which reports were heard, the treasurer showing total receipts of $186.88, with all pledges paid, and a balance on hand of $42.41. The Dorcas report told of nine dollars received from quilts completed for private individuals, a valuable bale sent to Toronto, and Christmas remembrances also sent out. For the Juniors, Miss McCorry reported educational and work meetings held regularly; a Valentine tea to be held on February 12, receipts of $12.33, and a balance of $6.?3 to begin 1942. The junior officers are: Anne Stinson, president; Frances Handley, vice-president; secretary-treasurer, Barbara Harkness.

Aid Missions.

In summing up the work of the year, Mrs. Westmacott stressed the need of carrying on with the missionary endeavor though war conditions prevail, and was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for her faithful services during yet another year. Mrs. Massey-Cooke covered the first chapter of the new study book, "In the Service of Suffering," taking the lives of three missionaries: John Thomas, of India; Peter Parker, of China, and David Livingstone, of Africa, leaving this question: "Which of these three did the most work for Christ?" Lantern slides on the book will be shown on Wednesday, February 25. The quota for this year as outlined by Mrs. Russell, Dorcas secretary, continues. The articles of clothing for an Indian girl, mothers' bags, quilts, etc., arrangements for the making of which will shortly be underway.

Mrs. J. H. Hilton and Mrs. Herbert Russell were supper hostesses, and for February Mrs. Westmacott and Miss Macnamara will take this over, the practice of putting the estimated cost of lunch in the W.A. mite-box, instead of actually serving refreshments being followed again, by unanimous consent for 1942.

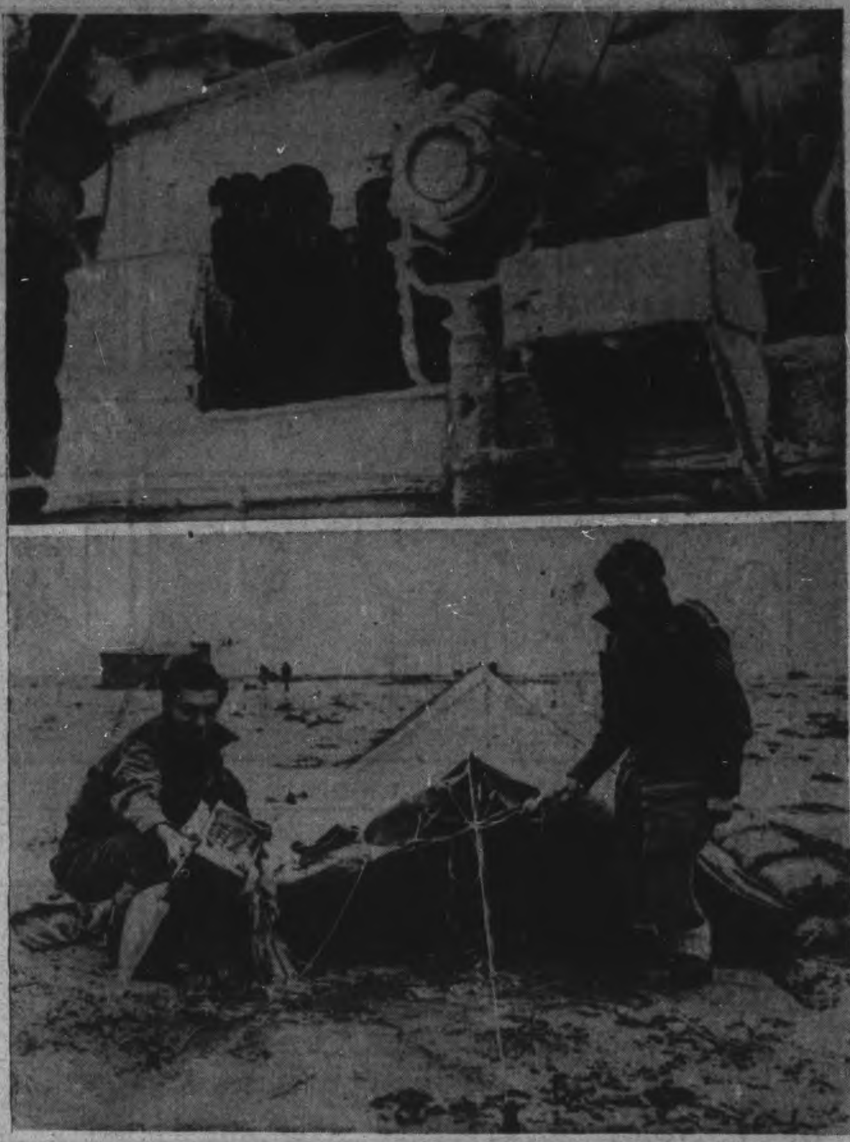
Meet Admiral Ice And General Mud



Scenes from two fronts, thousands of miles apart, show how mother nature sometimes gives puny mortals and their war machines a taste of her own power. At TOP, a British cruiser engaged in the work of keeping the Arctic lifeline to Russia open is sheathed in ice. Hooded men on the signal bridge keep watch as the cruiser keeps in touch with a great convoy bringing war supplies to the embattled Red army of the Soviets. BELOW, mud in the desert. Royal Air Force personnel tried to get rid of some of the mud from about a pup tent. This was one of the rain storms that hampered the British in their drive across Cyrenaica.

Norwood Church Reviews Successful Year

NORWOOD, Feb. 3 — (ENS). — The annual vestry meeting of Christ Church, Norwood, was held in the Parish Room on Thursday evening, the rector Rev. R. E. Lemon, in the chair.

The reports of the various organizations were given, as well as the treasurer's financial statement. It was stated that all obligations had been met and the missionary allotment paid in full with a small balance. It was decided that a copy of the financial statement be sent to each church member. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the members of the W.A. for their help and loyal support during the past year.

Sidesmen appointed for the coming year were E. P. Cuffs, Maitland Grover, Mr. DeC. B. Cutcliffe, Dr. H. G. Carleton, Walter Bitten, John Baskin, and Golden Andrews.

The rector's warden was re-appointed, Arthur Bitten, as was the people's warden, George Wright.

Christ Church W.A. met in the Parish Room on Friday afternoon with a good attendance. The afternoon was spent in quilting. It was decided to hold the next meeting a week later than usual at the home of Mrs. N. F. Sutton.

The regular meeting of the 40th Northumberland Chapter I.O.D.E. was held in their room on Wednesday afternoon with a good attendance and the Regent, Mrs. W. B. Tucker in the chair.

Several letters were read from the men overseas acknowledging Christmas parcels also some from the Navy. A finet response was acknow-Navy. A fine response was acknewrelief, $22.25 having been received in cash donations, as well as a very fine assortment of clothing, some quilts and blankets. One box had already been shipped to headquarters for this purpose, and another will be shipped early in the week.

The wool convener also reported a box of field comforts shipped to headquarters early in the month, and several articles donated to our own boys. Two parcels had also been sent overseas to boys who had left Canada after the Christmas parcels had gone forward. The wool convener also stated a great many knitted articles had gone forward. The wool convener also stated a great many knitted articles had been returned to her since the last meeting.

The Regent read several extracts from letters from headquarters, mainly stressing the great need for the careful conservation of all salvage as a major war effort. She stated that a load was ready locally and would be disposed of during the week. It was also stated that there is still a great need for all kinds of clothing for the bombed victims of Britain, and that it was a false idea to imagine that because the bombing was not apparently so great that the need had diminished. The Chapter meets each Tuesday to sew for this very worthy cause.

Four new members joined during the afternoon and took the oath of the Order. They were Mrs. Throop, Mrs. Gill, Mrs. Callander, and Miss Ruth Wildman.

Mrs. Carleton then took the chair for the nomination of officers which resulted as follows: Hon. Regent, Mrs. Walter Bitten; Regent, Mrs. W. B. Tucker; 1st Vice-Regent, Mrs. Goheen; 2nd vice-Regent, Mrs. H. G. Carleton; recording secretary, Mrs. A. Weir; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Perrin Rork; treasurer, Mrs. F. E. Lemon; education and Echoes secretary, Mrs. E. Munroe; standard-bearer, Mrs. A. Waddell.

The usual monthly grant was made to the British War Guest Fund. The next meeting was called for February 11 to be the annual meeting and the election of officers.

Mrs. George Wright and Mrs. Alexander Kempt served tea.

Mrs. T. H. Crowe Heads Warsaw Group

WARSAW, Feb. 3 — (ENS). — The January meeting of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid and W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. M. E. Drain on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. T. H. Crowe presided for the Ladies' Aid, and after opening with hymn and prayer the treasurer's report showed a balance of $44.21. This was followed by the election of officers, conducted by Mrs. Munro, resulting: President, Mrs. T. H. Crowe; vice-president, Mrs. Munro; secretary, Mrs. M. E. Drain; treasurer Mrs. Theo Douglas; organist, Mrs. Munro.

Miss Helen Tedford presided for the W.M.S., and those contributing to the devotional exercises included Mrs. James Greystock, Mrs. M. E. Drain, and Mrs. Theo Douglas. Mrs. David Rose gave the secretary's report and roll call was answered by Scripture verse. Mrs. James Greystock gave the report of the year's work. Miss Helen Tedford gave the topic, Christian Life." topic, "Christian Life."

Afternoon tea was served by the committee and hostess.

W. A. Meets.

The Women's Association held its first meeting in the church basement on Thursday afternoon, with 22 members present. The treasurer's report showed $8.86 balance and the flower fund $10.44 balance. It was decided to carry on the copper collection for 1942.

Plans were also made to have the usual pancake social on Shrove Tuesday, February 17.

Mrs. Fred Sharpe had charge of the Bible lesson, Mrs. Snelgrove sang "Shepherd Care" and Mrs. Roland Payne gave a very beautiful piano solo.

Lunch was served by Mrs. S. Clysdale, Mrs. H. G. Digweed, and Mis Clara McCracken.

Personals

Mrs. Ivan Drain, Peterborough, is a guest this week of Dr. and Mrs. Munro.

Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Watts have moved into the house formerly occupied by O. B. McIlvena. Mr. Watts will operate the blacksmith shop on the property.

St. Mark's Guild held a quilting at the home of Mrs. Gordon Cuffe on Thursday and finished a beautiful applique quilt which they are donating to the local War Service Committee.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

GROUP COMMITTEE CONFERENCE

All plans have been made for the conference of members of the district group committees being held in the Paragon Hall on Tuesday, February 24, at 8 p.m.

The talks will embrace all views of the relationship and work of the group committees in relationship to the troop and pack. The aim is to give the men, who have undertaken this work, a fuller understanding and appreciation of the work before them. It is urged that all scouters get in touch with the members of their group committee and see that they attend this very important and instructive meeting.

MURRAY STREET TROOP

Eleven boys were on duty for the opening exercises and took part in the volley ball contest, out of which Ray Sutcliffe and his Wild Buffaloes were victorious.

Bill Pelty took part of the boys in signalling instruction, Scouter Earl McNab taking others in tenderfoot tests. The Buffaloes lost out in scout baseball, as Art Turner and his Ravenous Ravens out-guessed them at every turn.

At camp fire, Scouter Ingham of St. Andrew's gave the boys a brief message.

ST. LUKE'S CUBS

With the bright moon shining through the trees on the jungle rtail, Bill King led the opening grand howl. The story of Mowgji was continued, and Akela gave every cub a jungle name, with the cubs responding by trying to act according to his new character — Shere Khan, Tobaque, Ikki Rama, Moo, Mowgli Kaa, Raksha, Many, Bandur-log, Yala Nag, Chuchundra, and others.

Test work was taken with Alistar Fettes passing physical exercises; Alan Northcott, book balancing; Ralph Bigelow, bank savings.

Game of Paul Revere Relay and Poached Eggs on Toast were played.

La Vergne Butcher taking the grand howl.

SCOUT CRAFT COMMITTEE

A meeting of the Scout Craft committee will be held in the association headquarters at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, February 4, and also the scout and cub leaders in charge of activities. These are: Scouters F. Ford, A. Ingham, S. Leggitt, P. Dominik, H. Nokes; Akelas Mrs. Langhorne, A. Butcher, W. King, F. Pammett. Chairman, A.D.C. Ernie Wolfe. All members are urged to be present.

JUST A REMINDER

The Scouters' Club will be held in the association headquarters at 8 p.m. on Wednesday of next week, February 11.

We understand the lady leaders are in charge of the program, and we should do our best to support them.

MAGAZINE COLLECTION

Our collection received a big boost during the past week, with only St. Andrew's being the pack not heard from. The standings are as follows:

George Street, 2,173; St. Luke's, 1,648; St. John's, 1,462; Murray Street, 1,432; All Saints', 658; St. Andrew's, 481; St. James', 467; Sacred Heart, 326; Mark Street, 166. Total, 8,813.

U.S. Plans 30,000 Pilots A Year

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—(AP).—Expressly determined to create the world's toughest force of airplane pilots, the United States navy whipped into final shape to-day a plan to turn out 30,000 air cadets a year with the co-operation of four unidentified universities whose facilities for ground training will be leased by the government for the duration of the war.

At the same time a special committee assured Congress that United States industry was equal to President Roosevelt's production of 185,000 airplanes in 1942 and 1943. It added that "before we are through" the country's army air forces alone would number far in excess of 1,000,000 men.

The Navy Department's week-end announcement of its stepped-up pilot-training program disclosed it would establish one "Annapolis of the Air" in the east, one in the west, one in the south and one in the middle west. The plan is to be in operation not later than May 1.

The committee suggested that veentually the United States should own the Atlantic bases leased from Britain for 99 years in the overage destroyer deal.

LONDON, Feb. 3—(CP).—A woman was killed and several persons were injured this afternoon when a single air raider bombed and machine-gunned streets of an East Scotland village.

OmemeeLibraryBoard Reviews Year's Work

OMEMEE, Feb. 3—(ENS). — The annual meeting of the Omemee Public Library Board was held in the council chamber on Thursday night, with the president, Mr Moon, presiding.

The treasurer reported balance on hand from 1940 of $21.14, receipts for the year $251.98, balance to begin 1942 $21.21, with some accounts outstanding.

The librarian gave his report. The books in the library are listed as follows: Philosophy 2, religion 9, sociology 2, natural science 17, literature 41, history 8, travel 25, biography 39, fiction 2,224, juvenile 687, travelling libray 316. Totals 3,372. During year 3,070 persons used the reading room.

Mrs. Moyer was in the chair for the election of officers, which resulted as follows: President, R Morris; secretary, G. Stephenson; treasurer, Marion Rea; directors, Carrie McQuade, Mrs. Moyer, Rev. Patterson, Miss E. Curry, Mary Faulkner, Horace Hill and Frances Fee.

There was considerable discussion regarding the purchasing of books through the Book of the Month Club, and it was finally decided to join the club again this year.

Mr. Moyer was appointed to take Mrs. Young's place on the book committee.

A motion was passed naming Horace Hill librarian at a salary of $110.

Execute 22 Jews

LONDON, Feb. 3 (CP).—The German Gestapo has executed 22 Polish Jews at Warsaw and Kielce for "abandonment of their ghetto," Polish circles here said today.

Feud Bombings

PERTH, Australia, Feb. 3 (AP)—Two bombing incidents which resulted in the death of nine persons of Yugoslav origin and the injury of 20 others occurred today in Boulder City, suburb of Kalgoorlie.

The explosions took place in houses about 150 yards apart, in the first of which seven persons were killed outright and two died shortly afterwards in hospital while 17 were injured. This house, police said, had been used for a gambling game.

The other explosion a few minutes later resulted in the injury of two men and a woman. A man was seen to run into the yard, set fire to a bomb and throw it into the kitchen.

Police said they suspected the bombings were part of a feud.

NURSE RECOMMENDS MUSTARD POULTICE FOR NEURALGIA

. . . . "The same treatment generally relieves lumbago" SAYS NURSE HOEY—

For over ten years, Mrs. M. Hoey of Regina, Sask., was a professional nurse and she is still very enthusiastic about the helpfulness of mustard in relieving aches and pains. She says: "Patients of mine who suffered with severe neuralgia up the back of the head or in the face have been quickly helped when I placed a mustard poultice across the back of the neck. In cases of lumbago I kept in mind the fact that these pains are neuralgic or rheumatic in character and therefore should respond to mustard treatment. I have had excellent results when using mustard poultices to help relieve lumbago."

Ordered Mustard Treatment

In her long experience, Mrs. Hoey says that whenever she nursed a patient who had pleural pains or acute chest inflammation the doctor nearly always ordered mustard poultices as part of his treatment. Then in spasms of coughing and accompanying weakness, where it was not practical to apply other remedies, the use of mustard was advised. It was often administered with good results. "I have great faith in mustard," said Mrs. Hoey, "as a safe, inexpensive, external help for many ills, aches and pains, but would advise calling a doctor if symptoms are at all serious."

Advantages of Mustard Bath

Epidemics of contagious Winter ailments may strike your community with little or no warning. The day you start feeling groggy with aches, soreness and depressed spirits, get into a mustard bath or at least put your feet into one. Men often prefer a stronger mustard bath than women or children, but every member of the family will find this treatment soothing and relaxing.

There is nothing to surpass Keen's Mustard. It is world-famous for high quality. Use it as a help in relieving local stiffness, rheumatic pains, neuritis, chills, and pleural pains. Any acute disorder or prolonged pain should, of course, be treated by a physician.

"Feels Years Younger" Since Taking Syntona

Says Stomach and Nerves Felt Better After First Bottle. Continued Treatment Brought Relief from Backache, Leg Pains, Headaches and Dizzy Spells.

MR. JAMES CORNEY

"If I had known about Syntona sooner, I could have saved myself from a lot of suffering," said Mr. James Corney, well-known Hamilton man, residing at 269 Wilson Street, Hamilton.

"For six years my stomach was in such a disordered condition that I suffered after every meal with gas, indigestion, acidity and heartburn. At night I would roll from one side to another trying to get to sleep, but there was a constant discomfort from gas and a burning feeling in my chest and throat. The acids from my stomach must have gone all through my system, for I developed pains in my back and legs and I had frequent headaches and spells of dizziness. I felt tired out, nervous and listless because I wasn't getting my proper sleep.

"Of all the medicines I tried nothing gave me any real relief until I began taking Syntona, but it helped my stomach and nerves right from the first bottle. I have now taken six bottles, and I really feel years younger. I enjoy my meals wherever I go and have no gas pains or indigestion afterwards. The pains have left my back and limbs and I am free of those backaches and dizzy spells."

Let this grand herbal tonic help you, as it has hundreds of other local men and women. Syntona is pleasant to take and it contains no harmful drugs or depressors.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store.—(Advt.)

FIERCE RED POWER DRIVE RUMBLES ON SMOLENSK

Singapore Guns Blast Massing Japs

SINGAPORE, Feb. 4 (CP)—Artillery batteries on Singapore Island roared into action again today, blasting away at Japanese troop movements on the Malayan mainland as enemy air raiders unleashed new attacks on this island fortress. Despite the sudden flurry of artillery and air activity, there was no sign that the Japanese were about to begin their expected attempt to cross Johore Strait, and a communique described the general situation as unchanged.

The announcement said the new Japanese air assaults had caused some damage but few military casualties.

It was disclosed that anti-aircraft guns had shot down two, and probably three, Japanese planes over the island Sunday and Monday.

Soldiers and civilians labored shoulder to shoulder today to strengthen Singapore's defences while anti-aircraft crews manned their guns to ward off the Japanese air raiders.

In the tangled mangrove swamps along Johore Strait, across which the Japanese are massing on the Malayan mainland, troops familiar with the art of camouflage cunningly masked new machine-gun nests, rifle pits and gun emplacements with which every chink in the island's armor is being stopped.

Battle-hardened Imperial troops, meanwhile, worked swiftly to instruct newly-arrived reinforcements in tricks of war learned in the Malayan jungles, where for more than six weeks they fought the invaders.

Delay Costly To Nipponese

British military men declared that every day the Japanese delayed in launching their expected assault would make the attack more difficult and more costly.

(A German radio broadcast heard last night in London said the Japanese would "face a heavy task" if they wish to take Singapore. "Singapore still has enough and more than enough defence potentialities," the broadcast said.)

Jap Bombers Hit Wide At Soerabaja

Heavy Dutch Air Loss; Bittle Battle Sways At Amboina

BATAVIA, N.E.I., Feb. 4—(AP).—A massive Japanese bombing fleet attempting to smash Soerabaja, the United Nations' chief base of operations in the Netherlands East Indies, fell far short of its mark, the Indies high command announced today, while on the secondary naval base of Amboina troops still are battling a Japanese landing force.

The attack on Soerabaja was carried out yesterday by 70 to 80 Japanese bombers with heavy fighter escort, the Indies command reported, and the raiders inflicted "very considerable" losses on the Netherlands interceptor squadron which took to the air to meet them.

But the raid caused only "negligible" damage to Soerabaja's military objectives, according to a communique released through the news agency Andeta, while the defending planes and anti-aircraft batteries took a toll of "presumably" eight Japanese fighters and two bombers.

Indies' losses in planes were offset to some extent by the fact that some pilots parachuted to safety.

The high command reported that in addition to continuing resistance at Amboina, where there was still no apparent decision in the heavy fighting, Netherlands forces were putting up a battle in the vicinity of Balik Papan, East Borneo oil centre whose installations were wrecked well in advance of the Japanese landing.

Amboina Still Held.

"Reports from the vicinity of Amboina show bitter fighting continues there with the tide of battle turning from one side to the other," the communique said. "Also in the immediate vicinity of Balik Papan fighting continues."

Amboina is second in importance and strategic situation in the Indies only to Soerabaja which, since Singapore became unavailable, has becomes the United Nations' chief base in the South Seas.

Of Soerabaja, a naval announcement said several moored seaplanes were damaged by the enemy machine-gunning, but they were of an obsolete type used for training.

The Soerabaja military airport and the centre of the town were the principal targets of the raid, the

Murder, Suicide Stun Lad 9, Mum 3 Hours

WALSINGHAM CENTRE, Ont., Feb. 4 (CP)—Nine-year-old Herbert Herter spent three hours in frightened silence in a store in this Norfolk county village 12 miles from Delhi, Ont., yesterday, before telling that he had found his mother and the man for whom she worked as housekeeper, Joseph Fulop, dead from gunshot wounds in Fulop's home.

Not until his 13-year-old brother, Walter, came into the store on his way home from school, did Herbert tell of what he had found when he returned from an errand to the barn on the Fulop farm at noon. The storekeeper notified the police.

Herbert was silent for a few minutes after Walter appeared, then he blurted suddenly: "Mother's dead . . . and so is Joe . . . Joe is on the bed with a gun between his knees."

After investigation, police said Fulop sent Herbert on an errand to the barn about 1.30 p.m. and in the few minutes before he returned, shot Mrs. Herter and himself. The boy told police Fulop was dying when he entered the bedroom after finding his mother dead in the living room of the home. Both Mrs. Herter and Fulop were 50.

Coroner E. W. Zumstein said Mrs. Herter apparently had been mending a sweater when she was shot. A small calibre rifle was used.

Mrs. Herter, whose husband Alexander Herter, is believed by police to be living in Alberta, had been Fulop's housekeeper for about 10 months. In addition to Herbert and Walter, she is survived by three daughters, Emma, 16; Alma, 18, and Freda, 21. Alma and Freda live in Hamilton, Emma at the Fulop home. Fulop, whose wife died about 15 years ago, is survived by two sons, Louis, 13, and George, 16.

The bodies were taken to Tillsonburg.

British Units Retreat From Derna

Only 95 Mi. Off Tobruk Inland Forces Still Fight At Msus

LONDON, Feb. 4 (CP) — British forces have abandoned Derna, falling back 50 miles in two days on their coastal flank in Libya, a British military commentator declared today.

This was his interpretation of a Cairo communique which said that Imperial rearguards had completed "their movement from their last covering positions" about the port, 160 miles northeast of Bengasi and 95 miles west of Tobruk, and had rejoined the main British column.

He would not say there was ground for optimism in Libya.

This source called the situation "extraordinary" in that the right flank of the British line has fallen back while the left flank, made up of mobile columns, still is waging an offensive far in the desert in the Msus area, around the bend of the Gulf of Sirte about 120 airline miles southwest of Derna.

"I interpret the communique to mean the Indian 4th division left Derna, presumably in a pivotal movement in a southeasterly direction to join up with the main body," he said.

All Patrol Action.

The main British force in Libya, it was stated, has not yet clashed with Axis assault troops which have pushed roughly two-thirds of the way back from El Agheila, high-water mark of Britain's westward drive, to the starting point on the Egyptian frontier.

The action so far has involved only patrols and covering units, British sources said.

An authoritative British source said that the pick of Germany's U-boat commanders and crews had been shifted to the Mediterranean to help guard the flow of reinforcements to Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's North African army.

He said other factors which had helped the Axis get men and supplies across the Mediterranean were:

1. Use of considerably stronger surface and air convoys.
2. Transport of some supplies on speedy cruisers and destroyers which are more difficult to intercept than slower transport vessels.
3. Weather which recently has been unfavorable to interception.

Peterboro City And County Asked To Raise $2,750,000 In Second Victory Loan Drive

Opening gun of the first 1942 Victory Loan Drive was off to an enthusiastic start today when about 100 employers of the city, Lindsay and Port Hope heard Bert Trestrail of Toronto.

D. G. H. Melton, chairman of the employer-employees' committee of Peterborough announced that Peterborough's objective in this drive will be $2,750,000, representing $100,000 below the objective of the last drive here.

Mr. Melton pointed out that the objective was exceeded by $440,000 at the last drive.

He also announced that recently, Peterborough citizens whose names were not revealed, have subscribed to one $3,000, one $4,000, and one $5,000 non-interest bearing bonds and two $100 non-interest bearing bonds.

Hold All Lines Wavell Orders East Huge Reinforcements To Save Day

SINGAPORE, Feb. 4—(CP).—Sir Archibald Wavell declared today that Britain and the United States are sending "great reinforcements" to the southwest Pacific battle area and called upon his forces not to retreat another step before the Japanese onslaught.

The Allied commander in chief in the southwest Pacific declared that the defence of Singapore must be made "as memorable and successful as the defence of Tobruk."

Gen. Wavell likened the present fighting forces of the United Nations in the southwest Pacific to the original British force at Ypres and said their job was to fight for time until reinforcements arrived.

This was the text of his special order of the day:

"The Japanese are straining every nerve to keep the advantage gained by their initial surprise and to gain a quick success.

"Once their impetus is thwarted they will soon be discouraged. Our part is to stop them to gain time for the great reinforcements which we and our American Allies are sending to the eastern theatre.

Like Old Contemptibles.

"We are in a similar position to the original British Expeditionary Force which stopped the Germans and saved Europe in the first Battle of Ypres.

"We must be worthy successors of them and save Asia by fighting these Japanese.

"They have now reached an area where we cannot be constantly outflanked, and where the enemy can-

Spring's Bag Of Tricks Hint Hitler's Greatest Blitz

(By H. M. PETERS.)

LONDON, Feb. 4 (CP)—The difficulty in attempting to estimate the importance of today's Russian successes in relation to their effect upon next spring and summer's operations lies in the fact that it is impossible to tell the size of the forces with which Hitler is holding most of his territorial gains of last summer.

Both sides are working feverishly behind the swaying, snow-gripped lines to prepare the mechanized armies which can go into action when winter loosens its hold upon the country. Unless there is a serious deterioration in the German position in the next two or three months. The prospects are that Hitler will still hold most of the Ukraine and the Crimean Peninsula from which to launch a desperate bid for victory.

If, as is widely believed, Hitler underestimated the Russians when he launched his invasion last spring, then the error will not be repeated this year. When the attack comes it will be backed with the full force of the winter production of arms and machines of the Reich and her satellite nations, wielded by the new armies of 1941 whose older brothers have died in hundreds of thousands on the broad eastern front.

But on the Allied side the lessons were not wasted. Russian industry, largely dislocated last year by the loss of the Donets Basin, operates at high efficiency deep in the interior. Vast reserve armies are in motion. Britain and the United States are still sending munition, the amount being dependent alike on the shipping available and the new responsibilities which Japan thrust upon the United Nations.

In this connection, however, the New York Times today published a disquieting report by a Washington correspondent saying that in the last three months the United States had delivered to Russia less than half of the promised war equipment.

This, it said, "is causing considerable concern to certain war administrators who know the extent of German preparations for a new spring drive."

Mr. Churchill said last week Bri-

Reds Gain 18 Miles On Leningrad Front Advance Unchecked In Donets Area As Deep Snow, 30 Below Weather Crimp Nazis

(By EDDY GILMORE.)

MOSOW, Feb. 4—(AP).—A fierce renewal of the Russian power drive west of Moscow is hurling reinforced German divisions back upon the key invasion base of Smolensk, 230 miles west of the capital, the government newspaper Izvestia reported today.

It said heavy fighting was in progress in several vital towns in the central sector, where front dispatches reported many villages and towns in Smolensk province already cleared of the invaders.

The powerful Red army counter offensive into the Donets basin at the same time was said to be progressing without check with the Soviet high command's strategy of constant flanking and outflanking manoeuvres keeping the Germans off balance all along the line.

The Kuibyshev radio announced that "the German system of defences" in the Kursk-Kharkov area of the southwestern front had been pierced "both in north and south," and that "the enemy is retreating with Soviet troops in close pursuit."

Russian troops which captured Petrovskye, a district centre 75 miles east of Kharkov, the steel manufacturing centre, were said to be pursuing the remnants of the 298th and 68th German infantry divisions south-westward. Mobile units cutting forward south of Kharkov were reported to have swept into Krasnopavlosk, 16 miles north of Lozovaya.

Huns Make Stand at Forts.

A high Russian military authority just returned from the front said that in many sectors the Germans appeared to have reached some sort of fortifications and were throwing fresh reserves of men and machines into a desperate stand, discarding their earlier tactics of withdrawing and at the same time rescuing as much material as possible.

Izvestia said: "Trying to stop the pressure of the Red army, the enemy is introducing new reserves into the battle and is undertaking counter attacks. Our glorious fighters are repulsing these attacks, causing heavy losses, and are continuing their offensive."

Red army dispatches cited as typical of the frenzied Nazi effort to bring up reinforcements the fact that in the Orel sector the 88th division and a special "SS" (Elite Guard) division were flown to Orel from France, then rushed to the front by car.

Yanks Holding On Marines Aid MacArthur

WASHINGTON Feb. 4—(AP).—A local attack on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's left flank on Batan Peninsula the night of February 3 was sharply repulsed the United States War Department announced to-day.

A communique also said that a delayed report from the Netherlands Indies disclosed that seven American Army bombers sank two Japanese transports and probably a third in an attack on enemy shipping at Balik Papan on the east coast of Borneo on February 2.

Disclosure in Batavia that United States planes had sunk two or three more enemy transports in Macassar Strait was taken as just a foretaste of what was in store for new Japanese convoys bound for the war area. The new bombings had not yet been announced in Washington.

Although the destruction of a 69-ship Japanese convoy which the Chinese reported off Amoy was undetermined, there was little doubt here it would be subjected to continual pounding of American ships and planes if it attempted to reach the South-western Pacific battle zone.

Beyond the expectation of continued sharp defensive action against Japanese expeditions, official Washington offered no information on the big movement by the Allies which Francis M. Forde, Australia's Army Minister, said in a broadcast yesterday was under way.

The U.S. Navy's announcement that "a naval battalion of bluejackets and marines has been organised and is fighting on Batan Peninsula with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command" was taken to refer to forces which had been left behind when the Navy withdrew from the Philippines a month ago.

No 2 am Standard Time Feb. 9

Even Farmer Mum On Economy Shift To Daylight Saving

TORONTO, Feb. 4 (CP) — Don't forget, folks, there's really no 2 a.m. standard time Feb. 9 this year. That's the hour to the minute the country, or the parts of it still maintaining standard, switch to daylight in the interests of conserving electrical power for the war effort.

The switch-over is being made simultaneously in Canada and the United States and, for one thing, it'll probably save, besides electricity, a lot of confusion about when to listen to your favorite radio program if it emanates from the States and you live in a region that has maintained daylight time.

The traditional enemy of daylight time—the farmer—is taking the order without a word of complaint because, as one farmers' oganization official put it, "this time it's a war measure." But he estimated that 90 per cent of all farmers are still against it because he has to do more work in the dark and he can't work his hay or harvest in the summer until the dew is off the ground. And the dew doesn't leave any earlier because it's daylight time.

The change should be a boon to railway clerks, who've listened for years to the question "is that Standard?" when they give the time of a train departure or arrival. Now, no matter where you live, the 5 o'clock train is just that, not the 4 o'clock arriving at 5 o'clock daylight.

The railways will lend a little ceremony to the changeover. At the "zero" hour trains in transit will stop at the nearest station where all clocks will be changed on telegraphic instructions, and all watches carried by train crews will be adjusted.

Charles Jennings, national program director of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, has been having fun trying to get everything straightened out in advance. Programs from the States will be heard in Canada one hour earlier after Feb. 9 in those parts of Canada

In warm weather Major liked to swim in the St. Clair River near this Lambton hamlet. Yesterday he went down and tried to pioneer on ice. Major is a lot of dog for thin ice—too much, in fact—and into the water he went.

How long he kept paddling around, breaking more ice as he tried to crawl out, nobody knows. But if it wasn't for his pal Porky—he's eight years old—Major mightn't be alive

Third Of Dominion Force, 4,000 All Told, Chungking Guess

OTTAWA, Feb. 4—(CP).—Defence Minister Ralston has placed on the record of the House of Commons two "wholly incomplete and unverified surmises" concerning the fate of the Hong Kong garrison which included 1,885 Canadian officers and men.

These are the messages, both received from the British Embassy at Chungking, China:—

"Guess but only guess one-third of (Canadian) fighting strength killed, wounded or taken prisoners during fighting, remainder presumably taken prisoner on capitulation."

"Casualties whole British force Hong Kong 'very rough guess 4,000 killed and wounded'."

The latter message was received last Monday, the other some time before that.

Col. Ralston said in the House last night that the first message regarding the estimated Canadian casualties emphasized that the casualties were very difficult to estimate "particularly due to the fact that communications had ceased with the Royal Rifles," Quebec city regiment sent to Hong Kong with the Winnipeg Grenadiers.

The total British garrison of Hong Kong was estimated at nearly 12,000, the Defence Minister added.

On the basis, Monday's message guessing that there were 4,000 casualties indicated about a third of the force was killed or wounded before Hong Kong surrendered December 25.

Col. Ralston said the messages had not been made public before last night because he and Air Minister Power decided neither message had "definiteness nor reliability"; that they would give no genuine information to Canadians "and might needlessly increase the distress and anxiety which is now being endured."

Reason for his statement last night, he said, was a report, in a Toronto morning newspaper of yesterday quoting Rev. B. C. Eckhardt

Two Stations Fired

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 4 — (AP).— Outbreaks of fires and bombings in German-occupied Norway, attributed to Norwegian resentment over Sunday's installation of Major Vidkun Quisling as puppet premier were reported to-day in Swedish newspaper advices from Oslo.

A rubber factory in Askim, described as one of Norway's largest, was said to have burned down yesterday. A factory in Drammen also was reported destroyed.

Fire broke out in the Nasjonal Teatret (National Theatre) in Oslo but was extinguished quickly.

A bomb was thrown at the Stortinget, or Parliament House, but no damage was reported. A bomb also exploded at the university.

Fires were reported to have broken out in two railway stations just when extra trains were ready to leave.

In incidents in other parts of Norway, a motor factory at Bergen, on the west coast, and a wharf at Laksevaag burned yesterday, the advices said.

Bridgenorth RedCross Elects New Officers

The annual meeting of the Bridgenorth branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held at Foresters' Hall in Bridgenorth. The president of the organization, Miss Olive Sidey, rendered a report covering the activities of the society over the eighteen months' period since organization.

During the year they made and shipped 726 garments in which was included 48 scarves, 10 turtle neck sweaters, 133 pr. socks, 44 pr. seamen's long stockings, 20 quilts, 35 men's dressing gowns, 35 pr. pyjamas, 35 piece quota for the Women's Auxiliary and a large number of helmets, mitts, aero caps, sweaters, pinafore dresses, blouses, blazers, children's knitted suits, etc.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was then held, resulting in the selection as president of William B. Glover; vice-president, Miss Olive Sidey; secretary, Mrs. G. Ray; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Leach; auditors, Mr. Frank Leach and Mr. W. J. Telford; executive committee, Mrs. Jas. Grant, Mrs. G. Ball, Miss M. Nichols; advisory board, Mr. S. Ball, Mr. G. Playing an important part in the task of cleaning up air raid damage and constructing defence positions was a newly-organized army of Chinese laborers which displayed a willingness to work under the most hazardous conditions.

The statement that casualty lists were being withheld was "absolutely false," Col. Ralston said. None had been received in respect to Canadians at Hong Kong except those which already had been published in the press.

As for the statement implying that the number of dead exceeded the number of prisoners, "the government has no information which would afford foundation for any such statement."

The communique disclosed that at least in some places along the river north of abandoned Moulmein, British forces still held outposts east of the deep, wide jungle stream.

The Imperial troops, sent into the fight during the week-end, apparently were encountering only feeler thrusts by the Japanese— and holding those well in check.

They were supported by British bombers and Anglo-American volunteer fighters who smashed time and again at Japanese batteries hidden on the river islands north of Moulmein and Martaban, skimming in to the attack at tree-top level and encountering no Japanese aerial opposition.

After the bombers had turned back, delayed action bombs still were exploding on the islands, making a shambles of large areas.

Rangoon had two air raid alarms during the day but no enemy planes were seen. Some bombs were said to have been dropped on Toungoo, mid-way between Rangoon and Mandalay.

IN AID OF THE CHINESE WAR VICTIMS

●In answer to numerous requests an opportunity is now given to the citizens of Ontario to express their sympathy and admiration for the people of China in their fight against the Japanese invader. The story of China is a tragic one.

Forty million peaceful, hard-working people—nearly four times the population of Canada—were driven from their homes by the Japanese onslaught—driven across the face of China, a thousand miles or more inland. Untold thousands of them were tortured and killed. Women were seized. Children were lost and died of starvation and exposure.

Four and a half years of struggle and suffering. But still unconquered! And now the tide is turning. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is beating the invaders back. The men of Free China are armed and drilled. But they lack clothing, medicines and hospital equipment. They lack many things essential to life—and are in a life or death struggle.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED
SEE WHAT IT WILL MEAN

$20.00 will keep a Chinese refugee alive for one year. $5.00 will disinfect 500 Chinese wounds. $1.00 will provide treatment for 1,000 burns. $1.00 will buy ether for 15 operations. $1.00 will provide immunization for ten persons from typhoid or Bubonic Plague.

Make your cheque or money order payable to the Chinese War Relief Fund and mail it to-day to the Treasurer, Mr. E. J. Case, Imperial Bank of Canada, Bay and Temperance Branch, Toronto. Or, if more convenient, leave your contribution at any branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada.

Holstein Sales 15 p.c. Above Previous Record

TORONTO, Feb. 4—(CP).—G. M. Clemons of Brantford, Ont., secretary-treasurer of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, today reported to the annual meeting that sales of Holstein cattle in Canada were 15 per cent. higher than in any previous year of the Association's history.

The total sales amounted to 35,677 compared with a previous high of 30,960 in 1940, he reported. Dominion markets absorbed more cattle than ever before and exports to the United States, Puerto Rico, Colombia, New Zealand and Jamaica were active.

"At the beginning of 1942, when increased production of dairy products appears to be vital to our war effort, it is particularly gratifying to find that our association is in the strongest position in its history," said Mr. Clemons in announcing association membership now stands at 7,490, an increase of five per cent. since 1940 and 37 per cent. in the past five years.

Registration of cattle was active during the year, he said, with certificates issued for 41,900 head, of which 34,150 were females and 7,750 males. More calves were born and registered in 1941 than ever before.

More R.O.P. Listings

"Despite difficult labor conditions and local feed shortages, more cows completed R.O.P. (record of production) records than in any previous year," the secretary's reports continued. "The total of 5,420 was only three per cent higher than that of 1940, but it represented the 18th successive year of increase. Twice-a-day milking records made up 86 per cent of the total."

Mr. Clemons reported an increase in the number of animals inspected for selective registration. Certificates were issued for 1,155 females and 388 bulls as compared with 667 cows and 179 bulls in 1940, he said.

He warned that some breeders are still filing applications for ineligible calves, and advised breeders to familiarize themselves with the requirements for registry.

Regulations have finally been made uniform on both sides of the border, he said, and color markings on Holsteins are considered satisfactory supplemental identification, providing they are carefully drawn. He advised photographing of animals for registry by those who found it difficult to sketch accurately.

559 Drivers Get Call For Licenses

TORONTO, Feb. 4. — Attorney-General G. D. Conant announced yesterday that during the first two days of this month police have issued summonses to 404 owners of motor vehicles in Ontario for operating with 1941 license plates and to 155 drivers for operating with 1941 driving licenses.

In the city of Toronto 200 owners were summoned for having 1941 permits and twenty operators for having 1941 licenses. The remaining summonses, issued to 204 owners and 135 operators, were sent by Provincial police officers stationed in areas outside cities and towns.

"It is quite likely that if the figures were available for all the cities and towns and other municipalities enforcing the law themselves with their own municipal police these figures would be doubled," stated the Attorney-General.

Announcement of the new appointments, issued from 10 Downing street, did not mention Sir Stafford Cripps, former ambassador to Russia, who had been widely forecast as supply minister.

It was announced that the post of parliamentary and financial secretary to the Admiralty, held by Sir Victor Warrender, has been divided into two jobs.

Sir Victor, who will be elevated to the peerage as a baron, will be parliamentary secretary and G. H. Hall, now colonial under secretary, will become the Admiralty's financial secretary.

Succeeding Mr. Hall as colonial under-secretary will be Harold MacMillan, who is also made a member of the Privy Council.

first directed at the Island of Java itself, while airports at Malang, Madioen, and Magetan, all within a 125-mile radius of Soerabaja, also were machine-gunned. Four persons were killed and three wounded in attacks on native villages in the East Java area.

Attacks on Netherlands naval vessels in various parts of the archipelago were said to have been carried out "without results."

The alarm at Soerabaja was said to have lasted from 10:10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. during which many bombs fell on the centre of the town itself—an important trading city and second largest in the Indies, as well as on the naval and air bases.

Aneta said a naval base workshop was slightly damaged. Two naval employees were killed and two injured.

Bombs demolished 26 houses in the city, it said, killed 31 persons and injured 130.

today.

Porky made a beeline for his master, Capt. Bernard Zink of the oil tanker Brilasmolene, meanwhile sending up distress signals in dog language. Quite a few persons, among them Captain Zink, followed Porky back to the river bank.

They weren't able to do anything so Porky went back to town again. Soon others arrived, but all they could do was to push a long pole to Major, who by this time was too exhausted to do anything but put his paws on it.

It was then that Porky jumped in to aid his pal. There was a lot of splashing, but the tiny Porky finally hauled his heavy burden close enough to shore so that the two could be pulled to safety.

Major was too weak to stand, but today he was up to bones again.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Feb. 4 — (CP). — Outside of a short flurry in the opening minutes when mills made a few scattered purchases, trading on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today settled to dullness with offerings at a minimum and a lack of outside interest. Winnipeg wheat was unchanged to ⅛ lower, with May at 80⅝ and July 81½. Chicago futures were reported ⅝ higher.

May barley climbed back to ceiling level soon after the opening here, but trade in coarse grains was listless with only minor activity in oats, barley and flax. There was indication of profit-taking in the latter commodity. Rye remained inactive at ceiling level.

Red army unit was credited with killing 2,000 Germans and recapturing 40 occupied places in three days, while in another sector a Nazi Elite Guard detachment was said to have lost 130 dead in a seven-hour battle for a locality identified as "B."

Without geographical details, a midnight communique said the Red army continued its westward movement in most areas of the long winter front and levied a heavy toll of casualties.

More than 230 German officers and men were killed in two recent engagements and a single air unit has dispersed and destroyed 3,500 in attacks incident to destruction of invasion material, the Russians said.

The Soviet Information Bureau reported that during fierce fighting in the Leningrad sector Soviet troops had destroyed 16 German blockhouses, slain nearly 800 Nazi troops and captured large quantities of equipment, including 40 trucks loaded with supplies.

Back 18 Miles at Leningrad

(The BBC said today that the Germans had been thrown back 18 miles south of Leningrad by heavy Russian attacks. A British military commentator in London expressed belief the Russians' position in the Crimea remained favorable and that "their hold on the Kerch Peninsula has not been shaken."

(The Berlin radio said Russian troops in the Eastern Crimea—presumably all now based at Kerch in view of their abandonment of Feodosiya—had counter-attacked severely against the Germans' Peninsular lines, but were driven back with heavy losses.)

Smolensk and Dnieperopetrovsk are major objectives on the banks of the frozen Dnieper.

Smolensk, on the Central front, 230 miles west of Moscow, is the goal of a slow direct drive from Mozhaisk and a flanking manoeuvre by units marshalled in the Korov zone 100 miles southeast of Smolensk. In the river's big bend 450 miles to the south, Dnieperopetrovsk was reported threatened by spearheads of Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Southern army.

Official dispatches indicated that Hitler had reinforced his Eastern front to some extent, but only at a heavy cost from guerilla and air force raids upon their transport facilities.

Tass said German resistance on the Kalinin front northwest of Moscow was still, but futile. Soviet units—sledding their artillery batteries into assault lines with the infantry—were declared to be effectively overcoming defence forces despite repeated counterattacks, gun and mortar barrages and aerial opposition.

(In Kuibyshev a Communist party spokesman, Andrei Malyshev, said Hitler had "failed to drag Japan into the war against the U.S.S.R." and "naturally we will not give Hitler the pleasure of unleashing war in the Far East.")

30 Below Zero Weather.

A despatch from the Donets Basin front said the front was covered by unusually deep snow, with the temperature at 30 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

The Germans were said to be trying to establish defence lines in streets and houses of towns and even villages — everywhere where they could find shelter from the cutting cold.

The despatch reported that the frozen bodies of hundreds of Nazi soldiers were found in the fields and orchards around villages overrun in the Red Army drive, and said their winter equipment sometimes included only summer-weight trousers and inferior gloves.

"The enemy would have liked to stay in these little Donets Basin villages until spring," the despatch concluded.

In the Smolensk sector, according to Izvestia's war correspondent, Gen. Von Hilts, in command of the German 216th Division, abandoned his troops when they were surprised at Sukhinichi and fled by plane.

"When this general was in France," added Izvestia, "he requested the 'Fuehrer' three times to send him to the Soviet-German front."

Chile Elects Rios

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 4—(AP).—Chile hailed today as her next president 55-year-old Juan Antonio Rios, exponent of full co-operation with the United States, victor in a Sunday election over former president Gen. Carlos Ibanez del Campo, whom pro-Axis forces had backed.

With only 9,000 votes to be counted, Rios held a lead of nearly 56,000. He polled 257,980 votes to 202,033 for Ibanez.

Rios government is expected to sever relations with the Axis, leaving Argentina the only one of the 21 American Republics maintaining these ties.

Two Ontario Liberals In Fireworks

Hoblitzell Attacks Plebiscite, Fulford Hits Hepburn

(By FRANK FLAHERTY.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 4—(CP). — Two Liberals who represent Ontario constituencies attracted major interest in the House of Commons yesterday—one by his attack on Ontario's Premier, Mitchell Hepburn, and the other by his expressed opposition to the government's man-power policy.

It was Fred G. Hoblitzell (Lib., Toronto-Eglinton) who spoke out against the plebiscite by which the administration plans to seek release from anti-conscription pledges.

He was the second Liberal to oppose the plebiscite from the point of view of a proponent of immediate conscription. Three others have opposed it on grounds they are against compulsory overseas service.

George T. Fulford (Lib., Leeds), devoted much of his short speech to a condemnation of Premier Hepburn, once his close personal friend and political associate. It was the most outspoken attack on the Ontario premier delivered by a Federal Liberal on the floor of Parliament since the start of Mr. Hepburn's disputes with the Federal Government and Prime Minister Mackenzie King some five years ago.

Fears Split Coming

"The Premier of Ontario has on several occasions tried to split the Liberal party, but today is trying new and far more sinister tactics and, with his uncalled for, unjustifiable and contemptible remarks is in danger of splitting Canada," said Mr. Fulford.

Mr. Hoblitzell said the proper course for the government to follow was to bring in legislation to provide universal, compulsory, selective service both for manpower and material wealth.

"I implore the prime minister not to besmirch the honor and dignity of this great Dominion by substituting the uninformed opinion of the people for vigorous, courageous and honest leadership," he said.

Other members also registered their views on conscription and the plebiscite during the day's debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

Gray Turgeon (Lib. Cariboo) said he was in favor of the plebiscite and

Drunk Driver Gets Seven Days

COBOURG, Feb. 4 — (ENS) — Thomas Walsh, Jr., of Grafton was sentenced to serve seven days in jail and his license suspended for two years in police court here yesterday. He was convicted of being intoxicated in charge of a motor vehicle on January 12 of this year. Provincial Constable C. Siple of Port Hope stated he had investigated the night of the mishap and when he arrived in Grafton village he found that Walsh had collided with a car and truck. An additional charge of reckless driving was dismissed by the magistrate.

T. K. Callahan, K.C. of Toronto, appeared for the defendant and Crown Attorney H. Deyman was prosecutor. Magistrate R. B. Baxter presided.

Young Couple Are Facing Charge Of Manslaughter In Connection With Death Of Baby Of 2 Months

COBOURG, Feb. 4.—(Special)—Empty larder, cold, poorly-clad children and conditions of filth in the Horsburgh home were alleged by Crown witnesses at the hearing in police court last night of a manslaughter charge against Charles and Mary Horsburgh of Murray Township. The charge was laid after an investigation into the death of the two months old baby girl of Charley and Mary Horsburgh which took place on January 5 in their four-roomed frame dwelling in Murray Township. Magistrate R. B. Baxter remanded the two until Feb. 10 for his decision in regard to committal for trial. Harry Deyman acted for the Crown and Fred C. Richardson of Cobourg appeared for the defendants. Mrs. Horsburgh is about 25 and her husband is 32.

Dr. J. C. Rundle was the first witness called. As coroner, he was called from his office in Brighton to the Horsburgh home in connection with the death of the baby on January 5th. He recalled that he had attended Mrs. Horsburgh when the baby was born and that at that time it was a healthy child of eight pounds weight. It was born in October, 1941.

"On January 5th, when I went to Horsburgh's I found the baby dead in a basket near the stove, greatly emaciated. I asked Mr. Minaker, the landlord, to look at the baby. I examined it and found no fractured bones of any kind and it was my opinion that death was due to malnutrition. Later the child was taken to Dr. Clarke for an autopsy," testified Dr. Rundle.

Witness added that he couldn't tell it was the same baby at death as it was when born. Mrs. Horsburgh told him that the baby was well in the morning at nine o'clock when she fed it but that at noon she found it dead.

"The baby couldn't be well in the morning and be in that condition at noon. It would take a month. The mother said that she fed it condensed milk. You can't feed a baby on that an expect it to thrive," testified Dr. Rundle further.

"I am told that the baby weighed a little over six pounds when it was born," stated defence counsel to Dr. Rundle.

"It weighed eight pounds. I entered it in my records," stated the doctor.

Only Weighed Five Pounds

Dr. H. Clarke of Brighton, who performed the autopsy, testified that the body of the baby was in a very emaciated condition. There was no serious disease evident, but the body was very emaciated, skin elastic and no fat under the skin. The baby's weight was five pounds. It should have weighed 11 pounds under normal conditions, said the doctor. There were no signs of injury. The stomach was collapsed and there were no food particles. The bowels were also collapsed. Under normal conditions the stomach empties itself in three hours. The collapsed bowel showed that there had been very little food passing through it in several days. From the condition of the body he estimated that it had taken a month or two months to get into that condition. If the child had not responded to feeding the natural thing would have been to call a doctor, witness said.

"Would some doctors refuse to go out on such a case if they wouldn't get paid," asked defence counsel.

"I don't think that a matter of dollars and cents would have stopped them. I would have gone out,," replied Dr Clarke.

"I am informed that a doctor was called, who hadn't got his money before, and wouldn't go out," suggested Mr. Richardson.

"I cannot say as to that," replied Dr. Clarke.

"If its stomach had been unable to hold food and had thrown it up, you would not expect to find any food in its body?" asked defence counsel.

"No, not under those conditions," replied the doctor.

Only Loaf Of Bread To Eat

Constable Frank Lozo of Trenton testified that he accompanied Provincial Constable Adair of Cobourg to the Horsburgh home on January 5th. The house was a four-room dwelling with one room used as a bed room. When they arrived they found the house cold and with a poor fire going in the kitchen stove. The children, poorly clad, were huddled around the stove. The only food in the house was part of a loaf of bread. He and Constable Adair stoked up the fire. They went to the landlord's house and got butter, canned goods and other items of food and came back. Mr. Horsburgh got busy and fried some eggs.

"It was a Monday and people sometimes run out of food over a week-end, do they not?" asked defence counsel.

"Yes," replied the constable.

Miss Edith Hoskin of Coldspring, executor of the estate of the late Charles Horsburgh of whom Horsburgh was an adopted son, stated that the accused received $20 a month from the estate. On January 6th there were monies held in trust for him. Some money had been advanced in October, so that he could move.

"Had he requested money for medical supplies, or if he had said that the child was ill, you would have advanced him the money?" asked Mr. Deyman.

"Yes, I would have," replied Miss Hoskin.

"No request was made?"

"No," replied witness.

House In Dirty Condition

Ken Hodgert, superintendent of the Children's Aid, Port Hope, stated that he went to the Horsburgh home on January 6th with Constable Adair. The floor had been freshly mopped, but the dirt was three-eights to a quarter of an inch thick around the edges. The curtains were dirty and the house was generally in a dirty condition.

Defence counsel objected to the evidence of the condition of the dwelling but Mr. Deyman was supported in his contention that this evidence was admissable to show that the accused were negligent in their family duties.

Continuing, Mr. Hodgert said the bedclothing of the children was filthy and the mattress, which laid across boards instead of springs, was very strong in odour. In the children's bed the clothing was ice-encrusted. The apparel of the children was also dirty. He learned that the accused had quit working for Mr. Minaker in December and was later employed by the town of Trenton for 40 cents per eight-hour day. He was laid off on December 24th and was to go back on January 5th. While working on Mr. Minaker's farm he received $30 a month, free house, free wood, vegetables and milk as well as $20 a month from an estate.

"Mrs. Horsburgh said that the baby had been well until two weeks before. She had not called a doctor since it was born. She had been using condensed milk and water to feed it. The father told me that he had not received anything from the estate for two months and that he guessed the money had been used up. He told me that on the night of January 5th they had some bread and jam for supper no butter, but had some tea and condensed milk. She told me that she bought a double loaf of bread at Trenton for 19 cents but it cost 50 cents for the taxi to take her home out in the country. She said that she found the larger stores closed and had not tried the smaller ones for groceries. The rest of the children, although dirty and ragged, were in fair physical condition," testified Dr. Hodgert.

Provincial Constable Adair told of being called to the Horsburgh home to investigate the death of the baby.

"The children, poorly dressed, were huddled around a small fire in the kitchen stove. Only food in the house was part of a loaf of bread. The rooms in the house consisted of one used as a kitchen and dining room, a bed room, a store room and another room that might be called a sitting room," testified Constable Adair.

The house was used by whomever Mr. E. T. Minaker has working for him and Mr. Horsburgh had been using it in that capacity, stated the constable further. Witness corroborated Mr. Hodgert's evidence in regard to the dirt in the house. Horsburgh worked for Minaker from October until Decmber 1st, when he quit to work in Trenton. On December 24th he was laid off until January 5th.

"Mrs. Horsburgh told he that although the baby had declined in health she had not considered it serious enough to call a doctor," testified Provincial Constable Adair.

In asking for a dismissal, defence counsel declared that the lack of food for the older people did not enter in the charge as there was no evidence that there was any lack of the condensed milk with which the baby was being fed.

Magistrate Baxter then remanded the two until February 10th, in custody.

Cobourg Council Hears Appeal For Aid Milk For Britain Fund

COBOURG, Feb. 4—(ENS).—Hal. B. Rogers of Hamilton was the guest speaker along with Mr. J. H. Turnpenny at the Kinsmen Club meeting here Tuesday night.

Mr. Rogers, who founded the Kin Club in 1920 and has watched it grow to a membership of 88 clubs in Canada, including one in St. John's Nfld., took as his subject the Milk for Britain Fund. In the beginning he was, he declared, not going to resort to impassioned oratory, the subject needed none.

A War Charity

Mr. Rogers told of the authority for the fund which had come from the Canadian and British governments, and had been backed by the Canadian High Commissioner, Vinrent Massey, in London.

A plan to raise a Kin regiment had been discarded when war broke out, but there was now a full regiment of Kinsmen serving with different units, he declared. Over 25 per cent of the club had enlisted, and another 25 per cent would enter before long, he stated.

The Milk for Britain Fund, however, had appealed to the club as a club measure, and the convention of 1940 had decided in its favor.

A radio offered by Lord Woolton had started them on the project.

Not Enough Milk

Of the ten million children in Britain they had found that five pints of milk a week to a child under six was all that could be spared. Over six, two and a half pints was the allowance.

This had to be raised and the milk fund was the answer. He declared, however, that whereas there were ten million children, they had only sent a million quarts, and this was not enough. This was ony a drop in the bucket and the Kin clubs were appealing to every individual and organization to help them in order that the quota per child might be raised.

Ship Powdered Milk

They had found that powdered milk was the best form in which to send the milk. Distribution was being handled over there by a women's volunteer organization of 800,000 members. Seventy thousand quarts had been the first shipment but from October to November over 1,000,000 quarts had been sent to Britain. They were not competing with other war charities, he stated. He told of the letters that had been sent from England, telling of the happy sight when the childish refugees from bombings had come to the milk centres.

No Operating Costs

$125,000 had been contributed during the last four months, and the Milk Bottles had taken in a large share of this. There were no operating costs to the fund, he stated; ten cents bought ten cents worth of milk for the fund.

The Canadian Street Car Company had given fine advertising to the fund; so had the B.A. Oil Company. The Kinsmen Club will carry on this fund to the last mile, he concluded.

Executive Speaks

Mr. J. H. Turnpenny of the B.A. Company, then spoke on the project. He told of his company's 22 radio programs on 22 stations broadcasting an appeal for the fund. One thousand letters had been received at one Toronto station alone, and they had contained enough money to buy 7,000 quarts of milk.

In the West $14,000 had been secured as a result of the radio appeals.

Greater publicity was needed, however, he stated, in order that the fund might reach a greater and greater strength.

Given a Welcome

Dr. W. Brett, Kinsmen Club head here, was the chairman of the gathering, while Dr. A. R. Richards, past national president, introduced Mr. Hal Rogers, with Dr. G. Garnett thanking both men on behalf of the club.

Mr. J. Houston, national secretary, accepted a cheque for $137 from Dr. A. Allen as the most recent gift from the local cub. Mr. Houston also introduced Mr. Turnpenny.

Guests of the cub included Mayor J. D. Burnet, Warden R. D. Dodge, the Cobourg Council, Mr. A. K. McIntosh of the C.P.U.C.; Rev. R. L. Seaborn of St. Peter's; Rev. Dr. J. Kelly of St. Michael's; Dr. W. E. Wilkins, Mr. D. Larkin of the K. of C.; Paul Leonard and Paul Oualahaen of the C.Y.'s, and members of the various women's organizations.

The meeting was held at the British Hotel.

Atlantic Observer

This crew member, constantly observing the vast expanse of the Atlantic that unfolds before the bombing plane, reports everything he sees through a throat microphone hooked into the ship's communications system. This enables the other members of the crew to know what to expect at all times. This picture was made during an actual flight of the U.S. Atlantic patrol working out of a naval base on the Atlantic seaboard. The bombers keep a keen eye on hostile ships and submarines.

Soldiers' Names Are Wanted

COBOURG, Feb 4 — (ENS). — "Keep 'em Smiling" was the theme of discussion at the regular monthly meeting of Cobourg-Port Hope Hotel Association, held in Parlor "D" of the British Hotel, Cobourg, Monday. The Association members have pledged a regular monthly contribution to their Active Services Cigarette Fund, and in order that no member of the Armed Forces who has enlisted from Cobourg or Port Hope may be overlooked, it is urged that unit addresses of Army, Navy or Air Force boys be left with Larry Crottie, care of the New Dunham Hotel, Cobourg, or A. E. Ingram, St. Lawrence Hotel, Port Hope.

Plans are progressing for a monster bridge and euchre to be sponsored within the near future in both Cobourg and Port Hope, the gross proceeds of which will be divided between the British War Victims' Fund and the Cobourg and Port Hope units of the Red Cross.

In harmony with plans outlined at the recent convention of the Ontario Hotel Association at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, which was attended by 700 Ontario hotelmen and their wives, members of Cobourg-Port Hope Hotel Association are endeavoring to co-operate to the fullest extent with Canada's war effort.

Police Recover Stolen Vehicle

COBOURG, Feb. 4 (ENS) — The vigilance of Constable J. Elliston of the Cobourg force paid dividends here early Tuesday morning. The young officer's quick action resulted in the arrest of a car thief after the latter had travelled only 32 miles in his stolen vehicle.

Trenton police notified Cobourg officer that a car license No. L642M9 had been stolen from that town at 11.15 p.m. Constable Elliston was on his rounds shortly after 12.30 when he spotted the car. He at once called Constable E. Houghton, his brother officer, and Provincial Constable D. Adair. The officers then took up watch on the car and shortly after Pte. Willis Blakely, R.C.O.C., Stanley Barracks, Toronto, issued from a Cobourg Cafe with the keys to the stolen car in his hand. He was taken into custody and admitted the theft. Yesterday Trenton officers took the soldier back to Trenton to await trial on a charge of theft.

More and More Canadians are Buying This Security

Standing as a mighty bulwark of home defence, life insurance is bringing security—freedom—peace-of-mind—to more and more Canadians..... They know that, in the past 100 years, life insurance has weathered every storm of war, panic and epidemic—and has honored every obligation..... They know, too, that life insurance helps to keep homes intact—to care for families bereft of their breadwinners—to educate children so they have a fair chance in life—and to bring financial security to those whose earning days are over..... And they know that their savings in life insurance are doing double duty in helping to finance Canada's all-out war effort.

A Mediterranean Stronghold

Those who follow war events closely will not be surprised if Malta, Britain's island fortress in the Mediterranean, is attacked before long by the Luftwaffe as Crete was stormed and taken some months ago. Of course reports suggesting an effort of this kind on the part of the Axis may be inspired by Berlin, as a part of its propaganda, to keep up the courage of the German people on the one hand and on the other to spread the contagion of fear wherever it will take a hold.

It certainly should not be assumed, however that what was accomplished at Crete can be accomplished with equal speed and effect at Malta. Already that island in the great sea has been the target of all the continued fury that the united forces of Germany and Italy have been able to rain upon it during the past year and a half. No other point in the world has been so steadily subjected to bombardment. Still so impregnable is the stronghold that none of these violent efforts has succeeded.

Should another strategic program direct itself against Malta it will, no doubt, be organized on a much more stupendous scale than the others. But no matter how well and co-ordinated the plans may be on paper, the going will be hard and costly for the besiegers. A lesson was learned at Crete which will not permit a repetition of that blitzkrieg. The British fleet is powerful in the Mediterranean; it now has air squadrons available which it didn't have before. Then, too, in itself, Malta is said to be so bristling with armaments and concealed war engines of every kind that whatever enemy approaches it will meet with a devastating fire in every direction.

When Mussolini was scheming with Hitler to go to war, he felt, according to what has been since learned, that Malta was a plum, only a short distance away from the Italian coast, which could be picked off without a great deal of trouble. His spies and infiltrating agents who worked on the sentiments of the Maltese, apparently assured him of this prospect. So when he climbed up onto the Hun bandwagon, he and his accomplices began bombing the island. They have been at it ever since. Over 200 raids are reported to have been conducted against it and some days the alert is sounded several times within a twenty-four-hour period.

Much to the chagrin and disappointment of the Italians, the Maltese people on the island have not "softened" to the wiles of the Axis tricksters. They have shown an honorable loyalty to the British who made the rather barren island what it now is, a habitable place.

So long as the fortress remains as it is, there is no chance for the Italian navy to sally out very far from its home bases. The Axis powers will also be harassed all the time in their traffic between European and North African points. There is likewise very little chance for the enemy to conduct any kind of attack on the Suez Canal, at the eastern end of the Mediterranean.

In These Troubled Days

The response which has come from an editorial appearing recently in the Examiner under the heading, "The Gift of Laughter," is merely indicative of what a desire there is in the hearts of most people to have momentary relief, every now and then, from the sense of fear and trouble and sorrow which haunts everybody these war-burdened days. Except among the young, on whose shoulders the load of care has not yet settled down, how very little laughter is heard throughout the hours.

James Russell Lowell, the famous editor long years ago of the Biglow Papers, as they were called, once said that the weight of public opinion is like that of the atmosphere, sixteen pounds to the square inch all the time. When most of the persons in any group or community are grave and solemn, the others seem to feel that to laugh would almost be a violation of good manners. If they were asked why they keep so sober-faced, week after week, they would probably answer, "Oh, well, I really don't know."

They were laughter-less because their kinsfolk and neighbors were. Certain psychological effects are contagious, like some diseases. It is not good for the morale of a race when that contagion prevents the wholesome gift of self-expression which the Almighty gave to man and to no other living creature.

It is worth noting in this connection that all through the worst raids over the British Isles, citizens of those small congested, harassed little countries had their jokes and quips and sallies that caused a smile or a healthy chuckle. One read the jokes in the papers that came from overseas. One heard them coming over the B.B.C., right out of the mist of blitzkreigs. Relatives here told of jokes sent them by their kin across the Atlantic. It cannot be said that those sturdy, determined, defiant Britons were any the less valiant and noble because they could pause once in a while, and demand that horror and death and tears get behind them for an instant so that their spirits might refreshen themselves for another day or week of distress. They are an older people than those of us who are in Canada—older by centuries and more accustomed to the whims of Fate. Consequently they have developed, no doubt, a stronger philosophy, but through all wars, and they have known many, they have kept their humorous papers going of which Punch is an outstanding and internationally known example.

Many circumstances, of course, do not permit of the light vein. It would be out of place, as much out of place as though a person were to go to a dignified city church wedding dressed in a cowboy suit and a Mexican sombrero, but when an odd moment comes along, just out of mental prison, a beg for a smile, why not give it a smile and go on your way? One of the greatest charms of youth is its laughter. A little of it in older persons would help them to escape briefly from their tenseness and then to go back with stronger nerves for the problems of life. It is a physical, mental and spiritual tonic!

A Notable Canadian

The death in Montreal last week of Sir Frederick Haultain, Premier of the North-West Territories at the turn of the century, and for twenty-six years Chief Justice of Saskatchewan, removed one of Canada's most distinguished men and severed a link with Peterborough where he received a good deal of his education.

Few persons have played a more extended and useful part in the life of the West than did this notable figure, the story of whose career is really part of the story of the life of the Prairie Provinces. Some of the aged residents of this city and vicinity will recall the late Col. F. W. Haultain who served many years with the British army in Canada and who, when he retired, settled here. Sir Frederick was his son. Col. Haultain was a member of the Legislative Assembly of the United provinces of Canada in 1866 and a leading proponent of Confederation.

The late Sir Frederick attended school a while at Montreal, then in Peterborough and finally at the University of Toronto. From the latter city he went out to what was frontier life in the North-West Territories in 1884. From that time on he became active in public affairs so that he was a participant in much of what took place politically and economically in what is now Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

An outstanding characteristic of Sir Frederick was his devotion to everything Canadian that was worth while. It was the privilege of the writer to spend an evening in his home some years ago and one of the memories treasured of that occasion was the pride Sir Frederick manifested in his large library—one of the fine private collections seen in any part of the Dominion. He was intensely devoted to this his native land and gathered works of many kinds having to do with its history and development. His passing, even though he had reached the ripe age of 85 years, will be deplored by all who knew him and who appreciated his outstanding record.

Changing Conditions

Reports in weekly papers in different parts of Ontario state that farmers are returning to horses as a result of the restrictions on tires and gasoline. Buyers are now going about purchasing the four-footer at a big price advance as compared to a few months ago. In fact it is said that those who work the soil, or who do teaming and so on, think there will be more and more difficulty in getting machinery of various kinds, if the war continues, and they are returning, as necessity or opportunity permits, to the live animal which has served humanity throughout the centuries.

It is possible, however, that too much of a scare has come with respect to a crippled automotive industry. Large sums of money have been invested in this particular business, not only by manufacturers but by agents and distributors. No private enterprise will be allowed, no doubt, to seriously jeopardize the use of metals and other materials for war purposes where these are definitely needed, but automobiles and all that goes with them, to say nothing of tractors and other mechanical devices, have been found to be too useful for their place to be entirely taken by horses.

Temporarily there will be disorganization of course. That is inevitable, but it is not likely that the ingenuity of man will stop hunting for some substitutes or new materials that will gradually keep the mechanical means of locomotion alive. Plastics are an example of what has been discovered and developed. Thousands of research men are at work all over this continent seeking out inventions, scientific improvements and new combinations. They will probably get somewhere with their labors. Meanwhile the horse is the old stand-by. He will be right on the job when spring ploughing and seeding come—that is if he can be had at any price.

A Necessary Study

Attorney-General Conant is to be commended for bringing into existence a Law Revision Committee armed with authority to study and report upon "such matters of law as may be referred to it from time to time by the Attorney-General." The Committee will function, it is announced, under the chairmanship of Mr. Justice McTague.

There long has been need for a body of this character. That need was recognized and moved forward into embryo state as a result of thought given to it by a special committee of the Legislature appointed in 1940 to enquire into the the limitation of all actions and the administration of justice. It is not intended, however that any matters will be sent to this body except what may be called "lawyers' law." The legal profession is now confronted from time to time with situations and problems that require to be clarified and revised. Hon. Mr. Conant has already submitted for consideration questions pertaining to the revision of laws in relation to evidence.

While these matters are primarily of concern to lawyers, it is true, they nevertheless have a meaning for litigants and others whom the laws affect. Anything which will make the procedure of courts better in practice is beneficial to the public generally. Even newspaper men who have had considerable experience around courts, and at public enquiries and investigations, have picked up enough as laymen from legal men and proceedings to realize that this Law Revision Committee has important work which it can and obviously will do.

Japanese Faces Heavy Odds Before Singapore

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Far Pacific, Libya and Russia each contribute their own confirmation to the soundness of the modern military axiom that territory taken or lost in war means little of itself. It is destruction of armies that counts most, and control of strategic key points dominating vast regions of sea or land.

The thrice-told tale of the war in Libya is the most notable demonstration of that axiom. The war juggernaut has rolled back and forth there inconclusively time and again, covering hundreds of miles.

The war in Russia has followed the same course. The Nazis overran all Western Russia from the Baltic to the head of the Sea of Azov. They swept across an empire rich in every natural resource except oil, only to fall and fall back.

The Far Pacific gives the same picture. Japan's long-plotted campaign of aggression, has within two months overrun all Anglo-American outposts in the China Sea except two Singapore Island and the southern tip of Batan Peninsula.

PRESTIGE DEMANDS CAPTURE

Those are both tiny dots on the map. Each represents little more ground held than a circle twenty miles in diameter. Yet each also is a vitally important strategic key and a cell of continuing Allied resistance of imponderable significance.

The cost of reducing those besieged fortresses, if they can be taken, is likely to be staggering; yet Japanese prestige demands their reduction as much as military necessity. Each is a dangerous thorn in the flanks of the Japanese southward drive to sieze the Netherlands Indies and their vitally important oil resources.

General Douglas MacArthur's inspiring stand on Batan, whatever the ultimate fate of his forces, is doing more than thrill his countrymen and their allies. It suggests a pattern for the defense of Singapore Island.

That besieged British bastion is better garrisoned and better stocked than Batan, and help is closer at hand. It is also even better rimmed with seacoast fortifications to limit the front on which an enemy waterborne onslaught must come.

DESPERATE ENTERPRISES

MacArthur's men and guns beat off with ease a double Japanese effort to breach his sea flank. No barge-borne troops set foot ashore, and how many died under a rain of American-Filipino bombs and gunfire may never be known.

The American commander's admiration of the sheer courage of enemy shock troops sacrificed in this and other attempts to smash his resistance has been stated. He has also stated, however, that they were lost in "desperate" enterprises.

The obvious recourse of the Japanese commander in Luzon would be to the slow processes of siege unless he is being driven by other considerations to order murderous frontal assaults and attempted landings. That he is being so driven for personal or national prestige reasons or by the lapse of all-important time is manifest in his tactics.

That tends to indicate that similar frontal assault tactics will be tried at Singapore. There seems even less chance, however, that they can be made effective, no matter what blood price the Japanese are willing to pay.

BRITISH RAILWAYS IN WAR

THE strain upon British railways in wartime is terrific because of the tremendous supplies of material, raw and manufactured, which have to be moved about, and also because the gasoline restrictions curtail road transport. Passenger trade used to be the No. 1 item in railway economy; today it is war material.

Although no larger than one of the smaller Canadian provinces, Britain has 20,000 miles of railway tracks, and every part of the country has to be serviced for war needs. Cross hauls are eliminated as far as possible. Before the war Britain had 110 passenger express trains daily, scheduled to run at 60 miles an hour or more. About 25 per cent of these trains have been eliminated and the speeds reduced to 45 miles an hour to conserve fuel. Over 300 restaurant cars have been withdrawn from service.

As the country has to depend largely on home manufacturers to take the place of goods formerly imported, the situation is a very difficult one. Few trains have Pullman cars, and these are mostly reserved for officers making long journeys. Ordinary members of the public, even on important war business, have to sit in coaches all night. Fares are up 15 per cent all round. No reservations are permitted. The majority of the trains carry freight. The fighting services have first consideration in everything.

There are 80,000 railway workers in the armed forces, and except in technical jobs their places have mostly been taken by women, who are doing all the truck driving, porterage and clerical work—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

IMPRISONMENT PENALTY

Attorney General Conant believes in locking the stable door before the horse is stolen. And so he advises law enforcement officers to watch out for a possible epidemic of tire and gasoline thefts because of the wartime restriction on the purchase of these commodities.—Kitchener Record.

Letter To The Editor

UNDERESTIMATING OUR ENEMIES

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—Great work in your editorial reply in "Points of View" to "A Merchant," and your "expression of revulsion" was admirably restrained. Many of your readers could augment it considerably.

The author of that letter, along with many others, seems to entertain that somewhat naive, sympathetic attitude for solving troubles with our enemies. Now I certainly don't advocate turning a gun on every Japanese or German citizen—though there are times it must be a temptation. But we have to talk their language—force of arms. That is the only thing that seems to command understanding and respect.

I feel too many of our worthy citizens underestimate what lies ahead. With the cessation of hostilities the real battle will begin, and disillusionment is inevitable. I would not attempt to advance a solution, but I think we at least ought to be more aware of the difficulties that will beset our path.

Let's begin with Poland. According to Maurice Hindus, since the Germans took over that country, more than one and a half million Poles have been driven from their homes, farms, and business. Thousands of Germans have rushed into the seven provinces annexed by the Reich to help themselves.

When recruiting for labor work in Germany falls short, men and women are seized on any pretext and shipped forcibly to the Reich. Mass arrest has become the common mode of retaliation. It's more useful than a firing squad.

There are no Quislings in Poland and it is utterly beyond the powers of imagination to picture what will befall the Germans when the downtrodden Poles are freed.

Then there are the Czechs. A few weeks ago 40,000 people were driven from their villages to make way for German colonizers. No place to go and no way of obtaining food, they the perishing in great numbers. What will be their attitude when they are in the driver's seat?

The other day the headlines screamed of the appalling desolation growing in Greece. Never at any time a strong agricultural country, now with the usual Nazi procedure of stripping the land bare, we read of the growing number of suicides and the slaying of children by their parents to spare them suffering.

The Japanese nation has repaid western friendship treacherously, just as the Dutch and Norwegians, who took in starving German children after the last war, were betrayed by those to whom they gave life.

When will the Chinese forget the rape of Nanking or the inhabitants of the Philippines the advance on Manila?

Defeating the Nazi hierarchy will not settle our problem. What of the young generation? George Ziemer in "Education For Death" gives an all too-clear description. For years, the training of the German child has begun before birth.

Even four-year-olds know about their "Great Fuehrer" and their adoration and belief grow with age. One lad of nine years, desperately ill, fought and prayed to die—for Hitler. A fanaticism has been bred in the young people, the leaders of tomorrow, that may take two or three generations to eradicate.

Now it is not intended or desired, that this should become a means of stirring up blind hatred of any race. Rather it is an attempt to point out that we can't afford to be self-righteous in settling the peace when we have not been so sinned against. The aggressors have brought this boiling hatred upon themselves and it is going to be a situation requiring herculean powers of judicious skill in handling.

WORRIED.

• We Are Learning Fast

ARMOURED warfare on land is still in its experimental stage, much, indeed, like armoured warfare on sea, even though that dates back to a couple of centuries before the advent of the tank. Just as competition in gun-power, armouring and speed is still going on among the world's fleets on the basis of experience gained in battle or manoeuvre, so the development of armoured vehicles in mechanical efficiency, armour and gun-power must inevitably depend on similar experience. The fact that in this first real tank versus tank encounter (in Libya) we have found certain weaknesses in our own weapons should neither dismay nor dishearten us.

Whether an armoured weapon be good or bad, whether it be superior or inferior to that possessed by the other side, it is in the last resort the quality of the man in the tank and of the man behind the gun, and not the quality of the tank or gun itself which will decide these armoured encounters. We have the satisfaction of knowing that in the matter of men we enjoy superiority. — Daily Telegraph (London).

FANTASTICALLY

THE Admiralty, which of course keeps in close record of all Axis claims and boasts about British and Allied warships, sunk and damaged, obliged the Empire over the B.B.C. broadcast from London with a picturesque summary of those claims to date. According to this, the only warships which the Axis powers have left to the Royal Navy, including 50 destroyers transferred from the United States, are 52 destroyers. Everything else has been sunk several times over.

When war broke, the Royal Navy included 15 capital ships, seven aircraft carriers, 62 cruisers, 185 destroyers, and 58 submarines. Up to January 1 this year the Axis Powers claimed to have sunk or damaged 44 capital ships, three times as many as Britain possessed, 20 aircraft carriers, again three times as many, 158 cruisers, 283 destroyers. These Axis claims, however, do not include 11 aircraft carriers and more than 70 cruisers, claimed to have been damaged by the Axis.

The Admiralty spokesman points out that Axis claims, while of course fantastically fictitious, have been actually believed in Germany. To that extent the lies may have served their purpose, but the German people are becoming steadily disillusioned, and the time will come when they will have a very painful practical demonstration that the Phantom Royal Navy, so completely and frequently destroyed, is still in being, and capable of striking deadly blows.—Montreal Daily Star.

Hard To Believe How Time Flies

FEBRUARY 4

1912 Six applications have been received by the council for the position of permanent assessor.

S. Keyes of the Normal School staff is appointed superintendent of the Sunday School of St. Paul's in place of William Madill who has resigned.

Mrs. Archibald Reynolds, a well known resident of Springville, dies in Nicholls Hospital.

The Western comedy-drama "The Stampede" is booked for the Grand Opera House.

It was 14 below zero through the night and a cold wind has been blowing all day.

1922 A branch of the Humane Society has been organized here with Rev. Dr. R. C. Blagrave as its first president.

Finance committee decides to issue debentures for $12,800 to complete the Prince of Wales School.

George Macdonald is elected president of the Peterborough Boy Scouts' Association.

Miss Georgie Stevenson is chosen as regent of Peterborough Robinson Chapter, I.O.D.E.

Potatoes were selling at $1.60 and $1.65 a bag on the local market today.

1932 Joseph Traynor, Rockcroft man, is drowned when he breaks through the ice near Scotts Mills.

The local custom returns for January show an increase of $47,220.74 over the same month a year ago.

Peterborough Rangers rifle team is beaten in a match with the Oshawa Rifle Club.

Mrs. C. A. White is selected as regent of Otonabee Chapter of the I.O.D.E.

C. F Kitney, W. Fell, W. Casey, H. Davidson, A. Brumwell and Wm. McLaren are elected elders of St. James' Church.

IN WAR TIME

1917 Lance-Corp. Majerkoff is here seeking recruits for the 216th Bantam Battalion.

Samuel H. Baker, well known local barber dies very suddenly.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mein, members of St. Paul's Choir for 35 years are presented with an address and silver water kettle by members of the choir.

Mrs. R. R. Hall is elected regent of Otonabee Chapter of the I.O.D.E.

Council decides to scrutinize closely the Board of Education estimates of $93,000 for the current year.

A Bit of Nonsense

Short

The teacher had asked the class to write an essay on "Our Dog." Young Jimmy was the first to finish. His effort read: "Our Dog, We haven't got one."

One Way

Hans and Fritz were discussing conditions in Germany.

"Der Fuehrer," said Hans, "has done great work. We now have more living space than ever."

"Is that so?" asked Fritz. "Why—because we have more land?"

"No," was the retort. "Because we have less soldiers."

No Hoarder

The banker's daughter threw her arms around the neck of the bridegroom-to-be.

"Oh, dear," she exclaimed, "dad's going to give us a check for a present!"

"Excellent!" exclaimed the happy young man. "Then we'll have the wedding at noon instead of two o'clock."

"Why, dear?"

"The banks close at three!"

A few years ago a gentleman departing for Europe told his son, a senior in college, that if the boy got his degree he would be rewarded by being permitted to join his father for a tour of the continent.

The student graduated with honors, and cabled his father the single word: "Yes."

Unfortunately, the father had entirely forgotten his promise and, after puzzling over the message for a while, cabled back: "Yes, what?"

Promptly came the reply: "Yes, sir."

1933 — Then and Now — 1942

Many and startling have been the advances made in naval aircraft in the past decade. These photographs present pictorial proof of those advances. The ship in the UPPER photo is a Consolidated P2Y-1 of 1933, a flying boat which amazed the world by its long-range flights for the U.S. navy, including a mass hop from San Francisco to Pearl Harbor. Contrast it with the aerial battleship in the LOWER photo—the Consolidated PB2Y-2—the navy's newest patrol bomber, powered by four Pratt & Whitney engines. Note the numerous external-braces, exposed engines and floats of the 1933 patrol bomber, as compared with the sleek, streamlined exterior of the aerial giant which is serving as the "eyes" of the U.S. Fighting fleet in 1942.

Spelling Match Features Rally

HAVELOCK, Feb. 4—(ENS). — The special prize which was donated last fall to the class room getting the most new members for the Home and School Association was won by Miss Nellie Watson's pupils, and was $2.00 cash to be used to purchase some article for the class room.

The president, Mrs. C. Taylor, presided at the regular meeting on Tuesday night. The roll call was answered by 17 members and eight visitors.

Treasurer's report by Mrs. Harry Follock showed a bank balance of $48.68. Principal R. W. Goheen announced the High school commencement concert to be held on Saturday evening, and a matinee on Thursday night. Community singing was enjoyed.

Miss Buchanan's pupils took charge of the program and sang two motion songs, 'Little Snow Flakes' and 'My Valentine.' Mrs. D. J. Holdcroft read an article on 'Child Training.' Miss Buchanan's pupils put on a playette entitled 'A Trip on Safety First Train,' and finished by singing a chorus. Mrs Walter Nobes gave a reading.

A spelling match was entered by all present, with Miss McNeely and Mr. Drinkwater as captains, and Mr. Sutherland giving the words, which resulted in a tie. The attendance shield for the meeting was won by Miss Verna Buchanan's room.

Shipyard Walkout

TACOMA, Wash. Feb. 4—(AP).—Independent welders were called to picket duty in their spreading walk-out against busy Seattle and Tacoma shipyards, but work proceeded on ships vital to the United States' war effort. More than 1,000 welders were believed idle at the big Tacoma plant of the Seattle-Tacoma shipyard, and a fewer number at Seattle. The walkout, a new outbreak of an old inter-union dispute, began Friday over dismissal of several welders from the Tacoma yard because of non-payment of dues to the A.F.L. Boilermakers' Union.

Sen. G. Gordon Passes Suddenly

TORONTO, Feb. 4 — (CP). — Stricken with a heart attack in his hotel room last night, Hon. George Gordon, 76, Ontario Senator from the Nipissing district of Northern Ontario, died suddenly here.

Senator Gordon arrived in Toronto Tuesday morning from his home in North Bay, Ont., and attended several business appointments during the day. Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson said death was caused by coronary thrombosis.

A native of Pakenham, Ont., Senator Gordon was widely known in timber and mining circles. He was elected to the House of Commons as Conservative member for Nipissing in 1908 and was re-elected in the reciprocity campaign of 1911. He was summoned to the Senate October 17, 1912.

Senator Gordon is president of George Gordon and Co., Ltd., of Cache Bay, Ont., and a director of the Bank of Nova Scotia, National Grocers, Co., Ltd., of Toronto; Sherritt-Gordon Mines Co., Ltd. of Toronto, and Cochrane-Dunlop Hardware, Ltd.

Surviving are one son, George O. Gordon; and three daughters, Mrs. Lee Craig, Toronto, and Mrs. J. R. Taylor and Mrs. W. S. Butler, both of North Bay, Ont.

Closer Ties Urged With Americas, Rotarians Hear

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 4 (ENS) —A plea for closer understanding between the two Americas were made in an address delivered before Rotarians at their luncheon here on Monday. J. B. McLaurin, D.D., of Toronto, Baptist missionary, who has spent nearly thirty years in India, was the speaker and he was introduced to the gathering by Rev. S. R. Bryant.

In his remarks, Dr. McLaurin, recently returned from a visit of several months to South America, declared he was primarily interested in closer ties "with the people of this great continent." He felt that it was only in recent years that the Anglo-Saxons generally had made a great re-discovery of South America. The continent had, in his opinion, been associated too long with political unrest and intermittent revolutiin. South America had long been thought of as a continent made up of small republics with varying amounts of political instability.

Turning to the timely question of inter-continental solidarity, the speaker referred to the Pan-American Conference, and expressed the hope that the time would come when Canada would have a voice in these matters. "We are re-discovering South America, both politically and commercially" and though the idea of stalemate, indifference and lassitude may still exist among the people "we have now discovered the continent is not only a great potential market but also an important base for supplies. There is still a tremendous field for industrial expansion, he believed, and recalled that several well known financial houses already had offices in several of the cities which also contained branches of Canadian banks.

The essential friendship and good will of the South American is playing an important roll in uniting the people of the Americas. These people are particularly friendly to Canada and Britain and they are admirers of U.S.A. It was nothing more than the inherent recollection of their early fight for liberty that has caused the Argentine to oppose United States policy with regard to the breaking off of relations with the Axis powers. Dr. McLaurin declared the people of the Argentine feared they would become attached to the United States (politically and economically) "like a comet which will trail them around." He sensed in South America a "high regard for Britain and for the British because their word is good and because of the good solid value of the articles they sell." Although they are prejudiced against becoming subsidiaries of a North American country, the Britis hare heroes in their eyes. Their fear is partly the result of their reasoning, what would happen if they played ball with the Allies and Hitler won. They picture Dakar as an ideal jumping off place for Axis troops, and look at the huge military force wielded by Hitler, and then they decide it would be better perhaps to be neutral so that they will be in a position to trade with him after the war.

Referring to the 750,000 Germans who have their own schools, and take orders from the Nazi counsel in Brazil through whom they are supplied with guns, he said, 'I don't know why they didn't rise up and take possession of the country." The speaker told of the training and organization sponsored by the Nazis and of their freedom to sponsor military forms of training.

Rotarian H. N. Carr moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, and following this Rotarian Locke reported on the carnival held last Wednesday which he said had yielded the club approximately $65, which will be put into the crippled children's fund.

Greatest Newspaper Serial of the Year Starts In The Examiner On Wednesday, Feb. 11

For the next few days, readers of The Examiner serial stories will not see a story running, but beginning February 11, "Kings Row," a serial rich in sentiment, emotion of love, hate and fear, will make its debut.

It is written by Henry Bellamann and the fact of its having "one thousand" stories in one makes it become the greatest newspaper serial of the year. Examiner readers will find in Kings Row that they will be well compensated for the fact that no serial will appear until February 11. This story is of such intense interest the management of this paper decided to forego a short serial and await release of Kings Row.

Book critics say:

New York Herald Tribune—"This great big American novel is rich in sentiment, emotional, powerfully felt, a great labor honestly undertaken. The power is cumulative, the effect dramatic, moving and passionate book."

New York Sun—'Anything could happen in Kings Row and nearly everything does."

Kings Row is painstakingly censored and a rewritten version of the novel that retains no characters or situations that would be taboo reading for a 10-year-old girl, yet it loses none of the brilliance of the original.

HAS PLEDGED FULL SUPPORT
Sulphite Pulp, from which paper is produced, is urgently needed by Canada, Great Britain and the Democracies, for the successful prosecution of the War. That, in effect, means that each and every one of us are committed to a policy of saving paper of every sort or descriprion. As you probably know better grades of paper such as the white wrapping paper used in your Tamblyn Drug Store, require extra ingredients essential for War Industries, and so we pledged ourselves, and knowing it would also be your wish to help, have given assurance for you, too, that we, that is you—our customers—and our company, will endeavor to use as little paper as possible, knowing as we do that every part saved will contribute to a fuller War activity and an earlier Victory. Your Tamblyn Drug Store for their part will discontinue the use of Paper-Cartons, etc., where possible, and we would appreciate it if you—our Patrons—will help by accepting unwrapped many of the items of merchandise which you can carry, which it is our custom at present to wrap. That may mean extra large purses, or probably baskets or shopping bags, but we feel you will be glad to do that for your Country, and we ask your indulgence in this, our effort, to Conserve.

ST. PETER'S BOYS DROP TWO GAMES IN MINOR HOCKEY LEAGUE

Majors Increase Night Ball Game Minimum

(By HAROLD CLAASSEN.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Those Washington cuties who drew a Congressman's reprimand for impeding the war effort by coming to work half asleep after a large night out now have 21 more good reasons to avoid staying at home with a good book this summer.

Clark Griffith, president of Washington Senators, obtained permission from Baseball's major league bosses yesterday for 21 after-dark contests—to aid the war effort by bolstering Washington morale.

The remaining 15 big league clubs will be permitted to play up to 14 games under the lights in their own parks. Griffith demanded 28 contests but the other moguls opposed it. The compromise was made by Commissioner K. M. Landis.

The increase of arc contests didn't receive universal approval. Larry MacPhail, general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers who introduced the after-dark phase to baseball, said he wasn't sure that his club would take advantage of the increase.

Roger Peckinpaugh, general manager of Cleveland Indians, indicated his club might play some of the allotted contests as twilight affairs, starting at 6.30 p.m.

Some Schedule Shifting

After their joint meeting with the American League bosses, the National League chieftains immediately began revising their schedule to accommodate the extra night games. Both leagues retained Tuesday, April 14 as the starting date with the following pairings:—

American League

New York at Washington
Philadelphia at Boston
Cleveland at Detroit
St. Louis at Chicago

National League

Brooklyn at New York
Boston at Philadelphia
Pittsburg at Cincinnati
Chicago at St. Louis

The moguls decided that all officials would accept 10 per cent of their salaries in defence bonds and would recommend that the players do likewise. The athletes also will wear the red, white and blue insignia of the "hale America" organization.

CURLING NEWS

By HERB MARTIN

"Only from the hand of a master." That tribute might well be paid to one, Richard H. Dawson. And before we go any further, we want to say that we wish we had time and space at our disposal so that we could cover all the games played last night, but as we have not, we are just going to feature the Dawson-Clark affair. And what a game. We will skip all but the 10th and 11th ends. Coming down the stretch, Dick Dawson, who was pinch-hitting as skip for the Batten rink, was four up and looked to be "home free," and as the end progressed it did look as if it was all over. But in the twinkling of an eye things commenced to happen—and they did happen and hapen smartly. Dick was lying shot when the doctor came to play the last stone of the end. If doctor could remove Dick's stone and stay on the rings with his own stone he could count four and tie up the old ball game. The chance was there, and doctor's board of advisors decided on taking that chance. True, he did play a little narrow, but he had enough weight to raise one of his own stones up to Dick's shot, pass it out, and tie up the game. Doctor's rink knew no bounds of excitement.

Now for the extra end. First one was shot and then the other, and Dick's boys seemed to have the end well in hand. Coming to the skips, the smiling doctor played a little narraw, and no harm was done. Dick did the same thing with his first stone; but now comes the two shots that were in on the pay-off. The doctor made a beautiful in-wick of Fred Batten's stone and there he was sitting right on the button, with the shot stone. Now what? "Ike" started to scratch his head — he walked up and down the ice, looking here and there. He consulted with Dick. What were they going to do Looking at it from No. 8, it did look as if it was all over. The front was completely blocked—we wouldn't have given them last year's allowance for their chances. However, Dick finally said "Name your shot, Ike, and you'll get it."

So Dick settles down, takes his stone, and lets her go right straight down centre ice. A fast in-turn and in the fraction of a second stones commenced to slip all over the ice—one going here, one going there, and when the blits had quieted down, here was Mr. Dawson's 40-pound piece of granite, handle and all, sitting just on the side of the 12-foot ring to count shot, and game.

Well, we have seen Fred up in the air before, but not so high as he jumped last night on that shot. It would be very interesting to be able to tune in on the conversation of Dick and Fred all day to-day. As one chap said late last night: "Fred calls them and Dick nicks them."

SPORTS – DAY BY DAY

By FRED D. CRAIG

With no scheduled games for the Military Training Centre next week, as the local outfit waits around for an Oshawa-packed Whitby team and a Kingston-reinforced-Belleville crowd to battle it out in the semi-final round of the playoffs, fans may have an opportunity to see the Petes perform in an exhibition game against the strong Oshawa Generals, junior champs, as a benefit for the Milk for Britain fund. It is hoped to arrange this battle for Brock St. Rink next Monday night and the Kinsmen hope to have Syl Apps and Gordie Drillon down from the Toronto Maple Leafs to act as referee and linesman. The game, in view of the cause for which it is being held and its value as a sporting spectacle should draw like a porous plaster. The Petes will need a game or two next week to keep on edge for the group playoffs and a tilt with the Generals would be a real crowd pleaser.

* * * * * *

Manager Fred Scates and Coach Jim Ellis of the Military Training Centre team should move and second a hearty vote of thanks to the Royal Canadian Air Force team which cinched first place for the local team in the Senior B group race Monday night by waltzing out a vistory with a neat 7 to 5 score over the Oshawa-Whitby amalgamation. Not even the Flyers themselves figured on an Air Force victory in that engagement. Whitby had the whole Oshawa delegation including Roy Covert, Doc Dafoe, Jerry Cooper, Ab Barnes, Carl Gamble and company in line and with that array they thought they had power enough to walk through any club in the group. They never thought for a moment that the Air Force, without reinforcements would be able to take a fall out of the Ontario county club right on its own ice but that's exactly what the Flyers did and as a result first place in the group was handed to the Petes on a platter. Whitby was the only team in the loop to have a chance to tie the local Soldiers for the top shelf but the Airmen blew that opportunity out of the sky with a totally-unexpected win.

* * * * * *

That loss is likely to result in Whitby winding up in third place. Of course the Flyers who proved real giant-killers Monday night have two more chances to throw sand in the gearbox. They play Reliance in Belleville tonight and it would be a real prank if they turned around and handed Mike Rodden's gang a trimming. The one thing you can be sure of about that fixture is that the Flyers will go all out in an effort to toss the Belleville team for a total loss. The Air Force gang hadn't won a game all season until Monday night and now they have thrown a depth bomb under Whitby and have a chance to torpedo the Reliance as well. They are making the last week a merry one and deserve a lot of credit for the manner they have stuck to their guns and fought until the last ditch.

Trent Valley Hockey

Ken Colling has the following interesting item on Trent Valley Hockey in his Belleville sport column. Old timers here remembering the days when the local St. Peter's T.A.S. was a power to be reckoned with in the Trent loop will enjoy his comment: "There was a day and not too far distant, when the Trent Valley Hockey League was a power and strength in district hockey circles. As a matter of fact it was a Trent Valley loop playoff game that saw the largest crowd ever to jam its way into the Hume Arena. However, like sports come and go, the Valley loop fell upon distressing ways and days until it ceased to function. However, the Valley puck moguls sensed the responsibilities confronting them with the result the wiser heads convened this season and organized a Trent Valley Juvenile League, composed of the old original towns like Stirling, Madoc, Tweed, Campbellford et al and today the Valley juveniles are commanding more than the usual amount of public interest with the result the kids are responding under proper tutoring and playing a remarkably good brand of hockey. One of the prime originators of the league is Art Duncan, of Stirling, whose foresight in the sponsoring of minor hockey in the Valley sector is today being proven beyond even his predictions. Duncan is justly proud of his league-leading Stirling sextette and predicts a brilliant future for the initial trio of forwards who are all home-brews and a credit to their community and are vindicating Duncan's boasts. For instance the league-leading Stirling juveniles have scored 27 goals in five games while their goalie has only been scored upon ten times. Yes, the Trent Valley ice moguls have the right idea—give the present generation an opportunity and they will not fail.

* * * * * *

And here is some Belleville comment on Monday's game: "Despite the fact Jim Ellis was minus the services of Don Crowe, Bun Kingdon, Reilly and Art Heal, Skipper Jim was willing to lay the coin of the realm on the prowess of the weakened charges prior to the opening of hostilities last night. That winning combination of Tompkins, Heal and Kingdon wasn't present last night, as "Honey" skated around in an effort to score, but sadly missed his accustomed teammates. However, Joe Blewett took over that usual Peterborough scoring threat and on numerous occasions made life miserable for Archie Major. For the Petes Godfrey and Burton stood up well, while Jopling got over-anxious and spent too much time in the "cooler." Frankly the only reason Belleville never did beat Peterborough too badly at hockey in recent years was on account of a young snipe by the name of Harding, who we all respect."

A rookie forward and a veteran winger were the heroes of the two important N.H.L. games played last night. The rookie was Alan Kuntz of the New York Rangers who scored the winning goal in overtime as the Young Men of Manhattan defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 3 to 2 and the veteran was game old Mush March, oldest forward in the big time who slapped in the tieing goal and the winner for the Chicago Black Hawks in an overtime game at Boston. As a result of these doings the Rangers took undisputed possession of first place with a two-point lead over the Bruins and with two games in hand as well. The two clash tomorrow night in New York and if the Rangers come through with a win in that battle they will open up a substantial lead. They had a close fit with Amerks last night, with Kuntz sparking the attack with two goals. Boston and Chicago had a tough struggle. It was 3-3 at the end of regulation time, March scoring the third period goal that sewed up the contest. Then he came back with another early in the overtime. Red Hamill, former Bruin, also scored two goals against his old club.

Games in the Ladies' Basketball League at the Y.W.C.A. Friday night call for Quakers to meet the Normal School at 7.30 o'clock and Electrics to clash with Westclox in the 8.30 affair. These are the first games in the second half and it is expected that the full schedule will be ready for publication within the next day or two. The same setup as last year is being followed. The second half schedule is just a continuance of the first and at the end the two top teams will meet for the senior cup and the third and fourth clubs will play a series for the intermediate trophy.

4 Games Played South-End Hockey League

Tuesday night was again hockey night at the Sacred Heart rink, and a full schedule of four games was played in the South-end League. The ice was fast and all teams were performing in true mid-season form.

The Bantams were first to take the ice, the Spitfires and the Beavers being the contesting teams. Territorial play was quite even throughout, but the winning Spitfires showed much more finesse and class around the net, shutting out the Canuck Beavers by a count of five to nothing. Dugan, Spitfires' fleetest forward, was the winner's siege-gun of the evening, firing the puck into the opposing net no less than four times, and setting up the play for Eakins' tally. Masters went well for the losers, but was carefully watched by the hard-checking Burley.

Canuck Beavers—McDonald, Lane, Dunk, Connelley, Masters, Fontaine, Shriver, Hickey, LaPlante, Davis, Payne, Carrivaggio, O'Brien.

St. Peter's Shutout.

The Midget contest brought together the Blue Bombers and St. Peter's, and scoring in every period, the Blue Bombers shut out the lowly St. Peter's by the shut-out route, 4 to 0. Showing a well-balanced squad with the scoring punch evenly divided, and a willingness to backcheck, the Blue Bombers are now a much improved team, and are a real threat for midget honors. Carter, Ellis, Dyman, Sisson were the goal-getters, with Dayman making the plays for three goals, Robertson the remaining tally. Basciano and Quigley were the pick of the losers.

St. Peter's — O'Brien, Basciano, Ryan, Quigley, Daly, Lavoie, McIsaacs, H. McIsaacs, Divine, Rutherford, Plumpton.

Blue Bombers— Post, McMahon, Carter, Sisson, Cox, Dayman, Baxter, Chambers, Ellis, Robertson.

An 11 to 0 Score.

In the third game of the night, the powerful Churhchills whitewashed the St. Peter's Juveniles by the overwhelming score of 11 to 0. A hand-picked team, the Churchills are showing more class and power every time out, scoring almost at will, and yet to have a goal scored against them. Lawson and Harris each performed the hat-trick, scoring three goals, while Ainslee, Anderson, Dorrell, Millen and Garvey all got one marker. Caccavelli and Jordan went well for St. Peter's.

Churchills—Leether, Ainslee, Gillespie, Anderson, Lawson, Dorrell, White, Millen, Garvey, Harris.

St. Peter's—Hickey, Basciano, Caccavelli, Jordan, Moloney, O'Donnell, Bullock, Waters, Hughes.

Best of Evening.

The fourth game of the night was also a Juvenile contest, and in the best game of the night, the cellar-dwelling Generals upset the highly-touted Canucks by a 3 to 2 count. The first period was scoreless for the first ten minutes, but then in rapid succession, the Generals rifled in three fast goals, Smith scoring two and Kylie one. The second period was all Canucks', but they were able to score only one goal, Byrne getting the marker, Jones the assist. Early in the third, the Canucks scored again, Jones setting the play up for Brown, but despite constant pressure the Generals managed to hang on to their one-goal advantage. This game was one of the most bitterly fought contests of the year, and feelings ran high all night.

Canucks—Welch, Phillips, Keating, Jones, Byrnes, McLean, Van-Allen, Cooper, Brown, Healey, Blackwell, Lester, Hall.

Generals—Parsons Wade, Craig, Smith, Kylie, Blewett, Riel, Young, Peel.

Benefit Game Is Postponed

OTTAWA, Feb. 4 (CP) — Royal Canadian Air Force officials decided today to postpone, at least temporarily, a proposed Air Force benefit contest between Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League and an opponent chosen from amateur or professional ranks.

After conversations with officials from Toronto it was decided to ask the Bruin management if it might be possible to stage the game at a later date. Postponement was due to difficulty in finding a suitable playing date.

Manager Art Ross of the Boston Club suggested last Saturday that such a game might be held in Toronto or Ottawa next week between Bruins and a second club, possibly an all-star N.H.L. team, Toronto Maple Leafs, Ottawa Senators of the Quebec Senior Hockey League or Royal Canadian Air Force Flyers of the Senior City League. Proceeds would go to the R.C.A.F. Benevolence Fund.

Meanwhile Air Force officials confirmed what just about everybody in the capital had been saying right along—that Bruins' Kraut line is coming to Ottawa.

An official R.C.A.F. spokesman said the three former National Hockey League stars, Bobby Bauer, Milt Schmidt and Woodrow (Porky) Dumart, will report to Rockcliffe air station Feb. 14.

The Air Force didn't say so, but this meant the outstanding forward line trio from Kitchener, Ont., will be able to play hockey with the R.C.A.F. team in the Senior City League.

The Flyers are strong contenders now for the Senior city title, three points back of the leading Hull Volants.

Schmidt, Dumart and Bauer enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force at Montreal last week after being called up for training under the National Resources Mobilization Act.

They are expected to play four more N.H.L. games for Art Ross' Bruins before reporting to Ottawa.

East's All-Stars Whip West 5-4

CLEVELAND, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The first annual American Hockey League all-star game, played for the benefit of the Canadian and American Red Cross, ended in a 5-4 victory for the eastern division squad over the western division last night.

Norman Burns of New Haven Eagles paced the victors' attack with two goals and assisted on another, while Cleveland's Joffre Desilets accounted for two goals by the losers.

The game, played without a penalty being called, was witnessed by 3,580 fans, who contributed a gross gate of $4,132.

After Burns and Desilets had exchanged first-period scores, Pete Kelly of Springfield Indians sent the East ahead early in the second session, but Desilets tied the score again early in the third. Then the East broke loose for three goals by Burns, Ab Demarco of Providence and Polly Drouin of Washington.

Jack Toupin of Buffalo and Bill Mackenzie of Cleveland registered the final two markers for the West.

MUSH MARCH SCORES PAIR THAT WHIP BRUINS 5-3 IN OVERTIME

Rangers Outluck Americans 3-2 On Kuntz Scoring

(By SCOTT YOUNG.)

Squat little Mush March has been scoring important goals for Chicago Black Hawks ever since he turned professional from a Regina junior club in 1928, but few have been more valuable than the two he scored to give Chicago a 5-3 overtime victory over Boston Bruins in Boston last night.

Mush propelled his 155-pound, five-feet-five frame through the Boston defence late in the third period to pick up a pass from Max Bentley and score the tying goal against Boston, and early in overtime he barged through again for the winner. Red Hamill's second goal of the night made the victory secure, but to Harold March, the pride of Silton, Sask., went the glory.

While the veteran little winger gave Hawks their overtime victory, a youth 11 years his junior—Alan Kuntz—turned almost an equal trick to give New York Rangers a 3-2 overtime decision over Brookly Americans. It was Kuntz' second goal of the night, an encouraging performance for a youngster playing his first National Hockey League season.

The victory sent Rangers into undisputed possession of first place because of the Boston loss. Chicago is three points behind the third-place Toronto Maple Leafs, idle last night Brooklyn is fifth.

Bruins Slip In Third

Bruins faded in the third and overtime. Playing without Herb Cain, Bill Cowley, Dit Clapper and Phil Hergesheimer, all injured, the Bruins received good service from Gord Bruce and Jack Shewchuk, called up from Providence of the American League. Porky Dumart, Milt Schmidt and Bruce were Bruins' scorers. For Chicago, Hamill and March had two each, Johnny Mariucci one. The Chicago goalie, Sammy Lo Presti, picked up a six-stitch forehead gash in the second period but insisted on continuing—and Bruins couldn't beat him after that.

Kuntz' first goal of the night preceded one by Alex Shibicky in the first period. Bill Summerhill reduced the margin for Americans in the second and Norm Larson tied the score in the third. Kuntz deftly finished a play with Grant Warwick and Art Coulter for the winner after 18 seconds of overtime.

The victory also gave Rangers the William J. MacBeth Trophy, presented annually for the inter-borough championship in New York. This season Rangers have won five of six games played with Amerks.

Jack Church looked good in his first go on the Brooklyn defence, and Manager Red Dutton announced later that Andy Branigan, defenceman out for weeks with an ankle injury, had been returned to Springfield Indians.

Senior Thriller Sees Weavers Edge St. Kitts 5-2

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 4. — Niagara Falls Wire Weavers remained in the thick of a red-hot argument for the fourth playoff berth by shading the front-running St. Catharines club here last night in an O.H.A. senior thriller 3 to 2. One of the best games of the season was enjoyed by a gathering of 2,500 fans.

Victory hoisted the Weavers up into a third-place tie with Toronto Marlboros, but the Falls boys probably will have to repeat the victory at home against Saints on Friday night, or step into elimination. The whole scramble depends on how the Marlboros fare in their two games with Hamilton — at Toronto Wednesday and in the Ambitious City Friday.

Loose on Defence.

For their loss last night Saints can thank decided laxity around the home rigging, as the Fowler squad went two goals up before the half-way mark in the second period.

Saints claimed a first counter when Earl Newbold was off for tripping, and that stood for the period, as the Garden City Blueshirts lived out twin penalties after.

Saints' second tally raised a terrific squawk from the Falls whose fans littered the ice with peanuts when Referee Talbot decided to allow a goal instead of a penalty shot as Murray pulled down Mundrick on a breakaway and Goble swept in to beat Webb, who was helpless at the moment. After five minutes' delay to clear the ice play went evenly until Wright was gated for a trip, and in 14 seconds Kalbfleisch blasted a corner passout from inside Saints' blue line that was screened from Coupland's view.

Weavers then set up a scorching pace, and after penning the home defence in for a full two minutes, an intercepted pass left two Falls men behind St. Catharines defence, and Newbold knotted the count. The final chapter was fast and furious. Weavers gained a fortunate counter when a pass across the face of the rigging glanced in off Swat Mason's arm, which was hotly protested but allowed.

Webb Too Good.

After that Saints did the dynamic forcing, and had Webb at their mercy often, but failed to beat him Reynolds and McPhail were benched together for high-sticking, then Mason coaxed a pair of penalties to Saints, Backor first, followed by Massey. The latter objected and had his rest raised to a major, leaving Jimmy Fowler's squad 3-1 short. On a Falls breakaway in the last minute Tommy Cooper pulled Hal Cooper down, and the latter missed his minor penalty shot.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Inside report is that Billy Conn and Manager Johnny Ray aren't actually near a bust-up as has been rumored but they have been exchanging some pretty hot words about Billy's refusal to train...Conn heads for New York today to start work for Tony Zale...Nat Fleischer has quit giving his championship belts to fighters for the duration. They're now on the priority list for metals ...Two hours after the major league meetings ended Judge Landis was aboard a train for Florida...Maybe that's why they settled things so quickly.

Not A Dark Horse

Greg Rice, who will be shooting for his 39th consecutive victory in the Millrose track meet Saturday, won't have to worry about the possibility of a blackout during the race...He trains at night on the Columbia University outdoor track, a half block away from the nearest light...Greg probably won't have to worry about the opposition, either.

Hot Stove Warmup

Connie Mack and Gerry Nugent have been conducting surveys around Philadelphia industrial plants to learn when they should start their daylight ball games in order to catch the customers before and after work...Minor league baseballers, who formerly could hardly wait for spring training and free grub, now are complaining because the training season is too long. It will take a lot of them off high-play defence jobs...Leo Durocher, trapped in a hotel lobby talking to four umpires explained: "I never gave them any trouble" He was right. All four were American leaguers.

Bruins To Play RCAF In Benefit

OTTAWA, Feb. 4 —(CP)—Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League will meet Royal Canadian Air Force of the Senior City Hockey League in an R.C.A.F. benefit game here Tuesday, Feb. 17, Clair Brunton, manager of Ottawa Auditorium, announced late last night.

He said he received a wire from Manager Art Ross stating he would like to bring Bruins to Ottawa on that date and suggested they play the R.C.A.F. team, reinforced by the Kraut Line of Milt Schmidt, Bobby Bauer, and Woodrow (Porky) Rumart.

Sqdn. Ldr. James C. Campbell, manager of the Air Force team, said the airmen would be willing to play on that date but that arrangements would have to be handled by the league to fit the game in with the semi-final playoffs.

Brunton said the league had agreed and that he would notify Ross of acceptance of the offer after conferring with air force officials.

Jim Jeffries Rates Fitzsimmons Top

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 4 (AP)—It's easy to start a discussion among fight followers about the relative merits of great pugilists of the past, and James J. Jeffries, ardent fan of today and great champion of yesterday, is no exception.

For instance, he rates Bob Fitzsimmons as the greatest fighter who ever lived. (Jeffries toppled Fitz from the heavyweight throne June 9, 1899 and retired undefeated.)

As to Fitzsimmons—"I think he could have taken Jack Dempsey—he would have outsmarted him."

Louis?

"Right now he would give anybody a battle," replied Jeffries. "He's in the greatest condition of his career —and condition tells the story."

Hockey's Big Seven

(By the Canadian Press.)

Boston's Milt Schmidt climbed up with the leaders in the National Hockey League individual scoring race when he picked up a goal and assist last night against Chicago to boost his count to 30 points and a three-way tie for fifth place with Gordie Drillon, Toronto, and his linemate, Bobby Bauer.

Bryan Hextall, Rangers, still is on top of the heap with 35 points, with his linemates, Phil Watson and Lynn Patrick next in line, each with 34. Bill Thoms of Chicago holds down fourth spot with 33 points.

NON-STOP SUBS

Fateful Battle Switched To Kingston

KINGGSTON, Feb. 4.—The deciding game in the O.H.A. senior schedule between Kingston Combines and Port Colborne, on which swings the playoff fate of three teams, will be played in Kingston next Friday, and not in Port Colborne as scheduled.

Arrangements to transfer the game from Port Colborne to Kingston were completed and announceed today when the Kingston Club deposited a guarantee in a Port Colborne bank.

Port Colborne Sailors are out of the running, financially wrecked for the season, and had little hope of even paying the referee's expenses at Friday's last scheduled game so the Kingston offer was as a life-saver. In Kingston the game will be a big attraction as a Kingston win will earn four points and a positive place in the O.H.A. senior "A" semi-finals.

Kingston first asked permission of the O.H.A. to transfer the game and then extended the invitation to the Port Colborne Club to play the game in Kingston. When the O.H.A. president gave his official sanction and the money was credited to the Port Colborne Club, the switch was completed.

A Kingston win over Port Colborne will mean the elimination of either Niagara Falls or Toronto Marlboros from the playoffs. Marlboros, with more games to play, can crowd into third or fourth place, but Niagara Falls future depends on the outcome of the clash between the Sailors and Combines.

Alsab, Undisputed 2-Year-Old Champion, Earned $110,610 Last Year

(By FRANK G. MENKE.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4—When Alsab finished his 1941 racing campaign, he was undisputed champion of the two year olds, and rated by most horsemen as the greatest youngster since the golden days of Man O' War.

But when Alsab started his campaign, on the afternoon of February 25, at Hialeah, his owner, Mrs. Al Sabath wasn't too sure that the $700 paid for him wasn't a lot to much. For in his first race, against two year old maidens, most of them mediocre, Alsab finished last.

Thereafter, the story was different.

He improved with each new race. His amazing flights of speed enable him to break stakes-race records; tie or crack track records, and hang out a world's record. He displayed flawless courage, ability to carry increasing weight without a falter in his stride, and his stamina was of the super variety. In almost all of his victories, he won by huge margins; his defeats, after he once achieved top form, always could be excused with 'bad racing luck."

His record for 1941 shows 22 trips to the post, 15 victories, including a dead heat, 3 seconds, a third, and earnings of $110,610.

In Winner's Circle

Alsab graduated into the winner's circle before leaving Florida, by defeating maidens at Tropical Park, in March. He then moved to Illinois, began to show evidences of his class, and won the Joliet Stakes, at Lincoln Fields, on May 31, with consummate ease. He won the Primer Stakes at Arlington, in June, and then was shipped to Suffolk Downs for the Miles Standish Stakes.

Eternal Bull broke like a shot out of a cannon in that contest, Alsab was off none too well. Alsab was picking up ground all through the stretch in that five furlong dash, but couldn't quite nail the leader. But in their next outing, which was half a furlong further, Alsab just sailed by Eternal Bull at the five furlong mark, and won easily, in 1:05 1-5, which equaled the track record.

Alsab won the Hyde Park, at Arlington, in July. At Washington Park, under 126 pounds, on August 9, he won the Washington Park Juvenile, equaling the track record of 1:05. Next he scored in the six furlong $20,000 added Washington Park Futurity, in close to track record time, and followed with a galloping triumph in the Prairie State Stakes.

Mrs. Sabath shipped Alsab to Havre De Grace where on September 16, under 126, he ran in the Eastern Shore Handicap. Off to an atrociius start, in trouble for more than half a mile, he finally found running room in the stretch and dead-heated Colchis for first money.

Just about that time, Requested was rated as the top-flight two year old in the East. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt arranged a $10,000 match race between Requested and Alsab at Belmont Park, the distance to be 6½ furlongs, each horse to carry 122. Easterners backed Requested into favoritism.

Requested took an easy lead, Alsab never making a move until they hit the stretch. Then his rider asked Alsab to show what he had—and the race was over. Alsab won by nearly four lengths, and was running away from Requested. The time was 1:16,—as compared with the old record of 1:15 1-5 for the straightaway, and 1:16 1-5 for the main course.

Champagne Stakes

The greatest achievement of Alsab's career was to follow. He appeared in the Champagne Stakes, at one mile, meeting the topnotchers of the East. He conceded from 3 to 16 punds to his different rivals. Off none too well, he made up ground, only to be pinched off nearing the finish. But he dropped back, took to the outside of the pack, came on with an electrifying charge —and won by 7 lengths.

The time was 1:35 2-5—a new world's record for a two year old. It clipped 3-5 of a second off the old mark of 1.46 held jointly by Twenty Grand and Equipose.

In the Spalding Lowe Jenkins, at Laurel, over a mile and a sixteenth, Alsab won by 5 lengths in 1.45 4-5, defeating, among others, Colchis, which had head-heated him at Havre de Grace.

Alsab's final race of the year—the Walden, at Pimlico—attested to the limit his superb courage, and ability to overcome misfortune.

Fair Call took the lead in that race, held it until the swing into the stretch. As Alsab ranged alongside, Don Meade, on Fair Call, moved out toward Alsab and interfered with him. The colt was knocked off stride, recovered, moved toward the centre of the track to clear Fair Call, and took the lead.

While all this was happening, Col. E. R. Bradley's Bless Me came from far back, with a terrific stretch drive which many still think might have caught Alsab. But just as Bless Me, on the rail, was moving on Alsab at top speed, Meade and Fair Call swung in and hampered Bless Me. He had to shorten his stride, fight his way clear, then took Alsab again, and was picking up the champion, but just failed to get up.

Alsab, Fair Call and Bless Me may meet again in the Kentucky Derby, on May 2, and then there may be the answer to the question of which might have happened at Pimlico if the race hadn't been marred by rodeo tactics.

Monteith's Mitt Show Fizzles

DETROIT, Feb. 4—(AP). — Promoter Scotty Monteith's boxing show didn't come off as scheduled last night.

First, "Two-Ton" Tony Cira of Pittsburgh, who was to have substituted for Harry Feuerstein of Cleveland in a 10-round heavyweight bout against Frankie Zamaris, said he wasn't in condition to trade punches with the East Orange, N.J., battler.

Next, Frankie Marr, Pittsburg welterweight, reported at 164 pounds, 19 over the limit, for his 10-round bout with Harvey Dubs of Windsor, and the match was cancelled.

Finally, Frankie McBride of Chicago, who was to have met Odell Riley of Detroit in a six-round light heavyweight setto, reported his ribs were sore. The bout was called off.

Monteith then gave up. Three other matches had been scheduled.

Mrs. C. Cotton Nearing Century Mark

GANANOQUE, Feb. 4 — While incapacitated to some extent due to a fall last summer, Mrs. Charles Cotton marked her 97th birthday here on Saturday. Friends and relatives in Canada and New York were among those who came to express best wishes and congratulations to Gananoque's grand old lady.

Numerous congratulatory messages and many beautiful flowers were also received by Mrs. Cotton, who despite her years is in good health and retains all her faculties.

Mrs. Cotton came from a family noted for its longevity. 'My grandfather was 106 when he died, his oldest brother 91, and his sister over 90," she states.

She has resided in Gananoque since 1871, and her memory s hold many picturesque scenes of bygone days. Her husband, who predeceased her in 1926, was formerly superintendent of the Water Power Company, which before the advent of Hydro-Electricity, supplied power to turn the wheels of Gananoque's first industries. He held that post for 54 years.

Mrs. Cotton is much interested in current world events, listens with interest to the progress of the war, and hopes to see its victorious conclusion.

Is Small Eater.

While she does not attribute her long life to any specials reasons, she does point out that she had always been "a very small eater."

She was the mother of 12 children, eight sons and four daughters, seven of whom are still living. Some of her sons were well over the six-foot mark, though she is barely over five feet in height.

Of Irish descent, Mrs. Cotton came to Canada with her family when only two years old. They settled on Garden Island, and lived there for several ears before coming to Gananoque.

Her seven surviving children are Mrs. D. A. Mitchell of Gananoque, Mrs. W. Durant and Mrs. R. L. Hanton of New York, W. D. Cotton of Gananoque C. J. Cotton of Toronto, Alderman R. S. Cotton, Peterborough, and Walter Cotton of New York.

Alderman Cotton spent the week-end in Gananoque with his mother and other members of her family. He left here on Friday and for once had to miss the meeting that night of the Finance Committee of which he is chairman. In respect to the dean of the City Council and his mother, Mayor Hamilton sent floral greetings to Mrs. Cotton on behalf of the Council of which her son has long been a member.

Dog Watch Trouble

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—(AP).—Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy, has told the United States Congress that the Navy is having difficulty in getting 24-hour production for its tremendously expanded armaments program because manufacturers can induce only about 10 per cent of their employees to work in the early morning "dog watch" shifts.

Discussing the Navy's general policies, Knox said that the military situation with respect to both oceans was "critical."

Bombing Kills 10

PERTH, Australia, Feb. 4—(AP)—Ten persons were killed and 20 were injured today in bomb explosions at a hotel and house at a gold-mining centre near Kalgoorlie. The body of an unknown man whom the police said they suspected of planting the bombs was found in a cemetery, where he apparently had committed suicide. Motives behind the bombings were not known immediately.

New Zealand Minister Arrives In U.S. Capital

Obituaries

MRS. JAMES NOBLE.

WARKWORTH, Feb. 4—(ENS).—The death of Ruth Oglesley, beloved wife of James Noble, occurred at the family residence in Norham on Friday.

Mrs. Noble was ill but one week prior to her passing. She was born in England on August 2, 1870, and has resided in Norham about one year, but in that time has made many friends by her kind and cheerful manner.

Funeral service was held in St. Paul's United Church, Warkworth, on Monday at 2.30 o'clock, Standard Time. Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Cooper had charge of the service and interment was made in Warkworth Cemetery.

MRS. HALVOR CLEGG

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 4 (ENS).—This town lost another well-known resident with the passing of Marion Mallinson, 73, widow of the late Halvor Clegg, who died on Sunday morning following a brief illness. Mrs. Clegg was familiar to many citizens of Campbellford by virture of her interest in the grocery business founded by her husband nearly thirty years ago. She was born in Yorkshire, England, and came to Canada settling in Campbellford nearly 37 years ago.

A member of the Church of England, Mrs. Clegg for many years took an active part in the work of the Sunday school, and in various women's organizations of Christ Church which she supported liberally. She was predeceased by her husband in 1920 and is now survived by two sons, Samuel of Campbellford and Leslie of McMasterville, P.Q.

The funeral service was conducted from Christ Church at 1.30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Rev. T. S. Gault, and interment was at the Church of England Cemetery. The bearers were Messrs. J. M. Bygott, W. F. Scott, James Gay, Nelson Hardy, F. C. Bonnycastle, and A. E. Wragg.

HENRY JOHN ARMSTRONG.

MILLBROOK, Feb. 4—(ENS). — The death of Henry John (Harry) Armstrong, which occurred on Wednesday, January 28, following a lengthy period of ill health, removed a citizen who had spent practically all his life, with the exception of a few years in the west, in Millbrook and its immediate vicinity.

In his sixty-seventh year he was a son of the late David H. Armstrong, and his wife, Letitia Perrin, well known citizens of earlier years in the township, their homestead being located on the Fourth Line, Cavan, and now owned by Edwin Hutchinson. The Armstrong connection is a wide one, and the history of the families of this name has been intimately interwoven wtih that of Cavan and Millbrook from early pioneer days.

The marriage of Harry Armstrong and Maud Mae Stewart, daughter of Mrs. Stewart, and the late James Stewart, meant the union of members of two families going back to the pioneer days, the event taking place on November 29, 1905. Mr. Armstrong was a Liberal in politics, and a member of Grace Presbyterian church; in fraternal circles he had a long connection with Millbrook Lodge, I.O.O.F. No. 308, of which he was a Past Grand, and under the auspices of which the funeral was held.

The immediate surviving relatives include the bereaved widow, one son, Arnold of Lindsay, and one daughter, Mrs. Ralph Innis (Alice) of Toronto; also one sister, Mrs. David Deyell (Mina), of Toronto; another sister, Mrs. Samuel Hunter (Blanche) was previously deceased. There is one grandchild.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place from his late residence, Union street, on Friday, at 4 p.m., the service for the church being conducted by Rev. A. L. Sisco, B.D., assisted by Rev A. Raeburn Gibson. As chaplain of the Oddfellows' Lodge, Mr. Sisco took part in the ritual of that Order at the graveside, the Noble Grand, Harold Tate, leading in the final rites. The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

The pallbearers were brother members of the Order, J. H. Isbister, Thomas Thompson, W. E. Ball, T. W. McCamus, Roy Greer and E. L. Armstrong. Interment was in the family burial plot at Gardiner's cemetery.

Among those from outside points who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hendrie and family, of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kerr of Campbellford; Mrs. William Tate, of Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hunter and Mr. Samuel Hunter, of Peterborough; Mr. Mr. and Mrs. John Cruickshanks, of Hastings; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Sage and Mrs. George Lacheur, of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Innis, of Peterborough.

ready to support any compulsory measure the government might decide upon if the plebiscite passed.

E. E. Perley (Con. Qu-Appelle) and P. E. Wright (C.C.F. Melfort) said they were against the plebiscite proposal but spoke chiefly of western farm problems.

Fraser Opposes The Vote

Gordon K. Fraser (Con. Peterborough West) expressed opposition for the plebiscite and said he wonder whether it would produce "unity or lunacy." He said if the government would raise the pay of men in uniform it would get all the men needed.

G. A. McLean (Lib. Simcoe East) said he favored the voluntary system of recruiting but was prepared to change his mind if the facts warranted. He said he supported the plebiscite.

Rodney Adamson (Con., York West) said he was opposed to the plebiscite and in favor of action to provide for compulsory, selective service anywhere in the world.

Robert Fair (N.D., Battle River) expressed concern about the condition of Western agriculture and the financial system. He made no mention of the plebiscite.

Mr. Fulford warned Conservatives against Premier Hepburn, whom he described as a "political Chameleon." He referred to Mr. Hepburn's charges in 1936 that Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, now Conservative leader, had violated his oath of office" as Ontario Hydro Commissioner, and that during administration of the Ontario Security Commissioner's office by Lt.-Col. George Drew, now Conservative leader, "graft and corruption" had been practised.

Mr. Fulford said he had been approached by a member of the Ontario Committee for Total War, asking him if he endorsed the committee's aims. He had replied that he did if the aims meant complete mobilization of all manpower and resources.

Just a Smokescreen

"Unfortunately as time goes on, the only issue which appears to be advanced is conscription for overseas service," he said. "It is being used as a smokescreen to hide all other Canadian achievements and problems.

"Some people had high hopes that with the second coming of George McCullagh and his 200 prophets a great deal might come out of Canada.

"I said 'some,' not 'all' of us, because all too many of us remember his leaderless — his Leadership League, and how it vanished in thin air.

'More recently another boy a few blocks removed from The Globe and Mail office has been heard...'I refer to the Premier of Ontario who ....with his uncalled for, unjustifiable and contemptible remarks, is in danger of splitting Canada.....

"I do not believe that even Mr. Hepburn's most intimate friends and associates are in sympathy with the stand he is taking to-day.

"He has let his party down but, far worse, he has let his province and his country down."

"I have pleaded for tolerance but there is one thing that no tolerant person can overlook or forgive, and that is betrayal and treachery," Mr. Fulford continued. "And that is what we see in the Premier of Ontario to-day."

Mr. Fulford said that at present Premier Hepburn "professes to back Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen," the new Conservative leader.

Mr. Fulford read from a report of Mr. Hepburn's by-election speech in Madoc in 1936 in which the Premier charged Mr. Meighen with having "violated his oath of office" in dealing with Ontario Power Service Corporation bonds.

"I understand that Mr. Meighen, Col. George Drew (Ontario Conservative leader) and Premier Hepburn are all to be on the same platform to-morrow night," Mr. Fulford said. "Strange bedfellows."

"You sued to sleep with them didnt you?" Conservative House Leader Hanson interjected.

"Yes, and I have regretted it ever since," Mr. Fulford replied.

Hang His Head Now.

"I hang my head in shame when I think that I was chairman of the meeting that chose Mitchell Hepburn to lead the Liberal party in Ontario.

"I further hang my head in shame to think that I sat complacently in the Ontario Legislature three years and four months suffering the indignities imposed upon private members of that body by the dictator of Ontario."

"The remarks of Mr. Hepburn regarding our Prime Minister are beneath contempt and are an insult to the intelligence of the electorate of Canada," Mr. Fulford said.

Mr. Fulford said he was in favor of the plebiscite and hoped that even before it was taken the government would start total mobilization of manpower and rsources.

Havelock Group Enjoys Skating Party

HAVELOCK, Feb. 4. — (ENS).—About thirty young people from the Mission Hall motored three miles north to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Newton Monday evening and enjoyed a real old-time skating party. The weather was cold, with a full moon and the ice on the marsh was in perfect condition. A huge bonfire was built and skating was accompanied by gramophone music. Later, the party was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newton, where refreshments were served, followed by community singing and humorous impromptu speeches.

Red Cross Makes Shipment.

The packing committee shipped 50 suits of girls' pink and blue flannelette pyjamas, size 34, which was their completed January quota, also 16 beautiful quilts were shipped.

The Red Cross room was a busy place Monday, with quilting, sewing, knitting and shipping conveners all busy, and 22 ladies in attendance. On motion of Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Easterbrooke the new sewing quota was accepted, and on motion of Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Price, each Havelock and Belmont boy overseas will receive a pair of socks from this branch, and the committee appointed was Mrs. Frank McKay and Mrs. Ashby from Belmont.

The Belmont Institute sent in six beautiful finished quilts, Mrs. Morris Whitney one quilt top, Mrs. Harry Peters a quilt top, and Mrs. George Watson a wool afghan.

Mrs. T. P. Lancaster said word had been received that a campaign for funds would be made in late April or early May, and members were also reminded to renew their membership.

Mr. Lancaster announced that the Russian appeal had been closed the end of January and that the Red Cross shipping office on Richmond street, Toronto, would be closed from Feb. 4 to Feb. 6. In the report of the aluminum drive last fall it was noted that 106 branches had cooperated and the sum of $18,600 had been received, and that the local branch will soon receive their share of same. An article in the Red Cross bulletin stated that Lady Reading, London, Eng., in a letter to Mrs. Campbell at Red Cross headquarters, made special mention of the beautiful colors, designs and sewing on the lovely quilts which they received. After severe bombing in England, shelter is taken in empty castles and estates, where there is little or no decorations, and the pretty articles they receive from the Red Cross make extra appeal to th sick.

Mrs. Jones, social convener, stated the receipts of the euchre party amounted to $16.50 and another one will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 17. The town council have donated the use of the cupboard for storage of supplies, files, etc. The treasurer, Mrs. L. Sanderson, reported a bank balance of $120.41 the end of January.

Mrs. Frank Watson served dainty refreshments and a social half hour was much enjoyed.

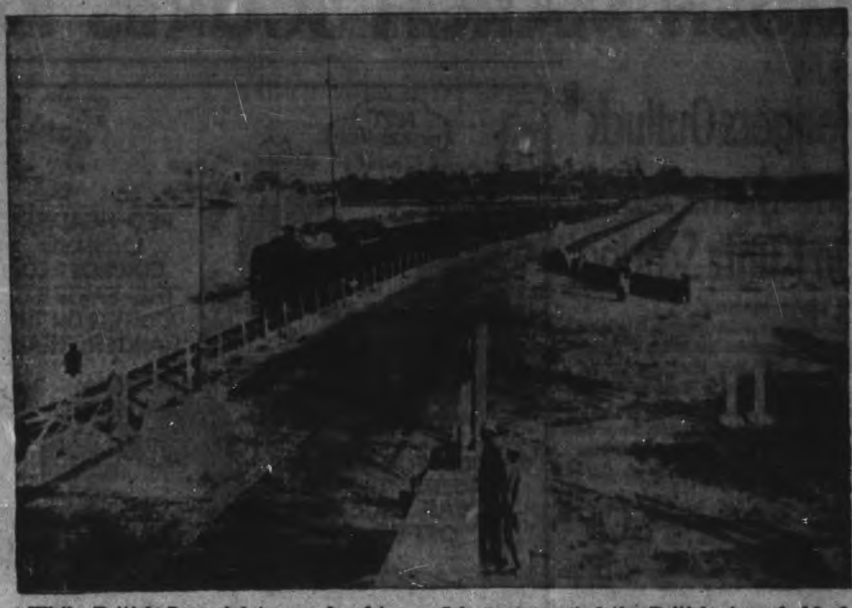
Japs Won't Use Jahore BahruCauseway



While British Imperial troops fought a rearguard action and held off attacking Japs, a stream of refugees swarmed across the Johore Bahru causeway, pictured here. The famed passage across the Straits of Jehore connected the British stronghold of Singapore with the Malay mainland. After the refugees had been evacuated from the mainland British army engineers dynamited the thoroughfare.

Home Economics Fine Paper At Havelock WI

HAVELOCK, Feb. 4.—(ENS). — The Women's Institute met Monday in the council chamber, with 16 in attendance, and Mrs. Price presiding. On motion of Mrs. J. W. S. Clarke and Miss E. Wright, the branch donated $2 to the Federated Women's Institute Fund to buy garden seeds to send to Britain.

A letter was read regarding voluntary registration for girls to do farm work during the summer, and since the local school staff is handling this matter, it will be left in their hands. Draw for the lucky ticket on the autograph quilt will take place at the next Red Cross euchre about the middle of February.

Ten new books have been purchased for the library, and more will be added next week. Meeting decided, on motion of Mrs. McCutcheon and Mrs. Hoard, to send a pair of flannelette blankets to a family in Belmont, who were recently burned out. The roll call on Housecleaning Hints brought many helpful suggestions.

An open discussion was conducted on Labor Saving Devices, and electric washers won the most points. Mrs. Charles Couch gave a very splendid paper on Home Economics. A Cent Contest was held with 17 questions, to be answered by things found on a large Canadian cent piece, proved most interesting, with Mrs. Ross Covert winning the prize; vocal duet by Misses Dorothy Anne and Shirley Marie Holdcroft, with Mrs. D. J. Holdcroft at the piano, and refreshments were served by Mrs. W. Woodbeck, convener, assisted by Mrs. McCutcheon, Mrs. Price and Miss E. Wright.

No Extra Bonuses

Ottawa, Feb. 4 (CP).

THE National War Labor Board, administrative agency of the government" wages stabilization program under chairmanship of Labor Minister Mitchell, announced today that "it appears at the moment unlikely" that any new or additional cost-of-living bonuses will have to be paid by employers Feb. 15.

"When the January (as of Jan. 1) cost-of-living index is announced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics within a few days," the board said in a statement, "it appears possible that it will show a rise of less than one point in the relevant three-month period (October to December, 1941).

"This indicates that the price ceiling is holding, and this is greater advantage to the average working man than the protection provided by a cost-of-living bonus."

Car Jumps Walk Kills Constable

FINGA, Ont., Feb. 4 —(CP). — County Constable Harry Fordham, 59, of Fingal, was fatally injured last night when struck by a car allegedly driven by Gordon McGaw, 23, of Fingal.

Police said McGaw's car was passing another driven by Walter Goodman of St. Thomas when the two vehicles apparently rubbed fenders, and the McGaw car went out of control jumping a shallow ditch, breaking a telephone pole, and striking Fordham who was walking along a sidewalk, before finally wrecking itself against a tree. McGaw was uninjured.

Fordham was taken to hospital where he died four hours later.

Surviving are his widow, one son Frank of Fingal and two daughters, Mrs. Wesley Ross of St. Thomas, Ont., and Mrs. William Marks of Cleveland.

50 Times in 50 Years

EVERY year in the past half century, through good times and bad, the London Life has shown a growth in life insurance in force.

Last year the increase was seventy-one million dollars — by far the greatest in the Company's history. The total amount of Life Insurance in Force is now $769,214,000.

With rapid growth in size there has been an equally impressive growth in financial strength.

These achievements are the result of the high degree of public confidence enjoyed by this Company and the sound practices by which that confidence was built and is being maintained.

The Company's progress and financial strength offer increased opportunities to its representatives. We have positions available for men whose services are not required in the armed forces or who are not engaged in war industries, provided they can meet the high standards applied by the Company in its selection of representatives.

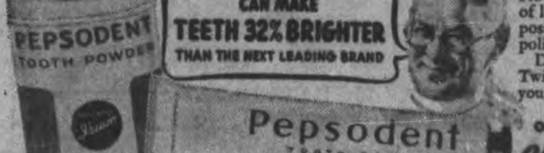
HOW TO TELL TWINS APART or Pepsodent to the Rescue!

1. Twins are confusing enough. But when one of them deliberately tries to fool a fellow... well ... I was all at sea...

3. Suddenly we had a wonderful idea ...Joan and I decided to turn the tables on her twin sister. Joan switched to Pepsodent Powder. Her twin kept right on using her old brand.

4. It worked like a charm! One quick glance told me Joan's teeth were twice as bright! They both use Pepsodent now, but I can tell Joan every time...she's the one with my solitaire on her finger!



5. Independent laboratory tests proved this fact. No other powder can give Pepsodent's high degree of lustre, because only Pepsodent contains Composite Metaphosphate, the remarkable patented polishing ingredient.

Double your chances by making your teeth Twice as Bright. Get Pepsodent Tooth Powder at your favorite drug counter today.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

DEFER BUYING

Purchase of mechanical tax accounting equipment was deferred until after the war by the Council Monday night in the effect of Alderman Sullivan's resolution, seconded by Alderman Mark.

WOMEN'S BROPOSALS.

Monthly medical examination of munitions workers and medical inspection of the drivers of buses and other public vehicles were two recommendations to the council Monday night by the Local Council of Women. It was sent on to the Board of Health with considerable doubt and skepticism of its practicality.

IMPROVE RESTAURANT.

The Canton Restaurant is going the rejuvenating way of all others in this city. Its proprietorship has changed hands, a Chinese from western Canada, but recently of Toronto, having acquired the place. He immediately closed it for the standard facial fixings as prescribed for eateries.

TEACHERS SATISFIED

Reports emanating from the Collegiate Institute indicate that the teaching staff is delighted with the new fluorescent lighting. Foot candle ratings that is the amount of light in the rooms, has been increased from 2 to 6 foot candles, to from 16 to 30 foot candles, and added to this is the fact that there are 8,000 watt saving in the actual watt values of the light units.

FISHING TACKLE TAKEN

While it does not appear that a great deal of booty was taken from cottages at the east end of Stoney Lake, recently broken into, Provincial Constable Price Morris has ascertained that a quantity of fishing tackle and other articles have been stolen from the summer home of Dr. Norwich, Toronto.

THIRD OFFENCE CHARGED

A local man faced a charge of third offence drunkenness in police court this morning, pleaded not guilty and succeeded in securing a two weeks' adjournment. He was charged with being drunk on Driscoll Terrace last night and also with two previous convictions during the past twelve months.

RANGERS ADD FOUR MEMBERS

Four new Peterborough men were taken on strength of the Prince of Wales Rangers (R) machine gun regiment, at the parade Tuesday night. They are Pte. Oliver Henry Sugden, 21 Park street; Kenneth Theodore Shadgett, 556 Charlotte street; Clayton R. McIlwaine, 37 Ware street, and Barry Vincent Shaughnessy, 354 Stewart street.

CAR IS DAMAGED

An automobile driven west on Lake street by John LeGrow, 175 Lock street, was damaged Tuesday afternoon when a truck owned by National Grocers and driven by L. Batman, 406½ Sheridan street, backing into a store on Lake street came into contact with the car. The radiator and grill of the LeGrow machine were damaged.

BRING ON THE BOOK.

Main streeters were agreed this morning that this suggestion book for the City Clerk's office was a good move. "I've got five pet peeves that I want to unload for the City Council to get busy on" was the way one man put it and it was learned later that he could not sleep in the daytime because aeroplanes were flying overhead. So perhaps the City Fathers may be asked to do a lot of things....things that would test the wisdom of Solomon.

CHARGE DISMISSED

A charge of non-support brought against a young married man was dismissed by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., when he gave judgment in the case this morning, after hearing evidence yesterday. His Worship said that he was satisfied that the case did not come within the statutes and therefore there would be an acquittal. Ralph O. Standish who appeared for the accused told the court that there had been a reconciliation and the young couple were going to start afresh.

IN THE AIR FORCE

Gerald Fitzgerald, A.C. 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Fitzgerald of this city is now stationed at Mont Jolie, Quebec, having been transferred from the No. 1 Manning Depot at Toronto.

ONE WEEK RUSH

J. J. Dorris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce reported today that 6,200 out of the district quota of 7,900 passenger car licenses have been purchased, and truck licenses have been sold on about the same ratio.

SALES ARE HIGH

The weekly report from the Collegiate this morning shows that $325.00 worth of War Savings Stamps was sold during the past week, and along with this $20.00 worth of certificates was also disposed of.

IN GENERAL RATE

The tax levy for garbage collection will be included in the general rate charged against the whole taxable property of the city, including business assessment, the Council decided Monday night on Alderman Swanston's motion. It has been customarily applied separately.

THREE MORE MINOR FIRES

Two more chimney fires Tuesday and another today were reported by Fire Chief George Gimblett. Tuesday's fires were at 56 Victoria avenue and 449 Rogers street. The response this morning was to 476 Mark street. No damage was caused at any of the fires, the chief said.

SOME ENVY MAYBE!

A Kitchener resolution asking the federal government to consult employers and employees in regard to any industry whose production is curtailed by lack of supplies, such as rubber, failed to get local attention Monday night. Some one remarked that they must have plenty of time on their hands to think up such bright ideas. "They meet once a week," Mayor Hamilton said. "And that resolution sounds like it," said Alderman Gordon.

Council's Book Ready For Your Ideas

City Clerk Outram went shopping this morning and bought a community suggestion book which will be kept in a spot in his office handy to the citizens. Its blank pages invite your ideas and inspiration, and if you have something to grouse about you can get it out of your emotions and before the council's attention by penning in the new journal.

The Council might have gone a step forward in the direction of stimulus by proposing a prize for the best suggestion, to be paid next Christmas. Decision of the winning proposal would probably have to be left with the Council. Still, they did not think encouragement was necessary, and Alderman Dutton apparently anticipates that the book will soon begin to bristle with complaints.

Well, there it is, and don't say you can't get your recommendations or grievances before the Council. If they are worth a walk to the corner of Water and Simcoe Streets they will presently reach the Council, but the guarantee of action does not carry beyond that point.

TB Deaths Drop Across Ontario

TORONTO, Feb. 4.—(CP).—Hon. H. J. Kirby Ontario Minister of Health, said yesterday in releasing a report on the chief causes of death in the province in 1940 as compared with 1939 that the proportion of Ontario's population in the older age groups of 60 and over is increasing each year. The frequency and duration of illness in these groups is more pronounced, he added.

Another significant fact the report showed was a decrease among the earlier ages of deaths from tuberculosis, pneumonia and bronchitis and also a decrease in infant mortality during the past few years.

It gave a death rate of 10.23 per 1,000 estimated population for 1940, compared with 10.00 per 1,000 in 1939.

Adong the 20 chief causes of death for the year per 100,000 population, disease of the heart, arteries and kidneys contributed 15,368, or 39.9 per cent. of all deaths.

WOMEN GRATEFUL

The Council has completed construction of a shed for the Salvage committee of the Civic War Council. It is located on the property of the South Central School and represents the result of co-operaion between the Board of Education ,the Council and Hubert Eastwood, who undertook to put it up without any charge for his service. Mrs. Elizabeth G. Collins, secretary, wrote the Council Monday, expressing thanks for this facility.

Gordon Fraser Opposes Suggested Move

OTTAWA, Feb. 4.—(CP).— Gordon K. Fraser, (Con. Peterborough) referring to the proposed removal of Japanese from the Pacific coast during the House of Commons debate Tuesday, said these people were not wanted in Ontario because if they once got there they would want to remain.

He said he agreed the Japanese should be taken out of British Columbia and sympathized with the attitude of the people of the west province, but thought they should be kept in work camps under close governmental supervision.

He said he believed they could be employed usefully in building roads as it now was impossible to obtain road-building machinery which was all busy building airports.

"We do not want those Japanese in Ontario, whether in lumber camps, or on farms, or anywhere else," he said, "because if they got here they would find Ontario is such a beautiful country they would want to stay in it."

"They wouldn't stay in Ontario anway," said George Cruickshank (Lib. Fraser Valley).

"Well, Ontario is the finest province in Canada and we have enough people coming in from outside now taking the jobs without bringing in any more" said Mr. Fraserr.

He appealed to the government to forget about the proposed plebiscite to secure release from its anti-conscription pledges and "get down to business and hold a secret session so that we can all get together."

The government alone knew whether conscription were necessary or not. If it were necessary there was no reason for the plebiscite, and if it were not necessary there was still less reason, Mr. Fraser said.

Sailor Escapes Serious Injury

Home on leave from the Canadian Navy, Leo Cleary, 529 Rogers street, had a narrow escape from serious injury Tuesday night when the car which he was driving skidded on the slippery surface of Highway 7 and smashed into a highway fence.

The accident happened at the intersection of Highway 7 and the River Road, just east of the Locks bridge. Cleary was driving a car north on the River Road and just as he reached the highway applied his brakes because of a passing truck. When he did so his automobile slewed around and slid sideways into the guard fence on the north side of the highway, breaking off a post.

Elmer Donaghue, 449 Roger street and Claire Scollard, 186 Hunter street, were passengers in the car and they and the driver escaped without injury. The automobile was badly damaged along one side.

Port Hope Driver Hurt At Fort Erie

FORT ERIE, Ont., Feb. 4.—(CP) —Caught beneath the front wheel of a large transport today, Elgin Ellison of Port Hope was removed to hospital with a badly crushed leg.

Police said a truck driven by Tom Lingard of Port Hope collided with a transport driven by O. Kellestine of Prescott, Ont. Ellison, who was riding in Lingard's truck, jumped out just before the collision and fell in the path of the transport.

Police said Lingard was arrested for leaving the scene of the accident.

Belleville Couple Injured In Smash

ROSENEATH, Feb. 4—(ENS). — Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Tucker of Belleville met with an accident near Grafton, Highway No. 2, while motoring from Belleville to visit his mother, Mrs. S. A. Tucker, Roseneath on Sunday.

The car, driven by Mr. Tucker, skidded and struck a Hydro pole with such force both occupants were thrown from the car. Mrs. Tucker was removed to Cobourg Hospital, and while suffering from head injuries and shock, the full extent of her injuries are not determined. Mr. Tucker, after receiving treatment, was allowed to go home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker are former residents of Roseneath.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Pringle included their son Hilton of Lindsay, their daughter Vivian of Peterborough, Miss Daisy Blackburn of Lindsay, and Pte. E. Burneski of Calgary.

Tom and Jim Robins of Peterborough spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. W. J. Robins.

A Havelock Officer

Air Commodore Wilfred A. Curtis, who was raised to his present rank from group captain this week, and is now serving in the R.C.A.F. in England. He was born in Havelock and has many friends and relatives in this district. He is now second in command of the R.C.A.F. in England under Air Vice-Marshal Harold Edwards.

Air Raid Heads Clear Decks For Local Work

Lt.-Col. M. R. Sloan has been appointed chief Warden of the Civil Defense Corps which has been given charge of Air Raid Precautions action in Peterborough. He was confirmed in this post by a resolution of the council Monday night.

Most of the services are already well manned but there is need of volunteers for firemen and for first aid work which is under the direction of Dr. D. Avison, M.O.H.

W. J. Scott, K.C., Ontario Fire Marshall is coming to Peterborough next Sunday afternoon to talk to the new organization on general and local organization for civilian defense This meeting will be held in St. Alphonsus Lyceum, beginning at 2:15 p.m.

A.R.P. directors at a meeting this week included Mayor Hamilton, L. A. Grant, M. R. Sloan, Chief Gimblete, R. L. Dobbin and R. H. Parsons.

The Defense Corps is making a special appeal to citizens to join up in the first aid and fire fighting departments.

The council's action in recommending the appointment of Lt.-Col. Sloan and forwarding notice of the recognition of the Corps to Hon. Gordon Conant, Attorney-General, is to qualify for whatever equipment may be available and also for compensation to any of the members of Corps who may suffer injury during an authorized blackout.

Fenelon Falls Hotel Burned

LINDSAY, Ont., Feb. 4.—(ENS)— The old Brooks Hotel, Fenelon Falls, a landmark in the village, and operated during past two years by H. N. Eldred was totally destroyed by fire, early today, together with the contents. Mrs. Eldred, wife of the proprietor, had a narrow escape from being trapped in the burning building. A pet dog, which had been sleeping in the hotel gave the alarm and aroused Mrs. Eldred. The fire broke out in the south east corner of the fourth floor of the brick structure and the woman made her escape through a door which led to the roof below and called for aid. Oliver Dike came to her rescue and assisted her to the ground. The firemen responded promptly, but after the top floor fell in all hopes of saving the structure was abandoned. There is nothing left standing today but the bare walls. The loss will be heavy, and it is understood it is partially covered by insurance.

Enough News Supplies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—(AP).— The United States production board, without making any promises for the future, says indications now are that domestic and Canadian newsprint supplies will meet ordinary needs and that there will be no shortage of black printing ink.

The board's printing and publishing branch predicts however that colored ink production will have to cut by about one-quarter. It also urges that all vital printing and publishing materials be conserved, including all kinds of paper, ink, type metal and plates, stapling and binding wire and photographic chemicals.

Estimates Cut $4,897 On City Schools

Property committee of the Board of Education discussed estimates for the current year on Tuesday evening and at the windup of the discussion sent along a recommendation to the Board that the estimates in the Property slot be approximately $29,241, as against the 1941 figures of $34,138. Those present were Dr. A. Moir, Dr. C. Scott, H. J. Walker and G. Wilson Craw (chairman).

This total includes the cost of fuel, light, water, power, gas, taxes, caretaker's supplies and all new work and repairs in the entire city school system, and Mr. Walker chairman of the Board remarked that it was apparent that the budget has been kept close to rock bottom requirements.

The list of items for the public schools include the following:

King Edward School — Painting the interior complete.

Prince of Wales School—Insulating Home Economics room, Kindergarten and two additional rooms, repairing roof and removing skylight.

Central School—Repair girls' entrance basement east building; boys' entrance basement west building; reroofing west building, repair steps to office.

Queen Mary—Insulation of two rooms; painting exterior; painting toilet rooms for boys and girls.

King George—New door and frame for girls' entrance; painting toilet rooms for girls and boys.

Queen Alexandra — Completing basement window areas, reroofing, repairs doors outside entrances. The question of moving the principal's office to the ground floor was struck off for the time as Mr. Walker pointed out, it was hardly a necessity. This item has been sidetracked now for three successive years. The principal's office is at the back of the school on the second floor.

Tools and equipment for the workshop, furniture for the handicraft class, sanitary drinking fountain bubblers, all passed the committee.

For the administration building it was suggested that a block masonite floor be laid in the board room, with linoleum on the steps, and hallway, partitioning of the office to make more room and give the secretary more privacy, additional chairs for the board room, and redecorating of the motor mechanics' class room were all approved.

The major item on the property list for the Collegiate is the redecoration of the auditorium. Fred Finnie, maintenance supervisor estimated the complete job at $850.00. The hall has not been done since 1929 when it was completed, and the lower walls up to a height of about eight feet are badly marked and discolored. G. Wilson Craw, the chairman of the committee suggested as an alternative to the complete job, that a darker tone be used to repaint the walls up to a cornice which surrounds the auditorium about eight feet from the floor. If this were not done, he contended the Board would be continually spending money to keep these lower walls clean.

This view was shared by the other members of the committee, and the estimated cost of this minor job was set at $200 by Mr. Finnie. Mr. Ward, chief caretaker at the Collegiate stated work was almost completed at the Collegiate on the installation of the fluorescent fixtures and results very satisfactory. He explained that foot candle ratings in the room with the new lighting ranged from 16 to 30 foot candles. It also effects a saving of 8,000 watts of electricity and rectifies the overloaded circuits. It was decided to recommend additional lights to the typing room because it so much larger than the others, and to do one of the academic rooms which at the present time has just two 200 watt lamps.

Abusive Beggar Given 15 Days

Fifteen days in jail was the sentence imposed by Magistrate O. A. Langley, G.C., in police court this morning on John "Blackie" Carr, after the transient had pleaded guilty to a charge of begging here Tuesday.

"He was under the influence of liquor and bothering people on the street," Inspector J. F. Reid told the court. "When they refused to give him money he used abusive language."

"I was just passing through the town," Carr said.

"He passes through pretty often," Inspector Reid retorted.

"I don't think you are the kind of person Peterborough wants to welcome," said Magistrate Langley to the accused. "There are some folk we are glad to see but you do not come within that category."

Carr, who said he had been given ten days on a drunk charge here some time ago, was given fifteen days in the county bastille and Magistrate Langley added a warning that if he came back again he would in all probability be sent to the reformatory.

Fairview Group Adds $21.25 For War Victims

For the fifth time in less than nine months, the Fairview group has come forward with a nice donation to help British War Victims through the City and district fund operating for that purpose. On Friday night this group held a euchre and social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown for which prizes of fowl and eggs had previously been donated, and these were drawn for by Mary Cobourn, while George Lockington in his usual genial manner acted as chairman for the occasion, the net result being the nice donation of $21.25 for the fund which was received through the secretary of the group, Mrs. W. Fowler. Mrs. Fred Brown is the president of this group which plans to continue its efforts on behalf of the fund.

The Get-Together-Club is today listed with its 11th contribution to the Fund, this time with $8.85 per Miss N. Thompson, which brings the total to date up to $128.20.

Only three meetings were held during the month, but the Club continues its good work on behalf of the fund, and now its members are selling tickets for a draw on a pair of embroidered pillow slips which were made and donated to the fund by Mrs. J. J. Stewart of 545 Aylmer street. These can be procured from any member of the club at 10c each or three for 25c.

Three personal donations are listed, one of them from R. A. Auerbach of Eastern Pennsylvania, who is export manager for the Canadian Sealright Co. Ltd.

Saturday Night at Y.M.C.A.

Next Saturday night the Saturday Night Club of the Y.M.C.A., with Allan Holmes as chairman of this group, is holding a dance in the Y.M.C.A. which will commence at 9.30, with the proceeds coming to the fund. Patrons and patronesses for the occasion will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lacheur, and Mr. and Mrs. Ian F. McRae, while music will be by Lloyd Budge and his orchestra.

Tickets, which are $1.00 per couple, may be procured from any of the club members, the desk at the Y.M.C.A. or at Dick Raines two stores, Bert McLeod's Drug store, Knox Jewelry store and Jay's Cigar store. A similar event last year netted the splendid sum of $160 for the fund, and the committee is hopeful of duplicating or even surpassing this to help along the people of Britain.

Men of Omemee

A gala night is in store in Omemee on Friday, February 13, when a game of hockey between Peterborough and Omemee Juniors, and a dance in Coronation Hall will culminate a campaign to raise funds which will be divided equally between this fund, the Red Cross and the Soldiers' Air Fund. The committee is hopeful of raising at least $600, towards which they have for some time been selling tickets at 25c each or five for $1.00 on a registered bull, and the draw will be made for it at the dance to be held that evening. Committee is representative of all the men of Omemee, who feel they wish to do their share in helping along the war charities, for the past two years. Rev. R. M. Patterson is the representative for the fund in this district.

More Hogs This Year Is County Prospect

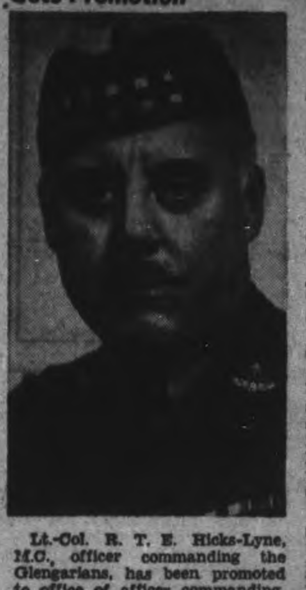
Peterborough farmers are going to raise more hogs this year, and Frank Paterson, agricultural representative, says they will be needed. This bit of information today was a first impression from the stack of replies which farmers have been forwarding to the Agricultural War Council's questionnaire.

"Quite a number of these farmers say that they are going to keep an extra sow. If they had one last year they are now keeping two, and when you piece that part of the picture together you can see more litters than last year. I have not looked through all the statements that have come in. That is really the job of the new committee, and most of them have scanned through the sheaf of replies."

$9,600 FOR HOSPITAL

For maintenance purposes this year, the Nicholls Hospital Trust has asked the Council for $9,600, payable in monthly instalments of $800. City Treasurer Shaver and Ed Humpage, city auditor, are being asked to examine requisitions which are coming in to the Council for grants to institutions. It is expected that they will meet with the finance commitee when the budget is under consideration.

Gets Promotion



Lt.-Col. R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne, M.C., officer commanding the Glengarians, has been promoted to office of officer commanding, Canadian Military Records at Governor House, London. This is a staff position and will take Col. Hicks-Lyne out of the combatant category. At present Major Cockburn of Kingston of the Glengarians, is acting officer commanding.

Skiers Galore Flock To New Ski-Site

Success of the new ski-tow on the Rifle Range Hill in Otonabee, two miles east of the city on the old Norwood Road is assured since the heavy snowfall of the last week-end which brought more than 150 skiers, both young and old to the skiing spot.

The hill is ideal for all skiers, both amateurs and veterans, as there are steep grades and safe gentle slopes, long runs on the level, and a few obstacle runs that will test the agility and skill of the best skiers. The tow is located at the north-end of the hill, and a canteen has been erected so that skiers and spectators can obtain refreshments. In lieu of a shelter Andy Rutter, provided a roaring bonfire in a sheltered spot where everyone was able to get warm.

Many people from the city motored out to the spot and ran their cars into the field at the base of the hill, from where they were able to watch the skiers in comfort, having an unrestricted view of the hill. Three carloads of skiers came down from the Grove School, and once the spot becomes better known it should attract record crowds, and will be a boon to the farmers in the district as the traffic will make travel on the Norwood Road a pleasure.

It is hoped that in the near future a shelter can be put up and a large wood stove placed in it for the comfort of the skiers, as many are in the habit of skiing out from the city and should have a hut in which to get warmed up.

Adults and youngsters alike may obtain free instruction on skiing from Andy Rutter.

This hill is the highest in the district as it is possible to see over top of Armour Hill when one is on the brow of this hill. It is actually a huge drumlin, lying northeast, southwest and it tapers to the south forming gradual slopes that are safe and provide plenty of fun for the novices. The hill is heavily wooded in spots and interesting ski trails could be laid out to the south in the valley if the skiers desired it.

Next Saturday and Sunday should see new records set in the attendance bracket if snow conditions remain as they are or get better.

War Circus Train Arrives Here Thursday

Tom McArthur, C.P.R. agent reported today that the army train which arrives in the city on Thursday morning will have to be shunted on to the siding directly in front of the station, because of its length. There are at least fifteen baggage cars in the unit, and these could not be accommodated on the siding along the Co-op building.

The display of military equipment being shown on the train surpasses anything ever shown in this city, and prospective recruits for the various branches of the service will learn much from the display to aid them in choosing the line of work they prefer.

Tanks, artillery pieces, rifles, tommy-guns, trucks, in short all of the tools of war, that John Public is paying for when he buys Victory Bonds, will be on exhibition for the purpose of giving Canadians a better look at what their money buys in wartime.

The fifteen-car train left Ottawa on Tuesday carrying the "war circus" and it will travel from coast to coast, showing how the army works and the tools it requires in this battle for preservation of our way of living.

It was stated in the Ottawa Journal that the equipment will be unloaded and all branches of the army will be given a chance to demonstrate their jobs under modern battle conditions. However this point could not be verified but it is known that the public will be shown everything there is to see, and there will be soldiers on hand to answer questions about the equipment and tell how it works.

The train is being shown in connection with the Second Victory Loan Drive across the Dominion which gets underway on Feb. 16, and the trainload of equipment will show better than any story can tell, the manifold needs of the modern mechanized army.

The equipment will be on display between 11.30 fast time and four-thirty fast time.

The unit includes a Bren Gun Carrier, a 25 pounder gun, all types of small arms, light and heavy machine guns, signalling equipment, trade training display, ordnance and army service corps equipment, Field Hospital and dental equipment, decontamination equipment for mopping up after a gas attack, and many more military items.

Discuss Friendship

St. Andrew's Young People's Union met last night with "Friendship" as the theme of the meeting. A discussion about friends and the necessary qualities to be found in them brought forth some of the following conclusions: That friendship shows that one's horizon, although seemingly big, is really quite small; that loyalty, truthfulness, sincerity and tenderness are fundamental qualities to be sought in a friend; that mutual interests are very necessary surface qualities; and that to have a friend you must be a friend.

Bible Class Meets

The regular meeting of the Excelsior Bible Class of St. James' Church was held at the home of Mrs. A. Saunders, Monaghan Road. The meeting opened with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," then the Lord's Prayer in unison. Miss Olive Morley read the Scripture. The girls decided to send a baby's layette and a quilt to the Rev. Charles Kitney, Grand Prairie, Alberta, to be used among his people in the West. A delicious lunch was served by the committee. Those present were Misses Jessie Martin, Dorothy Swanger, Grace Kimball, Olive Morley, and Mrs. S. Leggett, Mrs. M. McIntyre, Mrs. M. Mantell, Mrs. K. Meredith, Mrs. A. Saunders.

Auxiliary Honors Mrs. Howard Clegg

The February meeting of the Helen Roger Missionary Society of Knox United church was held at the home of Mrs. A. Hutchinson, 547 Downie street, Monday evening.

The meeting was opened with the reading of a patriotic poem entitled "We our Share Must Take," followed by a prayer by Mrs. H. Clegg. Following a brief business period Mrs. D. Gourlay, Community Friendship secretary asked the members to help her by calling on the newcomers to our church who live in their neighborhoods.

Miss Mary Martin gave a timely paper on "Christian Stewardship," reminding the members of the vital part which stewardship plays in the organization and the church.

"The Bible, our Guide to Christian Faith and Conduct" was the theme of the worship service conducted by the president.

Mrs. William Dale, assisted by Mrs. H. Williamson, Mrs. R. Goodfellow, Mrs. H. Clegg, Mrs. Stewart, presented Chapter 2 of the study book, "The Sons of Shuh," giving a short, interesting report of the "Forward Movement in China."

During the social period, Mrs. Ross Williamson, on behalf of the society, presented the president, Mrs. H. Clegg, with an umbrella and the following short address: "As an auxiliary we have thrived under your leadership for ten years. We realize that you again accepted its leadership even against your own personal desire. So we, the members of the Helen Roger Auxiliary, would like you to receive this token of our appreciation and gratitude."

St. Andrew's W.A Hears Talk On Winston Churchill

There was a good attendance at the regular meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Association on Tuesday, with Mrs. H. Paige Rowell presiding.

Conveners of the various committees presented encouraging reports: Mrs. G. A. Gillespie, Salvage; Mrs. J. R. Marshall, Visiting; Mrs. C. B. Waite, Red Cross; Mrs. E. Hawley, Cradle Roll; and Mrs. H. Tremain, Local Council.

Mrs. E. R. Shirley's group was in charge of the program for the meeting. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. C. M. Scott, who read the Scripture lesson and led in prayer.

Mrs. K. S. Wightman, guest speaker, reviewed the colorful life of Winston Churchill in a very interesting manner. Her talk was brought to a close with Mr. Churchill's words, "Let us therefore brace ourselves that, if the British Empire and its Commonwealth last for a thousand years, men will still say, 'This was their finest hour'."

Mrs. F. Turner sang "I've Been Roaming," by Horn, accompanied by Mrs. J. F. Osborne. Tea was served by group members.

Jeanette Scott Chapter Elects Officers

The seventh annual meeting of the Jeanette Scott Chapter I.O.D.E. was held on Monday evening at the home of Miss Margaret Widdess, with the Regent, Mrs. W. Preston, in the chair. Members were urged by the war secretary, Miss Anne Heiderman, to increase their knitting efforts and to save salvage.

Annual reports by the treasurer, Mrs. J. Richardson, the secretray, Mrs. R. Chenoweth, and the Regent, Mrs. W. Preston, disclosed a most successful year. The war secretary briefly enumerated the Chapter's activities in war work and reported that 243 knitted articles had been distributed by the Chapter during the year. Help was given to the Peterborough War Services and Community Chest, the Victoria League Club, the Navy League, the Lucy Morrison Memorial Fund, the Coronation Bursary Fund, the War Victims' Fund and the Milk for Britain Fund.

The following officers were elected for 1942: Honorary Regent, Mrs. Fred Hooper; Regent, Mrs. W. Preston; Vice-Regent, Mrs. W. B. Gordon; 2nd Vice-Regent, Miss Isabel Weddell; 3rd Vice-Regent, Mrs. A. Drynan; Secretary, Mrs. Jim Turner; Treasurer, Miss J. Batten; Echoes Secretary, Mrs. G. Gillespie; Educational Secretary, Mrs. R. Honey; Press Secretary, Mrs. Lionel Sorbey; War Secretary, Miss Mary Medd; assistant War Secretary, Mrs. J. Dawson; Child Welfare, Mrs. Hugh Waddell; Standard Bearer, Mrs. W. Breyfogle; Councillors: Mrs. R. Nott, Mrs. N. Caverly, Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. L. Welsh, Mrs. R. McWilliams. Social conveners: Mrs. N. Rishor and Mrs. Jack Richardson.

A vote of thanks moved by Miss Grace Comstock to Mrs. Preston for her efforts in the past year; to Mrs. George Rishor, vice-regent, who ably filled her place during Mrs. Preston's absence, and to members of the executive, was heartily endorsed.

Rev. Dr. Smart Addresses W.A.

The February meeting of the George Street W.A. was held on Tuesday afternoon in the church parlor with Mrs. G. A. Borland and Mrs. M. MacIntyre welcoming the ladies.

Mrs. W. G. Harris, the president opened the meeting with the reading of a poem, "So Long as there are Homes." Mrs. J. Tinney had charge of the devotional period with Mrs. W. McMillan and Mrs. J. Brown assisting.

The guest speaker, Rev. Dr. J. D. Smart was introduced by Rev. H. L. Roberts. Dr. Smith gave a very inspiring talk, stressing our need of the church today and our responsibility in the post war years. Mr. H. Batten, accompanied by Mrs. C. Renaud sang "Can a Boy Forget His Mother." A vote of thanks was given to the speaker and soloist by Mrs. L. M. Richardson and Mrs. T. Mark.

Mrs. J. M. Fanning, reporting for the visiting committee, said that 60 calls had been made for the month, and Mrs. H. Girven for the membership reported 38 calls. Letters of thanks for flowers and expressions of sympathy were read by Mrs. C. W. McGee. Miss E. L. Might and Mrs. J. M. Fanning were reappointed as representatives to the Local Council of Women.

EMBROIDERY ON BASQUE MODE

PATTERN 9974

Make your spring frock look DIFFERENT—make it with a lowered basque bodice, and add a touch of embroidery on the shoulder! Pattern 9974 by Marion Martin includes the transfer and directions. It's style-right, style-bright for your "dated-up" spring calendar—see the smart curved neckline, dart-fitted bodies, and front skirt gathers! Short or three-quarter sleeves are optional, and the bodies buttons pertly down the back making a side placket unnecessary. Do you like color contrast? Then the front yoke, sleeve and skirt may be made of another hue. You may also use an inverted box pleat in the front skirt, instead of gathers. The Sew Chart is a step-by-step guide.

Pattern 9974 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards 39-inch fabric.

Mission Circle Hears Talk On Home Missions

The Murray Street Ladies' Mission Circle meeting was held on Tuesday afternoon in the Ladies' Parlour with the president, Mrs. W. Kidd, in the chair.

Mrs. N. Barrie made a good report of calls made during the month and Mrs Kidd reminded the ladies that the objective was before them and that everyone should strive to reach it.

The president told a delightful story about a Hungarian family separated in their homeland but later re-united in their new Canadian home. Mrs. W. Frise asked a few thought provoking questions, "Do home missions count?" and "Are we called to be soul-winners?" "The flame of our Mission lighthouses," she concluded, "should be kept burning."

As the meeting was devoted to the study of Home Missions, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Sutcliffe, rapidly sketched the different fields in a territory extending 1,285 miles east and west, and from James Bay to the Great Lakes. With the aid of a map Mr. Sutcliffe showed the different stations in towns, many of which have grown to cities since the mining boom. The most northerly of these missions is in Cochrane, 253 miles north of North Bay. Mrs. Leeson, once a member of the W.A., is now a hospital supervisor in Cochrane.

Mr. Sutcliffe added interest to his talk by mentioning the names of members, or their friends, who had sojourned in these towns at some time. He pointed out the vast country, where so much can be done, and should be done, to lay the foundations for a greater kingdom in the future.

Catholic Junior League Presents Play in Lyceum

"Henpecked Henry" Hyde, a weak-minded husband who, through several years of married life, let his overbearing wife rule the Hyde household with an iron jaw suddenly gets a grip on himself and takes over command of the household. This was the climax to the play "Henpecked Henry" put on last night by the Catholic Junior League before a packed house in the Lyceum. A repeat performance will be given tonight in the Lyceum.

The audience roared with laughter at the various situations created in the plot and it was not until the final moment of the play that everything was ironed out. Robert Baldwin capably directed the play with Charles Duffus and Anne Schiarizza assisting technicians. A vocal quartette composed of Jules Mercier, Robert Baldwin, Anthony DeNoble and Edward Murphy sang two numbers between acts.

The scene opened on a street outside of a park in a small California town. Henry Hyde, alias Henpecked Henry (Fabian Galvin) and Ace Bliss (Kenneth Lemaire) are sitting on a park bench bemoaning the fact that they concocted a story for their wives to the effect they were leaving home to attend a convention. It was really their intention to go fishing but they had chosen a bad spot—no fishing was allowed in the stream and they had spent several days in jail and, as a result Henry had overstayed his four days away from his wife. Of course Ace wasn't worried because he had control of his wife and she didn't dictate to him.

Women In the Case

As they discussed their plight and how they were to get home without sufficient money, two ladies, Gladys Rogers (Lucy Marrocco) and Pauline Rogers (Mary Walsh) appear on the scene. Ace introduced Henry as a Hollywood producer and himself as a Hollywood writer in an effort to get a ride in their car which was under repair. The sisters fall for their line but the boys failed to hitch a ride that way.

The next act opens in the Hyde household where Mrs. Hyde (Helen Ross) and her daughter Ellen (Marie Kieran)) are discussing the missing Mr. Hyde, with Mrs. Hyde doing most of the talking. Ellen tried to broach the subject of her affections for Kurt Little (Frank Foley) who is determined to marry Ellen, but other matters occupy the mind of Mrs. Hyde. Eventually Henry and Ace arrived home by box car. As they enter, the room is vacant. Ace who always advises Henry to use his head leaves Henry to meet his wife alone.

Haywire Telegram

Mrs. Hyde, before their arrival, received a telegram with Henry's name signed to it which read: "Having a good time, wish you were her." The wire was sent by Ace but in the transmission an "E" had been omitted from the last word and it should have read "Here." No amount of explaining by Henry satisfied his wife.

Mrs. Hyde decides she and their daughter, Ellen and Henpecked Henry will go back to Placerville by car (which she will drive) and find out all about the convention and the "her" of the wire.

During their absence, Eda Rogers, a movie star (Eleanor Sheehy), and her two sisters, ladys and Pauline enter the house where it is revealed they had planned to stay at the home of their uncle while he was away on his honeymoon, but got the houses mixed and arrived at the Hyde home. It also happened that ladys and Pauline were the two girls Ace and Henry met at the park at Placerville.

Henry's Plight

Situations arise one after another in rapid succession. Mrs. Hyde arrives home to find the movie star making love to her husband whom the star believes to be a Hollywood producer. The Rogers sisters order Mrs. Hyde from their home because they believe her to be a domestic whom they don't want because of her mannerisms. Henry pleaded with them to leave but they refuse, believing they are in their uncle's home.

Mrs. Hyde is exasperated and leaves the house to see her lawyer while the girls remain. Ace and Henry meet again but no amount of thinking seems to solve their problem. Mrs. Hyde becomes involved in a hit and run accident while she is away but does not tell anyone about it until William B. Cripps (Garnet Johnston), a man of business, attempts to settle the matter for $300.

In the course of events, Cripps is recognized by Ace and Henry as a racketeer who spent time in jail with them in Placeville.

Henry Gets Upper Hand

Henry's true identity is revealed to the Rogers sisters in a remark by Mrs. Hyde, and from then on the situations begin to clear themselves and Henry's wife begins to weaken under the firm order of her husband to shut up. Mrs. Hyde winds up by agreeing to everything Henry says.

Lottie Hartigan, the Hyde maid who forgets to remember (Agnes Barrett), adds much comedy to the play with her bad memory, while Mrs. Ace Bliss (Mary McFadden) pretends to be the understanding wife but who reveals toward the end of the play that her husband tells all his plans to her in his sleep.

The entire cast displayed talent of a high order and, without exception, those taking part aptly portrayed those characters to which they were assigned. The conduct of the cast under Robert Baldwin was a tribute to himself and those who assisted him.

Work of Year is Reviewed At Annual Meeting of Y.W.

The annual meeting of the Board of the Y.W.C.A. was held on Tuesday evening in the Green Room, with Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner in the chair. Miss Brownscombe opened the meeting with a few words about the aims, ideals and responsibilities of the Y.W. and then the meeting was given over to the reading of reports.

The secretary of the Board, Miss A. Wood, read an excellent and encouraging report on the year's work. Proof of the fact that the Y is indeed a community centre may be found in the fact that no less than 22 different outside organizations used its rooms as meeting places during the last year. This is in addition to the many clubs held under the auspices of the association itself. Also six teas and seven music recitals were given in the building.

The outstanding event last year was the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary, which was marked by three events, the annual meeting, a pageant written by Mrs. L. J. Pettit depicting the development of the Peterborough association, and an anniversary dance sponsored by the Girls' Council.

On November 14, 15, 16, a conference in Leadership for Board and committee members was conducted by Miss Julia Capon, former secretary of the National Council in the United States.

Instead of its usual financial campaign last year, the Y.W. co-operated with other organizations in the Community Chest Campaign, and the results have entirely justified the departure from the usual custom.

A satisfactory treasurer's report was read by Miss E. Morrow, and reports were read by the following: Interpretation and national support, Mrs. Paige Rowell; residence, Mrs. H. Wightman; swimming, Mrs. G. E. Porter; physical committee, Mrs. R. Cutting; girl's work, Mrs. C. Southeran; war services committee, Mrs. F. M. Somerville; camp, Mrs. S. L. Smoke, for Mrs. H. M. Yelland; girls' council, Mrs. Ken Choate.

Bronze medallions and Intermediate Certificates for life-saving were presented by Mrs. Porter to the following: Bronze Medallions, Anne Overend, June Killingbeck, Marian Helson, Frances Wardle, Lucille Duffy, Jaqueline Ballantyne, Doris Anne Fanning, Jean Rutherford; Intermediate Certificates, Iris Forbes, Shirley Richardson, Helen Beatty, Pauline Patterson.

At the end of the meeting there was a social hour and refreshments were served by the social committee under the convenership of Mrs. C. Collins. Those serving were Miss Flora Metcalfe, Mrs. H. David, Miss G. Conley, Miss Olga Johnson, Mrs. W. Perks, Mrs. G. Young.

During the evening those present were delighted with vocal solos by Mrs. Ford Turner, accompanied by Miss Musa Cox; and Miss Margaret Dickson, accompanied by Mr. Stanley Northrop.

OUT OF WOMAN'S FATALISM SPRINGS DISAPPOINTMENTS

Don't Trust to Luck—Ambition Takes You Farther Along in This Troubled World.

One of the most pathetic things in the world is the way that women gamble with their lives. Not one of them in a thousand has any definite ambition, any goal towards which she is striving, any ideal of what she wants to be, or has mapped out any plan for her future. The majority trust everything to luck. They want to be happy and successful, but they never seem to think that they have any part in determining their fate. The average woman believes in Kismet as implicity as the most devout Mohammedan. What will be, will be, and you can't do anything about it. And out of this fatalism springs most of her disappointments and sorrows and failures, for, after all, it doesn't do to depend entirely upon our Fairy Godmothers. They are stingy old women we have to wheedle and cajole and hold up for what we get out of them.

Probably the thing that girls desire above all other blessings is to be popular with boys, to have many dates and to be the belle of the ball wherever they go, but whether they are or not they regard as just a matter of chance. When they sit at home and read an improving book, instead of being out somewhere dancing their feet off, they attribute it to their ill fortune in not having been born a Miss America, and they just settle down on the anxious seat without even trying to acquire a line of charm that are far from potent than mere looks.

It is almost an axiom that the homelier a girl is, the worst taste she displays in dressing, the crazier she does her hair, the duller she is to talk to, and the more she treads on her partner's feet when she dances. She doesn't try to off-

Meighen Favors Three-Way Conscription

TORONTO, Feb. 4 — (CP). — Acceptance for himself and the Conservative party of the principle of "conscription of men if conscription of wealth and industry is imposed on an equal basis," was announced at a meeting here last night by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Canadian Conservative leader and candidate in the York South Federal by-election February 9.

Mr. Meighen said: "Mr. Coldwell (M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader in the House of Commons) has said his party will accept conscription of men if conscription of wealth and industry is imposed on an equal basis. I accept his offer. I speak for myself and the Conservative party.'

The Conservative leader said he always had favored the type of conscription of wealth now advocated by the C.C.F. and would accept any measure of conscription that would assist in winning the war.

'I have been quoted as saying I only favored conscription of wealth as the last gasp," he said. 'I never made any such statement. What I did say was that wealth must be conscripted just as thoroughly as manpower just so long as it is necessary to win this war. I said we're taking it nearly all now, but if it all goes, that's the last gasp.

'Property is nothing compared with liberty. If you must take it, take it all to the last gasp. I am not opposed to the conscription of wealth in the terms that Noseworthy (J. W. Noseworthy, C.C.F. candidate in the York South by-election) and Coldwell are now advocating. But if you mean out-and-out government control, that is Socialism, and it is nonsense. The government can't run the farms as well as the farmer, and it can't run the factories as efficiently as the man who built the factory."

Big China Loan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—(AP).—President Roosevelt has asked the United States Congress to approve a $500,000,000 loan for China, it was learned to-day.

The White house disclosed that Mr. Roosevelt had send a letter to Spaeker Sam Rayburn requesting that Congress approve the fund.

Putting His Back Into His Work

Members of a ground crew of the British Royal Air Force are shown loading the bomb racks of an Albacore bomber on a desert landing field during the last drive of the British Imperials across Cyrenaica. Note the three-man technique of handling heavy bombs.

Peterboro Officer, Lt. E. H. Roberts Overseas With Special Regiment

Somewhere in England, Feb. 4—(CP)—When guns of the Canadian Corps bombard the enemy front, the Survey Regiment of the Royal Canadian Artillery will be with the gunners to aid their firing accuracy with highly scientific methods and secret devices.

By survey methods, sound ranging, flash spotting and other means this unit will spot and plot gun positions and targets down to the last yard, even when the enemy is a dozen miles away.

In the last war, some of these principles were used and the German Big Bertha shelling Paris was located by means which included sound ranging — determining location of guns by their report.

The Canadians now have carried out advanced development work which has improved this technique greatly. The British consider the Canadian Survey Regiment the most efficient of its type.

The regiment, high in technical skill, is comprised of men who in civil life were engineers, miners, electricians, photographers, radio technicians, surveyors, construction men and the like. Some men in the ranks have university degrees and others are university professors. Canadians now working on radio location were drafted from the Survey Regiment.

Batteries have been on operation in England, have calibrated the most powerful guns in the United Kingdom, including "Winnie" and "Pooh" on the South Coast, and have trained hard for the job with Canadian Corps.

A lieutenant-colonel from Montreal commands the unit. He was with the British Artillery during the first Great War and at the end served two years in Iraq. In peace-time he was president of a company which operates a magnesite deposit in Quebec.

In 1938 he formed the 2nd Survey Company which was part of the 2nd Montreal Regiment, R.C.A. On outbreak of war it was mobilized as the Survey Regiment under the colonel's command.

Roberts Assistant Adjutant

Major W. D. Kirk of Montreal is second-in-command, Lieutenant Reg Wallace of Cardinal, Ont., adjutant, and Lieutenant E. H. Roberts of Peterborough, Ont., assistant adjutant. The regimental sergeant-major is A. D. Crawford of Montreal.

The Survey Battery, which determines exact location of Canadian guns by survey engineering so the artillerymen can make their calculations for firing, is commanded by Major J. M. Cape of Montreal and troop commanders are Captain P. H. Rioridon of Montreal and Lieutenant J. R. C. Hewitt of Victoria.

Applying engineering to gunnery, this battery moves with field, medium and super-heavy artillery regiments. It is essential to real target accuracy in many cases.

Major R. N. McLeod of Montreal commands the Sound Ranging Battery. Its work is done with intricate but sturdy machinery. Electricity as well as photography is involved, and use is made of wireless. The battery is far more mobile than in the last war.

Accuracy of the work is surprising, and sound ranging is the only means of accurately locating enemy guns for the Canadian Artillery to fire at in fog or at night when the enemy artillery is so well concealed it does not give itself away by muzzle flashes.

"Gunners have all kinds of means of getting shells on targets, and the Survey Regiment is one of these," said one officer. "In pea-soup fog gunners can fire on targets with the aid of sound ranging, and communications to aid the artillery are multiple."

W. L. Boddy of Thorsby, Ont., is a gunner. Lance-Bombardier W. E. Jeune of Toronto was a salesman in peacetime.

The Flash Spotting Battery accurately fixes enemy gun flashes so the guns can be engaged by Canadian artillery. It is all done by visual observation and the battery operates forward under all conditions.

Captain F. N. Rutherford of St. Catharines, Ont., is a troop commander. Gunner T. R. Sullivan of Timmins, Ont., is a member of the Survey Regiment.

Havelock Names Inspectors For '42 Relief

HAVELOCK, Feb. 4.—(ENS)—February meeting of the town council was held Monday, February 2 at 8 p.m., all members present.

On motion of Councillors Sanderson and Leeson the request of the Navy League to hold a tag day in Havelock on July 4 was granted.

Mr. T. P. Lancaster addressed the council on behalf of the Red Cross and requested the use of the cupboard in the council chamber for their supplies, files, etc., which was granted. The clerk was instructed to write Mr. J. Sears, Department of Highways at Port Hope requesting him to have the snow plow operate slowly through Havelock to avoid throwing the snow on the sidewalks.

On motion of Councillors Martin and Ketchen Caleb Coon was named snow plow operator for the east ward. Mrs. Kinnaird and W. J. Aikens were apointed relief inspectors for 1942. Mr. A. Spencer's tender to supply 10 cords of body hardwood for $9 was accepted. Messrs. Kenneth Hamilton and Douglas Drinkwalter were named auditors.

Accounts were ordered paid: W. J. Aikens, January salary and phone, $77.50; Municipal World, dog tags and subs, $9.91; County of Peterborough, grading and exchange, $3.35; County of Peterborough, indigent patients, hospital, $52.50; H. B. Puffer, B.M. & D., reg. and phone, $20.30; Foley Estate, February payments, $25; Kenneth Hamilton, auditors fees for license, $2; Caleb Coon, sanding and snow plowing, $19.20; William Forsyth, taking engine to Althouse fire, $3; H. W. Krantz, repairs to engine and furnace, $7.07; F. L. McKenzie, advertising, $4.40.

Council adjourned to meet on March 2 or the call of the reeve.

150 Years On The Go

GREENFIELD, Mass.(Feb. 4. —(AP).—The Greenfield Rcorder-Gazette, tracing its origin to the arrival of a young printer here in 1792, today completed 150 years of continuous publication. Thomas Dickman of Boston, the printer, founded the first weekly newspaper in Northwestern Massachusetts. He named his four-page sheet the Impartial Intelligencer; soon retitled it "The Greenfield Gazette."

Heir To Peerage And Brother Triplets

Mrs. Siegfried Buchmayr, British wife of the well-known Austrian ski instructor, is shown with the triplets born to her at the Littleton Hospital, at Littleton, N.H. One of them is heir to their uncle, Lord Banbury, British peer now serving with a tank regiment, who is unmarried and without other heirs. Father of the triplets was recently questioned under U.S. alien registration regulations and released in sponsorship.

Closing The Lists

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 4 — (CP). —Windsor recruiting offices of the Royal Canadian Air Force and the Canadian Active Army have been notified to refuse enlistment to any more Americans. No reason is given for the closing of the Canadian services to cross-river recruits.

Radio In Schools

TORONTO, Feb. 4 (CP).—A committee appointed by the Ontario Educational Association to consider and report on the use of radio in Ontario schools met Saturday in the Toronto offices of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and passed a resolution "strongly approving the use of radio in the schools of Ontario."

It was pointed out that other provinces, notably British Columbia and Nova Scotia, have developed systems of school radio, while in this province very little has been done. The committee agreed radio is particularly useful in teaching of music, drama, literature, history and languages.

Farmers Asking Help On Labor

DOWNEYVILLE, Feb. 4—(ENS). —A very interesting agriculture meeting was held here in the hall Thursday evening with a good attendance. The problem of the day was the scarcity of labor and the taking of farmers off the land for training, leaving hundreds of acres of land idle. It is getting very serious and the group decided to ask the government to do something about it.

Brigadier Loads Guns, Wins Victoria Cross

LONDON, Feb. 4.—(CP).— The Victoria Cross has been awarded Brig. John C. Campbell, 48, commander of an artillery unit who helped fire guns himself in fierce fighting at Sidi Rezegh on Nov. 21 and 22.

"Whenever the situation was most difficult and the fighting hardest he was to be seen with his forward troops either on his feet or in his open car," said the citation published in the London Gazette last night.

On two occasions he manned a gun to replace casualties. Then he was wounded but continued to command the most forward positions and finally acted as loader of a gun.

Standing in a car with a blue flag, Brig. Campbell on Nov. 21 "personally formed up tanks under close, intense fire," the citation added.

His ocurage in those days was described as an inspiration to the men and his leadership was credited as "a direct cause of very heavy casualties inflicted on the enemy."

Brig. Campbell won the Distinguished Service Order and Bar in fighting in Egypt and Libya in 1941. He won the Military Cross in the First Great War.

$25,000 Toronto Fire

TORONTO, Feb. 4 — (CP). — Fire, spreading swiftly in sub-zero weather, did $25,000 damage early to-day to the plant of the Canada Metal Spinning Company on mid-town Church Street.

The bitter cold hampered firemen's attempts to get the blaze under control and two alarms were turned in before the spread of the flames was checked.

Splendid Cough Relief, Mixed In Your Kitchen

No Trouble. No Cooking. Saves Big Dollars.

Yes ma'am, right in your own kitchen, you can easily mix a cough syrup that can be depended upon for quick results, and gives you about 4 times as much for your money. And it's no trouble—it's so easily prepared.

You'll need a syrup. Make it by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed.

Now get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, and pour it into a 16 oz. bottle. Then add your syrup. There you have 16 ounces of really splendid medicine for coughs due to colds. It lasts a family a long time, and tastes fine—children love it.

And does it do the work! You'll say it's your favorite cough treatment. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Eases the soreness, and lets you rest at night.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Canadian Corps Personalities

(By ROSS MUNRO.)

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND—Feb. 4 (CP)—Youngest Major in the overseas army is 24-year-old Maj. Robert Moncel of Montreal. His new appointment with a Canadian Army Tank Brigade underlined the emphasis being placed on raising young men to important jobs.

He helped work out arrangements for arrival of the tank brigade and served as General Staff Officer (3rd grade). He then was promoted to Brigade Major when Maj. John Andrews of St. Thomas, Ont., his predecessor, was named to command a tank regiment.

Maj. W. L. Dutton of Chatham, Ont., member of the Kent Regiment, is a new Staff Captain in the Tank Brigade and Maj. R. E. Wilkins of Victoria is the G.S.O. (3rd grade). The latter served in Iceland as Engineer Staff Officer with the Canadian force while it was there.

Lieut. W. R. Martin of Hamilton, Ont., member of the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry, now is at corps headquarters as the second aide-de-camp to Maj.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, acting corps commander.

Special personalities are found in nearly every squadron of the 17th Duke of York's Royal Canadian Hussars, a Montreal unit. One is the only non-officer in the corps who takes charge of church services, L.-Cpr. C. S. Wright. During working hours he is a truck driver in the unit but frequently on Sunday he preaches the Protestant service. A native of Dundas, Ont., he became a minister in the Church of England and had parishes in England and more recently at Woodsdale, B.C.

The troops thinks he is "one of the great guys" and say "he really talks our language." Cpl. Wright hopes eventually to become a full-fledged padre with his commission. There's a chance he will.

NEUTRAL WINERY

Wine-making is the chief industry of Portugal.

THERE are no free rides on the bandwagon to victory. Today we must all make sacrifices and do our part. We must forego many things which we formerly looked upon as essential to our comfort and pleasure.

Let us do this cheerfully—for Victory's price is sacrifice.

The manufacture of hosiery is now on a wartime basis

New and hitherto little-used materials must be employed to make necessary stockings for Canadian women.

But the new wartime stockings for 1942 are not substitutes for silk; they are alternatives. They should not be compared with silk, but judged upon their own merits. For science has found ways of producing stockings of Rayons, Lisles and Nylons that are now beautiful and enduring.

So you can still have lovely stockings in 1942—and you can be patriotic from head to toe.

ENGAGEMENT

The engagement is announced of Lily, elder daughter of Mrs. Bacon and the late John Bacon, of 202 Edinburgh street, to Robert second son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neale of McArthur's Mills, Ont. The wedding to take place on February 7, at 3 o'clock, in St. John's Church.

MARRIED

MONTGOMERY—BABBS. — The marriage was solemnized on January 23, 1942, of Nellie May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Babbs, Stewart street, to Gordon Andrew, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Montgomery, Braidwood Avenue. The Rev. William McDonald officiated.

DIED

STENSON, Harry.—At Kirkland Lake, on Monday, February 2, 1942, Harry Stenson, beloved husband of Viola Doxsee, and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stenson, and brother of Miss Emma Stenson, and Herbert E. Stenson of Peterborough, and William T. of New York City.

Resting at the Belleghem Funeral Home, 190 Hunter street, after arrival of C.P.R. noon train on Thursday. Funeral services conducted by Rev. Dr. J. D. Smart of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church at the Chapel on Friday at 2.30. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

BUTCHER.—In loving memory of Norbert Butcher, who died February 4, 1938.

The children of Heaven were robed in white,
And happy at play in the City of Light,
When Jesus came smiling and said to His band:
"Here's another little playmate; give him your hand."
There we'll know his voice in the Lamb's sweet song,
His walk in the streets of gold,
And the lovely smile upon his face
As he wore in the days of old.
—Fondly remembered by Daddy, Mother and Brothers.

CARDS OF THANKS

The family of Mrs. S. J. Todd wish to thank the Rev. C. C. Boyter of Park Street Baptist Church, the Induction Department of the Canadian General Electric, the Canada Packers, and all those friends and neighbors for the acts of love and sympathy and for floral tributes during their sad bereavement.

I wish to thank the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders' Auxiliary for the parcel sent by them to my son, Pat Gahagan, who is now serving overseas.—Mrs. Gahagan.

set her lack of pulchritude by being fascinating. She lets Lady Luck knock her out in the first round.

Taking Chance in Marriage

Virtually all women dream of marrying and living happily ever afterward with fine, noble men who will be good provider and faithful unto death. But they seldom use the slightest modicum of intelligence in trying to make their dream come true. Every day we see girls marrying good looking loafers who have never even supported themselves, or fishing drunkards out of the gutter and blithely going to the altar with them, or trusting their happiness to roues who have broken the hearts of a dozen other women. All of them gambling on the chance of changing a man from what they know him to be to what they want him to be. And nearly every one of them losing out.

Every woman wants to hold her husband's affections and keep him thinking she is the only woman in the world, but whether this happens or doesn't happen is almost universally regarded by the sorority of wives as just a matter of pure luck. They even have a phrase for it. They always "poor Mary" the woman whose husband falls in love with some other woman and speak of her as being "so unfortunate," and they shut their eyes to the fact that whether a husband stays in love with his wife or not depends oftener on the way she treats him than it does on chance.

Mothers Always Hopeful

Every mother hopes and prays that her child will grow up to be fine men and women who will be an honor to her and a solace to her in her old age, but the great majority of them trust even this to luck. No phrase is often on mothers' lips than "you never can tell how children will turn out," yet if there is one thing in the world that you can predict with absolute certainty, it is the way children will turn out.

If their mothers have brought them up to be ladies and gentlemen, with good morals and good manners and habits of industry and thrift, they will be crowns of glory to them; but if they have brought them up to be hoodlums, they will be hoodlums to the end and bring their gray hair in sorrow to the grave.

And the reason why so few women ever get anywhere in business is because most of them trust to luck instead of work for success. Every office in the land is cluttered up with stenographers who have never learned to spell; who can't take dictation accurately, or turn out a clean copy of a letter.

Behind millions of counters are salesgirls who have not been interested enough to find out anything about the goods they are supposed to sell; who do not know their stock; who are too lackadaisical to suggest a substitute if they haven't the article a customer wants. In every dress shop there are models who snoot the fat lady buyers and make them feel like worms of the dust. In every restaurant waitresses who spill soup down your back. These girls are failures because they never bothered to learn how to do good work. They trusted to chance that they would catch a husband, or that their bosses would fall in love with them.

What a pity that women cannot realize that our fate is in our own hands and our luck is what we make it.

Don't Play With Fire

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a married woman with a good husband and children. For several weeks I have been thrown with a fine young doctor who was treating my son and since he has quit coming to our house I miss him very much. I have made several social calls upon him at his office to see and talk to him. I find I care a great deal for this doctor, but he doesn't know it and he will never know it from my actions or words. But naturally I feel guilty going to see him and my conscience hurts me. If you were me would you stay away? MAIZIE.

ANSWER: I certainly would unless I wanted to lose my husband, my home and my children and figure in a divorce scandal. The way to combat temptation is to run away from it, not to go out and hunt it up. DOROTHY DIX.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, February 5

An extremely lively state of affairs is read from the prevailing lunar aspects. This activity will be emphasized in travel, writings, communications and agencies. Exercise caution with all these, avoiding loss and extravagance. It should prove happy and hopeful.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a very lively and interesting year, with successful travel, correspondence, dealings with agencies and those in powerful positions. But these should be handled with discretion and caution, not indulging in force, opposition or extravagance.

A child born on this day should be versatile, lively and spirited, although nervous and high-tensioned, probably creating opposition or reproval from those in authority or employers.

Fresh Slip Cover Transforms Room

Simple to Make and Trim

Bright with tropical flowers, this slip cover soon chases wintry gloom from your living room!

Like any slip cover, it's easy to make and fit the pin-on way, even if your chair has curves and curlicues.

The welting that trims the seams is also easy to sew on. In a color that matches the color in the fabric, it looks smart, professional!

To start the cover, remove cushions and smooth fabric over chair, starting at top-back and continuing to edge of seat. Pin down every 3 inches where seams will be and cut 1½ inches outside pins for seams.

Other sections you fit one at a time the same way — front, sides, arms and back. Where the fabric bunches at curves, take darts as in our diagram. Then pin pieces together and remove cover.

The welting is inserted from the right side and stitched in the seam. The deep gathered flounce goes on last of all.

Full details of making lovely slip covers are given in our 32-page booklet. Tells how to fit chairs, sofas and automobile seats the pin-on way. Gives directions for finishing seams, trimming; for making flounces.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps for your copy of "How to Make Slip Covers" to the Examiner, Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

"The Authority on Authorities"

LOW CONTRACTS HARD

LOW CONTRACTS, unless they are underbid ones, generally present more difficult problems than high ones. The strength is more closely divided between the two sides, and the declarer consequently has to keep track of more different elements. When you are in a slam, the defenders usually will have only a few cards which offer any threat to the success of your endeavor, so that you can concentrate all of your resources upon how to thwart those. Working on a difficult low contract, however, you frequently have to reckon very carefully on what is going to happen to a number of different spots in the hand.

When he passed the 3-Spades, South knew he was in for a job of trying to manage a seven-trump situation, as his partner would have raised instead of rebidding clubs if he had held four spades. But he was one of our best managers of mean hands, S. Garton Churchill, now of Washington and formerly of Long Island, who likes hard jobs, especially when in national championship play, as he was this time in Richmond, Va.

West led the singleton of his partner's diamond suit, and immediately came the chance for the first really good play of the hand. Knowing East had the honors, he nevertheless played the diamond 2. Had he won the A, East, when in the lead next, would have led a diamond for West to ruff. But, winning now with the J, he would not lead up to dummy's tenace. Instead, he cashed the heart A and led the 10. Good play number 2 was in covering this with the Q to make West get in the lead. West offered the heart J, ruffed in the dummy, and the spade 10 was sent to the Q. Back came the club 4, the J being played and the 10 put under it to unblock—good play number 3.

Now the spade J was finessed, the A dropped the K, the club K was taken and the 9 finessed to keep the lead with dummy. The club A and established 5 now furnished two diamond discards from the closed hand, and the spade 7 took the final trick. The defenders had taken only one trick in diamonds, two in hearts and one in spades when they seemed certain to set the contract one or two tricks.

Taken On Batan Jap Uncertain Nippon To Win

(By CLARK LEE.)

A UNITED STATES ARMY FIELD HOSPITAL ON BATAN PENINSULA, Jan. 31.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Jiro Suzuki (not his real name), a Japanese private wounded and captured when his infiltration party was surrounded behind the front line, has been receiving the best medical care the United States Army can give during the last 10 days.

The American doctor attending him has pronounced him well on the way to recovery. Through an interpreter Suzuki has signified his willingness to be interviewed.

This was his story:

"I am 24 years old, a native of Osaka, and unmarried. Three years ago this month I was called into the army and served both in infantry and artillery. My regiment was on duty in Japan and never went to China or Manchukuo.

"Early in December we sailed from Japan and 12 days later landed at Mauban in southeastern Luzon.

"The American soldiers are 'Ichiban Jozu' (No. 1 skilful) fighters.

"Later we marched to Manila, our trucks being useless because the bridges were destroyed. Then we proceeded to Hermosa and Olongapo. From Olongapo numbers of us were sent behind the Amerilan lines. We had no special orders what to fight.

Whole Unit Cornered

"Before we had much chance to fight we were surrounded by American soldiers and pushed onto a point with our backs to the sea.

"American artillery started shooting at us from three directions. I had never been under fire before and was extremely frightened.

"Our water supplies ran out and I was sent to try and get water. I found a place where it trickled from a rock drop by drop and was filling my canteen when a shell exploded overhead and something hit my helmet. I do not remember anything more until I awakened here."

"I do not know who will win the war, America or Japan. I am not sure Japan will. I know it is mixed up with what happens to Germany. Germany has promised us assistance, but Germany has no navy so it is only moral assistance.

"Japan is fighting America because this is the time when Japan must either rise or fall."

Airview Of Singapore

Here is a recent air view of the city of Singapore which is now awaiting a Japanese attack from the north. In this photo the wing tip of a British plane can be seen, but there are probably many more planes over the tiny British island stronghold now. Singapore is taking every precaution to insure itself against the attack even to the blowing up of the Johore Bahru causeway, which was the only connecting link between the island and the Malay mainland.

Fleet Balloons Fail To Save Japs In Macassar

BATAVIA, N.E.I., Feb. 4—(AP).—The Japanese invasion fleet in the Straits of Macassar used an elaborate balloon barrage to protect it from Netherlands and American bombers, but a total of 32 Japanese ships were sunk, fired or heavily damaged and 16 of their planes were shot down in the four-day running battle, two Netherlands air officers said yesterday in an eye-witness account.

"For two days before the attack we had been making reconnaissance flights over the Macassar Straits on the lookout for a Japanese invasion fleet, but because of heavy, low-lying cloud banks we saw no ships at all," one of the two officers, now on leave, told the Aneta News Agency.

"Finally on Friday, Jan. 23, we sighted the enemy—a convoy of about 23 ships as far as we could make out. The convoy was hugging the Celebes coast, and had reached a point east of Balik Papan.

"The convoy consisted of two rows of transport ships protected by cruisers and destroyers, and although we were quite sure it was headed for Borneo (on the opposite side of the Strait), it was too far from the island to have made any landings."

"Our planes," the second officer said, "attacked immediately — four bomber patrols and two fighter flights. One large warship—we think it was a battleship, but things happened so fast we could not make sure—was sunk, a heavy cruiser was set on fire and was listing sharply when we last saw it, and another cruiser, four transports and a destroyer were fired.

"The enemy set up a terrific anti-aircraft barrage, and for awhile it looked as if the Jap navy was celebrating some sort of an occasion with super-fireworks display.

"The Japs carried an elaborate balloon barrage, which rose about 9,000 feet above the decks of their larger ships."

On the second day, the officers related, they had no difficulty in locating the armada and they sank a large transport, left a troop ship with a bad list, hit a destroyer and shot four Nipponese planes out of the air.

The third day the convoy had reached Balik Papan and had landed troops, and the only anti-aircraft fire to greet the airmen was from a few batteries that had been put ashore.

A Japanese aircraft carrier had arrived on the scene, however, and it put 20 of its fighters into the air. Four of them were shot down and another spotter was sent crashing with the loss of a single Netherlands bomber.

Despite the interference the airmen said they hit and probably sank a cruiser and fired a transport.

"The next day American planes and warships and a Dutch submarine joined in the attack," one of the officers said. "After four successive days a total of 32 Japanese ships were sunk, fired or heavily damaged, no less than 16 enemy planes downed, while the Allies lost only one plane."

Final Tributes Paid W. Nelson

WARKWORTH, Feb. 4 (ENS).—The funeral service held in St. Paul's United Church Sunday afternoon February first for the late William Herbert Nelson of Dartford was largely attended not only by friends of the community but by friends from all over Northumberland County as he was well known and prominent in municipal affairs both in Percy township where he has served in the council for the past nineteen years and also in the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham where at one time he was Warden.

At the time of his death he was deputy-reeve of Percy township council, secretary-treasurer Warkworth Cheese Co., secretary-treasurer S.S. No. 10, and president of the Northumberland Cheese Association. For years he has been a director of the Agricultural Society and in 1941 was president.

He was the oldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Nelson and was born in Otonabee in December 1875 but most of his life has been spent in Percy township.

He was a good neighbor and friend and will be sadly missed by his many friends.

Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Cooper who had charge of the service chose for his text, "For what is your life?" He was assisted by Rev. W. E. Smyth who read Psalms 121 and 130.

He is survived by four daughters and four sons, Mrs. H. C. Kelly, Warkworth; Mrs. Warren Harlow, Stirling; Mrs. Roy White, Roseneath; Mrs. Leslie Hardy, Peterborough; Earl and George, Dartford; Gordon, Stirling and Milton, Warkworth; also one sister, Mrs. F. W. Garbutt, Toronto, and four brothers, Albert, Warkworth; Gilbert, Toronto; Wilkie, Castleton, and John, Grafton. His wife formerly Mary Inglis, predeceased him about a year ago.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. S. J. Ewing, C. H. Sherwin, R. Watters, H. Morrow, G. Broadworth and C. Copperthwaite.

The many beautiful floral tributes were carried by Ewart and Stewart Hardy, Clifford Broadworth, Lorne Lockhart, Borden Campbell and Charles Ewing.

Interment was in Warkworth cemetery.

Red Cross Workers To Make Quilts

BEWDLEY, Feb. 4—(ENS).— The first meeting of the Bewdley District Red Cross was held Thursday afternoon in the dining hall of Rice Lake Inn; the regular work-room. About 22 ladies were present and a busy afternoon was spent. One quilt was tied and finished, sewing started, patches for quilts cut, knitting commenced, etc. At the end of the afternoon's work, a cup of tea and cookies were served for the sum of 10 cents. Next week's meeting will be Thursday evening.

Free French Form Own Squadron In England

A Free French pilot is pictured, RIGHT, wearing his mask as he poses beside his plane at his base somewhere in England. This airman is a member of the Free French Air Force in Great Britain which is composed of former members of the Armee de L'Air, the Free French Air Arm, who all had remarkable escapes at the time of the French collapse in June, 1940, and of men who have volunteered since that date, coming from all parts of the world. Hitherto, the Free French airmen have been distributed among R.A.F. squadrons, but now the first Free French fighter squadron has been formed under the command of General de Brigade Aerienne Martial Valin, whose rank corresponds with that of air commodore in the R.A.F. A flight of Free French airmen is shown, LEFT, during a training flight.

Supplying Army Over Pacific One Immense Job

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—(AP). — Some of the difficulties the United States navy faces in fighting a war 7,000 miles across the Pacific were outlined in testimony of Secretary Frank Knox, made public Monday by the Senate Appropriations committee.

Knox said a large number of smaller types of vessels were being used to keep communication lines open to Great Britain and Russia. The navy also has had to undertake to move supplies and equipment across the Pacific communication lines.

"Supplying and maintaining a fighting force in an active theatre requires a large merchant tonnage," he declared. "Moving fighting ships or aircraft to an area is the easiest part of the problem; large aircraft can be flown to any theatre.

"We can do that easily enough. The difficult thing is to get the fighters there and the ground crews there, and supplies, and all of the various items that must be there for the bombers to operate effectively.

"Fighters cannot be flown and you cannot convey them set up, except very extravagantly. You use a huge amount of ship space if you try to carry a plane assembled.

"The only practical way to ship them in large numbers, in sufficiently large numbers to be effective, is to knock them down, case them, and ship them in the holds of ships, and those ships have to travel several thousand miles before they are unloaded, and they have to be escorted every foot of the way."

Knox said the navy had the Panama Canal "very much on our mind", adding that it was probably the most important link in the line of communications in the whole of the United States system.

GORE'S LANDING

Cheyne Couple Guests Of Honor

GORE'S LANDING, Feb. 4. — (ENS).—In welcoming Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cheyne to their new home in the village, the members of the United Church called on the newcomers and spent an evening last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheyne lived on No. 28 Highway near Peterborough, and moved here January 1. The evening was spent in games, quiz contests ar music and the ladies served a tempting lunch. Mr. Ames gave the address of welcome and several others spoke of the pleasure in welcoming Mr. and Mrs. Cheyne back here. Mr. Cheyne replied, and Mr. J. D. Fowlie invited the gathering to a party at his home in two weeks' time

The members of the Red Cross working unit met in the Public Library on Friday afternoon for their semi-monthly sewing meeting. Four quilts were finished, including one large, two junior and one crib quilt. The convener, Mrs. Hastings, gave out wool for scarves, aero caps, sockees and socks, also material for seven sleepers, one pair pyjamas, 4 ladies' dresses.

Besides the quilts, finished work turned in included 2 pairs sleepers, 4 pairs of pyjamas, one aero cap, 5 pairs socks, 4 sockees. The War Savings stamp was won by Miss Mary Gordon. Following tea, a silver collection was taken.

German Ace Killed

BONARLAW

Over 80 Attend Social Evening

BONARLAW, Feb. 4 — (ENS).—The annual supper and social evening of St. Mark's Sunday School was held on Tuesday evening last and proved to be a decided success, about 80 persons being present.

The children with their parents, teachers, and other members of St. Mark's congregation sat down to tables literally groaning under the weight of the good things provided by the ladies

After supper games were played, tables cleared, and Rev. C. H. Quarterman took charge of proceedings for a short program of songs, recitations, etc.

Candies, oranges, and gum were given to the younger members present.

Diplomas and seals were presented to the following pupils for faithful attendance during the past year:

Worried Nazis Kill 6, Deport 100

VICHY, Feb. 4—(AP).—German authorities, retaliating for continued outbreaks of violence against Nazi forces in occupied France, have executed six Parisian youths and ordered deportation to Eastern Europe for 100 others described as Communists and Jews.

The retaliatory measures were announced by Lt.-Gen. Ernest Von Schaumburg, military commander in Paris who said that between Jan. 7 and Jan. 28 there were six bombings and shootings in which German army installations or soldiers were the targets.

Simultaneously it was learned here that two Belgians, Raymond Soupart and Henri Jouvenois, had been executed at Mons recently on order of a German military court.

Soupart was accused of committing acts of violence against German troops and illegally possessing arms, and Jouvenois was charged with communistic activity.

Von Schaumburg's announcement said:

"On the 7th, 9th, 16th and 28th of January, 1942, attacks were made by means of explosives against German army installations. On the 18th and 20th members of the German army were attacked by surprise and wounded with pistol fire.

"A hundred members of the communist youth and Jews will be deported to the east. Six communists and Jews who had connections with the guilty parties were shot."

Fixed Price Ceilings

"Mother," said Mr. Picobac, throwing his match under the kitchen stove, "The Government—by Order-in-Council 8528—has ordered us to put a ceiling on our overhead. Nothing must interfere with Canada's war effort."

"Ceiling!" retorted Mrs. Picobac; "It's this kitchen floor I'm talking about. Look at it."

"All right, all right", sighed Mr. Picobac, breathing a sweet blue fragrant Picobac cloud at the afore-mentioned ceiling, and savouring the delicious flavour of Canada's prime burley. "We'll patch that place under the oven door; and that other spot by the sink, and then we'll be all set for the duration."

"I don't see anything wrong with the ceiling," protested Mrs. Picobac.

"No," grinned Mr. Picobac, settling down for a mild . . . cool . . . sweet smoke; "it's fixed."

"It DOES taste good in a pipe!"

Singapore Outguns Jap Batteries

SINGAPORE, Feb. 5 (AP)—Despite continuous bombing and strafing by Japanese airmen, Singapore's artillery has blasted enemy observation posts, knocked out opposing batteries and spread destruction in the transport of Japanese troops into jump-off points for invasion of this island stronghold.

That the Japanese still have not won complete control of the air was demonstrated this morning by Hurricane fighters of the Royal Air Force which intercepted a large formation over Singapore, shot down one Japanese plane, probably another and damaged a third.

Civilian casualties from the past two days of blasting and machine-gunning by the Japanees air force neared the 300-mark—228 injured and 63 killed. The people had almost no safe places of refuge from bombs

(The Japanese claimed that their guns had been firing across the mile wide Johore Strait since 6 p.m. yesterday, Singapore time. A Tokyo broadcast said that the guns were pouring a stream of fire into British positions in a grove of rubber trees near the head of the breached Causeway leading from the Malayan mainland).

Large movements of Japanese troops through Jchore State toward the shore facing Singapore Island were reported by British reconnaissance planes.

An oil tanker at the naval base, set on fire two days ago by Japanese bombing, is still burning, the British headquarters' communique said.

A Ministry of Information survey disclosed that 41 persons were killed and 138 injured in yesterday's air raids on Singapore.

Last night inhabitants heard a straight-from-the-shoulder broadcast by the ranking Air Raid Precautions warden, who urged authorities to utilize unemployed mining engineers to tunnel hills around the city to provide "shelter for the poorer Asiatic community who have no protection."

The warden bluntly asserted:

"It is no use telling the people that Malta has had a thousand

McNaughton Demands Inventions

Sees Canada Producing New, Better Weapons As Victory Contribution

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—(CP).—Canada can make a tremendous contribution to the winning of the war by putting its brains—inventive and engineering brains — to work, Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian corps overseas, said at a press conference to-day.

To this end he wants Canadian technicians to study every weapon and see if they cannot produce a better one, one capable of being turned out in mass production in the factories of North America.

"I have a feeling that out of Canada will come new and improved types of weapons and more effective weapons," said the General who, after two years with the army overseas had lost none of the enthusiasm for scientific research which he displayed while chairman of the National Research Council.

Gen. McNaughton reached Ottawa early to-day for conversations on army administration matters.

Gen. McNaughton looked healthy and fit as he received some 20 reporters, with Defence Minister Ralston and Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, Chief of the General Staff, at his side.

Canuck Products Tops

"We have reached no finality in the development of weapons of war," he said, after commenting on the products of Canadian industry reaching the army overseas. All along the line, he said, from guns to clothing, these products were "better than the best."

"Now that we have our production organized," he said, "we can very well take some of our best production men and set them to work on research to see if we can't get something better."

As Canadian factories enter production on war products the products are sent to the overseas army for practical tests, he said. As a result the Canadian army overseas was itching for the time when it could get its hands on Canadian-made products with which to go to war.

"The best tanks of a year ago are out-moded today," he said. "The best tanks of today will be out-moded in six months.

Flyer Hits Auto Kills Four At Strathroy

STRATHROY, Ont., Feb. 5—(CP)—Four persons are dead and two are injured, one seriously, as the result of a level crossing crash here early today when a Canadian National Railways' flier, the International Limited, struck an auto carrying six persons. It raised to seven the level crossing toll in this district within a week. Last Sunday, three persons met death and three were injured in a similar accident at Landon.

The dead:

Mrs. Eunice Mellick, 23, Forest.
Mrs. Elmer McIntosh, Watford.
James Meadows, Arkona.
Wilfred Towriss, 40, Watford.

The injured:

Orville Saunders, 44, Watford, said to have been the driver of the car. In Stratroy General Hospital with fractured skull, internal injuries.

Elmer McIntosh, 42, Watford, cuts about the hands. He was not admitted to hospital.

Coroner C. H. McDougall held a preliminary inquest this morning.

One Lives Nine Hours

Meadows, Mrs. McIntosh and Mrs. Mellick were killed instantly in the crash, while Towriss died in hospital about nine hours later.

Dr. G. D. Vine, who attended the injured, said the full extent of Saunders' injuries are not known, but his condition is serious.

Mrs. Mellick's husband, Oscar Mellick, is overseas with the Royal Canadian Engineers. She was formerly Miss Eunice Scouler, of Forest, and had been married five years.

Towriss is survived by his wife and one daughter.

An eye-witness related that the auto pulled onto the Metcalfe street crossing shortly after 1:30 a.m. and

British Units Cling To Martaban Despite Barrage

(By DANIEL DE LUCE.)

RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 5 (CP)—British headquarters announced today that Japanese patrols had crossed the lower Salween river at a number of points since the invaders occupied Moulmein last Saturday.

The Japanese occupied Paan, 30 miles above Moulmein, several days ago, a British military statesman said, and the R.A.F. reported it had subjected the town to a heavy bombing attack today.

At the same time British patrols were reported to have penetrated the enemy lines on the east bank of the Salween river.

The military spokesman declared that the British command intends to hold Rangoon "at all costs but," he added, "if Rangoon should go, it would not mean the end of the Burma road." Rangoon is the chief port for the Burma road, the Allied supply route to China.

Reports from the Salween front said the Japanese still are balked in their attempts to capture Martaban, across the mouth of the river Moulmein, by the swift-flowing Salween river itself and by heavy artillery fire from the west bank.

Garrison Sticks to Port

They have been trying all week by heavy artillery fire and bombing to make Martaban untenable for its British and Indian garrison, but British headquarters said this effort had failed.

Thousands of lithe, tall Indian riflemen newly-arrived from their homeland are engaging the invaders along the line from Martaban to Paan.

British and United States volunteer group fliers skimming the tree-tops in strafing and bombing raids, were declared unofficially to be preventing the Japanese from maintaining toeholds on islands at the Salween Mouth.

The Japanese air force meanwhile bombed Rangoon twice before dawn today. Explosions were heard in the eastern and northern section of the city. This city is 100 miles north-west of the Salween Mouth.

A British officer of the Burma Rifles who fought at Moulmein, said to me: "We held the enemy attack for 36 hours. By day, groups of two and three Japanese tried to annoy

Italian Sub Escapes 14,000 Mi. From Red Sea Only To Meet Fate In Atlantic, Mission A Flop

LONDON, Feb. 5 (CP).—The Admiralty announced that several Italian submarines had "paid the ultimate penalty" after having been sent to help the Germans' submarine campaign in the Atlantic.

One of these, the Admiralty said, was the Ferraris, an 880-ton craft armed with eight torpedo tubes and two 3.9-inch guns, which was sunk late in 1941 after having been damaged by a Catalina flying boat.

The Admiralty said the Ferraris had had an "eventful but unsuccessful" history.

She was one of four submarines which escaped from Massaua, Eritrea, on the Red Sea, when Italy lost her East African empire and which made a 14,000-mile voyage back to Europe without incident.

Such a cruise was "made possible by meeting with a German supply ship which was sailing under the Stars and Stripes."

Dutch Fire Oil Despite Jap Threat Raiders Blast Anew At Soerabaja

BATAVIA, N.E.I., Feb. 5—(AP).—Japanese bombers started new fires this morning in their second raid in three days on the big Soerabaja naval base while official silence cloaked the fate of Amboina, second most important Netherlands naval station, 1,000 miles farther east.

It was announced yesterday that bitter fighting had developed at Amboina between defence forces and landed Japanese troops with the tide of battle shifting.

Neither was there any word to indicate the turn of the fight at Kendari on southeastern Celebes where the Japanese drove southward beachhead by beachhead.

The announcement of the second raid on Soerabaja on eastern Java said some damage was caused.

Death Threats Fail to Halt Dutch

Meanwhile, with the escape of the Netherlands commander and part of the garrison of Balik Papan on the east coast of Borneo it was disclosed that destruction of vast oil properties in that area was carried out despite Japanese threats of dire reprisals.

The Indies announced that the destruction was carried out completely, as planned, and said some

Red Guerillas Create Panic Behind Lines Blocking New German Fortifications In 35-Mile-a-Night Deadly Lightning Stabs

MOSCOW, Feb. 5—(AP).—President Michael Kalinin in a message to the Soviet people today, proclaimed that "the hour is near when all the occupied republics (of Russia) will return to the family" of the Soviet Union.

Closer and closer each day, he said, the Red army is approaching the borders of White Russia, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania.

"Every day," he went on, "more occupied places in the Ukraine return to their country."

His message, spread across the mains pages of the newspapers, said that although the Germans are fighting for every inch of ground, the Russians have driven the invaders back as far as 175 miles in some places.

Kalinin said the Red army had learned much while it was being pushed back by the German offensive, and that it also made preparations for its own counter thrust while it was withdrawing.

"The Germans never will recapture from the Red army the initiative which now has been gained," he declared

Premier Stalin's call to the army and the people gave tremendous impetus to the Russian attack and seemed to double the Soviet strength, Kalinin said.

The president said Hitler had sacrificed everything in trying to realize his dream of occupying Moscow, and now that dream was pursuing him like a shadow. The Nazi Fuehrer paid a lot for it and will pay more, Kalinin added.

"While the world awaited the fall of Moscow," he declared, "the Red army command lail plans to defeat him at the gates of the capital."

Guerillas Doing Great Job

Soviet guerilla detachments today were reported to be creating wholesale panic behind the German lines as the Nazis armies sought to throw up fortifications and attempted counter attacks in many sectors of the front.

Dispatches told of wide-ranging and damaging Soviet raids on the railway lines essential to the Nazi efforts to bring up reserves. On one sector of the Southwestern front the guerilla bands were said to be marching 35 miles nightly in a systematic plan of destruction of German communications.

The operations of the guerilla bands were seen as ample compensation for the time devoted to training these troops among whom are some of the toughest veterans in

Reds Tip Turkey Hitler Cooks Brew In Balkans

(By HENRY C. CASSIDY.)

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The United Nations' forces in the Pacific battle arena are growing and "one can assume that in the not too distant future they will make up for initial losses both at sea and on land," a Soviet military commentator, Col. S. Gurov, declared today in an article in the Moscow News.

"So far the Japanese armed forces have had the upper hand," Gurov wrote in the English-language newspaper, now being published in Kuibyshev. "Yet, judging by the latest messages from Britain and America the British and American troops are beginning to intensify their operations. The Japanese already have suffered heavy losses at sea."

Among "events of tremendous significance" the Soviet writer cited the operations in the Philippines, at Singapore, on the Netherlands East Indies Island of Borneo and Celebes and the Allied attack on the Japanese invasion fleet in Macassar Strait.

Of the recent Russian successes, Gurov stressed particularly the recapture of Lozovaya in the Donets Basin, pointing out its importance as a junction of railway lines leading to Kharkov, Plotava, Dnieperopetrovsk and the Crimea.

Three events were given as the basis for this warning: The arrival of Field Marsh Wilhelm List at Salonika, Greece; the return to Berlin of Franz von Papen, Nazi ambassador to Turkey, and the allegation by Propaganda Minister Goebbels that Foreign Secretary Eden had given Russia a free hand in the Dardanelles.

See 15,000 Men For Canada In List Caught By U.S. Draft

(By J. F. SANDERSON.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (CP) — Negotiations are proceeding between Canada and the United States to permit Canadians residing in the United States to serve in Canadian forces when called up under the American draft laws.

It has been estimated that at least 15,000 men might be added to Canadian forces and perhaps a much higher figure.

There are at least 450,000 Canadians living in the United States and retaining Canadian citizenship and perhaps 150,000 more who have never registered as aliens under American laws. Of those in the 20-to-44 age group it is expected that 30,000 will be classified 1-A, rendering them subject to immediate induction.

It has been estimated that at least 15,000 of the 30,000 would prefer to serve in the Canadian army, navy or air force if given the opportunity and the present negotiations are designed to make it possible for them to choose one of the Canadian services. There are several thousand Canadians already registered for service in the armed forces of the United States who also would have the right to volunteer for Canadian service.

The next registration date under the American Draft laws is Feb. 16 when all men, citizens of the United States and aliens, 20 to 44 years old, must register. The 21-to-35-year-old group who registered last year need not do so again.

It is understood the United States has laid down three conditions before agreeing to permit Canadians, called up under the draft, to serve in the Canadian forces. These are that no threats or compulsion be used to induce the men to return to Canada, that Canada cease all enlistments within the United States and that reciprocal arrangements be made so that American citizens residing in Canada have the right to enter the armed forces of the United States if called up there.

Canada, it is understood, would be expected to guarantee that all Canadians who exercise the option to serve in the Canadian forces actually do so, otherwise penalties at-

Much Expected Of The Beaver To Get British Plants All Out

(By H. M. PETERS.)

LONDON, Feb. 5 —(CP)—The "Beaver" today tackled a job that will tax even his tremendous energy and ability to the utmost—the task of preparing Britain's industrial machine for the 1943 offensive while providing the weapons to stave off Hitler and Hirohito during this fateful year.

To Max Aitken, Lord Beaverbrook, has gone the title and rank of minister of production and he retains his seat in the small war cabinet. As the only representative of the great spending departments in the cabinet his authority will be vast and much will be expected of him.

There is widespread feeling in Britain that despite the strides in munitions and machine production in the last two years, industry has still not gone all out. This belief was pointed out only yesterday when N. M. Shvernik, leader of the Russian trade delegation visiting Britain, told newspapermen that "there are still very considerable unutilized reserves."

While Lord Beaverbrook's position corresponds largely to that of Donald Nelson, United States director of war production, there are important differences—at least temporarily. In Washington, Mr. Roosevelt made it clear that Nelson's direction of production, priorities and so forth is absolute, with the army and navy procurement officials subordinate to him on all questions of supplies.

In London, however, there has as yet been no indication just what authority Lord Beaverbrook will have over, for instance, production of warships and freighters, which are jealous prerogatives of the Admiralty "that vast, entrenched, established, embattled organization of the Admiralty to whose successful exertions we owe our lives." (The quotation is from one of Mr. Churchill's recent speeches.)

In addition to the Admiralty there are other great supply departments with which a method of operation

Ducks Issue On Query If He Could Use More Canucks Abroad

OTTAWA, Feb. 5 (CP) — Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the Canadian Corps, came to Ottawa early today for conversations on army administration matters which brought him from England.

Looking fit and hardy despite his recent illness, he stepped from the train which carried him from Montreal to be greeted by Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Defence Minister Ralston and more than a score of army leaders, relatives and friends.

In Montreal he told interviewers that staff talks between Canadian, British and United States army commands in Britain preparatory to the possibility of an invasion of Continental Europe now are looked upon "As a Matter of Routine."

Here he told newspapermen that Canada's men overseas are in "mighty fine shape" and that there is "every reason to have pride in them."

Then a reporter asked if he could use some more men overseas. Gen. McNaughton laughed at first, then became serious.

"I have a job to do here which is not particularly related to the circumstances of a controversy," he said.

"I have a special job to do and I hope I will be left alone to do it."

He did not want to be drawn into any controversial issues while in Canada, he said.

In his Montreal interview, Gen. McNaughton said United States officers had contributed many worthy suggestions to joint staff talks overseas. The Americans had not been tied down by a definite job like the Canadian and British officers and they had been able to move around and pick up valuable information. Now it had been pooled for future use.

On answer to a reporter's question he said he felt the average Canadian soldier overseas would like him to say "we send our love."

LONDON, Feb. 5 (CP)—The average man and women in Great Britain is going to be better dressed and have more money in pocket as a result of a board of trade order controlling prices and quality of 80 per cent of the country's clothing manufacturers.

In a move designed to prevent clothing prices from soaring above the reach of most of the public the board has laid down maximum prices for suits, dresses, coats and 128 other classes of garments, all cheaper than the prices being paid now for the same standard of goods.

The public was assured of good value for its money because every article made from so-called "utility

27 Boche Tanks Wiped Out On Kalinin Front
Five Towns Retaken, 5,300 Nazis Slain
Keep Drive Rolling Despite Ice, Blizzards

MOSCOW, Feb. 5—(AP).—Recapture of five localities on the Kalinin front, with 5,300 of the defending Germans slain or wounded, was announced today by a Soviet communique.

Six other populated places, also not otherwise identified, were retaken on the central front, the communique said, as the Red army apparently was pushing westward on the road to Smolensk in the teeth of snow and ice and bitter Nazi resistance.

The "Kalinin front," on which the Russians said they destroyed 27 German tanks, five cannon and eight machine guns, presumably refers to the province which extends clear to the Latvian frontier, rather than to the immediate vicinity of the city of Kalinin.

Before Leningrad, Russian units were declared to have smashed 27 German gun positions, killing more than 400 German officers and men.

The midnight Soviet communique said 1,800 German soldiers and officers were killed or wounded in stubborn fighting which ended in the capture of one fortified populated place. The Germans were also reported dislodged from another centre of resistance at a cost of more than 1,000 officers and soldiers killed.

6 More Hamlets Recaptured.

The mid-day communique reported these actions continuing, with six more populated places recaptured and told of 70 Germans being killed at one spot and 100 at another.

Thus the war reports to-day in-will have to be worked out in considerable detail before the new ministry can prove to the nation its ability to achieve results. These are the ministry of aircraft production, headed by Col. Moore-Brabazon; the ministry of supply, headed by Sir Andrew Rae Duncan; and the supply departments of the war office and the air ministry.

A statement upon this question, it has been intimated, will be made by the prime minister in the House of Commons in the near future. Mr. Churchil is a recent convert to the idea of a centralized war production ministry, quite possibly having come around to that view during his long talks in Washington.

As recently as last July 29 he told the House: "Who is to be this superman who, without holding the office of prime minister, is to exercise an over-riding control and initiative over the three departments of supply and the three ministers of supply?....When you have decided on the man, let me know his name, because I should be very glad to serve under him....In the conduct of vast nation-wide administration there must be division of functions, and there must be proper responsibility assigned to the departmental chiefs. They must have the power and authority to do their work, and be able to take a proper pride in it when it is done, and be held accountable for it if it is not done."

Now the Canadian-born Lord Beaverbrook has been chosen by the prime minister to exercise this function of "superman." It may be assumed that the effort to be put forth will be prodigious.

He added that no reply had been received from New Zealand, and that Canada and South Africa were "satisfied with existing arrangements for consultation" and "in fact they have expressed themselves most strongly in that sense and they do not at present wish to attach special representatives to the War Cabinet."

Asked whether Dominions representatives would have a say in decisions or merely be able to give advice to the Cabinet, the Premier replied: "Giving advice is having a say. It is not the custom to decide these matters by counting heads....As far as I gather, the request of the Australian Government makes no change in what has actually been going on here since Sir Earle Page arrived. It has been going on with very satisfactory results."

The Government, he continued, saw no need at present for reciprocal agreements whereby British High Commissioners or Ministers appointed for the purpose should sit with the Dominion Cabinets.

The clothing ratio is unchanged and a man will have to surrender 26 coupons for a suit, whether it be made from utility cloth or higher priced material.

The order became effective Monday and in future clothing manufacturers will have to devote at least 80 per cent of their output to the utility scheme.

Saville Row, Bond street and other luxury tailors who cater to the expensive trade will still be able to sell their high-priced garments, manufactured from the remaining 20 per cent, but it is predicted they will also offer for sale—and at the same prices as the east end tailors—suits and dresses made from utility cloth.

No restriction is placed on style and garments, some of which are already on display in London shop windows, show a wide variety with a good choice of colors and materials. The early fear that Britons might be wearing some uniform-like apparel before the war is over have been dispelled by the control scheme.

The soldiers' general request, he thought, might be "to keep on sending the cigarets and letters."

So far the Canadian army overseas had not developed specialist units like paratroops, airport defence regiments or Commandos although some members of the Canadian Corps had trained with British units in these categories and the corps staff kept in close touch with developments.

The general's party landed at an east coast Canadian port after a voyage past lurking submarines.

From Montreal, the party was accompanied by Leslie McNaughton, daughter of the Corps commander who is a student in a Montreal district convent. Here Gen. McNaughton and his wife were greeted by their other daughters, Mrs. T. K. McDougall of Ottawa, and their son, Flt. Lt. Andrew McNaughton.

This was the general interpretation of a Royal Air Force communique reporting that British bombers had been active both east and west of Tmimi. The town itself, at the eastern base of the Cirenaican bulge, is 60 miles west of Tobruk and 140 miles from the Libyan-Egyptian border.

Middle East headquarters announced that patrols and mobile columns were active yesterday along the whole front, but gave no details.

Claim 3,500 Prisoners

BERLIN, (from German broadcasts), Feb. 5 —(AP)—The German high command claimed today that German planes dispersed British columns west of Tobruk and bombed the British lines of retreat.

The Germans claimed 3,500 British prisoners were taken in Cirenaica in January. These reports also said 370 armored cars and 192 guns were captured or destroyed.

No details on the latest raid on Soerabaja were made public.

The fighter-escorted raids on Soerabaja and recent attacks by fighter plans on Timor, at the southern end of the Archipelago, led observers to believe the Japanese planes were based on an aircraft carrier.

The Japanese twice have struck in the Timor area—last Friday, when an Australian airlines flying boat was forced down and 12 of its passengers were killed, and on Tuesday, when four persons were killed in a machine-gunning raid on the harbor of Koepang.

Annual Awards Made In Seed Judging

The ninth annual Durham County Seed Judging Competition was held in conjunction with the South Monaghan Short Course on Wednesday, January 28th, with thirty-two boys taking part. This number included eleven seniors and twenty-one juniors. Fifty bushels of oats were awarded as prizes in two bushel lots with the two varieties being Vanguard and Dasix. It is expected Vanguard oats should yield well in South Monaghan as it is stem rust resistant. Unfortunately, South Monaghan is more or less overrun with common buckthorn, which shrub is a host to stem rust of oats. Dasix is a selection made at the O.A.C. from the early sixty-day variety and it has proven one of the highest yielding vaieties in our rod row experiment with twelve varieties of oats. hese varieties will be watched with interest in the boys' plots. The boys under twenty-one who won grain will form the Junior Grain Club for 1942.

The high boy in the senior group was Allan White, Port Hope, No. 4, and in the Junior section, Lloyd Kellogg, Port Hope, No. 1.

The Winners were:

Juniors

Lloyd Kellogg, Tom Belch, Garnet Whitfield, Carl Dawson, Elmer Hogg, Robert Fisher, Bert Gardiner, Lloyd Jackson, Gerald Finnie, Bruce Cunningham, Walter Snelgrove, Norman Hubbeard, Albert Olan, Keith Finnie, Noble Beebe, Orville Moncrief, Earl Hubbeard.

Seniors

Committee Cuts Estimates $200

Estimates of the property and market committee at $200 less than last year was a minor contribution Wednesday afternoon to the council's design for a new tax rate.

Proposed expenditures on the market will absorb the entire increase at $3,200, net, as compared with $3,000 in 1941, but on the other hand the property committee whittled down the things they could think of as expenditure to $1,700 after asking for only $2,000 a year ago.

Property payments last year amounted to $2,675.33, including $312.90 for a fence around the city's lot on Park st., typewriters that cost $265.05, city office repairs that ran up to $655.72, insurance on the King street car barns $292.50, a cluster of items that are avoided this year.

The actual total estimate of expense on the market is $5,000, but against that sum will be the market tolls which are expected to reach $1,800.

The tolls for the six months from July 1 to December 31 last amounted to $1,049.06. The committee considered that their expectations were not overdrawn at $1,800 toll collection for this year.

Handcar Stolen Sectionman Says

That within ten minutes of the time seventeen-year-old Norman Cedar had trundled a handcar along the main line of the C.P.R. several miles west of Peterborough, a passenger train was due at that point, was the evidence given in police court this morning by Thomas Barrie, C.P.R. section foreman

Cedar, a Tilbury youth who has been employed on a Douro farm, faced a charge of obstructing the free use of the railway by illegaliy running a section man's handcar along the rails. He pleaded not guilty.

The accused did not have counsel and W. J. Arthur Fair who was in court in connection with another case volunteered to assist him.

Principal witness was Section Foreman Barrie. He said that on the morning in question the handcar had been left by the side of the track, locked. The section gang had proceeded a mile west and were eating their lunch when they heard the car coming and found Cedar propelling the machine along the rails. They stopped him and took the handcar off the track. Cedar ran away, the witness said, but was chased, caught, and handed over to Constable Bruce Menzies of North Monaghan.

"Are you sure you did not leave the handcar on the track?" asked Mr. Fair.

"Quite sure" was the reply. Barrie added that the chain had been broken when they examined the machine after Cedar had driven it to where they were.

Mr. Fair argued that as the handcar was off the track there had been no obstruction.

Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., reserved judgment in the case for a week.

Driver Charged Reckless Driving

Arising out of a traffic accident at George and Perry streets on the night of January 31, in which Mr. and Mrs. Thos. C. Ephgrave were injured, Joseph Carey faced a charge of reckless driving in police court to-day.

Carey, who was defended by W. J. Arthur Fair, pleaded not guilty. The prosecution was in charge of Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C.

Thos. Ephgrave testified that he had been driving east on Perry street. As he reached the intersection of George street he brought his car to a stop, looked south and saw no traffic, then looked north and saw another automobile coming south at about Rink street, he judged. He also saw a man riding a bicycle south on George street about 40 or 50 feet north of Perry street. Witness swore that he moved out across the intersection and was on the east side of George street and had made more than three-fourths of a left turn to go north when the south bound car which he said was travelling at a high rate of speed, struck his machine.

"I noticed the car veering toward me when it was six or seven car lengths away," witness said.

Ephgrave testified that he and his wife were both injured as a result of the accident. After the crash Carey had refused to give his name and license number, stating he would give them to police when they came.

"The south-bound car was travelling at an excessive rate of speed," Walter Johnson, Edison avenue, stated in his evidence. Afterward he placed the speed at 30 or 35 miles an hour.

Johnston who had been riding his wheel south on George street, said that he had seen Ephgrave stop at Perry and witness had stopped his bicycle at the corner and stood there. At the same time he heard a car coming south on George street and judged from the sound of the motor it was travelling fast. Ephgrave's car was on the east side of George street when it was hit and Johnston said that the other car was nearly all over on the other side of the centre line when the impact occurred.

The case is proceeding.

It is expected that, apart from the appeal of serving in the forces of their own country, the biggest argument that may influence Canadians to option for service in Canada's army, navy or air force, will be the higher rate of pay and the dependents' allowance paid in the United States although insurance policies and other factors tend to counteract this.

Only native-born Americans are accepted in the United States air force and this may influence many Canadians to try to join the Royal Canadian Air Force.

McNaughton

"By using our brains in the incessant and everlasting struggle for superior weapons we have got a great contribution to make."

Canada's new heavy tank, soon to be in the hands of the Canadian overseas army is called "The Ram," he said, and he described it as the "best ever."

Just a Brief Rest

General McNaughton said he would spend "just a very short time" in Canada. He had been given a clean bill of health by army doctors following his recent illness, but had been advised to delay his return to active command and so "on the principle of trying to capitalize on adversity" was paying a visit to Canada.

During his stay here he will renew contacts with the staffs in Canada, exchange views and tidy up some administrative matters.

He had a deep interest in the mobilization of Canadian industry and hoped to see something of that, particularly because of his satisfaction with the quality of the Bren gun, Bren carriers, tanks, armored cars and other products being shipped overseas.

"In this war, as you know, manpower is not the only thing," said the General. "It is the combination of manpower and industrial power that counts. You have got to use machines to multiply the speed of man."

Canadians should be thankful it is that kind of war because no people in the world have a better background in the use of machinery.

He was also anxious to see in Canada some of the training units for officers, non-commissioned officers and tradesmen, where soldiers get their training in the use of machines.

"And," he added, "if I am permitted, I want to break away for a few days to spend a little time with my family."

"You are certainly entitled to it," said Col. Ralston.

The General said he would like to visit the country of his youth (he was born at Moosomin, Sask.) but did not think he would have time.

There is no such thing as static linear defence in modern war, said the General. Experience has shown that if you can pin the enemy down in one place and learn about his dispositions "you can smash him." That was the defect of the Maginot Line.

The Siegfried Line was better for the German defences were disposed in depth and there was nothing definite to hit at.

Secrecy Russia's Strong Point.

"But we would have gone through it," he said. "You will go through any line. The day of linear defence is over."

He doubted if the Russians had any special fortified line confronting the German attack but said the marvel of Russian defences was secrecy.

"The Russians laid great emphasis on security and kept their plans secret even from their own people," he said. "They don't tell their Allies about them. Whereas we in the democracies tell each other what we have and, of course, eventually the information gets around to the enemy.

"The Russians have carried security to the Nth degree."

The democracies had something to learn from that. It was important to see that in obtaining information about how the armies operate the public did not place the armies at a disadvantage.

"When things start moving again, and they will," he said, "I think we have got to discipline ourselves to be content with a lot less information than we have had in the past."

The Germans were probably surprised to the extent of 100 divisions and their equipment by the Russian secrecy.

"Don't let anyone thin' the German army is beaten," said the General as he recalled how the Germans came back after defeats in the first Great War to stage powerful offensives and finally had the Allies almost beaten in July, 1918.

No Letup This Side of Berlin

"There are ups and downs in this business and we are never going to be able to let up on our effort until we get our armies right into Berlin and the other capitals. It is Germany we have got to lick."

Mechanization means not less but more marching for the army, said the General. Consequently the training of the Canadian troops involved lots of marching and units did their 40-mile treks without showing any ill-effects. Lorries could be used to transport troops where there were roads, but in war there were not always roads.

The Canadians are keeping a close watch on Commando and all other types of training in England. The main job, however, is to perfect the battle formation, and after that it will be easy to detach men and form parachute corps, commandos or any other special formations.

When the overseas army receives the additional tank formation projected for it, it will be heavily weighted with armor, said the General. This is in accord with Canada's role as an industrial nation. But leaning heavily on armored formations, the country can carry its industrial efficiency into the front line.

When it is complete the formation will have probably a heavier proportion of armor than any other and I will be most unhappy if it hasn't," he said.

The General said it would be presumptious on his part to estimate the length of the war. He did not believe any man could.

"Certainly it won't be shorter unless we prepare for a long war and a heavy war, and we have got to have lots of patience," he said.

Ilsley Claims Vote Cost Be Well Spent

Brands Bond Boycott In Protest As Sabotage, Fascism

(By FRANK FLAHERTY.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 5—(CP). — The attitude of persons who propose to stop buying war savings certificates and victory bonds in protest against the Government's conscription plebiscite policy is branded by Finance Minster Ilsley as "sabotage" and "Fascism."

First minister to take part in the throne speech debate since Prime Minister Mackenzie King spoke ten days ago, Mr. Ilsley said in the House of Commons yesterday, that the cost of taking the plebiscite to secure release for the government from anti-conscriptionist pledges woulld be money well spent. He predicted an overwhelming affirmative vote and declared the Government then would be free to act and would act "in the best interests of the country and of the war effort."

Always grave in his manner, the minister responsible for finding the billions needed to finance the war spoke with intense earnestness as he came to what he described as a "thratened strike against" the coming victory loan.

Strike Against State

"If the individuals concerned will stop to think they will realize that their threatened actions mans nothing less than a strike against the State ,a strike against our men in the armed forces, a direct sabotaging of the country's war effort," said the minister.

"It is Fascism, the attempted use of force to bring about a change in Government policy.

"No doubt these individuals feel strongly as to the soundness of their own opinions, but unless I am greatly mistaken they would be the first to condemn a Labor group which threatened to strike in a vital war industry. Their own position is even less defensible.

"Surely there is no justification for Fascist methods in this country. Surely we still believe in the democratic process. Let such individuals express their opinions as strongly as they will. Let them attempt to convert their fellow citizens, their members of parliament. Let them seek by democratic means to overthrow the Government if they dis-

Parks To Cost More This Year

As the new chairman of the Parks Committee, following in the footsteps of the late Walter Stocker and also in the comparatively brief but successful administration by Fred L. Roy last year, Alderman Curtis submitted a budget of $9,800 to his committee Wednesday afternoon. This requisition is $1,750 more than last year, but the most of the increase is accounted for by $800 extra for wages and another $800 for cost of living bonus.

Alderman Glover renewed a perennial contention that the care of trees, which means in the main their pruning and removal, should be a responsibility of the parks committee and not of the Board of Works. He said that the mortality of the older trees was likely to increase steadily because they were showing the debility of their age. A sustained replacement policy should be undertaken to ensure the city the beauty of summer shade which was one of the legacies from the fathers of the old town.

Alderman Curtis suggested that the Board of Works might transfer to his committee the care of McDonald's Point park and Crescent street boulevard, "and also give us the big mower."

"If the park and boulevard have developed far enough I don't think the Board would object," Mayor Hamilton remarked.

Expenditure for plants, shrubs and trees last year was only $370, according to the committee's statement, an amount that was considered to be quite reasonable.

The committee's estimates were sent on to the finance committee.

Watson, Ontario street, one of the last of the horse dealers, shipping a large load to Montreal this week. Over twenty head were in the shipment and last week a load of 22 steeds were consigned by Mr. Watson to Montreal.

The horses sent included grays, blacks and bays and were a credit to local district breeders. The average weights ran from 1,300 to 1,700 pounds each.

Mr. Watson is now gathering a shipment which will be sent to help fill the demands created by the American market.

Mr. Watson has been associated with the horse racing, breeding and livestock all his life, and is considered the finest expert in this area on the subject of horses in any category.

Life Membership Is Given Mrs. Henry Hay

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 5 (ENS) —The presentation of a Life Membership to one of their number, Mrs. Henry Hay, featured the monthly meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. on Tuesday. The gift was made to Mrs. Hay by her daughter, Mrs. John Storie, and her sister, Mrs. Ida Walkinshaw, and Mrs. A. G. Thompson who for the past five years has been president of the Peterborough Presbyterial, made the presentation. During the business period presided over by the President, Mrs. Robert McCulloch, the reports of the secretary and treasurer were given and 25 calls were indicated as made during the past month. Prayer cards and leaflets on "A World Wide Look" were distributed to members.

For the program Mrs. A. C. Connor presided and a feature of this was a talk given by Mrs. Andrew Milne on one of the Presbyterian Missionaries (Mrs. Hermanson) who has recently been withdrawn from Formosa and made Superintendent of the Rocky Mountain House Hospital. Mrs. James Storie lead in prayer and the report of the Presbyterial Executive held in Peterborough was given by Mrs. John Storie. Mrs. Charles Milne offered a solo and Mrs. A. C. Connor gave a brief message entitled "World Christians and You."

Four New Movies Shown Tory Gathering

PORT HOPE, Feb. 5.—(ENS)—Th Port Hope Conservative Association held a most enjoyable social evening in the Oddfellows hall on Wednesday night with a large crowd in attendance.

Dr. R. P. Vivian, president of the Association, opening the meeting with a short adress. He explained the meeting was called not as a party political meeting but a general get together for a better insight into the needs of our country.

Moving pictures were then shown, the product of National Film Board of Canada, loaned to meetings such as this kind with non theatrical purposes. The first film shown was titled "The Peoples of Canada" and showed their racial origin and habits, social customs of foreigners, French Canadians and western farmers. The second film was "Guards of the North" and showed the part played by Canadian troops in preparation for the defence of Iceland and the third film, "Britain at Bay" by J. B. Priestly. This picture showed the wonderful courage of Britain, the mobilizing of the industrial forces, the courage of the firefighters, the women looking after the bombed areas and the doctors and nurses working under such strained conditions. The fourth film, "Everywhere in the World," giving from President Roosevelt's speech the four essentials: freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want, and freedom from fear everywhere in the world.

At the finish of the films the meeting was thrown open for any comments and for discussion.

Musical numbers were given by Mrs. Bryant singing, "I Shall Always Remember You Smiling."

Miss Marie Cancilla sang two lovely numbers "Oh, Lovely Night" by Landon Ronald and "I Carry You in My Pocket," by Ralph Grosvenor. A piano solo by Miss Frances Johnson was enjoyed being Tschaikowsky Concerto No. 1.

The program came to a close with Mrs. L. Gibson playing "God Save the King," after which dainty refreshments were served.

Senator Dies

Senator George Gordon of North Bay died suddenly in a Toronto hotel. He was appointed to the Senate in 1912.

Victory Loan Workers Plan Campaign

COBOURG, Feb. 5.—(ENS).—The response of Cobourg and Northumberland citizens to requests that they serve on the Victory Loan committees is very pleasing according to Mr. W. S. Edwards, county chairman. Mr. Edwards will issue a statement some time next week in regard to coming drive he stated.

The canvassers will make a house to house effort again this time, the chairman adds and the fine total of the last drive will be again realized, the chairman feels.

Is Very Ill.

Mr. S. Stevenson is confined to hospital here at present with a pulmonary ailment. A well known citizen, Mr. Stevenson's illness is regrette by his many friends. His condition was described as "only fair" Wednesday by hospital authorities.

Home On Leave.

Three veteran guard members from Kingston are at present spending leave here in town. They are: Ptes. L. Flesch, K. Comrie and D. May. All three are Cobourg men and served during the full term in World War No. 1.

Pte. Flesch has two boys in the present active forces, Gnr. J. Flesch with the 47th Batt., R.C.A. Canadian Army overseas and L.A.C. L. Flesch, R.C.A.F also overseas.

Pte May's oldest boy, Gnr. P. May, is at present with an R.C.A. unit in Canada.

Manual Training Students Shown Film

COBORG, Feb. 5.—(ENS).— Mr. Bruce Marshall, an oil and gasoline representative, arranged for the showing of a very instructive film at the C.C.I. manual training class here yesterday. The film was entitled, What is good gasoline? At the end of the film a questionnaire on the subject was given on the subject and an examination will be held shortly by Mr. W. Clark, teacher of the class, on the question. A Collegiate ring bearing the school crest, will be awarded by Mr. Marshall to the pupil turning in the highest paper on the subject.

Harwood News

The Young People's Union crossed Rice Lake to Hiawatha on Sunday afternoon, where they took charge of the worship service at the church there. Mr. R. E. Drope presided. Two anthems were sung by the choir. Mrs. J. Robson sang for a solo, "Home, Sweet Home." Miss Ina Rosevear gave an address entitled "Home." The same society will have charge of the service on March 1.

The Harwood Women's Institute forwarded to the Red Cross, Cobourg, the following articles: 12 quilts, 5 pair seamen's socks, 12 pair socks, 1 pair sleepers, 1 pair pyjamas. Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Walter Johnson, who are in charge of the knitting, have a new supply of wool, and those who can knit are asked to call for wool to help with this work.

Misses Helen Moyer and Marjorie Massey spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Massey, Morganston.

Mrs. Ed Hill, Murray and Fred of Peterborough spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mrs. T. Sandercock, Roseneath, is spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. Ellis Isaac and family.

Mrs. McGuire, Cobourg, spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Campbell.

Mrs. Tuck and family spent the week-end with relatives in Peterborough.

Miss Shirley Wilkins, Cobourg, spent the week-end with Miss Jean Campbell.

Pte. George Willcock, Peterborough, who spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Willcock, has been transferred to Kingston.

Messrs. Wallace Young and Joseph Walker spent the week-end in Toronto.

Many from here attended the carnival at Baltimore on Friday evening. Mr. Frank Shearer acted as one of the judges for costumes.

The French "Debt"

BERNE Switzerland, Feb. 5 — (AP). — An annual statement of the Bank of France showed yesterday that it "owed" the German government 64,580,000,000 francs (about $1,291,600.00), and had advanced 142,507,000,000 francs (about $2,850,140,000) for payment of the costs of German occupation up to the end of last year.

Steelites Lose To Bees 4-1; Chemicals Win

TWEED, Feb. 5.—(ENS)—Farnsworth Bees of the Centre Hastings Rural League, pulled into a three point lead on Tuesday night, when they trounced the Steelites, 4-1, while Sulphide Chemicals sprung a surprise by stepping into Roslin and trouncing them 6-3.

In the first engagement between the Bees and Steelites, the first period was scoreless. Marsh took a pass from D. Meraw to open the scoring in the second frame, while Prout rapped home a pass from Orr to tie the count.

Farnsworth settled down in the last period, and tallied three, Meraw and Marsh accounted for two on solos, while Meraw took a pass from Marsh for the last counter. Only one penalty was handed out, that to Prout in the second period. Lineups:

Steelites: Goal, Rodgers; defence, Orr, O. Woodcock; centre, Prout; wings, J. Wagar, C. Atton; subs, D. Barnett, C. LaVallee, H. Leal, E. Woodcock.

Farnsworth: Goal, Mouck; defence, R. Palmateer, D. Casey; centre, D. Meraw; wings, J. Marsh, D. Bateman; subs, D. Palmateer, J. Lajoie, N. Thompson.

Referee—George Geraldi.

Chemicals Win 6-3

The Roslin aggregation, minus several players, including the regular goal tender, were easy marks, for Sulphide, who rubbed in a sound shellacing. In the first period, the Chemcials tallied three counters, with Cordy receiving a pass from Shannon to open the count, Rivers soloing for the second and then Shannon rapping in a three-way pass from Langevin and Cordy for the third.

Langevin rapped in a counter early in the second to make the score 4-0 before Roslin put on their power play and banged in three counters with Empson driving in two counters and Hart from Empson for the third.

In the last frame two counters were tallied by the Chemicals A. Cournyea soloed and Langevin slipped in a pass from Shannon.

Sulphide: Goal McIlroy; defence, B. McRae, A. Cournyea; centre, L. Langevin; wings, E. V. Akey, G. Cordy; subs, L. Rivers, H. Jackson, E. Wallace, Lakotas, Shannon, A. Akey.

Roslin: Goal, Masters, replaced by Chumbley in second period; defense, Matis, Chumbley; centre, Hart; wings, Empson, W. Chisholm; subs, Gray, Carleton, D. Chisholm.

Referee: George Geraldi.

Vanishing Teas Are Arranged

PORT HOPE, Feb. 5—(ENS). — On Wednesday afternoon a series of Vanishing Teas was started by Miss Lesley Ward at her home, 40 Walton street. These teas are in aid of the raising of funds for the equipping of our minesweeper H.M.C.S. Port Hope.

The first hostess entertains six guests, each paying 25c, and in turn having a tea each inviting five guests, who in turn invite four, and so on until at the finish, if the chain is not broke 1,956 women of the town will have attended a Vanishing Tea and the sum of $489.00 is hoped to be raised in this way.

Little Things Help For Big War Effort

HAVELOCK, Feb. 5 — (ENS). — Giving a paper before Havelock Women's Institute meeting, Mrs Charles Couch emphasized the need for women to be more economical in their homes in the use of badly needed electrical power and of their kitchen utensils which will not be so easily replaced during the war.

"There is much more we can learn about economics in our homes but there is no point in learning to be economical unless we intend to put it to practical use," she said. "We must realize that the outcome of this war depends not only upon the women of Russia, Britain or the U.S.A. but what every Canadian woman saves in her home."

"Our first duty is to end extravagance in the home and to look upon thrift as a necessity—not a word. There are some three million homes in Canada," she pointed out. Among many suggestions, Mrs. Couch recommended turning off the home light as soon as the room is vacant, not letting heating appliances burn needlessly, keep the refrigerator door closed, keep the electric stove clean, properly insulate homes to save fuel and clean up any fire hazards about the home. "It's the little things that count," she said.

Free Insurance

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5—(AP).—Senate passage of the $1,000,000,000 War Damage Bill giving United States property owners free insurance up to $15,000 damage has raised the question of providing free life insurance for members of the armed forces.

Although such a proposal has not been presented to Congress, Senator R. M. La Follette (Prog.-Wis.) told the Senate on Tuesday during debate on the War Damage Corporation Bill that Congress might as well face the "next logical step" —free insurance for the men who fight.

Miss D. Adcock Is Staff Driver

COBOURG, Feb. 5—(ENS).—Miss D. M. Adcock of Cobourg, a member of the Canadian Army Women's Corps, has been appointed staff driver for Brig. L. Armstrong, D.O.C. for M.D. No. 3, headquarters at Kingston.

Corp. Adcock was the first girl from this district to join the C.A.W.C. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Adcock, King street west.

Another Cobourg girl joined this week when Miss G. Leiper, George street, left for Gananoque. She has signed up as a driver with the Canadian Women's Army Corps and left at once on receipt of her call to report for duty.

A Remarkable Incident

The story appearing in the newspapers about a brigadier-general of a tank corps in Britain being court-martialed and dismissed because he struck an insulting and arrogant Nazi air officer over the head with a stick, causes not a little surprise. His was obviously an act contrary to military law and discipline, but it is rather beyond the ability of many people to reason out why it is quite the proper thing to kill or wound hundreds of thousands of soldiers (and those who achieve most in this respect are often awarded honors), and yet if an insolent enemy prisoner is exasperating, he mustn't be touched. The one to whom he shows his sneers and insolence must take it.

If what comes from internment camps in Canada—and a good deal reaches one's ears despite the policy of keeping quiet—if these stories are true, and not a few have got into the press from time to time—then some of the Germans from the lowest commissioned rank up to the highest are certainly insolent and contemptible to those in charge of them. It is a pity such defiance could not be humbled. As it is the people who are giving them decent treatment are obliged to endure their boorish manners.

If the facts of the incident had been reversed and a German officer of the rank even of a lieutenant had struck an English-speaking prisoner under real provocation, he probably would have been raised up a peg or two for his act. The reports that have come out of German internment camps tell of gross brutalities inflicted upon many civilians who were in positions of trust and responsibility before the war broke out, and upon prisoners who are non-commissioned. It seems that once a person gets a commission in the armed forces of nations he is a favored being as against the private, but even if this rule is internationally recognized and can imagine what the Gestapo type of overlord would do to impertinent and contemptible men, even if they were officers.

Looked at calmly, however, two points impress a person. One is that the British held to strict observance of military law and passed out punishment to the man who violated it, though he was a high ranking officer; the other that we, as English-speaking people, would not want to lower ourselves to the level of those who made the name Nazi a word of shame and contempt. It is, and for generations has been, a pride among those who are Britons in spirit, if not by birth, that discipline is handed out impartially to the exalted and the low.

A person holding high rank or position is supposed to have even more self-government and a better knowledge of laws and customs than have most other persons not so elevated in the public eye. It is therefore to be expected that no matter how insufferable a German might be, he still is a prisoner and not able to defend himself as could those in charge of him. Consequently the law is there as to what control and restraint an officer should use, and the court-martial decided that law must be obeyed or gradually it would be disregarded by others.

There is nothing but loathing to be extended to the over-bearing and merciless Nazis and Fascists who have cruelly treated civilian and military prisoners alike. Their brutality has brought upon them the scorn of decent men and women in all parts of the world, but if we, as followers of Christian teaching and principles, were to be no better than they in our moral conduct toward the helpless and weak, our fight against them would lose its spiritual force and that is a vital factor in this whole conflict.

No, there can be no sound argument advanced against the decision of the military court, from what has been made public, and it is to the supreme credit of the dismissed officer that he didn't let his mistake prevent him from carrying on his just resentment of the Hun. He is doing it though in a legal way. He has enlisted as a mere trooper in the Canadian tank forces. That shows the stuff that is in him.

The basis for surprise was not the court's strict observance of military law, but that civilization should permit wholesale killings and unspeakable suffering on the one hand and yet be so rigidly against any more or less harmless act (except as it is contrary to military law) such as the brigadier-general committed.

A Dynamic Peer

In working out the personnel of the new British production ministry, Prime Minister Churchill did not have to ponder much over who would be the most capable man to head up this part of the war machinery of government. Lord Beaverbrook, the Canadian-born peer, has shown by his remarkable accomplishments, since he entered the public service, that he has the dynamic force and the aggressiveness to get the result in that department which is urgently needed. Indeed, it is rather amazing what he has been able to do in speeding up industry and officialdom, both of which were moving along in a steady but not adequate way until he took a hold of things some months ago.

Popular opinion has it that the "Beaver," as he has come to be known, is a New Brunswicker by birth but that is wrong. He was born at Maple, Ont., a hamlet up near Aurora, north of Toronto. His family moved away to the Maritime province, however, when he was young and it was there that he grew up and received his education.

So often one is inclined to associate in the mind a bigness of body with importance of position. Because Lord Beaverbrook has so much driving energy and has become not only a wealthy newspaper publisher but also a power in the fighting program of the Empire, it would seem that naturally he should be large and imposing in stature. The fact is that he is of only medium height and weight, unless he has grown heavy of late. A few years ago he was rather slender in build and not particularly robust looking. What he does possess to a surpassing extent is a quick, keen mind and a rare capacity for work.

Some men have exceptional organizing ability, an ability which does not hesitate and flounder but instead is quietly certain of itself, and radiates a sense of strength and confidence to others. Beaverbrook is that kind of person. He can keep two or three secretaries and clerks busy and as many telephones without appearing to be carrying on at a high pitch.

Another fact about him may be interesting, as personal matters usually are about the great. After he had accumulated wealth through his great publishing enterprises and middle age had come upon him, he decided to start rebuilding his physical and nervous system. Unlike so many men who form habits of constant, every-day tension and high tempo, habits which seem to hold them as though they were chained, he reasoned that careful eating, getting regular sleep, taking exercise and keeping his mind fixed on body-building would make it possible for him to enjoy his advanced years and that he would probably live longer than as though he gave up and retired, or kept on more or less unconsciously as he had been going. Adopting a program based upon his own knowledge and philosophy, he started in to see what he could do to make himself strong and full of reserve. The story from there on tells itself. What he has achieved in war production and allied co-operation has been enough to tax even a young, stalwart man.

A Scientist Goes Beserk

There are people—interesting, too—who are always looking for something. If they find what they are after, they immediately start on another pursuit and the more elusive the thing is they are searching for the more tenacious they are in their effort.

Curious, studious, inquisitive types of men, these whose minds are never satisfied with what they know "is" and that keep on hunting for what they think "isn't" but "may be." They're composites—made up of philosopher, scientist speculator, experimenter and prophet. They are able to reason one into believing that good comes out of bad, bad out of good and light out of darkness.

A rare specimen of this super-intelligence has been busy of late working on the theory that if the war hadn't come and cut off the supply of steel, rubber and other such materials — cut it off from non-essential use—mankind would have kept on developing artificial methods of getting about on earth until gradually we would have shrunk back to Lilliputians, with bodies but practically no legs or arms. They just wouldn't be needed any longer. Reduced to that dimension, people could then visit the little folks on Mars and Jupiter without making them feel physically inferior.

Now that automobiles are becoming fewer and fewer, this particular savant sees real hope for muscles and tendons. They may be obliged to come back into use whether they are wanted or not—may have to resurrect themselves from neglect and atrophy. He even predicts that walking, once known to primitive man, will be resorted to again, even by the elite, as a means of locomotion and transportation. In fact, he regards it as possible that in the course of time necessity may force the reluctant to go on their feet from their homes to the club, office or store.

What affect this strain may have upon the disposition of the masses has not yet been determined by the learned student. He hasn't yet completed his minute laboratory experiments nor finished his processes of induction and deduction. It is reported that he may have to make a psycho-analysis test upon some guinea pigs to make certain what a mortal's I.Q. will be under the new social and economic conditions. But until the entire investigation is over, it isn't fair to predict whether tempers will be sweetened any, particularly now that the sugar bowl has gone into hiding. It is believed, though, that honey and molasses may be resorted to as substitutes.

Heroic Defenders

The continued resistance with which the United States forces in the Philippines and the British in the Singapore zone have held out against tremendous odds is one of the conspicuous features of the past few months of war. The outside world has been tense with eagerness to get the latest news from day to day, indeed, from hour to hour, with respect to the ability of the defenders of those two places in the Far East to withstand the onslaughts, with their superior numbers, of the Japanese.

The announcement from London that reinforcements are on their way to Singapore will help to relieve the grave anxiety with regard to that stronghold and it may be assumed that aid is also going out from America to fortify the gallant stand of General MacArthur and his men, many of whom are of his own native Republic but others of whom are natives of the islands.

The fact that these strategic points have been maintained under the handicaps that have prevailed means that when the full force of British and United States power is turned upon the Nipponese, a few months hence, the wily and treacherous attackers will pay dearly for their mischief.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The sun shines three hundred and sixty-five days every year yet about the only time when its friendship is really appreciated is the day following a night of twenty below zero.

Who would ever have imagined that Britain would be sending shipments of arms to Eire to aid it in protecting itself against any enemy attack? Though true, the whole thing seems a bit "eery" doesn't it?

Commercial page headline says: Pinch in Woollens Looms in United States. We've heard of woollens tickling and giving a kind of St. Vitas dance to some people, but now that they are likely to pinch—well, that's too much!

For some time the Government at Ottawa was criticized for not giving the public enough information about its war activities. Now it seems that the machinery set up for sending out printed matter of every conceivable kind has gone to the other extreme and mails out two or three copies of this and that to offices where one would do. The editor of the Elora Express has let the matter "get into his hair" and so says:

> "We stood on our waste basket the other morning to make room for more discarded Government releases and as our salvage society has no baler to date, we don't know what the eventual outcome will be. However, our big objection is not to one budget of useless Government publicity. It is when they come in duplicate, and even in triplicate, that we really do object."

MIDWINTER THAW

The rivulet with gleeful sound
Has slipped the crackled ice that bound
It to the darkness of deep snows,
And through the dripping wood it flows,
Full of music strangely merry,
Freighted with a frozen berry
Yellow birch leaf, cone of fir,
Fern frond green as midsummer,
Where no summer is, but weight
Of clinging snow, and sky of slate
Above the boughs, and winds that sigh;
While from nowhither comes the cry
Towards day's end of phantom owls
With jewel eyes and snowy cowls;
While track of foot and trace of claw
Blur and vanish in the thaw;
And from a tossing piney crest
Falls the last remnant of a nest.

The Movie Men Finally Discover Canada

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

AT LAST a full-length, first-rate movie with a good cast has been made about Canada! A few optimists, like the present writer, have waited long for this day; now it has come, and every hope which we ever entertained of such a movie has been more than justified. It is, as you already know, "49th Parallel" and it was made in this country last summer by an English company, with a cast of actors from Hollywood, from England, and some from Canada. The difficulties which cropped up in the course of making the movie were many, and on one or two occasions it looked as though the project might have to be abandoned. However, it was carried through, and the result is one of the best and most completely satisfying movies that the present writer has ever seen.

Not everyone is so enthusiastic. The movie reviewers of some of the Toronto newspapers have greeted "49th Parallel" with very faint praise indeed. One of them, indeed, dismisses it as 'a lurid bit of melodrama.' But then, he is the same critic who brushed aside Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice" as 'insipid stuff....required reading for young ladies,' so we can see that he is a critic of very exacting standards indeed. Those of us who are not so jaded by the dizzy metropolitan life of Toronto (a movie today, an ice-cream soda tomorrow and perhaps a bingo party next week) may find "49th Parallel" thrilling and absorbing. Certainly it will give us some new ideas about Canada.

The story of "49th Parallel" is a good one. A German U-boat, which has torpedoed a cargo ship in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, makes for Hudson Bay in order to escape the planes which are searching for it. It reaches the Bay, but is discovered and sunk by our planes, just after a landing party of six men has gone ashore to look for food and supplies. They are left, therefore, stranded on the shores of the Bay, but they are not dismayed. Six brave Nazis against 11,000,000 degenerate Canadians—what had they to fear? They attack a Hudson's Bay Company post, where there are two men, the factor and a French-Canadian trapper; they kill the trapper and overpower the factor, and escape in a rickety plane. One of them is shot by an Eskimo while escaping.

THE planes crashes in a lake north of Winnipeg, and the pilot is killed. The four survivors make their way to a nearby Hutterite settlement, where a group of Germans are living a sort of communistic, or primitive Christian, life. Here they are well received, but when they attempt to preach Nazism and 'ties of blood,' they are sternly rebuked by the Hutterite pastor. But one of the Nazis, a simple peasant fellow, likes the Hutterite life and wants to join them. He is shot by his comrades. They then proceed to walk from Winnipeg to Vancouver, but they soon get a car, new clothes, and money by means of their own. (The one thing in the picture which tends to become monotonous is the spectacle of Nazis hitting innocent people over the head from behind.) They come upon a camp in the mountains, where an introspective author is at work upon a book; they have, meanwhile, lost another of their number to the R.C.M.P. Here in the mountains they make an ineffectual attempt to rob the author, but luck is with him and he manages to overcome one of them, and solemnly beats him up, as revenge for what the Nazis have done to European culture.

The sole survivor is Lieutenant Hirth, the leader of the expedition. He manages to get as far as Niagara Falls, and almost makes his way into the United States. He would have done so if he had not been so injudicious as to steal the pants from a Canadian soldier, but this unfriendly act costs him his liberty. We last see his train moving backward toward the Canadian side of the Falls, and the waiting hands of justice.

The casting of the film is excellent. There is not a weak spot anywhere. Lieutenant Hirth is admirably played by Eric Portman, an Englishman with a long experience in playing villains. He is the one character who goes right through the film, and holds it together. The French-Canadian trapper is Lawrence Olivier; the part fits him well and he is as lively and engaging as ever in it. The Hutterite Pastor is Anton Walbrook, one of the many excellent actors whom the Nazis have driven from Germany. The small role of a Hutterite girl is played by Glynis Johns, a very young Welsh actress of remarkable promise. The author in the mountains is Leslie Howard, who is as satisfactory as usual. But in the opinion of the present writer, the hit of the film is a Canadian actor, Raymond Massey, who plays the part of the Canadian soldier. Massey is a brilliant comedian, and his antics with the bottle of Canadian wine...."Catawba—sherry type ...." were excruciatingly funny.

This film proved, once for all, that Canada has everything that is necessary for the production of excellent moving pictures. The scenery in "49th Parallel" was magnificent, and the Canadian people shown in its various episodes were picturesque, vivid and refreshing. We have not, of course, a body of actors who could be used in the production of films, but good actors could be attracted here and in time we would find more Masseys. The music of the film, which did much to add to its effectiveness, was written for it by the great English composer, Ralph Vaughan Williams. The showing of "49th Parallel" in the U.S. and in Britain will do more to interest the peoples of those countries in Canada than any amount of direct advertising. Let us hope that, when the war is over, Canada will, with Britain and American help, establish a movie industry of its own. We could do nothing more calculated to gain the interest of the rest of the world than export films of the excellence of "49th Parallel."

• Far East Crisis Near

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—Despite his assurances that "great reinforcements" will arrive in the Southwest Pacific, General Sir Archibald Wavell's appeal to Allied troops there to hold their ground carries a grim reminder of the British "backs-to-the-wall" order in France twenty-four years ago.

That "order of the day" was issued April 12, 1918, by General Sir Douglas Haig, later Earl Haig. The German master offensive of that dark spring was in full cry, with American troops yet to be tested in major action. British lines in Picardy were crumbling, and contact between British and French armies was gravely threatened.

General Wavell perhaps had that in mind even more than the first Battle of Ypres, which he cited as a precedent, and the British stand at Tobruk. Now, as in France in 1918 and in Libya last year, he said, the mission of the British Empire forces and their allies is to hold on until help reaches them to turn the tide of battle against the Japanese.

Thus history repeats itself in less than a quarter-century. General Wavell, as Allied Commander-in-Chief in the Pacific war theatre, has apparently reached the conclusion that the crisis is at hand there. The Nipponese drive to break through British-Netherlands-American defenses and sweep the Netherlands Indies, even Australia, into the Axis drag-net is at its peak. When, where or how the promised Anglo-American reinforcements will arrive to thwart it, as Anglo-American-French armies thwarted the last German victory effort in 1918, is yet to be disclosed.

The news from other war fronts is none too cheering. The British "annihilation drive" in North Africa has become a puzzling retreat. Empire forces have withdrawn from virtually all the Libyan hump. In Russia there have been no new claims for days of strategic towns or important junctions recaptured by Red armies. At least one re-won foothold in the Crimea, Feodosyia, has been lost by the Russians again.

In the Atlantic the sea warfare has spread to American coastal waters. The cost in tanker and other tonnage sunk is heavy.

Despite this shadowed war picture for the Allies, there are definite hopeful factors. General Wavell enumerated some of them, like the impregnability of Singapore Island to Japanese flanking manoeuvres. General Douglas MacArthur's amazing stand against far greater odds on Batan Peninsula is another. Chinese reports that the foe is combing already thinned down Japanese garrisons in China to muster fresh force for the grand assault southward is yet another.

Nor can United States naval operations in the Marshall and Gilbert Islands be overlooked. Those raids went a long way toward smashing or neutralizing dangerous Japanese outposts menacing the main reinforcement routes across the Pacific. They tended to confirm to General Wavell's men his assurances that help is coming.

Turning back to the 1918 "backs-to-the-wall" precedent for General Wavell's order, it should be recalled that it was issued at the blackest hour of the war for the Allied powers. Three months later, in July of that year, the Germans were in general retreat in France. Seven months later, on Nov. 11, they surrendered and the first Great War ended.

WAR HITS SUGAR BOWL

IN some of the popular restaurants the freedom of the sugar bowl has vanished. When a patron orders coffee they ask him if he wants sugar and bring him two pieces if he says yes. No doubt they will give him a third piece if he feels he must have it.

But the sugar bowl itself is gone. Solitary diners can no longer wile away the minutes between orders by stacking the paper-wrapped sugar blocks into neat lines and imposing towers. Luncheon groups can no longer use the contents of the sugar bowl to illustrate the situation in the Libyan desert. Bad manners, no doubt, but the thing has been done.

Bowls will suffer in the war. One of the very first casualties of the Pacific war here at home was the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena. Who can say what next fall will bring to football games in our many other bowls? —New York Times.

RUNNING WAR

MR. CHURCHILL is not one to cry for quarter, nevertheless captious critics will have something to think about in one passage from his speech yesterday. He said: "Although I feel the broadening swell of victory and liberation bearing us and all tortured peoples onwards safely to the final goal, I must confess to feeling the weight of the war upon me even more than in the tremendous summer days of 1940." Running wars in hard fact is much more difficult than running them in impatient theory.—Brantford Expositor.

HE FACES REALITIES

United States troops have landed in Northern Ireland, and Mr. De Valera's determination to keep Eire out of war comes sharply up against a new set of realities.—Ottawa Journal.

FAR TOO MANY MEMBERS

FORTHCOMING redistribution of Parliamentary seats, based on the 1941 census, will reduce the House of Commons membership by seven, four being cut off Saskatchewan and three off Manitoba. This will mean a House total of 245 members, representing a population of less than 11,500,000. Other major legislative bodies — the nine Provincial parliaments or legislative assemblies—will add to the score another 506.

On the face of it, this aggregation of parliamentarians is too unwieldly and too expensive for a country which, despite its great area, has a relatively small population. If it be argued that this set-up is required under the terms of the British North America Act or any of half a dozen other statutes, the reply is the same: the constitution of Canada is by no means as immutable as the laws of the Medes and Persians. The fact is that the present scale of representation is out of all sensible proportion to the needs, particularly (if this is not too caustic) in view of the fact that the majority of members seem to vote pretty much as they are told by the party controllers. The present behavior of Parliament, for instance, is an enlightening if not edifying illustration of the "rubber stamp" character of such assemblies. The point is that fewer such stamps would be less expensive to hte taxpayers. In case that be thought facetious (and, unfortunately there is a grain of sober truth in it) it is still quite clear that ten large and costly governments for fewer than 12,000,000 people comprise far too heavy a burden to be either reasonable or economical.

The situation could be corrected quite simply except for one factor; the rather natural disinclination of politicians, civil servants and office holders in all categories to vote themselves out of comfortable jobs. The fact that the jobs may be superfluous or duplicative does not exert due influence in the places where it might count most.—Brantford Expositor.

Thieves

While on patrol duty a member of the Home Guard came across a watchman asleep in his hut.

The sirens had just previously sounded. Shaking the old man, he shouted: "Wake up; don't you know the siren's gone?"

Sleepily he mumbled: "Well, I'm not surprised. The people round here'll take anything."

The secretary answered without thinking: "Oh, no," he explained. "It's nothing very much! He walks in his sleep."

ENGLISH VS. BRITISH

THE correspondent who, in reporting eastern operations, noted the services of Scottish troops and then referred to the English troops as British seems to have roused afresh the old protest against the growing tendency to shelve the word English in favor of British.

Nowadays, when there is a tendency to accept "British" to such an extent that "English" is in positive danger of becoming obsolete, it is pleasant to remember that Thomas Hardy remained to the end a firm and unyielding supporter of England and English.

In his "Life" by his wife we are reminded that in 1920 he wrote to one of the societies which is content to call itself English: "I may be allowed to congratulate the Society and its members on their wise insistence on the word 'English' as the name of this country's people, and in not giving way to a few shortsighted clamorers for the vague, unhistoric, and pinchbeck title of 'British' by which they would fain see it supplanted."—Manchester Guardian.

Call ARP Heads To Parley On Light Issue

OTTAWA, Feb. 5—(CP).—Pensions Minister Mackenzie addressing Air Raids Precautions authorities representing all the provinces, appealed Tuesday for the carrying out of their affairs with the Federal Government "on a basis of mutual trust and goodwill."

Mr. Mackenzie spoke at a conference of A.R.P. authorities called to Ottawa to consider whether a uniform code of lighting regulations for the Dominion was practicable.

The new blackout regulations adopted last December, he said, were designed to ensure that in the event of an air-raid alarm all lights could and would be immediately extinguished and in all practice blackouts it had been found there were many lights not under the immediate control of any person able to respond to the alarm.

"After the regulations had been published applications for exemptions were received from various industries in all parts of the country," Mr. Mackenzie told the conferees. "The striking fact about them was their great variety."

Because demands from different cities and provinces were not at all similar in character it was decided to submit such applications for exemptions to provincial governments. One province declined to offer any recommendations, Mr. Mackenzie said. In other cases it was found difficult to reconcile provincial recommendations with the fundamental purpose of the lighting regulations.

Such Combined Advice

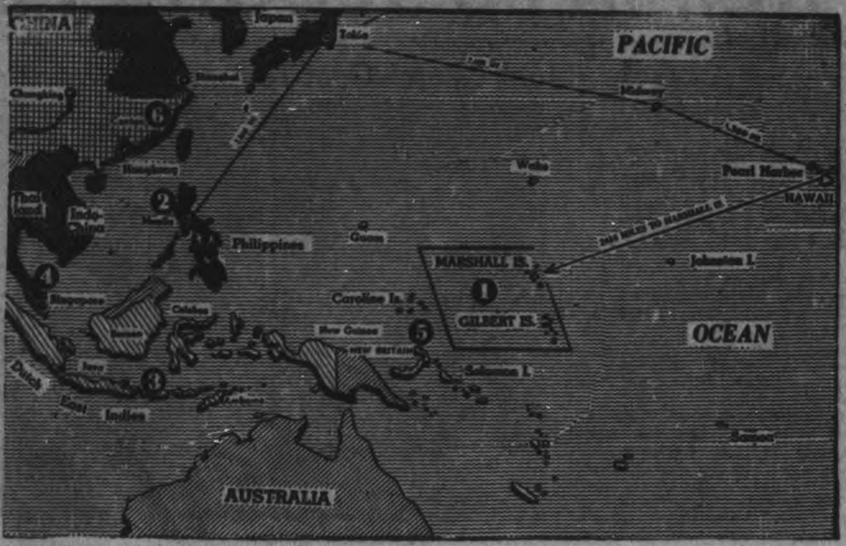
"Accordingly," he added, "we have asked representatives of interests definitely concerned to assemble here, compare notes, describe the special conditions with which they are familiar and give us the benefit of their combined advice so that these regulations may be applied in a manner that it fair and just—while, at the same time, serving the vital national purposes for which they are required."

At the same time it was planned to go into other phases of A.R.P. work.

There were those who claimed A.R.P. was a Federal responsibility, Mr. Mackenzie said. That would mean taking over municipal departments for the duration of the war—police departments, hospitals, engineering departments—"all of which have vital roles to play in an air raid."

"In short it would mean the complete abolition of municipal government because we could not take control of civic departments for one purpose and leave the city council in control of other purposes," he said. "We have adopted another method. We have asked the provincial authorities to assume direction in their own provinces and to encourage municipal authorities to assume direction in their own communities."

Latest War Moves In The Pacific



This map shows how the situation stands in the Pacific as of today: 1, Japs got cause to remember Pearl Harbor when warships and planes of the U.S. Pacific fleet blasted six bases in the Gilbert and Marshall islands; 2, General MacArthur kept going strong by smashing another Jap attack and attempt to invade Corregidor; 3, Netherlands Indies forces continued to resist wherever Japs attempted invasion on the islands; 4, Singapore's big guns broke up first move towards the island fortress from the mainland of Malaya; 5, Australian bombers attacked Jap fleet at Rabaul, New Britain; 6, Chinese forces east of Canton report Japs fleeing with Chinese in pursuit.

Holsteins Take 25 p.c. Honors

TORONTO, Feb. 5 — (CP). — Canadian-bred Holsteins made a strong showing at the Canadian National Exhibition this past year, winning more than a quarter of the awards. B. H. Thomson of Moose Jaw, Sask., president of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, reported today at the annual meeting.

Discussing the interchange of cattle between United States and Canada, Mr. Thomson criticized Canadian exporters who shipped the lower grades across the border, supplying argument for any in United States who might wish to exclude cattle from the Dominion.

"Our foundation stock all came from south of the border and from time to time animals have been brought in to improve our cattle," said Mr. Thomson. "In more recent years there has been a large movement the other way. On the whole this interchange has, I think, been helpful to each. This market for some of our cattle in the United States is an important one to us."

In discussing the improvement of breed and the registration of cattle, the president reported that the association has registered more than 500,000 cows and about 50,000 have been awarded record of production certificates. An even smaller percentage was graded in selective registration, he added.

"We need a vast expansion of testing and grading," he said.

A Bit Too Lively

BERLIN (From German broadcasts)—Feb. 5—(AP).—The German high command summed up the Russian war in a single sentence today: "On the eastern front, there was lively fighting."

R.C.A.F. Hero

Sgt. Harold Ralph Franklin, of Port Stanley, R.C.A.F., graduate of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, is shown at the wireless set of his Whitley bomber overseas. Sgt. Franklin, a wireless operator-air gunner, has been overseas nearly a year and before the war worked in the Dome Mine at Porcupine. He is the man who, some weeks ago, received official commendation from the commander-in-chief bomber command for courage and efficiency. Wounded in the thigh by incendiary "flak" he beat out fires in his aircraft, gave assistance to the seriously wounded rear-gunner and then managed to repair his damaged radio sufficiently to secure a "radio fix" which guided his pilot on the homeward course. He made no mention of his wound until his return.

McLean Backing King On Stand

OTTAWA, Feb. 5—(CP).—George McLean (Lib., Simcoe East) during the House debate Tuesday, said conscription was not an issue in his election in 1940 but he felt himself bound by the pledges against conscription given by Prime Minister Mackenzie King and the Opposition leader in the 1940 election campaign.

Mr. McLean said he favored the voluntary system of enlistment because volunteers made the best soldiers. But he would retain an open mind on the subject and might change his attitude if the facts, as they developed, indicated that conscription was necessary.

The spirit which animated good soldiers "is not found in the slacker or shirker" who waits to be conscripted or waits until he can get a commission. As a private soldier in the last Great War, and later as a company commander, he had experience with both volunteers and conscripts, Mr. McLean said.

C. G. E. DEFEATS DOMINIONS TO PULL INTO SECOND PLACE TIE

League Leaders Drop First Of Season

C.G.E. pulled into a second place tie with Quakers by beating a previously undefeated team 36-27 in a bitterly fought game at the Y.M.C.A. last night. The winners along with Quakers are now only a half a game behind Dominions and both teams have one game in hand over the league leaders before the first half schedule is completed.

C.G.E. got the jump on Dominions last night and broke into the lead in the opening minutes to lead all the way. They had built up a 19-9 lead at the half and Dominions going all out in the last period succeeded in cutting down their deficit by but a single point The winners set up their lengthy lead in the first half, largely as a result of some deadly long range sniping. They had trouble breaking through the losers' defense but scored consistently from well out to build up a ten point margin in the first ten minutes. From then on through thirty minutes of hard-checking, rough basketball there was very little to choose between the teams. The nearest the losers came to closing the gap was with five minutes to go when they trailed by but six points, but C.G.E. came on in the closing minutes to take the verdict going away. C.G.E. scored two of the three free throw chances they had and Dominions lots a good chance to cut down their deficit by counting but five of 16 tries. Stewart, Currie and Dundas were outstanding for C.G.E. and Grose and Rogow were best for Dominions. The teams:

C.G.E. (36)—Barabe 4, Stewart 9, Smith, Dyer 2, Dundas 6, Currie 12, Pulkinghorn 3.

Dominions (27)—Craig 6, Burns 11, Grose 9, Rogow, Johnston 1, Gillespie.

Referee—Doug. McPherson.

RUTH MOVIE BOUND.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(AP).—Babe Ruth, former home run king of the New York Yankees, is scheduled to leave to-day for Hollywood to begin work on the motion picture based on the life of Lou Gehrig.

At the same time, Bill Dickey, the veteran Yankee catcher, is expected to arrive in the film city. Both men will play themselves in the picture.

Curling News

By HERB MARTIN

By virtue of his win over E. R. Shirley last night James Harkness strengthened his grip on Group A. He is now well out in front.

Tom Ryan pushed over a big five on the last end to make it close, but Bill had too big a lead.

Rufus Payne and Harry White fought a tough old battle over on ice No. 5, with Harry getting the nod by one shot—but boys, it was close.

B. Scott and M. Cruthers furnished another good scrap over on ice No. 7. One shot is all that separated the scores.

The president came out on top at the expense of C. Giroux.

The other two games were somewhat of a one-sided nature, but nevertheless there was also some good curling.

Have you made your entry to the secretary for the open bonspiel next Wednesday? It's for the Canada Packers Trophy.

The ladies turned out in grand style yesterday afternoon and some good curling was seen by the observers on No. 8.

While we are not absolutely sure about this, we believe Mrs. D. Clark's rink is leading the schedule, having won all of their games so far.. and Mrs. G. Wood's rink is a bang-up second with only one loss.

However, when the next few games are played we might be able to give a more definite account.

Mitt Chiefs Mull On Service Men's Crowns

(By BERT ALLEN.)

MONTREAL, Feb. 5—(CP). — The Canadian Boxing Federation will hold a meeting here shortly to decide whether boxers who have joined the armed forces will be allowed to retain their titles, and, if not, whether the titles will be declared open.

Frank Hogan, chairman of the Federation and president of the Montreal Athletic Commission, said he would not make a statement until after the forthcoming meeting.

Dave Castilloux, Canadian lightweight and welterweight champion, who enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force last week, is one of the fighters who will be affected by the Federation's ruling.

His professional career ended for the duration and his future boxing confined to Service sports shows, Castilloux said he would "do some boxing in the ring for the Air Force, if I'm permitted."

His manager, Raoul Godbout, who has handled Castilloux' fistic affairs with a great deal of success, had this to say to his fighter when he enlisted: "Dave, I know you'll be a good soldier, and that's what I want you to be—just be as good a soldier as you were a fighter and everything will be all right."

Harry Hurst, smart Montreal lightweight, also applied for enlistment in the Air Force yesterday.

Castilloux and Hurst join a list of Montreal boxers now on active service, including the Marsh brothers, Doug and Joe, now in Britain, and Eddie Petrin, Canadian Bantam champion, also overseas.

Apparently the Ontario Hockey Association has thrown all its rules out the window in so far as reinforcements for the Belleville Reliance Club are concerned. First Secretary Hewitt authorized the transfer to Belleville of Johnny Hamilton of the Kingston Combines as a military replacement, long after the time limit for such a transfer had expired. And having got away with that the Belleville Club has now brought in three more Kingston players, one of them 'Dud' White of last year's Combines, and the other two Pepper Martin and Grisdale of Queen's University, all of whom performed in Monday night's game against the Petes, after their certificates had received the "O.K." of Secretary Hewitt. Frankly we do not see how the O.H.A. secretary could endorse these transfers, if he were in possession of all the facts in the case. Under the O.H.A. regulations not one of these players is eligible to play in Belleville.

* * * * * *

It is true that provision is made in the O.H.A. regulations for transfers of this kind but it is very plainly and definitely stated that all such transactions must be completed by January 1 of the current year. As a one-time governor of New York used to say, "Let's look at the record." Section 12 of the O.H.A. regulations reads as follows: "A player residing in a rural district, village or police village or in a town (or in a city at the discretion of the O.H.A. executive) must play for the O.H.A. club nearest his residence having a team entered in the series for which he is eligible to play except where such players services are waived by such a club and every other club in the same series nearer his place of residence than the club for which he wishes to play and all such waivers filed with the secretary of the O.H.A. by January 1." That rule certainly speaks for itself.

* * * * * *

If the belleville management had gone out at the beginning of the season and signed up Hamilton, White, Martin and Grisdale, secured the consent of the Kingston Club to their transfer and filed the necessary waivers with the O.H.A. before January 1 they would be perfectly eligible. That is the purpose of the rule and if it had been carried out there could have been no logical objection. But the very fact that a time limit was put on the thing shows that the rule-makers never intended to allow a club to go out in the middle of a season and import a bunch of players. That is exactly what Belleville has done, in defiance of the regulation and Secretary Hewitt, apparently without consulting the executive at all, which he is supposed to do in the case of a player living in a city, has simply rubber-stamped these transfers and authorized the mid-season building up of a club that had already gone the limit in bringing in material. So far as the Petes are concerned they do not expect it to make any difference as the feeling locally is that the Whitby crowd will knock Belleville off in the playoff semi-finals anyway and eventually turn up as Peterborough's opponents in the final series for the group title.

A Lively Opener

The opening games in the second half of the Ladies' Basketball League at the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium tomorrow night promise a lively twin bill as the teams round the half way mark and start the sprint for the finishing line. Incidentally three or four of the outfits are closely bunched as they pass the turn and the two championships, the senior going to the winner of a series between the first and second teams and the intermediate to the team grabbing off a similar series between the third and fourth outfits, are still very much up in the air. Every game from now in is going to count in unravelling this bunch of teams at the top. Quakers play Normal School in the first game Friday night and the porridge team had better be geared up for a tough battle. The school team has been improving and one of these nights will pull off an upset, likely when it hurts the most. In the second game the Electrics and Westclox will clash and that tilt should be a hummer for the teams are very evenly matched. Electrics have been developing into a powerful squad with Elinor Craig leading the attack and they will prove stiff opposition for the strong Westclockers tomorrow night.

* * * * * *

If there are any ambitious mercantile or industrial hockey teams in Peterborough that are looking for a battle on the ice here is a chance for them. The employees of Wartime Housing have organized a hockey team and they have the idea that it is quite an outfit. They realize that there is only one way to find out and that is to go into action against another club. Accordingly they have asked this column to dig up some opposition for them. We pass the word along to any ambitious mercantile or factory team in town that wants a game, sounding the warning that if the Wartime Housing bunch move as fast on the ice as they have been doing building houses, the team that takes them on will have to be a pretty fair aggregation. Anyway let us hear from you.

Mr. Basketball Himself

Mr. Basketball himself will be here Saturday night when Shag Park and his Navy cage team will visit Peterborough for a game at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium with the local Outboard Marines. Park is Toronto's outstanding cage star, one of the best known basketball players in Canada and right now he is the top scorer in senior circles in the Queen City. On the Navy team with him are a number of crack basketeers, including Bill Devitt who is not unknown to local fans. Others in the Navy lineup are Sub. Lieut. Meisner, Ray Murphy, R. Phillips, R. Rogers, G. Ogilvie, R. Wyllie, Jack Starky and Jack Kirkland. The widely known "Scoop" Rennick is the coach of the Sailors and Sub. Lieut. McDermott is managing the team. Outboard Marines will have to turn on the heat early and keep it on all the way if they hope to head off that star-stuffed collection of cage experts. The Navy-Marines game will be prefaced by a City League battle that should be a gem in itself as it bring together the hustling Collegiate and Vocational School five and the C.G.E. squad who upset the dope last night by taking the league-leading Dominions for a ride.

* * * * * *

That City League battle last night was just that. It was the roughest game of the season and although Referee Doug McPherson called a flock of fouls, most of them against C.G.E., there was plenty that got by. The Electricians won the argument 36 points to 27 by virtue of an early lead set up by accurate shooting from the middle court. They were in front 19 to 9 at the half and the best the league leaders could do in the second session was to cut one point off that margin. The checking was strenuous all the way, too strenuous for basketball, and the officials will have to step on some of the rugby tactics that are getting into the cage game here or eventually they will ruin a game that is beginning to take hold in Peterborough and that deserves to take hold, so long as it is played as it is supposed to be, with bodily contact eliminated. Strict refereeing and the chasing of the worst offenders early in the game through the four-personal-fouls route is about the only effective way of curbing the rough stuff which is bound to lead to hard feelings and frayed tempers and damage the reputation of the game if not checked.

Louis Greatest Of All Heavies Burns Declares

By GAIL FOWLER
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

BREMERTON, Wash., Feb. 5.—(CP)—Tommy Burns, Canadian-born former world heavyweight champion, believes thoroughly in the power of thought and Joe Louis' fists.

Of the former, more later. Of the latter, the 1906-1908 world pugilistic star says he believes Louis will go down in ring history as the "greatest heavyweight of all time."

Twinkle-eyed Tommy, almost as busy as a fighting man in his day as Louis has been during his career, is now dispensing beer and good cheer in a busy tavern here in this Pacific Coast town across Puget Sound from Seattle.

(Tommy Burns, born Noah Brusso at Hanover, Ont., June 17, 1881, won a 20-round decision from Melvin Hart in San Francisco, February 23, 1906, and held the title till Christmas Day, 1908, when Jack Johnson in Sydney, N.S.W. "whipped Burns so terrifically that police jumped in and stopped the fight in the 14th round.")

You'd never guess that the portly, bespectacled, soft-spoken, smiling 220-pounder behind the beer taps was 60 years old last June 17. And you'd never guess that at five feet 6½ inches and 170 pounds he was one of the lightest men ever to hold the heavyweight crown.

But this fellow with hardly a wrinkle in his smooth face and hardly a trace of gray in his sparsely thatched pate is the Tommy Burns who hold the record for a quick knockout in a championship fight.

A few weeks ago Tommy skipped the rope 100 times in a minute and 52 seconds. "Not bad for a fellow whole legs were swollen with artritis seven years ago, eh?" he asks.

As a Man Thinks

Ask Tommy whence spouts the elixir of youth he apparently has discovered, and he'll answer:

'It's all in thinking. What one thinks—that is what one is. I found the secret of life and happiness within me and I nearly had to die before I got down to earth and learned what makes things and people go.

Seven years ago, Burns relates, he was taken with arthritis and various complications—"simply because I had forgotten how to live and wasn't taking care of myself. While still in the hospital I began studying a certain type of metaphysical thought—not a religion—so I left the hospital, went home and cured myself."

Recently he mimeographed letters to hundreds of friends all over the country and in it explained his method of living, gist of which is tips on diet and breathing, thinking constructively and helping others.

Tommy outlines his fight career something like this: He got 1.25 for his first fight at the Detroit Athletic Club, back around 1903—and was declared a professional. He was only a 154-pounder then.

In 1906, fighting as a heavyweight, although he barely scaled 170 pounds, he defeated Marvin Hart in Los Angeles for the world heavyweight championship. Then, with himself as his own manager—he never hired a pilot—Burns defended his crown 14 times in two years and 10 months, fighting in England, Ireland, France, the United States, States, Australia and New Zealand.

In a title defence at Dublin against Jem Roche, the Irish champion, Tommy knocked him out in 88 seconds of the first round, which makes the Joe Louis kayo of Max Schmeling in 2:04 look like a marathon in comparison. And Tommy also kayoed Bill Squires, Australian champion in 2:06. "I was small and fighting bigger men, so I had to know what to do and how to punch," he says.

That Johnson Affair

Tommy lost his title to Jack Johnson, the negro, in 1908, at Sydney, Australia.

"I suppose it could have been a draw. The police stopped the fight in the 13th round. Of course Johnson was giving me a licking, but a man is never out until he's knocked out, and as the police, and not the referee, stopped the fight, it should have been a draw."

Burns was 40 years old when he both promoted and fought his last ring battle in London's famed Albert Hall against the English champion, Joe Beckett. Burns says he was tiring about the seventh round and stalled by taking a fall. "But my second though I was hurt and threw in the towel."

Sometime later Burns wrote a newspaper article about a subsequent Beckett fight. Beckett didn't like it.

Burns and Beckett met in a London hotel lobby, and Burns extended his hand. Beckett spurned it. A little later, in an upstairs hotel hallway, they met again. Beckett, instead of shaking hands, took a crack at Tommy.

"We fought for about 10 minutes and finally he cried that he's had enough. Then we shook hands."

No Tavern Fights

That was Burns' last fight. He's never bothered with scraps in his tavern. "When they get to arguing, I just smile and talk 'em out of it and try to get them to thinking instead of arguing. It works."

Tommy has never seen Louis fight—except in pictures, but the pictures were eloquent to him. Burns said that even were Jack Dempsey in his prime, he would bet on Louis, although he would want Dempsey to win. Tommy thinks fighters today are much better than those of the old days, and that the same goes for all branches of athletics.

Burns shares with the Dempsey the opinion that the toughest fighter either met was Fireman Jim Flynn of Pueblo, Colo. Flynn kayoed Dempsey in a couple of rounds when the Manassan was starting in, and Burns said he underrated the fireman and had a terrific time in winnig in 15 rounds in Los Angeles back in 1900.

Jack Church Goes To Amerks

JACK CHURCH

ERNIE DICKENS

Coach Hap Day of the Toronto Maple Leafs has announced the sale of Defenceman Jack Church to Brooklyn Americans and the recall of a rookie defenceman, Ernie Dickens, from Providence Reds. Day announced that the Leafs had given Church and an unstated amount of cash to the Amerks to complete the outright purchase of Lorne Carr, who has been playing for the Leafs on a loan basis.

Hogan Averages $3.85 Stroke

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 5 (AP)—It's nice work if you can get it — and Golfer Ben Hogan is getting it, at $3.85 a stroke.

That's Ben's take since the start of his winter tournament tour, and the long-hitting Hershey, Pa., professional has nine more stops before he shoots for Craig Wood's crown in the Masters' event climaxing the winter tour at Augusta April 9.

He has won $7,207 with 632 holes of competitive golf since Dec. 11, counting an eighteen-hole playoff with Jimmy Thomson for $3,500 first money in the Los Angeles open—just 1,885 strokes at the ball.

He closed out 1941 with the Miami open and two Texas tournaments at Harlingen and Beaumont, winning $2,275 to bring the year's total to $18,358. In January he won another $4,932, including first place at Los Angeles, $375 for fifth at Oakland, and $1,000 for winning the San Francisco open. He slacked off at Rancho Santa Fe, in the Bing Crosby amateur-pro, tying with Horton Smith and Byron Nelson for fourteenth place and a cheque for $57.

Four strokes blown along the way have cost Nelson perhaps $2,400.

The former open champion, second to Hogan in winter tour winnings, shot his way over the same tournament courses for $4,762, including first money at Miami and Oakland. Excluding Hogan's playoff, Nelson finished just four strokes back of little Ben—1,817 to 1,813.

Sam Snead, who blew himself out of $3,500 top money at Los Angeles, is third in winnings at $2,785. He won $1,000 at Miami to become runner-up in 1941 winnings, and the rest in January's four California tournaments.

Weight Too High For Great Alsab

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 4—(AP).—Al Sabath said yesterday he might withdraw his topweighted Alsab from Saturday's $50,000 Bahamas Handicap, first big 1942 three-year-old test, "because 128 pounds is too much to ask him to carry."

Should the Chicago attorney follow his "present inclination" to withdraw last year's juvenile champion, it would postpone the first 1942 duel between Alsab and his arch rival, Ben F. Whitaker's Requested.

Requested, which drew the second highest impost of 121 pounds, likely would be the favorite in the Bahamas if Alsab is held out. The veteran Eddie Arcaro will ride Requested, which won nine of 16 races and $49,850 in purses last year.

The Whitaker's colt's record as a two-year-old was second only to that of Alsab, winner of $110,600 and first in 15 of his 22 starts.

Until Sabath mare his announcement, everything seemed to be shaping up for a test of speed between the two that might have provided a clue to the Kentucky Derby's outcome.

The weights assigned other nominees were: Eternal Bulls, 120; Bright Willie, 117; First Fiddle, 115; American Wolf, Figgeritout and Sir War, 114; Rodney, 113; Bold Question and Tomochichi, 112; Eternal Peace, 111; Alohort, 110; Sweep Swinger, 109; Eire, 108; Incoming, Sergeant Bill and Tietern, 105, and Automaton, 103.

Reliance Boys Win 6-5 From Air Force

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 5—(Special)—Belleville Reliance ran into a flock of good fortune here last night when they ended out with a six to five win over the Air Force Flyers. Mike Rodden's charges lead 3-2 and 5-4 by period, but the Air Force outscored them in the last half of the game.

Leading by three goals midway through the second session the Rodden men battled an inspired sixtette of Flyers, who outscored Belleville during the last thirty minutes but could not sink the equaliser. Chipman, with two goals and an assist, paced the winners, while Hay sank two for the Air Force. It was a helter-skelter type of game with the Flyers disorganizing the rejuvenated Reliance.

The line-ups:

Air Force—Goal, Sponarski; defence, Fleet and Livingston; centre, Jones; wings, Dixon and M Brien; alternates, Kearney, Feldman, Casabon, Millar, Browne and Hay.

Belleville Reliance—Goal, Major; defence, Hamilton and D. White; centre, Chipman; wings, Williamson and Grisdale; alternates, D. White, Martin, C. White, Williams, Bowen, Jennette and Redmond.

Referee — A. W. Armstrong, Oshawa.

Summary.

1st Period—
1 Air Force—Miller (Livingston) 3.10
2 Belleville—Martin (C. White) 4.28
3 Belleville—Chipman (Hamilton) 12.55
4 Air Force—Hay (Millar) 16.49
5 Belleville—Chipman 18.50
Penalties—Chipman and B. White.
2nd Period—

RUMOR DIMAGGIO HOLDING OUT ON $40,000 CONTRACT FOR 1942

Heading South For Holiday Deal Or No Deal

NEW YORK, Feb. 5—(AP).—Joe DiMaggio received his 1942 contract from New York Yankees in yesterday's mail and this year's biggest baseball salary struggle immediately swung into motion.

The Yankees' payroll is a secret, but most writers believed the club had offered its centrefielder close to $40,000 for the coming season, an increase of about $4,000 over the sum he was thought to have received in 1941.

Leaving For Holiday

"This is just the start of negotiations," said DiMaggio, and added that he and his wife and baby are not going to let the salary discussion hold up their Florida vacation. They leave today or Friday for St. Petersburg and wait for the Yankees to open their training camp there the last of this month.

DiMaggio was guarded in his talk about a contract.

"You know that letter the boss (President E. G. Barrow) sends with every contract about not settling this thing in the newspapers," explained DiMaggio. Consequently he would not say whether there was much of a difference between his desires and the club's offer, or whether he thought a long dispute might result.

Persistent Holdout

DiMaggio has been with the Yanks six years and won the American League batting championship twice. He hit .375 last year, finishing behind Boston's Ted Williams, and Cecl Travis of Washington. But he broke a 44-year-old record by hitting safely in 56 consecutive games, and this power propelled New York to its fifth world championship in six years and helped swell the club's attendance, both at home and away.

He has been a persistent holdout in previous years, usually waiting until training has started before signing, and in 1938 did not come to an agreemtn until the season was a week old.

Then the club made him get into condition at his own expense and did not start his pay until he made his debut April 30.

However, this money, amounting to about $1,500, was made up to him in his contract the following year.

As Rangers Tied For League Lead

Marlboros Edge Majors 4-3 As Rally Fails

TORONTO, Feb. 5. — Marlboros took the big and important stride toward crashing the O.H.A. senior playoff gate last night but Eddie Powers' boys came mighty close to being knocked back on their heels by a smashing Hamilton comeback.

The dogged Dukes came through, 4 to 3, but before realizing victory they saw a four-goal lead built up in the first two periods all but wiped out completely by a spectacular Hamilton rally that had 2,500 fans on their feet and roaring at the exciting action during the final 20 minutes.

It was easily the best senior battle of the campaign here and, if it can be taken as a sample of what to expect in the playoffs, the fans are in for some sparkling entertainment. Last night's contest produced dazzling speed and robust hockey. It was a grand performance by both clubs.

Two for Farrant.

It was only some magnificent work by Baz Bastien that kept the Majors off the score sheet during the first two periods. Right Winger Whitey Farrant started the Dukes away right by scoring on a brilliant solo effort at 4:18 of the first period, and Elwyn Morris, defence ace, added another unassisted at the 16:51 mark.

Farrant and Morris combined for the third tally at 1:50 of the second, Whitey taking a pass out and slamming the puck past Goalie Jack Eley from ten feet out. At 18:24 Eddie Shamlock gathered in a long relay from Obs O'Brien to complete the Marlboro scoring at 18:24.

With that four-goal margin Marlboros seemed home free as the third period opened. But the persistent Majors were not to be denied. They finally crashed through the stonewall Duke defence at 3:27 when Dillon Brady, left-wing speedster, drove a backhander past Bastien—and there was just no holding George Redding's boys from there on.

Incessant attacking brought another goal at 6:43 when Doug Runions fired one home, with Brady and Shillington assisting. Then at 16:57 with the locals still on the run and Majors battling desperately, Barlow netted from close quarters, with Conick and Miocinovich drawing assists.

Hectic Climax.

During the closing three minutes the Majors did some torrid attacking and the bewildered Bastien was up and down a couple of dozen times with a great acrobatic performance to preserve that one-goal margin.

The game produced stars all down the line in the hot and heavy going Shamlock and Miocinovich were given major penalties for a fistic outbreak in the third frame.

Hamilton — Goal, Eley; defence, Alan and Dinning; centre, Runions; wings, Brady and Shillington; alterntates, Conick, Barlow, Miocinovich, Laurent, Gasparini Sherry.

Marlboros — Goal, Bastien; defence, Copp and Morris; centre, Grigor; wings, Farrant and Stewart; alternates, O'Brien, Acheson, Shamlock J. Primeau, Henderson, Stafford.

Red Heron Gets Six As Hornets Defeat New Haven Eagles 13 to 4

PITTSBURG, Feb. 5 — (CP). — Statisticians were thumbing back hockey's pages today to establish whether Robert (Red) Heron's six-goal scoring blast in Pittsburg's 13-4 win over New Haven last night in the American Hockey League was a new pro record.

The outburst bettered the existing league record, but official figures were not available. Pit Lepine of Canadiens holds the National Hockey League record with five goals and an assist, scored when the Montrealers beat Ottawa back in 1929 by 6-3.

Never a prolific scorer, Heron, a product of Toronto amateur ranks who has seen service in the Big Time with Toronto Maple Leafs, got his goals in workmanlike fashion. Three of his goals in the first period were tallied within 75 seconds of each other.

The 13 goals also set a new high for one game in the league, and in adlition produced 23 Pittsburg assists.

High scoring seemed to be general on other league fronts also last night. Buffalo Bisons, only two point sahead of the cellar-paced Pittsburg Hornets in the Western division, handed Providence an 8-1 shellacking, and the Eastern section leader, Springfield, jumped on the tail-end Philadelphia Rockets, 6-3.

Sherf Grabs Pair

From early in the game Pittsburg started its scoring against Goaler Phil Stein and kept up its steady barrage with Eagles not once looking as though they might stem the tide. Besides Heron, several other Hornets fattened their scoring averages. John Sherf gathered two goals and five assists while Viv Allen picked up a goal and five assists. Harry Currie tallied two goals, with the others going to Hub Wilson and Lloyd Roubell.

Springfield Indians had to come through with three goals in the second period to assure themselves a win over the lowly Rockets. "Peanuts" O'Flaherty, who set the scoring pace with two goals and as many assists, scored what proved to be the clincher. Fred Thurrier also picked up two goals for the winners with the others going to the veterans Pete Kelly and Max Kaminsky.

Jimmy Peters, former Springfield player, scored two Philadelphia goals and Bus Wycherley the other.

A goal at 16.14 of the final period saved Goaler Claude Bourque from a humiliating shutout as Frankie Boucher scored to give the Reds their only tally in an 8-1 loss to Buffalo. The Herd tallied three goals in each of the first two periods and added another pair before Providence hit the scoring column.

Morrie Rimstad and Kilby MacDonald each picked up a pair of goals fo the night, with the others divided among Max Bennett, Bill Cunningham, Murdo McKay and Chuck Shannon.

Rangers In Spot To Lift Last Of Bruins' Edge

NEW YORK, Feb. 5—(CP).—The staggering Boston Bruins have lost everything to New York Rangers during the last two weeks, but a slight mathematical superiority in the five games played between the two clubs this season—and even that last technical bastion may fall tonight.

Hit harder by injuries than any team has been for years in the National Hockey League, Bruins are drifting downward from the strong position they held for the first ten weeks of the season. Bill Cowley, their most valuable forward, is out with a broken jaw; Dit Clapper, their most valuable defenceman, is out with a severed Achilles tendon. Forwards Phil Hergesheimer and Herb Cain are benched with less serious injuries. The Bruins are in a bad way.

Rangers are rising like rockets. They lead the league by two points over the Bruins, are heading for a couple of all-time scoring records, and have won six straight games. The difference in comparative strength between the two clubs now and during the first two months of the season may be drawn from the records of the five games they have played so far. Bruins won three, Rangers two, with Bruins winning the first two and the fourth of the five games. Each club has scored 13 goals against the other.

Canadiens, almost out of the playoffs, will be at home to the rugged Black Hawks of Chicago tonight, and in the other game Toronto Maple Leafs travel to Detroit to meet the Red Wings.

Chicago has hauled up to within three points of the Leafs' third-place position in the standings and could move closer with a win tonight should the in-and-out Leafs run into an upset at Detroit. Wings are in sixth place, an unaccustomed position, and may do it.

Free To Umpires

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)

CARROTS may go on sale at the local baseball park as the result of a recent ruling permitting 21 night games in Washington.

Saying that he had learned from medical authorities that eating carrots improves vision at night, Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, told newsmen that he plans to feed them to his players, and that they probably would be offered for sale to the fans.

"Umpires will get 'em free," he added.

Tigers Slicing Top Payroll

(By WATSON SPOELSTRA.)

DETROIT, Feb. 5.—(AP).— The Detroit Tigers traditionally prefer to solve their salary troubles in deep silence, but if they get by this year's drastic curtailment of their enormous payroll without a blow-off they ought to qualify for some sort of compromise prize.

The Detroit management yesterday slipped into the mails 1942 contracts for 33 players. How deeply the club cut into the purses of the fallen American League champions was a closely guarded secret, but a clue may be found eventually in the volume of noise from Hartsville, S.C., where the voluble Bobo Newsom spends his winters.

Well informed sources say the Tiger payroll last year following the surprising victory of 1940 was the highest in baseball history. Hank Greenberg topped the list with a reported $55,000 salary (his pay stopped the day he entered the army), and Newsom was next in line with a reputed $37,000 figure.

Because he won few games and lost much favor last year, Newsom's impending pay cut was expected. The Tigers are known to have chipped down other salaries with few exceptions. The latter probably including big Al Benton, a relief hurler who became the club's best pitcher, and Barney McCosky, top batter.

"We have to fit the cloth to the pattern," General Manager Jack Zeller said recently while engaged in salary affairs. He pointed to war-time economy, a 400,000 decrease in home attendance last year and a tie for fourth place in the league standings.

All Stars Shade St. Louis By 4-3

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 5 (AP) — Early power gave St. Louis Flyers, leaders of the American Hockey Association, illusions last night, but an all-star outfit, led by Connie King of Fort Worth, proved there isn't any hockey Santa Claus with a thumping third-period surge and a 4-3 victory.

King disillusioned the Flyers. They were ahead by two goals and moving fast as the third period opened. Less than 10 minutes later, King had stuffed two goals into the net and the game was tied.

That situation didn't hold long. Paul Runge of Dallas scored the winning goal two minutes later and nothing the exasperated Flyers could do served to erase that advantage.

The Runge score was slightly on the luck side of the ledger, for Captain Leo Carbol of the Flyers moved for a stop, as did Goalie Alex Wood. Carbol reached a hand for the puck, failed to get a straightaway stop and deflected it into a part of the net left unguarded by Wood's anxious jumping.

The annual battle attracted 7,654 fans.

Reid In Shape For 22nd Season

ROYD, Tex., Feb. 5 — (AP). — Jackie Reid today pronounced himself ready for his 22nd baseball season.

Reid, who would like to pitch when he's 100 years old, doesn't have to get into shape to start a campaign. He did that in 1921 and has been warmed up ever since.

Jackie—who says his real name, Herschel Nathaniel, is sissy — has pitched in more than 600 games, since he started with Mineral Wells in the old Texas-Oklahoma League and only one season did he fail to win as many as he lost.

He never has weighed over 155 pounds. That's why he never could get into the majors although Bob Connery, scout for the Yankees, once told him: "I never say you pitch a bad ball game."

Jackie never throws a fast ball. It just comes down there tantalizingly slow, low and true.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 5—(AP).—Disgust over two close decisions in the first game caused Fred Perry, English tennis star, to let the second game go and Don Budge won the professionel tennis exhibition match here last night, 7-5, 6-1.

In preliminaries, Perry defeated Lester Stoenen, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, and Budge defeated Stoenen, 6-4, 8-6.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK Feb. 5. — (AP).—Suggestions noted: Jesse A. Linthicum, sports ed. of the Baltimore Sun, would like to see something more done about getting basketball referees off the court. It was tried out in Orgeon a few days ago with reported success. Linthicum advanced the idea five years ago and still thinks it would help a game that needs help in some sections.

Pointing Out Flaws

London, Feb. 5 (CP).

H. M. SHVERNIK, leader of a Russian trade union delegation visiting Britain, said today British industry is not utilizing fully its potential industrial strength for increasing armaments output.

Factors in this situation, he said, are insufficient utilization in a number of factories of equipment and machine tools on hand, inadequate introduction of women into industry, an incorrect attitude in some factories to the initiative of working men and women in rationalizing proposals and otherwise unwillingness to listen to the voices of the men and women and their shop stewards, and even in individual factories the limiting of the output level.

The Plans, Quick

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (CP)—The New York Times said that private advices received from continental Europe recounted a quip that is going the rounds as a commentary on the German withdrawal in Russia.

According to this "gag," Goering gave Marshal Petain, French Chief of State, 24 hours to hand over the plans of retreat used by Napoleon.

CAMPBELLFORD

Cow Hurls Butcher Against Foundation

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 5. — (ENS). — Joel McArthur, local butcher is confined to bed with a slight concussion as the result of an encounter with an unmanageable cow shortly before noon on Tuesday. Mr. McArthur had gone out to the barn at the rear of his premises shortly after dinner to assist his son Bill with some cattle which were being put inside. He was attempting to hold the cow when the animal suddenly caught him off-balance and pitched him headlong against the concrete foundation of the building. It was not till several minutes after he had walked back to the house that members of the family noticed his condition and at once summoned a doctor, who ordered him to bed, declaring he had sustained a slight concussion.

Alvin Perdue Named Emily Assessor

OMEMEE, Feb. 5 — (ENS). — The Emily Municipal Council met in the Farmers' Club Rooms, Omemee, on February 2. Members present were Reeve W. J. Patrick in the chair, and Councillors Fee, McGuire, Morrisey, and Wilson.

J. A. P. Marshall, chief engineer of municipal roads wrote advising Council that no subsidy would be paid on construction done in 1942.

C. A. Poynton, district engineer, wrote asking for information in regard to any bridges that must of necessity be replaced this year, in order that he might take the matter up with the Department.

Applications for the position of assessor were received from D. J. Scully and Alvin Perdue.

The clerk reported that the Emily Cemetery Board had agreed to a proposition made by the Emily Council in the matter of Lot 8, Section 2, in the Cemetery.

R. J. Moon, High School principal, addressed the Council in the interest of the Public Library.

On motion, the road accounts as presented by the road superintendent were approved, and ordered paid—amount $120.95.

By-law 706 confirming the appointment of Alvin Perdue as assessor, and increasing the remuneration of the road superintendent to 50 cents per hour were introduced and passed.

Payments, Miscellaneous.

The Lindsay Post printing contract, 1941, $70.00; A. E. Wilson Co., premium on treasurer's bond, 1942, $5.00; A. E. Wilson Co., premium on road insurance, 1942, $128.25; The Emily Cemetery Co., opening grave (Mrs. Lintick), $7.00; Marion Rea, treasurer Public Library grant, $10.00; H. W. Hill, treasurer Municipal Telephone System, advance, $500.00.

Schools.

S.S. No. 7, Frank Crough secretary-treasurer, $65.00; S.S. No. 12, Burt Morrisey, secretary-treasurer, $100.00.

Motions Passed.

That the Reeve and clerk be authorized to sign the surety bond return as required by the Department of Municipal Affairs.

That the Reeve and clerk be authorized for value received, to sign in favor of the Emily Cemetery Co. a quit claim of all their claims on Lot 8, Section 2 in the said cemetery.

That the road insurance policy be renewed with Lloyds on the same terms and conditions as heretofore, premium $128.25.

That the Council of the Village of Omemee be memorialized as follows:

As an Order-in-Council has been passed making daylight saving time general throughout the country, with the stipulation that any municipality may remain on standard time if they so desire, therefore, this Council, on behalf of the ratepayers of the Township of Emily, respectfully ask that the Village of Omemee remain on standard time until the Easter holidays, as otherwise the school children will suffer a severe handicap and their parents be put to serious inconvenience during the cold and stormy weather. And further, that Mr. McGuire and Mr. Fee attend the meeting of the Village Council and support this resolution.

That Melville McInnis be appointed live stock valuer in the place of William Brown, resigned.

Council adjourned to meet on Tuesday, March 3 next, at one o'clock.

Young's Point News

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ayotte entertained about sixty friends and neighbors on Friday evening in honor of their daughter's, Mrs. J. Traynor, birthday, also their son and daughter-in-law's, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ayotte, third wedding anniversary. The evening was spent in card playing and dancing music being furnished by the Bolton brothers. At midnight the host and hostess served refreshments, after which another hour of dancing was enjoyed. The singing of "For they are jolly good fellows" brought to a close a most pleasant evening.

Mrs. E. C. Moore spent a couple of days last week visiting friends in Toronto.

Pete Godfrey of Brantford spent the week-end at his home in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart MacNaughton and son Bobby, also Jean MacNaughton, all of Peterborough, visited with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. MacNaughton, over the week-end.

Mrs. E. J. Johnston has returned home after spending a few days with friends in Peterborough.

Pte. Albert Cummings of Barriefield spent his week-end leave with his father, M. Cummings.

Mrs. William Bullock of Peterborough is spending a few days with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bullock.

Friends of Mrs. C. Pelton are pleased to know that she and infant daughter Carole Ann are home from Nicholls Hospital.

Countess Injured

LONDON, Feb. 5—(CP Cable).—The Countess of Bessborough suffered severe shock and facial injuries in an automobile accident during the week-end.

The wife of the former Governor-General of Canada was taken to a nursing home in Haslemere, Surrey, after the car in which she was riding collided with an army lorry.

Several stitches were needed in a cut above the eye, but medical authorities said the Countess is "making good progress towards recovery."

McNaughton Has Praise For Press

OTTAWA, Feb. 5—(CP).—The Canadian Corps has enjoyed "very satisfactory press relations," Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, corps commander, declared in an interview on his return to Canada.

Gen. McNaughton said the corps' dealings with the press had been well organized. Much of the credit for this, he said, was due Capt. Gillis Purcell, who spent about a year as press relations officer for the corps while on leave of absence from his position as general superintendent of The Canadian Press.

Capt. Purcell lost a leg in an accident on manoeuvres last fall and is now back in Canada.

"In dealing with the press," said Gen. McNaughton, "the principle on which we started to operate proved to be sound. Newsmen with the corps were taken into our confidence fully. They were told what must not be said—what we did not want the enemy to know—and the job of interpreting the corps to the public was left to them.

"This has worked out admirably, and I am very well satisfied." He said Ross Munro, Canadian Press war correspondent in Britain, was "doing a good job."

Wrecking Paris

Vichy, Feb. 5 (AP).

GERMAN destruction of historic quarters in Paris was protested today in a letter sent to Marshal Petain by 100 prominent Frenchmen.

"Paris which in June of 1940 miraculously escaped trial by fire and horror of destruction is unexpectedly menaced by new destruction," the letter, printed in the newspaper Figaro, said. It charged the demolitions had been going on rapidly since the Nazis occupied Paris.

Among the menaced quarters, the letter listed St. German Des Pres on the left bank of the Seine; St. Gervais; streets around the Central Market; the Palais Royal and the section known as Le Marais. Many of these areas contain buildings dating from the Middle Ages.

Dewan Issues Call For Sheep

TORONTO, Feb. 5 — (CP). — Hon. P. M. Dewan, Ontario Agriculture Minister said in an address to the Ontario Sheep Breeders' Association here yesterday there is only seven months' supply of raw wool on hand on the North American Continent.

Mr. Dewan urged increased sheep raising and wool production to meet the demand from the American market, where he said 80,000,000 pounds of wool a month is used. The only other source of supply for the United States market, with the exception of Australia and New Zealand is South America, he said.

Mr. Dewan commended the sheep breeders of Ontario for their contribution to the industry and said Ontario was the best breeding ground for Canada's prize-winning sheep. Forty-eight per cent of the registrations, more than 50 per cent of the transfers, and 78 per cent of the exports in the Dominion originated in Ontario, he said.

Domestic wool was no longer considered inferior to imported wool, but in many ways had proved superior, he said. Canadian wools had more strength and durability than wools from any other country, and with the newer machinery to handle finer quality wool could stand comparison with the product of any country in the world.

With the rationing of bacon a possibility the Ontario farmer may find a large market for lamb and it might be advisable to boost lamb production at this time, he said.

agree with its policies.

"But no Canadian should strike against the state. No Canadian should boycott a vital part of the war effort."

Three other speakers addressed the House during the short Wednesday sitting.

"A Box Office Appeal."

T. L. Church (Con. Toronto-Broadview) described the plebiscite as "a box office appeal to cash customers" and expressed opposition to it. He said the fact it was to be taken showed Canada had learned nothing from experiences of the past.

Clarence Gillis (C.C.F. Cape Breton South) said he believed the plebiscite the proper course and said the Government should not embark on such a serious matter as requisitioning the lives of the people without consulting them.

He was critical of Labor Minister Mitchell's handling of the Kirkland Lake gold strike, and described the mine operators as saboteurs and violators of the law who should be in an internment camp.

The member from the Nova Scotia coal fields was also critical of Conservative Leader Meighen who like Mr. Mitchell, is opposed by a C.C.F. candidate in the by-elections of next Monday.

Mr. Meighen, he said, now stated he was in favor of conscription of wealth which the C.C.F. had long advocated, but a week before the Conservative Leader had described that course as foolish and suicidal.

"I am not sure we are going to accept this latest recruit into our party," he remarked.

The other speaker, J. A. Marshall (N.D.-Camrose) suggested Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, the commander of the Canadian Forces overseas, who arrived here early to-day, should be summoned to the bar of the House of Commons to give the House a frank statement on Canadian defences and the need for men in order to set members straight on the manpower situation.

Nothing For Recruiting

Mr. Marshall said billions of dollars could be found for destruction but none to increase old age pensions or provide an assurance of future security to the men in the armed forces. If the government would guarantee every man in the forces economic security, he said, there would be no need of conscription.

Mr. Ilsley said there was only one possible danger which need cause fear about the result of the plebiscite; that some of the advocates of conscription would make such provocative utterances as to build up equal opposition to it in the minds of persons who were inclined to oppose it or indecided as to what attitude they should take.

As minister of finance, he said, he had approved a war program which would tax Canada's human and material resources to the utmost in the coming year. The government found the voluntary system of enlistment satisfactory so far but the world was in flames and the administration wanted to be free to lead the country wherever the country should go in order to bring the war to a successful conclusion in the short possible time.

Postulant Honored On Entering Convent

DOURO, Feb. 5—(ENS).—A most enjoyable party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sheehan in honor of their niece, Miss Teresa Moher, who leaves Monday to enter as a postulant at Mount St. Joseph, Peterborough. The Sodality and choir of St. Joseph's church were sponsors o fthe affair, the purpose being to make a presentation to Miss Moher. An address expressing regret at her departure and congratulation on her decision was read by Miss Madeline Sullivan. Presentation of a handsome suitcase, a blanket and other gifts was made by Misses Mary Towns and Teresa Hayes.

Progressive euchre, bridge and dancing were enjoyed. Prize winners at bridge were Misses Anna Collins and Teresa Fitzgerald, and at euchre, Misses Mary Moher.

CAMPBELLFORD

Church Reduces Its Debt $225

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 5 (ENS) Like other churches in this vicinity St. Andrew's Presbyterian was no exception in showing an improved financial statement to the members who met for their annual meeting here on Monday evening. Clerk of the session W. J. Harold Dunk presided at the opening devotional period, and following this A. G. Thompson was appointed chairman and Andrew Milne, secretary of the meeting. Mr. Dunk's report indicated a total of 253 communicants and 150 families in the congregation. He recalled that Rev. D. K. Perrie of Hastings and Rev. Smythe of Warkworth had been officiating at funerals whenever required owing to the fact that no minister has as yet been engaged to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Rev. B. Simpson Black, who is now in a Toronto parish.

According to the report of the treasurer, Andrew Milne, who has held that position for the past five years, the congregation has been able to not only reduce the church indebtedness by $225 but had also carried over a substantial balance after paying all current outstanding accounts. Total receipt he placed at $3,432.81 in the general account plus $184.47 to missions. Of great interest was the report of the Ladies' Aid Society the chief contributing organization of the church. They gave a total of $833.21 to help in financing the church, according to Mrs. Hugh Todd, the treasurer. Mrs. Ray McCulloch said the Seymour West Branch of the Sunday School had receipts of $56.50, and for missions an additional $8.10. The choir raised $76.10 from concerts and other undertakings, according to Mrs. Ben Frederick and Mrs. Fred Adamson said receipts (mainly from freewill offerings) had netted the W.M.S. $144.74. Mrs. H. T. Scott, secretary of the Mission Circle said receipts for the year totalled $80.58.

The treasurer of the Mission Band, Miss Jean Campbell, said they had raised $71.96 during the year.

Those elected to the Managing Board were Walter Badgley, A. B. Stephens, G. G. Stephens. Other members of the Board are J. R. Battisby, Jack Clark, A. C. Connor, Andrew Milne, Gordon McCulloch, John Campbell. The appointment of a treasurer was left with the Board.

dicated the Red army is exerting pressure on the Germans in three big areas—westward of Moscow toward the key city of Smolensk; in the south centre between Kursk and Kharkov; and deep in the Donets Basin, where the Russians are driving on Dnieperopetrovsk.

(Foreign military specialists in Berne expressed belief the conflict had entered a critical stage which would determine to what extent Germany would be able to carry out a projected spring offensive when winter breaks.

(These observers pointed out the Russians might well cripple the Germans if they could capture the important base of Novogord, south of Leningrad Vyazma, on the Smolensk highway, and Orel and Kharkov, south of Moscow).

Meanwhile, newsreels from the front, privately shown in Miscow, portrayed graphically the havoc being wrought upon the retreating Germans—and the havoc the Germans were alleged to have visited upon the Russians in some areas.

The first pictures out of Rostov, where the Russians began rolling back the Germans last fall, showed closeups of Soviet citizens, crumpled against the walls of the main street, with bullets through their heads and bodies and with crying relatives clustered about them.

The picture titles charged scores of civilians were lined up against the walls and killed as the Germans fled.

The provision of deep air-raid shelters for Singapore was the subject of long debates in government councils for months before the outbreak of the conflict in Malaya but after referring the problem to committees of experts, authorities announced abandonment of a scheme for a deep shelter system. They said the terrain was unsuitable and the cost prohibitive.

Campbellford Public Library Reports 110 New Members

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 5 (ENS) —Librarian Miss Lillian Benor reported to the Library Board that the Library gained 110 new members during the past year and juvenile circulation has continued to climb. Her report given before Chairman H. Townsend and the other members constituted the highlight of the annual meeting. As in other town bodies the faces were the same as last year by virtue of the re-appointment of R. Weston. They did however, lose one of their most valuable members early in the year, Elie Brunelle, treasurer for six years who moved from this town during the summer. Other elective officers were all returned, H. Townsend, chairman; E. H. Greig, secretary; G. N. Maxwell, treasurer. Other sitting members are Rev. J. V. McAuley, Dr. O. C. Watson, Major A. T. Linton, George O'Sullivan and R. Weston.

In her summarization Miss Benor attributed any slight decrease in circulation to the lower population also "increased demands on the women for war work and less unemployment. The total circulation was 26,901 or an average of almost 10 books per capita or 15.2 per registered borrower. During the year 535 new books were added as follows—General Works 1 (Adult) 0 (Juvenile); Philosophy 0-0; Religion 3-3; Sociology 4-20; Languages 1-0; Science 2-8; Useful Arts 5-8; Fine Arts 1-5; Literature 2-2; History 32-4 Travel 5-20; Biography 14-3; Fiction 276-110.

Ten books were presented to the library, 63 were discarded, leaving a total of 7,125 adult and 2,437 juvenile books. A total of 1,784 active members are listed and out-of-town borrowers paid $37.00 in fees while fines amounted to $62.00 and rent to $15.00. We are pleased to say that while the adult circulation has tumbled slightly the juvenile circulation is on the 'up.'

Books circulated in 1941 were as follows: General works, 678 adults, 2 juvenile; Philosophy 46-1; Religion 32-39; Sociology 126-790; Language 0-14; Science 76-477; Useful Arts 125-388; Fine Arts 39-93; Literature 78-126; History 419-103; Travel 270-265; Biography 341-94; Fiction 17,497- 4,841; Total, 19,729 adult and 7,172 juvenile.

Aussies Smash Big Jap Vessel

CANBERRA, Feb. 5 (CP)—Australian fliers scored a direct hit on a large Japanese vessel in a raid last night on the occupied New Britain harbor of Rabaul, an air communique indicated today.

One stick of bombs was said to have scored a near miss on another vessel.

The communique said all the R.A.A.F. planes returned safely after driving off enemy fighters which tried to intercept them.

Port Moresby, on the southern coast of New Guinea, had its second air raid warning at 5 a.m. today, the communique said, but as yet there had been no indication of whether the Japanese attacked.

The Japanese planes raided Koepang, capital of Dutch Timor about 500 miles west and north of Port Darwin, Australia, yesterday. In an hour-long machine-gunning of the town and ships in the harbor, one small motorboat was destroyed.

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

A headache need not be an illness in itself, but it may be a warning symptom that there is intestinal sluggishness within.

To help overcome the cause of headache it is necessary to eliminate the waste matter from the system. Burdock Blood Bitters helps to remove the cause of headaches by regulating the digestive and biliary organs, neutralising acidity, regulating the constipated bowels and toning up the sluggish liver, and when this has been accomplished the headaches should disappear.

Pure Pagan Races

New York, Feb. 5 (AP).

A Berlin radio broadcast beamed for East Asia declared today that "the Japanese and German pagan gods are symbols of the same pure Aryanism."

The broadcast, heard by NBC, identified Wotan, old god of German mythology, with the Japanese "god of the sun and the winds," and said the two were "similar in character and meaning" and were an actual bond between the countries.

"Both gods," the broadcast said, "are watching over their people to keep them in military and patriotic spirit."

Donald Pagett Wins Examiner Trophy

A grand total of $4,300.00 of War Savings Stamps has been sold by the boy and girl Carrier Salesmen of the Examiner in the 10 weeks period since they voluntarily undertook this method of aiding Canada's war effort. During the week of January 26th to 31st they sold the handsome sum of $527.25 and in the month of January a total of $1,708.25. The weekly average of over $430.00 is even better than that made during the first month of their campaign and shows consistent and persistent effort on thep art of these patriotic boys and girls.

The Examiner Gold Trophy winner for the month of January is a youngster of 12 years from the south end of the city, Donald Pagett of 614 Chamberlain street. His grand total was $158.00 for the month of January and his last week's sales were $70.00. He also is the lucky winner of the Robt. Neill Company prize of Ski Boots for his splendid work. Presentation of these prizes will be made shortly. The second place goes to a consistent winner of weekly prizes of theatre tickets, Jack Harris of 239 Princess street, also in the south end. Jack's grand total was $137.75 for the month of January. His many friends will wish him better luck next time.

Carlotta Laing of 272 Armour Road, a former weekly prize winner, came through with a worthy effort for January with sales of $115.50. Her last week's sales amount to $48.50. Clare Galvin, 461 Murray street was fourth in the month's standing with $86.25, followed by Bill Leahy, 161 Clifton street, East City with $76.00. Keith Orde, another weekly prize winner more than once, made a grand effort again with a further $70.00. Douglas Burrows made his first appearance in the top money with $60.25 for the month and two former prize winners, Wilbert Edgar selling $56.00 and Adrian Langhorne an even $50.00.

Honourable mention is certainly coming to the following boys and girls for exceptionally good showing, most of them making several appearances in these columns; George Clark, $41.75; Allan Sage, $41.50; Dan McIsaac, $38.00; Cyril Robinson, $37.25; Henry McIsaac, $34.50; Ralph Pollock, $33.75; Grant Finnie, $25.75; Dick Pulford, $24.75; Eleanor Whittaker, $24.00; Lorne Eakins, $23.00; Bob Shadgett, $19.50; Nancy Leith, $19.50; Allan Payne, $19.25; Weldon Fanning, $19.50; Clifford Pirie, $18.50; Ted Chapman, $18.00.

Two small but very efficient carriers, Ray Douglas and Tom Douglas of 596 Young street, south end of the city, have a particular interest in doing their bit in selling War Savings Stamps. Their father, Joseph W. Douglas, is serving with the Canadian Army overseas, and his two young sons are supporting him in fine style, Ray selling $34.50 in stamps in January and Tom, though only carrying Examiners for one month, sold as much, $32.00. Congratulations are extended to these youngsters.

Another girl carrier, Bertha Bradley, carrying the smallest route in the city, sold $18.75 during the past month. This young lady has also bought two War Savings Certificates for herself and is now on her third. Her average sale per customer last month was over 85c.

Bob Sugden, carrying for the Examiner for his first week last week, sold $10.00 in Stamps. Twenty-five to 30 other boys and girls sold substantial amounts during the month though space forbids mentioning their names in full.

The winners of weekly theatre ticket prizes for last week's sales were; Carlotta Laing with $48.50 and Douglas Burrows with sales of $27.25. Prizes are being donated for January sales by Fred Cripps, who has generously offered to give a photograph to the winning carrier while Victor Gallon is presenting a large box of Lowney's Chocolates to the winning girl. These unsolicited prizes are appreciated by the Examiner and the carriers concerned, showing interest in the efforts of the young people doing such outstanding work week after week in a purely voluntary task.

Undermining On

LONDON, Feb. 5 — (CP). — Encouraged by Russian military successes, anti-Hitler forces inside Germany are becoming bolder in their efforts to undermine the Nazi machine, the German writer Leon Feuchtwanger said in a publication issued to-day by the Soviet Embassy.

The Germans are waking up to the extent of the Russian offensive and are questioning Hitler's earlier boasts that the Red Army was defeated, Feuchtwanger said.

Kinsmen Failed To Obtain Right To School

Discussion at a meeting of the Supervision committee of the Board of Education on Wednesday evening indicates that the Kinsmen Club have not obtain permission as yet to use two rooms in the King Edward School for a euchre and bridge which was to have been held on Friday night of this week.

A few weeks ago the Kinsmen applied for the use of the school, and it was granted by the Committee of Appointments with a fee of $5.00. The Kinsmen then found they could not complete arrangements in time so made application last Saturday for the school next Friday. In a letter from H. G. Walker, chairman of the Board which was reported by the secretary as posted on Monday of this week, Alderman Adam Sands was advised that no committee except the Board itself had the power to grant the permission and there would be no board meeting until after Friday as the various committees were striking estimates this week.

Ald. Sands in being asked today if he had been advised by the chairman of the Board of Education that the school was not available said the first he knew of it was when he returned home from work late on Tuesday and read the secretary's letter. He then advised the Examiner to remove the advertisement.

Because an advertisement appeared in the Examiner concerning the bridge and euchre, Mr. Walker spoke up at the committee meeting Wednesday night advising members of his action. Those present were Messrs. Canning, Melton, Walker, Carley and Mrs. Morris. Mr. Walker said the Board meeting is on the 12th and the application could not be dealt with until then.

Mr. Canning—"What happened to all that discussion we had at another meeting a short time ago. I thought this was settled."

Mr. Carley—"That application was for the use of the school on January 30 and the committee realizing it had no power granted permission subject to ratification by the Board. Then the Kinsmen advised us that they had switched to another date. There is no authority vested in any committee to grant this request. I can't understand them going ahead after they received Mr. Walker's letter on Tuesday at the latest.

Mr. Melton:"Mr. Sands is surely familiar with municipal procedure."

Mr. Carley—"The chairman is quite correct in writing this letter according to our bylaws."

Mr. Canning—"Nevertheless we discussed this question and voted on it in good faith at that other meeting. The night as I see it is purely immaterial. I think Mr. Sands has every right to expect the use of the school."

Mrs. Morris—"I registered a formal protest, realizing we had no right at the time."

Mr. Carley—"My attitude at first was that the application was for a good cause, but I did not want to establish a precedent before a survey had been made, so I suggested a nominal charge for the use of the school.

Dr. Moir: "The public schools have not been rented before for such a purpose. It is a dangerous practise to start."

Mr. Canning: "Similar applications never came up before; this is for a war charity."

Mr. Melton: "We realise that, but we must exercise caution; we are trustees and it is our responsibility to keep the schools in good shape. There is more wear and tear on the property, equipment, etc., and there is extra janitor service involved, adding to the expense."

Mr. Canning: "I don't think we should open the schools indiscriminately but we should give every consideration to such an organization as the Kinsmen. Everyone here except Mrs. Morris was in favor of it."

Mrs. Morris: "Why single me out; I voted in favor of it, then protested it. I made a mistake by not asking the chairman for a ruling, and he would have been forced to throw it out.

Mr. Carley: "Mr. Craw and Mr. Canning moved that the Kinsmen get the school free, and my amendment which carried added the $5 fee, was opposed by the same two members.

Mr. Canning: "We are putting the Kinsmen in an awkward position."

Mrs. Morris: "Mr. Sands was given notice in time. Surely he has not dropped dead, has he."

Mr. Carley: "This committee certainly cannot deal with it."

At this point, Mr. Melton suggested that the bylaws be examined to see if authority for granting the application could be found, but it was unavailing when they perused the book. He then suggested that Mr. Walker make a telephone poll of the Board in order that oil might be poured on the troubled waters.

"It is a matter for the entire Board, and I would like them to deal with it," was Mr. Walker's answer.

Mr. Canning: "They received permission before and figured it would come again. Why not grant the permission, and thresh it out later."

Out Of The Hat Drops $58.88 For War Victims

The title sounds rather fantastic, but nevertheless that is the happy feeling the secretary of the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund had when with hat in hand, the splendid collection of $58.88 was dropped to fill it to overflowing in aid of this fund, as a closing sequel to a luncheon address by B. A. Trestrial of Toronto at the Empress Hotel on Wednesday.

This follow-up of an address which Alderman James Dutton very aptly described as being full of sincerity and inspiration, which featured the opening meeting of the Employers-Employee division of the Local committee for the 2nd Victory Loan campaign, speaks volumes for the manner in which the speaker had inspired his audience on behalf of the war effort and the splendid response which they gave to the plea of the chairman, D. G. H. Melton, on behalf of the fund.

Boys' Band Concert.

With the nice sum of $68.43 already to their credit for the fund, the Prince of Wales Rangers Boys' Band conducted by Sgt. H. Parnell, has commenced a series of neighborhood concerts with the expressed intention of raising this amount up to $100.

The first of this series was held on Monday night in All Saints' parish hall, and in this they had the assistance of Roy Rome, violinist; Walter Farr, and the Misses Peggy Parnell and Joy Edgar, while A. Collison, Miss Marguerite Rome and Mrs. Edgar acted as accompanists.

Band Boy Wm. Edgar, accompanied by his mother, contributed a clarinet solo, and the affair proved quite successful, and from the proceeds of a silver collection a further $13 is listed to their credit today, bringing their total for the fund to-date up to $81.43.

Further concerts are planned by this group of young musicians and their leader as a means of fully reaching the objective of $100 for the fund, and in this they fully merit all the support that can be given them

His Worship Mayor James Hamilton has received a cabled acknowledgment for the 15th donation of £500 from the Lord Mayor of London which reads as follows: "Much appreciate further gift five hundred pounds. Please thank your citizens."

Radio Draw.

Sponsored by the Canadian Department Stores, Peterborough employees, tickets are now on sale at 10c each or three for 25c on a 1942 Viking 5-tube mantel set radio, the draw for which will be held at a C.D.S. St. Patrick's dance at Kawartha Golf and Country Club on March 17.

Music for this event will be supplied by Jimmy Duffus and his eight-piece orchestra, and tickets are also procurable from any of the staff for this event at $1.50 per couple. All the net proceeds from both the dance and the draw will come to the fund, which they hope will surpass their previously substantial efforts on its behalf.

Supervision Committee Reduces Estimates To Board By $600

Supervision committee of the Board of Education lopped $600 off their estimates for the current year following an analysis of the needs of this term in a meeting held on Wednesday evening, and when the survey had been completed the total stood at $4,825 as against a total for 1941 of $5,475. This saving effected despite the fact that provisions of $750 has been made for a special handicraft class in the South Central School building.

Two items aside from the listed usual charges were discussed, one being the question of new blackboards for the Collegiate for which no provision was made, but this was turned over to the Property committee, with the thought that they would recondition some of the existing blackboards and perhaps remove some of the boards in one part of the school which are not being used and place them where they are required. The other item was the matter of rugby team recognition. Last Fall the local rugby squad swept all before them and were halted only when teams had folded and finished the season. The 1941 Board had made plans to show the board's appreciation in some form, but did not get the job done, so it was sent along as a recommendation to the new Board.

After some discussion it was decided that $125 be set aside to purchase 22 leather windbreakers at $5.50 for the team members.

Those present were T. J. Carley, chairman; Mrs. W. R. Morris, Messrs. Walker, Canning, Melton and Dr. Moir.

A request from the Victory Loan committee for the use of the Collegiate auditorim for a revue to be held on February 26 and for which a fee will be male was granted, the charge in this case being set at $50.

Dr. Kenner advised the committee that a few organizations which obtain the use of the auditorium have been making a practise of lifting the pianos from the orchestra pit up to the stage, then when the entertainment is over have left the pianos in this new location. He stated he hesitated to have high school boys carry the pianos back because of the danger of injury to the pupils. Following discussion on this point, Dr. Moir moved, seconded by Mr. Walker, that in all cases where organizations plan to use the pianos, a deposit of $10 will be required, and this will be refunded if the pianos are left or returned to their original positions. Otherwse the money will be used to hire men to carry the pianos back where they belong.

Old Bandstand Is Due For Wreckers

"Oh, pull the damn thing down any time," was Mayor Hamilton's way of bluntly dismissing the bandstand in Victoria Park in a suggestion Wednesday afternoon to Alderman Curtis, chairman of the Parks Committee.

The bandstand has become so weakened in its under-pinning that the council has been expecting it to collapse of its infirmities. Alderman Curtis said that apparently all that was holding it up was "a guy wire."

Ex-Alderman Roy contributed his share of worry about the condition of the stand, and between hopes that it would fold up on the one hand and expectation that it would survive another year, together with some remnant respect for its community traditions, councils of late have restrained the decision and the axes that would have felled it long ago. Its durability in spite of its flimsy and teetering condition has been an irritation, more or less, to the council explaining the accumulated feeling behind Mayor Hamilton's off-the-record exclamation. By way of after thought he suggested that the chairman consult A. W. Archibald, chairman of the county council's property committee, "to show them that we do not ignore the county's interest in the park, although I feel certain they don't care what we do about the old stand."

Fred L. Roy had extended his designs to the idea of a band shell, probably to be erected somewhere in the grounds of Riverside Park, but that was a luxury which could not be put strongly recommended in war time.

May Be Pulled Down

Wielding a new broom as chairman this year, Alderman Curtis may give the word for the stand's evanishment to the realm of memories after the snow goes, if indeed a clouting wind does not flatten it before Spring comes.

They say that band concerts last summer called for more courage than musicianship, and that conductors used to keep a tight baton on the double B bass horns, euphoniums and the big drums. Bandsmen, so it is related, used to keep one eye on the music sheets and the other on the ceiling or the floor and the general unsteady but still upstanding structure. Overtones of aprehension probably did not reach out to the audiences, but 'tis said the bands usually blew excess enthusiasm into the concluding National Anthem .

Swing music was barred because the roof might fall into the instruments with even less provocation and oscillation, and the tendency was to restrain marches to something almost like nocturnes. It has also been mentioned that in lapses of caution at the big drum or when the double B bass horn player tossed off a reckless blast to smite the rafters bandsmen were ready to hop the railing at the first ominous crack or sway. Probably these were exaggerations, but they afford cause for Mayor Hamilton's impatience when Alderman Curtis enquired what was to be done with the old stand.

Hun Sabotage

LONDON, Feb. 5—(CP). — Nazi agents operating from Portuguese East Africa were blamed to-day for explosions which last week destroyed power lines linking the Victoria Falls power station at Vereeniging, South Africa with nearby goldfields.

A statement issued by the Dominions Office said that H. G. Lawrence, Minister of the Interior, had stated in the Union of South Africa Parliament that a sabotage plot had been traced to German agents beyond the Union's Mozambique border.

Canada's Part In War Shown In Army Train

The Canadian Army equipment demonstration train at the C.P.R. station today assembles a display of industrial products essential to warfare that affords the observant citizen an idea of the ultimate uses of the money which he contributes through the Victory Loan.

Look through the long row of coaches and you are bound to come away with the impression that you are playing an integral and highly important part in the winning of the war, that it is your dollar against the Hun mark and the Italian lira and the Japanese yen.

You are shooting your money at the Axis money, and when you scan this show of equipment, including some products of Peterborough industries, a second impression that lingers in your reviewing thoughts is this,—that there isn't a piece of shoddy in the whole array; you are buying the best that Canada can produce. And that goes for the heavy cumbersome armament such as the Valentine tank made in the Angus shops, Montreal, and the 25-pounder artillery piece from Sorel, Quebec, down through the Vickers and Bren guns, anti-tank guns, C.G.E. searchlights, to such small articles as sun glasses for ski troops.

Where Money Goes

The purpose of this train to give objectivity to the purposes and above all the need of money for the prosecution of the war, and to stimulate interest in enlistment, is accomplished in its informative presentation of most of the things the Canadian army requires and is supplied with.

An Examiner reporter had seen most of the heavier equipment, but the coach that is assigned to the Dental and Army Medical Corps was a revelation.

This equipment has been devised for field work far removed from the facilities and the refinements of peace time practice. And the dental equipment is packed into six small trunks. It includes virtually everything a dentist needs in his work, a drilling machine that is operated by foot, X-ray machine, dark room for the making of photographic films of oral conditions. You really ought to see what the Dental Corps has achieved in thoroughness and mobility. The dark room can be set up in ten to fifteen minutes.

The display of the Army Medical Corps embrace everything from first aid to the hospital stage of treatment.

It is in charge of Major A. F. Mavety, M.D., of Toronto. Perhaps you wonder sometimes what the Red Cross Society sends to Canadian prisoners of war. The standard parcel is shown to you in detail with photographs of huge piles of these parcels kept in storage in England.

Separate cars are fitted with displays of the signalling service, the Army Service Corps, Engineers, artillery, infantry and so on, and the equipment you see in this demonstration cost $3,000,000.

Armaments Shown

Some of the armaments that will catch your eye are such things as the big 25-pounder artillery piece, 2-inch and 3-inch mortars, Lewis machine guns, Thompson sub-machine gun known as the Tommy gun, Bren gun with tripod and universal carrier, 2-pound anti-tank gun. One of the long cars gives you an understanding idea of the extent of the work done in the Canadian Army Trade Schools which have been teaching men all kinds of trades which are essential for the efficient maintenance of the Canadian Army.

For instance here are a few of them whose handiwork and tools you see exhibited: blacksmiths, carpenters, electricians, precision grinders, armourers, toolmakers, vulcanisers, motor mechanics, millwrights, mechanists, and so on down a list of something like ninety trades. The longer you stay to see into the details of this demonstration the more you will be convinced that modern war has scaled new peaks of expense. You will readily comprehend why the nation has to urge you to dig down and loan every cent you have to spare to defeat the nations who started this thing.

The officer in charge of the train is Lieut.-Colonel J. E. McKenna of the second battalion of the Royal Montreal Regiment. Its personnel comprises sixty-four officers and men who have been selected from active service units of the Canadian Army representative of the entire nation. It is devoted solely to the army, leaving out of this national investment the R.C.A.F. and the Canadian Navy.

Some of the Made-in-Peterborough products noticed in the display were from the Canadian General Electric Company, Quaker Oats Company, Canada Packers Limited, Outboard Marine & Manufacturing (Johnson Motors) and possibly the skils in a winter grouping were also produced here.

Artillery Duel On

BERLIN (From German broadcasts, Feb. 5—(AP). — Dispatches from Malaya, via Tokyo, said today the Japanese banner had been hoisted at Johore Bahru within sight of the defenders of Singapore across the mile-wide strait and reported that the Japanese were bringing up troops and heavy artillery.

Johore Bahru was in flames, the dispatch said, and Japanese troops were moving the native population out of a 30-mile-wide operations zone north of the strait.

Some guns already have started shelling British positions on the island.

Frank R. Pope, assistant superintendent at the Western Clock Company, is scheduled to address the local branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada in the Paragon Hall tonight. He will talk on watch and clock production at the local plant.

QueenAlexandra Continues To Lead Schools

Queen Alexandra school pupils continued to hold their top position in the city schools in the matter of deposits in the Penny Bank of Ontario with a percentage of 82. King Edward is next with 75, and the others are well down past the half-way mark.

King George and Confederation schools have 40 per cent, Central 37, Queen Elizabeth 28, Prince of Wales 24, May's 24, Queen Mary 21. In the provincial summary, the schools of Peterborough have an average based on the weekly percentage of pupils depositing during November and December of 41. Norwood shows 35, Cobourg 39, Port Hope 30 and Campbellford 12 per cent.

The total amount on deposit at the end of December, 1941 was $12,612.88, which is considerably lower than the figure of a year ago, $14,097.36. This substantial drop is due undoubtedly to the fact that most of the youthful depositors have switched their savings to War Savings Stamps.

Kings Row Is New Serial

Kings Row, the new Examiner serial story to start February 11, is being made into a movie. After 100,000 copies of the book were sold, the public demanded it in movie version and it is soon to be released.

It is the story of a great love, a great hate, a great fear, of the teacup tempests that sweep a small midwestern town and shatter the lives of those who live there. It is truly a thousand stories in one and the greatest newspaper serial of the year. Read every chapter in the Examiner and look for the movie when it makes its appearance.

Here are some questions to be answered in Kings Row:

What tragedy befalls Drake McHugh and what does Randy Monaghan sacrifice?

What frightening secret twists the lives of mysterious Dr. Tower and Cassandra?

Can Parriss Mitchell be happy in Kings Row, despising its warped standards?

Kings Row itself is the villain in the greatest serial of the year—watch for is, beginning February 11 in the Examiner.

Spain Paying Up

MADRID, Feb. 5.—(AP)—To regularize" Spain's debt to Italy for war material furnished during the civil war, Gen. Franco today ordered transferred to Rome 5,000,000,000 lire (nominally about $250,000,000) in Spanish treasury bonds.

School Nurses Aid City During Summer?

With Mrs. W. R. Morris presiding, and D. G. H. Melton and H. G. Walker as the committee, the Health committee prepared its estimates for the year on Wednesday evening.

Dental supplies were estimated at $200, the Board having spent $156 last year, and the service had not been in use the entire twelve months. Medical supplies for the public schools were listed at $75 and for the Collegiate and Vocational School, $10 each. Mr. Melton urged that the Board adopt the same standard of first aid in the machine shop and other vocational departments as exist in industry so that an injury may be given prompt attention. It was decided to ask the director of Vocational Training to explain what provisions exist for the treatment of an injury.

Mrs. Morris explained that the public health service of the city is being hampered by the fact that the school nurses get two months holidays, and these holidays are taken while the city nurses are also taking turns on holidays.

She added that a higher degree of efficiency and better service could be given if the school nurses would adopt a staggered schedule and each one take one month's holidays instead of two, and during the other month take over in place of the city nurses. This would eliminate the need for hiring utility nurses during the holiday period.

"It is a good suggestion, I understand there has been some criticism along the same lines," Mr. Walker stated.

"A year ago I was keen on this merger of the health services from a business standpoint, but there are angles to it that prompts me to urge caution. Our service has been developed over a long period of time and we are proud of it. If this proposal can be done it should assist the city nursing staff during the holiday period," said Mr. Melton.

"The nurses are quite willing to co-operate," Mrs. Morris added.

The final decision was to pass the suggestion along to the Board so that the Board might approve the recommendation and permit the Health committee to pass it along to the Department of Health at a later date, so that they may decide on its merits.

K. S. Wightman, school inspector said that the school nurses were now giving the Department of Health a substantial measure of co-operation by handling all cases of mumps in school children, after the department had notified them.

He added that there were three cases in which school children had developed the mumps during the Christmas holidays and had gone to Dr. Avison, M.O.H., for a school permit to return to school. The M.O.H. knew nothing of it, and neither did the school officials, as the mumps developed during the holiday period, and neither inspector or school nurses were notified of it.

Hepburn, Drew Unite Against Labor Chief, CCF

TORONTO, Feb. 5 (CP)—Liberal and Conservative provincial leaders sat on the same platform to support an Independent candidate in one of two Federal by-election campaigns in Ontario last night, while Dominion and Provincial spokesmen concentrated on one of the twin campaigns in Quebec. Voting in the four ridings is scheduled for Monday.

Premier Hepburn and Lt.-Col. George Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, spoke at Niagara Falls in support of Douglas Watt, Independent candidate opposed in Welland constituency by Labor Minister Mitchell and Mark Kriluck, the C.C.F. stardard-bearer.

In Quebec East, Justice Minister St. Laurent was principal speaker in the riding where he is opposed by Paul Bouchard, representing the newly-formed Canadian Party, and Paul Latouche, Liberal anti-conscriptionist. Mr. St. Laurent was supported by Premier Godbout and members of his cabinet, Air Minister Power and Senator Leon Mercier Gouin.

Conservative Leader Meighen and C.C.F. Candidate J. W. Noseworthy addressed meetings in York South where they will run against each other in the balloting Monday. There was comparatively little activity in the fourth riding, Montreal St. Mary, with only one of the four candidates taking to the platform during the evening.

School Checkup Satisfactory At Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 5. — (ENS).—Following his recent inspection of the Lakefield High school, Inspector R. H. Wallace has presented the following report:

"Since the previous inspection both the upper and lower hall have been redecorated in the same attractive colors as have been used recently for the walls and the ceilings of the classrooms. The interior of the building presents a very pleasing appearance.

A covered bicycle rack for the separate use of the High school pupils has been built. The accommodations as a whole are well maintained by the Board and their good condition is creditable to both the caretaker and the pupils.

The provision of window-sill deflectors is recommended in order that drafts may be minimized. The classrooms are well equipped with display boards and shelves for books of reference. The provision of better shelves for the books in the library would be a further improvement.

Grading of accommodations was given as follows: Water supply I, school grounds II, closets I, school buildings II, halls I, teachers' private rooms I, blackboards I, lighting II, heating I.

Value of equipment was given as: Office equipment $140.00, library (including periodicals) $769.49, scientific apparatus (exclusive of chemicals) $1,506.66, maps, charts, globes, etc. $148.60, art models (including pictures) $76.65, biological specimens $80.50, for physical education (including sports equipment) $106.80.

The expenditure on the library has been mainly for reference material, all of which will prove useful for the pupils. A class set of good Atlas would be of value for geography.

Replacements together with a few additions have been made in the apparatus for teaching science. There has been considerable enlargement of the equipment for school games.

Ratio of pupils to teachers 109 to 4; 27.2 to 1. Division of duties among the teachers, satisfactory.

The general organization of the school is satisfactory. The principal will endeavor to make adjustments in the time-tables in order to provide more teaching time for business practice and writing. The middle school classes are combined for algebra and modern history. Courses are offered in seven subjects of the upper school. Vocal music is taught to all, the lower school pupils in one hour lesson one day weekly. The regulations relating to the arrangement of the lessons in this subject were discussed with the principal.

Discipline: The general discipline of the school is good. Fire drill: Practised on the average once a month. Work of janitor: Good.

The work of the staff is satisfactory. No poor teaching was observed and a number of lessons were of more than average effectiveness. Mr. Aymer the most recently appointed teacher, has made a good beginning and may be expected to become a successful teacher.

The writing and oral reading of the pupils is grade IX are of satisfactory quality, but the results of the test in spelling in this grade were a little below the average. The oral answers of the pupils during the various lessons are usually given audibly and in good form. The work accomplished in the revised work in art is satisfactory in amount and quality. The written records in geography are for the most part made neatly and much careful map work has been done. Some of the exercices in business practice are done carefully but there is need for a number of the pupils to reach a much higher standard of neatness and legibility.

The notebooks in upper school science show an appreciation of neatness and accuracy on the part of the pupils. Agriculture science is taught in the lower and middle school classes. Good work is being done in the classes in physical education, although at the present season they must be conducted in the classrooms.

The present enrolment of 109 in this school is slightly higher than that reported at the previous inspection. Forty-seven pupils come from outside the high school district. The accommodations provide an encouraging environment for the work of the school. The quality of the teaching and the influence of the principal and his staff are such as to promote among the pupils a desire to make use of their opportunities. The latter are prompt and co-operative during the lessons and show also by the precision and thoroughness which on the whole mark their work that they are receiving in school a good preparation for their coming responsibilities of citizenship.

At the close of my inspection I had the pleasure of meeting J. W. Ridpath, the chairman of the High School Board, and of discussing with him a number of the matters mentioned in this report.

Canada Must Get Money To Meet Her Obligations In This War

A comprehensive outline of the new course being taken generally throughout Canada to secure sales of war bonds in the new 1942 Victory Loan drive with particular stress being placed on employees who represent a large percentage of earning power was made to a group of about 100 employers from this city, Lindsay and Port Hope at a luncheon Wednesday in the Empress Hotel by Bert Trestrail, Toronto, who has been drafted by the Bank of Canada and is now doing publicity work for the Dominion Victory Loan committee.

Mr. Trestrail because of his foresight, organizing abilities and his magnetic personality has been chosen by the government to address meetings from Ontario to British Columbia on the Victory Loan subject.

"This is going to be a long war," he warned. "We must resign ourselves to that fact and the government must get money from the people in industry." He also warned that loan drives may be held every seven or eight months so long as the war lasts.

Never Dreamed Possible

"We are out to do things across the nation we never dreamed possible," said the speaker. "We are now building ships twice as fast as we were because production had to be stepped up. We're going to make the enemy look silly with our wealth and resources." But here the speaker struck a snag. "In domestic regimentation, we are not in it one, two, three with the enemy. It is up to us to regiment ourselves."

In the course of his talk, Mr. Trestrail pointed out that emphasis is being placed to a far greater degree in this loan on the employee. The government must get money from the people in industry. In Canada there are some 9,000 industries that will come under the present plan of salary deduction for war bonds, he said.

First Tried In Toronto

Reviewing the start of the salary deduction plan, the speaker said it was first tried out in the John Inglis plant in Toronto during the last drive with much success and eventually other plants took up the same scheme. "It struck me," he said, "that we have been in the war two years and we had not attempted to standardize a plan which would remain in effect so long as the war lasted. I took the plan to Ottawa when the new National War Finance committee was being formed but it was then pointed out that each victory loan committee across the country was autonomous and that they were free to adopt any plan they saw fit."

Machinery for the proposed plan was set up by December 26 and it was then let to outline this plan to as many employers as possible. Within a month from that date, about 9,000 plants had adopted the payroll deduction plan after Mr. Trestrail had covered many cities and met employers all the way from Ottawa to Victoria and Vancouver at meetings. "The results we obtained were phenomenal," he declared. "Each plant presented a different problem but in each case it was always settled."

The main item of the whole plan, he said, was to hold a mass meeting of employees at which a speaker would outline plan of the loan and the immediate need of money for machines of war. Employee canvassers would be appointed at the rate of one for every 15 to 20 persons in the plant and canvassing would begin.

Staggering Meetings

In many places, company officials declared mass meetings were impossible owing to the fact machines could not be shut down but this was solved by staggering the meetings for each shift.

In other cases employers said their employees were burdened down with war savings stamp sales, income tax and many other obligations but when the plan was presented to the employer, he readily accepted it and promised not to pass such judgments as to the patriotism of his employees again. Many employees in this particular case astounded salesmen by large purchases of bonds. One victory loan committee changed its mind in 45 minutes after the plan had been outlined, declared the speaker.

"We have no right to assume responsibility of what employees will purchase. Let them speak for themselves," he urged.

The speaker was introduced by Vincent Eastwood, 1942 Victory Loan chairman of Peterborough county and a vote of thanks was moved by Ald. James Dutton who said the speaker had brought out forcefully that we are still a nation of free men but at a great price. Chairman of the meeting was D. G. H. Melton, who is chairman of the employer-employee committee for Peterborough Victory Loan committee. He announced that other members of his committe will be L. H. Ingram, Fred J. Overend and T. Glover.

LESS SPEED FOR DEFENCE

Most of the 48 United States have planned a reduction in speed program in connection with the nation's tire rationing.

If Your Child Can't Build Up

Try New, Improved Ovaltine

Science has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for proper nutrition. If there aren't enough of them in the foods we eat, serious things can happen. For example: If a child's diet is deficient in vitamins, his appetite is likely to suffer and his growth may be stunted or impaired. His resistance to infection may be lessened.

As a protecting food drink, New, Improved Ovaltine supplements the diet with certain food elements more likely to be deficient in ordinary foods—thus it acts as an insurance against food deficiences that retard normal development.

Ovaltine has always been a source of Vitamins A, B_1 and D and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron but recently, in the light of the latest knowledge of nutritional science, it has been enhanced in all these elements.

So—if your child eats poorly, is thin or under par, start giving him New, Improved Ovaltine.

Hepburn, Drew

told their audience that Prime Minister Mackenzie King might have to call a general election instead of holding a plebiscite on conscription for overseas service, if a protest was made strong enough.

"I, for one, am not prepared to give up hope yet that we can prevent this terrible humiliation," said Col. Drew in reference to the plebiscite. Premier Hepburn followed with: "If you send men like Douglas Watt to Ottawa we may have a general election, not a plebiscite."

The plebiscite, Mr. Hepburn said, "doesn't mean anything." There could be no half-way measures in prosecuting the war. "If the needs are such that complete mobilization of everything is necessary, then let the government take the necessary steps and stop this policy of appeasement, particularly of appeasing some of those fellows in Quebec who are giving comfort to the enemy by their statements about bringing our troops back from England.

"What would we do with them? Have them build ditches around Canada and wait until the enemy comes to us?"

Only King To Blame

Col. Drew said Prime Minister King could blame "no one but himself for the storm that is being created" over the plebiscite. He had been warned time and time again of what would happen if he introduced "this undemocratic, un-British procedure." The Prime Minister could not fulfill his pledge of aid to the United States in the event of an invasion "if he's going to live by his pledge never to send troops out of Canada except those going voluntarily."

In Quebec East, Justice Minister St. Laurent said that "not one dollar, not one man will be conscripted for anything but for the defence of the country....that does not mean that the defence will be made solely on Canadian soil."

"I pray God," he added, "that it may not be on Canadian soil. I hope from the bottom of my heart that the enemy will never reach Canadian soil."

The defence agreement with the United States might make it necessary to send men out of the country, to defend Labrador or Alaska, because "when we make a pact like the one with the United States, it is a two-way affair."

Need Provisions Not Troops

The Justice Minister was preceded by Premier Godbout, who said that "while the enemy is at our door, Mr. Meighen wants to send troops where no troops are needed. It is not troops that England needs now, but provisions. Do you not believe that to follow Mr. Meighen now would put us in the same position as Australia, which trembles today because her best men were sent overseas?"

"I always have been and now more than ever I am against conscription of Canadian soldiers for overseas service," he added. "You are for a total war effort, I know. You are for a balanced war effort. That is the policy of Prime Minister King."

Meanwhile in a radio address Mr. Latouche appealed for loss of the "exciting of the passions of the populace and trying to pit them one against the other." He said that he approved the policies of the Prime Minister except that he was "against the Plebiscite, and consequently, against conscription."

At an evening rally, Mr. Bouchard predicted that after the war would come a new independence that would give birth to new society "and then it will be necessary to establish the Republic of Canada." If Canada had followed the example of some South American countries "We could be neutral today as they are."

Conscript Everything.

In the York South campaign, Mr. Meighen urged conscription of "all wealth and all resources," saying that he believed no country could embark on a major war "unless the Government can dispose of the manhood and the possessions of the country" in a manner considered in the best interests of the war effort.

The C.C.F., he said wanted the public to believe "a few millionaires foisted me" on the Conservative Party. "It is a brazen, frozen falsehood. No man in the remotest way associated with the big interests so much as asked me to hold this post."

He declared: "The one organization that stands indicted and guilty of isolationism in Canada is the C.C.F."

Mr. Noseworthy said that a world economy would be needed at the end of the war "in which Canada and other nations must use the same determination to produce abundantly for the purposes of peace" they are now using to prosecute the war. He said the C.C.F. stood for conscription of wealth, industry and financial institutions on the same basis as the conscription of manpower.

Valentine Party Is Planned By Y.P.U.

OMEMEE, Feb. 5 — (ENS).— The regular meeting of the Y.P.U. was held on Monday night with the Christian Fellowship convener, Lillie Race, in charge. The Scripture lesson was read by Gwen McConnell and the commentary by Marion Rea. Rev. Patterson sang a solo which was much enjoyed, followed by a poem "O happy band of pilgrims" by Hazel Wilson.

A synopsis of John Bunyan's life was given by Lillie Race, and a brief summary of the story of "Vanity Fair" as told in "Pilgrim's Progress" by Bunyan.

All young people are invited to attend the meeting next week when it will take the form of a St. Valentine's social. As many as possible are requested to bring a War Savings Stamp which will be given to the United Church of Canada War Fund.

Two Northumberland County Cheese Factories Are Still Manufacturing Product

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 5. — (ENS). — Two factories in Northumberland County are still making cheese and plan to continue for the remainder of the winter. One of these is Hoards Cheese and Butter Company, whose 34 patrons met for their annual meeting on Tuesday afternoon and learned for the first time that their cheese brought the highest average score in this district. According to the Dominion grading statistics they sold 2,331 boxes of cheese and had an average score of 93.812. They had no 92 score, but instead produced cheese of such good quality it scored 95 and there were 102 boxes in this class, with 1,776 boxes of 94 score, 441 boxes of 93 score, and 12 boxes of undergrade cheese which cost the farmers approximately $34 and spoiled their perfect record by one-half of one per cent. In other wards, 99.5 per cent of 232,760 pounds of cheese were first grade.

Evidence that these men constitute one of the most progressive groups of farmers in the county is seen from the report of new equipment added to the factory in 1941. They bought a new electric motor (used for stirring the whey in the factory) at a cost of $185, a new sweet whey tank at $145.86, and a weigh can at $46.80. Nearly $400 was spent on improvements during the year, and in addition to this it cost approximately $60.00 to equip the factory for winter production. Chief requirements for this were insulation and wiring of the whey tank and the installation of double windows and doors on the plant. They installed a mechanically refrigerated curing room in 1940.

Eight Cheese a Day.

At the present time their cheesemaker, Douglas Rowe, is producing an average of eight cheese every day, which is about one-half of their summer production. But they now have nearly 60 patrons listed and these come from as far north as Bonarlaw, south to the vicinity of Stirling, and east and west over an area of 12 miles. Earl McAdam, who has been president and secretary for the past ten years, and was also president of the Campbellford Cheese Board in 1941, presented the annual statement to patrons. His report to the end of December showed a total of 2,793,883 pounds of milk delivered, and 232,760 pounds of cheese made or an increase of 50,968 pounds over 1940. Milk averaged 12.04 pound per pound cheese and cheese brought an average of 16.57 per pound exclusive of the bonus. Total receipts, including whey butter, cream, Provincial and Dominion bonuses, amounted to over $43,000. They produced a total of 84,421 pounds butterfat, which averaged 41.54 cents per pound and made 5,006 pounds of whey butter and shipped 891 pounds of whey fat. Their cheesemaker of the past five years was re-engaged at 18 mills plus 7 cents a pound on butter. He shared to the amount of $207.11, or 5 per cent on the quality bonus which amounted to $3,724.84. The Provincial bonus brought $4,360.43.

Only change in the board of directors came with the automatic retirement of Hector Whitton, who had completed his five-year term, and was replaced by Rae Williams. The board now comprises Charles Hoard, Alexander Parr, William Potts Ross Anderson, and President Earl McAdam, whose salary was upped from $145 to $175.

Commenting on the year round policy of operation, H. Whitton pointed out that they had never done this before, but "I think it's a paying proposition. We should continue this as long as the war lasts." He estimated the January cheque for cheese would be close to $5,000. "You can't afford to shut this plant down now; it's just what we farmers want," he added.

S. L. Lucas of the Bank of Montreal in Stirling told farmers that there might be some difficulty for New Zealand and Australia to keep up their four million pound cheese quota to Britain.

J. A. Murray, district dairy instructor, who also addressed the gathering, advised them that although for some time Hastings County has been leading Northumberland in the total increase of production during the year, the two counties were now even.

A NEW LINE

By ALICE ALDEN

A SILHOUETTE that is attracting much attention for those who like to wear evening clothes is featured in this gown worn by pretty Marjorie Weaver. It is fashioned of gold colored silk jersey with a turquoise and gold belt. The short-sleeved bodice has the high neckline that is so good now. The skirt is draped into a pannier-like effect over the hips and is pencil-slim at the hem.

DINNERS OF THE WEEK

By MARY MOORE

SUNDAY (Guests)

Fruit Cup—Canned Grapefruit Sections, Cubed Pineapple (Fresh or Canned), Halved Candied Cherries
Baked Stuffed Pork Tenderloin, Cream Gravy (see note)
Scalloped Tomatoes, Sprouts or Green Beans
Baked Apples with Hard Sauce
Pound Cake Coffee

Note.—This is a delicious meal—some families may want to add hard rolls to the menu, but when I served it I passed Hot Consomme in the living room before the guests went to the dining table and that extra course made the meal substantial enough without serving any breadstuff.

Creamy Gravy.— This is an old-fashioned accompaniment that is so good it should be generally revived—you need 3 tablespoons drippings from pan and 3 tablespoons flour; mix these together and stir in 1½ cups rich milk until it thickens, then add 1 teaspoon sugar and ½ teaspoon mustard. (The mustard would be omitted if the cream gravy were not served with a pork product).

MONDAY (Hasty).
Poached Eggs on Creamed Spinach
Candied Sweet Potatoes)
(Prepared in morning)
Iced Strips of Carrot and Celery

After a short business session the ladies sewed and knitted on layettes. The meeting closed with refreshments served by the social committee. Mrs. M. Holt, 469 Water Street, offered her home for the March meeting.

SLIM SLACKS

By ALICE ALDEN

THE SLACKS suit is still the thing for resort wear and for house and garden wear come summer. Florida favors natural color slacks worn with a simple shirtwaist blouse of crepe vividly patterned in a tropical flower print. California likes the simple slacks suit in pastel shades with touches of bright color. This is the type of suit worn so smartly by pretty Alexis Smith. Biege crepe is used for this three-piece costume, with brilliant red crewel embroidery used like epaulets on the shoulders. The narrow belt has the same red trim and is finished with deep fringe for that Spanish touch that marks so many California fashions.

Runs Tugboats Knows Diesels

VANCOUVER, Feb. 5 — (CP). — Canada's women have gradually invaded fields of work which used to be left exclusively to the men, but there are few who can boast the qualifications of Capt. Dorothy Blackmore of Port Alberni, on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Capt. Blackmore, as smartly dressed, poised, and confident as any city debutante when off duty, is a qualified tugboat skipper, marine engineer and tugboat and ferry service operator who runs her father's boat business. To-day the business includes two harbor tugs and a number of speedboats.

Capt. Blackmore, who is 27, likes manicures, silk stockings and pretty dresses as well as the next woman, but she seldom gets a chance to enjoy them. On the job she wears white overalls. She hates the city, its noises and its pavement, which hurts her feet, and makes few trips to Vancouver.

Miss Blackmore skippered her first boat, a gasoline launch, at the age of 10. She has two sisters, one of whom keeps house for her. The other is a bank teller in Port Alberni. From helping her father about the boats when she was just five, Dorothy took on bigger jobs, until to-day she runs the business.

Capt. Dorothy is very proud of the engineer's certificate she obtained in July, 1940, but she isn't very impressed by her ability to skipper tugs. The engineer's certificate gives her the right to operate any gasoline or diesel engine. She has held a skipper's licence since 1936.

PATTERN 9975

You're busier than ever now with wartime activities, and need a frock that will "see you through" the entire day. Try a print—try scalloped yokes—try Pattern 9975 by Marian Martin, that's quickly stitched at home. The bodice fullness is held in place by those pretty yokes and by little darts above the waist. Panels give you the front-and-back slenderness you need if your hip measurement is larger than average. Make this dress with short or three-quarter sleeves for active wear — make it in washable crepe in one of the new leaf prints, and for a dainty touch, edge the yokes with lace, or trim the bodice with buttons . . . it's a pleasure to stitch it up with the Sew Chart's easy aid!

Pattern 9975 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 requires 3 yards 39 inch fabric.

Lakefield

Recent and week-end visitors in Lakefield were: Miss Vera Moore of Whitby Ladies' College, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Moore; Spr. C. F. Webster and Spr. George Stenner both of Kingston, with their respective families; Harry Sherin of Woodbridge with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sherin; A. E. Webster of Welland with relatives.

Word has been received by his mother, Mrs. Grace Stuart, of the safe arrival in Bournemouth, England, of Pilot Officer Harding Stuart of the R.C.A.F.

Mrs. T. W. Chaplin gave the hospitality of her home on Tuesday afternoon for a quilting in aid of the Red Cross by the ladies of St. Andrew's church. A short business period was also held, after which afternoon tea was served by the hostess.

C. E. Tatham was the guest speaker at the fireside fellowship meeting, a gathering of over five hundred people in a Brantford Theatre on Sunday. His address was broadcast over three stations.

Plans are being made for a carnival in the Lakefield Arena on February 20.

In a recent letter received by J. J. Morin from his son, Edward, with the C.A.A.F. in England, he tells of the pleasant Christmas spent. At the breakfast meal on Christmas Day an egg was included in the menu, the first he had since leaving Canada. He also told of receiving gifts of cigarettes, some of which were from the I.O.D.E. in Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Coyle and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kilbon were in Toronto over the week-end and attended the hockey match in the Maple Leaf Gardens. While in Toronto they registered at the Park Plaza Hotel.

Plans were made for a skating party on February 10 at the regular meeting of Y.P.U. of the United church on Tuesday evening. Connie Orr, the missionary convener, was in charge of the program and chose as her topic "China," by Robert McClure.

The recent broadcast by Madame Chiang-Kai-Shek was told by Pauline Butcher, Joan Kelly and Lillian Calberry. A short recreation meeting preceded the devotional part of the meeting.

W.A. War Work Is Aided By Victory Tea

Flags and red and white streamers formed a gay setting for the lovely tea given by the Trinity Women's Association to aid in war work. The walls of the big banquet hall were draped with Union Jacks and Canadian and American flags and the lights were veiled in red and white streamers. Each table was centred with tiny flags and evergreens. The tea-tables, at which Mrs. S. L. Smoke, Miss Emma Morrow, Mrs. F. C. Neal, Mrs. J. Pierce, Mrs. F. Jobbitt, and Mrs. M. Lattimer poured tea, were decorated with red candles in polished brass candlesticks and tiny silk flags. Mrs. G. E. Nichols and her committee, Mrs. O. Nichols, Mrs. J. Middleton, and Mrs. W. Derry, who were responsible for the tea-tables, are to be congratulated on their work.

A home cooking table, loaded with delicious pies, cakes and cookies, was decorated with pretty bunches of greenery and presided over by Mrs. F. Patterson, convener, and Mrs. F. Skitch, Mrs. C. L. Upper, Mrs. H. Pounder. Mrs. D. Walker and Miss A. Wood had charge of an opportunity table where many beautiful things might be bought.

Mrs. G. S. Easton and Mrs. W. Stocker, president of the association, received the guests. The treasurers were Miss Evelyn Morrow, Mrs. H. Martin, and Miss Leone Walsh. Miss Mabel Clarry was the able general convener of this successful enterprise.

Fund Quota Is Nearly Reached

The Mrs. Winston Churchill Fund in Canada has already collected well over $40,000 of the $50,000 promised, and the National Council is very satisfied with the response of the Y.W.'s throughout Canada. The small city of St. Catharine has sent in over $6,000, most of it contributed by people outside the association who are interested in the work to which the money is devoted.

It may be of interest to Canadians to know that Australia, with a smaller population than Canada and fewer and smaller Y.W.'s, and preparing as she is to face her own blitzkrieg, has guaranteed the same amount as Canada ($50,000) to the Fund.

With the money already collected and sent to Britain, 160 huts, hostels and annexes, have been established.

Chapter Plans To Hold Tea

Plans for a spring tea to be held February 21 in the Green Room of the Y.W. were completed at the meeting on Tuesday evening of the Major Bennett Chapter, I.O.D.E., held at the home of Miss Isobell Duffus, Reid Street. Mrs. Jim King and Mrs. Jack Comstock will be co-conveners. Miss Jean Pelleghem will take charge of the raffle to be held that afternoon.

Officers for 1942 were elected as follows: Honorary Regent, Mrs. W. Gordon Hall; Regent (past), Miss Betty Lytle; Regent, Miss Margaret Preston; 1st Vice-Regent, Miss Margaret Lytle; 2nd Vice-Regent, Miss Margaret Weir; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Isabel Irwin; Treasurer, Miss Helen Latimer; Press Secretary, Miss Louise Sprig..; Social convener, Mrs. Art Moore; Standard Bearer, Miss Kay White; Recording Secretary, Mrs Jack Skitch; Echoes and Recording Secretary, Mrs. George Barns; War convener, Mrs. Jim King; assistant War convener, Miss Olga Preston; Councillors: Mrs. H. Tewsley, Miss Jean Dorris, Miss Margaret Emmerson, Miss Jean Cox, Mrs Jack Kirkwood, Miss Ruth Kingan, Miss Connie Legon.

Local Artist Plays For Music Teachers

The Peterborough Music Teachers Association held a meeting at the home of Miss M. Widdess on Wednesday evening, where, after a short business session, the members and their guests enjoyed a recital by Mrs. Agnes Logan Green.

Mrs. Green played the entire program which she will play on February the 14, when she has been invited to play in recital at King's Hall private school, Compton, Quebec. This professional and critical audience was delighted with her performance, which measured up to her customary standard of excellence.

The program included the following numbers: Partita in B flat by Bach, three Bach chorales, Sonata in E Flat, Opus 27, No. 1, Variations Serieuses by Mendellsohn and a group of moderns, which included Valse, by Cyril Scott; Harpsichord Suite by Purcell, arranged by Howard Jones; Air from County Derry by Percy Grainger; and Triana, by Albeniz.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, February 6

While there are indications of some success and fair fortune, yet there are also adverse figures telling of trouble or wrangling with the public and in intimate relations, love affairs, domestic or social contacts. These should be handled with poise, forbearance and sympathetic understanding. Such inharmonies may be precipitated by a tendency to sly intrigues, treachery or erratic urges. Repression and good judgment may avert much unhappiness.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may encounter some fair good fortune, although there may be difficulties and inharmony in all domestic, affectional and social contacts, also in public or group relations. A proclivity to suspicion, intrigue and misunderstanding may avert favorable elements.

A child born on this day may be eccentric, tricky, given to intrigue and misrepresentation.

Vari-Colored Pyjamas

By ALICE ALDEN

THERE IS nothing so beautiful as a rich range of color when it is handled by an artist. Adrian created this exotic hostess pyjama suit for Joan Crawford, and it is the sort of thing that ought to be color photographed. For the designer has gone one step ahead of the rainbow and has combined green, magenta, gold and fuchia for the ensemble which is of heavy satin crepe. The bodice, of gold, is plain with round neck, loose square-cut embroidered sleeves and opens over an under-blouse of white. It is girdled in heavily embroidered crepe in vari-colored stitching. The over-skirt, in magenta, has a harem hem and may or may not be worn with the green pyjamas.

IS THAT PALE YOUNG GIRL YOUR DAUGHTER?

Parents should not ignore the depressed moods, the listless, tired air, the pallor, headaches, fickle appetite—the crying spells—so many daughters exhibit during those years when they are passing into womanhood.

If her health at this stage is not maintained by a sufficiency of good rich blood, all kinds of weaknesses may arise to make her later life unhappy.

So should you notice any of these disturbing signs in your daughter, lose no time. Get some Dr. Williams Pink Pills at your druggist. They are wonderfully effective in helping to build up iron-impoverished blood and have helped to transform thousands and thousands of sickly, pale daughters suffering from simple anemia into happy active girls full of vitality and high spirits, hungry for meals, glad to help with the housework, attractive to others. Right now simple anemia may be undermining the strength and resistance your daughter needs so badly. Don't wait — get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today.

Note actual case at lower left

• If you're suffering from chapped hands, here's something you should know. Chapped hands are often more than mere roughened red skin. In severe cases marked soreness is evident—often the skin becomes so irritated that tiny "cuts" (cracks) develop.

That is why Noxzema has been so successful in treating chapped hands. For this popular preparation contains active ingredients which: 1st, quickly soothe burning, stinging soreness; 2nd, help soften dry, rough skin; 3rd, aid in healing the tiny skin "cuts."

SPECIAL TRIAL OFFER

Surveys indicate that hundreds of professional people including scores of nurses use Noxzema for chapped hands. It not only brings soothing relief, but it's greaseless, too!

For a limited time you can get a generous 25¢ jar of Noxzema for only 19¢ at any drug or cosmetic counter. Get a jar today!

QUESTION: Will you kindly send me the recipes for savory meats which you offered. I should like the ones for kidneys, liver and pigs' feet.

Thank you for the very helpful and timely information given each week According to the late ruling on sugar it looks as though we should use muffin recipes instead of "cake", as they require less sugar.—Mrs.. C. M. B.

ANSWER: The muffin idea is a good one See recipes for meat dishes directly below.

QUESTION: I enjoy your page so much every week, especially as I have been cooking for only a year and need lots of advice

I would like you to send me a recipe for fricassed kidneys and also baked liver. Could you please send me exact oven temperature and time and thickness for making melba toast. I can't keep it from either curling or getting too crisp.

Chef's Melba Toast

There is a difference of opinion in the thickness of Melba Toast—some say 1-3 inch, others as thin as ⅛ inch. Cut is as thin as you like it. Remove crusts. Arrange in single layer on baking sheet and place in oven of 250 deg. until light brown—turning at least 4 times to insure even browning and crispening. Chef suggests weighting yours down with wire rack if it curls.

Kidney Stew

One beef kidney, 3 medium onions sliced,. 3 tablespoons fat, 4½ cups boiling water, 4 medium carrots sliced or in strips, ½ green pepper chopped is optional, 5 outside stalks celery chopped, salt, pepper and paprika to taste 1½ cup cooked cabbage 1⅛ tablespoons flour 6 tablespoons cold water. Split the kidney in halves lengthwise remove fat and veins and outer skin and cover with cold water and let stand 30 minutes. Cut into crosswise slices or cubes and saute with the onion in the fat for 5 minutes. Add boiling water, carrots, celery, green pepper if used, salt, pepper and paprika and cover and cook slowly for about ½ hour or until tender—some large kidneys take longer. Add cooked cabbage. Mix together flour and cold water, and stir this into liquor when vegetables and meat have been lifted out on platter. Pour gravy over when it has thickened.

Braised Beef Kidney

(Pork kidneys may be used in place of beef in this recipe.)

One large beef kidney, flour, 1 thick slice side bacon chopped, 3 tablespoons drippings (beef suet is good from the kidney), 4 chopped onions, 1 large sweet pepper chopped, 3 cups canned tomatoes, 1⅛ teaspoons salt, few grains cayenne, few grains curry powder (some folks like as much as 1 teaspoon). Cover tightly and simmer 45 minutes. Serve hot with buttered rice. A delicious dish—highly recommended.

Beefsteak and Kidney Pie

Wipe both beef and kidney and cut in one-inch cubes. (A good cut of beef is the flank steak.) Roll in flour and brown very well in tried out fat or drippings. Cover with boiling water and cover tightly and boil at simmering point until tender—about 2⅛ hours. Add salt and pepper and turn into baking dish—the flour the meat was rolled in, thickens the gravy enough. Cover with rich tea biscuit mixture. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes. Plenty of gravy is necessary—if there is too much to put in baking dish, reserve it and keep hot to pass in gravy boat at table.

Liver—Quick Fried

Too many cooks do not know the pleasures of serving liver because they overcook it. Even calves' liver can be spoiled by overcooking. Have the butcher slice very thinly either baby beef, lambs' or pork liver—it should be very fresh. Dip in flour, and have fat or butter in pan bubbling hot but not smoking. Drop liver in, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and stay over it—turning it as soon as one side is slightly golden. Quickly do other side, and as soon as juice is "set" remove from pan to hot platter—and serve as soon as possible. Calves' liver may be cut thicker.

Baked Liver

You may bake either calves' lambs' or baby beef liver. Wash, trim and skin liver and sprinkle all over with salt, pepper and flour. Place in baking pan with the melted fat and onions. Spread some of the melted fat over the top of the liver. Cover pan closely and place in a hot oven of 450 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes. Uncover, reduce heat and bake slowly until tender and well browned. To "lard" liver use strips of fat pork ¼-inch thick cut into strips 2 inches long. Thread into larding needle (small headed steel skewer will serve) and pass through upper surface of liver—about 8 "lardoons" are usually needed to give it good rich flavor.

Potted Liver

(Mock Pate de Fois Gras)

Two pounds calves' or lambs' liver 1 medium onion minced, 1-3 teaspoon pepper, 2-3 teaspoon salt, 3 cloves, ¾ cup stock, 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons fat—not lard—preferably butter or good bacon drippings or this fat could be replaced by ground side bacon. Keep liver in one piece and wash well and cook slowly in very well covered saucepan with stock (or boiling water), onion, pepper, salt, cloves, for 2 hours, adding very little more liquid when needed. Remove and cut liver in slices, strain liquid over it and let stand overnight. In morning force through finest knife of meat grinder three times, add ½ cup melted fat or drippings, and pack tightly into earthen bowl and cover with 2 tablespoons melted fat. You may wish to taste and add more salt and pepper before packing it in bowl. This will keep 3 or 4 days if kept in refrigerator and will serve ten, if sliced or will make 20 two-slice sandwiches.

Jellied Pigs' Feet

Six pigs' feet, water, 1 large onion, sliced, 2 bay leaves, 3 or 4 whole black peppercorns, 1 teaspoon salt, 6 or 8 whole cloves, vinegar, salt, (1 pimiento chopped if desired). Wash and split pigs' feet in halves. Cover with water, bring to boiling point and simmer, covered, for 3 hours. Add boiling water if needed. Add onion, bay leaves, peppers, salt and cloves, and boil 1 hour longer. Strain the stock through sieve. Remove the skin and bones from the pigs' feet. Place the meat in the stock and season it with vinegar and salt. Add chopped pimiento and chill mixture in a mould until stock is firm.

Pigs' Feet With Sauerkraut

Wash, scrape and split pigs' feet and boil barely covered with water for 2½ hours; then place 1 quart sauerkraut in baking dish, and spread pigs' feet over it adding some of the cooking liquor. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, cover and bake for 1 hour, uncovering for last 5 minutes to dry off top and brown slightly.

Never-Fail Headcheese

One small hogs' head with ears and tongue, water, salt, onion, 3 whole cloves, 1 tiny bunch mixed herbs, paprika and sage, cloves and allspice, ½ cup vinegar. Have butcher scrape and clean the head, split and remove eyes and brain; then scrape ears, scrub tongue and rinse all very well. Cover with cold water, add 1 tablespoon salt, onion stuck with whole cloves, and herbs, bring slowly to a boil and simmer, covered, for 3 hours or until tender; cool in stock in which it was cooked. Placed cooled meat in colander to drain; strip meat from bones, cut ears in slices and tongue in oblongs, squares and triangles, 1 inch or more in length. Season meat to taste with the salt, paprika, sage, cloves and allspice and add vinegar, mixing well. Pack tightly in moulds or bowls, interspersing layers of meat with slices of ears and bits of tongue; cover with rinsed plate or cover and place heavy weight on top. Let stand for a least 2 days in very cool place. Serve cut thin with chili sauce or mustard pickles. If you would like to serve it hot once dip in crumbs and egg and crumbs or batter and fry in shallow fat, handling carefully.

This Week's Wartime Recipe

By Mrs. Barbara Lucas

(Ed's. Note: This recipe grew out of a reader's letter who first gave her method of ready-mixing biscuit dough and then using it in an economical recipe.)

Ready Mixed Biscuit Dough

(Mrs. Lucas' contribution).

Six cups sifted flour, 4 level tablespoons baking-powder, ½ tablespoon salt, 9 tablespoons shortening (Mrs. Lucas uses lard). Sift dry ingredients together, and work in the shortening with the fingers until fine. Store in a covered contained. Use in

Dutch Apple Cake

One and one-half cups ready-mixed biscuit dough (above), milk to mix, 2 apples, pared, cored and cut in wedges, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon powdered cinnamon. Mix enough milk with biscuit mix to make a dough which is soft, but not sticky. Pat into a greased pieplate. Place wedges of apple with thin edge down and pattern over top of dough. Sprinkle thickly with sugar and sparingly with cinnamon. Bake in a quick oven till nicely browned and cooked. Serve hot.

Thank you Mrs. Lucas—I have written to you privately regarding remainder of your letter.

We will be grateful to other readers who keep up this good work—share your economical recipes with other readers and help along.

DOROTHY DIX

ILLUSION IS NOT LOVE AND ALL GIRLS SHOULD ANALYZE IT

'Teen-Age is the Time That All Mothers Have to Watch for Adolescent Mind Is An Uncertainty.

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am a young man of 25, well-educated, very temperamental and full of sentiment. I have a fine job and want nothing else save one Heavenly item — a young, sensible, decent girl to marry. I room in a private home in which there are two girls. The younger one is 13 and I love her more than life itself. She likes me very much, but we associate with each other as a brother and sister. I am living in the hopes of marrying her when she grows up. Her mother and I often speak of this very casually. What should I do under the circumstances? Move away, remain friends living in complete anticipation of something that may never be? Or stay with these people and hope that the child will love me when she is capable of love? She is being reared the way all girls should be, domestic, decent, sensible. ALEX.

ANSWER: You certainly must be temperamental and simply slopping over with sentiment if you think yourself romantically in love with a girl of 13. For her sake and yours I trust you will not take the matter seriously enough to get married.

It would be easy to persuade the child into doing it because all young girls are flattered by the attention of grownup men, and they think it would be very exciting to have a wedding, as it would to have any other kind of a party, and that it would be fun to play housekeeping.

Adolescents Incapable of Love

But a girl of 13 is incapable of the kind of love a woman should give the man she marries, nor is she ready to assume the duties of a wife. She still wants to play around with other boys. She soon tires of the restrictions of marriage and the end is disaster for all concerned.

You seem to realize all of this and, no matter how pretty and attractive the girl is, I hope you will keep your head enough to bear it in mind and not wreck two lives by following a romantic and sentimental impulse.

As to whether your chances of having the girl fall in love with you will benefit most by absent or present treatment, I am not prophet enough to know. My guess though is that if you remain in the house as a member of the family and the girl is unaware of your sentimental feelings towards her that she will come to look upon you as a benevolent and kindly uncle of whom she is very fond, but that she will never see you in a romantic light, or think of you as a suitor.

The food of love in youth is illusion and she won't have any about a man she has grown up with and with whose ways and thoughts and habits she is as familiar with as she is with those of her own brother. She will see her Fairy Prince in some strange boy she had never seen before she met him at the fraternity dance. And don't forget you seem already an elderly person to her.

My advice to you is to forget this child and turn your thoughts to some girl in your own age class who is already grown up and possesses the qualities you want in a wife, instead of waiting for a girl who may not be your heart's desire when she is of a marriagable age.

Girls and Lipstick

Dear Dorothy Dix—When should a young girl begin to use lipstick. I am 13 years old and my father says that "beauty unadorned is adorned the most," that character beautifies a face far more than paint, and that a woman's mouth may be the index of her soul. He claims he has never seen a woman artistic enough to paint a good picture of her face. My Dad is something like an old has-been. He belongs to the last century. But, Miss Dix, I know you use lipstick and I wish you would tell me what you think. MAY JOYHNER.

ANSWER: Well, May, it happens I don't use lipstick, not having an appetite for grease paint, but nonetheless I am a staunch advocate of cosmetics when artistically applied. I agree with your father that the way most women make up their mouths — like raw cuts of bloody meat—is enough to make any observer a prohibitionist, and that the fact that they do it in public shows that they have neither imagination nor a sense of humor. For if there is one thing more certain than another it is that feminine beautification should be done in private and leave the beholder guessing whether it is handmade or a gift of the gods.

The old axiom that "beauty unadorned is adorned the most" is a bit of wishful thinking. It isn't true in real life where even as the finest picture needs a suitable frame to bring out its loveliness so the prettiest woman needs fine clothes and good grooming to enhance her charms. As for women who were not born living pictures—well, what we owe to cosmetics that enables even the homeliest to circumvent Nature and make themselves easy on the eyes of the beholder, we shall never know.

Use Cosmetics With Restraint

I should like to remind your father of the old story of the man who, when his bride came down to breakfast rouged and powdered and lipsticked, said to her: "Madame, go up stairs and wash your face." The obedient wife did so, but when she returned her husband gave one look at her and cried out: "Madam, go back up stairs and put twice as much cosmetic on."

Of course, 13 is a little young to begin using artificial aids to beauty, but if you get any happiness out of doing it I see no harm in it. But I implore you to learn to use it with restraint and to turn out an artistic job. DOROTHY DIX.

Enlisting Record

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 5 (CP). — A new monthly record of enlistments for more than a year in military district No. 1 was established in January when a total of 937 voluntary recruits enlisted for active service in the army, it was announced today.

The highest monthly total in 1941 was in June, when 892 recruits were signed. The January total was more than twice that of both October and November 1941, and nearly double that of December when the total was approximately 500.

Good Manners for Good Times

Making Errors in Public

Little do Bob and Jane know whom they disturb as they charge into their movie seats! A pair they'd like to know better — the popular, well-bred young Browns!

And right now the Browns are sighing, "What can you expect of people who don't know that the girl should enter the row first!"

Such points of etiquette are simple enough to learn. On a double date at the movies, one man enters the row first, the two girls next, the other man last.

At dances—crude for a man to ask a girl, "have you got this dance taken?" But smooth and correct is "Shall we dance this?" Nor does a well-bred girl make herself conspicuous by walking across the dance floor alone, but asks her escort to take her.

Very formal parties with a receiving line? No hesitations when you know it's proper for the girl to precede the man down the line, introduce herself and her escort to the person at the head.

Have better times, win new friends by knowing fine points of etiquette. Our 32-page booklet explains manners for movies, dancing, formal parties, other occasions. Gives pointers on introductions, correct dress, good form at games.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps for your copy of "Etiquette For Young Moderns" to the Examiner, Home Service, Peterborough. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

SQUEEZES CAN BE EARLY

ORDINARILY we think of a squeeze as something which comes on a late trick, when a defender is pared down to just a few cards. If he is guarding a bunch of secondary tricks, however, the pressure can sometimes be applied to him early in the play of the hand. In order to retain protection against one suit, he has to get rid of his threat to some other suit. Anything he does is wrong. If he selects one alternative, you fix him in one manner; if another, then you wreck him in another way.

After the spade J lead rode to the K, the diamond A and Q showed that East could win the fourth round of that suit and that hence only eight tricks were clearly in view. Four consecutive hearts, however, made life miserable for the defenders. East was able to toss a club on one of these and still leave himself able to guarantee the side three tricks in spades and two in clubs if those suits got led. But when the last heart was led, he was ruined.

Notice that, if East, retaining three spades, two diamonds and two clubs, discards a diamond, the declarer, who had put a spade and a diamond on hearts, could run that suit for his ninth trick. If East ditched another club, blanking his K, a club lead would either force West to drop the K with his A, then lead for three spade tricks with East winding up leading into the dummy's diamonds, or else would cause East to win with his club K and then lead either spades or diamonds to give the dummy the ninth trick.

But the only remaining choice, which east accepted, was just as bad, a spade discard. South then led that suit, giving them two tricks there and two in clubs, but the club J and diamond K then had to win, making his contract. It was a complex squeeze on the seventh trick.

Seymour Roads Expenditure Set At $12,500

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 5 (ENS) The Township of Seymour has asked to spend $12,500.00 on roads during the current year, it was revealed at their regular session held here on Monday. Councillors passed a by-law providing for this outlay and a break-down of the figures shows they propose to spend $1,000 on road construction; $2,000 on bridge construction; $500 on machinery; $600 for superintendence, and $8,400 for maintenance and repairs.

Alex. D. Leith & Co. were engaged as auditors rather than a local man as had been the custom in former years. A motion put by Deputy Reeve Rowe and Reeve Ross that W. A. Kingston be named as auditor at a sum of $65 was lost and an amendment by Councillors Duncan and Lee, who favored engaging the company, was carried. Leith & Co. were, according to the by-law subsequently passed, hired at $125 plus not more than $25 expenses. Two were likewise considered for the post of assessor for 1942, and a vote on the question resulted in the motion of Deputy Reeve Rowe and Councillor Wight appointing John H. Kelly was passed. A by-law fixed his payment at $175.

William Hume and G. Curle requested the annual grant for the Seymour Agricultural Society, and on motion of Councillor Lee and Deputy Reeve Rowe, a grant of $300 was made, with the proviso that it be applied to the mortgage owed by the Agricultural Society. G. W. Atwell asked for a rebate of dog tax and the $2 was added to the pay sheet. The secretary, Wesley Stephens, read correspondence from the Hospital for Sick Children requesting a donation; from A. E. Wilson & Co., Ltd., re the claim for damage to his truck occasioned by David Bowen; from the Bank of Montreal advising that the interest rate would be five per cent; from the Chief Municipal Engineer's Office, advising there would be no subsidy paid on new road construction in 1942.

The following accounts were passed: Alex. Milne, rel. act., $3; Dunk's Grocery, rel. act. $3; W. W. Clark and Son, rel. act. $2.90; Town of Smith's Falls, rel. act. $7.12; Counties Treasurer, charity, $12.25; Municipal World, supplies, $17.59; F. W. Barnum, Board of Health, $3; Bell Tel. act., $2.75; J. A. Irwin, rel. act. $18.70; Alfred Grills, labor, $27.25; Wm. Cross, lab, $26.25; D. T. Petherick, supt, $4; G. Atwell, refund, dog tax, $2; W. Stephens, registrar's fee, $14.50.

3,000 Tons of Food For Hong Kong Prisoners Ready to Leave Australia As Japs List Names

TORONTO, Feb. 5—(CP).—Plans to provide 3,000 tons of bulk foodstuffs for Allied prisoners of war held by the Japanese have been completed by the Red Cross, it was announced Wednesday by the Canadian Red Cross Society.

The shipment will go from Australia in co-operation with the Red Cross Societies of Canada, Britain, Australia and the United States.

"The Japanese Government has agreed to supply the names of prisoners of war and have established a prisoners of war information bureau in Tokyo," Dr. Fred W. Routley, national commissioner of the Canadian society, said. "As soon as the names of Canadian prisoners are available and an agreement reached to transmit additional foodstuffs, a ship will be despatched from Australia."

Many Quilts Made By District Units

MILLBROOK, Feb. 5—(ENS).—The large number of workers at the Red Cross rooms last week showed the interest being taken, and the responsibility felt to assist with this necessary branch of war service. Five quilts were brought in from the Bailieboro unit; three from Ida; and four from Centreville Presbyterian Church. Ten large quilts and a pretty crib quilt were shipped, some of the more attractive ones being reserved to form part of the display for Red Cross window week, February 7 to 16.

Five complete units were also shipped, thus finishing the quota of 40 for little girls of six years. The evening group held its first meeting of the year last week, under the newly-appointed convener, Miss Jean Burnham, with fourteen girls in attendance. Their quota of personal property bags, and hot-water bottle covers, was begun, a number of these articles being sent out and work started; the group will meet again next Tuesday evening at the Red Cross work rooms, and it is hoped that any others who would like to help and who cannot come in the afternoons for the weekly work meeting, will try and be present at the evening gathering.

Cash Aid To Help

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 5.—(AP).—Steps to raise the spiritual morale of the millions in the United States armed forces were discussed to-day as the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church opened a two-day session here. A "discretionary fund" of $385,000, which chaplains could use in aiding soldiers or sailors who encounter personal difficulties, is part of an army-navy program to be drafted during the session.

Tribute To Boys Of The Grove Paid In House

Unveiling of a memorial window in the Lakefield Preparatory School, "The Grove" on Sunday, January 25, in honor of Wireless Air Gunner Stuart Dunn of Montreal, had an echo in the House of Commons recently, when the member for Toronto Davenport, J. R. MacNicol, a visitor at the ceremony, mentioned it to illustrate his address.

Mr. MacNicol was directing criticism at the Prime Minister, Mackenzie King, for permitting the plebiscite to go before the people instead of adopting universal selective training at once, and at the same time he told the House he was convinced the Minister of Defense, Mr. Ralston, could do a much better job if his hands were not tied to some extent.

Mr. MacNicol said in part—"I believe every man and woman in this house is ready to do what he or she can to support the government and the country in order to win the war. It is imperative that we do this. As far as I am concerned, I will go anywhere and do anything the government feel my long experience in industry and manufacturing qualifies me to do in order to assist our war effort. I do not feel that I could go to fight, though if I were placed in a fort, behind a parapet, I might be able to shoot as straight as most people, because in my day I could shoot pretty straight. We have wonderful examples to inspire us. On Sunday, January 25, I went to the Grove preparatory school at Lakefield, where a window was unveiled in memory of Sergeant Stuart Dunn, W.A.G., R.C.A.F., a young hero from Quebec City, who served our country over Germany and France for months but who lost his life on a return trip. I liked the spirit of the ceremony. This boy's father, Major C. G. Dunn, had gone to this school also as a lad, and a large number of boys attended the service. Those young men sang most earnestly the following words, with which I shall also conclude:

I vow to thee my country—all earthly things above—
Entire and whole and perfect, the the service of my love.
The love that asks no questions; the love that stands the test,
That lays upon the altar the dearest and the best;
The love that never falters, the love that pays the price,
The love that makes undaunted, the final sacrifice.

In memory of what the glorious young heroes from every province of this country have done, it is our duty to send fighting battalions and munitions as speedily as possible to the armies of the empire, no matter where they are.

Front Tires Burned Off New Truck Sunday

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 5 — (ENS). — A new 1942 truck owned by F. S. Coyle, used for hauling rock from the nepheline mines to Lakefield, was damaged by fire late on Sunday evening, and loss is estimated at $1,000. The truck was being driven by Art Montgomery, when a short distance east of Bethel Church he noticed flames coming up through the floor of the cab. A second truck driven by Bob Chittick was a short distance behind and the two drivers managed to put the fire out with snow before the truck was completely burned. The tires will have to be replaced, but the front tires were burned the most.

The truck was towed to Toronto yesterday for repairs.

Felt Tired, Nervous, Rundown, Back Ached; Stomach Rebelled

Is Delighted With Improvement in Health and Recommends Syntona to All Who Suffer Similarly. Says Stomach Felt Better From First Few Doses. Then Nerves Relaxed and Pains Went Away.

MRS. WESLEY HARRISON

"There has been such a definite improvement in my health since I've been taking Syntona that I will be only too glad to have others know about this medicine," said Mrs. Wesley Harrison, 161 Tragina Avenue, North, Hamilton, in a recent report:

"In the last year I was troubled constantly with a dull ache in my back, and, no matter what I tried, I couldn't get rid of it. I had become rundown, my nerves were bad and I couldn't sleep, so I felt tired and worn out right from the beginning of each day. My appetite wasn't very good, and what little food I did eat just seemed to sour in my stomach and cause gas, bloat and cramps. I was subject to frequent headaches and I often felt light-headed and dizzy.

"My husband was using Syntona and it seemed to be helping him, so I decided to take some, too, and it helped my stomach right from the first few doses. Now, after a few weeks, I am feeling ever so much better. My nerves are relaxed and the pains have gone from my back, so I can get a good night's sleep and I arise mornings feeling rested and ready for the day's work. I am free of those dizzy spells and headaches and I can enjoy my meals without all that gas and indigestion."

Syntona produces these results without the aid of harsh drugs or depressors. It is made only from the pure extracts of herbs, roots, and barks that have long been known for their medicinal value. Make up your mind to take Syntona yourself. See how much better you can be feeling in just a short time.

NAZI AIR-BORNE TROOPS SLOWING RED ADVANCE

Singapore Prepared For 'Chute Invasion

(By C. YATES McDANIEL.)

SINGAPORE, Feb. 6 (AP)—Amid the thunder of heavy mortars, cannon and aerial bombs, inter spersed by the chatter of machine guns, sharp-eyed sentinels kept roving watch today for a Japanese assault by parachutists or water-borne shock troops against this island citadel.

On an extended tour of positions along the watery No-Man's land of Johore Strait, this correspondent found tens of thousands of British, Australian and Indian soldiers manning the beaches, inlets, swamps and rubber plantations fronting on the Japanese mainland concentration points.
down the creekmouths which cut down the cheekmouths which cutt into the north shore of Singapore Island, within rifle shot of Japanese positions across the strait, where at any hour the Japanese might try to throw a bridge of boats and men. In other vantage spots stationary lookouts kept on guard for parachutists.

The similarity of the present situation to that of Crete—with the proximity of the foe emphasizing the danger a hundredfold—has impressed the threat of "vertical envelopment" on Singapore's defenders.

But the British troops no longer will be taken by surprise. Special attention is being given to the parachute threat.

Hurricanes Stop 4th Raid.

Singapore had four air raid alarms before 9 a.m. to-day. Bombs were dropped during the first three alerts but Hurricane fighters evidently drove off the fourth wave before its racks could be emptied.

To-day rounded out the first full week of Japanese siege. The full strength which the enemy had poured into Malaya for the two-month advance to the Strait of Johore apparently was still moving up to the invasion coast or was being disposed in jumpoff points for the assault on Singapore.

By and large, the Battle of Singapore now has become a waiting game.

The Japanese were lobbing their shells across the Strait with their larger-type mortars.

New Pacific Council In Operation

Handling Both War Political Issues States Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP). — President Roosevelt announced today that a Pacific council has been in operation here and in London for a month and that there was very close cooperation in its activities.

The President replying to press conference questions, said the council is handling questions of both a military and political nature.

Questions of a purely military nature, he said, are referred to army and navy chiefs of staff while those of a governmental or political character are laid before the apporpriate governmental bodies in Washington and in the British capital.

He pointed out that the Netherlands government has its headquarters in London and that the British Dominions are also represented there.

Mr. Roosevelt's discussion of the council's operations coincided with talk in authoritative army and navy circles that the situation of Allied forces in the western Pacific was very serious and that still further reverses could be expected.

In the A.B.D.A.—American-British Dutch-Australian—area, Mr. Roosevelt noted, the military command is under the supreme direction of Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell.

The President went on to say, although he conceded it was a slipshod way of putting it because it was difficult to differentiate, that operations on which Gen. Wavell would make the decision might be termed tactical whereas certain long-range strategical questions must be referred to Washington and London.

These strategical problems are those which may be divided into strictly military and naval categories or into political or governmental questions.

Where they have the element of both the military and political, the President said, they will be referred both to political and military authorities.

Replying to a question, Mr. Roosevelt declared New Zealand definitely is represented in the Pacific Council. He was reminded that New Zealand's Minister to Washington had spoken of setting up a strategic area outside the A.B.D.A. region

Accurate Aussie Gunfire Makes Short Work Jap Mortars, Spy Posts Opposite Singapore

(By SGT. IAN FITCHETT.)

SINGAPORE, Feb. 5 (Delayed)—(Australian Associated Press to CP).—We are rapidly becoming accustomed to the sound of shellfire, which has increased in intensity during the past 24 hours.

The Japanese have brought forward sufficient artillery to keep up a fairly continuous fire and our gunners have been busy in counter battery work.

So far little damage has been done to anything on Singapore Island.

The Japanese also are pounding away with their larger-type mortars.

Keen observation today picked out a party working at mortar positions not far from the Johore end of the Causeway and one of our batteries swung immediately onto the target.

Canada Prepares To Tackle Buna S. 200,000-Ton A Year Rubber Plan

(By JACK WILLIAMS.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 6—(CP).—Pooling of patents and technical information by rubber and oil companies in the United States and Canada opened the way for development of a process to be followed in manufacturing synthetic rubber at Sarnia, Ont., officials said today.

Location of two other plants required in Canada's synthetic rubber program has not yet been announced but Munitions Minister Howe has said work will start almost immediately on the base plant at Sarnia.

United States and Canada have adopted as standard a type of synthetic rubber called "Buna S," based primarily on by-products of petroleum and coke.

Plans have been completed in the United States for plants expected to be in rubber production by January 1, 1943, on the first half of a 400,000-tons-a-year program. The Canadian base plant is expected to be in operation early in 1943 but there has not yet been any indication of the amount of rubber to be produced in Canada or the date other essential plants in the process will be producing.

Research in the manufacture of synthetic rubber has been carried on for some years and some 17 different processes have been developed but in peacetime, with a supply of crude rubber readily available, they have been considered too costly to warrant any large-scale projects.

In most of the processes chlorine is essential and, in war, demands for chlorine far exceed the supply. In the "Buna S" type the use of chlorine is entirely avoided and this is considered one of the most important results from a pooling of

RangoonRaid Costs Japs Ten Planes

Yank Aces Get Seven Wing 5 More; Martaban Under Fire

RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 6 (AP)—British and United States fighter pilots shattered a big Japanese daylight air raid today on Rangoon shooting down 10 planes and perhaps destroying 10 more, a communique announced.

The American volunteer group shot down seven of the total for sure and were credited with five of those probably destroyed in the fierce blow dealt the raiders who had come back by daylight after pounding Rangoon for the third straight night.

The United Nations fighters, the communique said, came through without a loss.

An army communique reported, meanwhile, that the "situation on the Salween River front has become quieter in the past 24 hours."

It said Japanese are shelling Martaban spasmodically without causing damage or casualties, and British guns pounding the Japanese-held Paan area farther north.

The Japanese attacked Rangoon with six waves totalling 44 planes by moonlight and ran into the full fury of the defence fighters when they came back at 9:30 a.m. for a daylight try at the big port for the Burma Road to China.

The heavy toll of the raiders was taken by the hard-hitting Allied fliers 24 hours after they scored heavily in an offensive smash of their own at Japanese positions along the Salween River battle-front.

In that attack the bombers gave Japanese-held Paan such a ruinous bombing that a fighter pilot likened the destruction to that at Coventry.

Pikes Issued For Home Guard Airport Units Amaze Press But No Joke To The War Office

LONDON, Feb. 6—(AP).—Prime Minister Churchill declared recently that Britain would defend vital airfields even if they had to do it with pikes—and now to the amazement of some quarters the War Office actually has issued spiked poles to home guard units.

The five-foot four-inch medieval type weapons are not considered a joke, at least by the War Office, but the press has been quick to hoot at the return to the weapons which foot soldiers once found useful for fending off armored horsemen.

The Daily Mail cartoonist suggested revival of the bow, with arrows tipped with explosive "Molotov cocktails," and the use of rock-tossing

"Meighen Win Calamity"-Nixon Conant Backs Hepburn Attitude

TORONTO, Feb. 6—(CP).—Hon. Harry Nixon, Ontario Provincial Secretary, issued a statement today in which he said he believed "it would be a national calamity if Arthur Meighen were returned to public life in South York on Monday."

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, National Conservative leader, is seeking return to the House of Commons as member for York South in next Monday's by-election. He is opposed by J. W. Noseworthy, C.C.F. candidate. Mr. Meighen has received support from Premier Mitchell Hepburn, and last night Mr. Hepburn announced that Hon. Robert Laurier, Ontario Minister of Mines, had resigned from the Cabinet in "opposition to the fact that I am speaking in the York South by-election on behalf of the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen."

Mr. Nixon said he was not resigning, nor was he contemplating it.

"I do not know what the result of this statement will be to me personally."

"In comment on Mr. Nixon's statement, Premier Mitchell Hepburn said that "every member of the Cabinet is entitled to express their own opinions.")

Conant Backs Hepburn

In a written statement Attorney General Conant today expressed his support of Premier Hepburn's action in campaigning for the election of Conservative Leader Meighen in the York South by-election Feb. 9.

His statement followed the resignation of Mines Minister Laurier

Laurier Splits Over Meighen

TORONTO, Feb. 6.—(CP).—Robert Laurier, who resigned as Minister of Mines in the Ontario government yesterday, to-day issued the text of the letter of resignation he sent Premier Hepburn and added a denial of published reports that he resigned because of Mr. Hepburn's stand toward the war.

"I am not resigning because of Premier Hepburn's stand on the war," Mr Laurier said. "I am resigning because I do not agree with the principles of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, the Conservative candidate in South York, whom Mr. Hepburn is supporting. I am just as much for the war effort as the Premier or any other Canadian citizen.

The text of Mr. Laurier's letter to Mr. Hepburn follows:

"I have recently discussed with you the advisability of your speaking in favor of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, the present leader of the Conservative party in Canada, whose principles are diametrically opposed to those which you and I have al-

Fine Flying Weather Aiding Nazis To Bolster All Lines

(By EDDY GILMORE.)

MOSCOW, Feb. 6—(AP).—German efforts to block the Russian offensive somewhere short of the old frontier of the Soviet Union have gained strength, evidently from air-borne reinforcements— but, according to despatches from the front to-day, the Red Army is still moving forward.

These despatches, however significantly related instances of German superiority in numbers— the first such phrase to appear in a considerable time.

The conclusion here was that with the fine flying weather of the last few days the enemy was able to bring up many reserves by air. Many captives report that this method of transport, enforced by the winter difficulties of movement by land, is being widely used by the Germans.

Hold Every Village.

The first instance of German numerical superiority to appear after a long lapse was a despatch from an unspecified sector which said that "at one point of the front the enemy having superiority in numbers, strongly pressed upon our detachment."

Prisoners from the 35th Infantry Division told the Red Army that all detachments had received stern orders to defend every village to the last man. The orders said that any German who retreated without orders would be sent before a military tribunal. But despite this warning, the prisoners said, there were further retreats.

The regular Moscow communique charged that the Germans used the civilians as a shield for a counter-attack in one sector.

At one sector of the western front (the area before Moscow) the communique declared that one Red army unit destroyed three regiments of German infantry.

Russ Guns Blast Lines

North of the Kalinin front, the Kuiebyshev radio announced, a bitter battle is raging in the Valdai Hills below Leningrad. The radio said the Germans had dug in but that Russian artillery had been pounding the entrenchments for several days.

"A Red Army unit found a weak spot in German dispositions, succeded in penetrating behind their lines and destroyed the whole group in that sector," the broadcast added.

"Our air force, acting in close co-operation with the infantry, is dealing telling blows on the enemy, inflicting heavy losses in men and

Cannadian Reserve Army Will Provide Training For Men Over 35 Years

OTTAWA, Feb. 6—(CP)—Plans for a large increase both in numbers and efficiency of the Reserve Army will be announced shortly it was learned today.

It is understood the plan will provide facilities for military training for every able-bodied man in Canada over a certain age limit, possibly over 35, on a part-time basis.

So far as can be learned the plan contemplates voluntary enlistment in the reserve of additional numbers of men in the higher age groups and does not as yet involve use of the compulsory powers of the National Resources Mobilizaton Act.

The Reserve Army at present is believed to number about 145,000 but in this number are many thousands of men who were called up compulsorily late in 1940 and received 30 days' camp training. These men subject to be called back for full-time service for the duration of the war and numbers of them are being called up each month.

Eventually, it is expected all the men in this class who are in the age groups from 21 to 24, unmarried and widowers without children as of July 1, 1940, will find themselves on active service for the duration of the war.

The bringing of more men from older age groups into the reserve is expected to provide an effective force for home defence in case of emergency without interefering in any way with enlistment of men in the younger and more desirable age classes for the active forces.

Brig. R. B. Gibson of Toronto was appointed Assistant Chief of the General Staff some months ago and assigned the duty of looking after the organization and training of the reserve army following a decision to give the reserve a more effective role in the Canadian military picture.

That decision was taken when production of military equipment, including weapons, reached the point where worthwhile quantities could be spared for the reserve army.

In early stages of production everything new and modern had to go to the active army at home for training and overseas for active service and also to the British.

It is understood the equipment situation now is in such a position that quantities of modern weapons will be available for the equipment of the reserve.

2nd Siege Looms for Tobruk

Stretched Supply Lines, Weaker Anti-Tank Guns, U.K. Planes

(By WILLIAM B. KING.)

LONDON, Feb. 6—(CP). — Field Marshal Rommel, reinforced from ships which slipped across the stormy Mediterranean under protection of German submarines and aircraft, has retaken most of Western Cirenaica, without a major battle.

Now he is within about 50 miles of Tobruk, and the possibility suggests itself that that fortress-port may undergo its second siege in a year. Today his troops stood somewhere around Tmimi, having advanced 40 miles since they recaptured Derna.

The sudden turn in the tide in the Western Desert, reversing the British drive which had swept on past Bengasi resulted from a number of causes which still await complete clarification. But the basic ones seem to have been (1) neither side appears able to maintain its mechanized forces at their peak as soon as their supply lines stretch across a couple of hundred miles of desert, and (2) The Nazis were able to send Rommel supplies of anti-tank guns which outshot the British models.

Whether Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck will attempt a major stand on the Libyan side of the Libyan-Egyptian border remains to be seen. Twice the Axis has used Bardia and Halfaya as their summer advanced bases; twice British troops have thrown them out in winter campaigns and advanced to Bengasi.

But while the setback has been a major disappointment to those who had believed that the impetus of Gen. Auchinleck's drive would carry him far into Tripolitania, even to the border of French Africa, the basic success of his winter campaign remains.

He suceeded in destroying two-thirds of the Axis force which last November faced him as a major threat to Egypt. He took at least 36,500 prisoners, of whom 10,500 are German. His men killed or wound-

VALLEJO, Calif., Feb. 6.—(AP).—Raids by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents in areas adjacent to two big United States west coast navy yards have led to the arrest of nearly two score Axis aliens, mostly Japanese, and seizure of navy signal flags, maps, weapons, cameras and radios.

The latest raid of 25 F.B.I. agents fell with surprising suddenness last night on alien establishments in Vallejo, near the Mare Island navy yard.

Wednesday other F.B.I. agents seized 15 Japanese on Bainbridge Island which lies strategically near the navy yard at Bremerton, Wash.

Officials Point To Loose Border Control With Eire

(By H. M. PETERS.)

London, Feb. 6—(AP). — Loose control of the frontier between Northern Ireland and Eire, which leaves loopholes for possible enemy agents to report to Axis legations in Dublin, is a matter of deep concern to Northern Ireland officials.

"This easy entry into Northern Ireland is a danger that does not seem to be appreciated in this country," Sir Wilson Hungerford, Parliamentary Secretary of the Northern Ireland commerce industry, declared in an interview here. "We in Northern Ireland, however, do realize it and we want it stopped."

Arrival of United States troops at encampments in Northern Ireland quickened fears which have existed for some time about spies who are almost unrestricted from transmitting military observations to Axis sources in the capital of still neutral Eire.

This correspondent's recent visit to both Northern Ireland and Eire made it clear that only a national identity card is needed to cross the border and that even this might be avoided easily by crossing at unguarded points.

Police inspect identification papers and baggage when one crosses the border at main highways and on trains, but frequently the examination is perfunctory, with only a cursory glance at identity cards and a request for the traveller's assurance he isn't carrying contraband.

"It is not the fault of the Northern Ireland Government that we have not got conscription," Hungerford said. "We wanted it, but the British Government decided otherwise. The result is, we have no power to say where a person should live. If the British home office would put some scheme into operation, it would stop allegations of fifth column and Gestapo activities in the north."

He declared that identity cards, required of all persons living in the TOKYO, (From Japanese broadcasts), Feb. 6 (AP)—Japanese Imperial headquarters claimed today that two Netherlands cruisers were sunk and a third Indies cruiser and a United States cruiser of the Marblehead class were heavily damaged by Japanese naval planes in the Java Sea.

(These sinkings lack confirmation).

This was the score in a sea and air engagement claimed in a communique broadcast by Domei several hours after an earlier communique was broadcast listing one Indies and one United States cruiser and a 5,000-ton vessel as sunk in the fight.

JAPANESE FORCES CAPTURE KEY TO BORNEO'S GREAT OIL PORT

BATAVIA, N.E.I., Feb. 6 (AP) — Japanese forces have occupied the town of Samarinda, 60 miles north of the oil port of Balik Papan on the east coast of Borneo, the Netherlands Indies high command announced today without giving further details of the occupation.

Samarinda is a "feeding point" for the Balik Papan oil installations, to which it is connected by a pipeline.

The town also is an important coal district at the mouth of the Kutai River, with a population normally of about 12,000, including 300 Europeans.

Many civilians already had been evacuated from the town.

The high command report said a Japanese raiding force estimated at 40 bombers and 20 fighters which attacked the Soerabaja naval base yesterday lost two fighter planes "and presumably two bombers" against the loss of three Indies aircraft.

One Netherlands pilot was reported kiled and two missing, while four persons in the city, second-largest in the Indies, were said to have been wounded slightly.

The fact that the Japanese raiding force had such a strong fighter escort was taken to indicate the planes came from an aircraft carrier.

Singapore Thunders Defiance

SINGAPORE, Feb. 6 (CP)—British guns roaring defiance to the Japanese at the end of the first week of the siege of Singapore pounded Nipponese warriors in the Johore Bahru area across the Strait of Johore today while Japanese planes strafed British positions in low-level attacks.

British Far Eastern headquarters announced that its artillery kept up a running fire on Japanese troop movements in the town at the end of the ruined causeway which once connected Singapore with the Malayan mainland.

Japanese fliers concentrated their machine-gun fire and bombs on forward troops guarding the northern shore of the Island, where British, Australian and Indian forces stand ready against invasion.

Archers with poisoned arrows might take tips from Harold at Hastings. The War Office may be found studying reproductions of Bayeau tapestry and using medieval manuscripts as military manuals. It is not so absurd as it sounds. Did not headpiece armor return in the last war?"

Lord Croft, Under-Secretary for War, who was given credit for the idea, was quoted as saying, "After members of the home guard have attacked with grenades, and mainly at night, the pike is a handy weapon for mopping up operations."

Only More Aid To Save Day

United States military and naval experts said today that the situation of Allied forces in the Western Pacific at the end of the second month of war is serious and that still further reverses may be expected.

While recognizing the achievements of defenders in the Philippines, Singapore and the Netherlands East Indies and allowing for Japanese losses of more than 100 ships and thousands of men, these authorities grimly declared that only the delivery of huge reinforcements—difficult if not impossible at this time—will turn the tide of battle against the enemy.

The Japanese are said still to possess the advantages of time and initiative seized in their Dec. 7 sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. Theirs is the choice of when and where to attack, and the costs they are paying in troops and material are described as not too great for the advances they have made.

Effective reinforcements, especially planes, could block further advances and hold the threatened bastions still in Allied hands, it is said, for the Japanese position has become vulnerable at many points.

This organization, which has been openly accused of a close alliance with Nazi agents, is being watched carefully by the Eire Government, and already several hundred alleged members have been interned.

Eire sources argue that the I.R.A.'s greatest strength now is in Northern Ireland, where they say less is being done to eliminate its danger.

ed at least 24,000 of the enemy and with the prisoners the total loss to Hitler and his Allies was more than 60,000 men. The British losses, most of them from the British Isles, were 18,000 killed, wounded or captured.

The campaign drained from the Axis a large quantity of aircraft, supplies and men at a time when the enemy needed all his resources to face Stalin. Further it saw the sinking in the Mediterranean of many Italian ships carrying supplies and troops to Africa.

Britain opened up the Libyan front partly to relieve the threat to Egypt but chiefly as an aid to Russia. Last autumn, before the Russian counter attack got under way and Moscow was endangered, it was regarded as essential that some of Hitler's power and attention be diverted at all costs from his east.

At the same time Britain could not throw her full Middle Eastern strength into the Western Desert because the German advance to Rostov (which they subsequently lost) offered the possibility of a drive down the Caucasus, and the Imperial 9th Army had to be left in the Trans-Jordon, Iraq, Iran area to meet this attack which never occurred.

The petroleum contribution to Buna S is a chemical known as Butadiene, which is available from natural gas, alcohol and acetylene as well as from petroleum.

Styrene, the other base, comes from benzol and is a by-product of the coke industry.

United States officials say they have sufficient material in sight for half their 400,000-ton program. In addition to Butadiene and Styrene some 20 other chemicals are required but quantities are small and no serious production problems are anticipated.

In the United States it is proposed to produce Butadiene as a by-produce in the 100-octane gasoline plants now being constructed to provide aviation gasoline.

Dr. E. R. Weidlein of the Chemical Chief of the United States Office of Production Management, has given assurance that the extraction can be made without cutting down the amount of aviation gasoline produced or restricting the output of other petroleum products.

Sarnia is the Canadian terminus of a pipe line carrying petroleum products from the United States and this, it is understood, has been the determining factor in selecting a site for the base plant.

The Sarnia plant, Mr. Howe has explained, will carry out the basic or first process of three in the production of synthetic rubber. He said the plant would be "very large" but did not say how much it would cost. Estimates for the total outlay on the three plants have run as high as $40,000,000.

"We are not ready yet to state what proportion of Canada's rubber requirements we shall be able to fill but expect it will be a considerable proportion."

There have been reports that one of the synthetic rubber plants was to be located in Alberta but it is understood unofficially that no such move is contemplated at present.

Given Month In Jail For Stealing Overcoat

John Foster Thompson, Business Street, who pleaded guilty a few days ago to stealing an overcoat from the Hotel Champlain, was sentenced by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in Police Court this morning to a month's imprisonment in the County Jail.

Sentence was passed after the Magistrate had scanned a record of previous convictions produced by the Crown.

Thompson in pleading guilty said that he had been drunk at the time he took the overcoat.

Magistrate Langley warned him that if he came back again he would have to be sent to the Reformatory.

Ontario Liberal Group Raps Hepburn Stand

OTTAWA, Feb 6—(CP).—Formal "disapproval" of the actions of Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario has been expressed by a caucus of Ontario members of parliament.

At a meeting here last night during the dinner recess of the House of Commons, the caucus adopted a resolution which expressed belief of the meeting that Mr. Hepburn "no longer represents Liberalism in the Province of Ontario."

It reaffirmed the member loyalty to and confidence in Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King "as Prime Minister of Canada and as leader of the Liberal party."

W. H. Golding (Lib., Huron, Perth), who gave the resolution to newspapermen, declined to say how many of the Ontario Liberals attended the caucus or whether the resolution had been adopted by unanimous vote.

Three reasons were given in the resolution for the disapproval expressed for Mr. Hepburn's action.

1. In some years he had "directed his efforts embarrassing and insulting the Prime Minister of Canada."

2. At present he was trying to discredit and undermine the Government of Canada by "indiscriminate and ill-considered criticism of the measures taken for the effective prosecution of the war."

3. Now he is "seeking to defeat a Minister of the Crown who would be helpful to the Government and to the Canadian people at this critical time."

Apparently this third reason was a reference to the February 9 by-election in Welland constituency, where Mr. Hepburn is campaigning against Labor Minister Mitchell. The Ontario Premier in York South riding is supporting Conservative Leader Meighen.

During the past five years—since the General Motors strike in Oshawa, Ont., when Mr. Hepburn wanted the Dominion to take action to keep certain international Labor organizers out of Canada and expressed resentment at Ottawa's refusal to act—the Ontario Premier several times has attacked Mr. King.

He has been outspoken particularly in connection with Ontario's failure to obtain a licence for export of electric power to New York State. the St. Lawrence waterways question and more recently the war effort.

Sabotage In Africa

CAPE TOWN, Feb. 6 — (CP). — Wire-cutting saboteurs caused seriour disruption of telegraph and telephone communications in South Africa Wednesday night.

Cape Town was cut off from Johannesburg for 3½ hours and the Johannesburg cable traffic was delayed.

The wires were cut in the area south of Johannesburg and in the Kimberly district.

The death penalty was recently decreed for sabotage.

from the cabinet because of Mr. Hepburn's support of Mr. Meighen and a statement by Provincial Secretary Nixon that he disagreed with Mr. Hepburn's support of the Conservative Leader.

"The present most alarming situation transcends all personal and political considerations," Mr. Conant's statement said. "The only thing that counts in the present emergency is how we may wage war most effectively to save our nation and our liberties... There is a desperate need for Mr. Meighen in the Parliament of Canada where decisions as to our war effort must be made."

Mr. Nixon, in his statement, said he recalled "How Canada was divided in 1917 and 1918 by the Wartime Election Act and the Military Service Act, and which were applied in such an iniquitous way that millions of people still see red when they think of it—and not in Quebec alone, either. For this condition, no man living is more responsible than Mr. Meighen."

I do not think anyone will question my sincerity when I say that I stand for the greatest war effort that lies in the power of Canada to achieve and as an individual I will gladly accept any regimentation, levy or sacrifice required of me to make certain that the supreme sacrifices already made, and will be made, by our grand lads of the fighting services shal not be in vain.

I hold strongly the conviction that we can best serve Canada now by supporting the government that alone has the jurisdiction and is charged with the responsibility of carrying on the war for Canada. I do not suggest that the government of Canada is perfect or infallible by any means.

I have frequently criticized their acts in the past and made constructive suggestions, and certainly hold myself free to do so in the future. I think we should bring to an end as quickly as possible this strife which is distracting everyone's attention from the main purpose.

Surely we have enough enemies menacing us perilously without fighting among ourselves. This I must say, however, that I believe it would be a national calamity if Arthur Meighen were returned to public life by South York on Monday.

2 Million Imports

VICHY, Feb. 6. — (AP). — The Nazi-controlled Paris newspaper Paris-Midi, estimated to-day that 2,000,000 foreign workers had been imported by Germany, whose own manpower had been drained by the war with Russia. It added that 130,000 of the foreign workmen are Frenchmen and that the total number is steadily increasing.

Obituaries

GEORGE KENNETH DUNN.

A Great War veteran and traveller for National Grocers here, George Kenneth Dunn died suddenly Thursday at 172 Simcoe street in his 46th year. He was born in Hamilton, Ont., a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dunn and came to this city from Belleville in 1926.

The late Mr. Dunn enlisted in the last war with the Grenadier Guards in Canada and transferred to an infantry battalion on arrival overseas. He saw 3½ years service.

Surviving are one sister, Mrs. A. Robertson, Chesterville; one brother, Charles of Canton, New York.

The funeral will be held on Saturday at 2 p.m. from Nesbitt's Funeral Home, 347 Charlotte street, with the Rev. Dr. G. S. Easton officiating. Interment will be made in Little Lake cemetery

JOSEPH P. LEAHY, B.A.

The death occurred in Rochester this week of Joseph P. Leahy, beloved husband of Mildred Moloney, and son of the late William Leahy and his wife Ellen Heffernan and a former member of St. Joseph's church, Douro.

He was born in Douro forty two years ago and received his public school education in his native township, and immediately after he attended High School studies in Ennismore. After completing his course of study in Ennismore he continued and completed a course at St. Michael's College, Toronto, where he obtained his degree of B.A.

Known to a large number of friends in this district who will regret to hear of his death at such an early age, and much sympathy is extended to his bereaved wife and also to his three sisters, Mrs. John Casey, and Mrs. John Fitzgerald of Otonabee, and Mrs. Michael Scott of Peterborough; and three brothers, James Leahy of Peterborough, William Leahy of Otonabee and Michael Leahy of Alcomdale, Alberta.

Mr. Leahy paid a visit to his relatives and friends in this district just two weeks prior to the death of his mother, Mrs. Ellen Leahy, which occurred in August, 1941.

His funeral was held in Rochester Thursday morning.

New C.I.O. Demand

DETROIT Feb. 6 — (AP).—The United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) announced yesterday the union had drawn up six demands, including a union shop clause and a $1.00 daily wage increase, for submission to General Motors Corporation in forthcoming wage negotiations. The proposals, said Walter P. Reuther, director of the union's General Motors Department, will be acted upon on Saturday and Sunday by the G. M. Council representing 190,000 workers in 90 corporation plants.

Conscription Issue Full Of Fireworks; Labor Policies Scored

(By FRANK FLAHERTY.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 6—(CP).—Attacks on Premier Hepburn of Ontario, opposition to the proposed conscription plebiscite and conscription itself from Quebec members, demands for immediate conscription from Ontraio Conservatives, and criticism of the government's labor policies provided the bill of fare in the House of Commons yesterday.

The Hepburn critics were William A. Fraser (Lib., Northumberland), and Gordon Ross (Lib., Moose Jaw). Both men, like George Fulford (Lib., Leeds), who assailed the Ontario Premier Tuesday, are former colleagues of Mr. Hepburn.

Their attacks on the Ontario Premier for opposing Labor Minister Mitchell in the February 9 Welland by-election and supporting Conservative Leader Meighen in the York South by-election to be held the same day, came as a caucus of Ontario members of the House passed a resolution expressing loyalty to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and "disapproval" of Mr. Hepburn's actions.

Mr. Ross sat in the House with Mr. Hepburn prior to 1930, when both were among the youngest and most active Liberal members.

Before the debate got under way Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced conclusion of an agreement with Soviet Russia for as exchange of consular representatives.

Raymond Fights It

The Quebec critics of Government policy on the plebiscite by which a release from pledges against conscription will be sought were Maxime Raymond (Lib., Beauhornois-Lapraire), and L. P. Lizotte (Lib., Kamouraska).

Mr. Raymond said a "past" was made when Canada entered the war that there would be no conscription for overseas service. On that understanding those who were opposed to participation in the war consented. They had lived up to their side of the bargain and had participated in the war effort. It was unfair for the other parties to the bargain to refuse to live up to their part now.

"I am opposed to conscription personally and have pledged myself

Veteran Machinist Dies In 89th Year

William Charles Barrie, one of the old guard of mechanics in this city died today at his home, 522 Chamberlain street in his 89th year. He was one of the originals at the old Peter Hamilton Foundry and worked as a machinist in this plant for more than half a century, making machinery that belonged to another period of early industrial development.

The late Mr. Barrie was born in this city and served his apprenticeship in the same plant where he worked for 50 years. He was a member of Park Street Baptist church, and held office of life membership as a deacon.

Surviving are two sons, Frank Barrie, diemaker at the Westclox, William Charles Barrie of Toronto, and three daughters, Mrs. Jack H. Pilling, Peterborough, and Mrs. H. Smith and Mrs. L. C. Russell of Port Hope.

The funeral will take place on Monday, Feb. 9, from his late residence, 522 Chamberlain street at 2.30 with interment in Little Lake cemetery. Rev. C. C. Boyter of Park Street Babtist church will conduct the funeral and graveside services.

Zion Church Reports Successful Year

The annual congregational meeting of Zion United Church was held recently at the home of Charles Kindred, when reports were presented from the Sunday School, the Women's Association, and from the church. These indicated that much progress had been made, each having financial balances on hand, the treasurer, Harry Hatherley, reporting the largest for some years. The minister presided, conducting devotional exercises and said that the work of the church on the parish was very encouraging spiritually. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The Women's Association held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. B. Rutherford on February 4, when an interesting program was in charge of Mrs. R. Frankish. The election and installation of officers was presided over by Rev. George Murray, and was as follows: Hon. president, Mrs. E. Kent; president, Mrs. B. Rutherford; vice-president, Mrs. E. Robinson; secretary, Miss Marion Beatty; treasurer, Miss Velma Crane; missionary and social committees were also appointed. A delightful lunch was served by the hostess. The March meeting will be held at Mrs. Ed. Dixon's home.

Judge O'Connor Again Heads Hospital Board

COBOURG, Feb. 6.— (Special.)—Cobourg General Hospital, in spite of rising costs for materials and wage increases, finished 1941 with a comfortable balance, it was revealed at the annual meeting of Cobourg Hospital Board held in Judge L. V. O'Connor's chambers last night. Judge O'Connor was re-elected president of the Board. Other officers are A C. Hodgetts, vice-president and Harry Field, secretary-treasurer. The committee for thes new year are: Management Committee, Rev. W. P. Woodger, chairman, Dr. F. Blackwell, Mrs. A. Fullerton and Mrs. R. Harvey; Finance Committee, Dudley Spragge, chairman, A. C. Hodgetts, J. T. Field and Rev. D. P. J. Kelly; Property Committee, George Mitchell, chairman, Col. J. W. Odell, Dr. W. W. Wade and A. J. Gould . Directors, Judge O'Connor, A. C. Hodgetts, Dr. F. Blackwell, Dudley Spragge, George Mitchell, Co. J. W. Odell and A. J. Gould.

A Humanitarian Work.

Judge O'Connor in his summary of the year's work of the hospital, reviewed the work done by the various committees Hospital work, he pointed out, was not only a worthy charity but an humanitarian work, an unselfish endeavour for the good of the community and the people of Cobourg and Northumberland county owe a debt of gratitude for the work of the committee. He lauded also the work of the superintendent, Miss J. Graham, who had the hearty co-operation of both the medical and the nursing staffs The Women's Hospital Auxiliary had proved valuable to the hospital and came to the rescue with $160 to pay off the balance owing on the portable X-ray. Cupid had cut inroads into the nurses' ranks, Judge O'Connor said, and the available nurses had also become depleted for various other reasons. Offsetting this were the "hospital aides" who while working in the hospital, received lectures from the medical staff and in time these girls would become efficient, practical nurses, he stated. Although costs had mounted, the hospital would charge the same rates as usual, as long as it was financially possible. He felt, however, that the delinquent accounts could be collected more easily if more stringent methods were used to obtain their payment and he recommended to the incoming finance committee that this matter receive special attention.

1,065 Patients Treated.

The report of the nursing superintendent, Miss J. Graham, showed that the number of admissions were a little lower in 1941 than before as there was very little military work. Total number of patients treated were 1,065 of which 833 were resident patients, and 232 patients were treated who were not admitted to hospital wards. Resident patients were: Cobourg, 398; United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, 311; other counties, 88; United States and other countries, 16. Patients' days stay, 2,826, private and semi-private; 5,604, public ward patients; total, 8,430. Average cost of maintaining each person was $3.27 per day; average number of patients in hospital daily were 23 and average number days' stay of patients were 10. There were 161 babies born. Deaths totalled 46, but there were no maternity deaths. Total bed capacity is 56. Total staff is 22.

The financial statement showed that the total receipts were $27,858.98, made of grants totalling $3,115.20; balance from 1940, $629.42; donations for maintenance were $238.00 donations to X-ray, $196.15; regular patients (for maintenance), $21,339.37; indigent patients $2,223.65/ Expenditure totalled $27,571.35, of which some of the larger items were: Dietaries $4,124.66; bedding, etc., $1,259.9; repairs, etc., $1,644.02; salaries and wages, $13,919.37. Balance $287.63 Depreciatin account totalled $5,148.14, leaving a net loss for the year of $2,940.11, which is about half the net loss for the year 1940. It was pointed out that the buildings are in better shape than ten years ago, and the net loss was actually a bookkeeping loss.

150 Delegates To Convention In Campbellford

CAMBBELLFORD, Feb. 6. — (ENS).—St. John's W.M.S. heard an interesting sketch on the ancestry of Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, ably given by Mrs. J. D. Mills as a part of the program at their monthly meeting. She related that Madame's father had been influenced to swing to Christianity by a sailor on an American vessel on which he stowed away and later landed in the United States While there he plied his trade of rope maker and after receieving his education returned to China to marry. Madame Chiang Kai-Shek was also educated in the United States, later returning to China, where she devoted her lift to the study of child labor problems.

The president, Mrs. E. C. Roberts, presided for the meeting and Mrs. A. E. Burgis gave the secretary's report in the absence of Mrs. Kingston.

That calls had been made more assiduously during 1941 was revealed by Mrs. C. Turner who reported 231, an increase of 76 over the preceding year. Thirty were made last month she said. Group leaders were on motion elected to make preliminary arrangements for the Presbyterial to be held here March 35 and 26 when 150 delegates and visitors from the Cobourg Presbyterial will gather for ther annual meeting. According to Mrs. Roberts delegates are expected from each of the 35 Afternoon Auxiliaries, 5 Evening Auxiliaries, 4 Missionary Societies, 1 C.G.I.T. group, 25 Mission Bands, and 7 Baby Bands. Interested primarily in home and foreign missions the Presbyterial, which last year raised $7,429.50, is meeting here for the first time in seven years. The annual meeting was held in Port Hope in 1940.

Mrs. J. D. Mills' group was in charge of the meeting and the theme was 'Faith by which we live, and the Bible as our guide to Christian faith and conduct' Mrs. Sykes and Mrs. Hutcheon read several verses of Scripture and Miss Jordan and Mrs. R. McKelvie each read an article on the Bible as a guide for Christian living. Mrs. Diamond also assisted with this portion of the meeting At the close Miss Jordan and Mrs. Shapter gave a vocal duet.

Illustrated Lecture.

An illustrated lecture which took in many of the scenic beauty spots of the Canadian west formed a highlight of the weekly meeting of Zion YP.U. on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. J. R. Bick took charge of this portion of the program, while E. Lindsay Anderson, the president, opened the meeting. The branch accepted an invitation to join with the Stephen's Church Y.P.U. for a social evening on February 16th and in anticipation of the change in time announced their meeting would begin at 8.30 in the evening. Mrs. E. Irwin had charge of the devotional portion of the program and was assisted by Mrs Bick and Mrs. Albert Tinney. An enjoyable period of games conducted by Albert Petherick brought the meeting to its close.

Same Officers Re-elected By School Board

COBOURG, Feb. 6.—(ENS.)—The Public School Board of Cobourg re-elected the same officers last year, according to an announcement made by Secretary H. Field. The officers are: Chairman, Mr. F. F. Cockburn; vice-chairman, Mrs. F. Spooner; secretary, Mr. H. Field.

A meeting will be held this week or early next in order to begin the year's business Mr. Field said.

Building Totals Show Big Drop

COBOURG, Feb. 6 (ENS) — The tide of life in Cobourg is safe at least for the next few months according to the vital statistics report just issued here. Births exceeded deaths 63 in 1941. The totals show births 191, deaths 128. There were also 65 weddings during 1941, which is a very normal figure according to officials.

The building statistics was the only department to fall off and this was due to the failure to get materials because of war priorities. Builders of houses could not secure the pipe, electrical appliances, etc., and did not enter into any extensive building programs.

The total value of buildings erected the past year was $24,725.00, most of which was spent in the building of small units, garages, sheds, etc.

These figures are issued by Town Clerk A. W. Young who stated that this year's building program had hit a very low figure.

Decentralizing Population

Some thought is now being given to plans that might prove effective in meeting after-war conditions—rehabilitation of men coming back from overseas, readjustment of industrial life and so on. Those who have any responsibility in that future program, or who would like to offer constructive advice, would do well to keep in mind the wisdom of a policy which will hereafter seek to distribute industrial plants among the smaller cities of the country rather than having them concentrate so much in four or five large cities.
